For details in connection with risks involving differences between Ind AS, U.S. GAAP and IFRS see “Risk Factors – Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which investors may be more familiar with and may consider material to their assessment of our financial condition.” on page 51. The degree to which the financial information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Indian accounting policies and practices, the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting policies and practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

Non-GAAP financial measures

Certain non-GAAP measures such as EBITDA (“Non-GAAP Measures”) presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are a supplemental measure of our performance and liquidity that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, Ind AS. Further, these Non-GAAP Measures are not a measurement of our financial performance or liquidity under Ind AS, and should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit / (loss) for the year / period or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS. In addition, these Non-GAAP Measures are not a standardised term and, therefore, a direct comparison of similarly titled Non-GAAP Measures between companies may not be possible. Other companies may calculate the Non-GAAP Measures differently from us, limiting their usefulness as a comparative measure. Although the Non-GAAP Measures are not a measure of performance calculated in accordance with applicable accounting standards, our Company's management believes that they are useful to an investor in evaluating us because these are widely used measures to evaluate a company's operating performance. See "Risk Factors – We have in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus included certain non-GAAP financial and operational measures and certain other industry measures related to our operations and financial performance that may vary from any standard methodology that is applicable across the SaaS industry. We rely on certain assumptions and estimates to calculate such measures, therefore such measures may not be comparable with financial, operational or industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature computed and presented by other similar companies." on page 45.

Industry and market data

Unless stated otherwise, industry and market data used throughout this Draft Red Herring Prospectus has been obtained from publicly available information, as well as various government publications and industry sources. Further, the information has also been derived from a report titled "Global Information Services Market" dated August 2021 (the "F&S Report") that has been prepared and issued by F&S, appointed by us on April 5, 2021 and commissioned by and paid for by us in connection with the Offer. Industry publications generally state that the information contained in such publications has been obtained from sources generally believed to be reliable, but their accuracy, adequacy, completeness or underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their reliability cannot be assured. Accordingly, no investment decisions should be made based on such information. Industry sources and publications are also prepared based on information as of specific dates and may no longer be current or reflect current trends.

Although we believe that the industry and market data used in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is reliable, industry sources and publications may base their information on estimates and assumptions that may prove to be incorrect. The data used in these sources may also have been reclassified by us for the purposes of presentation and may also not be comparable. The extent to which the industry and market data presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is meaningful depends upon the reader's familiarity with, and understanding of, the methodologies used in compiling such information. There are no standard data gathering methodologies in the industry in which our Company conducts business and methodologies and assumptions may vary widely among different market and industry sources. Such information involves risks, uncertainties and numerous assumptions and is subject to change based on various factors, including those discussed in "Risk Factors – Industry information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus has been derived from an industry report prepared by F&S, commissioned by and paid for by us for such purpose. There can be no assurance that such third-party statistical, financial and other industry information is either complete or accurate." on page 45.

Unless the context otherwise indicates, any percentage amounts as set forth in "Risk Factors", "Our Business" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditional and Results of Operations" on pages 25, 131 and 235, respectively, and elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, except for certain operational metrics, have been calculated on the basis of amounts based on or derived from our Restated Financial Information.

SECTION III - RISK FACTORS

An investment in equity shares involves a high degree of risk. Potential investors should carefully consider all the information in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, before making an investment in the Equity Shares. The risks described below are not the only ones relevant to us or our Equity Shares, the industry in which we operate or to India. Additional risks and uncertainties, not currently known to us or that we currently do not deem material may also adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. If any or some combination of the following risks, or other risks that are not currently known or believed to be material, actually occur, our business, results of operations and financial condition could suffer, the trading price of, and the value of your investment in, our Equity Shares could decline and you may lose all or part of your investment. To the extent the COVID-19 pandemic adversely affects our business and financial results, it may also have the effect of heightening many of the other risks described in this section. In order to obtain a complete understanding of our Company and our business, prospective investors should read this section in conjunction with “Industry Overview”, “Our Business”, “Financial Statements” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on pages 95, 131, 182 and 235, respectively, as well as the other financial and statistical information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of us and our business and the terms of the Offer including the merits and risks involved.

Potential investors should consult their tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences of investing in the Offer. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factors below, we are unable to quantify the financial or other impact of any of the risks described in this section. Prospective investors should pay particular attention to the fact that our Company is incorporated under the laws of India and is subject to a legal and regulatory environment, which may differ in certain respects from that of other countries.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus also contains certain forward-looking statements that involve risks, assumptions, estimates and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. For further information, see “Forward-Looking Statements” on page 18.

Unless otherwise indicated or the context otherwise requires, the financial information for Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 included herein is derived from the Restated Financial Information, included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, which have been derived from our audited financial statements and restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Guidance Note on Reports in Company Prospectuses (Revised 2019) issued by the ICAI, as amended from time to time. For further information, see “Financial Statements” on page 182.

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 1. If we are unable to attract new customers, maintain our existing Customer Account base or expand Users within existing Customer Accounts of our platform, our revenue growth and profitability may be adversely affected.

In order to grow our revenues and profitability, we constantly look to increase the number of customers, maintain our existing Customer Account base and expand the number of Users within existing Customer Accounts of our platform. While we have experienced growth in the number of Customer Accounts on our platform, we cannot assure that we will continue to achieve similar account or user growth rates in the future in a timely manner or at all. Our Customer Accounts have increased at a CAGR of 34.73%, from 471 Customer Accounts as of March 31, 2019 to 642 Customer Accounts as of March 31, 2020 and to 855 Customer Accounts as of March 31, 2021. Similarly, the number of Users has increased from 1,861 Users, as of March 31, 2019 to 2,075 Users, as of March 31, 2020 and we had 2,358 Users as of March 31, 2021. However, we had 2,574 Users as of May 31, 2021.

Our ability to attract new customers, maintain existing Customer Accounts and expand Users within our existing Customer Accounts of our platform depends in large part on our ability to continually enhance and improve our platform and features, timing of development, integrations, and capabilities we offer, our continued market acceptance, and our ability to identify use cases for our existing features and capabilities that are attractive to different categories of customers. The success of any enhancement to our platform depends on several factors, including addition of new entities and sectors, new data points for existing entities, update of existing data on our platform, additional coverage of new and emerging sectors and different jurisdictions, competitive pricing, integration with existing and upcoming technologies, our ability to identify relevant use cases for such enhancements, and overall market acceptance. If we are unable to increase our sales and marketing efforts or successfully develop new features, integrations, and capabilities to enhance our platform to meet requirements of our customers, in a timely manner or at all, our business, results of operations, and financial condition may be adversely affected. If we are unable to continue to meet demands of customers or trends in preferences or to achieve more widespread acceptance of our platform, our business, results of operations, and financial condition could be harmed. In addition, some current and potential customers, particularly large organizations, may develop internal capabilities, tools or software, which may reduce or eliminate the demand for our platform. Further, a portion of the data we provide on our platform may become freely available on the internet, which may render our platform redundant. If demand for our platform and services declines for any of these or other reasons, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Numerous other factors may also impede our ability to add new customers including our failure to attract and effectively train new sales and marketing personnel, especially as we increase our sales efforts, failure to retain and motivate our current sales and marketing personnel, obsolescence of our current marketing strategies or an inability on our part to evolve newer and more effective marketing strategies, or failure to ensure the effectiveness of our marketing programs. Increasing our sales to large organizations requires increasingly sophisticated and costly sales efforts targeted at senior management and other personnel. The timing of our sales is difficult to predict. Our sales efforts involve educating our customers about the use, technical capabilities and benefits of our platform and solutions. Customers often undertake a prolonged evaluation process prior to using our platform. Some of our customers initially deploy our platform on a trial basis, with no guarantee that these customers will deploy our platform widely enough across their organization to justify our substantial pre-sales investment. As a result, it is difficult to predict exactly when, or even if, we will make a sale to a potential customer or if we can increase sales to our existing customers. See also “ – If we do not effectively hire, retain, train and oversee our direct sales force, we may be unable to add new customers or increase sales to our existing customers, and our business may be adversely affected.” on page 35.

2. We derive, and expect to continue to derive all of our revenues from operations from subscription by customers of our Tracxn platform. If our customers do not renew or expand their subscriptions, or if they renew on less favourable terms, our future revenue and operating results may be adversely affected.

We derive, and expect to continue to derive all of our revenue from operations from subscription by customers of our Tracxn platform. In Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, we generated total income of ₹ 331,871.44 thousand, ₹ 373,342.21 thousand and ₹ 437,786.71 thousand, respectively, from subscription towards our platform. Our future success depends, in part, on our ability to sell renewals of subscriptions and expand the deployment of our platform with existing customers. Our subscriptions from annual billing accounts comprised 42.25%, 58.21% and 58.50% of our total subscriptions billed to customers for Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 respectively, and our customers have the right to terminate the subscription following a one-month notice. A substantial portion of our revenues is generated from repeat business and our customer retention rate (calculated for a particular Fiscal as the number of annual billing accounts renewed divided by the total number of annual billing accounts due for renewal in that Fiscal) and in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, our customer retention rate was 67.68%, 73.39% and 74.38%, respectively.

Our customers may not renew or expand the use of their subscriptions after the expiration of their current subscription. In addition, our customers may renew subscriptions for a lower number of users per account or for a shorter period than their existing subscription, in the event they do not believe they derive sufficient utility from our platform to sustain a larger number of users. Our existing customers generally have no contractual obligation to expand or renew their subscriptions after the expiration of the committed subscription period and given our limited operating history, we may not be able to accurately predict customer renewal rates. Our costs associated with renewals and upsells are substantially lower than costs associated with generating new unique subscriptions. Therefore, a reduction in retention of our unique subscriptions, even if offset by an increase in new unique subscriptions, could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our customers' renewal and/or expansion rates may decline or fluctuate as a result of factors, including, but not limited to, their satisfaction with our platform and our customer support, the availability of updated data on our platform, the frequency and severity of software and implementation errors, the functioning and utility of our platform, our ability to generate more private market data for our customers and achieving success with data-driven initiatives, the amount and quality of data available on the internet for free, the pricing of our subscriptions and services, or competing solutions or services, the effects of global economic conditions and their ability to continue their operations and spending levels. We cannot assure you that our customers will renew or expand their subscriptions, and if our customers do not renew their subscription or renew their subscription for a lower number of users or for a shorter period than their existing subscription, our revenue may grow more slowly than expected or decline and our business could suffer.

3. If there are interruptions or performance problems associated with our platform our business and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Our business, brand, reputation, and ability to attract and retain customers depend upon the satisfactory performance, reliability, and availability of our platform, which in turn depend upon the availability of the internet and our service providers. Our continued growth depends, in part, on the ability of our existing and potential customers to access our platform 24 hours a day, seven days a week, without interruption or degradation of performance. Interruptions in these systems, whether due to system failures, computer viruses, software errors, physical or electronic break-ins, or malicious hacks or attacks on our systems (such as denial of service attacks), could affect the security and availability of our services on our platform and prevent or inhibit the ability of users to access our platform or services. In addition, the software, internal applications, and systems underlying our platform are complex and may not be error-free. We may encounter technical problems when we attempt to enhance our software, internal applications, and systems. Any inefficiencies, errors, or technical problems with our software, internal applications, and systems could reduce the quality of our products and services or interfere with our customers' use of our products and services, which could reduce demand, lower our revenues, and increase our costs.

We have in the past and may in the future experience disruptions, data loss, outages, and other performance problems with our infrastructure due to a variety of factors, including infrastructure changes, introductions of new functionality, human or software errors, capacity constraints, denial-of-service attacks, ransomware attacks, or other security-related incidents. For example, though our uptime percentage in Fiscal 2021 was 99.99%, there were four instances of downtime of our platform that resulted in a total downtime of 48 minutes with the maximum downtime in a particular instance being 28 minutes. In some instances, we may not be able to identify the cause or causes of these performance problems immediately or in a short time. We may not be able to maintain the level of service and performance required by our customers. If our platform is unavailable or if customers are unable to access our platform within a reasonable amount of time, or at all, our business and financial condition would be adversely affected.

Our systems and operations are vulnerable to damage or interruption from fire, flood, power loss, security breaches, computer viruses, telecommunications failure, terrorist attacks, acts of war, electronic and physical break-ins, earthquakes, and similar events. The occurrence of any of the foregoing events could result in damage to or failure of our systems and hardware. In addition, we currently do not have specific insurance that covers such events or instances. Problems faced or caused by our IT service providers, including content distribution network service providers, private network providers, internet service providers, and third-party web-hosting providers and third party software and services or with the systems by which they allocate capacity among their customers (as applicable), could adversely affect the experience of our users leading to our business and financial condition being adversely affected.

We also rely on third parties for cloud server hosting facilities and cloud computing platforms. Any interruption in these third-party services or deterioration in the performance of these services, regardless of the cause, could also be disruptive to our business. For further information, see “ – Interruptions or delays in the services provided by third-party cloud servers or internet service providers could impair the ability of our platform to operate and our business could suffer” on page 37.

4. We face competition from and could lose market share to our competitors, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The market for private market data platforms is competitive and characterized by rapid changes in technology, customer requirements, industry standards and frequent new product introductions and improvements. We anticipate continued challenges from current competitors, which in many cases are more established and enjoy greater resources than us, as well as by new entrants into the industry. If we are unable to anticipate or effectively react to these competitive challenges, our competitive position could weaken, and we could experience a decline in our growth rate or revenue that could adversely affect our business and results of operations. Many of our existing competitors have, and some of our potential competitors could have, competitive advantages such as:

- greater name recognition, longer operating histories and larger customer bases;
- larger sales and marketing budgets and resources and the capacity to leverage their sales efforts and marketing expenditures across a broader portfolio of products;
- broader, deeper or otherwise more established relationships with technology, channel and distribution partners and customers;
- improved and more technologically advanced platform
- lower labour and research and development costs;
- wider geographic presence or greater access to larger customer bases;
- greater focus in specific geographies;
- access to more powerful algorithms or technological tools;
- access to databases from which to source data that may not be available to us;
- larger and more mature intellectual property portfolios; and
- substantially greater financial, technical and other resources to provide support, to make acquisitions and to develop and introduce new products

In addition, some of our larger competitors have more diverse product and service offerings and may be able to leverage their relationships with distribution partners and customers based on other products or incorporate functionality into existing products to gain business in a manner that discourages users from purchasing our platform, including by selling at zero or negative margins, product bundling or offering closed technology platforms. These larger competitors often have broader product lines and market focus or greater resources and may therefore not be as susceptible to economic downturns or other significant reductions in capital spending by customers. Similarly, certain competitors may use marketing strategies that enable them to acquire users more rapidly or at a lower cost than us, or both. Our competitors may also evolve use cases for their services which are outside our contemplation, and may accordingly tap into customer bases which we may not otherwise consider. If we are unable to sufficiently differentiate our solutions from the products or solutions of our competitors, we may see a decrease in demand for our platform, which could adversely affect our business, operating results and financial condition.

In addition, larger companies that are making significant investments in research and development may introduce products that have greater performance or functionality, are easier to implement or use, or incorporate technological advances that we have not yet developed or implemented or may invent similar or superior products and technologies that compete with our platform. Our current and potential competitors may also establish cooperative relationships among themselves or with third parties that may further enhance their resources.

Some of our competitors have made or could make acquisitions of businesses that allow them to offer more competitive and comprehensive solutions. As a result of such acquisitions, our current or potential competitors may be able to accelerate the adoption of new technologies that better address customer needs, devote greater resources to bring these products and services to market, initiate or withstand substantial price competition, or develop and expand their product and service offerings more quickly than we do. These competitive pressures in our market or our failure to compete effectively may result in fewer orders, reduced revenue and gross margins and loss of market share. Further, we may face increased competition due to changes to our competitors' products and services, including modifications to their terms, conditions, and pricing that could materially adversely impact our business, results of operations, and overall financial condition in future periods.

We may not compete successfully against our current or potential competitors. If we are unable to compete successfully, or if competing successfully requires us to take costly actions in response to the actions of our competitors, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected. In addition, companies competing with us may have an entirely different pricing or distribution model. Increased competition could result in fewer customer orders, price reductions, reduced operating margins and loss of market share. Further, we may be required to make substantial additional investments in research, development, marketing and sales in order to respond to such competitive threats, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to compete successfully in the future.

5. If we are not able to obtain and maintain accurate, comprehensive, or reliable data, we could experience reduced demand for our platform and services.

