Jetking Infotrain Ltd. cautions against fraudulent computer training institutes

Jetking Infotrain Limited, India's leading computer hardware and networking training institute has cautioned students against dealing with agents claiming to be Jetking representatives promising employment in exchange for money. Such fraudulent claims have been observed in Mumbai, Delhi, Chandigarh and other parts of Gujarat over the last few years.

Jetking has also taken initiatives to shut firms falsely masquerading as Jetking offices themselves through legal action by sending notices and opposed the registration of such companies with the concerned authorities.

Jetking Infotrain Limited has also cautioned students against computer training institutes which are operating under the phonetically similar aliases to "Jetking" to lure students.

Jetking courses and placements are provided only through the official centers which are listed on the Jetking's parent website (www.jetking.com). Jetking does not engage with any placement partners and does not charge its students for placements provided – all the necessary information about their courses and placement is listed on their website.

If a student wants to check where the nearest genuine Jetking center is, they can reach out to their customer care number on 1800-209-4010 (toll-free) and write in to report fake centers and remedy their grievance to info@jetking.com.
