

Reliance Communications Hikes Tariffs by Up to 20%

Headline Tariffs Increased from 1.5 p/sec to 1.6 p/sec

- Tariffs on discounted plans to increase by up to 20%
- Tariff increases applicable pan-India across pre-paid segment
- New acquisition tariffs to increase by 20 paise per minute
- RCOM continues to focus on growing profitable/paid minutes on its network

New Delhi, 16 April 2014: Reliance Communications, India's fully integrated telecommunications service provider, today announced an increase in tariffs by up to 20 per cent for all its pre-paid customers. Headline Tariffs will increase from 1.5 paise to 1.6 paise per second, while tariffs on discounted and promotional plans will increase by up to 20 per cent. The revised tariffs, which will be applicable for pre-paid customers across the country, come into effect from 25 April 2014.

"At Reliance Communications, we continue to focus on growing profitable/paid minutes on our network and the current tariff hikes are part of our continued efforts to reduce free and discounted minutes, & offset the ever-rising costs of input materials," Mr Gurdeep Singh, Chief Executive Officer, Consumer Business, Reliance Communications, said. "We expect RPMs to improve over the next few quarters and this will impact our performance positively," he added.