Our success depends on our customers' confidence in the depth, breadth, and completeness of our private market data. The task of establishing and maintaining accurate data, and processing data in a manner that makes it meaningful to our customers, is challenging and expensive. The depth, breadth, and accuracy of our data differentiates us from our competitors. In order to gather private market data, we primarily rely on online sources, and there is no assurance that the information provided therein is accurate or reliable. If the information we obtain from public sources and our data extraction, curation, and insights, are not current, accurate, comprehensive, or reliable, it would increase the likelihood of negative customer experiences, which in turn would reduce the likelihood of customers renewing or upgrading their subscriptions and harm our reputation, making it more difficult to obtain new customers. We cannot assure you that customers will not cancel their subscription in future as a result of inaccurate or insufficient data. In addition, if we are no longer able to maintain our current levels of quality and completeness of data, we may face situations where our customers terminate their existing subscriptions or do not renew their subscriptions which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

6. Our brand is integral to our success. If we fail to effectively maintain, promote and enhance our brand, our business and competitive advantage may be harmed.

We believe that maintaining, promoting and enhancing our Tracxn brand is critical to maintaining and expanding our business. Maintaining and enhancing our brand depends largely on our ability to continue to provide high-quality, well-designed, useful, reliable, and innovative services, which we cannot assure you we will do successfully.

We believe the importance of brand recognition will increase as competition in our market increases. In addition to our ability to provide reliable information and useful solutions at competitive prices, the successful promotion of our brand will also depend on the effectiveness of our marketing efforts. We market our platform through our direct sales force, social media, and a number of unpaid marketing sources, including customers' word-of-mouth referrals. We cannot assure you, however, that our sales and marketing expenses will lead to increasing revenue, and even if they did, such increases in revenue might not be sufficient to offset the expenses incurred.

We expect to continue to invest in our sales and marketing activities going forward as we seek to grow the numbers of our customers. Our methods of marketing and advertising may not be successful in increasing brand awareness or, ultimately, be cost-effective. If we are unable to maintain or enhance user awareness of our brand, or if we are unable to recover our marketing costs through increased usage of our platform and services, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

7. Our success depends, in part, on our ability to expand use of our platform by customers globally and accordingly, our business is susceptible to risks associated with international operations.

We currently have a significantly large customer base outside India that uses our platform. In Fiscals 2019, 2020, and 2021, 74.56%, 71.38% and 70.48%, respectively, of our total revenue from operations were generated by our customers located outside India. We expect to continue to expand our international customer base, which may include opening offices in new jurisdictions. Any additional international expansion efforts that we are undertaking and may undertake may not be successful. In addition, conducting international operations subjects us to new risks, some of which we have not generally faced in India.

These risks include, among other things:

- unexpected costs and errors in the localization including translation into foreign languages and adaptation for local culture, practices, and regulatory requirements;
- lack of familiarity and burdens of complying with foreign laws, legal standards, privacy standards, regulatory requirements, tariffs, and other barriers, and the risk of penalties to our users and individual members of management or employees if our practices are deemed to be out of compliance;
- practical difficulties of enforcing intellectual property rights in countries with varying laws and standards and reduced or varied protection for intellectual property rights in some countries;
- competition from local service providers in such markets; and

- an evolving legal framework and additional legal or regulatory requirements for data privacy, which may necessitate the establishment of systems to maintain data in local markets, requiring us to invest in hosting in data centers locally and network infrastructure.

Additionally, operating in international markets requires significant management attention and financial resources. We cannot be certain that the investment and additional resources required in establishing operations in other countries will produce desired levels of revenue or profitability.

Our limited experience in operating our business internationally increases the risk that any potential future expansion efforts that we may undertake will not be successful. If we invest substantial time and resources to expand our international operations and are unable to do so successfully and in a timely manner, our business, results of operations, and financial condition will suffer. We may be unable to keep up with changes in government requirements as they change from time to time. Failure to comply with these regulations could harm our business, financial condition and results of operation.

8. Any fluctuations in foreign exchange rates may have an impact on our profits generated from overseas markets.

We transact business in various currencies other than the Indian rupee and generate revenues from customers outside India, which subjects us to currency exchange risks while a large portion of our expenses are denominated in Indian rupee. A substantial portion of our international sales are denominated in United States Dollar, which has been volatile against the Indian rupee. Since we have significant international sales, any fluctuations in the foreign currency exchange rates resulting from, inter alia, economic, geo-political or social factors may impact our ability to optimise the equation between maintaining customer lifetime value and customer acquisition cost, as per our targets, which may result in an asymmetric and disproportional impact on our profits, revenue, results of operations and cash flows. Presently, we have not entered into any hedging arrangements to account for any adverse changes to the foreign currency exchange rate, and there can be no assurance that in the absence of such arrangements, any changes in the foreign exchange rates in the future will not have an impact on our business condition and profitability.

9. We use open source software, which could negatively affect our ability to offer our platform and subject us to litigation or other actions.

We use open source software in connection with our platform. Companies that incorporate open source software into their products and services have, from time to time, faced claims challenging the ownership of open source software and compliance with open source license terms. As a result, we could be subject to suits by parties claiming ownership of what we believe to be open source software or non-compliance with open source licensing terms. Some open source software licenses require customers who distribute open source software as part of their software to publicly disclose all or part of the source code and make available any derivative works of the open source code on unfavourable terms or at no cost. If we inappropriately use open source software, or if the license terms for open source software that we use change, we may be required to re-engineer our platform, or certain aspects of our platform, incur additional costs, discontinue certain features, integrations, or capabilities of our platform, or take other remedial actions. Any requirement to disclose our source code, pay royalties to the licensor or pay damages for breach of contract could be harmful to our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

In addition, if we were to combine our proprietary source code or software with open source software in a certain manner, we could, under certain open source licenses, be required to release the source code of our proprietary software to the public. This would allow our competitors to create similar products with less development effort and time. In addition, many of the risks associated with usage of open source software, such as the lack of warranties or assurances of title, cannot be eliminated, and could, if not properly addressed, negatively affect our business. We cannot assure you that all of our use of open source software is in a manner that is consistent with our current policies and procedures, or will not subject us to liability which could have a material adverse effect on our revenue, business, results of operations and financial condition and the market price of our Equity Shares.

10. We may fail to determine optimal pricing and packaging of our services.

We have limited experience in determining the optimal pricing and packaging of our services, and we may need to change our pricing model from time to time. Further, the market for similar products and services is limited and our ability to benchmarking our pricing to other competitors is therefore, to that extent also limited. We typically maintain a uniform pricing model for most of our customers and we may, therefore, have limited flexibility to cater to customers with different pricing requirements. Demand for our services is sensitive to price, and current or prospective customers may choose not to subscribe or renew or upgrade their subscriptions due to costs. We cater to a wide variety of customers with differing requirements and accordingly, pricing models that are suitable for one category of customers may not be suitable for another. Further, certain of our competitors offer, or may in the future offer, lower-priced or free products or services that compete with our services or may bundle functionality compatible with their services and offer a broader range of services. As we further expand internationally, we may find that pricing and packaging appropriate in our current market is not acceptable to prospective customers in certain new markets. In addition, if the mix of features, integrations, and capabilities of our services changes or we develop additional versions for specific use cases, then we may need or choose to revise our pricing. Any inability or our failure to determine the optimal pricing for our services may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

11. Security breaches and attacks against our systems and network, and any potentially resulting breach or failure to otherwise protect personal, confidential and proprietary information, could damage our reputation and negatively impact our business, as well as materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Our cybersecurity measures may not detect, prevent or control all attempts to compromise our systems, including distributed denial-of-service attacks, viruses, Trojan horses, malicious software, break-ins, phishing attacks, third-party manipulation, security breaches, employee misconduct or negligence or other attacks, risks, data leakage and similar disruptions that may cause service interruptions or jeopardize the security of data stored in and transmitted by our systems or that we otherwise maintain. For example, our platform has experienced crawling attempts and denial of service attacks. Many of our employees are currently working remotely in view of the COVID-19 pandemic, using their household or personal internet networks, which increases our vulnerability to security breaches and cyber-attacks. Additionally, we utilise third party cloud servers to store our data and host our platform, and any security issues that may arise in the systems of our cloud service provider or with their application programming interfaces may impact our Company. Breaches of our cybersecurity measures could result in unauthorized access to our systems, misappropriation of information or data, deletion or modification of user information, or a denial-of-service or other interruption to our business operations. For example, on February 17, 2021, a certain system port was left open on account of a manual error and certain user activity such as the webpage being visited by the user, the account name and the user email ID was recorded. In another instance in Fiscal 2019, dummy test data of our database was copied from our servers on account of our server port accidentally left open. Both these instances did not result in any material impact to our platform or our service. As techniques used to obtain unauthorized access to or sabotage systems change frequently and may not be known until launched against us or our third-party service providers, there can be no assurance that we will be able to anticipate, or implement adequate measures to protect against, these attacks. If we are unable to avert these attacks and security breaches, we could be subject to significant legal and financial liability, our reputation and business would be harmed and we could sustain substantial revenue loss from lost sales and customer dissatisfaction.

12. If we fail to innovate in response to changing customer needs and new technologies and other market requirements, our business, financial condition, and results of operations could be adversely affected.

The market for private market data requires continuous innovation. It is highly competitive, rapidly evolving, and fragmented. There are evolving customer requirements and strategies, and frequent introductions of new technologies and new products and services. Many prospective customers have invested substantial resources to implement, and gained substantial familiarity with, competing solutions and therefore may be reluctant or unwilling to migrate from their current solution to ours. Many prospective customers may not appreciate differences in quality between our products and services and those of lower-priced competitors, and many prospective and current customers may not learn the best ways to use our products and services, making them less likely to subscribe to them or renew their subscriptions. New technologies and products may be or become better or more attractive to current or prospective customers than our products and services in one or more ways. Many current or prospective customers may find competing products or services more attractive if we do not keep pace with market innovation or changes in response to COVID-19, and many may choose or switch to competing products even if we do our best to innovate and provide superior products and services.

These risks could be exacerbated by weak economic conditions and lower customer spending on sales and marketing. Weakened economic conditions could also disproportionately increase the likelihood that any given current or prospective customer would choose a lower-price alternative even if our products or services were superior, or would not renew existing subscriptions. Some current and potential customers, particularly large organizations, have elected in the past, and may in the future elect, to rely on internal and home-grown databases, develop, or acquire their own software, programs, tools, and internal data quality teams that would reduce or eliminate the demand for our products and services. If demand for our platform declines for any of these or other reasons, our business, results of operations, and financial condition could be adversely affected.

13. Our Company had restated losses in Fiscals 2020 and 2021. Any restated loss in future periods could adversely affect our operations and financial conditions and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

In Fiscals 2020 and 2021, our Company had losses of ₹ 540,328.37 thousand and ₹ 53,476.60 thousand, respectively. This was primarily on account of fair value loss on compulsorily convertible preference shares measured at fair value in Fiscal 2020 and substantial expenses that we incurred to grow our platform and our overall operations. Any losses in future periods could adversely affect our operations and financial conditions and the trading price of our Equity Shares. For further information, see “Financial Statements” on page 182.

14. We do not have any insurance coverage for our systems and operations. Further, our insurance coverage could prove inadequate to satisfy potential claims or protect us from potential operational hazards and losses which may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We have obtained a health insurance policy for our employees. Further, we have obtained a directors and officers’ liability insurance. Also, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 148. However, there can be no assurance that our current insurance policies will insure us fully against all risks and losses that may arise in the future. Further, there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time.

We are subject to numerous obligations in our contracts with customers using our platform and services, as well as vendors and other entities with whom we do business. We may breach these commitments, whether through a weakness in our procedures, systems, and internal controls, negligence, or through the wilful act of an employee or contractor. Our lack of insurance or existing insurance policies may be inadequate to compensate us for the potentially significant losses that may result from claims arising from breaches of our contracts, as well as disruptions in our services, failures or disruptions to our infrastructure, catastrophic events and disasters, or otherwise. In addition, our insurance may not cover all claims made against us, and defending a suit, regardless of its merit, could be costly and divert management’s attention. Further, such insurance may not be available to us in the future on economically reasonable terms, or at all.

Our systems and operations are vulnerable to damage or interruption from fire, flood, power loss, security breaches, computer viruses, telecommunications failure, terrorist attacks, acts of war, electronic and physical break-ins, earthquakes, and similar events. The occurrence of any of the foregoing events could result in damage to or failure of our systems and hardware. However, we do not have any insurance for our systems and operations.

In cases where certain loss or damages are not covered under our insurance policies, or even if such losses are insured, we are required to pay a significant deductible on any claim for recovery of such a loss, or the amount of the loss may exceed our coverage for the loss or the premium charged is significantly increased, our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected. In addition, our insurance policies are subject to annual review, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to renew these policies on similar or otherwise acceptable terms, or at all. If we were to incur a serious uninsured loss or a loss that significantly exceeds the limits of our insurance policies, it could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

15. If we fail to maintain and improve our methods and technologies, or anticipate new methods or technologies, for data collection, organization and curation, competing products and services could surpass ours in depth, breadth, or accuracy of our data or in other respects.

Current or future competitors may seek to develop new methods and technologies for more efficiently gathering, cataloguing, updating or analysing business information, which could allow a competitor to create a product comparable or superior to ours, or that takes substantial market share from us, or that creates or maintains databases at a lower cost than we experience. We can expect continuous improvements in computer hardware, network operating systems, programming tools, programming languages, operating systems, data matching, data filtering, data predicting, artificial intelligence and machine learning systems and other database technologies and the use of the internet. These improvements, as well as changes in customer preferences or regulatory requirements, may require changes in the technology used to gather and process our data.

Our future success will depend, in part, upon our ability to internally develop and implement new and competitive technologies, use leading third-party technologies effectively and respond to advances in data collection, cataloguing and curating private market information. If we fail to respond to changes in data technology competitors may be able to develop products and services that will take market share from us, and the demand for our products and services, the delivery of our products and services, or our market reputation could be adversely affected.

16. We are dependent on our Key Management Personnel and our senior management, and the loss of or our inability to attract or retain such persons could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are dependent upon the collective services of our Key Management Personnel and of all the members of our Company's senior management team, including, among others, our Promoters, who oversee our day-to-day operations, strategy and growth of our business. The loss of or inability to attract or retain, the services of any of these persons or several of these persons could have an adverse effect on our business. In particular, the expertise, experience and services of Neha Singh and Abhishek Goyal, our Promoters and Executive Directors and other members of our senior management team, including our Key Management Personnel helps us to execute our growth strategy and have been integral to our business. For instance, the practical experience of our Promoters in the private markets industry has been key in our ability to conceptualise features and products which are of considerable utility to our customers in the field of financial services. For further information, see "Our Management" on page 160. If one or more of these Key Management Personnel or members of our senior management team are unwilling or unable to continue in their present positions, we may not be able to replace them with persons of comparable skill and expertise promptly or at all, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial results and prospects. We may also be required to increase our levels of employee compensation more rapidly than in the past to remain competitive in attracting senior management personnel that our business requires. Moreover, we may be required to substantially increase the number of our senior management team in connection with any future growth plans, and we may face difficulties in doing so due to the competition and paucity in the industry for such personnel. Our failure to hire or retain senior management personnel could materially impair our ability to implement any plan for growth and expansion.

17. We have experienced rapid growth in recent periods and our recent growth rates may not be indicative of our future growth.

We have experienced rapid growth in recent periods. Our revenue from operations have grown at a CAGR of 14.85% from ₹ 331,871.44 thousand in Fiscal 2019 to ₹ 437,786.71 thousand in Fiscal 2021. In future periods, we may not be able to sustain revenue growth consistent with previous periods, or at all. Further, as we operate in a new and rapidly changing industry, widespread acceptance and use of our platform is critical to our future growth and success. Our revenue growth depends on a number of factors, including, but not limited to, our ability to attract new users and customers; provide quality customer experience; maintain the security and reliability of our platform; expand usage within customers on our platform; achieve widespread acceptance and use of our platform; adequately expand our sales and marketing team; expand features and capabilities of our platform, including through the creation and use of additional integrations; comply with existing and new applicable laws and regulations and price our service effectively so that we are able to attract and retain customers without compromising our profitability.

