MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Industry structure and development

Market overview Textile and Apparel:

The Indian Textile and Apparel (T&A) Industry has emerged from the economic slowdown and is regaining forward momentum. T&A, being an important industry, contributes 5.4 percent of India's GDP. It is estimated to grow at a promising CAGR of 9 percent over the next 10 years. This includes both the domestic market and exports. The value of the domestic T&A market is US$ 59 billion which exceeds the value of the exports market, reflecting higher domestic demand and consumption.

Shifting demographics, shrinking households, a greater number of educated consumers, the growing number of working women, changing fashion trends, rising disposable incomes, awareness levels, new retail formats, technological innovations and changing consumer behavior are the trends powering the growth of the domestic market. The apparel sector comprises 70 percent of the total domestic market, which in turn becomes the result of an increase in the per capita consumption by Indian consumers.

The domestic apparel market, which is split into menswear, womenswear, and kidswear, was worth US$ 45 billion in 2014, and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9 percent to reach US$ 110 billion, in 2024. With a 42 percent market share, menswear leads the domestic apparel market followed by womenswear (38%), while kidswear accounts for 20 percent of the market. Menswear has been the focus for many brands and retailers and is therefore comparatively more organised, with higher brand penetration and greater degree of brand awareness. The size of the menswear market was US$ 17.3 billion in 2014; with growth at a CAGR of 9 percent expected over the coming decade, this may reach US$ 39.6 billion by 2024.

Although the womenswear market is relatively less organised and has lower brand penetration, its size was still US$ 15.5 billion in 2013; this is expected to grow, at a CAGR of 10 percent, over the next decade to reach US$ 38.9 billion in 2023 and thus nearly becoming equal to the worth of the menswear segment. The faster growth of this segment, as compared to the menswear segment, has attracted the attention of both national and international brands and retailers. Many menswear brands and retailers have also tapped into this opportunity and have extended their presence into this segment as well.

Frenchie

The 80s saw the emergence of a signature style - brief called Frenchie.

Frenchie X was first created to appeal the needs of a section of male after - ego. It was directed to the new age men who had broken the shackles of conventional masculinity. The X factor emerging from the brand promise, retained the perfection of a new age man. Sharp, intense and offering, X was the new face of male sexuality and daring.

The Frenchie brand secured the urban Indian male's most intimate desire, with its stylized appearance, concept and design, keeping abreast with international trends.
