MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE & DEVELOPMENT:

The Indian real estate sector plays a significant role in the country's economy. The real estate sector is second only to agriculture in terms of employment generation and contributes heavily towards the Gross Domestic Product (GDP). After significant global growth witnessed over almost a decade, the year of 2008-09 saw some unforeseen events around the world. The global financial crisis started with the collapse of Lehman Brothers soon percolated in the real economy. In line with the global economic slowdown, India's GDP growth reduced steadily through 2008-09 and the early part of 2009-10. However, with a degree of stability in global financial markets, there has been renewed flow of capital into emerging economies like India. The improvements in liquidity, government backed fiscal stimulus and strong domestic demand have resulted in a strong recovery in the Indian economy during the second half of 2009-10. Indian economic growth recovered strongly and relatively faster from the effects of global crisis.

Increase in urbanization, commercialization, retailorships has given a boost to the infrastructure industry. Also, change in overall economic conditions has a strong bearing on the real estate and construction business. After which with renewed confidence in the economy and a government impetus on infrastructure developments, there has been a significant revival in construction activities in India. In fact, construction industry's growth bounced back with a growth of 8.6% in Q4, 2009-10.

Faced with this adversity, Newtime had to recalibrate its business strategy. On the financial restructuring front, the goal was to infuse equity into the system and reduce exposure to debt. During the second half of 2009-10 and much of 2010-11, the Company focused on executing these objectives and strengthening its fundamentals. Having succeeded in this endeavour, the Company is now poised to bring greater focus on its different businesses and ride the next wave of growth.

OPPORTUNITIES & CONSTRAINTS

OPPORTUNITIES

1. Increasing Income Levels

The economic growth in India contributed to increasing income levels. This, combined with trends of higher urbanization, increase in working age population and nuclear families, created greater demand for housing. Much of the demand was backed by easier availability of housing finance that often converted people from living on rent to having their own housing asset.

2. Rising Foreign Direct Investment Levels

As the Foreign Institutional Investors have shown confidence in the country's construction sector and are shoring up investments. This has led to an increase in new developments.

3. Growth in IT/ITES Sector

The primary growth driver of commercial real estate is the IT/ITES sector, which, is growing at a rapid pace. The IT and ITES Sector alone is estimated to require 150 million sq ft of office space across urban India by 2012.

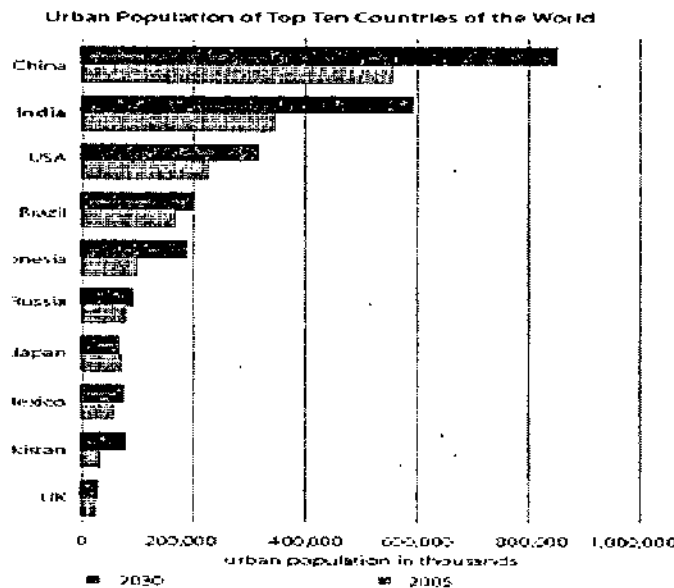

4. Expansion in organized retail sector

Concept of specialized malls is also gaining popularity with auto malls, jewellery malls, furniture malls, and electronic malls anticipated to be the part of the sector in the future. Several other factors, such as rising incomes, evolving preferences, emergence of nuclear families, tax incentives and home loans at competitive rates have been responsible for the growth in demand for homes and residential construction.

