Yash Pakka Limited ■ Annual Report 2020-21

(formerly Yash Papers Limited)

FOND REMEMBRANCE

Tribute to our founding member,
Mr. KK Jhunjhunwala, whose vision of inclusive progress remains our guiding light.

Though the COVID-19 pandemic created a global economic and humanitarian crisis, it will also be remembered as a period when governments, businesses and citizens rallied together behind a common cause to save lives and protect livelihoods.

At Yash Pakka Limited (YPL), we are proud of how the worst of times got the best out of our people, as they demonstrated the spirit of courage, bonding and fellowship, showing remarkable resilience in adversity.

Thus, we have curated stories of hope to shine a light in this time of unprecedented challenge.

“Mein samajhta hoon ki mushkil waqt mein kisi ke kaam aana bahut badi cheez hain, aur upar wale ne mujhe yeh seva ka mauka diya.”*

PRABHU DAYAL
Driver and Vehicle
Management Head

I am a driver at YPL and ensuring the safety and comfort of my passengers is my responsibility. So what if my passengers are COVID positive?

Me and the other drivers on my team never thought twice about who our passengers were. We donned our PPE suits, wore our masks and all that we were focused on was driving them to the hospital safely and quickly. For me, I did not leave the hospital premises until I was sure that my colleague was properly admitted.

My family used to ask me why I risked my life. I told them this was no risk at all. I was doing something noble so how could anything harmful happen to me? On the practical side, I also told them that my Company had given us full PPE suits to wear and all implements, including sanitisers, sprays, etc.

I would have made several trips to the hospital. Yet, through my positivity in helping them, I remained negative!

*I feel supporting and helping someone in their difficult times is a big thing and I am thankful to the almighty for giving me this opportunity.

“Covid ne logo ko door kiya. Lekin yeh mahamari ne hamare Yash Parivaar ko aur bhi zyaada mazboot kiya.”*

DEEPALI SHRIVASTAVA
Team Development Lead

How will I ever forget the date: 5th July 2020.

Wrapping up work for the day and preparing to leave for home, I slumped back into my chair when I read a message on my phone. Our MD sir and his wife had contracted COVID. I was in shock and my first thoughts were that they get well soon. As I had come in contact with MD sir previously, I immediately isolated myself at home. We have a small baby and my husband was remarkably calm and supportive.

The next day I got a call from office that a list had been prepared of those who had to go for COVID testing. My name was on that list. Sitting in the bus that would take us to the testing centre, it was amazing that the ride was anything but tense. We were telling each other that everything would be fine and there was no need to panic. Everyone was smiling and chatting and there was no negativity. More than any other time before, I could really feel the value of our Yash Parivaar, the deep family-like connect forged with my colleagues.

In the evening when we returned back exhausted, our MD sir was at his residence and he waved at us from afar, a huge smile on his face. Seeing positivity among those whom we looked up to was heartwarming and comforting beyond words.

*Covid has enforced a distance among people. Yet, the crisis strengthened the bonds among our Yash family.

“We created a ‘COVID Crack Team’ in response to the pandemic and our role was to seed hope and good vibes.”

NAVINA JOHN
Head, Human Resources

Staying positive and spreading positivity was important amid the gloom.

Since most of our colleagues come from small nearby villages, it became crucial for us to raise awareness about COVID and COVID-safe behaviour. We thus emphasised that COVID-appropriate behaviour would keep people safe, while also ensuring that our plant operations could be sustained unhindered.

As part of the Covid Crack Team, we made visits across the plant premises to ensure that workers and colleagues wore masks and maintained at least 2-feet distance from each other. We had also placed sanitisers and ensured that they remain refilled at all times.

After the shutdown ended in May-June 2020, we prioritised testing and made sure that at least 100-150 people get tested every day. Me and my team were in charge of this and one of us wore a full PPE suit to remain in attendance to ensure that the testing process went smoothly. I often conveyed to my team that though personal safety was important, testing was equally important as even one positive case could infect many, thus jeopardising our operations.

Beyond the plant premises, we ensured that the family members of our colleagues affected by COVID were safely transported for quarantine to hotels in Ayodhya with whom we had tied-up with. Moreover, with our workers' colony adjacent to our plant being contained to curb the transmission, we had also ensured that daily essentials like milk for children, bread, eggs, vegetable and fruit were reached to their doorstep through no-contact delivery.

“The hospital floor was transformed into a warm and hospitable place and the way we were taken care of by YPL was just amazing.”

SUSHANT SINHA
Mechanical Head

The one thing that we all looked forward to was the food.

Fresh, delicious and nutritious food was delivered every day to us at the hospital from our Company canteen. In fact, hearing us talk about food, even other patients on the floor became interested and soon our canteen started delivering food to them too!

Can you guess in what containers the food was served? Yes, environment-friendly Chuk plates and tableware!

The other factor that contributed to making our floor cheerful was the attention given by our Company to even small things, like fixing the lights and plugging water leaks on walls. Further, our Company also ensured frequent sanitisation to maintain hygiene and cleanliness.

For me, COVID was an anxious experience, yet made light and convivial in the company of my Yash Parivaar!

“The year 2020-21 threw up major all-round business challenges. Yet, hope and determination enabled us to see the year through.”

VIKASH SRIVASTAVA
Sales Regional Head

For me, I would say that four major things in sales and marketing kept our business afloat amidst the challenging COVID-19 period.

One was the robust relations build with our customers and dealers. Through our ability to meet their quality, quantity and delivery expectations, we have been able to win their trust and confidence and were their default choice when they resumed order placement.

Two was our ability to divert production to exports to offset slower domestic sales; we thus achieved healthy exports growth during the year.

Three was the essential nature of our products, them being used in the medical and FMCG sectors, etc., which, although on a smaller scale, ensured continuous production.

And four of course was our unalloyed team spirit and belief that together we could achieve anything!

RAJESH KUMAR SINGH
PM-3 Shift Head

The true reflection of any achievement is the kind of challenges one has faced.

During the year we faced all sorts of challenges – both external and internal. The COVID-19-induced complexities were there and so were certain technical malfunctions with our paper machine-3. In addition, my team members were infected by COVID and there were manpower challenges too.

Yet, I am so proud of my team that together we slowly but surely countered each challenge boldly.

We were empowered with an owner’s mindset that if our machine performed well, our business would do well and that would benefit all of us. We studied every part of the machine, explored and analysed solutions and consulted with external experts.

The result was that we were able to slowly ramp-up production and today, our machine has returned to peak capacity, generating almost 80 tons per day and contributing to the Company’s sales!

* Our team faced the pandemic conditions with grit and demonstrated that our team is not weak.

“We focused on overcoming the COVID-triggered challenges through re-routing, keeping our destination unchanged.”

MUDIT TANDON
Head, Global Key Accounts

Consider the odds. Our compostable tableware business is a relatively young one and, even as it was finding its feet, COVID-19 decimated its key customer segment – the hospitality industry.

In a scenario such as this, it was important that we keep our flock together and seed the belief that the storm would eventually subside and, in the meantime, we had to create a robust shelter.

So we quickly re-pivoted the business to move with the market, as ordering-in picked up pace. To cater to home consumption and pantry stocking trends, we innovated to manufacture delivery food containers, meal trays, etc., complete with lids and sealing solutions. Furthermore, we also focused on markets abroad and made sound inroads into the Middle East, Australia, the US and Europe.