If we are unable to accomplish any of these tasks, our business and results of operation may be adversely affected. We have also encountered in the past, and expect to encounter in the future, risks and uncertainties frequently experienced by growing companies in evolving industries. If our assumptions regarding these risks and uncertainties, which we use to plan and operate our business, are incorrect or change, or if we do not address these risks successfully, our growth may be adversely impacted and our business, financial condition and results of operation would suffer.

18. Our business, results of operations and our financial condition may be impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and such impact could be materially adverse and continue for an unknown period of time.

The COVID-19 pandemic has disrupted the economy and put unprecedented strains on governments, health care systems, educational institutions, businesses, and individuals around the world. The impact and duration of the COVID-19 pandemic are difficult to assess or predict. It is even more difficult to predict the impact on the global economic market, which will depend upon the actions taken by governments, businesses, and other enterprises in response to the pandemic. The pandemic has already caused, and is likely to result in further, significant disruption of global financial markets and economic uncertainty. Adverse market conditions resulting from the spread of COVID-19 could materially adversely affect our business and the value of our Equity Shares.

Our customers or potential customers, particularly in industries most impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic may reduce their technology spending or spending on private market information services offerings or delay their M&A or other strategic initiatives, which could materially and adversely impact our business. Further, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, we may experience slowed growth or decline in new customer demand for our platform and lower demand from our existing customers for upgrades within our platform, as well as existing and potential customers reducing or delaying purchasing decisions.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, we have temporarily reduced substantial capacity at our office, enabled our employees to work remotely, implemented travel restrictions for all non-essential business, and shifted company events to virtual-only experiences, and we may deem it advisable to similarly alter, postpone, or cancel additional events in the future. If the COVID-19 pandemic worsens, our business activities could be adversely affected if our employees or their family members experience health issues, and we experience potential delays in hiring and on-boarding of new employees. We may take further actions that alter our business operations as may be required by local, state, or central government authorities or that we determine are in the best interests of our employees. Such measures could negatively affect our sales and marketing efforts, sales cycles, employee productivity, or customer retention, any of which could harm our financial condition and business operations. Recently, between March and May 2021, due to an increase in the number of daily COVID-19 cases, several state governments in India re-imposed lockdowns, curfews and other restrictions to curb the spread of the virus. As a result of the detection of new strains and subsequent waves of COVID-19 infections in several states in India as well as throughout various parts of the world, we may be subject to further reinstatements of lockdown protocols or other restrictions, which may adversely affect our business operations. Given the rapidly changing implications of the spread of COVID-19, it is difficult to assess its impact on our business and results of operations at this time and we may not be able to quantify or accurately predict such impact.

The COVID-19 pandemic could cause our third-party cloud servers and cloud computing platform providers, which are critical to our infrastructure, to shut down their business, experience security incidents that impact our business, disrupt performance or delivery of services, or experience interference with the supply chain of hardware required by their systems and services, any of which could materially adversely affect our business. Further, the COVID-19 pandemic has resulted in our employees and those of many of our customers working from home and conducting work via the internet, and if the network and infrastructure of internet providers becomes overburdened by increased usage or is otherwise unreliable or unavailable, our employees', and our customers' employees', access to the internet to conduct business could be negatively impacted. Limitations on access or disruptions to services provided by or to some of our customers upon which our platform and business operations relies, could interrupt our ability to provide our platform, decrease the productivity of our workforce, and significantly harm our business operations, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our platform and the other systems or networks used in our business may experience an increase in attempted cyber-attacks, targeted intrusion, ransomware, and phishing campaigns seeking to take advantage of shifts to employees working remotely using their household or personal internet networks and to leverage fears promulgated by the COVID-19 pandemic. The success of any of these unauthorized attempts could substantially impact our platform, the proprietary and other confidential data contained therein or otherwise stored or processed in our operations, and ultimately our business. Any actual or perceived security incident also may cause us to incur increased expenses to improve our security controls and to remediate security vulnerabilities.

The extent and continued impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our business will depend on certain developments, including: the duration and spread of any outbreak; government responses to the pandemic; the impact on our customers; the impact on industry; all of which are uncertain and cannot be predicted. Because of our subscription-based business model, any effect of the COVID-19 pandemic may not be fully reflected in our results of operations and overall financial condition until future periods.

19. Wage pressures in India may prevent us from sustaining our competitive advantage and may reduce our revenue.

Employee benefit expenses, which typically include salaries, wages, bonus and incentives, contribution to provident and other funds, gratuity expenses and staff welfare expenses represent the largest annual expense for us, and our ability to maintain or reduce such costs is critical for our business operations. Employee benefit expenses were ₹ 462,115.68 thousand, ₹ 512,792.12 thousand and ₹ 538,130.90 thousand and constituted 84.90%, 84.98% and 88.09% of our total expenses in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. We may need to continue to increase the levels of our employee compensation to remain competitive and manage attrition, and consequently we may need to increase the prices of our services. An increase in wages and salaries paid to our employees may result in a material adverse effect on our revenue in the event that we are unable to pass on such increased expenditure to our customers without losing their business to our competitors. Additionally, any new regulation or law requiring us to increase the retirement benefits that we offer to our employees may increase our expenses. Likewise, if we are unable to sustain or increase the number of employees as necessary to meet growing demand, our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected.

20. If the market for our private market data platform develops more slowly than we expect, our growth may slow down or stall, and it could result in decreased revenue and our business could be adversely affected.

The market for collection, curation, management and analytics of private market information through a platform is relatively new and rapidly evolving. Our future success will depend in large part on our ability to penetrate the existing market for private market data, as well as the continued growth and expansion of that market. We may also be impacted if our existing market were to decline. It is difficult to predict customer adoption and renewals of our subscriptions, customer demand for our platform, the size, growth rate and expansion of this market, the entry of competitive products or the success of existing competitive products. Our ability to penetrate the existing market for private market data through our technology and analytics platforms and any expansion of that market depends on a number of factors, including the cost, performance and perceived value associated with our platform, our ability to conceptualise and demonstrate use cases which make our platform relevant to new types of customers, as well as potential customers' willingness to adopt an alternative approach to data collection and processing, quality of the data that we collect and curate and the extent and coverage of the data we collate. Furthermore, many potential customers have made significant investments in legacy data collection and processing software and may be unwilling to invest in new solutions. If platforms for data collection, curation and management do not achieve widespread adoption, or there is a reduction in demand caused by a lack of customer acceptance, technological challenges, weakening economic conditions, security or privacy concerns, competing technologies and products, decreases in corporate spending or otherwise, it could result in decreased revenue and our business could be adversely affected.

21. Our customers or unauthorized parties could use our platform in a manner that is contrary to our values or applicable law, which could harm our relationships with our customers or expose us to litigation or harm our reputation.

As our data includes various information points on companies, our platform and data could be misused by customers, or by parties who have obtained access to our data without authorization, to contact companies and their key personnel to harass or annoy individuals or to perpetrate scams. Our customers could use our platform and the data for purposes beyond the scope of their contractual terms or applicable laws or regulations. We may also be subject to litigation on account of our customers misusing data contained on our platform. In addition, third parties could gain access to our data or our platform through our customers or through malfeasance or cyber-attacks and use our platform and data for purposes other than its intended purpose or to create products that compete with our platform. Our customers' or unauthorised parties' misuse of our data, inconsistent with its permitted use, could result in reputational damage, adversely affect our ability to attract new customers and cause existing customers to reduce or discontinue the use of our platform, any of which could harm our business and operating results.

Our brand may be negatively affected by the actions of persons using our platform that are hostile or inappropriate, by the use of our products or services to disseminate information that is misleading (or intended to manipulate opinions), or by the use of our products or services for illicit, objectionable, or illegal ends. Further, we may fail to respond expeditiously or appropriately to the sharing of our platform and data, or to otherwise address customer and individual concerns, which could erode confidence in our business, thereby adversely impacting our financial condition and results of operation.

22. If we do not effectively hire, retain, train and oversee our direct sales force, we may be unable to add new customers or increase sales to our existing customers, and our business may be adversely affected.

We continue to be substantially dependent on our direct sales force to obtain new customers and increase sales with existing customers. There is significant competition for sales personnel with the skills and technical knowledge that we require. Our ability to achieve significant revenue growth will depend, in large part, on our success in recruiting, training and retaining sufficient numbers of sales personnel to support our growth, particularly in international markets. In addition, a significant percentage of our sales force is new to our Company and 49.61% of our sales team, as of May 31, 2021 has joined our Company during the preceding 12 months. New hires require significant training and may take significant time before they achieve full productivity. Our recent hires and planned hires may not become productive as quickly as we expect, and we may be unable to hire or retain sufficient numbers of qualified individuals in the markets where we do business or plan to do business. Further, the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic may impact our ability to hire a sufficient number of sales personnel, or train them in the manner we consider appropriate. In addition, growth of our direct sales force leads to increasing difficulty and complexity in its organization, management and leadership, at which we may prove unsuccessful. If we are unable to hire and train a sufficient number of effective sales personnel, we are ineffective at overseeing a growing sales force, or the sales personnel we hire are otherwise unsuccessful in obtaining new customers or increasing sales to our existing customer base, our business will be adversely affected.

23. Real or perceived errors, failures, vulnerabilities, or bugs in our platform could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

The technology underlying our platform is inherently complex and may contain material defects or errors, particularly when new features, integrations, or capabilities are released. In addition, our platform employs open source software and to the extent that our platform depends upon the successful operation of open source software, any undetected errors or defects in this open source software could impair the functionality of our platform. Errors, failures, vulnerabilities, or bugs have in the past, and may in the future, occur in our platform, especially when updates are deployed or new features, integrations, or capabilities are rolled out. Any such errors, failures, vulnerabilities, or bugs may not be found until after new features, integrations, or capabilities have been released to customers. Real or perceived errors, failures, vulnerabilities, or bugs in our platform could result in negative publicity, loss of data, loss of or delay in market acceptance of our platform, loss of competitive position, regulatory fines or claims by our customers for losses sustained by them as a result of using our platform and services, all of which could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

24. We may be unable to successfully protect our intellectual property rights from being infringed by others, including competitors.

We have obtained registrations for 11 trademarks, including ‘Minicorn’, ‘Soonicorn’ and ‘Tracxn.com’ under various classes in India. In addition, our trademark application to register the mark ‘Tracxn’ is currently pending. The trademarks registry has received an objection to our application and we have filed a response to certain queries raised by the trademarks registry on our application. However, we cannot guarantee that any of our pending trademark applications will be approved by the applicable governmental authorities or that it will not be abandoned.

We protect our intellectual property in India through a combination of trademark statutes and laws and contract provisions. Our intellectual property is not limited to the trademarks we have registered but also includes our proprietary and in-house developed algorithms we use for our platform and the databases of information we maintain. Our employees are prohibited by the terms of their employment letters from disclosing confidential information, including proprietary information, to any person during or after their employment with us. However, there may still be instances where our employees may breach the terms of their agreements. Further, we retain ownership of all work product of our executives produced during the terms of their employment with us. Despite our efforts to protect our proprietary information by using automatic defense mechanisms built on our system, third parties may be able to obtain and use our proprietary information without authorization or to develop similar technology independently. Policing unauthorized use of our intellectual property is often difficult and the steps taken may not be sufficient to prevent the infringement by unauthorized third parties of our intellectual property.

We have registered domain names including tracxn.com, tracxn.in, tracxn.co, tracxn.us and tracxn.net among others, and have legal rights over the domain name for the period for which such domain names are registered. The acquisition and maintenance of domain names are generally regulated by internet regulatory bodies, which may modify their regulatory policies and the requirements for the holding of domain names. We may, therefore, be unable to obtain or maintain registration of relevant domain names in which we may propose to undertake business operations in the future. We may also face additional difficulties in expanding into any other country and may have to expend considerable time and other resources to obtain domain name registration in such countries. Any delay in acquiring our preferred domain names may provide our competitors the opportunity to obtain such domain names. We may be unable to prevent competitors from acquiring domain names that are similar to, infringe upon or otherwise decrease the value of, our trademarks and other proprietary rights. We cannot assure you that our business strategy of creating a strong brand and reputation will be successful if we are unable to protect our domain names and trademarks and any such failure may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Our failure to protect our intellectual property rights in a meaningful manner or challenges to related contractual rights could result in erosion of brand value and limit our ability to control marketing on or through the internet using our various domain names or otherwise, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Litigation may be necessary in the future to enforce our intellectual property rights and protect our branding and reputation. Any litigation of this nature, regardless of outcome or merit, could result in substantial costs and diversion of management and technical resources, any of which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. If the outcome of any such legal proceedings is adverse to us, we may not be able to adequately protect our reputation, which could have a material adverse effect on our business operations.

Further, the mark ‘Tracxn’ may be registered in other jurisdictions and we could therefore, be prevented from leveraging our brand in other jurisdictions where we intend to market our platform and services. Any such limitation, restriction or prohibition could require us to re-brand our platform in such jurisdictions or expend additional resources to acquire the brand from third parties in such jurisdictions. All or any of such actions could have a material adverse effect on our business operations, financial condition and results of operation.

25. We may in the future be subject to intellectual property rights claims by third parties, which are extremely costly to defend, could require us to pay significant damages and could limit our ability to use certain technologies.

Companies in the software and technology industries, including some of our current and potential competitors, own large numbers of patents, copyrights, trademarks and trade secrets and frequently enter into litigation based on allegations of infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights. In addition, many of these companies have the capability to dedicate substantially greater resources to enforce their intellectual property rights and to defend claims that may be brought against them. From time-to-time, third parties, including certain other companies, have asserted and may assert patent, copyright, trademark or other intellectual property rights against us, our partners or our customers.

There may be third-party intellectual property rights that cover significant aspects of our technologies, the technologies in our platform or business methods. We may be exposed to increased risk of being the subject of intellectual property infringement claims as a result of acquisitions and our incorporation of open source software into our platform, as, among other things, we have a lower level of visibility into the development process with respect to such technology or the care taken to safeguard against infringement risks. Any intellectual property claims, with or without merit, could be very time-consuming, could be expensive to settle or litigate and could divert our management’s attention and other resources. These claims could also subject us to significant liability for damages if we are found to have wilfully infringed intellectual property rights. These claims could also result in our having to stop using, distributing or supporting technology found to be in violation of a third party’s rights. We might be required to seek a license for the intellectual property, which may not be available on reasonable terms or at all. Even if a license were available, we could be required to pay significant royalties, which would increase our operating expenses. As a result, we may be required to develop alternative non-infringing technology, which could require significant effort and expense. If we cannot license or develop technology for any infringing aspect of our business, we could be forced to limit or stop sales of our offerings and may be unable to compete effectively. Any of these results could adversely affect our business operations and financial results.

As the numbers of products and competitors in our industry increase and overlaps occur, claims of infringement, misappropriation and other violations of intellectual property rights may increase which could adversely affect our business, results of operation and financial condition.

26. Interruptions or delays in the services provided by third-party cloud servers or internet service providers could impair the ability of our platform to operate and our business could suffer.

We currently host our platform and data that we provide to customers on third-party cloud servers. We also rely on the internet and, accordingly, depend upon the continuous, reliable, and secure operation of internet servers, related hardware and software, and network infrastructure. Our operations depend on protecting the virtual cloud infrastructure hosted by third parties maintaining their configuration, architecture, and interconnection specifications, as well as the information stored in these cloud servers and which third-party internet service providers transmit. Furthermore, we have no physical access or control over the services provided by such third party cloud service providers. The cloud servers that we utilize are vulnerable to damage or interruption from human error, intentional bad acts, earthquakes, floods, fires, severe storms, war, terrorist attacks, power losses, hardware failures, systems failures, telecommunications failures, and similar events, many of which are beyond our control, any of which could disrupt our service, destroy user content, or prevent us from being able to continuously back up or record changes in our users' content. In the event of significant physical damage to one of these cloud servers, it may take a significant period of time to achieve full resumption of our services, and our disaster recovery planning may not account for all eventualities. Further, a prolonged service disruption affecting our platform for any of the foregoing reasons could damage our reputation with current and potential customers, expose us to liability or cause us to lose customers, or otherwise harm our business. We may also incur significant costs for using alternative equipment or taking other actions in preparation for, or in reaction to, events that damage the cloud infrastructure services we use. Damage or interruptions to these cloud servers could harm our business. We may not carry sufficient business interruption insurance to compensate us for losses that may occur as a result of any events that cause interruptions in our platform and our service.

