+ Chairperson's overview

"We will weather the prevailing slowdown, build additional downstream capacities, diversify our product mix and engage in backward integration with the objective of building a stronger and sustainable company."

Kesar Petroproducts performed creditably during the last financial year when it grew revenues 3.19 per cent and profit after tax 52.13 per cent over the previous financial year.

At our Company, the principal objective is to enhance our business sustainability. Our understanding of 'sustainability' does not necessarily indicate a continuous growth in revenues and profits. We do believe that in our commodity business there will be periods of business sluggishness alternating with phases of significant recovery. In this environment, our principal objective would be to resist sectoral downtrends – remain profitable on the one hand and maximize recovery during phases of industry rebound on the other.

Strengthening business sustainability

I am pleased to report that we have done preciously this during the last few years through various initiatives.

One, we strengthened our throughput – from a time we generated ₹146.18 crore in revenues in 2014-15 to 2017-18 when we generated ₹180 crore in revenues – validating our capability in investing in manufacturing facilities, generating a higher throughput and being engaged deeper with customers.

Two, we ran an austere ship during the last few years, sustained by no access to short-term loans from banks to fund our working capital until the cooling period following our exit from BIFR had passed.

Three, we broadened the product base of our Company – from a considerable dependence on CPC to the manufacture of alternative products, whereby the proportion of the latter has increased by 10 per cent of our overall product mix today.

Four, by leveraging our sizable capacity – 9 per cent share of the global CPC market – in exchange for superior economies..

A sense of macro-optimism

The management of Kesar Petroproducts is optimistic of its long-term prospects for some good reasons.

As the consumer revolution has grown, there has emerged a greater role for vibrant colours in the consumer persuasion process. This focus has strengthened on account of improved printing technologies. The result is an enhanced ability to deliver any colour on demand and the ability to go into finer shade variations within a single colour. The result is that not only has the quantum of our downstream business progressively increased, but there has been a growing room for quality value-added products. At our Company, we are capitalizing on this reality through a dynamic business model that is perpetually extending from one principal product to a number of value-added downstream alternatives.

There is a greater emphasis on the use of environment-friendly technologies. This emphasis is not only coming from communities living in the periphery of pigment manufacturing facilities but also coming from customers needing to work with vendors employing responsible manufacturing practices, mitigating the risks of any environmental under-performance affecting product delivery and business continuity.

The market for pigments continues to grow, while the larger dyes market de-grows. Pigments presently account for just 2 per cent of the overall colours market, indicating a multi-year opportunity.

China has closed pigment capacities until stronger environment safeguards are introduced, an evident opportunity for manufacturers in India. Besides, China's pigments sector has been affected by higher wages, an attractive opportunity for Indian manufacturers to only address the growing global demand but also export to China.

Where we wish to go

At Kesar Petroproducts, the short-term aberration

strengths of Kesar
Petroproducts

- No debt on the books
- 70% of revenues derived from clients of five years or more
- Ability to manufacture more products through in-house productisation capability
- Graduated from commodity end to value-addition (to progressively increase)
- Increase in capacity utilisation to drive ROCE
- Plans charted for widening the value-chain (backward and forward integration)
- Unused in-factory space to facilitate quick capacity creation notwithstanding, we believe that we address an optimistic future.

We will weather the prevailing slowdown, build additional downstream capacities, diversify our product mix and engage in backward integration with the objective of building a stronger and more sustainable company.

Mrs. Snehlata D. Sharma, Chairperson

Operational review, 2017-18

Even as the performance of our Company during the current financial year will be subdued, we believe that we are laying the foundation of a sustainable company and the upsides of this will be evident across the foreseeable future.

Mrs.. Snehalata Sharma, Chairman of the Board, explains the robustness behind the Company's 2017-18 performance

Company's review in brief

- Increased value-added products from 25 per cent of product mix to about 40 per cent
- Capacity utilisation increased from 30 per cent to around 40 per cent
- Delay in debottlenecking CPC capacity
- Focus on new product introduction, enhanced capacity of existing products, investment in environment-friendlier processes and strengthened operating efficiencies

Q: How would you describe the Company's performance in 2017-18?

