OVERVIEW

I) INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

Indian footwear industry holds a crucial place in the Indian economy for its potential for employment, especially for weaker sections of the society and for supporting economy through its foreign exchange earnings. India is the second largest global producer of footwear after China. India's annual footwear consumption is the third largest globally after China and USA and has recorded a healthy growth over the past decade driven by rise in income levels, higher disposable income, growing fashion consciousness and increasing discretionary spending. The same has also led to a change in perception of the footwear industry from a basic need based industry to a fashion style industry. However, the average per capita footwear consumption in India continues to be low in comparison to the global average consumption and developed countries average. This gap coupled with increasing disposable income, rising middle class and changing consumer preferences provide a tremendous opportunity for the Indian footwear market to grow at a rapid pace going forward.

The Indian footwear industry is highly fragmented with almost 15000 small and medium enterprises operating largely in the unorganized segment; and limited presence of organized segment. The competitive intensity is high between the two segments and currently, both are estimated to have an equal share of the overall domestic market in value terms. Though, unorganized segment dominates the market in sales volumes due to its presence majorly in the low cost rubber / plastic footwear. Unorganized sector gains its prominence in the Indian context due to its price – competitive products which are more suitable and attractive to the price conscious Indian consumer. Their products are cheaper due to involvement of cheap household labour, lax implementation of tax & labour laws and limited investment in assets. Further, with almost 2/3rd of India's population covered under the food security bill which aims to provide daily nutrition needs to an individual at subsidized prices, such category of population presents a huge market for the unorganized sector to cater to. Nevertheless, with increasing brand consciousness amongst Indian consumers, influx of large number of global brands and increasing penetration in Tier – II and III cities by the organized footwear companies, organized players' market share has made significant gains in the recent past and it continues to be on an uptrend.

The Company is manufacturing cemented sports shoes and sandals, in addition to lifestyle products such as Flip Flops. The Indian Sports footwear business is dominated by MNC companies such as Puma, Adidas, Nike and Reebok at the higher end of the market, whereas the lower end of the market is dominated primarily by Local Brands. Till late 1980s, this industry was dominated by South Korea and Taiwan. Busan, a port town on the southern tip of South Korea was the manufacturing hub. There were companies in Korea with manufacturing capacity in excess of 60 million pairs, and sales turnover between USD 150 to 600 million. The exodus of this industry from South Korea started in early 90s, due to increase in manufacturing costs, specifically, labor costs. The major beneficiary was China initially. The virtual monopoly of China led to increases in costs and compelled the leading international sports footwear companies to develop alternative sources. This led to the development of Vietnam, Indonesia, Thailand and subsequently, Bangladesh and India. The sports footwear manufacturing business in India started with the import of Completely Knocked Down kits from China, Vietnam and Indonesia, which were being assembled locally. However, in the past few years, with the increasing costs in all other countries, there is a focus on moving towards integrated manufacturing facilities which can serve the domestic requirements of these international brands. The past few years have seen an increasing number of international brands entering the Indian market to sell their products, and these brands are increasingly looking to source a larger part of their requirements from Indian manufacturers. Hence the opportunities for business are increasing steadily, apart from the natural shift into higher value products and newer technologies.

II) OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

As eyed in the 19th UTIC International Technical Footwear Congress, India is on the threshold of a great leap forward with respect to its economic growth with major path breaking initiatives taken by our dynamic Prime Minister like "Make in India" as well as "Skill India" programmes. The "Leather, Leather products and Footwear sectors have been identified as one of the sectors for intervention under Make in India Programme which would further provide huge momentum for growth of footwear sector in India.

The domestic footwear market is now largely concentrated in the unorganized / unbranded segment. However, the market scenario is changing rapidly and the Indian consumer is now becoming more and more quality and brand conscious. The domestic footwear segment is expected to show a year-on-year growth of 13%. The per capita consumption of footwear in India is expected to increase from current level of about 2 pairs to 3-4 pairs by 2020. Hence, India needs to scale-up its footwear production for the domestic industry from the present level of 2 billion pairs to about 5 billion pairs by 2020 so as to meet the significant increase in the consumption.

