Trident Ltd
Margin woes to ease gradually but sales ramp-up at new units to be slow

Textiles and paper

Trident Ltd's Q3FY15 results were below CRISIL Research's expectations as decline in yarn realisations and slower ramp-up in sales at the new terry towel unit impacted earnings. Revenues declined 9\% y-o-y to ₹9,313 mn primarily due to $9 \%$ y-o-y and 7\% y-o-y decline in textiles and paper segments' revenues, respectively. Yarn sales declined $15 \%$ y-o-y while terry towel sales remained largely flat. Though EBITDA margin improved sequentially, it remained under pressure, apparent from 85 bps y-o-y decline to $17.1 \%$. During the quarter, the company cleared its high-cost cotton yarn inventory; subsequently, yarn margin is expected to improve in Q4FY15. While we maintain our fundamental grade of $3 / 5$ considering the company's strong position in the terry towel segment and entry into the cotton bed sheet segment, sales pick-up at the new units is a monitorable.
Delay in sales ramp-up at new production unit and lower yarn sales impacted growth
Textile sales declined $9 \%$ y-o-y to $₹ 7,313 \mathrm{mn}$ because of decline in sales of yarn and slow pick-up in the utilisation rate at the new terry towel unit. Yarn sales were $\sim 15 \%$ lower $y-0-y$ because of oversupply and increase in internal consumption. The utilisation at the new terry towel unit continued to be plagued by delay in client approvals. The new unit is expected to add ₹3 bn revenues vis-à-vis ₹5.5 bn estimated earlier for FY15. We have also built in a delay in sales pick-up at the new cotton bed sheet unit, which is expected to become operational in 2HFY16; we expect stabilisation of operations and client approvals to take longer than previously estimated.

EBITDA margin expanded but continues to be under pressure

Though EBITDA margin expanded $108 \mathrm{bps} q-\mathrm{o}-\mathrm{q}$ to $17.1 \%$ it continued to be under pressure, apparent from 85 bps y-o-y decline, because of high-cost cotton yarn inventory and slow ramp-up in sales at the new terry towel unit. During the quarter, the company offloaded its entire high-cost cotton yarn inventory because of which yarn margins are expected to improve going ahead. We also expect terry towel margins to improve with the pick-up in the utilisation rate that would help in margin expansion.

Lower our FY15 and FY16 estimates; maintain fair value at ₹31

We have lowered our FY15 and FY16 revenue estimates by $13 \%$ and $15 \%$ to $₹ 38.2$ bn and $₹ 46.7$ bn, respectively. FY15 and FY16 PAT estimates are lowered from ₹1.8 bn and ₹2.9 bn to ₹1.2 bn and ₹1.6 bn, respectively. We continue to use the DCF method to value Trident and roll forward our valuation by one year to FY17. Our fair value estimate is unchanged at $₹ 31$ per share; at the current market price of ₹ 23 , the valuation grade is $5 / 5$.

Reasons for changes in estimates

| Line item | FY15E | FY16E |
| Revenues | - Lower-than-expected pick-up in sales at the new terry towel unit  - The paper segment's revenues have been moderating and were lower than expected because of increase in competition in the non-copier market | - Lower sales at the new terry towel unit because of delay in sales pickup in FY15  - Also expect delay in pick-up of sales at the cotton bed sheet unit. Unlike our earlier expectation of $40 \%$ utilisation rate in FY16, we have baked in a utilisation rate of $10 \%$ to factor in incremental delays due to technical issues and slower-than-expected client approval |
| EBITDA margins | - No significant change | - Lower sales contribution from cotton bed sheets which have relatively higher margins |
| PAT margins | - Lowered because of decline in EBITDA | - Lowered because of decline in EBITDA |

We continue to use the DCF method to value Trident and roll forward our valuation by one year to FY17. Considering the cut in FY15 and FY16 earnings estimates, our fair value estimate is unchanged at ₹31 per share. At the current market prices of ₹ 23 , the valuation grade is $5 / 5$.