A: The Company's performance during the year under review was reasonable. The Company reported a 3.19 per cent growth in revenues and a 52.13 per cent increase in profit after tax, which was in line with what one had anticipated at the start of the year. Some of the positives reported by the Company comprised an increase of value-added products from 25 per cent of our product mix to about 40 per cent, indicating our commitment to extend beyond the commodity end of the business and create a differentiated company. This improvement was despite the fact that our capacity utilisation was only moderately higher at around 40 per cent. What we could have done better was strengthen our debottlenecking, which would have permitted us to create a stronger platform for sustainable growth; however, this initiative was delayed by the fact that our principal vendor encountered operating issues and could not deliver.

Q: What was the principal achievement of the Company during the year under review?

A: It would be important for our shareholders to recognise that the Company has come from a position where considerably under-performed its vast potential for years. The fact that the Company reported an aggregate profit after tax of ₹50.63 crore and a cash profit of ₹53.70 crore across the last two years indicates a certain maturing of the Company. This maturing does not necessarily indicate that the Company will never be affected by a decline in sectoral realities: it indicates that each time the sector's prospects are affected, the decline in our performance will not be as sharp as the sectoral decline and each time there is a rebound, the improvement will be quicker and more pronounced than the sectoral rally.

Q: The Company reported a challenged first quarter of 2018-19.

A: Even though a discussion of the performance of our Company during the first quarter of the current financial year lies outside the direct purview of 2017-18, it would be necessary for shareholders to know the complete reality. The performance of the Company during the first quarter of the current year was weaker than the immediate previous or corresponding quarter of the previous financial year. Profit after tax was ₹2.17 crore lower by 73 per cent when compared with the immediately previous quarter even though revenues were higher.

This decline was on account of various reasons: the proposed increase in CPC installed capacity from around 600 TPM to 1200 TPM, which could have provided the Company with a wider operating base, was delayed for reasons indicated earlier, which means that the benefits that should have protected our performance during the first quarter were not evident. There were local and governmental operational issues related to the central effluent treatment plant utilized by the Company, which affected our throughput and distracted the management bandwidth from addressing business issues. There was an increase in CPC competition that moderated domestic realisations even as international realisations were fairly steady. There was a 20 per cent increase in the cost of our principal raw material that impacted our overall production cost by ₹35 per kg without the corresponding advantage of being able to pass this cost increase to customers.

Q: What is the outlook for the current financial year?

A: The outlook for the Company's performance for the current financial year appears to be challenging at the moment. We expect that the current year will be weaker than what we reported in 2017-18. The objective of our management will be to look inward with the objective to strengthen performance: introduce new products, enhance capacity of existing products, invest in environment-friendlier processes and strengthen operating efficiencies. Besides, we expect to commission the doubling of our CPC capacity by the end of the current financial year, generating attractive economies of scale from 2019-20 onwards. So even as the performance of our Company during the current financial year could remain subdued, we believe that we are laying the foundation of a sustainable company and the upsides of this will be evident across the foreseeable future.

ways in which we are strengthening our business sustainability

We are at a position where, due to available capacities having been created at historical costs, the Company will be in a position to commission additional capacities at costs lower than the prevailing capital cost per tonne.

The Company intends to launch three new products (pigment intermediates) in January 2019 with the objective to moderate costs at a time when downstream realisations are subdued.

The Company intends to make a significant extension in its conventional business model: from the traditional manufacture of blue products to red products, opening out an entire new business area for the Company.

The extension into dye intermediates will strengthen the Company's installed capacity by 500 TPM with an annual revenue generation potential of ₹200 crore accompanied by attractive margins.

The Company intends to integrate backwards into the manufacture of sulphuric acid (150 TPD) effective June 2019, which will completely replace the Company's annual procurement of this product (₹20 crore, 2017-18) in addition to creating a revenue stream (on the basis of merchant sale).

The Company intends to invest in waterless manufacturing technologies across the foreseeable future, graduating the Company into a higher league, strengthening its respect as a forward-looking manufacturer.

The Company intends to fund all these downstream investments through accruals (no long-term debt), ensuring that all business upsides enhance equity value ways in which we strengthened business sustainability in the last few years

- The Company commissioned a 300 TPM beta facility in January 2017 for ₹ 5crore, a value-added downstream product over CPC, our principal product.

