OUR NCE BUSINESS PIPELINE IS GROWING

A NUMBER OF COMPANIES NEED TO INVEST PATIENTLY AND CONSISTENTLY IN THEIR PIPELINE WITH LONG-TERM REVENUE PROJECTIONS. AT SUVEN, WE HAVE GOOD NEWS FOR OUR STAKEHOLDERS.

Our consistent investment in our NCE pipeline over the previous nine years has reached an inflection point – our molecules are now at an advanced stage in the clinical development cycle and poised for monetisation over the years to come.

SUVN-502, the Company's lead molecule, targeted for cognition in Alzheimer's and schizophrenia, is expected to enter Phase-IIa trials (Proof-of-Concept).

A similar molecule by a European company, addressing Alzheimer's, was outlicensed in July 2013 to a Japanese company for an upfront US$150 million, milestone payments of over US$600 million and royalty on sales (when launched successfully).

SUVN-G3031, directed at cognition in Alzheimer's and schizophrenia, initiated Phase-I trials in November 2014 and is expected to be completed in FY16.

SUVN-D4010, directed at cognition in Alzheimer's and schizophrenia, underwent relevant toxicological studies;

Phase-I clinical trials are expected to start in 2015-16.

SUVN-911, directed at major depressive disorder (MDD), underwent GLP toxicology studies in preparation for Phase-I clinical trials.

Suven is optimistic as molecules like SUVN-502 have been enthusiastically received by MNCs following the successful completion of Phase-II trials.

Suven's prospects appear bright considering the relative absence of effective therapies for these diseases in the US. .

AT SUVEN, OVER THE LAST TWO-AND-A-HALF DECADES, WE CREATED A PIPELINE OF CAPABILITIES INSTEAD.

Suven's capability pipeline comprises trust, knowledge, competence and efficiency.

We expect to leverage this pipeline with an aggressive development agenda over the foreseeable future.

Three products from the pipeline moved to launch stage; commercial volumes for these products are expected to be generated FY17 onwards.

We secured a mandate to supply a complex specialty intermediate for five to seven years.

We were working on 52 projects related to the development of intermediates for products under Phase-II trial as on March 31, 2015 (30 projects as on March 31, 2010).

The migration of a larger number of Phase II projects to Phase-III could lead to increased volumes and margins.

TEN MINUTES WITH THE CHAIRMAN

“SUVEN IS ENTERING AN EXCITING PHASE IN ITS GROWTH JOURNEY.”

Friends,

In 2014-15, our financial performance was subdued and even though the Company was able to match its overall revenues of the previous year largely on account of the growth in its core CRAMS business by 44%, our bottomline declined 24%.

Our company's bottomline declined largely due to revenues from pre-launch supplies for three products declining from ₹175 crores in 2013-14 to ₹45 crores, a reality that had been anticipated and proactively articulated.

This reality of a decline in profits brings me to a relevant point. Despite having grown the business every single year across the last five years, our business sustainability has been consistently questioned. We are perceived as a high-risk service-based business marked by volatile quarter-on-quarter earnings because successful project completion may not necessarily translate into repeat orders if the project does not carry through at the innovator's end.

The change

The big message that I wish to send out is that this reality is likely to change.

The volatility in our business model may moderate extensively following the commercialisation of three products at the innovator's level followed by consistent multi-year offtake coupled with growth from our annuity-driven specialty chemicals business.

Commercial volumes for molecule launches: Seven supplies intermediates for three products pertaining to three therapeutic indications, namely rheumatoid arthritis for a US-based innovator, as well as anti-depressant and anti-diabetic for European innovators (cleared US-FDA approvals). These products are expected to scale to commercial volumes in FY17, making it possible to provide a growing quantity of commercial supplies across the patent life of products of five to seven years.

Specialty chemicals: Seven supplied a complex specialty intermediary (derived from our CRAMS competence) in 2013-14, expected to continue for five to seven years. We are hopeful of consolidating volumes at our greenfield Visakhapatnam facility across the long-term.

ANDAs: Seven granted an exclusive marketing license for our Malathion lotion to Taro Pharmaceuticals for the US, Canada and Mexico markets until 2026, which is expected to generate attractive royalties. During the year under review, we filed three ANDAs in collaboration with customers; a maturity of these ANDAs could lead to additional revenues.

