MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE FORMING PART OF ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED ON 31ST MARCH 2011.

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENT

The global economy gathered strength during the year, as the risk of a double-dip recession in advanced economies receded, and the recovery became more self-sustaining with significant improvement in output, trade and capital flows, business and consumer sentiment. However, with gradual unwinding of the fiscal stimulus and increase in private demand, the overall outlook is positive — and advanced economies are projected to grow at 2.4 per cent during 2011. In contrast, the emerging and developing markets, that fared much better during the crisis, continued to record impressive growth. 'Developing Asia', in fact recorded a growth of 9.5 per cent in 2010 — beating all forecasts made earlier — and is expected to grow at an equally strong 8.4 per cent during 2011. However, even with this performance, it is important to recognize few important aspects of the current situation which are going to be critical for longer term performance and stability of these economies. First, commodity prices have increased significantly, creating stronger challenges for these economies which have a bigger share of manufacturing and where consumption share of food and fuel is larger. Additional oil supply and price shocks are a concern in the evolving geo-political environment. Second, with a sharp increase in capital inflows, due to both better growth and higher interest rates, these economies face risk of overheating and significant reversal or volatility in capital flows once the prospects of advanced economies improve.

After a sluggish phase in 2008-09, the Indian poultry sector is back on growth track, with the changing food habits providing a further fillip for expansions. The Indian poultry sector is growing at a rate of 12% to 14 % at present. The slowdown in the world economy affected the sector which saw a negative growth for two years starting from 2008. Growth started picking up in 2010 and today the meat segment of the industry is growing at 12% to 14%. It has a turnover of 25,000 crore to 27,000 crore. The egg segment is growing at 7% and has achieved a turnover of 11,000 crore.

GROWTH STRATEGY & BUSINESS PLAN

The Company is engaged in the Integrated Poultry and Poultry Products and has most modernized parent poultry breeding farms near Indore in Madhya Pradesh as well hatcheries and contract rearing farms in the states of Madhya Pradesh, Chattishgrah, Gujarat, Maharashtra and other states also. Company is mainly focused on integration and consolidation of poultry activities and has arranged large manufacturing set up/facilities for production of pelleted poultry feed for captive consumption. The breeding farms has already been modernized with latest state of art automation systems, cages for scientific rearing and artificial insemination and balanced nutrition management of each and every individual bird.

Considering the growth need and demand, the company has proposed to expand its parent farm capacity and shall also be increasing the contract farms in the years to come.

OUT LOOK

The demand for Poultry products is growing steadily with the growth of the population, increasing level of per capita income and standards of living and exposure to modern living styles .

The poultry industry has challenges of spiraling cost of major feed ingredients such as maize and Soya DOC. During the last two to three years the prices of these key ingredients had been on very high side affecting the industry margins; however thanks to the end product poultry prices for live birds and eggs, the industry benefited with the good profit margins.

The Company has also started entering into agreement with the bulk suppliers for uninterrupted supply and on rates without effecting market fluctuation for major materials.

The Industry thus offers a bright future, for the growth and development of all the facets of the Industry right from breed farming, hatching to Commercial Poultry farming for the end products.

Considering the overall scenario the industry expects good time ahead with promising market and growth in demand.

RISK

Lack of adequate cold chain at key locations and retail infrastructure are the reasons for slower than anticipated growth of the processing segment of the poultry industry. Also highly volatile behaviour of feed ingredients is also one of the concerns of the poultry industry.

PROSPECTS

The company proposed to expand its business operations with the increase in parent breeding capacity as well enhancement of commercial broilers placement to meet the growing demand. New areas for contract farming are also proposed to expand the broiler placement.

The positive thing we are experiencing that the consumption pattern of our customers is changing very fast and they are demanding for value added products. In this area too there is a great scope for Indian companies.