These third party service providers enable us to order and reserve server capacity in varying amounts and sizes and also provide us with computing and storage capacity pursuant to an agreement that continues until terminated by either party. In some cases, they may terminate the agreement for cause upon 30 days' notice. Termination of these agreements may harm our ability to access cloud servers we need to host our platform or to do so on favourable terms. As we continue to expand the number of Users and Customer Accounts on our platform, we may not be able to scale our technology to accommodate the increased capacity requirements, which may result in interruptions or delays in providing data. In addition, the failure of cloud servers or third-party internet service providers to meet our capacity requirements could result in interruptions or delays in access to our platform or impede our ability to scale our operations. In the event that our service agreements are terminated, or there is a lapse of service, interruption of internet service provider connectivity or damage to such facilities, we could experience interruptions in access to our platform as well as delays and additional expense in arranging new facilities and services.

27. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage or accurately report our financial risk.

Effective internal controls are necessary for us to prepare reliable financial reports and effectively avoid fraud. Moreover, any internal controls that we may implement, or our level of compliance with such controls, may deteriorate over time, due to evolving business conditions. If internal control weaknesses are identified, our actions may not be sufficient to correct such internal control weaknesses. For example, there have been instances where external third parties have reached out to our employees seeking data from our platform in exchange for monetary benefits. However, we believe that there have been no instances where our employees have shared the data requested and have reported such instances to relevant department as per our Company's policies. There can be no assurance that additional deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement and continue to maintain adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls. Such instances may also adversely affect our reputation, thereby adversely impacting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

28. Negative publicity and allegations involving us, our shareholders, directors, officers and employees may affect our reputation and, as a result, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may be negatively affected.

We, our shareholders, directors, officers and employees may be subject to negative media coverage and publicity from time to time. Such negative coverage in the media and publicity could change market perception that we are a trustworthy service provider. In addition, to the extent our employees were non-compliant with any laws or regulations, we may also suffer negative publicity or harm to our reputation. As a result, we may be required to spend significant time and incur substantial costs in response to allegations and negative publicity, and may not be able to diffuse them to the satisfaction of our investors and customers.

29. We may be required to raise additional funds through equity or debt in the future to continue to grow our business, which may not be available on favourable terms or at all.

Our strategy to grow our business may require us to raise additional funds for our working capital or long-term business plans. We cannot assure you that such funds will be available on favourable terms or at all. Any debt financing may increase our costs. Our financing agreements may contain terms and conditions that may restrict our ability to operate and manage our business, such as terms and conditions that require us to maintain certain pre-set debt service coverage ratios and leverage ratios and require us to use our assets, including our cash balances, as collateral for our indebtedness. If we are unable to raise additional funds on favourable terms or at all as and when required, our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects could be adversely affected. We may also be required to finance our growth, whether organic or inorganic, through future equity offerings, which may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in us. See, "Risk Factors – Any future issuance of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholding and sale of Equity Shares by the Promoters may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares." on page 55. We may also be restrained from raising funds from foreign investors as a result of regulatory policies and frameworks.

30. We may be unable to maintain or renew our statutory and regulatory permits, licences and approvals required to operate our business.

Our failure to obtain and maintain requisite approvals, licenses or permits applicable to our business or any changes in government policies or regulations may have a material and adverse impact on our business, financial condition and operational results. Our business and operation has been subject to extensive regulations. We are required to obtain and maintain applicable licenses, permits and approvals from different regulatory authorities in order to conduct our existing or future business in connection with provision of services. For further information, see "Government and Other Approvals" on page 269. Government authorities may continue to pass new rules regulating such business and we may be required to obtain additional licenses, permits or approvals so that we can continue to operate our existing or future businesses or otherwise prohibit our operation of the types of businesses to which the new requirements apply. In addition, new regulations or new interpretations of existing regulations may increase our costs of doing business and prevent us from efficiently delivering services and expose us to potential penalties and fines. Lastly, our existing licenses may expire without proper renewal or be revoked due to violations of relevant licensure maintenance requirements. If any of our operations is deemed by governmental authorities to be operating without appropriate permits and licenses or outside of their authorized scopes of business or otherwise fail to comply with relevant laws and regulations, we may be subject to penalties and our business, financial condition, and results of operation may be materially and adversely affected.

31. There are outstanding litigation proceedings against our Company and Directors. Any adverse outcome in such proceedings may have an adverse impact on our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

There are outstanding legal proceedings against our Company and Directors, which are pending at various levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals and other authorities. Below is a summary of outstanding matters involving our Company and Directors:

In addition, we cannot assure you that no additional liability will arise out of these proceedings that could divert our management's time and attention and consume financial resources. Any adverse order or direction in these cases by the concerned authorities even though not quantifiable, may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further information, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" on page 265.

If a significant portion of these liabilities materialize, it could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

32. We may not be successful in implementing our growth strategies.

To remain competitive, we have to grow our business by increasing the number of Customer Accounts and Users in existing and newer geographies within such customers that use our platform, include coverage of new sectors and geographies and expand into adjacent customer segments. Our success in implementing our growth strategies may be affected by our ability to grow our Customer Account base, continued growth in demand for our services, our ability to grow our brand and increasing awareness of the 'Tracxn' brand, our ability to compete effectively with existing and future competitors, our ability to increase our subscription fees, our ability to successfully adapt to technological changes and developments, our ability to build and maintain IT infrastructure, the general condition of the global and Indian economies, the growth of the internet as a medium for the provision of information and changes in our regulatory environment.

Many of these factors are beyond our control and there can be no assurance that we will succeed in implementing our growth strategies. If we are not successful, our business, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected.

Any growth we experience may place significant demands on our operational infrastructure. The scalability and flexibility of our platform depends on the functionality of our technology and network infrastructure and our ability to handle increased traffic and demand for bandwidth. Growth in the number of subscriptions on our platform may increase the amount of data we process. Any problems with the transmission of such increased data could result in harm to our brand or reputation. Moreover, as our business grows, we will need to devote additional resources to improving our operational infrastructure and continuing to enhance our scalability in order to maintain the performance of our platform.

While we continue to expand our business, there is no assurance that our revenue will continue to grow. We are likely to recognize the costs associated with these investments earlier than some of the anticipated benefits, and the return on these investments may be lower or may develop more slowly than we expect. Unless our growth results in an increase in our revenues that is proportionate to, or greater than, the increase in our costs associated with this growth, our profitability may be adversely affected.

33. Action by governments outside India to restrict access to our platforms in their countries or to require us to disclose or provide access to information in our possession could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Our platform depends on the ability of our customers to access the internet and our platform could be blocked or restricted in some countries for various reasons. Further, it is possible that governments of one or more foreign countries may seek to limit access to or certain features of our platform in their countries, or impose other restrictions that may affect the availability of our platforms, or certain features of our platform, in their countries for an extended period of time or indefinitely. In addition, governments in certain countries may seek to restrict or prohibit access to our platform if they consider us to be in violation of their laws (including privacy laws) and may require us to disclose or provide access to information in our possession. If we fail to anticipate developments in the law or fail for any reason to comply with relevant law, our platforms could be further blocked or restricted and we could be exposed to significant liability that could harm our business. In the event that access to our platform is restricted, in whole or in part, in one or more countries or our competitors are able to successfully penetrate geographic markets that we cannot access, our ability to add new customers or renew or grow the subscriptions of existing customers may be adversely affected, we may not be able to maintain or grow our revenue as anticipated and our business, results of operations, and financial condition could be adversely affected.

34. Failure to attract and retain highly skilled professionals may materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Our success depends upon our ability to attract, train, motivate, retain and utilise highly skilled professionals. We are dependent upon software developers and our analyst and data operations team for the maintenance and expansion of our platform, and to curate information that we collect and manage. Increased hiring by technology companies and increasing worldwide competition for skilled professionals may lead to a shortage in the availability of suitable personnel. Additionally, we have experienced high employee attrition in the past and may incur additional costs to improve our employee retention rate in the future. Our attrition rate (both due to voluntary attrition and due to underperformance) in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 was 67.95%, 66.08% and 39.91%, respectively. We may encounter higher attrition rates in the future. A significant increase in the attrition rate among skilled professionals with specialised data analytics skills could decrease our operating efficiency and productivity and could lead to a decline in demand for our services. The competition for highly-skilled professionals may require us to increase salaries, and we may be unable to pass on these increased costs to our customers. This would increase our operational costs which may adversely affect our business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition. Moreover, we may be unable to manage knowledge developed internally, which may be lost in the event we are unable to retain employees. High attrition rates of professionals would increase our hiring, reskilling, upskilling and training costs and could have an adverse effect on our ability to complete existing contracts in a timely manner, meet customer objectives and expand our business. Failure to hire, train and retain professionals in sufficient numbers could have a material adverse effect on our business, cash flows results of operations and financial condition.

35. We are subject to an extensive regulatory framework and a failure to comply with existing laws and regulations and any changes to the regulations applicable to us may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects.

We are subject to a broad range of laws, rules and regulations, including the IT Act and rules made thereunder, governing several aspects of our business and operations. In particular, we are required to comply with certain requirements including in respect of information available on our platform and ensuring that we do not knowingly host or publish prohibited or offending information including, among others, information that infringes intellectual property rights or violates any law in force, contains viruses or threatens the security or sovereignty of India. If we fail to comply with the provisions of the IT Act and the rules made thereunder, we may be subject to significant penalties, including fines and imprisonment.

In addition, we are also required to comply with various other regulations and laws. Furthermore, any future regulation or restriction calling activity in India may also increase our operational costs. We are also subject to several other laws and regulations, including the Companies Act, 2013, which substantially governs our operations, including in respect of issuance of securities, calling of and conducting meetings of our Board and shareholders as well as entering into related party transactions. Any non-compliance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, may result in imposition of significant fines on us, which may have a negative impact on our business and financial condition.

Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. For instance, the Supreme Court of India has in a decision clarified the components of basic wages which need to be considered by companies while making provident fund payments, which resulted in an increase in the provident fund payments to be made by companies. Any such decisions in future or any further changes in interpretation of laws may have an impact on our results of operations. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

In addition, in the event that we are unable to comply with applicable laws in the future, we may be subject to fines, penalties or other prosecution proceedings, which may negatively affect our brand, reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

36. Prolonged volatility or downturns affecting the financial sector, global financial markets, private equity markets, and the global economy may impact our business and financial condition.

Our business results are partly driven by factors outside of our control, including general economic and financial market trends. Any unfavourable changes in the market environment in which we operate could cause a corresponding negative effect on our business results. As a result, we may experience lower revenue, operating income, and other financial results in the event of a market downturn. There is currently uncertainty regarding the duration and long-term economic and societal consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as the effects of unprecedented levels of fiscal and monetary stimulus, which may cause customers to modify spending decisions.

Further, a reduction or slowdown in funding activities by our customers or the overall general economic environment could also impact their decision to use or subscribe to our platform. Consolidation in the financial services sector may also reduce the number of potential customers for our platform and services. These trends could impact demand for our products and services or change the financial services landscape in which we operate. Our business may also be subject to cyclical trends specific to the private capital markets. Many of our customers are investment banks and other participants in the capital and M&A markets, which are subject to periodic business downturns driven by changes in such markets. During these downturns, they often seek to reduce spending on third-party services, which would directly affect the number of prospective customers for our platform. In addition, limited partners, sovereign wealth funds, hedge funds and other funds could reduce their allocation towards private markets as an asset class which may result in lower interest for our platform and services. As a data provider focusing on the private markets (including venture capital, private equity, and M&A), we may also be subject to volatility based on the amount of activity and market interest in these areas. Any sustained downturn in these sectors or in the global markets could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

37. Our Statutory Auditor has included certain emphasis of matters in our Restated Financial Information.

Our Statutory Auditors have included certain emphasis of matters in relation to our Company in our Restated Financial Information:

- Annexure V - Note 11(b)(ii) to the restated financial information regarding the accounting treatment of certain compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares ("CCPS") aggregating to ₹ 6,927.96 thousand and ₹ 6,219.24 thousand and securities premium thereon aggregating to ₹ 1,006,867.95 thousand and ₹ 798,115.89 thousand presented as other financial liabilities of ₹ 1,691,670.06 thousand and ₹ 1,138,464.70 thousand after fair valuation, for the years ended March 31, 2020 and March 31, 2019 respectively in accordance with Ind AS 32 'Financial Instruments: Presentation'. Such accounting treatment is not in accordance with the provisions of section 2(64) and section 43 read with Schedule III and section 52 of the Act, which requires the aggregate amount received on those shares shall be transferred to 'Preference share capital' and 'Securities Premium account'. Subsequently, shareholders' agreement was amended on March 30, 2021 with such preference shareholders agreeing to irrevocably revoke/ waive the buyback rights. From such date of the revision in Shareholders' Agreement, the said CCPS in their entirety meet the definition of an equity instrument and accordingly, other financial liabilities as at March 30, 2021 (including CCPS aggregating to ₹ 1,873.77 thousand issued during the year) have been remeasured and reclassified as equity of ₹ 6,934.30 thousand, securities premium of ₹ 1,008,735.38 thousand and retained earnings of ₹ 573,239.67 thousand, after adjusting for fair market value gain of ₹ 104,634.48 thousand for the period April 1, 2020 to March 30, 2021, in accordance with Ind AS 32. The resultant disclosure of equity and securities premium is in accordance with section 2(64), section 43 and section 52 of the Act as at March 31, 2021. Annexure V - Note 11(b)(ii) referred above corresponds to Note 11(b)(ii) in the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2021 and an emphasis of matter paragraph has also been included in the independent auditor's report dated August 5, 2021 issued by us on the said financial statements of the Company for the year ended March 31, 2021.
- Note 33 to the restated financial information which explains the uncertainties and the management's assessment of the financial impact due to the lockdown and other restrictions and conditions related to the COVID-19 pandemic situation, for which a definitive assessment of the impact in the subsequent period is highly dependent upon circumstances as they evolve. Annexure V - Note 33 referred above corresponds to Note 33 and Note 31 in the financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2021 and March 31, 2020 respectively and an emphasis of matter paragraph has also been included in the independent auditor's report dated August 5, 2021 and September 30, 2020 issued by us on the said financial statements of the company for the years ended March 31, 2021 and March 31, 2020 respectively.

The opinion of our Statutory Auditors is not modified in respect of these matter. While these emphasis of matters do not require any adjustments to the Restated Financial Information, there is no assurance that our audit reports for any future fiscal periods will not contain qualifications, matters of emphasis or other observations which could subject us to additional liabilities due to which our reputation and financial condition may be adversely affected.

38. A statutory committee has issued certain directions against the investors of ANH Technologies Private Limited, in proceedings for sexual harassment involving the employees of such entity, and our Promoter, Abhishek Goyal, is an angel investor therein. Any adverse finding in the matter against our Promoter may affect our business and reputation.

Our Promoter, Abhishek Goyal, is an angel investor in ANH Technologies Private Limited ("ANH"), an employee of which had filed a complaint of sexual harassment against another employee before the Local Committee, Gurugram, constituted under the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 (the "Local Committee"). Vide an order dated May 31, 2021, the Local Committee inter alia found that investors in ANH had failed to discharge their leadership role by failing to act objectively and supporting the respondent in the matter through their express and implied conduct, and recommended that all investors undergo an intensive training session on the prevention of sexual harassment for a minimum of eight hours, among others. ANH filed a petition before the High Court of Punjab and Haryana, challenging the recommendations of the Local Committee against its investors as being outside its jurisdiction. The High Court, vide an order dated July 22, 2021, has granted an interim stay on the recommendations of the Local Committee until the next date of hearing.

There is no assurance that the proceedings initiated by ANH shall be successful, or that the High Court shall decide the matter in favour of our Promoter. Any adverse finding in the matter against the investors of ANH may have an adverse effect on our business and reputation.

39. Changes in laws, regulations, and public perception concerning data privacy, or changes in the patterns of enforcement of existing laws and regulations, could impact our ability to efficiently gather, process, update, and/or provide some or all of the information we currently provide or the ability of our customers and users to use some or all of our products or services.

Our platform relies on the collection and use of private market information to provide effective insights to our customers and users. In recent years, there has been an increase in attention to and regulation of data protection and data privacy across the globe, including the IT Act and the proposed Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019 in India, the United States Federal Trade Commission's approach to enforcing data privacy in the United States, as well as the enactment of the European Union's General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR"). Other data privacy or data protection laws or regulations are under consideration in other jurisdictions. Laws such as these give rise to an increasingly complex set of compliance obligations on us, as well as on many of our customers. These laws impose restrictions on our ability to gather personal data and provide such personal data to our customers, provide individuals with the ability to opt out of such personal data collection, and impose obligations on our ability to pass data to our customers, as well as place downstream obligations on our customers relating to their use of the information we provide.