- The beta manufacturing plant was commissioned in eight months against a prevailing benchmark of 18 months – out of accruals.

- The broadbasing helped mitigate an excessive dependence on CPC, our building block.
- In 2016-17, the Company debottlenecked its alpha blue capacity – from 80 TPM to 125 TPM (operational from June 2018) enhancing value-addition, increasing share of the customer's wallet and achieving this at a fraction of the greenfield capital cost per tonne.

Management discussion and analysis

Global economic overview

In 2017, a decade after the global economy spiralled into a meltdown, a revival in the global economy became visible. Consider the realities, every major economy expanded and a growth wave created jobs. This reality was marked by ongoing growth in the eurozone, modest growth in Japan, a late revival in China and improving conditions in Russia and Brazil leading to an ~3.7% growth in the global economy in 2017, 60 bps higher than the previous year. Crude oil prices increased in 2017, with a price of US$54.13 per barrel at the beginning of the year, declining to a low of US$46.78 per barrel in June 2017 and closing the year at US$61.02 per barrel, the highest since 2013.

Global economic growth

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018 (f)	2019 (f)
Real GDP growth (%)	3.5	3.2	3.1	3.8	3.9	3.0

[Source: World Economic Outlook, January 2018] f: forecasted

Outlook

The outlook for advanced economies improved, notably for the eurozone, but in many countries inflation remained weak, indicating that prospects of GDP growth were being held back by weak productivity levels and rising dependency ratios. Prospects of emerging market and developing economies in sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East, and Latin America remained lacklustre with several countries experiencing stagnant per capita incomes. Fuel exporters were particularly affected by protracted adjustments to lower commodity revenues. Global growth forecasts for 2018 and 2019 were revised upward by 20 bps to 3.9%, reflecting an improved momentum and the impact of tax policy changes in the US. (Source: WEO, IMF)

Indian economic overview

After registering a GDP growth of >7% for the third year in succession in 2016-17, the Indian economy headed for somewhat slower growth, estimated to be 6.7% in 2017-18. Even with this lower growth for 2017-18, GDP growth averaged 7.3% for the period from 2014-15 to 2017-18, the highest among the major economies. This was achieved on the back of lower inflation, an improved current account balance and a reduction in the fiscal deficit-to-GDP ratio. (Source: CSO, Economic Survey 2017-18)

Outlook

The World Bank projected India's economic growth to accelerate to 7.3% in 2018-19 and 7.5% in 2019-20. Strong private consumption and a growth in the services sector are expected to continue supporting economic activity. (Source: IMF, World Bank)

Key governmental initiatives and their impact on the economy

- Bank recapitalisation scheme: The Central Government announced capital infusion of ₹2.1 lac crore in public sector banks. (Source: KPMG)
- Expanding road network: To boost road infrastructure in the country and foster job creation, the Government of India announced a ₹6.9 lac crore investment outlay to construct 83,677 kilometres of road network, over a period of five years. The ambitious programme is expected to generate 14.2 crore man-day jobs for the country. (Source: KPMG)
- GST implementation: The Government of India carried out a significant overhaul of the indirect tax regime and launched the GST in July 2017, with the vision of creating a unified market. Under this regime, various goods and services would be taxed as per five slabs (28%, 18%, 12%, 5% and zero tax). To reduce the short-term inflationary effect of GST, the GST Council cut tax rates on > 250 goods and services by moving them to lower tax slabs in two separate rate cuts. Post-GST implementation, India's tax net expanded, as a 50% increase was recorded in unique indirect taxpayers. (Source: KPMG)

Global pigment market overview

The global pigment market was valued at ~US$ 25.4 billion in 2017 with the organic segment being worth ~US$ 3.9 billion and the inorganic segment, ~US$18.9 billion. The organic pigment segment is expected to grow rapidly as it is preferred by manufacturers and health and safety-conscious consumers alike. The market is being driven by a growing demand from a range of end-user industries like coatings, plastics and inks, among others. One of the emerging drivers of growth has been the mounting demand for paints and coatings in the automotive industry in Europe and the Asia Pacific. The increase in demand for high-quality and eco-friendly pigments has catalysed the offtake of high-performance dyes and organic pigments. However, fluctuating raw material prices acts as a roadblock for the industry while stiffening environmental regulations have had an adverse impact on inorganic and environmentally-harmful products. The printing inks industry is expected to be the largest consumer of organic pigments, clocking sales worth US$4.4 billion during the fiscal year. (Source: PR Newswire)

