Scaled Agile Framework[®] (SAFe) bolsters Persistent Systems' partner ecosystem for digital transformation

December 9, 2104

Santa Clara, CA and Pune, India

Persistent Systems (BSE & NSE: PERSISTENT) today announced that it has joined the Scaled Agile Framework[®] (SAFe) Partner program to strengthen its software product DNA for customers. The company continues to expand its partner ecosystem to help customers transform into software-driven businesses. Innovative methods and frameworks, like SAFe, add to partnerships with leading technology providers in line with the recently articulated strategy for digital transformation.

Quote from Dean Leffingwell, Chief Methodologist and creator of SAFe

"Having Persistent Systems – a leader in digital transformation – join us, further validates the benefits of agility at scale and the power of the SAFe to successfully transform organizations."

Quote from Mritunjay Singh, executive director and chief operating officer at Persistent Systems

"Digital transformation is fundamentally different from IT modernization. Unlike IT, digital capabilities will be built like a software product or platform, and using agile. SAFe brings proven practices for our customers' digital journeys and strengthens the software product DNA that differentiates us and our workforce."
