OVERVIEW OF ECONOMY

The Financial Year 2013-14 remained extremely challenging for the entire year for the Indian Economy from the previous fiscal year and ended with positive expectations over the elections scenario. Overall sentiments weighed heavily on activity levels in the securities markets.

The overall macroeconomic context was dominated by slow growth, contraction in industrial production, high and persistent inflation, significant INR depreciation, high structural current account deficit, vulnerable external balances and poor fiscal management. Amidst several fundamental imbalances on the fiscal and financial side, the steep run up in benchmark indices marked a paradox.

The Company being a player in the financial market, the performance of the Company largely depends on the National and Global Capital Markets. The high volatility in the market along with higher inflation has intensified the competition.

The fragmented nature of the industry, coupled with increasing competition from large players in the retail and institutional broking side is likely to exert pressure on broking houses, hence the ability to maintain market share, margins and consequently, return ratios stands as a big question mark.

With the formation of a new Government, the hopes are indeed high that the Reforms agenda will be placed on a fast-track once again and the growth days will be visited again.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSIONS & ANALYSIS

MACRO ECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT

The Central Statistical Organisation (CSO) has estimated full year growth for FY2014 at 4.9%. Financial year 2013-14 was a difficult one for India's economy. Growth during 2012-13 (FY2013) was 4.5%.

The Indian economy has had to overcome varied challenges in its resolve to sustain its economic success. The major challenges included: unsupportive external environment, domestic structural constraints, growth slowdown and inflationary pressures. The slowdown manifested in the decline in the growth of Gross Domestic Product (at factor cost at constant 2004-05 prices) from 8.9 per cent in 2010-11 to 6.7 per cent in 2011-12 and 4.5 per cent in 2012-13. With the economy projected to have registered a growth rate of 4.9 per cent in 2013-14, the declining trend in growth seems to have reversed. The growth slowdown in India is broadly in sync with trends in similar emerging economies. The sharp downturn in growth owes to the interface of domestic factors with the global economic environment of uncertainties and slow growth in many advanced economies.

The policy response of the Government to the present growth slowdown has been in the form of structural reforms aimed at reducing entry-barriers and boosting competition and productivity in various sectors; fiscal consolidation and reforms in administered prices; further strengthening of financial/banking sectors; introduction of instruments to encourage financial savings of households; measures to restart the investment cycle through support to infrastructure financing and encouragement to micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs); steps to revive growth in manufacturing and reforms in energy pricing. These policies have gone hand-in-hand with macroeconomic stabilization that has had to balance the concerns of inflation and growth recovery, while managing a volatile external situation characterized by a sharp depreciation of the Rupee witnessed till the second quarter (Q2) of 2013-14.

The Indian broking industry is one of the oldest trading industries that have been around even before the establishment of the BSE in 1875.

The Stock Market has been revolutionized by adopting modern technology, as the exchanges are now able to reach out to the far flung centers of the country with an efficient trading network for the benefit of retail customers. The Capital Market is most efficient when it discounts all information in pricing of traded equity stocks. The maturity of the Stock Market has made it increasingly less risky through built-in information system made available to the participants over and above supervisory oversight. The ongoing efforts for further broadening and deepening of the Stock Market domestically and aligning the market with global trading system is not only expanding the customer base but also attracting more resources for investments.

Despite the high hopes of markets making a smart recovery & likely to progress well in a new regime, the hopes for Market intermediaries do not look quite so optimistic, at least for the near future. After reeling under heavy pressure situation for over three years now, the Broking Industry remains badly battered. Economic challenges inherited from FY2013 continued to exert pressure in FY2014. However, some macroeconomic stability was seen during end-FY2014. Expectations over the elections also brought a shift in sentiments. However, despite the climate of hope and optimism, significant actionable remain for the new government in order to realize higher and sustained economic growth.

REVIEW OF OPERATIONS

Economic activity in India continued to be moderate during the Financial Year 2013-14. Global economic conditions also remained weak with slowdown in growth in developed and emerging economies. The Company being into financial sectors is continued to reel under pressure and follows the overall risk management strategy by insuring its assets and following a conservative financial profile by following prudent business practices.

The Company is a Corporate Member of the National Stock Exchange of India Limited (NSE) and the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) in the Capital Market Segment and Future & Option.

