Debt-equity ratio (x)

Definition

This is derived through the ratio of debt to net worth (less revaluation reserves).

Why we measure

This is one of the defining measures of a company's financial health, indicating the ability of the Company to remunerate shareholders over debt providers (the lower the gearing the better). OUR MESSAGE TO SHAREHOLDERS

“We expect to unlock value and emerge as one of the best-known CPC players in the world coupled with a growing non-CPC play”

Profit after tax

₹20.08

during the year under review (₹ crore)

We are excited in presenting in presenting prospects of an absolutely transformed Kesar Petroproducts.

The present management of the Company assumed control in 2014 when prospects for the Company appeared grim.

The Company had reported aggregated net losses of ₹49.18 crore till 2008-09 and the Company had been referred to the Board of Industrial and Financial Reconstruction (BIFR).

We are pleased to report that despite all apprehensions, the new management of Kesar Petroproducts has succeeded in steering the Company around capped by a profit after tax of ₹20.08 crore during the year under review.

The principal message that we wish to send out to our shareholders is that this turnaround is not one-off and transitory; the transformation in our profitability is sustainable and represents a foundation on which we expect to grow our year-on-year prospects across the foreseeable future.

Three overarching trends

This overview will largely focus on three overarching sectoral trends that augur well for our business across the foreseeable future.

What makes pigment prospects compelling is that it accounts for a mere 2% of the overall colours market, indicating a vast operating leverage that can keep the sector growing sustainable for years to come.

Secular colour-driven trend:

As the world gets younger in some of the more populated geographies, there is a fundamental movement towards colour-vibrancy, which, in turn, is related to the need for feel-good; besides, printing technologies have become increasingly versatile, making it possible to reproduce virtually any colour on demand through a stronger interplay of information technology. As designers become more nuanced – and hence more demanding – in their colour requirements leading to product and brand differentiation, there is a cascading impact on pigment manufacturers to deliver products of a consistently high quality.

Greener material: There is a growing recognition that in the world of colours, there will be a larger role for modern-day pigments over conventional dyes on the grounds of environmental integrity, cleaner technology-driven textile processing and richer tonal impact. The traction is reflected in the numbers: even as the market for pigments is growing annually at the rate of population growth, the considerably larger dyes market is de-growing. What makes pigment prospects compelling is that it accounts for a mere 2% of the overall colours market, indicating a vast operating leverage that can keep the sector growing sustainably for years to come.

Make in India: We are finally seeing a weakening in China's CPC competitiveness; this is creating an attractive window of opportunity for robust Indian pigment manufacturers. Over the last few years, an increased investment in environment compliance within China's pigments sector coupled with a sharp increase in wages, has affected China's global CPC market share. Nimble Indian pigment manufacturers have capitalised and their competitiveness is reflected in the fact that some have even begun to export to China.

Our vision

At Kesar Petroproducts, we believe we have a significant market-leading role to play in this transformation. A near-9% share of the global CPC market makes us one of the largest global players in this space; across the foreseeable future, we expect to enhance our capacity utilisation and value-addition with the objective to unlock value and emerge as one of the best known CPC players in the world coupled with a growing non-CPC play that enhances value for all those associated with our company.

“Kesar Petroproducts is at an inflection point when the complement of cash accruals and bank financing of working capital are expected to drive revenue growth”

Mrs. Snehlata D. Sharma, Director, explains the robustness behind the Company's 2016-17 performance

Q/A

Q: Were you pleased with the performance of the Company during the year under review?

A: The Company reported profitable growth during the year under review – revenues grew 19.57% and profit after tax strengthened 66%. While reporting this growth, the Company outperformed its sectoral growth average a number of times over, validating the robustness of its differentiated business model.

Q: What was the principal achievement of the Company during the year under review?

A: The principal achievement of the Company was graduating what appeared to be a one-off performance improvement towards robust business sustainability. I cannot over-emphasise the import of this focus: the Company was loss-making until 2007; the new technocrat promoters assumed management control in 2014, the Company largely addressed survival issues and it is only during the financial year under review that the Company made a significant leap in its mindset and performance: towards business continuity.

Q: What initiatives are likely to strengthen the Company's business sustainability?

