MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

India remains one of the fastest growing economies in the world despite the temporary slowdown in growth due to government's decision to withdraw high denomination notes from circulation. High frequency data, such as automobile sales, cement consumption, personal loan growth and exports growth suggest that the economy is gradually recovering from the impact of demonetisation. RBI expects real GDP growth to accelerate to 7.3% in FY18 from 6.6% in FY17 (GVA basis). Sustained low inflation, falling fiscal deficit, low current account deficit, and a stable currency have created a positive environment for economic growth. Goods and Services Tax (GST) is expected to be implemented in India in FY18. This unified tax regime, coupled with the Central Government's thrust on areas, such as power, infrastructure, and affordable housing should help accelerate India's growth rate closer to 8% in the medium term. India's consumption growth over the past decade has been strong and resilient even during periods of slower GDP growth. This bodes well for our industry, as spends on media and entertainment are linked to consumption spends in the economy. Private final consumption is estimated to have grown at 6.8% CAGR over FY12- 17 in real terms (12.5% in nominal terms). Within the consumption basket, the share of non-food items has been rising with increasing per capita income. There is another positive trend of organised businesses entering and gaining market share in various sectors. Both these factors bode well for growth in advertising spends.

The media and entertainment industry (M&E) witnessed another year of all round growth, albeit slower than estimates at the start of the financial year. This was mainly due to the impact of demonetisation. According to FICCI-KPMG estimates, India's M&E industry grew at 9.1% in CY16 over the previous year, to ₹ 1,262 billion. On average, an Indian consumer spends much less time and share of his disposable income on media and entertainment consumption, compared to peers and developed countries. This provides a significant headroom for sustained growth which will be driven by rising disposable incomes and increasing avenues of entertainment. FICCI-KMPG industry report pegs the growth of Indian M&E industry over the next five years at 13.9% CAGR, to ₹ 2,419 billion.

Industry Overview:

Television industry's growth in FY17 saw a temporary blip because of demonetisation and delay in digitisation of analogue cable subscriber base. However, towards the end of the year, advertising growth returned to normalcy. After multiple extensions of deadline, digitisation of Phase III cable subscriber base was largely completed. Despite these adversities, as per the FICCI-KPMG industry report, Indian television segment registered a growth of 8.5% in CY16 as compared to 14.2% in CY15. Television remains the prime medium of entertainment for the Indian consumer. During FY17, time spent on watching television at individual and household levels stood at 158 and 287 minutes per day respectively, which remained stable through the year. During the year, there was an increase in viewership of news channels due to significant events, such as surgical strikes, state elections and demonetisation. Hindi GEC remains the mostwatched genre in the country. Meanwhile, regional channels continued to gain traction. The deadline for digitisation of Phase III and IV were postponed again to January 2017 and March 2017, respectively. On the positive side, digitisation of Phase III is now almost complete. Despite the deadline for phase IV having elapsed, the pace of digitisation in those areas remains slow due to its geographical spread. Both, broadcasters and distributors, are focused on improving monetisation of subscribers in newly digitised markets. In India, pay television ARPU (Average Revenue Per User) is significantly lower than comparable countries. Completion of the digitisation process could set the ball rolling for long overdue correction of Indian television ARPU.

During the year, Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) issued tariff order with the objective of allowing viewers to choose channels on an a-la-carte basis. This order has been challenged by multiple stakeholders and the matter is subjudice. Effective implementation of this tariff order requires a significant upgrade of infrastructure and subscriber management systems of the distributors. It might be difficult to offer channels on a-la-carte basis, given low ARPU in India. As a result, bouquet may remain the most popular option for subscription even under the new regulation.

Broadcast Audience Research Council's (BARC) television universe expanded from 674 million individuals and 153 million households to 780 million individuals and 183 million households in FY17. It is in the process of increasing panel size from 22,000 meters to over 30,000 by the end of CY17. The measurement of rural audience has provided valuable insights into the viewership patterns and preferences of vast rural television households.

Road Ahead

Growth outlook for the Indian television segment is strong across both advertising and subscription revenue streams. Strong consumption growth, coupled with increasing share of organised businesses in various segments, augurs well for the growth in advertising spends. On account of its reach and impact, television will continue to remain the preferred advertising medium for brands. Digitisation, increasing penetration of high definition and a growing base of television households will drive subscription revenues. FICCI-KPMG report forecasts Indian television segment to grow at a CAGR of 14.7% over CY16-21, driven by 14.4% growth in advertising revenues and 14.8% growth in subscription revenues.

The imminent implementation of GST will simplify the taxation regime and create a level playing field by plugging tax leakages in the informal sector. Demonetisation, perhaps the most courageous decision, is a long-term positive for the economic growth despite the short-term difficulties. These trends, along with increasing spends by households on discretionary items, open up interesting and exponential opportunities for the Indian Media and Entertainment (M&E) industry and RAJ TV.

Looking ahead, we remain excited about the growth opportunities for the industry and the Company. As digitisation of analogue subscribers is nearing completion, it will improve monetisation of our viewership in newly digitised areas. This coupled with effective implementation of TRAI’s tariff order could lead to acceleration in ARPU growth for the industry, which has been lagging for several years. Strong economic growth and increasing share of formal sector bodes well for ad spends growth. Our new businesses are also scaling up well and have a strong growth potential which will contribute to our growth. The Media and Entertainment (M&E) industry was gaining momentum in the first half of the year. However, demonetisation had an all-pervasive impact on the industry. Advertisers cut back spends across the board and adopted a wait-and-watch strategy for the economy to normalise. Increasing digital consumption in India is adding to the overall time spent on video viewing and represents a strong growth opportunity. We are in the midst of refreshing our digital offering, consolidating the learnings from our subscription and advertising based platforms. We will be launching this product in the second half of the year 2017-18. The Indian audience is now opening up to large scale ticketed events and this represents a growth opportunity in the entertainment space.

Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorization of the Management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March 2017, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rate and tax laws enacted or substantially enacted as at the Balance Sheet date.

Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of losses, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty of realization of such assets.