Outlook

The global pigment market is expected to generate revenues worth ~US$ 27.56 billion by end-2023, growing at a CAGR of ~4.1%. The organic pigment market is projected to reach US$ 4.67 billion by 2023, growing at a CAGR of 4.8%. China is pegged to be the single-biggest consumer of pigments by 2023, followed by India. Certain Middle Eastern, African and Latin American countries are predicted to emerge as key potential markets for pigments in the coming years.

Azo remained the largest organic pigment, worth ~US$3.9 billion in 2017, expected to grow at a CAGR of 4.7% till 2023. Globally, the consumption of high-performance pigments is expected to grow by 4% in terms of both volume and value over the next five years. However, rising crude oil and raw material prices pose significant challenges. Nevertheless, in the long-term prospects of the high-performance pigment niche remain bright, especially in the coating, plastics, non-impact printing and electronics industries. Much of this growth hinges on the increase in demand for cleaner, brighter colours offering longer resistance. (Source: PR Newswire)

Key downstream sectors

- Automotive paints and coatings: In the automotive sector, paints and coatings are used in interior as well as exterior parts of the vehicle. Inorganic pigments such as titanium dioxide-based pigments are used in the automotive industry to provide a glossy look to vehicles. The automotive manufacturing industry has been growing rapidly in China, India, France, Spain, Indonesia and Italy. Rising foreign investments and expansion of existing manufacturing facilities are quite prevalent in these countries to meet the demand from the domestic as well as the export markets. These demand trends are expected to boost to pigment offtake in the coming years.

- Construction: Global construction output is forecast to rise to US$12.4 trillion in 2022, from US$10.4 trillion in 2017. The European construction industry has bounced back with output increasing by >9% during the past four years. Rising housing demand in the US and Canada has augmented the use of paints and coatings in the region.

- Textiles: The global textiles industry grew at a steady pace catalysed by growing apparel demand across emerging economies like Brazil, China, India and Vietnam. Increasing trade activities through free-trade agreements along with a rising demand for synthetic textiles have brightened the prospects of major sectoral players. The cost-effective and environment-friendly nature of pigments make them a viable option for multifarious applications across the textile value chain. The textile chemicals market was valued at US$ 21.80 billion in 2016, and is expected to reach US$ 30.23 billion by 2025, expanding at a CAGR of 3.7%. The production and demand of textile products is growing at rate of >3% per annum on the back of a growing population base.

- Paints and coatings: By end-2023, paints and coatings are foreseen to remain as leaders within the pigment segment, carving out a 51% share. Pigments play a key role as colourants in the formulation of paints and coatings. Besides providing colour, pigments improve the opacity and glossiness of paints and coatings. As of 2017, the global pigments market for paints and coatings was worth ~US$12.4 billion with a volume demand of ~4,310 kilotonnes.

Indian pigments industry overview

Traditionally, India has dominated green and blue pigment niches. Growing urbanisation, reduction of waste and usage of innovative technologies are supporting the upward growth of the pigment industry. Sales increased at a CAGR of ~14% during the past five years to reach ~US$ 0.87 billion, driven by a steady growth in domestic consumption of coatings, printing inks, consumer goods and master batches. The organic segment grew the fastest on the back of booming domestic and export demand. The principal end-users of pigments in India include the printing ink, plastic, rubber and paint industries. (Source: Chemical Industry Digest)

Outlook

India is expected to emerge as the second-largest market in terms of demand for organic pigments. Organic pigments are more eco-friendly compared to inorganic variants (lead, chromium and cadmium-based) and provide a wider range of bright colours that enjoy assured demand from the printing ink, plastics, rubber and paints industries. Indian manufacturers are expanding capacities by leveraging the inherent cost advantage they enjoy with a keen emphasis on high-performance and specialised pigments. High-performance and special effect pigments, such as metallic and pearlescent, are used as automotive coatings and are currently a nascent market in India. Manufacturers are focusing on reducing wastage by offering qualitatively consistent products to customers. Consequently, sales are likely to grow at a CAGR of 12-13% over the medium-term. (Source: Chemical Industry Digest)