Certain of our activities could be found by a government or regulatory authority to be noncompliant or become noncompliant in the future with one or more data protection or data privacy laws, even if we have implemented and maintained a strategy that we believe to be compliant. New interpretations of existing laws or regulations could be inconsistent with our interpretations (such as our analysis of the extraterritorial applicability of GDPR to us), increase our compliance burden, make it more difficult to comply, and/or increase our risk of regulatory investigations and fines.

These complex laws may be implemented in a non-uniform way in many jurisdictions around the world and we may not be aware of every development that impacts our business. These laws may also require us to make additional changes to our services in order for us or our customers to comply with such legal requirements and may also increase our potential liability as a result of higher potential penalties for noncompliance. These new or proposed laws and regulations are subject to differing interpretations and may be inconsistent among jurisdictions. These and other legal requirements could reduce our ability to gather personal data used in our products and services. They could reduce demand for our platform and services, require us to take on more onerous obligations in our contracts, restrict our ability to store, transfer and process personal data or, in some cases, impact our ability to deploy our solutions, to reach current and prospective customers, or to derive insights from data globally.

40. We have certain contingent liabilities that have not been provided for in our financial statements, which if they materialise, may adversely affect our financial condition.

As of March 31, 2021, our contingent liabilities that have not been accounted for in our financial statements, were as follows:

Particulars	Amount
	(₹ thousand)
Claims against the company not acknowledged as debt
Income tax matters	3,179.04
Total	3,179.04

Notes:

Our Company had issued equity shares in the Fiscal 2014 to certain individuals at a premium for which the Assessing officer had added income in the hands of our Company amounting to ₹ 8,903.37 thousand under Section 56(2)(vii b) of the Income Tax Act, 1961. During the year ended March 31, 2020, our Company has filed an appeal with the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT), where the ITAT vide its order dated October 23, 2020 has ruled in the favour of our Company. Pending receipt of revised assessment order from the department, our Company continues to disclose the disputed amount as contingent liability. The amounts disclosed above is including interest amounting to ₹ 908.29 thousand.

We have also evaluated the impact of the recent Supreme Court Judgment in case of Vivekananda Vidyamandir and Others v. The Regional Provident Fund Commissioner (II) West Bengal and the related circular (Circular No.C 1/1(33)2019/Vivekananda Vidya Mandir/284) dated March 20, 2019 issued by the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation in relation to non-exclusion of certain allowances from the definition of 'basic wages' of the relevant employees for the purposes of determining contribution to provident fund under the Employees' Provident Funds & Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952. In the assessment of our management, this is not likely to have a significant impact and accordingly, no provision has been made in our Restated Financial Information.

For further information on our contingent liabilities, see “Financial Statements – Annexure V – Note 27” on page 223.

If a significant portion of these liabilities materialize, it could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

41. We have had negative cash flows from operating activities in the past and may, in the future, experience similar negative cash flows.

We have experienced negative cash flows from operating activities in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 and may, in the future, experience negative cash flows.

The following table sets forth certain information relating to our cash flows for the periods indicated below:

Particulars	Fiscal
	(₹ thousand)
Net cash outflow from operating activities	(157,475.74)	(153,939.54)	(60,596.78)
Net cash inflow/(outflow) from investing activities	164,651.59	(58,149.21)	54,567.82
Net cash inflow from financing activities	-	209,460.78	1,873.77
Net increase/ (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	7,175.85	(2,627.97)	(4,155.19)
Cash and cash equivalents at the beginning of the period	17,814.49	24,990.34	22,955.92
Effects of exchange rate changes on cash and cash equivalents	-	593.55	(793.05)
Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the period	24,990.34	22,955.92	18,007.68

Negative cash flows over extended periods, or significant negative cash flows in the short term, could materially impact our ability to operate our business and implement our growth plans. As a result, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

42. Industry information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus has been derived from an industry report prepared by F&S, commissioned by and paid for by us for such purpose. There can be no assurance that such third-party statistical, financial and other industry information is either complete or accurate.

We have availed the services of an independent third party research agency, F&S, to prepare an industry report titled “Global Information Services Market” dated August 2021, for purposes of inclusion of such information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We have commissioned and paid for this report exclusively for the purpose of confirming our understanding of the global information services market. Although the commissioned report is based on information obtained from sources that we believe is considered reliable, it does not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of such information. The F&S Report highlights certain industry and market data and is subject to various limitations and is based upon certain assumptions that may be subjective in nature. The F&S Report uses certain methodologies for market sizing and forecasting. Methodologies and assumptions vary widely among different industry sources. Further, such assumptions may change based on various factors. We cannot assure you that the assumptions made by F&S are correct or will not change and accordingly, our position in the market may differ from that presented in this Red Herring Prospectus. Further, the F&S Report is not a recommendation to invest or divest in the Equity Shares. Prospective investors are advised not to unduly rely on the commissioned report or extracts thereof as included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, when making their investment decisions.

43. We have in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus included certain non-GAAP financial and operational measures and certain other industry measures related to our operations and financial performance that may vary from any standard methodology that is applicable across the SaaS industry. We rely on certain assumptions and estimates to calculate such measures, therefore such measures may not be comparable with financial, operational or industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature computed and presented by other similar companies.

Certain non-GAAP financial measures and certain other industry measures relating to our operations and financial performance, such as EBITDA, have been included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We compute and disclose such non-GAAP financial and operational measures, and such other industry related statistical and operational information relating to our operations and financial performance as we consider such information to be useful measures of our business and financial performance, and because such measures are frequently used by securities analysts, investors and others to evaluate the operational performance of SaaS companies, many of which provide such non-GAAP financial and operational measures, and other industry related statistical and operational information.

These non-GAAP financial and operational measures, and such other industry related statistical and operational information relating to our operations and financial performance may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable to financial and operational measures, and industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other SaaS companies.

Such supplemental financial and operational information is therefore of limited utility as an analytical tool, and investors are cautioned against considering such information either in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our Restated Financial Information disclosed elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

44. Our customers may engage in certain transactions in or with countries or persons that are subject to U.S. and other sanctions.

U.S. law generally prohibits U.S. persons from directly or indirectly investing or otherwise doing business in or with certain countries that are the subject of comprehensive sanctions and with certain persons or businesses that have been specially designated by the OFAC or other U.S. government agencies. Other governments and international or regional organizations also administer similar economic sanctions. We provide services to our customers, who may be doing business with, or located in, countries to which certain OFAC-administered and other sanctions apply. Although we believe we have compliance systems in place that are sufficient to block prohibited transactions, there can be no assurance that we will be able to fully monitor all of our transactions for any potential violation. Although we do not believe that we are in violation of any applicable sanctions, if it were determined that transactions in which we participate violate U.S. or other sanctions, we could be subject to U.S. or other penalties, and our reputation and future business prospects in the United States or with U.S. persons, or in other jurisdictions, could be adversely affected. We rely on our staff to be up-to-date and aware of the latest sanctions in place. Further, investors in the Equity Shares could incur reputational or other risks as the result of our customers' dealings in or with countries or with persons that are the subject of U.S. sanctions.

45. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements and capital expenditures.

We have not declared or paid dividends in the last three Fiscals. Our Company does not have any formal dividend policy. The declaration and payment of dividends will be recommended by our Board of Directors and approved by our Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act, 2013. We may retain all future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of the business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board and will depend on factors that our Board deems relevant, including among others, our future earnings, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends in the future. Accordingly, realization of a gain on Shareholders' investments will depend on the appreciation of the price of the Equity Shares. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For further information, see "Dividend Policy" on page 181.

46. Failure to deal effectively with fraudulent or illegal activities by our employees would adversely affect our business and reputation.

Illegal, fraudulent, corrupt or collusive activities or misconduct, whether actual or perceived, by our employees, could subject us to liability or negative publicity. Although we have implemented policies and controls with regard to the appropriation of data, review and approval of sales activities, interactions with third parties and government officials and other relevant matters, there can be no assurance that our policies and internal controls will prevent fraud or illegal activity or misconduct by our employees or that similar incidents will not occur in the future. Any illegal, fraudulent, corrupt or collusive activity, misconduct, or perceptions of conflicts of interest and rumours, could severely damage our brand and reputation, even if they are baseless or satisfactorily addressed, which could drive customers, businesses and our partners away from our platform, and materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

47. We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest with the equity shareholders.

We have entered into transactions with certain related parties, including our Promoters. In particular, we have entered into various transactions with such parties in relation to, amongst others, remuneration, professional fees, and reimbursement of expenses. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis, we cannot assure you that we might have obtained more favourable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. Further, it is likely that we may enter into additional related party transactions in the future. Such related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest.

In Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, the aggregate amount of such related party transactions was ₹ 11,703.74 thousand, ₹ 13,183.09 thousand and ₹ 10,229.02 thousand, respectively. The percentage of the aggregate value of such related party transactions to our revenue from operations in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 was 3.53%, 3.53% and 2.34%, respectively. For further information on our related party transactions, see "Financial Statements" on page 182. We cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will always be in the best interests of our minority shareholders and will not have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

48. After the completion of the Offer, our Promoters will continue to collectively hold substantial shareholding in our Company.

After the completion of the Offer, our Promoters will continue to collectively hold [●]% shareholding in our Company. Our Promoters will continue to exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs and all matters requiring shareholders' approval, including the composition of our Board, the adoption of amendments to our certificate of incorporation, the approval of mergers, strategic acquisitions or joint ventures or the sales of substantially all of our assets, and the policies for dividends, lending, investments and capital expenditures. This concentration of ownership also may delay, defer or even prevent a change in control of our Company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of these shareholders. The interests of the Promoters as our controlling shareholder could conflict with our interests or the interests of its other shareholders. We cannot assure you that our Promoters will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in our favour and any such conflict may adversely affect our ability to execute our business strategy or to operate our business.

49. We have issued Equity Shares during the preceding twelve months at a price which may be below the Offer Price.

While the Offer Price will be determined subsequently, we may have issued Equity Shares in the last 12 months at a price which may be lower than the Offer Price, as set out in the table below. For further details, see “Capital Structure” at page 74.

*Cash was paid at the time of allotment of the Preference Shares to the respective Shareholders.

The prices at which Equity Shares were issued by us in the past year should not be taken to be indicative of the Price Band, Offer Price and the trading price of our Equity Shares after listing.

50. We will not receive any proceeds from the Offer. The Selling Shareholders will receive the net proceeds from the Offer.

The Offer consists of an Offer for Sale. The Selling Shareholders shall be entitled to the net proceeds from the Offer for Sale, which comprise proceeds from the Offer for Sale net of Offer expenses shared by the Selling Shareholders, and our Company will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale.

51. Our Promoters and certain of our Directors have interests in our Company other than their normal remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses.

Our Promoters and certain of our Directors are interested in our Company, in addition to regular remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses to the extent of their shareholding in the Company. Our Promoters and Directors holding Equity Shares may take or block actions with respect to our business which may conflict with the best interests of our Company or that of minority shareholders. For further information on the interest of our Promoters and Directors, other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits, see “Our Management” and “Our Promoters and Promoter Group” on pages 160 and 177, respectively.

52. Our Promoters, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel may enter into ventures that may lead to real or potential conflicts of interest with our business.

Our Promoters, Directors and Key Managerial Personnel may become involved in ventures that may potentially compete with us. Interests of such persons may conflict with the interests of our other Shareholders, and they may, for business considerations or otherwise, cause us to take actions, or refrain from taking actions, in order to benefit themselves, which may conflict with the best interests of our Company or that of our other Shareholders, which in turn may materially adversely impact our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

53. U.S. holders should consider the impact of the passive foreign investment company rules in connection with an investment in our Equity Shares.

A foreign corporation will be treated as a passive foreign investment company (“PFIC”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any taxable year in which either: (i) at least 75% of its gross income is “passive income” or (ii) at least 50% of its gross assets during the taxable year (based on the quarterly values of the assets during a taxable year) are “passive assets,” which generally means that they produce passive income or are held for the production of passive income.

Our Company believes it was not a PFIC for fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, and does not expect to be a PFIC for the current year or any future years. However, no assurance can be given that our Company will or will not be considered a PFIC in the current or future years. The determination of whether or not our Company is a PFIC is a factual determination that is made annually after the end of each taxable year, and there can be no assurance that our Company will not be considered a PFIC in the current taxable year or any future taxable year because, among other reasons, (i) the composition of our Company’s income and assets will vary over time, and (ii) the manner of the application of relevant rules is uncertain in several respects. Further, our Company’s PFIC status may depend on the market price of its Equity Shares, which may fluctuate considerably.

54. We have not been able to obtain certain records of the educational qualifications of a Director and have relied on declarations and undertakings furnished by such Director for details of his profile included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our Non-Executive Director, Ravi Chandra Adusumalli, has been unable to trace copies of documents pertaining to his educational qualifications. Accordingly, reliance has been placed on undertakings furnished by such Director to us and the Book Running Lead Manager to disclose details of their educational qualifications in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We and the Book Running Lead Manager have been unable to independently verify these details prior to inclusion in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Further, there can be no assurances that our Director will be able to trace the relevant documents pertaining to his qualifications in the future, or at all.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

55. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

The Indian economy and its securities markets are influenced by economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries. Investors’ reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located elsewhere, including India. Adverse economic developments, such as rising fiscal or trade deficit, in other emerging market countries may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in Indian securities markets and indirectly affect the Indian economy in general. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and restrict our access to capital, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and reduce the price of our Equity Shares. Any financial disruption could have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders’ equity and the price of our Equity Shares.

We are dependent on domestic, regional and global economic and market conditions. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares are and will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economy in which we operate. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. Demand for our products may be adversely affected by an economic downturn in domestic, regional and global economies. Economic growth in the countries in which we operate is affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements, namely export demand and movements in key imports, global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates, and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Consequently, any future slowdown in the Indian economy could harm our business, results of operations and financial condition. Also, a change in the government or a change in the economic and deregulation policies could adversely affect economic conditions prevalent in the areas in which we operate in general and our business in particular and high rates of inflation in India could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenues, and as such decrease our operating margins.

56. If there is any change in laws or regulations, including taxation laws, or their interpretation, such changes may significantly affect our financial statements.

Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by unfavourable changes in, or interpretations of existing laws, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations applicable to us and our business. For details on certain laws, rules and regulations applicable to us and our business, please see “Key Regulations and Policies” on page 149.

Any change in Indian tax laws could have an effect on our operations. For instance, the Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2019 prescribes certain changes to the income tax rate applicable to companies in India. According to this Act, companies can henceforth voluntarily opt in favour of a concessional tax regime (subject to no other special benefits/exemptions being claimed), which would ultimately reduce the effective tax rate for Indian companies from 34.94% to approximately 25.17%. Any such future amendments may affect our other benefits such as exemption for income earned by way of dividend from investments in other domestic companies and units of mutual funds, exemption for interest received in respect of tax free bonds, and long-term capital gains on equity shares if withdrawn by the statute in the future, and the same may no longer be available to us. Any adverse order passed by the appellate authorities/ tribunals/ courts would have an effect on our profitability.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Government of India also passed the Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation of Certain Provisions) Act, 2020, implementing relaxations from certain requirements under, amongst others, the Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 and Customs Tariff Act, 1975.

Further, the Government of India has announced the Union Budget for Fiscal 2022, pursuant to which the Finance Act of 2021 has introduced various amendments. In addition, unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment laws governing our business, operations and group structure could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws or may require us to apply for additional approvals. We may incur increased costs relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may affect the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future.

We cannot predict whether any new tax laws or regulations impacting our services will be enacted, what the nature and impact of the specific terms of any such laws or regulations will be or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have an adverse effect on our business.