In spite of sluggishness in economy and lack of participation by HNIs and Retails Investors in Capital Market, Sales / Gross Income from Operations stood at ₹ 1319.76 Lac in comparison to last years' figure of ₹ 599.89 Lac. In term of Net Profit, the same was of ₹ 9.28 Lac in comparison to last years' net Profit of ₹ 17.69 Lac.

The Company faces normal business challenges of market competition in its business and needs to continuously seek attractive growth opportunities. The Company adopts suitable business strategies to counter these challenges.

BUSINESS SEGMENT

Your Company is a member of both leading Exchanges vides BSE and NSE providing platform for investors to carry trade on both BSE and NSE in both Capital and Future & Option Segment. Apart from broking activities, your Company is also investing in Shares and Securities and is parking its surplus fund with Banks in the mode of Fixed Deposits when its gets opportunities do so.

OPPORTUNITIES

The Indian money market is “a market for short-term and Long term funds with maturity ranging from overnight to one year and includes financial instruments that are deemed to be close substitutes of money. It is diversified and has evolved through many stages, from the conventional platform of treasury bills and call money to commercial paper, certificates of deposit, repos, FRAs and IRS more recently.

The Indian money market consists of diverse sub-markets, each dealing in a particular type of short-term credit. The money market fulfills the borrowing and investment requirements of providers and users of short-term funds, and balances the demand for and supply of short-term funds by providing an equilibrium mechanism.

Despite the recent headwinds India has faced, its fundamentals remain solid. The economy is slowly regaining momentum, with both domestic and external conditions starting to improve. Favorable demographics and recent government reforms are expected to accelerate expansion over the medium term, making India the world's fifth-fastest growing economy by 2015. Recent reforms in support of growth include the raised FDI ceilings for the retail, airline, telecoms, financial and defense sectors. To support future growth, the Government should focus on infrastructure investment and increased efficiency in delivery mechanisms. The monetary policy might remain tight in the near future, triggered by the US Federal Reserve's remarks in May about potentially scaling back its quantitative easing program. Consequently, to support the rupee, the Central Bank has announced a window in which foreign currency non-resident US dollar fund swaps will be allowed, enabling banks to convert US dollar deposits by Indians abroad. India saw tepid GDP growth in 2012, as it grappled with a challenging investment climate. Recently, the economy has been hampered by high fiscal deficit and low investment growth. The Government aims to bring down the fiscal deficit from 4.9% in 2012–13, to 3% by 2016–17.

In 2013, equity markets remained tame due to slowing economy, bonds lost value as interest rates rose and physical assets such as real estate and gold also started feeling the effect of economic slowdown.

THREATS & CONCERNS

Many developing countries including India have reaped handsome rewards from surging capital inflows in recent years. This is widely regarded as a very welcome phenomenon, raising levels of investment and encouraging economic growth. But surging capital inflows can also be something of a double-edged sword, inflicting rather less welcome and destabilizing side effects, including a tendency for the local currency to gain in value, undermining the competitiveness of export industries, and potentially giving rise to inflation. Capital inflows result in a buildup of foreign exchange reserves. As these reserves are used to buy domestic currency, the domestic monetary base expands without a corresponding increase in production: too much money begins to chase too few goods and services.

To ease the threat of currency appreciation or inflation, central banks often attempt what is known as the “sterilization” of capital flows. In a successful sterilization operation, the domestic component of the monetary base (bank reserves plus currency) is reduced to offset the reserve inflow, at least temporarily. In theory, this can be achieved in several ways, such as by encouraging private investment overseas, or allowing foreigners to borrow from the local market. The classical form of sterilization, however, has been through the use of open market operations, that is, selling Treasury bills and other instruments to reduce the domestic component of the monetary base. The problem is that, in practice, such sterilization can be difficult to execute and sometimes even self-defeating, as an apparently successful operation may raise domestic interest rates and stimulate even greater capital inflows. Unfortunately, many developing countries also lack the tools available to run a classical sterilization policy, or find it simply too costly to do so. This is often the case wherever the financial system is not fully liberalized.

Findings of internal audit reports and effectiveness of internal control measures are reviewed by top management and audit committee of the Board. During the year, internal audit team of Company performed audits of major operational areas of the Company and carried out elaborate checks and verification and shared their findings with top management for remediation of minor gaps wherever required.