Opportunities

Special effect pigments are used extensively for decorative and functional purposes across paints, plastics, printing ink and cosmetics industries. With their distinctive optical impressions such as angle-dependent interference colours, pearlescence and multiple reflections, among others, they are considered indispensable in a number of applications. Organic pigments are experiencing encouraging growth, resulting from a growing adoption of high-performance pigments and the increasing awareness regarding the ill-effects of heavy metal-based inorganic pigments containing lead, chromium and cadmium. Growing costs of maintaining compliance with environmental regulations in China has dented the country's competitiveness, providing organised Indian players with lucrative growth opportunities. (Source: Chemical Industry Digest, Chemarc)

Threats

Stiffening environmental regulations and the entrance of new players have pressurised prices especially for inorganic pigments, the slowest-growing segment during the past five years. The continued phasing-out of toxic heavy metal-containing inorganic pigments coupled with the growing popularity of vivid colours with special effects have dealt a serious blow to environmentally-harmful inorganic pigments. Most paint and plastic manufactures have replaced lead, chromium and cadmium-based pigments with opaque organic variants.

The burgeoning cost of ensuring compliance with regulatory norms has been a major deterrent for fledgling players. The compliance procedures are rigorous and time-consuming especially for MNCs looking to obtain export approvals. In such a backdrop, players need to have plants and depots close to clients in order to maintain low inventory levels. Manufacturing pigments involves a certain degree of customisation in terms of shade, strength and lustre, among others. Moreover, the manufacturer needs to provide technical services as well, entailing in-depth knowhow of sectoral dynamics. (Source: Chemical Industry Digest)

reasons we are optimistic of long-term growth

The Company's working capital lines were restored during the last financial year, making it possible to access short-term loans to grow the business.

The Company possesses considerably under-utilised capacity, which will be progressively plugged following debottlenecking during the current financial year.

The Company possesses a low break-even point even at low capacity utilization.

The Company's receivables cycles of 55 days of turnover equivalent is around half the industry average.

The commission of additional downstream capacities can potentially translate into peak revenues of ₹700 crore at higher margins across the foreseeable future.

Risk management

Industry risk:

A fall in demand in downstream sectors could impact offtake

Mitigation: The organic pigment segment is expected to grow rapidly as it is preferred by manufacturers and health and safety-conscious consumers alike. The market is being driven by a growing demand from a range of end-user industries like coatings, plastics and inks, among others.

Technology risk:

Technological obsolescence could adversely affect profitability

Mitigation: The Company's state-of-the-art manufacturing capabilities and cutting-edge technologies result in the timely delivery of quality products leading to enduring ties with key stakeholders.

Economic risk:

Slowdown in the economy may impact the industry

Mitigation: The World Bank projected India's economic growth to accelerate to 7.3% in 2018-19 and 7.5% in 2019-20. Strong private consumption and a growth in the services sector are expected to continue supporting economic activity.

Competition risk:

An increasing number of players could intensify competition and impact market share.

Mitigation: The burgeoning cost of ensuring compliance with regulatory norms has been a major deterrent for fledgling players, providing organised players with lucrative growth opportunities.

Financing risk:

Inability to access long-term funding at competitive rates can be detrimental Mitigation: The Company reported a net worth of ₹118.78 crore in 2017-18, indicating the robustness of its Balance Sheet.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

(Pursuant to Schedule V of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015)

Today, we are the leading manufacturers of Phthalocyanine Blue Crude and its downstream products in India and contribute upto 15% of the entire Copper Phthalocyanine market of India. The company has a global presence in 15 countries.

The production capacity of Kesar Petroproducts in Copper Phthalocyanine Blue Crude is 1500 metric tons per month, in Alpha Blue is 200 metric tons per month and in Pigment Green 7 is 50 metric tons per month. We also plan to expand their operations in the Beta Blue market with a production capacity of 250 metric tons per month. This rapidly growth production capacity makes us one of the most progressive players in the industry.