57. The occurrence of natural or man-made disasters or outbreak of global pandemics, such as the COVID-19 pandemic, could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Hostilities, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence could adversely affect the financial markets and our business.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including cyclones, storms, floods, earthquakes, tsunamis, tornadoes, fires, explosions, infectious disease outbreaks such as the COVID-19 pandemic and man-made disasters, including acts of terrorism and military actions, could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. Terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war in India or globally may adversely affect the Indian securities markets. In addition, any deterioration in international relations, especially between India and its neighbouring countries, may result in investor concern regarding regional stability which could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares. In addition, India has witnessed local civil disturbances in recent years, in particular communal violence across ethnic or communal lines involving conflicts, riots and other forms of violence between communities of different religious faith or ethnic origins, and it is possible that future civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic or political events in India could have an adverse effect on our business. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the market price of the Equity Shares. A worsening of the current outbreak of COVID-19 virus or future outbreaks of COVID-19 virus, avian or swine influenza or a similar contagious disease could adversely affect the Indian economy and economic activity in the region and in turn have a material adverse effect on our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

58. A slowdown in economic growth in India could cause our business to suffer.

Our performance and the growth of our business are necessarily dependent on the health of the overall Indian economy. Any slowdown in the Indian economy or future volatility in global commodity prices could adversely affect our business. Additionally, an increase in trade deficit, a downgrading in India's sovereign debt rating or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves could negatively affect interest rates and liquidity, which could adversely affect the Indian economy and our business. Any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India could also adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

India's economy could be adversely affected by a general rise in interest rates, adverse weather conditions affecting agriculture, commodity and energy prices as well as various other factors. A slowdown in the Indian economy could adversely affect the policy of the GoI towards our industry, which may in turn adversely affect our financial performance and our ability to implement our business strategy. The Indian economy is also influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly emerging market conditions in Asia. A decline in India's foreign exchange reserves may also affect liquidity and interest rates in the Indian economy, which could adversely impact our financial condition. A loss of investor confidence in other emerging market economies or any worldwide financial instability may adversely affect the Indian economy, which could materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations and the market price of the Equity Shares.

India has from time to time experienced instances of social, religious and civil unrest and hostilities between neighbouring countries. Military activity or terrorist attacks in the future could influence the Indian economy by disrupting communications and making travel more difficult and such political tensions could create a greater perception that investments in Indian companies involve higher degrees of risk. Events of this nature in the future, as well as social and civil unrest within other countries in Asia, could influence the Indian economy. A number of countries in Asia, including India, as well as countries in other parts of the world, are susceptible to contagious diseases and, for example, have had confirmed cases of diseases such as the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine and more recently, the COVID-19 virus.

Other factors which may adversely affect the Indian economy are scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse impact on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing of our developments and expansions; volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on India's principal stock exchanges; changes in India's tax, trade, fiscal or monetary policies, like political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries; occurrence of natural or man-made disasters; infectious disease outbreaks or other serious public health concerns; prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India's principal export markets; and other significant regulatory or economic developments in or affecting India.

59. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia, United States, United Kingdom, Russia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has adversely affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and us. Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby negatively affect the Indian economy. Financial disruptions could materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Further, economic developments globally can have a significant impact on our principal markets. Concerns related to a trade war between large economies may lead to increased risk aversion and volatility in global capital markets and consequently have an impact on the Indian economy. Following the United Kingdom's exit from the European Union ("Brexit"), there still remains uncertainty around the impact of Brexit on the general economic conditions in the United Kingdom and the European Union and any consequential impact on global financial markets.

Trade tensions between the U.S. and major trading partners, most notably China, continue to escalate following the introduction of a series of tariff measures in both countries. Although China is the primary target of U.S. trade measures, value chain linkages mean that other emerging markets, primarily in Asia, may also be impacted. China's policy response to these trade measures also presents a degree of uncertainty. There is some evidence of China's monetary policy easing and the potential for greater fiscal spending, which could worsen existing imbalances in its economy. This could undermine efforts to address already high debt levels and increase medium-term risks. In addition, China is one of India's major trading partners and there are rising concerns of a possible slowdown in the Chinese economy as well as a strained relationship with India, which could have an adverse impact on the trade relations between the two countries. In response to such developments, legislators and financial regulators in the United States and other jurisdictions, including India, implemented a number of policy measures designed to add stability to the financial markets. However, the overall long-term effect of these and other legislative and regulatory efforts on the global financial markets is uncertain, and they may not have the intended stabilizing effects.

The recent outbreak of COVID-19 has significantly affected financial markets around the world. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and indirectly in the Indian economy in general. Any significant financial disruption could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operation. These developments, or the perception that any of them could occur, have had and may continue to have a material adverse effect on global economic conditions and the stability of global financial markets, and may significantly reduce global market liquidity, restrict the ability of key market participants to operate in certain financial markets or restrict our access to capital. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and reduce the price of the Equity Shares.

60. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which investors may be more familiar with and may consider material to their assessment of our financial condition.

The Restated Financial Information has been compiled by our Company for the year ended March 31, 2021 from the audited financial statements of our Company prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act 2013, read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time and other accounting principles generally accepted in India and for the years ended March 31, 2020 and March 31, 2019 have been compiled based on our audited financial statement prepared in accordance with the accounting standards notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 (as amended) adjusted in conformity with Ind AS. These have been restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Guidance Note on Reports in Company Prospectuses (Revised 2019) issued by the ICAI, as amended. For further information, see “Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Presentation of Financial Information” on page 237. Ind AS differs in certain significant respects from Previous GAAP, IFRS, U.S. GAAP and other accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of US GAAP or IFRS on the financial data included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those of US GAAP or IFRS. If our financial statements were to be prepared in accordance with such other accounting principles, our results of operations, cash flows and financial position may be substantially different. Prospective investors should review the accounting policies applied in the preparation of our financial statements, and consult their own professional advisers for an understanding of the differences between these accounting principles and those with which they may be more familiar. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should be limited accordingly.

61. Any adverse change or downgrade in sovereign credit ratings of India may affect our business, results of operations and cash flows, and in turn, the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the credit ratings of India. Any further adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such financing is available, including raising any overseas additional financing. A downgrading of India's credit ratings may occur, for example, upon a change of government tax or fiscal policy, which are outside our control. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares.

62. Investors may not be able to enforce a judgment of a foreign court against us, our Directors, the BRLM or any of their directors and executive officers in India respectively, except by way of a law suit in India.

We are incorporated under the laws of India and all of our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel reside in India. A substantial portion of our assets are also located in India. Resultantly, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon our Company or such persons in jurisdictions outside India, or to enforce against them judgments obtained in courts outside India. Moreover, where investors wish to enforce foreign judgments in India, they may face difficulties in enforcing such judgments. India exercises reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with a limited number of jurisdictions. In order to be enforceable, a judgment obtained in a jurisdiction which India recognises as a reciprocating territory must meet certain requirements of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 (the “CPC”).

India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Section 13, 14 and Section 44A of the CPC on a statutory basis. Section 44A of the CPC provides that where a certified copy of a decree of any superior court, within the meaning of that Section, obtained in any country or territory outside India which the government has by notification declared to be in a reciprocating territory, may be enforced in India by proceedings in execution as if the judgment had been rendered by a district court in India. However, Section 44A of the CPC is applicable only to monetary decrees and does not apply to decrees for amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalties and does not apply to arbitration awards (even if such awards are enforceable as a decree or judgment).

Among other jurisdictions, the United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Singapore and Hong Kong have been declared by the government to be reciprocating territories for the purposes of Section 44A of the CPC. The United States has not been declared by the Government of India to be a reciprocating territory for the purposes of Section 44A of the CPC. A judgment of a court of a country which is not a reciprocating territory may be enforced in India only by a suit upon the judgment under Section 13 of the CPC, and not by proceedings in execution. Section 13 of the CPC provides that foreign judgments shall be conclusive regarding any matter directly adjudicated upon except: (i) where the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction; (ii) where the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case; (iii) where it appears on the face of the proceedings that the judgment is founded on an incorrect view of international law or refusal to recognize the law of India in cases to which such law is applicable; (iv) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice; (v) where the judgment has been obtained by fraud; and/ or (vi) where the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law then in force in India. The suit must be brought in India within three years from the date of judgment in the same manner as any other suit filed to enforce a civil liability in India.

It cannot be assured that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action is brought in India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if it views the amount of damages awarded as excessive or inconsistent with Indian practice. A party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain prior approval from the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered pursuant to the execution of such foreign judgment.

63. If inflation were to rise in India, we might not be able to increase the prices of our services at a proportional rate thereby reducing our margins.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue in the future. India has experienced high inflation in the recent past. Increased inflation can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased wages and other expenses relevant to our business.

High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to adequately pass on to our customers, whether entirely or in part, and may adversely affect our business and financial condition. In particular, we might not be able to reduce our costs or entirely offset any increases in costs with increases in the subscription price for our platform. In such case, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Further, the Government has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

64. Financial difficulty and other problems in certain financial institutions in India could adversely affect the Company's business.

As an Indian company, we are exposed to the risks of the Indian financial system, which may be affected by the financial difficulties faced by certain Indian financial institutions because the commercial soundness of many financial institutions may be closely related as a result of credit, trading, clearing or other relationships. This risk, which is sometimes referred to as “systemic risk”, may adversely affect financial intermediaries with whom we interact and who may default on their obligations due to bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, operational failure or other reasons. Any such difficulties or instability of the Indian financial system in general could create an adverse market perception about Indian financial institutions and banks and hence could adversely affect its business. As the Indian financial system operates within an emerging market, it faces risks of a nature and extent not typically faced in more developed economies.

65. We may be affected by competition laws, the adverse application or interpretation of which could adversely affect our business.

The Competition Act, 2002, of India, as amended (“Competition Act”), regulates practices having an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India (“AAEC”). Under the Competition Act, any formal or informal arrangement, understanding or action in concert, which causes or is likely to cause an AAEC is considered void and may result in the imposition of substantial penalties. Further, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment or the provision of services or shares the market or source of production or provision of services in any manner, including by way of allocation of geographical area or number of customers in the relevant market or directly or indirectly results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an AAEC and is considered void. The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise.

On March 4, 2011, the Government notified and brought into force the combination regulation (merger control) provisions under the Competition Act with effect from June 1, 2011. These provisions require acquisitions of shares, voting rights, assets or control or mergers or amalgamations that cross the prescribed asset and turnover based thresholds to be mandatorily notified to and pre-approved by the Competition Commission of India (the “CCI”). Additionally, on May 11, 2011, the CCI issued Competition Commission of India (Procedure for Transaction of Business Relating to Combinations) Regulations, 2011, as amended, which sets out the mechanism for implementation of the merger control regime in India.

The Competition Act aims to, among others, prohibit all agreements and transactions which may have an AAEC in India. Consequently, all agreements entered into by us could be within the purview of the Competition Act. Further, the CCI has extra-territorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct or combination occurring outside India if such agreement, conduct or combination has an AAEC in India. However, the impact of the provisions of the Competition Act on the agreements entered into by us cannot be predicted with certainty at this stage. However, we may be affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of the Competition Act, or any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, or any adverse publicity that may be generated due to scrutiny or prosecution by the CCI or if any prohibition or substantial penalties are levied under the Competition Act, it would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

RISKS RELATING TO THE OFFER AND THE EQUITY SHARES

66. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors’ fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders’ rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders’ rights under Indian law, including in relation to class actions, may not be as extensive and wide-spread as shareholders’ rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face greater challenges in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

67. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares. The Income Tax Act levies taxes on long-term capital gains exceeding ₹100,000 arising from sale of equity shares on or after April 1, 2018, while there is no tax charged on unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on equity shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. The Income Tax Act levies taxes on such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹100,000 arising from sale of equity shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such equity shares subject to specific conditions.

A securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied both at the time of transfer and acquisition of the equity shares (unless exempted under a prescribed notification), and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realised on the sale of equity shares held for more than 12 months is also subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Such long term capital gains exceeding ₹ 100,000 arising from the sale of listed equity shares on the stock exchange, on which STT has been paid, are subject to tax at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). Unrealized capital gains earned on listed equity shares up to January 31, 2018 continue to be tax exempt in such cases. Further, STT will be levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange if the equity shares are sold on a stock exchange. With respect to capital gains arising in an off market sale, long term capital gains are subject to tax at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) without the exemption of ₹ 100,000. Short-term capital gains, arising from the sale of such equity shares on a stock exchange would be subject to tax at the rate of 15% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), while short term capital gains arising in an off-market sale would be subject to tax in accordance with the tax slab applicable to the relevant person or entity.

The Finance Act 2019 has also clarified that, in the absence of a specific provision under an agreement, the liability to pay stamp duty in case of sale of securities through stock exchanges will be on the buyer, while in other cases of transfer for consideration through a depository, the onus will be on the transferor. The stamp duty for transfer of securities other than debentures, on a delivery basis is specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount.

Our Company cannot predict whether any tax laws or other regulations impacting it will be enacted, or predict the nature and impact of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have a material adverse effect on our Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

68. The determination of the Price Band is subject to various factors and assumptions and the Offer Price may not be indicative of the trading price of the Equity Shares, upon listing on the Stock Exchanges subsequent to the Offer. Further, the closing price of equity shares listed pursuant to certain past issues handled by the BRLM was below their respective issue price on listing date.

The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions, and was determined by our Company and the Investor Selling Shareholders in consultation with the BRLM. Further, the Offer Price of the Equity Shares was determined by our Company and the Investor Selling Shareholders in consultation with the BRLM through the Book Building Process. This price is based on certain factors, as described under “Basis for Offer Price” on page 90 and may not be indicative of the trading price of the Equity Shares, upon listing on the Stock Exchanges subsequent to the Offer. The trading price of the Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Offer, and may decline below the Offer Price. We cannot assure that you will be able to resell the Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price nor can we assure you that an active market will develop or sustained trading will take place in the Equity Shares. In addition to the above, the closing price of equity shares listed pursuant to certain past issues handled by the BRLM is below their respective issue price on listing date. For further details, see “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures – Price information of past issues handled by the Book Running Lead Manager (during the current Fiscal and two Fiscals preceding the current Fiscal)” on page 280.

69. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time taken for such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by Shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results. Any of these factors may result in large and sudden changes in the volume and trading price of the Equity Shares. In the past, following periods of volatility in the market price of a company’s securities, shareholders have often instituted securities class action litigation against that company. If we were involved in a class action suit, it could divert the attention of our management, and, if adversely determined, have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition

70. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to compliance with sectoral norms and certain other restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then a prior regulatory approval will be required. Further, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities.

In addition, pursuant to the Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, which has been incorporated as the proviso to Rule 6(a) of the FEMA Rules, investments where the beneficial owner of the Equity Shares is situated in or is a citizen of a country which shares land border with India, can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020 and the FEMA Rules. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained with or without any particular terms or conditions or at all.

We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all. For further information, see “Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities” on page 311.

71. Any future issuance of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholding and sale of Equity Shares by the Promoters may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

We may be required to finance our growth, whether organic or inorganic, through future equity offerings. Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering or under an employee benefit scheme, may lead to the dilution of investors’ shareholdings in our Company, adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares and our ability to raise capital through an issue of our securities. Any future equity issuances by us (including under an employee benefit scheme) or disposal of our Equity Shares by the Promoters or any of our other principal shareholders or any other change in our shareholding structure or any public perception regarding such issuance or sales may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of our Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that our existing shareholders including our Promoter will not dispose of further Equity Shares after the completion of the Offer (subject to compliance with the lock-in provisions under the SEBI ICDR Regulations) or pledge or encumber their Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of shareholders’ investment in the Equity Shares and adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the Offer Price. We may also issue convertible debt securities to finance our future growth or fund our business activities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

72. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Offer.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. The Allotment of Equity Shares in the Offer and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant’s demat account with depository participant could take approximately five Working Days from the Bid/ Offer Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within six Working Days of the Bid/ Offer Closing Date. There could also be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors’ ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors’ demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

73. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction the investors are located in do not permit them to exercise their pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value the custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emption rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in us would be reduced.

74. QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Bidders are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/ Offer Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are required to block the Bid amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of equity shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Similarly, Retail Individual Bidders can revise or withdraw their Bids at any time during the Bid/Offer Period and until the Bid/ Offer Closing Date, but not thereafter. While we are required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed, including Allotment, within six Working Days from the Bid/ Offer Closing Date or such other period as may be prescribed by the SEBI, events affecting the investors' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events may limit the Bidders' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing. Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders will not be able to withdraw or lower their bids following adverse developments in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or otherwise between the dates of submission of their Bids and Allotment.

75. Our Equity Shares have never been publicly traded and may experience price and volume fluctuations following the completion of the Offer, an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price or at all.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for our Equity Shares, and an active trading market may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for our Equity Shares will develop or, if developed, the liquidity of such a market for the Equity Shares. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book building process. This price will be based on numerous factors, as described in the section "Basis for Offer Price" on page 90. This price may not necessarily be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Offer is completed. You may not be able to re-sell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price and may as a result lose all or part of your investment.

