ANNEXURE-A
MANAGEMENT DISCUSSIONS AND ANALYSIS REPORT:

A. Industry Structure and Developments

The Indian chemical industry stands as the third largest producer in Asia and 12th in world, in terms of volume. The market size of the chemical industry is expected to grow by 2021. The Government of India has approved 100 per cent foreign direct investment (FDI) in the chemicals sector.

During financial year 2014-2015 the production of chemicals by Refnol Resins and Chemicals Limited stood at 3384.95 metric tonne (MT). Total exports of chemicals grew from 588.71 metric tonne (MT) to 844.64 metric tonne (MT) a compound annual growth rate of 43.47%.

Your company manufactures textile sizing chemicals and auxiliaries, garment wash and laundry chemicals and polyester resins at Plot No. 23, Phase III, G.I.D.C., Naroda, Ahmedabad, Gujarat. The Company caters to both the domestic and international markets in all its product groups. Demand and growth in the laundry chemicals business has been steady and your company is making efforts to increase its market share.

Resins and polymers business for composites and coating is dependent on growth of the overall economy and expected to revive after last 2-3 years of sluggish growth. In the international market demand continues to be flat. However your company will make efforts to increase market share and grow the export business.

B. Opportunity and Threats

Today, the chemicals industry is experiencing increasing instability. Industry consolidation, regulatory compliance, globalization and global volatility in feed stock prices threaten business as usual. Technological advancements (in both the industry and IT in general), health, safety and privacy issues, as well as an increasingly demanding customer base, add to the volatile mixture of market opportunities, challenges and threats chemical companies face.

To continue to deliver value, chemical companies will have to adopt a new approach: integrating all business processes end-to-end to be able to sense and respond dynamically to customer demands, market opportunities and external threats.

- However, study findings implied that the chemicals industry in general is in the beginning stages of on demand maturity – indicating ample opportunity for growth.

The chemical industry is much like the products it markets: unlimited in potential value and promise – but in some undesirable or unpredictable scenarios, extremely volatile. As the future unfolds, chemical companies will face explosive change in the form of rising costs, increasing globalization and customer and regulatory demands. To harness opportunities and defuse market threats, chemical companies will have to take a new, holistic approach to the business mode.

Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and the disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal financial control relevant to the Holding Company's preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on whether the Holding Company has an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by the Holding Company's Board of Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in sub-paragraph (a) of the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

These Financial Statements are audited by other auditors whose reports have been furnished to us and our opinion in so far as it relates to the amounts included in respect of these subsidiaries is based solely on the reports of other auditors.
