Management Discussion and Analysis

Economic Overview

The World Economy witnessed a major slowdown in 2012 due to the uncertainties of fiscal imbalance in many economies coupled with reduced trade and investments. The report of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) shows that the global GDP expanded at 3.2% in 2012, with average growth rates of 1.2% and 5.1% in advanced and developing economies, respectively.

Indian Economy growth rate declined from 6.2% in 2011-2012 to 5% in 2012-2013, the slowest growth of the economy in a decade which was mainly due to decline in service and industrial sectors. The subdued performance of service sector was mainly due to slowdown in global economy and the decline in industrial output was due to slow down in mining, manufacturing and capital goods sector.

The reforms measures announced by the Government of India in the form of reducing fuel subsidies, implementation of big-ticket infrastructure projects, direct cash transfers of subsidies, recent changes in FDI and several regulatory reforms including the new Companies Bill, Land Acquisition Bill and the Direct Tax Code augurs well for a pick-up in growth in 2013-14.

Steel Industry

The global steel production reached to a record high of 1.55 billion tons up by 1.2% in comparison to 2011 whereas the global industrial production in 2012 was lowest since 2009. Global steel makers continued to witness supply growth outpacing demand, with capacity utilising on rates remaining constantly below 80%. Annual production for Asia was 1.01 billion tons of crude steel in 2012, an increase of 2.65% as compared to 2011.

The Indian iron and steel industry is nearly a century old with the first integrated plant set up in 1907. It was the first core sector to be completely freed from the licensing regime (in 1990-91) and the pricing and distribution controls. The iron and steel industry contributes nearly 2% of the GDP and employs over 0.5 million people. Soaring demand from the sectors like infrastructure, real estate, automobiles uses of specialised steel. Automobiles and power sectors has put Indian steel industry on the world map. Over past few years, the rapid rise in the production of iron and steel output resulted in India becoming the fourth largest producer of crude steel in the world. India continued to show high consumption growth trend of finished steel and continued to be net importer due to increased demand of special grades of steel.

Opportunities & Threats

The low per capita steel consumption in India coupled with a large population base provides significant growth opportunities to the iron and steel industry. The steel demand in India is expected to remain robust in long term due to increasing demand from several sector including automotive, consumer durables, oil and gas, industrial machinery real estate and infrastructure.

The steel industry is subject to cyclical swings arising from factors such as excess capacity, regional demand and supply imbalances and volatile swings in market demand and prices. One of major threats to the industry is depleting availability and volatile pricing of raw materials. Any firmness in steel prices gives iron ore producers an opportunity to increase the prices in the next contract, however the reverse may not be true as steel Companies cannot always pass on the rise in iron ore prices to end consumers due to the fragmented market.

India possess the world's eighth largest iron ore reserve, it is the fourth largest iron ore producer in the world but yet fell short in supplying adequate quantity of iron ore to the iron and steel producer as a large chunk of the production was exported. Coking coal, a primary ingredient in steel making is in short supply. A majority of the coking coal requirement is met by importing from Australia. Furthermore the Indian iron and steel producers are widening their sourcing bases to South Africa, Indonesia, US and Canada. Insufficient infrastructure and logistic, land availability and environmental issues are also a concern for the growth of domestic iron and steel industry. Many steel makers are also considering alternatives to manage raw material cost and supply by hedging long term contracts. To support the iron and steel industry the Government has announced various favorable policies such as duty on export of iron ore to discourage the flight of key resource, exemption of import duty on coking coal /met coke, providing cost effective option for key raw material, reduction in import duty on selected non alloy flat steel product to discourage dumping of steel by other countries, amongst others.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Risks and Concerns

Industry Risk

Demand is dependent on general economic conditions. A downturn can affect business and earnings. The low per capita steel consumption in India coupled with a large population base provides significant growth opportunities to the iron and steel industry. The urgent need towards infrastructure creation and surging consumption growth are visible opportunities that will drive iron & steel demand.

Raw Material Risk

Non-availability and price volatility of key raw materials in manufacturing of steel namely iron ore and coal has increased significantly in past few years. The Company is procuring iron ore from established mining companies such as Essel Mining, Rungta Mines, etc. and are also working with major suppliers of key raw materials to achieve competitive prices on long term basis. The Company has linkages with Coal India Ltd. to feed coal requirements of the captive power plant as well as the sponge iron unit.

Cost Risk

Managing costs is key to protect profitability, especially across volatile market cycles. The Company has created well-integrated assets comprising WHRB and ABFC captive power plants, which ensure cost-effective availability of power. The Company has also setup a pelletisation plant (utilising the readily available iron ore fines for DRI operations) to optimise costs.

Health, Safety and Environment Risk

The manufacture of steel involves steps that are potentially hazardous if not executed with due care. The Company maintain the highest safety standards within its operating units which minimises calamities during plant operations. The safety team conducts regular training programmes to instill the concept of maintaining safe operations among the employees and to educate the team on the safety norms and procedures to be followed in an unfortunate situation.

Segment-Wise Reporting

The business activity of the Company primarily falls within a single business segment-Iron and Steel. The Company also generate power from captive power plant, which is entirely consumed in manufacturing of iron and steel without any sale to third parties.

Internal Control and System

The Company has implemented proper and adequate system of internal controls commensurate with the size and nature of its operations to provide reasonable assurance that all assets are safeguarded, transactions are authorised, recorded and reported properly, applicable statutes and corporate policies are duly complied with. Some significant features of internal control systems are:

- Adequate documentation of policies, guidelines, authorities and approval procedures covering all important functions.
- Deployment of an ERP system which covers most operations and is supported by a defined on-line authorisation protocol.
- Ensuring complete compliance with laws, regulations, standards and internal procedures and systems.
- Ensuring the integrity of the accounting system; the properly authorised recording and reporting of all transactions.
- Ensuring a reliability of all financial and operational information.
- The Company has an Audit Committee with majority of Independent Directors as members. The committee periodically reviews significant audit findings, adequacy of internal control and compliance with Accounting Standards, amongst others. The Company also takes quarterly compliance certificate in respect of various applicable laws from the concerned departmental heads and place the same before the board.

Industrial Relations and Human Resources

The Company recognise people as the primary source of its competitiveness and continue to focus on people development by leveraging technology and developing a continuously learning human resource base to unleash their potential and fulfill their aspirations. Industrial relation at the factory continued to remain cordial. As on the date of this report the Company has 538 employees on its payroll.

Corporate Governance Report

Company's Philosophy on Corporate Governance