The rationale

At Seven, we are confident of growing our core business during the current year.

The macro perspective:

An attractive opportunity awaits the global CRO and CRAMS sectors. Global pharmaceutical R&D expenditure was approximately US$139 billion in 2014; US$105 billion of business could have been potentially outsourced (Source: Frost & Sullivan).

The outsourcing of CRO discovery services industry was estimated at 52% of the global pharmaceutical and biotech industry in 2013, poised to grow to 65.7% by the end of 2015. The outsourcing portion of this segment is estimated to grow from US$14.7 billion in 2014 to US$22.7 billion in 2018 (Source: IQ4I Report).

The outsourcing of CRO development services in 2014 was estimated at 27.3% of the potential outsourcing market for development services, which is likely to grow to 38.7% in 2019. This outsourcing is estimated to grow from US$28.8 billion in 2014 to US$44.6 billion in 2018 (Source: Frost & Sullivan).

The micro perspective:

We ended FY15 on an optimistic note. In the base CRAMS business pipeline, we have 52 projects catering to Phase-II products, the highest in our existence. A single project moving to Phase-III can result in a significant volume increment and enhanced profitability.

Besides, four global innovator companies named Seven as a preferred supplier for their drug discovery and development programmes which, we hope, will result in more CRAMS projects coming our way across the medium-term.

The impact

Seven made significant progress in the NCE space as well.

Our lead molecule SUVN-502 is ready to move to Phase-IIa (POC) clinical trials; another molecule moved to Phase-I clinical trial stage; two molecules are at a preparatory stage for entering Phase-I clinical trials.

The Company mobilised ₹200 crore through a QIP to fund NCE programmes, drawing marquee investors into the Seven stakeholder family.

Overview

With NCEs in our discovery pipeline poised for monetisation, we are entering an exciting phase where sustainable revenues will help create a robust foundation that graduates the Company and shareholder value to the next level.

65.7%

The outsourcing of CRO discovery services industry was estimated at 52% of the global pharmaceutical and biotech industry in 2013, poised to grow to 65.7% by the end of 2015.

OUR PERFORMANCE OVERVIEW

“WHAT MAY BE MISTAKEN AS UNDERPERFORMANCE ACTUALLY REPRESENTS AN OUTPERFORMANCE.”

Were you happy with the Company's performance in 2014-15?

We were pleased with the Company's performance during the year under review. Our message to the shareholders at the beginning of the year was a 10% lower topline and a 33% lower bottomline compared to what we had achieved in 2013-14, due to a forecasted absence of a one-off pre-launch quantity for a major part of the year. Given the stiff guidance, we surprised stakeholders: our revenues grew 2% and bottomline declined only 24%.

What was the reason for this subdued performance?

It would be pertinent for shareholders to remember that 2013-14 was an unusually favourable year. During that year, Suvem secured pre-launch supplies of three molecules, which cleared Phase-III trials. We were aware that the repeat supply orders for these products would happen only after 24 months and consequently, our financial performance was expected to be subdued.

How did the core business perform during the year under review?

Our key revenue streams reported double-digit growth, which partly cushioned the profit decline.

Our base CRAMS business grew 44% - from ₹305 crore in 2013-14 to ₹439 crore in 2014-15. This growth was due to increased volumes in our specialty business, better projects movement from Phase 1 to Phase II, addition of 11 projects and supplies being maintained to existing CRAMS projects.

Our research services arm reported a healthy 20% jump in revenues over the previous year.

How did the Company's NCE programmes perform?

Our team made satisfying progress in three molecules, the most promising being our lead molecule SUVN 502. For this molecule, we completed Phase-Ib trials and commenced preparations for the Phase-IIa (POC) trial. We hope to initiate patient trials during the second half of the current year and are hopeful of monetising this molecule post successful completion of the study in fiscal 2017.

How is Suvem funding the large expenditure in taking molecules along the development pipeline?

Even as we recognise that NCE programmes are cash-intensive, we are relatively confident of our molecules making it through approvals to the marketplace. To ensure adequate funding for key molecules (at advanced stages in the development cycle), we mobilised ₹200 crore through a qualified institutional placement to institutional investors. The robust response to the QIP is a testimony to our unique business model. Post the QIP, promoter holding in the Company declined from 64.76% to 59%.

How does the Company expect to perform in the current year?

