MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

MACRO-ECONOMIC REVIEW

Financial year 2016-17 (FY2017) began on a positive note. India had closed FY2016 with growth in real GDP of 7.9% and a growth in gross value added (GVA) of 7.8%. Despite two disconcerting facts - namely, the high level and proportion of the banking sector's non-performing assets coupled with a muted growth in bank credit- there were expectations of India achieving a GDP growth rate somewhere between 7.5% and 8% in FY2017.

Unfortunately, that has not occurred. The second advance estimates of national income forecast by the Central Statistics Office (CSO) released on 28 February 2017 suggest a real GDP growth of 7.1% for FY2017; and a real gross value added (GVA) growth of 6.7%. Both estimates are significantly lower than what the economy achieved in the previous year.

On 8 November 2016, the Government announced demonetisation of Rs.500 and Rs. 1,000 banknotes, which represented 86% of the currency in circulation. Contemporary evidence suggested significant disruption arising out of unprecedented cash constraints throughout the economy. For lending institutions in particular, the impact of lower collection efficiencies was quite severe, and resulted in poorer credit growth.

However, the national income data published by the CSO does not suggest any significant reduction in GDP or GVA growth in the third quarter of FY2017 which could have been correlated with the demonetisation drive. The third quarter traditionally tends to be muted. In FY2016, the growth rate of real GVA in Q2 was 8.4%; and in Q3 it was 7%, or a sequential drop of 1.4 percentage points. In FY2017, GVA growth in Q2 was 6.7%, and in Q3 it was 6.6%. In other words, despite the effects of demonetisation for over 60% of Q3 FY2017, the negative effect as reported by the CSO has been only 10 basis points. We need harder evidence to clearly quantify the impact of demonetisation on real GDP or GVA growth. What the data so far suggests is that it was more moderate than the naysayers claimed it would be. And that the effects would be transitory. If demonetisation was not the prime cause for the lower estimate of GDP and GVA growth in FY2017, then what were the other determinants? There are two.

The first is insufficient investments, especially over the last five years. Gross fixed capital formation (GFCF) for FY2017 is estimated to be only 0.6% higher than what it was in FY2016. The share of GFCF to GDP has steadily fallen from 31.7% in FY2015 to 31.1% in FY2016 to a low of 29.2% in FY2017. Unless investments rapidly pick up in FY2018 and the following year, it is difficult to envisage how India can achieve a sustained real GDP growth of 7.5%, leave aside an aspirational target of 8%.

The second is also related to investments and linked to the state of our banks, especially many of those under Government ownership. Data for the quarter ended 31 December 2016 shows that for the 27 public sector banks which account for the vast majority of the nation's loans and advances, gross NPAs were estimated at H 647,759 crore, a 140% increase over what it was two years earlier. Today, such NPAs constituted 12% of total loans and advances. The proportion may indeed be higher still. In any event, with these banks being so badly stressed, there is no appetite for advancing term loans without which, it is impossible to envisage the investment spends required to transit to a higher growth path. Consequently, it is not surprising that several sectors of the economy have seen a reduction in growth. Real GVA in mining and quarrying is estimated to grow by only 1.3% in FY2017 versus 12.3% in the previous year. Manufacturing growth for FY2017 is pegged at 7.7%, which will be 290 basis points lower than what it was a year ago. GVA from trade, hotels, transport, communications and broadcasting services are expected to grow by 7.3% compared to 10.7% in FY2016. And GVA from financial, real estate and professional services is estimated to grow at 6.5% in FY2017 versus 10.8% a year before. Having said this, it needs to be emphasised that 7.1% real GDP (or 6.7% real GVA) growth happens to be among the highest in the developed world and across all major emerging markets, including China. From a cross-country perspective, therefore, we seem to be doing well enough. The issue is internal to India: Is such growth sufficient to significantly increase incomes and employment and reduce poverty in the country? And the answer is straightforward: we need to do much more. What about inflation? The Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation varied month-to-month between 3.2% and 6.1% during FY2017. Excluding food and fuel, however, core CPI inflation has remained at around 4.9% since September 2016, which is somewhat higher than what the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is comfortable with. Thus, in February 2017, the RBI changed its monetary policy stance from accommodative to neutral. With core inflation remaining firm in the neighbourhood of 5%, the RBI in its first monetary policy statement for 2017-18 (FY2018) has justified maintaining a hawkish stance. Growth in bank credit continued to be subdued. Thanks to the overhang of NPAs, it grew only by 5.2% in FY2017 versus 10.2% in the previous year. On the liability side, demonetisation led to an unnatural growth in bank deposits, which increased by 11.9% in FY2017 compared to 9.1% in FY2016. Awash with post-demonetisation liquidity, the banks significantly reduced their incremental marginal cost based lending rates in January 2017.

This, we believe, has created a potentially alarming situation in the banking sector, especially for the public sector banks. On the one hand, these institutions remain saddled with high levels of NPAs from which they earn little or no returns and need quarterly provisioning to the detriment of their profits. On the other hand, extra liquidity has forced a reduction in lending rates which, in turn, reduced the net income margin from new lending. Without exaggeration, it is fair to say that the state of most banks continue to be alarming.

How FY2018 plays out depends upon two factors: the investment appetite of the country and a perennial annual variable called the monsoons. Regarding the former, there is still no sign of even a modest upsurge in private investments as firms continue to leverage efficiency improvements and squeeze the best out of existing capacities. As far as the latter is concerned, the India Meteorological Department has come out with an initial forecast of a normal monsoon. That remains to be seen. It will only be after August 2017 that we know how ample the south west monsoon was.

On the other side, the roll out of the nation-wide Goods and Service Tax (GST) in FY2018 ought to aid growth. To be sure, a task as monumental as the GST will have teething troubles in the first two quarters. We believe that it is only in FY2019 that the country will begin to see the overall benefits of this key economic reform. Equally, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy code ought to finally create a market for stressed assets; and, all other things being equal, reduced bank lending rates should make borrowing more attractive than before. Despite these positives, it is difficult to see a quantum jump in GDP growth in FY2018. From our perspective, if we see India's real GDP growing at around 7.4% to 7.5% in the coming year, it will be a creditable achievement. Anything higher will be a bonus.

Non-Banking Finance Companies (NBFCs) continued to grow their share in the financial services industry. As per data published by RBI in its Financial Stability Report of December 2016, NBFCs have outperformed Scheduled Commercial Banks (SCBs) on growth in advances and in asset quality.

POSSIBLE THREATS

As we get into an environment which is likely to be largely positive over medium to long term, there may be significant roadblocks in the shorter term. The implementation of GST is likely to cause certain short term disturbances. RERA too will cause some turbulence and consolidation in the real estate sector. Despite recent push by the RBI, the resolution of stressed assets in the system is likely to take more time. Also the effect of various loan waivers on credit culture in the rural areas is still to be seen.

Your Company acknowledges these possible negative factors and has a plan to mitigate them through its deep domain knowledge, strong risk framework and an efficient collection mechanism.