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

Chemicals are an integral part of our modern day life. There is hardly any industry where chemical substances are not used. Pigments are an integral ingredient of the chemical industry. Pigments are colouring agents that can be classified into phthalocyanine and azo pigments. Phthalocyanine pigments are one of the largest categories of pigments manufactured in India. Your Company is engaged in the manufacture of Phthalocyanine Blue Crude and its downstream products in India.

OPPORTUNITIES, THREATS, RISK & CONCERNS

The global pigments industry produces hundreds of colourants for a wide spectrum of industries and consumers. The major markets are printing inks, paints and coatings, plastics, paper, ceramics, textiles, glass, food and cosmetics.

With more and more people are moving to urban areas there has been a hefty growth in the paints and coating industry. The Asia Pacific region is expected to grow as demand and production of pigment are shifting from the US, Europe and Japan to the emerging markets of Asia, especially China and India.

A steady increase in the large pigments markets such as paint and coating will catalyse volumes. With the printing ink industry also performing well, it will open up newer opportunities for the Company.

Raw material availability and their costs are always a concern. The key raw materials used in the manufacture of the pigments are derivatives of crude oil. Hence, prices of raw material vary with fluctuation in the international crude oil prices. The Company has an in built system of monitoring the inventory and logistics. Further production process of the Company is vertically integrated, where CPC Blue Crude is the primary raw material for the production of Pigment Blue. This helps the Company to manage the raw material cost. The future of pigment production is completely dependent on the ability to treat the waste water. The Company has been investing continuously in meeting its obligations towards protecting the environment. Towards this step, the company aims at providing a seamless integration of quality and schedule by ensuring timely deliveries, state-of-the-art manufacturing products, new age technology, constant innovation and economic viability.

The Audit Committee monitors the implementation of the risk mitigation plans.

OUTLOOK

Indian economy is expected for slow revival with continued inflationary prices, rising raw material cost, depreciating rupee. The global economy shows signs of revival but with no significant upturn. Developed economies like North America and Europe which are major consumers of pigment are gradually recovering and accordingly demand for printing inks, paints and coating is expected to pick up, which will benefit the Company. The Company will continue its efforts to increase the utilization of its installed capacities, which will be crucial to achieve an improvement in the operational results.

Priority will be on the quality of the products. The disciplined focus will be cost reductions, operating efficiencies and diligent cash deployment in value creating opportunities. The Company is also taking efforts to increase the product line whereby company will be in a position to increase the margin on sales.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

The Company has a proper and adequate system of internal controls commensurate with its size and business operation to ensure timely and accurate financial reporting in accordance with applicable accounting standards, safeguarding of assets against unauthorized use or disposition and compliance with all applicable regulatory laws and company policies. Internal control systems are reviewed by Audit Committee on a regular basis for its effectiveness and the necessary changes suggested are incorporated into the system. ANNEXURE "A" TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 1(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report to the Members of KESAR PETROPRODUCTS LIMITED of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of KESAR PETROPRODUCTS LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness.

Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my /our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

B SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

B1 REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue is reduced for rebates and other similar allowances.

Sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the goods are dispatched and titles have passed, at which time all the following conditions are satisfied:

- The Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;

NOTES ON FINANCIAL STATEMENT for the year ended 31st March, 2018

Note No 21. GENERAL INFORMATION (contd.)

- The Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; and
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Rendering of services

Revenue from a contract to provide services is recognized by reference to the stage of completion of the contract. Servicing fees included in the price of products sold are recognized by reference to the proportion of the total cost of providing the servicing for the product sold.

Dividend and interest income

Dividend income from investments is recognized when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established.

Interest income from a financial asset is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on, time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

B2 PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Property, plant and equipment (including furniture, fixtures, vehicles, etc.) held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated in the balance sheet at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Cost of acquisition is inclusive of freight, duties, taxes and other incidental expenses. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any recognized impairment loss. Cost includes items directly attributable to the construction or acquisition of the item of property, plant and equipment, and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalized in accordance with the Company's accounting policy. Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Depreciation is recognized so as to write off the cost of assets (other than freehold land and properties under construction) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis at the straight line method over estimated economic useful lives of its property, plant and equipment generally in accordance with that provided in the Schedule II to the Act.