Our key revenue drivers will continue to register healthy double-digit growth in CRAMS business in the current year.

44%

Our base CRAMS business grew 44% - from ₹305 crore in 2013-14 to ₹439 crore in 2014-15.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

GDP growth (%)

Inflation - WPI average (%)

Gross fiscal deficit (%)

Economic review

Markets that began reviving in 2013-14 gained momentum in 2014-15.

The economy was relatively independent of factors associated with usual economic slowdowns and evident in 2011-12 and 2012-13 - inflation, fiscal deficit, weak demand, external account imbalances and an oscillating rupee.

A redeeming feature was the emergence of India as a large economy with a promising outlook, in contrast to pessimism in a number of advanced and emerging economies. India's GDP grew 7.3% in 2014-15 and is expected to grow further in 2015-16 (Source: Economic Survey).

The pharmaceutical industry

Global spending on medicines is forecast to reach nearly US$1.3 trillion by 2018, an increase of about 30% over the 2013 level. This level of growth – a compound annual growth rate of 4-7% on a constant currency basis – could be slightly higher than the 5.2% recorded over the previous five years.

Demographic trends will act as a significant driver of global demand for pharmaceuticals in the next five years: increase in diagnosis and treatment of chronic conditions and an aging population could drive growth in the developed markets, while population growth coupled with improved access to healthcare could drive emerging market growth. Most countries could experience increased pharmaceutical spending per capita by 2018.

Global spending growth is expected to stabilise between 4-7% through 2018. Higher spending is expected on specialty medicines over the next five years, particularly in developed markets – about 40% of total global growth will come from these medicines.

Drug discovery

The mission of pharmaceutical research companies is to graduate from understanding a disease to bringing new, safe and effective treatment to patients. Scientists work to piece the basic disease causes together at the level of genes, proteins and cells; out of this understanding emerges 'targets,' which novel drug manufacturers like to capitalise on.

Researchers work in the following areas:

VALIDATE targets,

DISCOVER the right molecule (potential drug) to interact with the target chosen,

TEST the new compound in the lab and clinic for safety and efficacy, and

GET approval and the new drug into the hands of doctors and patients.

It takes about 10-15 years to develop one new drug from the time it is discovered to when it is available for treating patients. The average cost to research and develop each successful drug is estimated at US$800 million to more than US$1 billion, which includes the cost of thousands of failures.

Drug discovery challenges:

During the past decade, new molecule output declined steadily from ~30 NCE per year to ~25 NCE per year, while R&D costs more than doubled. Many attempted remedies may even be responsible for the high attrition rate of pharmaceutical R&D projects.

Developing a new medicine takes an average of 10 to 15 years

CONTRACT RESEARCH AND MANUFACTURING SERVICES (CRAMS)

Active projects under CRAMS

Suven is a pure-play CRAMS player with a visible presence at the top-end of the CRAMS value chain, assisting global innovators in drug development.

This flagship business segment accounts for more than 90% of the Company's revenues. The Company works with global innovator companies by supplying intermediates for their NCEs during the clinical phase of drug development. Over the last two decades, the Company delivered 727 projects, earning customer trust. The projects included process research, custom synthesis and intermediates.

Revenue streams

CRAMS generates three revenue streams – base CRAMS for products in clinical development, CRAMS for commercial products and supply of specialty chemicals.

Base CRAMS: Suven works with global innovator companies, supplying intermediates for their NCEs during the clinical phase of drug development. When successful, this can translate into long-term supply agreements on launch. Over the years, Suven has reported a consistent rise in the number of active products under CRAMS for which intermediates are still being supplied.

CRAMS for commercial products:

These represent commercial intermediate supplies for innovator products that cleared clinical trials and are ready for launch. In FY14, three products of its partner innovators successfully cleared Phase-III trials for which Suven was supplying intermediates, which resulted in sizeable business in the form of pre-launch supplies from partners in 2013-14.

The business

The CRAMS business is a high-risk, high-margin one with no surety of repeat supplies following the first batch of intermediate supply.

The repeat business for these products is expected to commence from fiscal 2017, revenues gradually increasing based on a sales ramp-up for the innovator in its home area and a launch of such products in new territories and countries.

Supply of specialty chemicals: Suven is supplying intermediates for one specialty chemical product to a large global pharmaceutical and agrochemical conglomerate.