Through this, we not only took our proposition of 100% natural and safe bagasse-based compostable products far and wide, we also opened up a much larger addressable market, preparing the foundations for the future.

“We have always believed that the slow and steady win the race.”

MANISH KUMAR
Fibre Yard Head

Being in-charge of the fibre yard, I own the crucial responsibility of ensuring that we have adequate raw material and our plant never faces a stock-out.

Yet, the COVID-19 pandemic posed an existential threat as it presented adverse challenges not only in raw material procurement, but also in loading and unloading, as it had to be done safely following COVID-safe practices.

We thought that instead of going fast and all-out, we should go slow and steady, learning along the way and balancing people safety with regular stock movement. In addition to the temperature checking, etc., we mandated compulsory mask-wearing and also ensured comfort through installation of large pedestal fans for cooling and ventilation. We also installed many hand sanitisation points.

Today, I am happy that we have learnt to operate in the new normal and though we hope that there are no subsequent virus waves, we are better prepared for any unforeseen eventuality.

“2020-21 WAS A DEFINING YEAR IN WHICH STRONG RELATIONSHIPS WITH ALL OUR STAKEHOLDERS WAS FUNDAMENTAL IN ENSURING BUSINESS RESILIENCY. MY APPRECIATION GOES TO ALL OUR STAKEHOLDERS, ESPECIALLY OUR EMPLOYEES FOR THEIR COMMITMENT AND SUPPORT OVER THE COURSE OF THE YEAR.”

- PRADEEP DHOBALE

Chairman's statement

Dear stakeholders,

The year 2020-21 was undoubtedly a very challenging one, with COVID-19 abruptly upending every aspect of our lives and disrupting every industry worldwide.

It has been inspiring to see how our colleagues have come together when it matters the most. My sincere thanks goes to everyone for going above and beyond to care for one another, to deliver for our customers and support our communities. Our factory largely remained open, thanks to a herculean effort by our people. This includes ensuring the correct protective equipment is made available at all times, running operations in line with relevant legislations during national lockdowns, embracing new shift patterns and digital ways of working, securing supplies, getting products across borders and balancing the many professional and personal pressures we all faced.

Like all businesses, our key priorities through the year have been to protect our people and business and to support our customers. Very early on, we took concerted action related to mitigating the spread of the virus and its impacts, including a travel ban, social distancing and remote and shift-based work streams to maintain business operations. Further, significant effort also went into managing our supply chain to serve our customers in the best possible way. We have built a healthy liquidity position and continue active working capital management and cost savings.

Laid bare by the pandemic, it is true that the battle against climate change cannot be put aside. As a society, we need to put an end to our dependency on fossil-based materials in favour of products based on renewable resources.

Our business is built on a renewable raw material, bagasse, serving national and global markets with products that help customers and consumers make responsible eco-friendly choices. Our offering is also rooted in sustainability, as sustainably managed agri resources grow back. Our products are low-carbon and our operations utilise 100% biomass energy, helping to address some of the climate challenges head-on.

In 2020-21, we refreshed our strategy, entering a new phase in our transformation journey and shaping our business for accelerated growth and value creation. We have anchored our growth initiatives on specialised paper grades that will help us integrate better into customer supply chains, while also enabling us to remain at the frontline of customer-driven innovation. In our moulded products business, we see rising demand for sustainable, plastic-free and circular products, with the pandemic tilting demand for these varieties. Furthermore, with a view to explore collaborative opportunities in sustainable food packaging innovation we have set up a new wholly-owned subsidiary company in the US.

Moving into 2021-22, vaccination will be progressively expanded and accelerated and this will be one of the reasons of economic buoyancy, though one has to keep a sharp lookout on inflation and rising commodity prices. I am confident that we are prepared to manage uncertainty and volatility in this business environment. Our focus is on ensuring that our colleagues and partners are safe, and on serving our customers by keeping our operations running, mitigating supply chain challenges and introducing new products and solutions. We will also focus on Project Jagriti that envisages ramp up of our pulp, paper, moulded products and energy capacities, thus embarking on a new vector of growth that will help us deliver sustained outcomes for the long-term.

While the immediate months and quarters ahead of us continue to be partly uncertain, I do retain my cautious optimism about our future. Our country is steadily expanding vaccination coverage, which is our best hope of moderating the third wave and eventually putting the ruinous effects of the pandemic behind us. Once we push beyond that, the future looks favourable. We look forward to working with all our stakeholders in 2021 and beyond.

On behalf of Yash Pakka, I wish you all good health, safety and a brighter tomorrow.

Warm regards,
Pradeep Dhobale

Message from the Executive Vice Chairman

My dear investor,

Thank you for your continued confidence in us.

The past year has been one of deep learning for all of us. We realise how futile life can be and how a little virus can completely disrupt humankind. This has also further reinforced the value of our work.

It has been a year of HOPE

I would start by talking about the amazing energy of the Yash Pakka team to overcome the challenges that came our way. Our manufacturing was shut twice, once during the beginning of the pandemic in April 2020, and then in July 2020 as various cases were found in our manufacturing site.

We decided through the ordeal that the most important aspect at the time was to ensure that all our team members and their families were taken care of and hence we learnt how to assist hospitals, run hotels, serve our team in our colonies and also work towards maximising the shutdown period through maintenance and other activities. The team ensured high spirits through the process and not one job was lost and no cuts were made to salaries.

It is truly inspiring for me to see how the team ensured that we get back on our feet and also end the year profitably, although there were huge challenges in the marketplace. Our products get directly effected as we are mostly focused on food applications, whether it is moulded products, paper or pulp. Yet, our teams kept looking to service our customers, secure longer-term agreements and expand our market reach. The spirit of the team never ceases to amaze me, and I have deep respect for the leadership and teamwork at the organisation.

Emerging stronger through the process

We are stabilising our operations for pulp and paper and are ensuring that we take bigger targets there. We are also focusing on getting deeper into value-added products in the food carry segments. We are looking to expand operations in Ayodhya to be able to provide more pulp and also have more effective solutions for bag products.

It has continued to be a challenge with the moulded products business, but we remain optimistic about the future. We are stabilising the current operations by ensuring better efficiencies and more machine availability. We are also expanding the number of machines, which will enable us to improve the utilisation of our facilities.

We have been in the process of merging our marketing operations, which will enable the organisation to become more seamless, going forward. As awareness rises and greater statutory regulations come into force, we foresee huge opportunities globally for our products. We would also look to go asset-light to lease manufacturing from other partners so that we can be nimble and more effective in our go-to-market strategies.

Continuing to invest in innovation

As part of our innovation agenda, we are focusing on various domains and products that will be introduced in the coming year. Some of these include:

- Stronger and more effective solutions for grocery bags
- Compostable flexible packaging solutions for specific applications
- Delivery solutions for our moulded products
- Value-added products from our by-product streams

A stronger team and facility is being built as we speak and we will continue to find and build global collaborations for the same.

There has been a significant shift in my role in the past year. I have now moved to a non-executive position in the Indian operations and lead the global operations from the US.

The idea there is to build towards stronger innovation collaborations and investments in the compostable packaging space. We have established a 100% subsidiary in the US and will begin to build towards global impact in the coming period.

