MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS REPORT, REVIEW OF OPERATIONS DURING THE YEAR & FUTURE PLANS

Industry structure and developments.

Indian food processing industry is widely recognized as a sunrise industry, having huge potent uplifting agricultural economy, creating of large scale processed food manufacturing and food chain facilities a resultant generation of employment and export earnings. Indian food industry is expected to grow to U: billion by 2015 and generate an additional employment for approximately 8.2 million people. Also, food consur in India is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 5.32% by 2013. Further, it is expected that processed food output will a strong 7% CAGR in terms of value from US$ 55.6 billion in 2005 to US$ 95.6 billion in 2013.

ii. Opportunities and Threats.

Opportunities

Foods and vegetables - fast growing sector

Fruits and vegetables are one of the most important and fast growing sub-sectors of the food processing in Over the last few years, there has been a positive growth in ready-to-serve beverages, fruit juices and dehydrated and frozen fruits and vegetable products, tomato products, pickles, convenience vegspice pastes, processed mushrooms and curried vegetables. The demand has increased because of the factors like consumption by nuclear families, working women, students and single employees staying alone. There are abundant opportunities in expanding the export market because of good international demand for certain fruits and vegetable products. The Indian food processing Industry is primarily export oriented. India's geographical situation gives it the unique advantage of connectivity to Europe, the Middle East, Japan, Singapore, Thailand, Malaysia and Korea.

Macro-economic as well as industry specific (FMCG and Packaged Food) indications point to enduring buoyancy in the domestic market, while the international geographies are likely to be stable as well. Changing demographics (young, higher disposable income, experimental, urbanization, willingness to spend) further fuelled by trends like a greater awareness of health and nutrition on one hand and more hedonism (especially the new 'affluent' generation) is rapidly enlarging the opportunity.

Threats

Uncontrolled price structure:

When there is a glut in the market, the price of certain food items like frozen peas and other vegetables fall down considerably but as the demand increases or there is shortage of those food items in the market the price rises up with a vast variation. Thus there is always an uncertainty in market prices of most of the food items in which your company works which reduces the amount of net profit and this discourages the manufacturers/ producers of these food items. This problem gets aggravated during peak production months, also because there is no minimum support price from the Govt.

High transportation charges:

Since the demand for the frozen foods and vegetables are generally in metro cities or big towns, there is a high transportation cost incurred on refrigerated vehicles to transport the same to these townships or cities. The hike in diesel/petrol prices from time to time aggravates this problem.

Commercial rate of electricity tariff:

Similarly, both small and big production/ manufacture have to pay electricity charges at commercial rate, although mushroom farming is an agricultural activity. It has been highlighted by the concerned scientific community during scientific gatherings, seminars, meetings etc. many times, but no relief has been given. This has led to high cost of production due to increased capital as well as recurring expenditure on production/ manufacturing affecting its competitiveness in world markets.

Competition:

There is high competitive intensity from national as well as local players in many categories.

Though the competition is fierce, the goodwill and the quality of the products offered by the Company are great plus factors and the Company expects to overcome the competition.

iv. Outlook

Food Processing Industry is of enormous significance for India's development because of the vital linkages and synergies that it promotes between the two pillars of the economy, namely industry and Agriculture. The growth potential of this sector is enormous and it is expected that the food production will double in the next 5 years and the consumption of value added food products will also grow at a fast pace. This growth of the Food Processing Industry will be of immense benefits to the economy, raising agricultural yields, meeting productivity, creating employment and raising the standard of very large number of people throughout the Country, specially, in the rural areas. Economic liberalization and rising consumer prosperity is opening up new opportunities for diversification in food processing sector.

The nature of the Indian food processing market and the experiences of successful Indian and MNC players indicate that this sector will grow substantially in future because of the following reasons:

- 1. Effective distribution network and supply chain
- Product range that is customized to suit local market requirements.
- 3. Superior processing technology
- 4. Brand building and marketing

Further, the global economy seems to be recovering after the economic shocks in the past Management is consistently keeping close watch on the changing market scenario and the business strategy is reviewed regularly for achieving a consistent growth by meeting the tough competition successfully.

v. Risks and concerns.

Every business has inherent risks involved in it operations, which may be either external or internal. The external factors are market competition, availability of cheaper substitute products, Government policies regarding power tariffs etc. The Company may not have much control over such factors; however it is important to address these risks & concerns to mitigate their overall impact on the business. Formal risk assessment and Management approach along with the regular monitoring mechanism in the Company ensures that these risks are duly addressed and well managed. High focus on safety of plant, its premises and people continuity and proactive Management of related business environment are essential for the risk management in the overall supply chain and business in general.

vi. Internal control systems and their adequacy.

The Company has an adequate system of internal controls to ensure that all activities are monitored and controlled as well as transactions are authorized, recorded and reported correctly. The Company has effective budgetary control system and the actual performance is reviewed with reference to the budget periodically by the management. The Company ensures adherence to all internal control policies and procedures as well as compliance with all regulatory guidelines, which are supplemented by internal audit regularly.

The Audit Committee of the Board meets on quarterly basis and reviews the internal control systems as well as financial statements.

vii. Discussion on financial performance with respect to operational performance.

The Company is diversifying into Mushroom production and offers a wide range of IQF (Individually Quick Frozen) product range of peas, sweet corns and other vegetables, meeting strict quality & hygiene standards. Canned mushrooms are also available as per the customer requirement.

viii. Material developments in Human Resources / Industrial Relations front, including number of people employed.

The Company lays due emphasis on sound Human Resource Management practices and appraisal systems with focus on cordial employee relations to ensure higher level of productivity and operational efficiency. Adequate efforts have been made to strengthen and develop its human resources as a key strength through continuous training inputs and focused development plan. As on 31st March 2011, the total numbers of permanent employees in the Company were 22.

The belief that 'great people create great organizations' has been at the core of the Company's approach to its people. We continued to make significant investments for training in the areas of marketing excellence, customer service and building capabilities for organized retail trade.