Business in 2014-15

Revenue from base CRAMS grew by 44%, from ₹305 crore in 2013-14 to ₹439 crore in 2014-15.

Active CRAMS projects stood at 110 as on March 31, 2015, increasing from 99 CRAMS projects as on March 31, 2014.

Revenues from discovery research support services grew 23% from ₹31 crore in 2013-14 to ₹38 crore in 2014-15.

Commenced trial operations of the greenfield plant in JNPC, Visakhapatnam.

Going ahead

The Company is optimistic of medium-term prospects for the following factors:

Commercial supplies for three products from fiscal 2017 for which we supplied pre-launch quantities in 2013-14 and 2014-15.

Improved traction in the mix and match of CRAMS products, which grew by 44% in 2014-15.

SUVEN IN THE CRAMS VALUE CHAIN

727

Over the last two decades, the Company delivered 727 projects, earning customer trust.

Why an increasing number of clients see Suven as a dependable long-term partner

A number of clients need specialised external support to bring drugs faster to the marketplace for which they need specialised support.

Clients need to extend the tenures of their product patents; each day saved represents additional revenues.

Product needs are becoming increasingly demanding, which needs specialised vendors.

The number of failed R&D attempts is rising while R&D capabilities remain finite, making it imperative to seek specialised partners.

Decline in NCE approvals makes it imperative to outsource and build a research pipeline.

Diseases are becoming increasingly multi-drug resistant.

Global pharmaceutical sponsors have larger research outlays across a lower number of projects for which they seek specialised research partners.

110

Active CRAMS projects stood at 110 as on March 31, 2015, increasing from 99 CRAMS projects as on March 31, 2014.

NEW CHEMICAL ENTITIES (NCES)

Suven is one of the few Indian biopharmaceutical companies to have extended beyond CRAMS into drug discovery and NCE development, leveraging its rich research knowledge.

The Company's promising NCE pipeline comprises 13 molecules from 27 inventions, mainly in the central nervous system category. With this space, Suven's discovery assets address niche areas of cognitive impairment associated with neurodegenerative disorders like Alzheimer's disease, Attention Deficient Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Huntington's disease, Parkinson's Disease and schizophrenia. The pipeline includes one molecule ready for Phase-IIa trial, one molecule in the Phase-I trial stage, one molecule ready for Phase-I trial and other assets in various pre-clinical development stages.

Suven enjoys a unique position in India (and Asia) as one of the most prominent companies in this space. The Company's thrust into drug discoveries is related to the central nervous system with a market potential of more than US$120 billion (cognitive disorders accounting for over US$30 billion). Suven received 753 product patents for 27 inventions and 37 process patents for seven inventions.

13

The Company's promising NCE pipeline comprises 13 molecules from 27 inventions, mainly in the central nervous system category.

Progress in 2014-15

SUVN-502, the Company's lead molecule for cognition in Alzheimer's and Schizophrenia completed Phase-Ib trials in the US; preparation for Phase-IIa (proof-of-concept) is under way.

SUVN-G3031, for cognition in Alzheimer's and Schizophrenia, initiated Phase-I trials in November 2014, which is expected to be completed in 2015-16.

SUVN-D4010 for cognition in Alzheimer's and Schizophrenia, underwent toxicology studies and expects to start Phase-I clinical trials in the current year.

The draw of the CNS segment

Market size of US$120 billion

More than 200 compounds under development

Market for cognitive disorders estimated in excess of US$30 billion

180 million patients worldwide for memory impairment and other cognitive functions.

37 million patients worldwide for dementia (majority Alzheimer's)

24 million people worldwide suffering from schizophrenia

50% of adults (above-65) afflicted by age-associated cognitive decline

ANALYSIS OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Suven registered satisfactory performance in the absence of commercial supplies for approved molecules. The Company strengthened its Balance Sheet, laying the foundation for growth opportunities.

Statement of Profit and Loss

Revenue from operation (net) grew marginally by 3% from ₹513 crore in 2013-14 to ₹529 crore in 2014-15. This was primarily due to healthy growth in the core CRAMS business, which grew by 44% over the previous year, compensating the 74% de-growth in one-off pre-launch revenue.

Operating expenses increased by 24.08% from ₹291.25 crore in 2013-14 to ₹361.40 crore in 2014-15. This jump was due to an increase in material and operating costs and employee expenses consequent to an increase in active CRAMS projects.