I do remain involved as the strategic lead overall and we have various plans to further strengthen our business. We are working on first strengthening the financials and reducing leverage. We will then be looking towards further expanding our manufacturing base and are scouting for opportunities for the same. We remain focused on advancing our compostable products business and thus a strong operating model is being evolved and implemented.

The idea for us at the core is to find and provide compostable packaging solutions to build a value-added business and contribute towards a cleaner planet.

We have initiated investor calls in the past year and have learnt in each one of them. I urge you to join us quarterly to discuss the performance, question our actions and guide us with your ideas. We are always enriched by your presence.

We look forward to raising awareness and building strong results in the compostable packaging space, looking to improved performance in the coming times.

With my best wishes,
Ved Krishna

Review by our Managing Director

“FISCAL YEAR 2020-21 WAS UNDOUBTEDLY CHALLENGING, WITH THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC IMPACTING OUR BUSINESS AND MARKETS IN INDIA AND WORLDWIDE. DESPITE THE CHALLENGES, WE ACHIEVED SATISFACTORY PERFORMANCE, WHICH IS THE OUTCOME OF OUR TEAM’S AND PARTNER’S AGILITY AND RESILIENCE, AND BACKED BY A MUCH STRONGER VISION OF THE COMPANY THAT CONTINUES TO ALIGN WITH ITS CORE BELIEF IN SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT FOR THE ENVIRONMENT, CUSTOMERS AND COMMUNITY.”

- JAGDEEP HIRA

What is your overall reading of the COVID-19 pandemic? ?

The pandemic has had a starkly unequal impact. On the one end of the socio-economic scale, extreme poverty is expected to rise for the first time in 20 years. On the other, stock markets across the world averaged 11% growth in 2020. Notably, the socio-economic crisis in the wake of the pandemic has also shifted attitudes and values. Citizens have an increased expectation of governments and businesses in addressing environmental ills. The spotlight is on big corporations to prove their developmental credentials. So, sustainability is coming to the forefront and additional disclosures are being demanded to determine the sustainability impact of organisations. Case in point is the rising emergence of ESG norms.

Q. What has been your experience of leading the business during the pandemic?

COVID-19 hasn’t turned down our spirits. In fact, if anything, it has only enhanced our determination and resolve to recover and achieve normalisation in meeting our purpose of a better future, a need which has only been amplified by the pandemic. The inspiring nature of our purpose has marshalled our resources to rise above any adversity, and our role in the leadership has been to ensure that our teams feel safe, motivated and protected in achieving our performance targets. I feel proud to lead such a team that has embodied the collective spirit of grit and resilience.

Q. What was the performance of the overall business during the year?

Our business is built on a renewable raw material, bagasse, serving both Indian and global markets with products that help consumers make responsible eco-friendly choices.

Our performance in 2020-21 was reasonable considering that a force majeure event shut our operations for 67 days of the year and by a further 24 days as we focused on curbing the rise of COVID cases within the facility. Thus, our turnover declined by 27% to ₹183.65 cr for the year and yet, our sense of urgency in the swift and safe operational resumption and quick plug-in with supply chains to meet customer demand enabled our Company to remain in the black with a net profit of ₹16.72 cr. This to me is the headline of the year; despite all the adversities and challenges we were able to sustain our profitability.

Q. Where was the effort the most directed to during the year?

In 2020-21, while on the one side we concentrated on the day-to-day, we also focused on setting ourselves up for the long-term. So, in a sense, we renewed our strategy for accelerated growth and value transformation.

We have chosen to focus our growth initiatives in sustainable packaging, an area where we have built leading market positions and are driving frontline customer-centric innovation. Thus, we are focusing on strong and competitive asset creation to drive accelerated growth. To strive further in enhancing production capacity of paper and compostable moulded products, we are:

- Enhancing PM# 3 quality to ensure world-class paper with adequate high strength for bag manufacturing for food packaging
- Expansion of capacity in our moulded products business by about 25% to 14-TPD through the installation of 8 new lines
- Growth in our integrated pulp mill capacity by about a fifth to 160-TPD to ensure in-house pulp production for meeting the increased paper and moulded products capacities. Notably, our pulp mill capacity is being expanded to a level that factors any future inorganic growth opportunities in our downstream products
- Co-generation enhancement to supplement growth in production

Q. What prompted the expansion, especially at this point of time?

Though this might appear as a counter-cyclical investment today, the strategy was seeded years ago. COVID-19 could have derailed our plans, yet we decided to stay on course precisely because of it, as the event has accelerated demand for sustainable, plastic-free and circular products. There are huge concerns over plastic all over the world. At least 22 countries have imposed a complete ban on it. Paper on the other hand is the most viable and effective solution that can reduce fossil-based materials in packaging. Our moulded products have a similar identity as they are backyard compostable and can easily go back to the earth rather than ending up in landfill.

With the recent development at the domestic level wherein the government has passed legislation for enforcing ban on single-use plastic, we see multifold demand in paper for packaging where we already have an entrenched presence through the highest share of 50%+ in the domestic market. The upcoming investment will only boost the quality of our products to global standards with agri residue as our key raw material. Similarly, our compostable moulded products will witness enormous demand, which will be backed up by capacity enhancement initiatives. Chuk is a brand widely known for customer satisfaction and we are further working to provide the full basket of products as per customer expectations and requirements.

Thus, there is a clear case building up for our products and we are focused on operationalising our new assets over the medium-term.

With the consumer segment picking up as more people start using disposables, we have decided to focus on the retail side of the business, which comprises general trade (wholesale), modern trade and e-commerce, to drive growth.

Q. How did the moulded products division perform during the year?

Through our compostable moulded products under “Chuk” we are providing a responsible choice to our customers to help them lower their carbon footprint in the supply chain and meet their environmental targets. Pre-pandemic, the brand had covered ground and had enlisted most of the major food, QSR and hospitality brands. However, with the pandemic having a huge negative impact on QSR and dining, the performance of the business also remained restrained during the year.

Yet, with the long-term prospects of moulded products remaining intact, we made important progress during the year. We finalised critical designs and are in the process of launching them in the plates range, which would be aligned as per customer preferences. Further, with dine-in and catering businesses taking a hit, we decided to focus on hotels and hospitals, which helped us sustain our operations and meet our fixed costs.

Besides, with the consumer segment picking up as more people start using disposables, we focused on retail, comprising the general trade (wholesale), modern trade and e-commerce, to drive growth. We thus launched 25-pc retail pack in the clear PLA segment. Moreover, the business was also able to launch products in the consumer segment via the onboarding of Big Basket and Reliance Smart Retail, which will help us in building the brand right at the consumer level.

Q. How does Yash Pakka expect to deliver long-term shareholder value?

To me, shareholder value is a function of two things. One, judicious capital allocation and two, investments for the long-term. At the Company, we are doing both. While our balance sheet supports the new integrated project investment, the expansion project will help accelerate long-term shareholder value as we focus on achieving our ‘Mission 2025’. The investment will give us quality, efficiency and scale and will potentially transform our profitability, which will enhance our ability to grow shareholder value.

The Company’s market capitalisation has increased over the last two-three years, which is clearly reflective of the growing investor interest in our Company and their confidence in what we are building for the long-term.

