THE YEAR UNDER REVIEW

The slowdown in the economy resulted in an overall average growth rate of the eight core industries (including cement, steel, fertilizer, oil, gas etc.) during April, 2012 to March, 2013 to 2.6 percent from 5 percent for the same period previous year. The cement production still grew at 5.6 percent, even though it was lower than the average growth in the previous years.

Cement consumption in Gujarat registered a 5 percent growth over the previous year, which although lower than the average annual growth rate of around 9 percent during the previous five-year period, is better than many other regions of the country. The consumption growth could have been better, but for delayed & deficient monsoons. The State received only 73 percent of the normal average rainfall and the Saurashtra region is the worst affected with rainfall of 57 percent of the normal.

The abnormal increase in the price of diesel, by around 15 percent, had a cascading effect on the manufacturing cost as well as cost of delivery for cement. The increase in rail freights (varying between 11 to 25 percent) also adversely affected the cost of delivering cement to customers. The increase in excise duty by 2 percent was an additional burden on the industry.

The slow economic growth resulted in better availability of power and the lower prices prevailing in the energy exchange under Open Access gave an opportunity to reduce the cost of power, resulting in better profits.

Better prices in local markets and higher volumes and realisation from exports helped improve profitability.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

Production and Sales

The production of clinker and cement for the year ended March 2013 was 1.15 million tonnes and 1.25 million tonnes, which is 101 percent and 104 percent of the rated capacity of the plant. However, the clinker and cement production is lower than the previous year, as extended stoppage of kiln was taken for specific modifications in order to improve the long-term reliability of the machinery.

The cost of fuel remained at the last years' levels. The procurement of power from the energy exchange under Open Access has assisted in maintaining the manufacturing cost. The energy efficiency of the plant was affected due to changed characteristics of the available limestone, quality of which is deteriorating.

The total sale of cement & clinker was 1.26 million tonnes as against 1.40 million tonnes in the previous year. Better distribution of available cement in the domestic markets helped in reducing freight cost. This, coupled with better prices contributed to significant improvement in profits. The export volumes and realisations also helped improve profits.

Exports

The direct export of cement for the year ended March 2013 was 4,900 metric tonnes as compared to 9,800 metric tonnes in the previous year. The exports continued to be low on account of unremunerative prices and high cost of transportation to the available port.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

Industry Structure and Development

The all India cement production during the period April, 2012 to March, 2013 registered a cumulative growth of 5.6 percent as against 6.7 percent during the corresponding period of last year. The cumulative growth for the eight core industries (coal, crude oil, natural gas, refinery products, fertilisers, steel, cement & electricity) is 2.6 percent as against 5 percent in the previous year. The capacity addition during the year 2012 is around 35 million tonnes. The surplus capacity available in Gujarat & Rajasthan, coupled with entry of new players in the already fragmented markets result in high price volatility and variations in prices in different regions and different periods of time.

Future Outlook

Though the economic growth is marginally low, the sustained policies on the need of infrastructure facilities and the housing needs of the population will enhance the consumption of cement further in the country. Compared with other core industries, the growth of cement industry is better, though it is lower than the previous year. The long-term future of the cement industry is optimistic and positive. However, due to addition of new plants with large capacities, the capacity utilization would continue to be low. In the state of Gujarat, there is likely to be a large surplus of capacity over demand for the near future, which may affect the stability of cement prices. A large part of production therefore will need to be exported or transported to longer distances, in other states like Maharashtra, Karnataka and Kerala.

Opportunities & Threats

With the sustained economic growth in Maharashtra and Gujarat, the cement consumption in these states is likely to continue at a healthy rate and would therefore give opportunities for growth in the cement industry.

Substantial increase in the prices of diesel and other petroleum products has adversely affected the raw material cost and cost of delivery. The diesel prices are increasing almost on a monthly basis. The fuel surcharge on the power sourced from state grid and the increased excise duty are additional burden on the industry. The steep increase of rail freight rendered the transportation by rail unviable. The infrastructural constraints and high cost of handling of cement at public ports continue to pose threats to the sustainability and stability of the industry in Gujarat.

Although, Gujarat state is likely to continue to be surplus in cement production, the company can access coastal markets economically being close to the sea.

Segment Review and Analysis

During the year, the company has produced and sold mainly cement of different varieties like Ordinary Portland Cement (OPC) and Portland Pozzolana Cement (PPC). The company also sold clinker, which is intermediate product for the manufacture of cement. The bulk of the revenue and profitability comes from the sale of cement.

Risks and Concerns

Over capacity of cement versus the demand coupled with slow down in the export of cement is leading to tough market conditions and high levels of volatility in the profitability of cement business. The cost escalation of inputs like diesel, fuel, power etc. and the high rates of government levies (excise, sales tax, octroi, local body tax and other miscellaneous levies) continue to be a major concern for our company. The delay in getting the required mining lease for the additional mining areas is a great concern as the availability of good quality limestone has substantially reduced in the existing limestone mines.

Absence of railway siding and a port near the factory results in increase in cost of transportation to farther markets of Gujarat as well as the markets outside Gujarat. The company proposes to set up a captive jetty to mitigate the risk.

Your company has adequate internal control system and procedures commensurate with the size of its operation and nature of its business.