A: At Kesar Petroproducts, we believe that the foundation of all enduring sustainability is essentially derived from the ability to commission additional capacity at a cost that is considerably lower than the prevailing capital cost per tonne.

The Company commissioned a new 300 TPM beta facility in January 2017. There are various ways in which this plant will strengthen our business sustainability: the facility represents a value-addition over our established CPC manufacturing capacity; the plant was commissioned in eight months as against a prevailing benchmark of 18 months; the plant was funded completely from accruals, which is the cheapest form of capital for any business; the product portfolio makes it possible for us to market additional products, mitigating an excessive dependence on CPC, our building block.

During the year under review, the Company debottlenecked its existing alpha blue capacity – from 80 TPM to 125 TPM (operational from June 2018). The increase in capacity was undertaken with a number of objectives in mind: increase the revenue proportion of this value-added product, capture a larger share of the customer's wallet and commission capacity through accruals at a cost that was a fraction of the prevailing greenfield capital cost per tonne.

Through these two objectives, I am optimistic that we have laid the ground for increased revenues, margins and surpluses in a sustainable way across the foreseeable future.

Q: What were some of the things that could have been done better?

A: Clearly capacity utilisation! Permit me to provide a background for this. When the present management assumed control in 2014, Kesar Petroproducts was a BIFR company. The result was that the Company did not enjoy any banking facility in terms of access to working capital financing. In this challenging environment the Company was restricted to growing its business only through accruals. As growth was rigorously controlled and incremental, the Company was restricted to capacity utilisation of a mere 37% for its building block (CPC). From one perspective the Company could have done considerably better in enhancing its capacity utilisation (had it succeeded in mobilising additional working capital financing); on the other hand, we believe that the Company has done remarkably well in reporting an attractive profit growth at a low capacity utilisation, which is indicative of a compellingly low break-even point, the basis of our business sustainability.

Q: What was the critical driver of the Company's successful performance during the year under review?

A: There was a prudent interplay of various business-strengthening initiatives: superior products quality, rigorous environment compliances, stable customer relationships and growing customer wallet share translating into a receivables cycle of 45 days of turnover equivalent, which was virtually half the prevailing industry average. In turn, the quicker receivables inflow made it possible to accelerate complete product turns, which was, within the circumstances, the only feasible way in which the Company could increase revenues, margins and profits.

Q: What is the outlook for the Company's business?

A: The outlook for the Company's business is positive for some good reasons: the cooling period between the time the Company exited BIFR and the time when it can mobilise bank funds has come to an end; the Company is at the point when it can prospect for working capital financing from banks with the objective to procure a larger quantum of raw materials, increase capacity utilisation and report higher revenues.

The Company de-bottlenecked its alpha blue capacity resulting in a production increase by more than 50% during the first quarter of the current financial year; besides, the Company intends to launch two new products that will serve as raw materials for dyes with an aggregate capacity of 250 TPM and an annual revenue potential of ₹100 cr.

Kesar Petroproducts is at an inflection point in its existence when the complement of cash accruals on the one hand and bank financing of working capital is expected to drive revenue growth. We believe that by 2019-20, the Company's fully-utilised capacities should be in a position to generate peak revenues of nearly ₹700 crore at margins higher than the prevailing levels, translating into enhanced value for those associated with or our company.

How we do business

This is a perspective of how Kesar Petroproducts is reconciling diverse realities – economy robustness, sectoral stability and corporate fundamentals – to enhance stakeholder value.

1 The national landscape

GDP growth

India's growth is projected to be among the fastest growing global economies between 2016 and 2020; the country is projected to emerge as the third largest economy in the world by 2030, its GDP approximately trebling to $7 trillion by 2030 (Source: Oliver Wyman)

FDI

Even as foreign direct investment into India steadily increased from approximately USD 24 billion in calendar year 2012 to approximately USD 46.4 billion in calendar year 2016, it accounted for only approximately 2% of India's GDP in 2015

Urbanisation

The World Bank Group estimates the share of India's population living in areas in urban-like surroundings to be approximately 55% and rising, enhancing consumption.