What we achieved during the year gone by:

- Produced paper used in medical masks, thus playing our role in society
- Improved pulp quality by adjusting cooking, washing and bleaching conditions with focus on automation
- Reduced inventory despite subdued demand; closing stock was 367 MT, vs. 1,467 MT of opening stock
- Added new customers both in India as well as overseas, including in new territories such as Iraq, Qatar and North of Jordan, thus enlarging our footprint more prominently in the Middle East
- Commenced trading activities for seeding the market and creating a platform for our upcoming glassine and grease-proof paper grades
- Launched new plate designs under Chuk for meeting the diverse food portion preferences of customers

What's coming up for this year:

- Retrofitting PM#3 to improve paper quality to manufacture specialised high-strength bag paper
- Implementing advanced mill maintenance practices to ensure best possible utilisation
- Identifying skill gaps and training to narrow the gap and enhance productivity
- Maintain stock levels of less than 350 MT
- Enhancing export market share from 25% to 35% (of total production) by augmenting our global distribution network, especially in untapped regions
- Building leading positions in glassine and grease-proof paper, high-strength paper bags for e-commerce, and paper for food bags and wrapping
- Developing general and modern trade channels and fortifying our presence in the QSR segment
- Exploring an asset-light strategy in moulded products manufacturing

Contributing to megatrends shaping business and society

COVID-19 HAS HAD A PROFOUND IMPACT ON MARKETS AND CONSUMERS ACROSS THE WORLD. THOUGH THE PACKAGING MARKET HAS REMAINED RESILIENT, WE CONSIDER THAT THE FUTURE OF PACKAGING HAS BEEN PULLED FORWARD SEVERAL YEARS BY THE PANDEMIC, WITH MUCH GREATER EMPHASIS BEING NOW PLACED ON SUSTAINABILITY AND BRAND VALUE.

Sustainability

Key challenges

- Though global consumption is rapidly rising, consumer awareness on eco-friendly materials and limited natural resources is also expanding, while regulation on environmental compliance, circularity and sustainability is increasing.
- Businesses are focused on replacing fossil-based and other non-renewable materials with renewable and recyclable alternatives, a trend that is also being given impetus by green capital and ESG-oriented funds.
- Social and environmental challenges, including food and water insecurity, climate change, biodiversity loss, plastic use and deforestation are common concerns for us and our stakeholders, with implications for business and livelihoods. These challenges have been compounded by the pandemic.
- Consumer awareness around sustainability issues and expectations of businesses to address them, continue to rise, requiring organisations to effectively contribute to solutions to hold relevance among customers.

Our opportunities

While we continue to face extraordinary social and environmental challenges, we see deep opportunity in delivering sustainable and innovative packaging solutions to our customers and consumers.

We are addressing our opportunities by:

- Keeping sustainability at the centre of our strategy to deliver value-accretive growth.
- Facilitating research and innovation to ensure compliance with environmental standards, while also reducing the carbon footprint of our operations.
- Focusing on creating collaborations via a global innovations platform to explore innovative and meaningful long-term solutions.

Brand value

Key challenges

- Rising competitive intensity has enforced the importance for products to be distinctive and stand out on shelves. Thus, packaging is key for our customers, retailers and brand owners to communicate their values to their stakeholders.
- With the need for safety getting amplified by the pandemic, consumers have turned to brands that assure product integrity and security, with packaging playing a crucial role in meeting this demand.
- Consumers, especially millennials, are responding to stories of brands that are sensitive to the environment, are ethical in their practices and respect human rights.

Our opportunities

- We are helping our customers to keep pace with the ever-evolving consumer demands for convenient, fit-for-purpose, functional and sustainable packaging. Chuk is a case in point, as the brand has gained success in finding resonance amongst a variety of customers.
- We are investing in enhancing the capacity and expertise of our packaging business to broaden our capabilities and grow with our customers.

Overview

At Yash Pakka, in our quest for continuous innovation and product development, we are moving ourselves from a business where sustainability has always been important, to one where it is front and centre of everything we do. Thus, we are focused on exploring the potential of bagasse, a versatile agri resource that offers rich possibilities in sustainable food packaging.

Establishing a distinct focus area under “Innovation”, we are committed to explore possibilities in food packaging that enable the switch to sustainable products, replacing single-use plastic and other such products that inflict long-term harm on the environment.

Our focus on new product development is supported by our in-house innovation laboratory within our complex in Ayodhya and a team of 6 members who are all post-graduates.

Managing risks

OUR REPUTATION AS A TRUSTED PARTNER IS BUILT ON THE STRONG FOUNDATIONS OF RISK MANAGEMENT AND ETHICAL CONDUCT. THIS PROTECTS THE VALUE WE CREATE FOR OUR STAKEHOLDERS.

Impacts of COVID-19, a “black swan” event

The Company operated in a highly complex and uncertain external environment in 2020-21. The public health, financial and humanitarian threats associated with COVID-19 compounded the socio-economic pressures that existed in India and elsewhere across our key global markets prior to the onset of the pandemic.

COVID-19 did not slow the momentum of change in our competitive landscape; rather, it amplified the threat as competition intensified focus on low-grammage paper and created a major pricing distortion. However, challenges in raw material (newsprint) availability eased supply-side pressures to some extent. Chuk, our compostable tableware brand, also suffered erosion in demand on account of lockdowns that subdued offtake from QSR customers, who are the major buyers.

This made it imperative to accelerate resumption of the business once the lockdowns were lifted. Thus, the July-December 2020 period was relatively strong, as production ramped up, supply chain disruptions eased, demand revived and consumer confidence came back. However, the second wave of the pandemic hit the first quarter of 2021-22 and heterogenous lockdowns dislocated supply chains yet again. This impacted our January-March 2021 performance.

In line with our medium-term strategy, we will focus on dealing with the immediate impacts of the pandemic. While we will ensure full resumption of operations and normalise customer deliveries, we will also focus on our new project comprising the installation of a new paper machine and 8 more lines for expanding our tableware capacity. This is in addition to capacity expansion for pulp and power.

Key risks facing our business and our actions to counter these are given below.

Business resilience risk	Losses arising from critical system failures and/or business process failures impacting our ability to do business.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We resorted to our business continuity plans (BCP) as soon as we determined the classical makings of a pandemic • While we shifted to remote working, for employees in critical roles we provided full health, hygiene and sanitisation support • We prudently utilised the downtime for maintenance, which ensured quicker capacity ramp-up once the lockdown conditions eased • We extended full support to our channel partners, while also focusing on meeting customer requirements, which resulted in minimal closing stock
ESG risk	The direct and indirect impact on the environment and society caused by the Company that might prevent it from achieving its strategic objectives.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • As a Company focused on the sustainable packaging industry, we are aware of our ESG responsibility • We measure our ESG impact across a wide range of parameters and also identify opportunities to escalate our impact
Financial risk	Our inability to maintain or generate sufficient cash resources to meet our payment obligations in full as they fall due, or at disadvantageous terms.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Though we utilised loan moratorium as sanctioned by regulatory bodies, we have since normalised our interest payments • Our debt-equity ratio stands at a comfortable 0.60x • We optimised our interest expenses during the year and are in regular discussion with our consortium for rate reduction • Our stable credit ratings supports our case for debt cost reduction

Message from our CFO

“Our financial strategy during the year was anchored on planning, forecasting and taking prudent decisions rooted in long-term thinking. We drew on moratorium benefits as stipulated by regulations, yet ensured adequate liquidity buffers to be able to meet our interest obligations at all times. Another lever that we harnessed was overall cost curtailment, without touching salary costs, to ensure that our business was aligned with the times. These initiatives enabled the Company to report profits for the year 2020-21, despite the year being of two quarters because of the coronavirus-induced shutdowns. We are working on prudent and judicious ways to reduce our cost of capital and attract investment for our expansion projects. Our focus is also on funds preservation and creating a robust financial buffer that will help us explore sustainable business opportunities at the right time.”