The R&D expenses increased by 16.70% from ₹47.95 crore in 2013-14 to ₹55.96 crore in 2014-15. This was primarily due to the increased focus on advancing the Company's NCE pipeline. In addition, the increase in the R&D team and enhancement of the R&D capabilities also contributed to the increase in R&D expenses – it stood at 10.57% of the revenue from operations (net) in 2014-15 against 9.34% in 2013-14.

The finance cost plummeted by 55.18% from ₹10.51 crore in 2013-14 to ₹4.71 crore in 2014-15 due to the repayment of Term Loans and reduction in PCFC interest rates.

Margins: The Company's subdued performance impacted profitability – EBIDTA margin stood at 32.26% in 2014-15 against 43.52% in 2013-14 while the net margin declined from 28.25% in 2013-14 to 20.88% in 2014-15.

Balance Sheet

Shareholder's funds: The Company's equity capital increased from ₹11.68 crore as on March 31, 2014 to ₹12.73 crore as on March 31, 2015. This increase was due to the QIP in 2014-15 – 1,04,53,690 shares were issued and allotted at ₹1 each at a premium of ₹190.32 per share. Consequently, Reserves and Surplus balance more than doubled from ₹252.76 crore as on March 31, 2014 to ₹546.58 crore as on March 31, 2015. The entire Reserves and Surplus balance is free in nature which can be used for funding growth opportunities. The book value per share stood at ₹43.94 as on March 31, 2015 against ₹22.64 as on March 31, 2014.

Non-current liabilities:

Long-term loans increased by 29.44% from ₹62.02 crore as on March 31, 2014 to ₹80.28 crore as on March 31, 2015 consequent to the loan for its Visakhapatnam facility. The entire debt portfolio was foreign currency-based with an average portfolio cost of 4.36%, minimising the interest outflow. The Company is protected from currency fluctuation as its entire revenue is dollar-denominated.

Current liabilities: Short-term borrowings (working capital loans) were at par with the previous year balance. Trade payables increased marginally by 7.31% from ₹40.90 crore as on March 31, 2014 to ₹43.89 crore as on March 31, 2015 consequent to an increase in the number of projects managed by the Company. Short-term liabilities (represent long-term loans payable in the current year) declined significantly, reflecting reduced debt repayment liability in 2015-16.

Non-current assets: Tangible assets stood at ₹171.75 crore as on March 31, 2015 against ₹179.23 crore as on March 31, 2014. The Capital work-in-progress stood at ₹107.01 crore as on March 31, 2015 – it represents the investment in the Visakhapatnam plant. This would be added to the Tangible Asset balance in the current year.

Current assets: The inventories balance was largely in line with the previous year, while the trade receivables balance declined as compared to the previous year – reflecting on faster receivables. The Cash and Bank Balance jumped from ₹68.03 crore as on March 31, 2014 to ₹279.69 crore as on March 31, 2015 consequent to the funds received from the QIP which will be progressively deployed in the current year.

₹ 546.58 crore

Reserves and Surplus balance more than doubled from ₹252.76 crore as on March 31, 2014 to ₹546.58 crore as on March 31, 2015.

MANAGING BUSINESS UNCERTAINTIES

Business is about taking and managing risks. Business risk profile will evolve in line with altering dynamics. The same holds true at Suven, which has progressively transformed into India's prominent research-focused CRAMS player.

Declining R&D pipeline and decline in NCE approvals lead to uncertainties in discovery research.

Mitigation: With the passage of time, diseases are evolving faster than before. Existing ailments (once curable) are resurfacing to become fatal (multi-drug resistant ailments) and new ailments are surfacing, making it imperative to discover and develop newer drugs.

A recent report examining innovation in the drug development pipeline discovered that 70% of 5,000-plus new molecular entities being investigated were potential first-in-class medicines or medicines distinct from other marketed drugs.

The lack of surety to get projects (for its base CRAMS business) does not induce confidence in business growth.

Mitigation: Prohibitive R&D costs in developed nations are forcing global innovator companies to leverage the knowledge and resources of low-cost destinations. The outsourcing of CRO development services in 2014 was estimated at 27.3% of the potential outsourcing market for development services; this is likely to grow to 38.7% in 2019. This outsourcing is estimated to grow from US$28.8 billion in 2014 to US$44.6 billion in 2018 (Source: Frost & Sullivan).

