Management Discussion and Analysis

The management of Chartered Logistics Limited presents the analysis of performance of the company for the year 2014-15 and its outlook for the future. The outlook is based on assessment of current business environment and on expectations of future events. The company assumes no responsibility to publicly amend, modify or revise any forward looking statements, on the basis of any subsequent developments, information or events.

Indian Scenario of Logistics Industry

The Indian logistics industry is likely to significantly impact the growth prospects during 2015-16 and understand the perspectives of key stakeholders of the sector on how to deal with the impact of these trends.

For the era 2010-2020, the Indian logistics market is likely to witness consistent annual growth of around 8-9 per cent and reach to the revenue level of about $190-200 billion by 2020. This target will be achieved with the help of steady growth of the economy and major industries like engineering, pharmaceuticals, automotive, food processing and others.

India spends 13% of its Gross Domestic Product (GDP) on logistics as opposed to the usual practice of 10% by other developing nations. The Indians economy is still striving for improvements in the field of logistics and supply chain Management to gain the competitive edge in today's worldwide economy. Infrastructure development is essential for the growth of an economy. The Indian government has favored the logistics market of India by making some helpful plans and policies to assist in its growth. The three major trends were identified to be covered in the summit: 1) GST Impact and preparing for post GST scenario 2) Impact of enhancing Transport Links in South Asia 3) Enablers to maximize intermodal efficiency

Current Status, Dynamics & Problems of Industry:

Pricing pressures, high cost of operations, low returns on investment, hiring and retaining talent ,poor physical and communication infrastructure, stiff competition, lack of skilled labour and lack of technology being used etc.

Positive Trends Seen In Indian Logistics Industry:

The industry has got the desired momentum. Logistics has become a strategic source of competitive advantage. Investments are made by foreign investors. High investments are made by government to improve the infrastructure. Companies are re-engineering their supply chain to make it more responsive. India is becoming the auto hub of the world.

To improve infrastructure facilities and in turn the logistics industry government implemented several projects such as golden quadrilateral project, east-west and north-south corridors (connecting four major metros), Free Trade and Warehousing Zones (FTWZ) and private participation in the sector.

Several global third party logistics providers (3LPs) have started developing their operations and networks in India with a purpose to explore the rampant Indian economy.

To reduce the transportation cost and for quicker movement of cargo Multimodal transport operation is introduced (MTO). MTO helps exporters with less documentation for instance single document for all modes of transport Several factors helped the growth of logistics industry in India over the decade that includes changing tax system, rapid growth in industries such as automobile, pharmaceuticals, FMCG and retail. However, major sectors that are investing huge amounts in logistics industry are aviation, metal & mining and consumer durables. With increasing competition and cost, focus on outsourcing, entry of foreign players is having positive impact on the industry. Three major contributors for the growth of the logistic industry are: emergence of organized retail, increase in foreign trade and India becoming soon the manufacturing hub.

Risk & Concern:

The logistics sector is marred by many inherent risks which are specific to its functioning, like fragmented ownership of vehicles, poor infrastructure of roads, bureaucratic delays at the borders, poor vehicles maintenance, en-route levies etc. These may be categorized as operational risks. It is also exposed to market risks and financial risks to which all the operations are exposed. These include risks like fluctuations in the economy and sudden changes in the Government policies and laws at macro level and risks like increase in the prices of component parts and fuel, increase in the hiring charges of vehicle etc. at macro level. Besides these, the Road Transport Sector is also saddled by natural calamities and events like Bandhs and riots in various parts of the Countries.

India's spend on logistics activities is equal to 13% of its GDP while it is 10% in Europe and 11% in Japan, it is also higher than most of the developed nations. The main reason for this is the relatively higher level of inefficiencies in the system, with lower average trucking speeds, higher turnaround time at ports and high cost of administrative delays. The required pace of efficiency and quality improvement will demand rapid development of capabilities of logistics service providers. This industry provides lesser pay and progression incentives compare to other industries. The logistics being a service oriented sector, skill development will emerge as a main capability

Future Prospects/Opportunities In Indian Logistics Industry:

Despite problems, The Indian logistics industry is growing at 20% vis-à-vis the average world logistics industry growth of 10%. Since the organized sector accounts for merely 1% of the annual logistics cost, there is immense potential for growth of the sector. Many large Indian corporate are been attracted by the potential of this sector. Large express cargo and courier companies such as Transport Corporation of India (TCI) have started logistics operations. Since the logistics services can be provided without assets there is growing interest among entrepreneurs to venture into this business. Indian shippers are gradually becoming more aware of the benefits of logistics outsourcing. Faster growth rate of Indian GDP implies more output and more demand of logistics services. The Indian government has focused on infrastructure development which includes the golden quadrilateral project, east-west and north-south corridors (connecting four major metros), Free Trade and Warehousing Zones (FTWZ) in line with Special Economic Zones (SEZ) with 100% Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) limit and public-private partnerships (PPP) in infrastructure development. It is expected that infrastructure development would boost investments in the logistics sector. In India 100% FDI is allowed in logistics sector. Almost all large global logistics companies have their presence in India, mainly involved in freight forwarding and for domestic transportation and warehousing; they have tie-ups with Indian companies which is the key driver for the growth of Indian logistics companies.