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Global economy

The year 2020 was an exceptional and unprecedented one for the world economy, as it grappled with the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic and the resultant challenges to public health, lockdowns and a virtual closure of international borders for an extended period of time. Trade, commerce, businesses and supply chains were majorly disrupted, and governments around the world placed emphasis on healthcare delivery and infrastructure and other ancillary priorities.

With a view to minimise the socio-economic impact of the pandemic triggered by the lockdowns and fill the output gap to the extent possible, large-scale stimulus measures were announced by major economies to support businesses and individuals, save jobs, and provide some succour from the drastic implications of an extended period of economic downturn.

Multilateral bodies such as the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank called for concerted and collaborative efforts to support the vulnerable economies. The impact on businesses has not been fully comprehended on account of the persistent nature of the pandemic and high uncertainty levels. However, there was an irrevocable change in the way of working, viability of some industries (especially high-touch and high-contact ones), nature of some jobs and various aspects of social life. At the same time, it became clear that the digital transition was not an option anymore, and that e-commerce and connectivity solutions were an imperative in the new post-pandemic economy.

In the second half of the calendar year 2020, as the virus began to lose potency and its severity dropped, restrictions began to be lifted, albeit phase-wise, across the world. Few green shoots became visible across countries and sectors as the world began to embrace the new reality and prepared for resumption of business and trade.

The spirited global race to make a vaccine saw inspiring outcomes, and the approval, commercialisation and mass production of multiple vaccines proved to be a shot in the arm and also an economic stimulus. Resultantly, the International Monetary Fund, in its April 2021 World Economic Outlook (WEO) report, calculates a decline of 3.3% in global GDP for CY2020, as against an earlier estimate of a contraction of 3.5% in January 2021 and a much more severe contraction of 4.4% in October 2020.

However, with the mutation of the virus, insufficient availability of vaccines and rising inflationary pressures, growth outlook could be subdued for 2021. Towards this extent, governments and central banks are anticipated to maintain supportive policies till the pandemic is completely under control.

Indian economy

The Indian economy, which was firmly on the path of recovery in the second half of FY2020-

21, was hit by a rather unexpectedly virulent second wave of Covid-19. That caused a severe strain on healthcare facilities in many parts of the country, leading to localised lockdowns and containments and a fall in mobility to levels seen a year ago.

As a silver lining, disruptions to production and supply chains have been far less severe during the second wave than during the first wave. Vaccinations are picking up pace, which would support faster normalisation of mobility levels and of related economic activities. Furthermore, continued accommodative monetary policy of the RBI (Reserve Bank of India) and the expected increase in capex from the government are factors that will support the growth recovery process. In addition, global growth prospects provide the country with export opportunities as an additional strong driver of growth.

The longer-term prospects for the Indian economy continue to be robust. Various initiatives, including privatisation of public sector enterprises, monetisation of assets, implementation of the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP), targeted investment incentives through the Production-Linked Incentives (PIL) scheme and the new Labour Code, are likely to trigger a virtuous cycle of investments and growth over the medium- to long-term.

Overall, FY2020-21 began on a weak note, as the onset of the pandemic triggered panic and brought most economic activities to an ostensible halt in the first quarter. While annual estimates of contraction varied, the first quarter saw an unprecedented 23.4% decline in the gross domestic product (GDP). With the second quarter also being one of decline, albeit at a slower pace than that in the first, the economy entered into a technical recession with two successive quarters of contraction. This happened only the second time since Independence and for the first time since economic liberalisation in 1991.

However, following fiscal and monetary measures undertaken by the government and the RBI, India's economic growth returned to positive territory, with pent-up demand playing out and festive demand coming to the fore. Successive quarters of the fiscal year demonstrated India's resilience, and the country's ability to bounce back was evident, and this continues to provide confidence to the industry.

Road to recovery

As per the first advance estimates of the National Statistics Office, 96% of pre-pandemic economic activity has been restored. Manufacturing activity has witnessed a sharp growth, the fastest in over a decade. This was led by the recovery in demand and output growth, post the Covid-19 shock. High frequency indicators, which showed an uptick from the third quarter of FY2020-21, indicate robust recovery in the near-term, as evidenced by the PMI - Manufacturing and IIP - Industrial.

IIP - Industrial

Thus, India has bounced back strongly and is in a better position than several other economies. The IMF pegs India's real GDP growth at 12.5% in FY2021-22, as the vaccine rollout picks up pace and economic activities continue to normalise.

Going forward, the economic scenario can be expected to be driven by pent-up positive savings, vaccine deployment, expanding stimulus, low interest rates, accommodative monetary policy and increasing public expenditure. However, oil prices are on the rise and commodity prices are seeing significant highs too and so inflationary pressures may have an impact on economic growth. Moreover, the pandemic scenario remains dynamic too, with the possibility of a third wave and stretched lockdowns and associated disruptions likely to keep the economy on the edge at least in the near-term.

Global paper and pulp industry

The year 2020 proved to be a highly challenging and difficult one for the paper industry. Due to lockdown restrictions and subsequent shutting down of economies and markets, the structural demand for paper, which was already on the wane on account of the rise of digital media, eroded at a rapid pace. Also, as work-from-home and online education became mainstay during the lockdown months of the pandemic and even subsequently, the demand for printing and writing paper faced a rapid decline.

The global paper products market is anticipated to decline to USD 868.8 bn in 2020 from USD 896.6 bn in 2019. Global paper consumption was 17% lower in 2020 vs. 2019. Due to an unforeseen decline in demand, consumption contracted and supply and demand proved to be unfavourable for paper producers. The result was a decline in the price of paper. Thus, demand for paper in Europe was 18% weaker in 2020, compared to 2019. This resulted in declining paper prices. In North America, demand declined by a much sharper 22% and in Asia by 13%, as compared to the previous year.

However, wide variation in demand between different paper grades was witnessed during the year. The decline in global demand for uncoated paper was to the extent of about 14%, whereas the demand for standard newsprint and coated mechanical paper declined by as much as 25%.

On the brighter side, the paper products market is expected to recover to USD 1,030.7 bn by 2023, growing at a CAGR of 7% between 2021-23. The factors attributed to this growth include resumption of schooling and educational activities, restoration of office demand for paper and other paper-based products and rise of e-commerce, among other factors.

Also, with growing awareness on sustainability, climate change and the impact of deforestation on the environment, paper manufacturing companies are looking at alternative sources of raw materials to manufacture paper and generate fuel power. Recycling has also been growing as a trend, and so is consumer preference for environment-friendly decomposable end-use products.