Our Equity Shares are expected to trade on NSE and BSE after the Offer, but there can be no assurance that active trading in our Equity Shares will develop after the Offer, or if such trading develops that it will continue. Investors may not be able to sell our Equity Shares at the quoted price if there is no active trading in our Equity Shares.

There has been significant volatility in the Indian stock markets in the recent past, and the trading price of our Equity Shares after this Offer could fluctuate significantly as a result of market volatility or due to various internal or external risks, including but not limited to those described in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The initial public offering price will be determined by the Book Building Process and may not be indicative of prices that will prevail in the open market following the Offer. The market price of our Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- the failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after this Offer, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts;
- market conditions specific to the industry we operate in;
- the activities of competitors;
- future sales of the Equity Shares by us or our shareholders;
- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors;
- developments affecting fiscal, industrial or environmental regulations;
- volatility in securities markets in jurisdictions other than India;
- the public's reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and
- general economic conditions.

A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

As a result of these factors, investors may not be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the initial public offering price. In addition, the stock market often experiences price and volume fluctuations that are unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of a particular company. These broad market fluctuations and industry factors may materially reduce the market price of the Equity Shares, regardless of our Company's performance. There can be no assurance that the investor will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price.

76. The requirements of being a publicly listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a publicly listed company and have not, historically, been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the SEBI Listing Regulations which will require us to file audited annual and unaudited quarterly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as promptly as other listed companies. Further, as a publicly listed company, we will need to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management attention will be required. As a result, our management's attention may be diverted from our business concerns, which may adversely affect our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, we may need to hire additional legal and accounting staff with appropriate experience and technical accounting knowledge, but we cannot assure you that we will be able to do so in a timely and efficient manner.

77. Compliance with provisions of Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act may affect payments on the Equity Shares.

The U.S. "Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act" (or "FATCA") imposes a new reporting regime and potentially, imposes a 30% withholding tax on certain "foreign passthru payments" made by certain non-U.S. financial institutions (including intermediaries).

If payments on the Equity Shares are made by such non-U.S. financial institutions (including intermediaries), this withholding may be imposed on such payments if made to any non-U.S. financial institution (including an intermediary) that is not otherwise exempt from FATCA or other holders who do not provide sufficient identifying information to the payer, to the extent such payments are considered "foreign passthru payments". Under current guidance, the term "foreign passthru payment" is not defined and it is therefore not clear whether and to what extent payments on the Equity Shares would be considered "foreign passthru payments". The United States has entered into intergovernmental agreements with many jurisdictions (including India) that modify the FATCA withholding regime described above. It is not yet clear how the intergovernmental agreements between the United States and these jurisdictions will address "foreign passthru payments" and whether such agreements will require us or other financial institutions to withhold or report on payments on the Equity Shares to the extent they are treated as “foreign passthru payments”. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the consequences of FATCA, or any intergovernmental agreement or non-U.S. legislation implementing FATCA, to their investment in Equity Shares.

Global / Regional Macroeconomic Variable – An Overview

The global GDP suffered a de-growth of 3.2% in 2020 (vs 2019) as per IMF's World Economic Outlook report released in July 2021. As per the same report, the global GDP is on a recovery path and is estimated to grow by 6% in 2021 and expected to moderate around 4.9% in 2022.

Trade wars and Brexit were the top developments that impacted the 2019 growth story, and these events have continued to have major ramifications in 2020 as well along with the pandemic. The trade war between the United States and China worsened during the pandemic as there was significant disruption in trade relationship between the two countries. The new Democratic Party government that came into existence in January 2021 has continued to maintain tough trade stance towards China which is expected to further impact trade globally. Southeast Asia's position as a manufacturing destination is growing as companies relocate production from China to Vietnam and India in order to circumvent punitive tariffs.

While advanced economies continue to witness slowdown, measures like USD 900 billion stimulus approved in 2020 by the United States and also the recent USD 1.9 trillion COVID-19 relief bill in March 2021 is expected to provide some respite to economic growth. Amongst the emerging markets, countries like India and China are showing signs of recovery. In July 2021, the International Monetary Fund (IMF) slashed China's GDP projection to 8.1% for 2021, down 0.3% from the earlier projection in April 2021. Similarly, India IMF predicts the growth would be around 9.5% for Fiscal 2022. While the arrival of vaccines has reignited hopes of economic recovery, the economic volatility is expected to continue due to the second and third wave of the pandemic. The impact of Brexit along with post pandemic recovery is driving growth in the UK and the EU region.

After a brief setback in 2020, Global GDP Growth looking to recover – Business Activities Expected to Grow

As per latest projections of IMF, the global GDP growth is on the path of recovery and global economy is expected to bounce back strongly in the next few quarters of 2021 and 2022.

Global GDP Growth (2015-2022)

Source: IMF, World Economic Outlook (WEO), July 2021

- (1) Note: Advanced economies include regions such as United States, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Japan, United Kingdom; Emerging economies include regions such as China, India, ASEAN-5, Russia, Brazil, Mexico, Saudi Arabia, Nigeria, South Africa.

World GDP Growth: The market was expected to bounce back in 2021 owing to corrective measures announced by large economies globally. The emergence of the pandemic however continues to affect the global GDP. The current optimistic projections by IMF (in July 2021) may further experience a dent if the ongoing second and expected third wave of COVID-19 virus intensifies further prompting governments to re-initiate lockdowns which in-turn will largely impact economic activities. If the impact continues to recede, then it is likely that economic activities will resume in full swing and thus the 6% estimated growth projections can be achieved.

Advanced Economies GDP Growth: Owing to the pandemic, the GDP growth in advanced economies was further lowered in 2020. From a meagre growth of 1.6% in 2019, the advanced economies recorded a negative growth of -4.7% in 2020 as per the IMF. Nevertheless, the region is expected to bounce back from its major slump and record a growth of around 5.6% by end of calendar 2021.

Emerging Market and Developing Economies GDP Growth: Amongst the emerging economies, countries like China, India, Brazil, Mexico and South Africa are witnessing an economic recovery. China could witness a growth in its GDP by 8.1% in 2021 (as per IMF, WEO, July 2021 report). Emerging economies like Brazil and India will have its industry and retail sectors support partial recovery in 2021, while exports also pick up.

GDP growth rate of Key Select Economies, Global, 2019-2021

Almost all the leading economies today are on the path of economic recovery and near normalcy situation is expected to return in most of the strong economies by around second half of 2021 or by the first half of 2022.

Business Intelligence – Expected to grow as a Critical Backbone for both Thriving and Struggling Businesses

Although the above discussed industries continue to thrive amidst pandemic, going forward, almost all the businesses will realize and start attaching higher importance to market / business intelligence as this would help them move cautiously in the current highly volatile business environment. Businesses are realizing how critical analytics and BI are during the time of crisis. BI provides certainty amidst chaos and it is even more important among small enterprises which do not have deeper pockets and invest cautiously. Going forward, investment companies, large corporates and start-ups are expected to embrace business intelligence extensively in order to improve their decision making process.

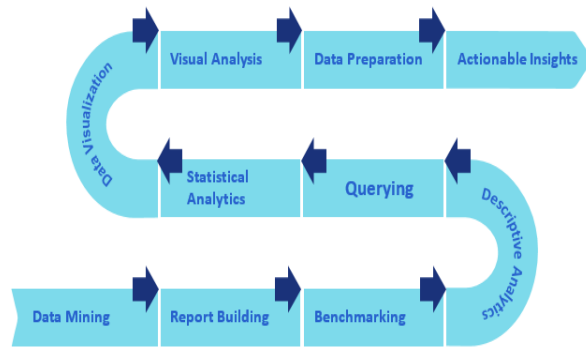

Amongst all the macroeconomic factors discussed above, GDP is considered as the most important parameter that is capable to stimulate the investment opportunities. This is even more relevant in the growing or transitioning economies because a high GDP growth is considered to boost the whole economy cycle as it can increase per-capita income and in-turn results in greater demand for goods and thus attracts more investments in the business sector

The process of building business intelligence involves different stages like simple data mining where different databases, statistics and machine learning capabilities are used to extract relevant data from large datasets for simple report generation (sometimes in the form of simple excel sheets) to a further advanced forms where historical datasets are compared for benchmarking and a descriptive analysis is built around the benchmarked data. It also provides querying capabilities along with the statistical analytics. B2B Information Services: Key Challenges

Demand for Refined and Structured Information Dissemination Growing

Accuracy of Data	Data needs to be continuously updated in these types of offerings. Failing to do so can result in businesses outdated data which in-turn can be of no assistance to user businesses.
Information Availability	As some of the information remains private to businesses, there could be possibilities that the information being looked for may not be available for businesses.

Sharing Rights	challenge for B2B information services market.
Relevancy of Data	In the B2B information services market, there could be possibilities where the data shared may not be useful for the business. In this case, the business would find data irrelevant and thus can create information.
Lack of Features on Platform	Many of the B2B information services platforms lack enhancements or value addition. Be it the non-availability of easy integrating APIs or accurate search algorithm.
No New Pricing Models	Even today, there are many information service providers who offer yearly licensing models. This sometimes creates a vendor lock-in kind of situation which many businesses try to avoid.
Lack of Provider Support	Businesses availing information services now see service providers as partners in decision making rather than just facilitators. Lack of valued added services like advisory is another challenge companies face.
Unstructured Data	In many cases, the availability of data, even with information service provider will be in an unstructured form. This is again seen as a challenge as businesses look to have data in a more structured manner.

Cost of Service Playing a Crucial role in re-shaping of the information services Industry

As B2B information services have evolved, there have been significant changes in how these services are being offered. These were typically targeted at large organizations having multiple information services requirements.

Perpetual licensing models typically suits businesses which are conglomerate or have information services requirements throughout the year. The licenses are similar to traditional software licensing model where businesses availing these licenses have a yearly commitment.

With the growth of technology and emergence of software as a service (SaaS) platforms, the B2B information service providers have also modified their offerings. The new age B2B information service providers offer software based platforms that are designed to cater businesses of every size and shape. More and more B2B information service providers are moving towards this model and the number of subscriptions today has grown more than the typical, old fashioned perpetual licensing model.

The trend of growth of subscription based and pay-as-you-use B2B information services offerings is expected to grow as more and more service providers are adopting a platform approach to offer their services. The growth of software-as-a-service (SaaS) industry has been one of the major driving factors behind increased adoption of subscription based pricing model of B2B information services.

As the investments in the market grow, the demand of platform based information service providers is expected to go up. The role of information service providers has grown from being a mere participant indirectly influencing the decision making of businesses or an investment firm to a partner who can provide experience and expertise that can be crucial for business decisions

Private equity firms (PE) which are general partnership firms have had the obligation to meet the demands of LPs by adopting various strategies and investment vehicles that suit LPs interests. LPs private market allocation has always remained consistently low. If the LP start investing more in private markets, these markets could acquire more pace and thus start showing greater growth rates.

The pandemic has changed how LPs are investing. LPs are seeking additional exposure to private capital markets and are more cautious while allocating their investment dollars. According to a survey conducted by Eaton Partners, a subsidiary of Stifel Financial Corp, around 52% of the LP investors were of the opinion that private markets look more attractive as public market valuations soar. According to the survey, LP investors are increasingly becoming inclined towards venture capital and buyouts. Several institutional investors are making adjustments to their investments strategies as the inflation is becoming an increasingly worrisome factor and investors are seeking real assets.

Growth of Venture Capital Allocation - Venture Capital Investments Remain Active in Asian Region

In the recent past, the private market landscape has transformed where buyout's share of private equity asset under management (AUM) declined by one-third in the past decade, whereas venture capital funds have grown led by Asian funds. As per recent research, Asia, in today's investment landscape accounts for more than two times growth capital than North America and accounts for same amount of venture capital as that in North America.

According to an analysis, the performance of funds of venture capital has been largely dependent on manager selection risks and the size of the fund is equally correlated with the overall performance which means, large VC firms have predominantly fared better. In the venture capital investment landscape, the existence of strong reputation and better networks tend to provide preferential access to entrepreneurs who are leading and have consistently outperformed in the market. In venture capital, larger funds tend to focus on larger deals. Backing this statement, in 2019, VCs were able to place 14 rounds of more than USD 1 billion.

Global Mergers and Acquisitions - M&A Activities Expected to Return to Normalcy by end of 2021

Global merger and acquisition (M&A) activities have continued to stay strong and are expected to increase further in coming years. Since 2014, the global M&A activities have grown by about 8 to 9% in terms of activities. From 2014 up till 2018, global M&A activities have shown consistent growth. The first quarter of 2018 saw sharp rise in number of deals. However, the second half of the year saw a drastic decline in number of M&A deals. The number of deals more than USD 10 billion were as high as 17 in the first quarter of 2018 whereas the standard average was close to 6 deals for first quarter for past 8 to 10 years. The decline in number of deals in second half was mainly due to various factors including the increased business volatility, inconsistent equity markets, decline in valuations and other macroeconomic factors. The global M&A deal values and number of closed deals was deeply impacted by the pandemic of 2020. Most of the geographic regions/countries experienced a decline in transaction value including countries like USA, Canada, Europe and APAC. As business uncertainty continued throughout 2020, the M&A deal value experienced a double digit decline across 90% of the global industries.

Key Buyers of Private Research in Relation to Companies

Need for Informed Decision Making is Driving Businesses of Different Forms to Avail Private Market Data Services

Data backed investments is one of the growing trends in the business space. Many of the private market investors today consider private company research and analysed data as a key criterion for making any sorts of business investments decisions. Private company is gaining popularity mostly among

- Private Market Investors and Investment Banks
- Corporates
- Others (Mostly includes government agencies, academic institutions, start-up accelerators and incubators)

Private Market Investors and Investment Banks

Private market investors and investment banks mainly include venture capital and private equity firms and other investment banks. Private company research is one of the most sought after topics in businesses, especially among the investor community. Private equity firms are keen to use to private company research data to understand their target companies on various aspects like human resource quality, number of funding rounds, business idea and its commercial feasibility, technological maturity. More importantly, PE firms continuously monitor their target companies and sector for their financial growth year-over-year and having private company research data handy can expedite PE firms' objective of investment decision making and for better return on investments.

Private equity firms earlier relied on simple in-house based research teams who would manually track target private companies and record the activities on simple spreadsheets. These conventional methods were not as effective as investment decisions are more data analytics driven than just data collation. A decade back, spreadsheet based analytics was the only source for assessing private companies and lacked in-depth analysis.

With the advancement in technologies, improved data capturing and processing methodologies, PE firms are more than interested in third party private company research service providers and these B2B information service provides are providing in-depth, analysed and readily available data through a platform approach and are making data representation interesting through advanced visualization capability integration. All these factors have contributed to the increasing trend of use of private company data by PE firms.

PE firms today are utilizing years of expertise, technology and available information services platform to not only provide better returns to the stakeholders but are also elevating their capabilities to support its portfolio companies by providing them the right guidance to handle the business volatility arising from current pandemic. According to Frost and Sullivan's analysis, the private equity asset under management (AUM) is expected to reach close to USD 6.2 trillion by end 2025.

Corporates:

This category of customers mainly includes M&A Divisions of Large Corporates and Conglomerates; Innovation teams, Corporate ventures, Partnerships. Most of these operate as a separate corporate arm formed by companies who have been large players in a particular sector or industry. For example, many of the technology giants have their in-house M&A teams who continuously monitor few set of technology start-ups whose offerings are unique and can bring better value in the market.

Through private company data research, these teams assess few focus companies and their ongoing operational performance. After a thorough internal research and after utilizing the readily available analysed data from private company research companies, these teams of large corporates look for acquiring the start-up or would chalk out a plan to develop new products which have greater value in the market.

Others

The other category mostly consists of government agencies, academic institutions, start-up accelerators and incubators. There might be government or public sector companies who would be keen to invest in certain industries or sectors or companies that can yield better returns to their investments. For example, the Public pension department in US are known to regularly invest in private companies to obtain better returns. Similarly, in countries like India, large insurance companies who have surplus financial resources look to invest in those technology start-ups which not only yield better returns but also are changing how insurance industry functions by using fin-tech capabilities developed to in-house.

The private company research data is also used by large educational institutes that run incubators to promote entrepreneurship. Also, several healthcare or non-profit organizations or foundations use these services in order to track companies that are known to be revolutionizing healthcare system.