Depreciation of an asset begins when it is available for use. Depreciation of an asset ceases at the earlier of the date that the asset is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal group that it is classified as held for sale) in accordance with Ind AS 105 and the date that the asset is de-recognized. Therefore depreciation does not cease when the asset becomes idle or is retired from active use unless the asset is fully depreciated.

However under usage methods of depreciation the depreciation charge can be zero while there is no production.

Depreciation on additions/ deductions is calculated pro-rata from/ to the month of additions/ deductions.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognized upon disposal. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal of an item of property plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis

B3 INTANGIBLE ASSETS

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortization method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

B4 IMPAIRMENT OF TANGIBLE AND INTANGIBLE ASSETS

The carrying amount of assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date, to assess, if there is any indication of impairment based on internal/external factors. An asset is impaired when the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount.

An impairment loss is charged to the Profit and Loss Account in the year in which an asset is identified as impaired.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

B5 INVENTORIES :

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost, determined on the weighted average basis and Net Realisable Value (NRV).

The cost of Finished Goods and Work in Progress comprises raw material, direct labour, other direct cost and appropriate proportion of variable and fixed over head expenditure, the latter being allocated on the basis of normal operating capacity. Costs of Inventories also include all the cost incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Costs of purchased inventory are determined after deducting rebates and discounts. NRV is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and estimated cost necessary to make the sale.

B6 FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSACTIONS :

In preparing the financial statements of the Company, transactions in currencies other than the company's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated. Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Foreign currency derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in profit or loss depends on the nature of the hedging relationship and the nature of the hedged item.

B7 EMPLOYEES BENEFITS :

Company's contributions paid/ payable during the year to Provident Fund and Employees' State Insurance Corporation (ESIC) are recognized in the Profit & Loss Account; Provident Fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the company. The interest rate payable to the members of this trust shall not be lower than the statutory rate of interest declared by the Central Government under the Employees Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 and shortfall, if any, shall be made good by the company. The remaining contributions are made to a Government Administered Employee Pension Fund towards which the company has no further obligations beyond its monthly contributions.

B9 FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Financial Assets

All recognized financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at either amortized cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets

Investments in debt instruments that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortized cost (unless the same are designated as fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)):

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- The contractual terms of instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (unless the same are designated as fair value through profit or loss)

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- The contractual terms of instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments at FVTPL are a residual category for debt instruments and all changes are recognized in profit or loss.

Investments in equity instruments are classified as FVTPL, unless the Company irrevocably elects on initial recognition to present subsequent changes in fair value in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) for equity instruments which are not held for trading.

Interest income, dividend income and exchange difference (on debt instrument) on Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI) debt instruments is recognized in profit or loss and other changes in fair value are recognized in OCI and accumulated in other equity. On disposal of debt instruments FVTOCI the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in other equity is reclassified to profit & loss. However in case of equity instruments at FVTOCI cumulative gain or loss is not reclassified to profit & loss on disposal of investments.

Financial Liabilities and Equity Instruments

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by Company are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs. The carrying amounts of financial liabilities that are subsequently measured at amortised cost are determined based on the effective interest method. Interest expense that is not capitalized as part of costs of an asset is included in the 'Finance Costs' Line item.

Note No 21. GENERAL INFORMATION (contd.)

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability.

- a. Loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized costs using Effective Interest Rate method.
- b. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL) are subsequently measured at fair value.
- c. Financial guarantee contracts are subsequently measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 and the amount recognized less cumulative amortization.
- d. Financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires.
- e. Other Secured Loans from M/s Malvika Harbopharma (P) Ltd are secured by 1st charge all the Fixed Assets including the Housing Colony.

B10 Impairment of financial assets (Expected Credit Loss Model)

The Company applies the expected credit loss model for recognizing impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortized cost, debt instruments at FVTOCI, lease receivables, trade receivables, other contractual rights to receive cash or other financial asset and financial guarantees not designated at FVTPL

Expected credit losses are the weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. Credit loss is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract/agreement and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive (i.e. all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate. The Company estimates cash flows by considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument, through the expected life of the financial instrument.