Inflation

India's inflation has moderated to 5%–6% since 2014, moderating interest rates and strengthening consumer spending

Demographics

India's workforce is estimated at the second largest in the world comprising 860 MM 15–64 year olds accounting for approximately 66% of the total population (Source: The World Bank Group), a robust consumption-driving population. India is expected to overtake China to have the world's largest workforce by 2026 (Source: The World Bank)

2 The landscape of our sector

Growing Indian competitiveness

The Indian pigments sector is becoming increasingly competitive following an increase in wage and environment compliance costs in China; Indian exports have subsequently increased

Riding downstream sectors

Pigments are largely used in the printing inks, paints and textile sectors. Increased consumption is expected to catalyse the market for each, strengthening the relevance of pigments

Stronger environment compliance

The pigments sector is marked by a growing environment compliance priority, reflected in proactive investment in relevant assets, infrastructure, systems and training

3 Corporate priorities

Narrow product selection

The Company is responding to the sectoral opportunity with a relatively small portfolio of pigment products – CPC, beta blue and alpha blue – that has enhanced corporate focus

Scale

The Company invested in large manufacturing scale (largest Indian CPC manufacturer with 8% of global capacity), related economies, brand visibility and supplier of first (or high) recall

Customer value

The Company has complemented product manufacture with the ability to customise products around specific grades, attracting terms of trade, suitable packaging and timely delivery

Controlled growth

During the last few years when working capital access was limited, the Company responded with controlled growth even as customer product appetite was larger than the Company's production

Customer wallet share

The Company's objective is to work with large, growing and credible clients (marked by no bad debts), progressively growing its customer wallet share

Rising youth literacy

India's youth literacy levels have increased from 81.1% in 2006 to 89.7% in 2015 (Source: UNESCO); gross enrolment ratio for tertiary education increased from 11.5% in 2006 to 23.9% in 2013 (Source: UNESCO), strengthening the foundation for increased incomes and consumption

Rising employment

India's unemployment has declined from approximately 12% in early 1990s to approximately 5.5% (Source: Oxford Economics).

Consumption base

The number of India's middle-class households has grown from 65 MM in 2006 to more than 75 MM in 2015, catalysing consumption (Source: Euromonitor) and a 2.9x increase in per capita private consumption (Source: Economist Intelligence Unit)

Reforms

The passage of Goods and Services Tax, enhancing business ease, launch of industrial corridors, as well as the launch of Start-up India, Make in India, Skill India, Digital India and India Stack are expected to catalyse the country's economic growth.

Shift from dyes to pigments

There is a growing traction for pigments over dyes on account of its relative environment-friendliness (in terms of moderated water consumption and corresponding effluents generation)

Low Indian global exposure

India's exports as a proportion of the overall global pigments sector is small when compared with its cost-competitiveness, a mismatch that could soon correct

Rigorous vendor appraisal

Pigment purity has a deep bearing on the quality of downstream products; any purity variation can affect end product brand, making vendor appraisal, selection and retention critical

Enduring customer relationships

The pigments business is marked by stable and enduring vendor-customer relationships; the business is marked by a high proportion of annual revenues from long-standing clients

Product mix evolution

The Company intends to launch two products during the current financial year, completing its medium-term portfolio and selecting to consolidate capacities thereafter

Net worth-driven

The Company's business was net worth-driven (accruals and QIP proceeds); with bank restrictions easing, the Company intends to mobilise low-cost working capital to accelerate growth

Pedigree

The Company enjoys a strong industry insight through hands-on technocrat promoters and a knowledge pool of senior executives with multi-decade sectoral experience

Progressively global

The Company has principally been an India-focused pigment supplier, now intending to grow its global presence, moderating its geographic risk

In-house technology

The Company fabricates core equipment used in pigment manufacture, strengthening its insight into machine-product compatibility, moderating capital costs and shrinking commissioning tenures

4 Outcome of our business model

Competitive

The Company's project cost per tonne was ₹3.75 crores as on 31 March 2017 compared with a corresponding greenfield per tonne project commissioning cost of ₹7 crore – an attractive buffer

Value-addition

Following the expansion programme carried out in January 2017, the Company reported increased margins – 14.20% EBITDA, Q4, FY17 to 23.30% EBITDA, Q1, FY18 (post-Balance Sheet development)

Debt-free

The Company was debt-free (long-term and short-term) as on 31 March 2017. The result is that the Company's interest coverage ratio was a high 103.2 in 2016-17, strengthening viability

