PR COVERAGE HIGHLIGHTS IN Q4 FY16

PR COVERAGE HIGHLIGHTS IN Q4 FY16

'Multi-segment Focus has Put Co in a Sweet Spot'

In a chat with ET NOW, Sanjiv Bajaj, MD, Bajaj Finserv, shares his business outlook. Edited excerpts:

Your reports show Chennai floods were the main problem area for Bajaj Finserv in Q3. But it did not dent your profits, did it?

That is correct. If you look at our three main businesses, Bajaj Finance has had a record profit this quarter – up 58% to ₹408 crore. Despite the floods, the general insurance business had a good quarter in terms of the top line, which went up 14% to ₹1,348 crore. The bottom line, however, fell from ₹143 crore to ₹68 crore. The ₹85-crore hit was on account of the Chennai floods. What is interesting from an insurance point of view is that during the Chennai floods the rains actually stopped in the middle for a while, and started again. So, it is treated as two separate events. That is why the hit has been much higher than what we would have normally anticipated.

We have now taken this into account while reviewing our insurance treaties. But the result of that was an additional 7% in claimed ratio for the quarter. That is not something you would normally see in other quarters. That is why our profit came down.

As for the life insurance business, our growth on new business premium continues to be muted.

Bajaj Finserv is in a sweet spot. Our strategy of going in for multi-segment focus – across consumer, SME, commercial, rural and relationship management – is bearing fruit.

Bajaj Finserv's numbers have been a delight. Do you think you can sustain such numbers?

We do not make projections on profits. But I can say that in the foreseeable future, we have the capacity to grow at around 25%, give or take 5%-7% given the nature of the external environment. This quarter we have grown substantially higher than that. We did a two-month long programme during Diwali and Dussehra. That worked out really well for us across different consumer segments. We are now looking to make it a regular practice.

Can you achieve the historical rate of 30% AUM growth?

We think 25% is possible under current circumstances at least in the near future. If economic growth looks up in, say, the second half of next year, 30% could be possible too.

Bajaj Fin enters lifecare financing, eyes ₹1,000-cr revenue in 5 years

fe Bureau

Mumbai, March 22: Bajaj Finance has ventured into lifecare lending, a segment through which it will finance expenses for elective medical procedures such as stem cell storage, eye care, dental treatment, maternity care and cosmetic-based hair and skin treatment.

The NBFC plans to launch this product in 40 cities across India, including tier-1 markets like Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata, Chennai, Bengaluru, Ahmedabad, Hyderabad and Pune, and hopes to garner around Rs 1,000 crore from it over the next five years, president of the consumer business Devang Mody told FE.

The company is the first lender in India to make a foray into the lifecare lending segment. The idea behind the move is to tap into a market which is untouched in India but is a booming business in many western countries.

“We have already serviced around 500 customers in the last few months ever since this went underway. The margins would be similar to those of our other consumer businesses such as furniture finance or consumer durables finance but the way we see it, this one more ecosystem for us to cater to and hence, we will be able to service more needs of our consumer,” Mody said. Some of the procedures being covered by the company include laparoscopic hernioplasty, all types of bariatric surgery, total laparoscopic hysterectomy (uterus removal), and knee replacement surgery and all knee care related procedures, among others.