The Company measures the loss allowance for a financial instrument at an amount equal to the life-time expected credit losses if the credit risk on that financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. If the credit risk has not increased significantly, the Company measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to 12-month expected credit losses. 12-month expected credit losses are portion of the life-time expected credit losses and represent the life-time cash shortfalls that will result if the default occurs within 12 months after the reporting date and thus, are not cash shortfalls that are predicted over the next 12 months.

Note No 21. GENERAL INFORMATION (contd.)

When making the assessment of whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Company uses the change in the risk of a default occurring over the expected life of the financial instrument instead of a change in the amount of the expected credit loss. To achieve that, the Company compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on initial recognition and considers reasonable and supportable information, that is available without undue cost or effort, that is indicative of significant increases in credit risk since initial recognition.

B11 PROVISIONS

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (when the effect of the time value of money is material).

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognized as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

B12 Warranties

The estimated liability for product warranties is recorded when products are sold. These estimates are established using historical information on the nature, frequency and average cost of warranty claims and management estimates regarding possible future incidence based on corrective actions on product failures. The timing of outflows will vary as and when warranty claim will arise- being typically six months to one year.

B13 CURRENT AND NON CURRENT CLASSIFICATION

Current Asset:

An asset shall be classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (a) it is expected to be realized in, or is intended for sale or consumption in, the company's normal operating cycle;
- (b) it is held primarily for the purpose of being traded.
- (c) It is expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting date, or
- (d) It is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

All other assets shall be classified as non-current.

Current Liabilities:

A liability shall be classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (a) it is expected to be settled in the company's normal operating cycle;
- (b) it is held primarily for the purpose of being traded;
- (c) it is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting date: or
- (d) the company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date. Terms of a liability that could at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification. All other liabilities shall be classified as non-current.

B14 DEFERRED TAX & CURRENT TAX

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered. Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax for the year

The income tax expense or credit for the year is the tax payable on current year's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

Current and deferred tax are recognized in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

B15 EARNINGS PER SHARE (EPS)

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. For the purpose of calculating Diluted Earnings per Share, the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential Equity Shares.

Computation of Basic & Diluted EPS	2017-18	2016-17
a. Profit/(Loss) after Tax as per P&L A/c	30,55,21,262	20,08,23,198
b. Number of Equity Shares	9,66,73,170	9,66,73,170
c. Basic EPS	3.16	2.08
d. Diluted EPS	3.16	2.08
e. Face Value per Equity Share	1	1

C Cash flow statement

Cash flow statement is prepared segregating the cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flow from operating activities is reported using indirect method. Under the indirect method, the net profit/(loss) is adjusted for the effects of:

- (a) transactions of a non-cash nature;
- (b) any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and,
- (c) All other items of income or expense associated with investing or financing cash flows.

Note No 21. GENERAL INFORMATION (contd.)

The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information. Cash and cash equivalents (including bank balances) are reflected as such in the Cash Flow Statement. Those cash and cash equivalents which are not available for general use as on the date of Balance Sheet are also included under this category with a specific disclosure.

D FIRST TIME ADOPTION

The Company has prepared opening balance sheet as per Ind AS of April 1, 2016 (transition date) by recognizing all assets and liabilities whose recognition is required by Ind AS, not recognizing items of assets or liabilities which are not permitted by Ind AS, by reclassifying items from previous GAAP to Ind AS required under IndAS and applying IndAS in measurement of recognized assets and liabilities. However, this principle is subject to certain exceptions and certain optional exemptions availed by the Company as detailed below:

- a) The Company has applied the derecognition requirements of financial assets and financial liabilities prospectively for transactions occurring on or after 01 April 2016 (transition date).
- b) The Company has determined the classification of debt instruments in terms of whether they meet the amortized cost criteria or the FVTOCI criteria based on the facts and circumstances that existed as of the transition date.
- c) The Company has opted to continue with the carrying value for all of its PPE as recognized in its previous GAAP financial as deemed cost at the transition date.
