Background and Objective of Program

Risk is inevitable within business environments. External and Strategic business risks have emerged as one of the most complex categories of risks. Taking and managing risk is part of what organizations must do to create profits and shareholder value. To fully understand Risk Management, two characteristics are essential: uncertainty and loss. Risk Management can be seen in relation the organizational response of companies to the challenge posed by dramatic changes of the economic and social impacts of natural hazards. Furthermore, Risk Management also involves evaluation of business strategy risks and the achievement of best practices.

Effective and sustainable risk management begins with the development of a robust and pervasive risk culture. As highlighted by recent financial market and macroeconomic events, risk managers must have a clear understanding of their responsibilities with regard to the risks assumed by their firms. Hence the need for training that develops the right skills to manage the situations dexterously:

- Risk education, training and certification helps ensure all employees have a clear understanding of the functions of the financial system and the risks assumed by their own institutions
- Better prepared risk managers are able to recognize potential problems early on when consequences may be less severe and more easily mitigated
- As there is constant up gradation in the tools and techniques for handling the shortcomings, individuals who work in the financial profession need to stay current on the issues surrounding risk and regulation

The objective of the program is to bridge the existing gaps by providing efficient and functional training through the School of Risk Management.