Revenue visibility

The Company's sales profile is marked by stable customer relationships; revenues from customers of five years or more was an assuringly high 67% in 2016-17

Probable goal contributors

Competitive capacity creation

The Company creates capacities with speed (quicker than the sectoral benchmark) and at a competitive cost (lower than the sector benchmark), its foundation of business sustainability

Fiscal austerity

The Company has demonstrated business growth with no external working capital access, showcasing its fiscal capability in challenging circumstances; the Company intends to mobilise external working capital, accelerating growth from this point onwards

Value chain

The Company will strengthen its value-chain through the downstream manufacture of products extending beyond CPC (building block)

Increased capacity utilisation

As capacity utilisation increases from 39.26% in FY17 (CPC including pigments) to an estimated 45% in FY18, this could result in enhanced output and profitability (increased RoCE)

Management Discussion and Analysis

Global economic overview

The pace of global economic activity was mixed in 2016 as a number of crosswinds affected re-acceleration. The year was marked by the United Kingdom's decision to exit the European Union and the election of Donald Trump as the American President. Within advanced economies, comprising the US, Europe and Japan, a protracted monetary policy support and return to fiscal neutrality dictated accelerating output. In countries outside the advanced economies, the sources of slower growth comprised commodity price declines, overhangs from erstwhile credit growth and political turmoil.

Global growth was 3.2% in 2016. Long-term prospects of emerging market economies improved following a decline in interest rates in advanced economies and firming commodity prices.

Asia and India demonstrated robust growth. The currencies of advanced commodity exporters have also strengthened, reflecting the firming of commodity prices; however, several emerging market currencies depreciated substantially.

Outlook

The global economy entered its sixth stagnation year with growth estimates for 2017 continuing to trend its retrospective average. Global growth is expected to rise from 3.2% in 2016 to 3.5% in 2017 and 3.6% in 2018, driven by stronger economic activity, expectations of robust global demand, reduced deflationary pressures and optimistic financial markets.

Growth	2016	2017(E)	2018 (P)
Global economy	3.2%	3.5%	3.6%
Advanced economies	1.7%	2.0%	1.9%
Emerging market and developing economies	4.3%	4.6%	4.8%

(Source: IMF)

Indian economic overview

The Indian economy slowed in 2016-17 to 7.1% from 8% in FY2015-16, largely owing to the currency demonetisation in the third quarter of the financial year under review. However, the general undercurrent continued to be optimistic; India's consumer confidence index stood at 136 in Q4 2016, the highest in the world.

India retained its position as the fastest growing major economy in the world catalysed by strong consumption growth and enhanced government spending. Inflation declined on account of a decline in food inflation. This facilitated a 50 basis points rate cut by the RBI in 2016-17. A declining vulnerability on the external and fiscal front and fiscal consolidation by the government enhanced investor confidence that translated into record net foreign exchange inflows.

The year under review was also marked by the government's demonetisation initiative and the preparatory work related to the introduction of the goods and services Tax (GST). While the first initiative focused on eliminating the parallel economy, the second is expected to transform the country's taxation structure.

Outlook

India's growth is projected to be among the fastest growing global economies between 2016 and 2020; the country is projected to emerge as the third largest economy in the world by 2030, its GDP approximately trebling to $7 trillion by 2030 (Source: Oliver Wyman). The adoption of the Goods and Service Tax promises to create a unified taxation regime. This could enhance the efficiency of production and movement of goods and services across India.

Normal 2017 monsoons and reduced commodity prices are expected to catalyse economic growth. Finally, the Central Government's policies towards achieving fiscal consolidation, reforming the agricultural sector and the labour market and moderating inflation are expected to accelerate India's economic growth over the medium-term.

Industry overview

The global pigment market witnessed significant growth over the past few years owing to developments in end user industries like paints & coatings, construction, etc. and increased demand for specialty products. The chemical industry in India is the third largest producer in Asia and the sixth largest in the world. The Indian chemical industry is expected to double its share in global chemical industry to 5-6% by 2021 registering a growth of 8-9% across the decade.

Specialty & high performance pigments, including phosphorescent products, are used as safety way guidance in underground railway stations and public places. Increasing construction spending, particularly in BRIC nations, will drive growth.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Today, we are the leading manufacturers of Phthalocyanine Blue Crude and its downstream products in India and contribute upto 15% of the entire Copper Phthalocyanine market of India. The company has a global presence in 15 countries.

