MANAGEMENT DISCUSSIONS& ANALYSIS

Industry structure and Outlook

Ayurveda can be seen as one of most visible faces of alternative medicines practiced throughout the world. In India, it has regained its lost ground in mass appeal along with renewed interest for it in the west. There has been noticed a renewed tendency to turn back towards natural cure. Therefore, natural medicines have made a huge comeback. The Indian government supports research and teaching in Ayurveda through many channels at both the national and state levels. World Health Organization statistics demonstrate traditional medicine as being the primary system of health care.

The business prospects amounts to a $20 billion ready market, which is growing at a very fast rate and would become a $5 trillion market worldwide by 2050. It goes without saying that large portions of this market would be centred in India being the origin. The total size of the Indian Ayurvedic market is INR 50 billion and it is growing substantially at a rate between 10-15 percent, with the same growth rate targeted for the next 10 years.

There are two big advantages in this industry to be gained by prospective investors. First, that it is recession proof – as the healthcare industry has always been. Second, it reaches out to a larger chunk of target consumers across all income groups. As such, this happens to be a great time to be in the Ayurveda market as it is expected to grow exponentially in the next few years.

SWOT Analysis

Strength:

1. The company has an extensive range of Ayurvedic medicines covering Tablet, Powder, Liquid, and Ointments.
2. The company produces 100% natural products which are not tested on animals thus the range of products are 100% cruelty free.
3. The company has appointed Dr. Vinod C Mehta as the Head of Formulations & Production. He is a Gold Medalist in Ayurveda and is an ayurvedic practitioner since 30 years.
4. The company carries out R&D and Clinical Testing activities on an on-going basis.

Weakness:

1. Doctors prescribe allopathic medicines as they get more incentives from medical companies and the share of Ayurvedic companies is less compared to allopathy.
2. The company does not have any direct outlets.
3. Lack of awareness among the masses of the benefits of using Ayurveda over Allopathy drugs.
4. The company is a new entrant in this field and will take time to establish its network.
5. Building a Brand Image involves high cost and considerable amount of time.

Opportunity:

1. Gujarat hosts majority of the large pharmaceuticals corporation in India due to its favorable policies supporting the growth of the sector.
2. The factory is located within the radius of 15 Km from Ahmedabad city and so labour is freely available.
3. Factory is constructed as per the prescribed WHO standards which will help the company to stand in international market.
4. The factory is well-equipped with state-of-the art manufacturing facilities for producing quality products.
5. The global health care products industry is growing at a very rapid pace which allows company to pursue aggressive expansion plans.
6. The company seeks to boost sales by selling through leading retail stores and various distribution channels.
7. Improper and unhealthy food habits due to modernization have forced people to take ayurvedic supplementary medicines.

Threats:

1. Stiff competition impacts pricing power as existing companies are using pricing as a tool because high inflation makes lower prices easier to attract consumers.

2. Constant increase in costs in terms of raw material and packaging costs.
3. The allopath players are of major threat as they invest heavily on advertising and distribution of their products through medical representatives etc.
4. Since the cultural mind set is such that Ayurvedic treatment takes more time to heal people are afraid to start it.

Internal control systems and their adequacy:

The internal controls of the company are adequate for its nature and size.

Cautionary Statement:

The statements made above may be construed as forward looking statements within the meaning of the applicable laws and regulations. Actual performance of the Company may vary substantially depending upon the business structure and model from time to time.