The Company continues to invest in Research and Development to be in a position to further substitute higher value imported footwear with its own manufacturing. The greatest opportunity continues to be the growing Indian footwear market where the demand for Branded footwear is rising rapidly. This demand is further increased by the potential for greater import substitution of expensive imported product with indigenously manufactured products. Furthermore, international sports brands are continuing to make an entry into the Indian market to sell their products, and the Company is working towards establishing relationships with new brands to increase its business prospects. There is a growing opportunity for the overseas footwear manufacturers to tap the increasing potential in India for sale of footwear. Thus, the Company is also witnessing interest from foreign buyers and is exploring opportunities for exports which will give further boost to these sales.

The threats are mainly from competition in the domestic industry and also that a slowdown in the economy can lead to reduction in demand for its products. The strength of India in the leather footwear sector originates from its large reserves of bovine population, strong network of tanneries, skilled and low cost of manpower, and a well-established presence in export markets. However, India has been unable to optimally utilize resources evident from the low recovery rate of the livestock, use of outdated technology by most tanneries and footwear manufacturers, weak footwear components industry and limited presence of large scale manufacturing units. These factors along with steep cost of doing business in India and high inflationary trends since the past few years have reduced India's cost competitive advantage against the other low cost footwear producing countries like China, Vietnam, Myanmar, Indonesia, etc. Further, revival of production in Italy, Portugal and establishment of new production centres in east Europe have further pose a challenge for Indian footwear industry.

III) SEGMENT-WISE OR PRODUCT- WISE PERFORMANCE

Presently, the company has one product namely – Footwears. The performance of the company is discussed separately in this report.

IV) OUTLOOK

The outlook for the company remains positive. The present order book position of the company is excellent and demand is continuing to grow.

V) RISKS AND CONCERNS

The ongoing crisis in the Euro zone has led to moderation in footwear demand; the exports from India were further impacted on account of the appreciation of rupee against Euro. There has been an evident increase in exports to USA, though the footwear demand from the European continent has weakened in the recent quarters, which is a cause of concern. Further, the profitability of footwear players has also been affected due to adverse foreign currency movements, under absorption of fixed expenses and increase in raw material prices which could not be entirely passed on to the clients.

However, the company has not been significantly impacted by the forex fluctuations since the exports do not form a noteworthy part of the company's sales. Further, the company has proper monitoring mechanism and proactive actions against anticipated hindrances in place and the same are reviewed from time to time.

VI) INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

The company has established control system to ensure that-
Assets are adequately protected

IX. As per Accounting Standard - 15 "Employee Benefits", the disclosure of Employee Benefits as defined in the Accounting Standard are as follows

Summary of membership data (As at 31st March, 2017)

No. of employees	386
Total Monthly Basic Salary ( in Rs.)	34,82,325
Total Monthly CTC ( in Rs.)	42,63,355
Average age ( in years)	33
Average past service ( in years)	2.63
Expected future working life ( in years)	7.75
Average accumulated leave per employee (in days)	23

The assumptions are as follows:

- i) All valuation assumptions have been set strictly in accordance with guidelines contained in AS15(R)
- ii) The assumptions employed for calculation are:

(FINANCIAL)

Discount Rate	7%
Estimated Rate of increase in compensation levels	5%

(DEMOGRAPHIC)

Mortality Rate	Indian Assured Lives Mortality(2006-08) Ult
Attrition	10%
Disability	No explicit allowance

- iii) The discount rate has been determined by reference to market yields as at 31st March, 2017 on CG-Secs of currency and term consistent with those of benefit obligations.
- iv) The estimated rate of increase in compensation levels takes into account inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors such as demand and supply in the employment market. This estimate is also tempered by quick review undertaken, in cooperation with the company's officials, of the company's past and current wage structure, staff compensation practices and the level of price neutralization likely to be affected through periodic wage increase over the next 5 to 10 years. Further, it is assumed that the ceiling on gratuity amount will increase in line with salary inflation over the long term. No allowance has been made for performance based discretionary increase in salary in individual cases.
- v) The retirement age has been uniformly taken as 58 years.
- vi) No allowance has been made for future improvement in in-service mortality.
- vii) It is assumed, based on their overall behavior pattern, that the employees are unlikely to avail/encash the entire accumulated/ carry forward of leave during the coming 12 months.
- viii) Attrition rate vary from industry to industry and, within industry, from company to company. In practice no single averaged out figure is likely to be representative of the different attrition rates observed over the entire age range. Since the data regarding the number of employees who left the services of the company during past few years is not available, the attrition rate, which is chosen with the concurrence of the company's authorized officials, is based on the experience gathered from other similar manufacturing units broadly corresponding in size, activity and staffing pattern to those of the Company.
