Global Economy

Global Economic activity is picking up with a long awaited cyclical recovery in Investment, Manufacturing, and Trade. Stronger activity and expectations of more robust global demand, coupled with agreed restrictions on oil supply, have helped commodity Prices recover from their troughs in early 2016. Growth picked up in the United States as firms grew more confident about future demand, and inventories started contributing positively to growth. Growth also remained solid in the United Kingdom, where spending proved resilient in the aftermath of the June 2016 referendum in favour of leaving the European Union (Brexit). Activity surprised on the upside in Japan due to strong net exports, as well as in euro area countries, such as Germany and Spain, as a result of strong domestic demand. Emerging Market and Developing Economies are also projected to register growth in coming times. In China, supportive macroeconomic policies, surging credit growth and a booming property market have held up the momentum of growth albeit amidst concerns about financial stability and capital outflows. In Brazil, hardening commodity prices are providing tailwinds to reforms undertaken by the authorities to pull the economy out of recession, although financial fragilities remain a risk. Russia is benefiting from the firming up of crude prices and it is widely expected that growth will return to positive territory in 2017. Overall, as per IMF estimates, Global Economy is gaining momentum and is expected to come out of the decadal gloom of Financial Crisis.

The IMF update for January, 2017 predicts likely pickup in economic activities in 2017 and 2018 after a lacklustre outturn in 2016, especially in emerging markets and developing economies. Global growth for 2016 is estimated at 3.1 per cent. For 2017 and 2018, growth is projected at 3.4 per cent and 3.6 per cent respectively. In the backdrop of global slowdown and lower world demand, India witnessed steady growth momentum in comparison to other developing world economies. The WTO lowered world trade growth forecast in 2016 to 1.7 per cent and revised the 2017 estimate between 1.8 per cent and 3.1 per cent. The contraction was driven by slowing GDP and trade growth in developing economies such as China and Brazil but also in North America, which had the strongest import growth of any region in 2014-15 but has decelerated since then.

Growth Table of world economy

	2016	2017	2018
Global Economy	3.1 %	3.4%	3.6%
Advanced Economies	1.6 %	1.9%	2.0%
Emerging market and developing economies	4.1 %	4.5%	4.8%

Indian Economy overview FY 2016-17Growth

On the domestic front, India remained the fastest growing major economy in the world, after surpassing China last year. Gross Domestic Product growth rate was 7.1% for FY 2016-17, supported by strong consumption growth and government spending.

India's GDP growth decelerated from 7.6% in FY 2015-16 to 7.1% in FY 2016-17 due to lacklustre private investment and household consumption and also perhaps the impact of demonetisation. Contribution from agriculture increased while growth in industrial and mining sectors decelerated. Government consumption was the major source of growth through increased spending on infrastructure.

Inflation

Retail inflation dropped from 4.8% in March 2016 to 3.8% in March 2017. The drop in inflation was mainly led by the fall in food prices due to bumper agriculture production. Wholesale inflation, however, rebounded to 3.7% in FY 2016-17. This was mainly driven by fuel and power inflation.

Monetary Policy

Continuing its accommodative stance on the monetary policy, the Reserve Bank of India delivered a total 50bps cut in FY 2016-17 in its benchmark repo rate, bringing it down to a six-year low of 6.25%. Monetary transmission also picked up pace after demonetisation as many large banks cut their lending rates by up to 80 bps, lowering the cost of borrowings.

Demonetisation and ensuing process of remonetisation

Government decided to ban the high value currency notes of Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 500 on November 8, 2016. Non-availability of cash created disruption in economic activity in the months of November and December 2016, particularly in the unorganised sector. Highly cash dependent sectors of the economy – land, real estate, construction, luxury items, gold etc. witnessed sharp falls in demand. However, many organised segments of the economy were close to normalcy by March 2017.

GST

GST will replace nearly a dozen central & state levies into a single national direct tax, not only simplifying the current tax system, but also hopefully make the movement of goods cheaper & seamless across the nation. Achieving smooth agreement on GST decentralized segment, (iii) khadi-based units, (iv) manmade and synthetic fibre and spinning units, v) knitting units, and (vi) made-ups (garments). Besides, the industry has a large number of small units scattered all over the country which are engaged in processing, dyeing and printing is an outstanding symbol of Cooperative Federalism, for which the Government needs to be complimented.

Outlook

The near-term growth outlook for India seems brighter than during the last fiscal. The growth forecast for the next fiscal has been trimmed by 40 bps. This has been primarily due to the temporary negative consumption shock induced by cash shortages and payment disruptions associated with the currency note withdrawal.

Indian Textile Industry

India's textiles sector is one of the oldest industries in Indian economy dating back several centuries. Even today, textiles sector is one of the largest contributors to India's exports with approximately 15 per cent of total exports. The textiles industry is also labour intensive and is one of the largest employers. The textile industry has two broad segments. First, the unorganised sector consists of handloom, handicrafts and sericulture, which are operated on a small scale and through traditional tools and methods. The second is the organised sector consisting of spinning, apparel and garments segment which apply modern machinery and techniques such as economies of scale.

The textile industry employs about 51 million people directly and 68 million people indirectly. India's overall textile exports during FY 2015-16 stood at US$ 40 billion. The Indian textiles industry is extremely varied, with the hand-spun and hand-woven textiles sectors at one end of the spectrum, while the capital intensive sophisticated mills sector at the other end of the spectrum. The decentralised power looms/ hosiery and knitting sector form the largest component of the textiles sector. The close linkage of the textile industry to agriculture (for raw materials such as cotton) and the ancient culture and traditions of the country in terms of textiles make the Indian textiles sector unique in comparison to the industries of other countries. The Indian textile industry has the capacity to produce a wide variety of products suitable to different market segments, both within India and across the world.

Indian Dying & Printing Industry

Textile processing is one of the important industries related with textile manufacturing operations. Textile processing is a general term that covers right from singeing (protruding fiber removal) to finishing and printing of fabric. The various steps a fabric goes into are singeing, desizing, bleaching, dyeing, and finishing. Bleaching is a process to make the fabric or yarn look brighter and whiter. Dyeing is a process of applying colouring matter directly on fiber without any additives. Finishing is the final process to impart the required end use finishes to the fabric and lastly the printing process on fabric which is a science as well as an art. Textile auxiliaries such as chemicals are used for all stages of the textile manufacturing process that is from pre-treatment to dyeing and printing and finishing.

The textile industry is classified into (i) textile mills comprising composite and spinning mills in the organized segment, (ii) small power loom and handloom units in the decentralized segment, (iii) khadi-based units, (iv) manmade and synthetic fibre and spinning units, (v) knitting units, and (vi) made-ups (garments). Besides, the industry has a large number of small units scattered all over the country which are engaged in processing, dyeing and printing of yarn, fabrics and for conversion. The processing units include sizing, desizing, kiering, bleaching, mercerizing, dyeing, printing and finishing.

Market Size

The Indian textiles industry, currently estimated at around US$ 120 billion, is expected to reach US$ 230 billion by 2020. The Indian Textile Industry contributes approximately 4 per cent to India's Gross Domestic Product (GDP), and 14 per cent to overall Index of Industrial Production (IIP).

The Indian textile industry has the potential to reach US$ 500 billion in size#. The growth implies domestic sales to rise to US$ 315 billion from currently US$ 68 billion. At the same time, exports are implied to increase to US$ 185 billion from approximately US$ 41 billion currently.