On the pulp front, global inventories came close to a balanced level by the end of 2020, after being elevated since 2018. Due to the pandemic raging in the early parts of the year, and the subsequent lockdowns and work-from-home restrictions, there was a sharp decline in the demand for printing and writing paper, leading to high pulp inventories and low prices. According to Cepi, a European agency representing the paper industry, the member countries' paper and board production decreased by 5% in 2020, compared to the previous year. This declining trend was also observed in countries including China, the US, Japan, Canada and Korea, where the paper production decline ranged between 2-17%.

In a long-term perspective, consultants F&F foresee the global pulp market to generate revenues of about USD 64,930 mn by the end of 2026, growing at a CAGR of around 4.6% between 2020-26.

Indian paper and pulp industry

Just like the rest of the world, the nationwide lockdown to curb the spread of the Covid-19 pandemic impacted demand for paper and paper products in India too, which is likely to have caused a decline of 10-15% year-on-year in 2020-21, according to Crisil Research. The annual domestic demand for paper stands at about 19 million tonnes, or 4% of the global demand share, making India the fifth largest paper consumer after China (109 million tonnes or 21% of the global share).

With schools and colleges shut due to the pandemic, as also work-from-home necessitating online interactions, the demand for writing and printing witnessed a decline. The use of industrial paper also crumpled due to weak demand in the fast moving consumer goods (FMCG) channel, consumer durables and apparel segments, which account to nearly 50-60% of the demand.

Yet, according to Business Wire, the Indian paper and paper products market is expected to grow to USD 13.4 bn in 2024, up from USD 8.6 bn in 2018, demonstrating a CAGR of 7.8%.

On top of the challenges of the pandemic, the industry also suffered from shortage of raw materials and limited availability of labour, thus affecting capacity utilisation. Moreover, with India's paper capacity clustered around 6 states, nearly 45% were in the Covid Red zones, while another 45% were in Orange zones, leading further challenges for the sector. On the other side though, the India Brand Equity Foundation (IBEF) has forecast that that with less-stringent restrictions on e-commerce, the Indian packaging industry is riding the e-tailing wave where consumers are increasingly turning online to make purchases. Another major factor is continuing government efforts to curb the usage of plastic and switch to paper instead.

The e-commerce market in India is projected to grow from USD 38.5 bn in 2017 to USD 200 bn in 2026. The re-opening of the markets post lockdown saw marketplaces as well as direct brand websites cashing-in on demand, witnessing a 130% increase in online orders.

Further, the lockdowns and mobility restrictions also accelerated digital adoption and today many consumers have become comfortable in making online purchases.

Thus, according to the Indian Institute of Packaging, the Indian packaging industry will continue to be amongst the top growing segments, with the industry, which was pegged at about USD 50 bn in 2019, is expected to reach a size of over USD 200 bn by 2025, growing at a rate of over 25% every year. When it comes to the usage share, food processing is the largest consumer of packaging at 45%, followed by pharmaceuticals at 25% and personal care products at about 10%.

Under food and beverage packaging, the demand for grocery and dairy products subsequently spurred the demand for trays and vacuum packaging. With rising urbanisation, requirement of better quality packaging of FMCG products through organised retail, and increasing preference for ready-to-eat foods, the segment is expected to witness an exponential growth in the forthcoming years.

Ban on single-use plastic in India

The government has adopted a 6-pronged approach to curb single-use plastic in India. Nearly 90% plastic packaging is discarded and dumped in landfill and in water bodies. In order to deal with the problem, the government has set the ambitious target to completely phase-out single-use plastic by 2022. The 6-pronged strategy includes - reduce, reuse, recycle, recover, redesign, re-manufacture to curb the menace of single-use plastic.

According to some estimates, nearly 10 million tonnes of plastic waste is generated in the country every year and most of it is discarded and dumped in the land and water bodies. In order to deal with this problem, the Centre has notified Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016. Under the new rules, the government has asked generators of plastic waste to take steps to minimise plastic waste and also to ensure segregated storage of waste at the source.

Foodservice disposables market

The market size of the global foodservice disposables market is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 4.19% between 2019-25, from USD 61.25 bn to USD 78.35 bn in the respective years, according to Arizton Advisory & Intelligence. Within this, the market size revenue of foodservice disposables made from paper was valued at USD 19.80 bn in 2019, and is expected to reach USD 27.54 bn by 2025, registering a CAGR of 5.65% and witnessing the highest growth among other materials.

The Asia Pacific (APAC) region dominates the global market for foodservice disposables after North America, accounting for 27.57% share and valued at USD 16.89 bn in 2019. It is expected to reach a size of USD 22.64 bn by 2025, growing at a CAGR of 5.01%, led by China, Japan and India, where the market is witnessing a surge owing to the fast-growing economies and rising food consumption rates.

China and India are considered among the top nations that are driving the global market due to high demand from various end-user segments.

In India, the demographic dividend, including 65% of the population below the age of 35, and a high percentage of working individuals and students, provides a strong growth impetus for the foodservice disposables market. The market in the country was valued at USD 2.82 bn in 2019, and is expected to reach USD 3.82 bn by 2025, growing at a CAGR of 5.2%. Notably, the demand for products in all pack sizes is high in India. The large population, as well as organised and liberalised retail, has had a positive impact on the market.

Opportunities and enablers

Lower standardisation: Improper disposal and absence of any significant regulatory oversight has led to increasing consumer activism that has resulted in a gradual shift to the use of biodegradable and environment-friendly products.

Convenience: Among the effects of the pandemic-induced lockdowns was a need for convenience, with home delivery coming to the fore. Moreover, with life and lifestyle becoming busier and work-from-home gaining prominence, calling over for food has become a repeatable and frequent habit.

Third-party food delivery: Home delivery options have increased and third-party food delivery aggregators have stepped up their offerings to add to the convenience of online food ordering. It was estimated that by 2020, foodservice providers were expected to capture over 60% share of the food expenses from consumers the world over.

Demand for packaged food: The factors of convenience, delivery and rising disposable incomes have led to an increasing demand for packaged, processed and ready-to-eat food items.

Key takeaways

The growth of the Indian paper and foodservices disposable sector is anchored on several positive trends:

- Replacement emerging from the prospective ban on single-use plastic packaging materials
- Demand from customers (paper convertors, etc.) seeking to enhance their green credentials and for ensuring supply chain sustainability
- Demand from end consumers interested in green, clean and environment-friendly disposable products with a backstory
- Demand restoration from the education and office sectors, as schools and offices reopen
- Growth in e-commerce players as they introduce more products to more pin-codes
- Low per capita paper consumption in India (14 kg vs. global average of 57 kg)
- Demand for convenience and time pressures have accelerated in-home food ordering and hence expanded demand for disposable packaging products

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls;
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management;
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern;

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation;

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) Planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosures about the matters or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

1. As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2016 ("the Order"), issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub-section (11) of section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013, we give in the "Annexure A" a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.
2. As required by Section 143(3) of the Act, we report that:
 - (a) We have sought and obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of our audit;
 - (b) In our opinion, proper books of account as required by law have been kept by the Company so far as it appears from our examination of those books;
 - (c) The Balance Sheet, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and the Cash Flow Statement dealt with by this Report are in agreement with the books of account;

ANNEXURE “B” TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of YASH PAKKA LIMITED (“the Company”) as of 31st March, 2021 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of the company that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of the company were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of the company and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has except for strengthening of access controls for remote access of data and process of financial closure at period end, in all material respects, internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of the company and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2021; based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities are measured at fair value.
- Defined benefit plans where plan assets measured at fair value.

