The usage of paper cannot be ignored and this awareness is bound to bring about changes in the paper industry for the better. An analysis of drivers explains growth factors such as growth in education sector, increased corporate activity due to favorable economic conditions, increase in number press publications and growing packaging industry.

In Indian context, Economic growth continues to drive up paper consumption. There have been several structural changes in the economy that accompany the impressive growth witnessed in the last 5-6 years. India generates approximately 0.1 million tonnes of municipal solid waste everyday, or about 36.5 million tonnes annually! Of this waste, 40% is just paper. HOTEL INDUSTRY

From past 5 years there is huge growth in hotel industry, hotels, luxury hotels; jobs related to hotel hospitality industry and hotel industry also increase the business for Tourism Industry. OPPORTUNITIES & THREATS

PAPER INDUSTRY

The Indian Paper Industry is a booming industry and is expected to grow in the years to come. The usage of paper cannot be ignored and this awareness is bound to bring about changes in the paper industry for the better. The Paper industry is a priority sector for foreign collaboration and foreign equity participation upto 100% receives automatic approval by Reserve Bank of India. Several fiscal incentives have also been provided to the paper industry, particularly to those mills which are based on non-conventional raw material.

Several Government policies measures like accelerated depreciation to partially mitigate high capital intensity, duty free imports of new & second hand machinery/equipment for Technology Up gradation, introduction of modern and effective collection and grading system, Better availability & quality of coal, more uniform Energy Policy by States etc. have been initiated in recent years to remove the bottlenecks of availability of raw materials and infrastructure development. To bridge the gap of short supply of raw materials, duty on pulp and waste paper and wood logs/chips have been reduced. The capacity utilization of the industry is low at 60%. About 194 paper mills, particularly small mills, are sick and /or lying closed. Several policy measures have been initiated in recent years.

Import of paper and paper products at minimum import duty was growing over the years. Introduction of eco labeling system where in products made from recycled fiber is rated higher than the products made form virgin fiber.

Waste paper is not just thrown away or used only for wrapping your purchases at the local kirana shop. Globally, recycling of paper is a huge business. There are global exchanges that deal in waste paper and many countries mandate the recycling of paper.

Currently, the recovery of waste paper in India is low at 26% compared to say Germany at 80%, Thailand at 45% and China at 38%, according to the Indian Agro & Recycled Paper Mills Association (IARPMMA) estimates. Here, it is pertinent to note that recovery means collecting back for reuse, while recycling means producing paper out of recovered waste paper. This means that out of our consumption of 8.3 million tonnes of paper, only about 2 million tonnes is recovered for reuse. Obviously, there are significant opportunities hidden in paper.

Import tariff levels, although much lower now, still continues a significant barrier to imports and the sector faces an increasing risk of competition from imports.

The high investment levels required and limited “conventional” fiber resources are the major deterrents to growth in this segment for both existing players as well as new entrants. “Lower end cultural grades” manufactured by smaller players using unconventional raw materials in low investment, low tech plants cater to consumers in the price sensitive sub segment of this market. This sub segment depends significantly on the tariff differential based on size and raw material for its viability. With relatively smaller number of players and high import tariff protection, prices of end products, generally perceived to be higher quality, have been high.

At present, as a result of a significant CO₂ allowance reduction, the papermaking industry is facing a serious threat to its further development. This stems from the energy intensiveness of the industry as well as from high costs of environmental exploitation.

HOTEL INDUSTRY

Over the last decade and half the mad rush to India for business opportunities has intensified and elevated room rates and occupancy levels in India. The successful growth story of ‘Hotel Industry in India’ seconds only to China in Asia Pacific.

According to the tourism ministry, 10 million tourists visited India last year and at current trend, demand will increase after launching the ‘Incredible India’ Campaign. With tremendous pull of opportunity, India is a destination for hotel chains looking for growth. The World Travel and Tourism Council, India, data says, India ranks 18th in business travel and will be among the top 5 in this decade. Sources estimate, demand is going to exceed supply by at least 100% over the next 2 years. Five-star hotels in metro cities allot same room, more than once a day to different guests, receiving almost 24-hour rates from both guests against 6-8 hours usage. With demand-supply disparity, 'Hotel Industry in India' is eroding its competitiveness as a cost effective destination. However, the rating on the 'Indian Hotels' is bullish.

'India Hotel Industry' is adding about 60,000 quality rooms, currently in different stages of planning and development and should be ready by 2012. MNC Hotel Industry giants are flocking India and forging Joint Ventures to earn their share of pie in the race. Government has approved 300 hotel projects, nearly half of which are in the luxury range. Sources said, the manpower requirements of the hotel industry increased 15 million in 2010 and it will increase by the next 5 years.

'Hotel Industry in India' is set to grow at 15% a year. This figure skyrocketed in 2010, when Delhi hosted the Commonwealth Games. Already, more than 50 international budget hotel chains are moving into India to stake their turf. Therefore, with opportunities galore the future 'Scenario of Indian Hotel Industry' looks rosy.

From past 5 years there is huge growth in hotel industry, hotels, luxury hotels, jobs related to hotel hospitality industry and hotel industry also increase the business for Tourism Industry. Hotel Industry is a part of Hospitality Industry, that earns a lot to promote a countries economy, but hotel industry is not the alone one, Hotel Industry directly or indirectly provides Business to many industries like Travel Agency, Tour Operators and Transportation etc.

RISKS & CONCERNS

PAPER INDUSTRY

Performance of the industry has been constrained due to high cost of production caused by inadequate availability and high cost of raw materials, power cost and concentration of mills in one particular area. India's per capita consumption of paper is around 4.00 kg, which is one of the lowest in the world.

Moreover, with the up gradation and modernization, the Company can take advantage of the swing capacity to manufacture either newsprint or writing & printing paper. The Company extends the quality management responsibility from the quality control department to every member on the shop floor. With the expected increase in literacy rate and growth of the economy, an increase in the per capita consumption of paper is expected, which helps the company to extend not only its manufacturing process but also across entire operations.

HOTEL INDUSTRY

The Indian hotel industry is still in the nascent stage of recovery. The Indian hotel industry appears to be now on a path of slow recovery, having coming out of two exceptional years 2009 and 2010. But during the Commonwealth Games there is a drastic change in the Indian hotel industry. The later half of 2010-2011 push the hotel industry with higher tariffs, although price recovering for the whole 2010-2011 stood at a tepid 5-8%

However, management expects that the hotel industry post a modest recovery in the performance during the upcoming years.