5. Demand for newer avenues for entertainment

As the demand for more and more amusement parks is growing, development of same needs to take place. In accordance with the 'Entertainment City' in Noida and 'Adventure Island' in Rohini, New Delhi some projects are underway in this newer avenue.

6. Rising Urbanization

According to the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), India is getting urbanized at a faster rate than the rest of the world and by 2030 more than 40.7 per cent of the country's population would be living in urban areas. India's cities have been the driving force in shaping India's socio-economic profile. Urban areas which constitute only 28.7 per cent of the population have been a major contributor to the GDP with a major share of industry and almost the entire services sector concentrated in the urban agglomerations. India's 'Mega-Cities' of Mumbai and Delhi would be the world's 2nd and 3rd largest cities by 2015. With a rapid influx of migrants in these cities there is a corresponding increase in the demand for space. Rapid urbanization is fostering real estate growth in India.

7. Hotel Industry

Despite the temporary slow down that the Indian hospitality industry faced due to the global economic crisis, India is still one of the world's fastest growing hotel markets.

8. Supply Push Factors

Certain Factors like, Policy and Regulatory factors providing with 100% FDI's, simplification of urban development guidelines, infrastructural support and development by government, some fiscal benefits to developers, positive outlook of global investors etc have also increased the opportunities at real estate sector.

CONSTRAINTS

1. CHANGING MACRO ENVIRONMENT

During the year under review, events around the World and the stringent regulations by RBI led to a situation of tight liquidity and tight credit availability for Indian Companies. At times when the economic environment and sentiments were weakening globally, real estate came to be seen as a sector with a high degree of credit constraints.

2. RISING PRICES

Specter of rising prices in real estate may need to be regulated as well, but if the industry would do it by itself there might not be the need for state government to step into the regulation aspect as regards to pricing levels.

NEWTIME INFRASTRUCTURE LIMITED

(FORMERLY INTRA INFOTECH LIMITED)

3. POWER SHORTAGE

Indian economy majorly faces with the shortage of Power supply, which directly or indirectly affects the construction, etc and unnecessary delays the completion of the Project.

FUTURE OUTLOOK

The real estate sector is also likely to get a boost from Real Estate Mutual Funds (REMFs) and Real Estate Investment Trust (REITs). REITs alone would hold a market size of US$ 70 billion of the total real estate market as it is gaining ground in countries like India.

Almost 80% of the real estate developed in India is residential space, the rest comprising of offices, shopping malls, hotels and hospitals. According to the Tenth Five-Year Plan, there is a shortage of 22.4 million dwelling units. Thus over the next 10 to 15 years 80 to 90 million housing dwelling units will have to be constructed with a majority of them catering to middle and lower-income groups.

Expansions are required to be made in developing Shopping Complexes. Accordingly over 100 malls are projected to open in India in the coming 2-3 years.

Foreign institutional Investors have also shown confidence in the country's construction and are shoring up investments in India. This is a positive sign and open new areas of growth and development.

The company intends to expedite execution and deliveries wherever backlogs exist and heighten the construction activity based on visibility of pre-leasing. The strategic locations of company's land resource of office development and excellent client relationships over the years will enable it to increase construction activity as and when the markets improve and corporates revive their expansion plans.

RISKS & CONCERNS

The Indian Real Estate market is still in its infancy, largely unorganized and dominated by a large number of small players (with very few corporate or large/ international names on the national scene yet.) Risks like non availability of raw materials coupled with market fluctuations are synonymous with the industry.

The main areas of concerns are:

- Restrictive governmental policies relating to Real Estate.
- Limited Investment from the Organized Sector
- Volatile Global Environment
- Rising cost
- High interest rate
- Rising Inflation
- Low accessibility and unavailability of facilities and services
- High incidence of stamp duty.
- Mindset and culture of outsourcing
- Non- availability of low cost long-term funds.
- Complicated Tenancy laws imposed by Government for the Real Estate sector
- From Investment point of view, every property purchased doesn't always pan out to become a successful investment

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

The Company has in place adequate internal control system and procedures commensurate with the size and nature of Business. Internal Control Systems ensure that all assets are safeguarded and protected against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that the transactions are authorized recorded and reported correctly.