1.1. Use of Judgment and Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the accounts and reported amounts of income and expenses during the year. The management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of financial statements are prudent and reasonable. The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date.

Actual results could differ from those estimates. The most significant techniques for estimation are described in the accounting policies below. Critical accounting judgments and the key sources of estimation or uncertainty in applying the Company’s accounting policies arise in relation to property, plant and equipment, impairment of assets, current asset provisions, deferred tax, retirement benefits and provisions.

Information about significant areas of estimates and judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements are as below:

- Impairment of Financial Assets;
- Impairment of Non-Financial Assets;
- Estimates of useful lives and residual value of Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets;
- Valuation of Inventories;
- Measurement of Defined Benefit Obligations and actuarial assumptions;
- Provisions and Contingencies;
- Estimation of current tax expense and tax payable.

Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized prospectively in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification.

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current/non-current as per the Company’s normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in Division II to Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash or cash equivalents. Based on the nature of activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realization in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

1.2. Statement of Significant Accounting Policies

1.2.1. Property, Plant and Equipment

Freehold land is carried at historical cost. All other items of Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE) are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the item.

The cost of an item of PPE comprises its purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure including brokerage and start-up costs on making the asset ready for its intended use, other incidental expenses and interest on borrowings attributable to acquisition of qualifying assets up to the date the asset is ready for its intended use.

When significant parts of PPE are required to be replaced at intervals, company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives.

An item of PPE is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognized.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of PPE are reviewed at each financial year end and changes if any are accounted in line with revisions to accounting estimates.

Depreciation

Depreciation on PPE is provided as per straight line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

PPE costing less than ₹5,000/- are fully depreciated in the year of capitalization.

Depreciation on additions/deductions to PPE made during the year is provided on a pro-rata basis from / up to the date of such additions / deductions, as the case may be.

Capital Work in Progress

Capital work in progress is stated at cost, net of impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises of the cost of items of PPE not yet commissioned, incidental pre-operative expenses and borrowing costs.

1.2.2. Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are carried at cost net of accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Amortization

The above is amortized over a period of 5 years on Straight Line Basis.

1.2.3. Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Non-financial assets other than inventories and deferred tax assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is higher of the assets or Cash-Generating Units (CGU's) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or group of assets.

When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

1.2.4. Leases

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract

conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

As a lessee

(A) Lease Liability

At the commencement date, the Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at that date. The lease payments shall be discounted using incremental borrowing rate.

(B) Right-of-use assets

Initially recognised at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives.

Subsequent measurement

(A) Lease Liability

Company measure the lease liability by (a) increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability; (b) reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made; and (c) remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications.

(B) Right-of-use assets

Subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the under lying asset.

Short term lease:

Short term lease is that, at the commencement date, has a lease term of 12 months or less. A lease that contains a purchase option is not a short-term lease. If the company elected to apply short term lease, the lessee shall recognise the lease payments associated with those leases as an expense on either a straight-line basis over the lease term or another systematic basis. The lessee shall apply another systematic basis if that basis is more representative of the pattern of the lessee's benefit.

As a lessor

Leases for which the company is a lessor is classified as a finance or operating lease. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Lease income is recognised in the statement of profit and loss on straight line basis over the lease term.

1.2.5. Inventories

Cost includes all charges in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition, including octroi and other levies, transit insurance and receiving charges and excluding rebates and discounts, if any. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business.

Inventories other than Scrap are valued at lower of cost and net realized value.

1.2.6. Revenue Recognition

In accordance with Ind AS 115, Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company assesses promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of transaction price is allocated.

The specific recognition criteria described below are also to be met before revenue is recognized.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price as specified in the contract with the customer. In determining the transaction price, the Company considers below, if any:

(i) Variable consideration

This includes bonus, incentives, discounts etc. It is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the associated uncertainty with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved. It is reassessed at end of each reporting period.

(ii) Contract modifications

These are accounted for when additions,

deletions or changes are approved either to the contract scope or contract price. The accounting for modifications of contracts involves assessing whether the goods or services added to the existing contract are distinct and whether the pricing is at the standalone selling price. Goods or services added that are not distinct are accounted for on a cumulative catch up basis, while those that are distinct are accounted for prospectively, either as a separate contract, if additional goods or services are priced at the standalone selling price, or as a termination of existing contract and creation of a new contract if not priced at the standalone selling price.

Sale of Goods

Customers obtain control of the goods when the goods are delivered to and have been accepted at their premises. Invoices are generated at that point in time. Invoices are usually payable within 21- 30 days. Sale of goods are net of returns, allowances, trade discounts, cash discounts and volume rebates. Export sales are recognized on the issuance of Bill of Lading/ Airway bill by the carrier.

Income from Export incentives

Income from export incentives such as duty drawback are recorded on accrual basis in accordance with the terms of the respective schemes. Policy for other export benefits is as stated in Note 1. 2.10 below.

Dividend income

Dividend income is accounted for when the right to receive the same is established, which is generally when shareholders approve the dividend.

Interest income

Interest income is recognized using the effective interest rate (EIR) method.

Insurance Claims

Insurance claims are accounted for on the basis of claims admitted / expected to be admitted and to the extent that the amount recoverable can be measured reliably and it is reasonable to expect ultimate collection.

Other Income

Other income is accounted for on accrual basis except where the receipt of income is uncertain in which case it is accounted for on receipt basis.

1.2.7. Employee benefits

i) Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees is recognized during the period when the employee renders the services. These benefits include compensated absences such as paid annual leave, and performance incentives.

Retirement benefit costs

The Company has both defined-contribution and defined-benefit plans, of which some have assets in special funds or securities. The plans are financed by the Company.

ii) Long term employee benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognized as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation determined actuarially by using Projected Unit Credit Method at the balance sheet date.

Defined-contribution plans

These are plans in which the Company pays pre-defined amounts to separate funds and does not have any legal or informal obligation to pay additional sums. These comprise of contributions to the employees' provident fund and superannuation fund. The Company's payments to the defined-contribution plans are reported as expenses during the period in which the employees perform the services that the payment covers.

Defined-benefit plans

For defined benefit retirement plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuation being carried out at each balance sheet date. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding net interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Remeasurement recognized in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained earnings and is not reclassified to statement of profit and loss. Past service cost is recognized as an expense when the plan amendment or curtailment occurs or when any related restructuring costs or termination benefits are recognized, whichever is earlier. The service cost, net interest on the net defined benefit liability/ (asset) is treated as a net expense within employment cost. The retirement benefit obligation recognized in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined-benefit obligation as reduced by the fair value plan assets.

Other long-term employee benefits

Compensated absences which accrue to employees and which can be carried to future periods but are expected to be encashed or availed in twelve months immediately following the year end are reported as expenses during the year in which the employees perform the services that the benefit covers and the liabilities are reported at the undiscounted amount of the benefits after deducting amounts already paid. Where there are restrictions on availment of encashment of such accrued benefit or where the availment or encashment is otherwise not expected to wholly occur in the next twelve months, the liability on account of the benefit is actuarially determined using the projected unit credit method.