From Suven's perspective, the Company registered a consistent rise in the number of active projects under CRAMS, for which intermediates are still being supplied, except in FY11. The drop in FY11 was due to the R&D portfolio restructuring by large pharmaceutical companies consequent to on the 2009 global economic meltdown. This also emerged as an interesting positive for the CRAMS space as large pharmaceutical companies became more focused on moving molecules seamlessly to the logical end than their earlier strategy of pursuing a certain number of molecules at one time and keeping several on hold despite success. This resulted in traction for CRAMS segment with a significant rise in Phase-II molecules for Suven.

The ability to meet projects on time while adhering to global standards is critical for business success.

Mitigation: The Company's meticulous project planning and disciplined execution ensures that all projects are completed within the timelines agreed upon. Its timely investment in equipment and other resources ensure seamless project execution. Its sizeable knowledge repository provides solutions for all perceived roadblocks.

The Company works with respected global innovators whose quality standards are stringent, who frequently audit Suven's facilities and processes. On an average, the Company's facilities are audited (customer and regulatory audit) 15 to 20 times in a year.

These factors have enabled the Company to meet the global regulatory compliance and deliver projects as per the agreed timelines.

The Company requires significant funds to continue funding its NCE programme.

Mitigation: Consistent delivery of CRAMS projects has ensured organisational liquidity. Besides, an increasing number projects for developing and supplying intermediates for Phase-II has improved business margins and strengthened net cash from business operations. In addition, the Company sourced ₹200 crore through a QIP to be used to fund the progression of its NCE pipeline.

The R&D team is critical to the Company's success and growth.

Mitigation: The Company has a strong R&D team comprising more than 45% of its total workforce. More than 80% of its R&D team has been working with the Company for more than a decade. The Company's competence lies in chemistry skills, scale-up capability and timely project delivery, translating into enduring customer relationships in CRAMS.

The company has prepared these financial statements to comply in all material respects with the accounting standards notified under section 133 of the Companies Act 2013, read together with paragraph 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules 2014.

2.2 Use of Estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with the generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported value of assets and liabilities on the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenue and expenditure for the year. The difference between the actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialised.

2.3 Revenue Recognition

- i. Revenue from sale of goods is recognised when significant risks and rewards in respect of ownership of products are transferred to customers.
- ii. Revenue from Contract Technical Services, Clinical Trials Services, Process Development Services and Formulation Development Charges are recognised on completion of the milestone work.
- iii. Income from Investments
  - (a) The Company recognises Interest on investments on accrual basis.

2.4 Fixed Assets

i. Tangible assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost and as reduced by accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing costs if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Exchange difference arising on Long Term Foreign currency monetary items relating to acquisition of fixed assets are adjusted to the carrying cost of such assets.

Subsequent expenditure related to an item of fixed asset is added to its book value only if it increases the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance. All other expenses on existing fixed assets, including day-to-day repair and maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the statement of profit and loss for the period during which such expenses are incurred.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of fixed assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognised.

ii. Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalised development costs, are not capitalised and expenditure is reflected in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight line basis over the estimated useful economic life. The company uses a rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed five years from the date when the asset is available for use.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognised.

2.5 Depreciation

The dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date.

2.14 Impairment of Assets

If the carrying amount of fixed assets exceeds the recoverable amount on the reporting date, the carrying amount is reduced to the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is measured as the higher of the net selling price and the value in use determined by the present value of estimated future cash flows.

2.15 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has present legal or constructive obligations, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made for the amount of obligation.

2.16 Segmental information - Basis of preparation

i. Segment Revenue and Expenses

Revenues and expenses are allocated on a reasonable basis to segments being common manufacturing facilities and sales force.

ii. Segment Assets and Liabilities

The fixed assets and net current assets are not identifiable for particular segment except R & D segment, because these assets can be used interchangeable among the segments. Hence the management feels that the assets cannot be segregated to particular segment and to disclose these under unallocated assets.

2.17 Employee Stock Option Schemes

In accordance with the Securities and Exchange Board of India guidelines, the excess of the market price of shares, at the date of grant of options under the Employee stock option schemes, over the exercise price is treated as employee compensation and amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.
