3. Risks and concerns.

Export business can be a great opportunity, but it is risky and challenging at the same time which is totally different from those encountered domestically. Increasing competition remains the major problem of the industry especially with China. Risk can be identified in the following factors:

- a) Political Risk: The Country where our client is located may experience major political instability. Such instability could result in defaults on payments, confiscation of property, exchange transfer blockages etc.
- b) Legal Risk: At domestic level, businesses are subject to a myriad of laws, regulations, and restrictions. But there are much more complexities in international business. International transactions are governed by unilateral measures, bilateral relationships, multilateral and regional agreements. The differences in law may have impact in such areas as taxation, currency dealings, and property rights and employments practices.

The exchange rate between the Rupee and the U.S. Dollar has changed substantially in the last two decades and could fluctuate substantially in the future.