The production capacity of Kesar Petroproducts in Copper Phthalocyanine Blue Crude is 1500 metric tons per month, in Alpha Blue is 200 metric tons per month and in Pigment Green 7 is 50 metric tons per month. We also plan to expand their operations in the Beta Blue market with a production capacity of 250 metric tons per month. This rapidly growth production capacity makes us one of the most progressive players in the industry.

Industry Structure and Developments

Chemicals are an integral part of our modern day life. There is hardly any industry where chemical substances are not used. Pigments are an integral ingredient of the chemical industry. Pigments are colouring agents that can be classified into phthalocyanine and azo pigments. Phthalocyanine pigments are one of the largest categories of pigments manufactured in India. Your Company is engaged in the manufacture of Phthalocyanine Blue Crude and its downstream products in India.

Opportunities, Threats, Risk & Concerns

The global pigments industry produces hundreds of colourants for a wide spectrum of industries and consumers. The major markets are printing inks, paints and coatings, plastics, paper, ceramics, textiles, glass, food and cosmetics.

With more and more people moving to urban areas there has been a hefty growth in the paints and coating industry. The Asia Pacific region is expected to grow as demand and production of pigment are shifting from the US, Europe and Japan to the emerging markets of Asia, especially China and India.

A steady increase in the large pigments markets such as paint and coating will catalyse volumes. With the printing ink industry also performing well, it will open up newer opportunities for the Company.

Raw material availability and their costs are always a concern. The key raw materials used in the manufacture of the pigments are derivatives of crude oil. Hence, prices of raw material vary with fluctuation in the international crude oil prices. The Company has an in built system of monitoring the inventory and logistics. Further production process of the Company is vertically integrated, where CPC Blue Crude is the primary raw material for the production of Pigment Blue. This helps the Company to manage the raw material cost. The future of pigment production is completely dependent on the ability to treat the waste water. The Company has been investing continuously in meeting its obligations towards protecting the environment. Towards this step, the company aims at providing a seamless integration of quality and schedule by ensuring timely deliveries, state-of-the-art manufacturing products, new age technology, constant innovation and economic viability.

The Audit Committee monitors the implementation of the risk mitigation plans.

Outlook

Indian economy is expected for slow revival with continued inflationary prices, rising raw material cost, depreciating rupee. The global economy shows signs of revival but with no significant upturn. Developed economics like North America and Europe which are major consumers of pigment are gradually recovering and accordingly demand for printing inks, paints and coating is expected to pick up, which will benefit the Company. The Company will continue its efforts to increase the utilization of its installed capacities, which will be crucial to achieve an improvement in the operational results.

Priority will be on the quality of the products. The disciplined focus will be cost reductions, operating efficiencies and diligent cash deployment in value creating opportunities. The Company is also taking efforts to increase the product line whereby company will be in a position to increase the margin on sales.

Internal Control Systems And Their Adequacy

The Company has a proper and adequate system of internal controls commensurate with its size and business operation to ensure timely and accurate financial reporting in accordance with applicable accounting standards, safeguarding of assets against unauthorized use or disposition and compliance with all applicable regulatory laws and company policies. Internal control systems are reviewed by Audit Committee on a regular basis for its effectiveness and the necessary changes suggested are incorporated into the system. Internal Audit Reports are reviewed by the Audit Committee of the Board.

Financial Performance

The financial performance of the company has been discussed and disclosed in the Director's Report.

Human Resources Development

The Industrial relations climate of your Company continues to remain harmonious with focus on productivity, quality and safety. During the year under review, there were, no significant labour issues outstanding or remaining unresolved during the year. The Board records their appreciation of the commitment and support of the employees and looks forward to their continued support. As on 31st March 2017, the Company had 240 permanent employees.

Although the expectations are based on reasonable assumptions, the actual results could materially differ from those expressed or implied, since the Company's operations are influenced by many external and internal factors beyond the control of the Company. Annexure B to the Independent Auditors' Report

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act')

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of KESAR PETROPRODUCTS Ltd ('the Company') as of 31 March 2017 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the 'Guidance Note') and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of the Management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the standalone Ind AS financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2017, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