1.2.8. Expenditure on Research and Development

Expenditure on research of revenue nature is charged to Statement of Profit and Loss and that of capital nature is capitalized as PPE.

1.2.9. Foreign Currency Transactions

Monetary Items

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded at their respective exchange rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at exchange rates prevailing on the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss either as profit or loss on foreign currency transaction and translation or as borrowing costs to the extent regarded as an adjustment to borrowing costs.

Non - Monetary items

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.

1.2.10. Government Grants

Government grants are recognized where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with.

When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss on a systematic basis over the periods that the related costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed.

Government grants relating to PPE are presented as deferred income and are credited to the Statement of Profit and Loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful life of the asset.

The export incentives received by the Company such as duty draw back, Merchandise Export from India Scheme (MEIS) and Export Promotions on Capital Goods (EPCG) scheme are treated as government grants.

1.2.11. Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

Provisions are recognized when there is a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and are adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

Contingent liabilities are possible obligations whose existence will only be confirmed by future events not wholly within the control of the Company, or present obligations where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required, or the amount of the obligation cannot be measured with sufficient reliability. Information on contingent liability is disclosed in the Notes to the Financial Statements.

Contingent assets are not recognized but disclosed when the inflow of economic benefits is probable. However, when the realization of income is virtually certain, then the related asset is no longer a contingent asset, but it is recognized as an asset.

1.2.12. Fair Value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market which can be accessed by the Company for the asset or liability.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

1.2.13. Financial Assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognized on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement

Subsequent measurement is determined with reference to the classification of the respective financial assets. Based on the business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset, the Company classifies financial assets as subsequently measured at amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit and loss.

Debt instruments at amortized cost

Debt instruments such as trade and other receivables, security deposits and loans given are measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on

specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in finance income in the profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the profit or loss.

Debt instruments at Fair value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI)

A 'debt instrument' is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- The asset's contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI).

Debt instruments at Fair value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments excluding investments in subsidiary and associate companies. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as at FVTPL.

After initial measurement, any fair value changes including any interest income, foreign exchange gain and losses, impairment losses and other net gains and losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Equity investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind-AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, YPL decides to classify the same either as at FVTOCI or FVTPL. YPL makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Profit or loss.

De-recognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognized (i.e. removed from the Company's Balance Sheet) when

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either:

- The Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or
- The Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

On de-recognition, any gains or losses on all debt instruments (other than debt instruments measured at FVOCI) and equity instruments (measured at FVTPL) are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Gains and losses in respect of debt instruments measured at FVOCI and that are accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss on de-recognition. Gains or losses on equity instruments measured at FVOCI that are recognized and accumulated in OCI are not reclassified to profit or loss on de-recognition.

1.2.14. Impairment of financial assets

The Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortized cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance.

b) Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income.

In case of other assets (listed as a) above), the company determines if there has been a significant increase in credit risk of the financial asset since initial recognition. If the credit risk of such assets has not increased significantly, an amount equal to 12-month ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, an amount equal to lifetime ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance.

1.2.15. Financial Liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts, and derivative financial instruments.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial Liabilities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind-AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risk is recognized in OCI. These gains/ losses are not subsequently transferred to profit or loss. However, the company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

Financial Liabilities at amortized cost

Financial liabilities classified and measured at amortized cost such as loans and borrowings are initially recognized at fair value, net of transaction cost incurred. After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the Effective interest rate (EIR) method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

Derivative financial instruments

The Company uses derivative financial instruments to manage the commodity price risk and exposure on account of fluctuation in interest rate and foreign exchange rates. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently measured at fair value with changes being recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken through profit and loss.

Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognized at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost. Any differences between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption amount is recognized in Profit or loss over the period of the borrowing using the effective interest method. Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognized as transaction costs of the loan to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facilities will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the drawdown occurs.

The borrowings are removed from the Balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability that has been extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid including any noncash asset transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognized in profit or loss as other gains/(losses).

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability of at least 12 months after the reporting period. Where there is a breach of a material provision of a long-term loan arrangement on or before the end of the reporting period with the effect that the liability becomes payable on demand on the reporting date, the entity does not classify the liability as current, if the lender agreed, after the reporting period and before the approval of the financial statement for issue, not to demand payment as a consequence of the breach.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the standalone balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the company, or the counterparty.

1.2.16. Borrowing Cost

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalized during the period of time that is required for the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

1.2.17. Taxes on Income

Current and Deferred Tax

Current tax is the amount of tax payable determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax is recognized on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the Balance sheet and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit and are accounted for using the liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences, and deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences, carry forward tax losses and allowances to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences, carry forward tax losses and allowances can be utilized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the applicable tax rates. Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are off set, and presented as net.

Current and deferred taxes relating to items directly recognized in reserves are recognized in reserves and not in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Unused tax credit

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognized as a deferred tax asset in the Balance Sheet when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company.

1.2.18. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post-tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post-tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

1.2.19. Cash and Cash equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposit held at call with financial institution, other short term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of 3 months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and bank overdrafts. Calculation of Fair Values

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values of financial instruments:

- The fair values of investment in quoted investment in equity shares is based on the current bid price of respective investment as at the reporting date.
- The fair value of the long-term borrowings carrying floating-rate of interest is not impacted due to interest rate changes and will not be significantly different from their carrying amounts as there is no significant change in the underlying credit risk of the Company (since the date of inception of the loans).
- The fair value of loans from banks and other financial indebtedness as well as other non current financial liabilities is estimated by discounting future cash flows using rates currently available for debt or similar terms and remaining maturities.
- Cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other financial assets, trade payables and other financial liabilities have fair values that approximate to their carrying amounts due to their short-term nature.

- Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The carrying amounts of the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are as follows:

Particulars	(Amount In Lakhs)
	As at 31st March, 2021		As at 31st March, 2020

A positive number below indicates an increase in profit and other equity where the respective functional currency strengthens by 5% against the relevant foreign currency. For a 5% weakening of the functional currency against the relevant currency, there would be an equal and opposite impact on the profit and other equity, and the balances below would be negative.

(II) Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk is measured by using the cash flow sensitivity for changes in variable interest rates. Any movement in the reference rates could have an impact on the Company's cash flows as well as costs.

Interest rate sensitivity analysis:

As at 31st March, 2021 and 2020, financial liability of ₹8,955.13 Lakhs and ₹9,235.32 Lakhs, respectively, were subject to variable interest rates. Increase/decrease of 25 basis points in interest rates at the balance sheet date would result in decrease/increase in profit/(loss) before tax of ₹22.39 lakhs and ₹23.09 lakhs for the year ended 31st March, 2021 and 2020, respectively.

The risk estimates provided assume a parallel shift of 25 basis points interest rate. This calculation also assumes that the change occurs at the balance sheet date and has been calculated based on risk exposures outstanding as at that date. The period end balances are not necessarily representative of the average debt outstanding during the period.

This analysis assumes that all other variables, in particular foreign currency rates, remain constant.

(Note: The impact is indicated on the profit/(loss) before tax basis).

(III) Liquidity risk:
