5. MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT:

5.1 Industry Structure and Developments:

5.1.1 The terrific growth of textile units both, in terms of number of units and installed capacity which was witnessed during the previous years, have remained almost stagnate or very marginal in terms of percentage. Overall number of mills was 3466 during the previous financial year and is at 3474 during the current financial year. Similarly spinning capacity has marginally grown from 43.31 million spindles to 44.17 million spindles with a growth of 2%. The rotor capacities for spinning open-end yarns have also remained stagnate at 795000 rotors.

- 5.1.2 With all the incentives provided by various State Governments and Central Government, it was expected that there will be a significant growth in number of composite mills and shuttleless looms. Whereas due to lack of confidence and other various factors, number of composite mills have remained stagnate at 198 for the current financial year when compared to 196 during the previous financial year. On similar lines, shuttleless looms within the country has marginally grown from 20.1 Thousand looms to 20.6 Thousand looms.
- 5.1.3 Many industry experts and Government agencies had projected a record production of cotton and had forecasted a production to be around 360 to 380 Lakh bales whereas overall cotton production in the country was lower at 340 Lakh bales when compared to 355 Lakh bales during the previous financial year. Similarly overall man-made fiber and filament production has remained stagnate and are marginally lower at 2635.62 Million Kgs. from 2697.17 Million Kgs. during the previous financial year. Even though, the cotton production was lower as compared to previous financial year, on the consumption side, the consumption of cotton has increased by 12% at 4459.72 Million Kgs for the current financial year. Except cotton fiber, all other fiber consumption has either come down or remained at previous year levels. On the production front, cotton yarn production has grown by around 14% at 35.64 Million Tons, compared to 31.62 Million Tons during the previous financial year.
- 5.1.4 Textile and clothing sector commenced the year with lot of worries due to receding global demand, but overall performance of textile and clothing sector was better as a result of the demand from domestic market. Even though in terms of Rupees, the export of textile and clothing grew by 6.95% during the current financial year, the growth was mainly due to depreciation of Rupee as overall exports in terms of Dollars have come down by 2000 Million Dollars i.e around 6%. The export of textile and clothing sector including Silk, Jute, Coir and Handicrafts is at 32500 Million US Dollars for the current financial year. Domestic market rescued the textile industry and overall textile and clothing sector was able to grow at 8% for the current financial year as compared to a negative growth of 3.6% during the previous financial year. The demand for exports of Yarn was witnessed mainly from China and Bangladesh, as a result of which export price of Yarn remained lower during most part of the financial year when compared to local markets.
- 5.1.5 During the current financial year, due to expectation of higher crop, cotton prices were subdued during the initial period of the season, but the prices firmed up during the latter part of the year and once again the volatility of cotton prices were as usually high during the latter part of the financial year under review.
- 5.1.6 Availability of quality cotton remained an issue in the last quarter of the financial year. Cotton crop has once again yielded better results to the Agricultural sector as a result of which the holding power of the farmers has substantially increased which once again resulted into higher prices and volatility. Another major factor for the volatility of cotton prices was also a result of highly volatile Indian rupee which reached Rs.68.50 per US Dollar.
- 5.1.7 The speculative trend in cotton will continue even during the next financial year. The total cotton crop for the next season is expected at 400 Lakh bales. China is carrying a huge quantity of cotton stock. Hence they may not buy the cotton for consumption but for other strategic reasons they may still import some quantity of cotton. During the last financial year China has imported more of Yarn than the cotton as a part of their strategy.
- 5.1.8 It was always a challenge for Indian Textile Industry to procure special fibers which goes into manufacture of technical textiles. But, due to severe recession in the European market, almost all special fibers like Aramids, Para-aramids, Meta-aramids and other performance fibers are made available to Indian Textile Industry from American, European and Japanese manufacturers. As a result of which indigenously produced technical textiles' sales have improved. However, this is once again produced for the developed markets and local consumption of these fibers is almost negligent. Though Indian technical textile industry has grown at an annual average rate of 11% during the last 6 years, until and unless Government of India bring-in Legislative changes for the safety of uniformed forces and labour, the consumption of these fibers may not improve and give rise to the growth of real technical textile sector.
- 5.1.9 Barring United States of America, it is expected that most of the developed economies will continue to face severe recession, as a result of which, prices in export market may witness severe pressure.
- 5.2 Opportunities and Threats:
- 5.2.1 During the year the rainfall was very good and almost all the states producing cotton has received good rainfall due to which it is expected that the total cotton production would reach 400 Lakh bales, which is an increase of 10% as compared to previous year. The price of cotton is expected to be similar to last year unless the export goes up substantially. The quality of the cotton is also expected to be better than the last year. In view of this the mills may not face any shortage of quality cotton. Also Industry is not foreseeing any problem in man-made fibers from within the country and hence the raw material position will be comfortable.
- 5.2.2 In the month of September 2012, the Company had sold its captive Hydro power unit to its subsidiary. This was the first year of operation, wherein Company had to buy entire power requirement from GPEL, HESCOM and other suppliers. Company was able to absorb this additional cost. The Company also purchases power through open-access from power exchange through Power Trading Corporation.
- 5.2.3 After India signed various nuclear deals, it was expected that many nuclear plants will come up in the country and increase the availability of energy in the country. Unfortunately except one plant at South India, no new Nuclear power plants have come in the country. Thermal Power Plants across the country are facing severe fuel crisis and are unable to operate to its economic level. This fuel shortage has restricted additional new capacities. This situation may lead to shortage of power and energy in the country. After the Uttarakand disaster, there will be considerable delay in setting up of new Hydro power plant, which once again restricts additional new capacities. As said above, all these will result in increase of power cost and shortage of power resulting into lower capacity utilization. The Company was using the low cost bio fuels, the prices of which has gone up steeply as result of which Company has started using coal due to which steam generating cost has gone up substantially increasing the cost of dyed yarn.

- 5.2.4 Looking at the increase in energy cost and to reduce carbon footprint, the Government of India has formed a new agency to audit the energy consumption of manufacturing units. This Bureau of Energy Audit (BEA) have identified few units in all sectors for implementing program of energy conservation and your Company is one among them. Bureau of Energy Audit will fix the norms for energy consumption for each unit of production and provide incentives by way of PAT certificates (Perform, Achieve and Trade). If the energy consumed is higher than the stipulated level, Company has to buy PAT certificate which will increase the manufacturing cost. Hence, Company may be required to invest large sum of money for monitoring and conserving energy to remain within the stipulated norms.
- 5.2.5 Due to depreciation of Indian Rupee, the cost of dyes and chemicals has gone up very steeply which warrants for increase in dyed yarn prices by atleast 10% to 15%, for which there is severe resistance from the customers and market.
- 5.2.6 Availability of man-power has become a major issue in all the industry and Textile being a labour intensive, the effect of shortage of labour is more severe. During the year the Company also faced severe shortage of labour due to which the capacity utilization and production was severely affected. If Company were to maintain its budgeted output, performance of the Company would have been better. The major reasons for shortage of labour are availability of alternative comfortable jobs, MNREGA Scheme of the Government of India, movement of people from rural areas to city.
- 5.2.7 During the last couple of years due to inflation, the Dearness Allowance is increasing which will result into Company specific increase in labour cost which will be very difficult to pass on to customers.
- 5.2.8 The financial cost is very high as the lending rates of all the banks have gone up due to high inflation in the country. RBI in its policy is hesitant to reduce the interest rate as it will fuel further increase in the inflation. Though during the current financial year the financial cost of the Company has reduced, Company expects its situation to change adversely.
- 5.2.9 The Company has started manufacturing yarn from specialty fibers which are high contributing. As these fibers are made available to the Company by the customers, the burden on working capital is reduced to an extent. The Company is able to meet the requirement of customers and it is expected that during the next financial year the business from this may increase.
- 5.2.10 Due to increased financial cost, the return on investment is not attractive and hence some modernization plans will have to be postponed which in-turn may give rise to increased maintenance cost of Plants and Machinery.

5.3. Segment-wise, product-wise performance

- 5.3.1 During the year under review, though the sales realization per unit has gone up, it is mainly due to increase in the input cost.

The demand for dyed yarn was comparatively less due to which more grey yarn is sold in the market. The lower demand of dyed yarn has resulted into lower top line growth as also the bottom line.

- 5.3.2 Due to ban on export of yarn in the past, the Company had lost its customer base which were nurtured very carefully. However during the year, the Company was able to bring new set of buyers and also bring back few old customers. Due to this the export during the year has increased by almost 50% in value terms and approximately by 40% in volume terms.

5.4 BUSINESS OUTLOOK :

- 5.4.1 Due to increase in production of cotton in the country, the availability of quality cotton is expected to be better during the current financial year. However, due to speculative nature of the product, the volatility in price may continue like any other previous years and hence timing of buying and storing sufficient cotton may play a major role in determining both top line and bottom line. Due to various subsidies given by the Government for various categories of citizens, it is expected that the buying power will be better and hence domestic consumption of cotton yarn is expected to grow further. International market for yarn will remain at the present level, but the market is not expecting any change in the prices and hence local markets may remain attractive.
- 5.4.2 Developed countries hitherto maintained production of value added fibers and its products. But presently, even for these products they are looking for low cost manufacturing base and hence production of specialty fiber products within the country is expected to grow substantially. Company has invested substantial money, time and efforts to develop some of these specialty fiber products and expect the growth of business from this segment during next financial year.
- 5.4.3 Company will face severe challenges both in terms of availability and cost in meeting the requirement of energy and man-power. Company will undertake new initiatives for conservation of energy and also to meet the man-power requirements. Company will continue to invest money in development of new products which in-turn may generate higher revenues for the Company. However, it must be noted that the number of these products when compared to overall production of the Company, will continue to be very marginal.
- 5.4.4 Hitherto, industrial fabrics were made from heavier fabrics necessitating installation of special equipment which created entry barriers. However during the recent year, in order to save cost and still maintain its functionality, the markets have moved to synthetic fibers as a result of which the fabrics weights have come down. This has created a new opportunity for many companies and hence the margin of industrial fabric will remain subdued. Company will have to invest substantial money in the new product development to replace fabrics which are going out of markets. New initiatives taken by the Company in this direction is slowly yielding results, but this process is expected to take long time to settle and produce necessary results.

5.5 Risks and Concerns :

The Company has drawn and put in place a comprehensive Risk Management Policy to assess and mitigate various risks. The Company wide awareness of risk management policies and practices is being inculcated to minimize the adverse effect of risks on the operating results and the subject of management of risks are being approached in a planned and co-ordinated manner. The acceptability of cotton as premium product can only enhance value perception of the yarn and knitwear we produce. The Company is accelerating this process by moving up the value chain by well researched and designed products. Company has taken several steps to introduce high performance fibres to move up in the value chain and in-house research in developing these products commercially has been a success.

5.6. Internal Control Systems and their adequacy :

The Company has a benefit of internal control systems developed over years which ensured that all transactions are satisfactorily recorded and reported and all assets are protected against loss from an unauthorized use or otherwise. The internal control systems are supplemented by an internal audit system carried out by independent firms of Chartered Accountants and a periodical review by the management. The Audit Committee of the Board meets at a regular interval and advises on significant issues raised by, both, the Internal Auditors and the Statutory Auditors. The process of internal control and systems, statutory compliance, risk analysis and its management and information technology are woven together to provide a meaningful support to the management process. The system adopted, especially relating to internal control systems are adequate and commensurate with the nature of its business and size of its operations, though continues efforts are being made to strengthening the same.

5.7. Discussion on financial performance with respect to operational performance :

5.8. Material developments in Human Resources / Industrial Relations front :

5.8.1 In the past few years, as the job market has opened widely, the demand for talents has been continuously rising and continuous learning has therefore become inevitable. As such, the Company continued thrust on Human Asset Management and Development activity. In order to cope with this requirement for talent, apart from locating talents from outside market wherever necessary, the Company also focused on the activity of nurturing and developing its human capital from within, by the process of training and upgrading competence level.

5.8.2 On the Industrial Relations front, a cordial relationship has been maintained with the workmen and their Union and there has not been any loss of man hours in the manufacturing units. Your Company has put in place a series of HRD measures including appraisal of employees, recognition and reward for good work, developing career plans, training etc., In the context of the changing business scenario, professional competence and skills are being nurtured keeping the growth perspective in mind. There are no such particulars to be furnished as required under Section 217(2A) of the Companies Act, 1956 read with the Companies(Particulars of Employees)Amendment Rules, 2011.

9. OUTLOOK:

The monsoon in the catchment area of Ghataprabha River is better this year when compared to previous financial year. Hidkal Dam which has capacity of 49 TMC filled up much faster than previous year. Overall command area of Ghataprabha Dam is increasing year-by-year and hence the water usage for agriculture is substantially going up. Government of Karnataka is further investing money to increase the command area. As a result of this, even though the rainfall was quite satisfactory, the overall level in the Dam is lower when compared to previous year by 3.5 TMC. This may ultimately put pressure on release of water of 284 cusecs for generation of power by the company.

The generation of power during the current monsoon upto 30th September, 2013 is quite satisfactory. But, in the coming days generation will be affected, as a result of lower water level at Hidkal Dam. Your Company has made various representations to Government for release of sufficient water for power generation.

Your Company is eligible for Renewable Energy Certificates after successfully implementing the grid connectivity. Company was also expecting substantial revenue from sale of Renewable Energy Certificates in the power exchange. But, due to lack of strict implementation of Renewable Energy Certificates Policy, the traded volume of Renewable Energy Certificates is below 2% of the available Renewable Energy Certificates. In case, the demand of Renewable Energy Certificates does not improve, the company will suffer a revenue loss of more than Rs. 6 Cr. per annum. Company will continue to make representations to State Government as well as Central Government for strict implementation of Renewable Energy Certificates Policy.

10. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT:

Your Directors wish to place on record their sincere appreciation for the assistance given by the Company's Bankers and acknowledge that their support has been a source of considerable strength. The Directors commend the continued commitment and dedication of employees at all levels. (k) Impairment

The Company assesses at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such condition exists, the company estimates the recoverable amount of the assets. If the recoverable amount of such assets or recoverable amount of cash generating units to which the assets belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the profit and loss account. If at the Balance Sheet date there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at lower of historical cost or recoverable amount.