Public side research firms are another set of research houses who have keen interests in using private company research data for assessing companies on various aspects including the most important financial performance. Public side research companies are essentially equity research firms who, through their strong research and analysis of a sector or a company, provide high quality analysed data to investment banking firms who use this data to take non listed and listed company investment decisions and also to facilitate investment banking M&A transactions.

Private company research data is used by both sell side and buy side research firms to study small group of stocks within a certain industry. The analysts, with the help of private company research data build strong case history and become domain experts and build formal report that provide pin-point guidance about certain companies to investment bankers or other clients on whether to buy, sell or hold stocks or approach for capital raising, M&A and other investment banking activities.

As the number of private companies continues to grow, the activities pertaining to investments in private companies are also on the rise. Private equity firms, VC firms and other investment class is looking to cash-in on this opportunity. However, for better investment making and improved visibility on private market, these investment firms are largely relying on private market information service provider companies. This in-turn creates better growth opportunities for information service providers, especially those offering platform based services.

Information Services of Private Market / Company Data

Market is Evolving and Platform Agility, Depth Coverage are becoming Factors of Competitive Advantage

Private companies worldwide have outpaced public companies in terms of growth and are proving to be crucial for maintaining stable economy and creating better opportunities and standard of living to the citizens of different countries. The growing dominance of private companies is prompting countries, governments and policy makers around the world to focus and create better business environment.

As the private companies are growing, they are attracting attention from different organizations like the PE firms, large corporates and other entities who are keen to understand these private companies in terms of innovation happening in these companies; their technology orientation; the worthiness of these companies with respect to investment; their business idea; the funding these companies have been able to secure and other factors. As investment firms and large corporates who have funding arms want to concentrate on their core business and prefer third party private company data provider for this information, the demand for private company information/data service providers are growing.

Another key aspect that is driving the demand for private company data providers' services is the non-availability of data/information on private companies. As most private market companies have limited regulatory obligations to disclose all the necessary information to authorities, most of the crucial data on these companies remain classified and is not easily available like those of public companies. As most investment companies like PE and VC firms look for critical information about private companies before making any business decision, the necessity of private market data becomes more important.

1. Need of Private Market data

Data has always been valuable source of information. Businesses have been investing in data or information services or specific reports to cater to their multiple business needs. However, with the emergence of private market coupled with digitization of information and related processes, the prominence of data has increased even more. Businesses and large corporates are dedicating a sizeable chunk of their research budgets in availing information services from private market data. Discussed below are some of the major reasons for need of private market data:

Identify Industry Trends: The private market data has capability to provide information where a country's specific sector is moving. For example, there may be a case where the healthcare industry is going through several innovation and several new health-tech start-ups might be emerging in this domain. This information will help private market investors and other large corporates to decide to which sector or industry to watch for while making their investment decisions

Contemplating Risks Involved: Private market data will also help the respective stakeholders to understand how both macroeconomic and microeconomic factors are influencing a specific region or country. Based on this, these investment firms would be in a much better position to pre-assess risks and difficulties involved with respect to a certain business decision.

Assessment of Private Companies: PE firms, venture capitalists and other large corporates generally build a portfolio of companies which they help to grow through regular funding, guidance and other operational processes. To build this portfolio of companies that they want to focus, these funding companies use private market data that helps them to assess performance on multiple factors like performance, financial activities and similar others.

Making Better Business Decisions: Large corporates and organizations mostly concentrate on their core business and would be more inclined towards gaining private company data through third party information service providers. Availing information services from these providers helps these corporates to reduce their time and efforts needed in assessment of private market companies.

Understand Competitive Landscape: One of the other key consumers of private market data are the private companies themselves. Many of the start-ups or private companies who have grown over a period of time and want to enter new markets and want to understand the already existing competitive landscape in that particular geography also tend to avail private market data services. These companies would be keen to understand how their competitors have progressed over a period of time, the kind of funding they have secured and other aspect.

2. Key factors influencing the growth of the Private Market Data Industry

Improving Business Environment: Favourable business environment is highly dependent on several factors including regulatory conditions, legal policies enforced, institutional support, government policies and reforms and the ease of doing business. As private market investors are looking for different aspects while targeting companies to invest, having a private market data would be helpful for them to make investment decisions.

Growth of Private Companies: Private sector is playing a key role in attracting investments, improving workforce skills, introduction of cutting edge technologies and more importantly, is creating better work opportunities for skilled workforce worldwide. The growth of private companies has provided an opportunity for growth of subsidiary industries. Thus, companies that provide private company information/insights are also seeing demand for their services.

Increasing Business Activities of Private Companies: As private companies grow, they attract investors who seek services from B2B information service to provide private company insights, which is influencing the growth of private market data industry.

Arising Need for Credible Curated Information: Unstructured data creates ambiguity for businesses and investment firms that are looking to have a clear cut investment strategy, affecting their decision making capabilities. Data curation enables faster decision making, be it related to investing in a new start-up or understanding the pros and cons of entering new markets or industries.

Development of Better Data Collection and Analytical Technologies: With the emergence of several new technological concepts like artificial intelligence (AI), Big Data Analytics, automated data capturing and processing etc., Several B2B information service providers who have operated traditionally in the past are elevating these technological concepts for better information services and are seeing greater demand for their services.

Digitization of Company Information and Easy Availability of Data: As more and more businesses are on the digitization path, most of the company information or any recent developments are being published online. This has increased the reliability of investment firms and other large corporates on information service providers.

3. Challenges in Getting Private Market Data

Availability of Data: As private market data providers mostly deal with companies who are not bound to share all the information or data publicly, getting specific data or information on these companies becomes difficult. For example, private companies do not publish their revenues and hence getting this kind of information sometimes becomes a difficult task.

Data Accuracy and Validity: As private market data service providers deal with lots of data, maintaining accuracy of data throughout becomes a challenge as these service providers have to sometimes rely on third party sources to gather information. Updating this data on a regular basis also proves to be a challenge to service provider companies

Data Relevance and Information Overload: As service providers traverse through large volumes of data, there are possibilities that these companies collate information or data that can be of no or minimal use to their customers. Providing data that is most relevant to the customers becomes a difficult task and considered as a challenge in this industry. Also, in this information age, the chances of businesses experiencing information overload is very high.

Data Collection Standards: Sometimes the data collection process of information service provider companies may not be defined. Collection of data in non-prescribed form or format can sometimes make the information less usable.

Data to Insight Building: Although information service providers collect large amounts of data, inability to convert them to information and then to a valuable, actionable insight remains a challenge.

Costs Involved: Another key challenge that private market data service providers face is the total costs that these companies incur while capturing, analysing and offering the information to their business customers. Cost factors like cost of revenue, general and administrative costs, sales and marketing costs all impact the profits of these service providers.

Generally, those private market data service providers who are pre-dominantly located in regions like North America or Europe experience this due to the differentiated compensation structure for the workforce employed (Analyst compensation costs). Also, other factors data operations, costs of procuring third party data, the technical team's location and data hosting costs all influence the overall costs. However, in regions like Asia where the costs involved in operating business is much lesser have an advantage.

As an example, the below table depicts the remuneration in services profession in USA, UK and India. (As per IMD World Talent Ranking 2020).

Remuneration in Services Profession (Gross Annual Income including supplements such as Bonuses)	USA – USD 59,616
	UK – USD 39,774
	India – USD 6,508

From the above table it is quite clear that remuneration in countries like India is almost 10 times lower than that in United States and around 6 times lower than that in UK. This has been one of the key advantage for companies like Tracxn that operates mostly out of India and is able to have cost advantage over its competitors like whose workforce is mostly located outside India at higher costs.

4. Importance of Coverage in Segments & Geographies

Geographical Coverage

Most of the strong players in private market data service industry operate globally and cover companies across different regions and geographies. In the private market data service industry, the depth of coverage plays a vital role as the customers in this industry are not limited to a particular geography and have investment related interests across private companies located in different regions. The depth of coverage also depends on the effectiveness of the platform and the technology that has been employed to build this platform and the automation that goes into these platforms. Tracxn that was started in 2012 has already covered more than 1.40 million companies as of May 2021, that is, within 9 years of inception. This has been possible only because of the efficiency of the platform that has been achieved through automation. Tracxn that was started just a little over half a decade back is among leading global market intelligence providers for private company data and rank among the top five players globally in terms of number of companies profiled. The company through its strong platform not only covers large number of private companies but also has developed expertise in providing in-depth information about of private market companies across sectors and geographies.

Industry Coverage

Tracking companies based on the industry has become a norm for private market data providers. Keeping a track of companies based on the industries they belong to is helping private market data providers to cater to specific needs of their customers. For example, a particular investment banking firm or a PE firm would be needing information purely with respect to the private companies who are doing well in the finance sector. They would be keener to understand what these private companies are doing. Having this level of information tracked helps private market data providers to provide accurate insights that in-turn will help investment firms in quick and accurate investment decision making.

Technology Coverage

Technology tracking is gaining importance as more and more private market investors and other customers of private market data are narrowing their focus on tech based companies. Technology tracking including the companies which are doing exceptionally well in one particular technology can be advantageous for data service providers as the demand for this type of information is increasing. For example, if a large technology company is looking to acquire or support a speech technology start-up, the tech company would be keen to understand what kind of start-ups exist in the business landscape and how are they performing. Having this information handy helps them to cut down on its efforts in shortlisting of companies.

Tracxn dedicatedly tracks technology sub-sectors and related private market companies. Tracxn also has a detailed taxonomy for these technology sectors which is one of its kind and provides an in-depth taxonomy coverage. A detailed taxonomy helps consumers of private market data to track technology topics in a much accurate manner and helps them narrow down their company search to only a specific set of companies instead of having a generic view of technology.

With strong technology coverage, in less than a decade, Tracxn has grown to become a major private market data service provider and has one of the largest coverage of private companies in emerging technology sectors including IoT, artificial intelligence, virtual reality, robotics, blockchain and electric vehicles. The company is one of the very few private market data service provider in the world to have a proprietary taxonomy for technology sector companies and prepare market maps.

5. Key User Segments for Private Market Data

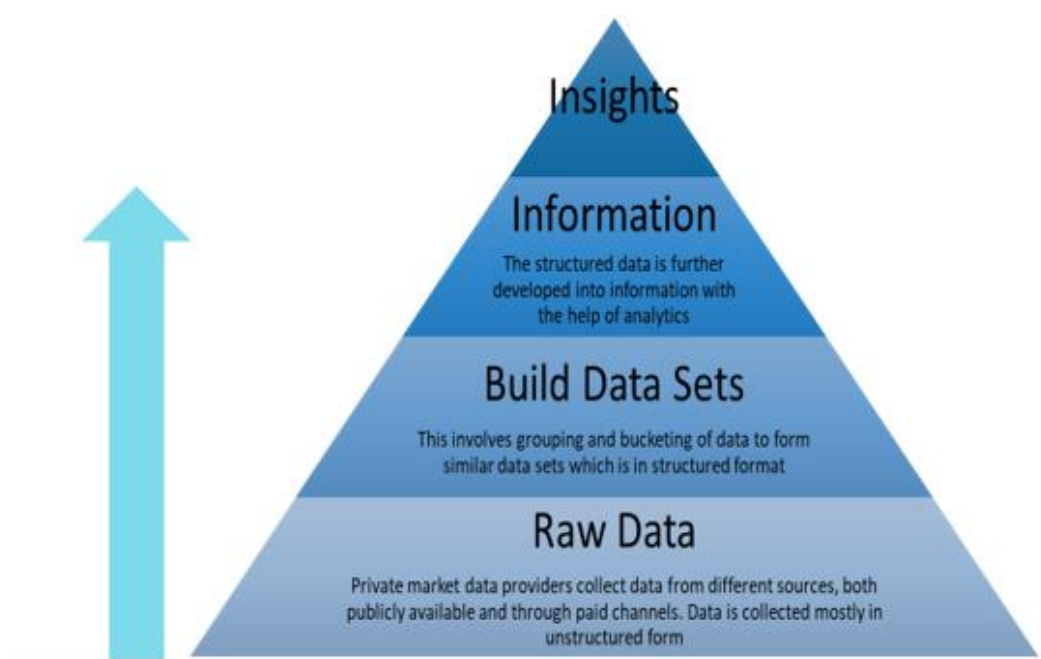

Private Market Investors and Investment Banks: These are generally the PE firms, VC firms and investment banks who will be keen to explore new business and other private companies for investment

Corporates: Many of the large companies having their funding arms or M&A arms use private market data to explore new and budding start-ups or other key private companies

Others: Other than these companies, several private companies themselves use private market data for acquisitions or to understand private funding patterns and other aspects. Apart from these, educational institutes, start-up accelerators, government bodies all avail private market data services to understand the performance of companies, technological trends that are emerging, the funding trends and similar other aspects

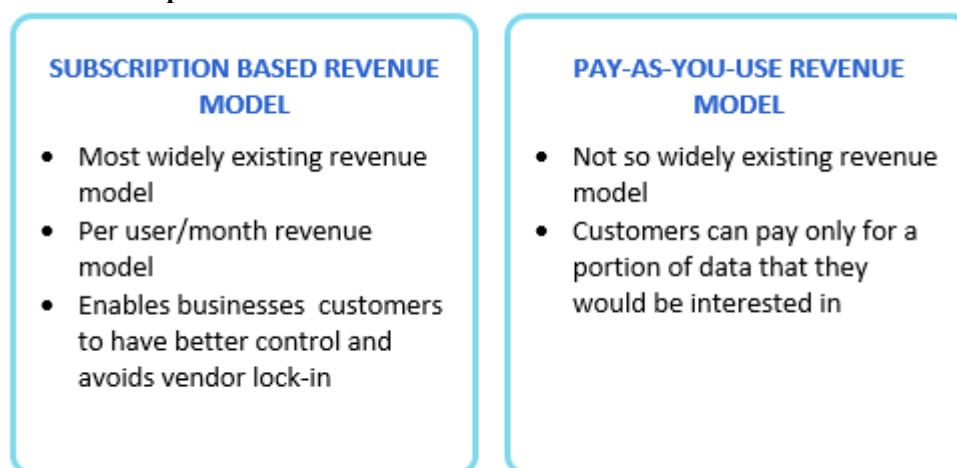

The prominence of private market data has grown throughout every business. For example, several large established technology players or automobile companies are always on a look out for new technology based companies whom they can either acquire or build partnership with to bring out new, enhanced products or offerings. Similarly, several banking companies use these services to understand the emergence of new fin-tech firms that can re-write the how financial sector operate and become better technologically equipped.

6. Key Revenue & Business Models on Private Market Data Industry

Private market data providers collect unstructured data from different sources and build them into meaningful insights that can be readily used by its customers for business related decision making. Private company data providers create data collection standards which enables them to track each and every company on both its current data and information and also on the historical trend. Using the collated data and through usage of technology based tools, these companies build insights.

Revenue Model: Subscription based revenue model remains the most common

Subscription based model has been one of the widely existing revenue model and has been popular among customers looking for private market data. Most of the service providers offer their services via platform and customers can avail these services on monthly, quarterly, half yearly or through annual subscriptions. The private market data providers generally have pricing plans that are designed for businesses of every size and shape. The pricing plans range from as simple as single user subscription plan to 3 or 5 user plans (targeted at mid-market) and more than 5 user plans (targeted at large customers who have high requirements). Among these plans, the mid-market plans are known to be the most popular as most of the PE firms or other investment companies have a limited member internal research groups who will be the typical users of these platforms.

Technology Trends

Use of technology for data capturing and processing remains a key ongoing trend in the market

Importance of technology in the Private Market Data Industry

Technology has grown to be backbone of the every industry of-late. Most of the businesses which are known to be tech savvy have been able to retain their customer base and have also been able to win new customers using sophisticated technological platforms, solutions or services. B2B information services industry too has evolved over a period of time. In the traditional form, most of this information services was delivered through a conventional method where service providers would simply collect data and provide the same on their website or any other media. As technology has progressed, most of the technology based services are now being delivered via cloud. Using cloud as a base, many of the businesses including information service providers have transformed their offerings. In case of private market data providers, the industry today is dominated by new age service providers whose core remains technology platform through which they offer their services. Technology penetration in the form of AI, analytics, data scraping, visualization tools and other has been the success story for most of the private market data providers.

Using artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning (ML), Analytics and other business intelligence (BI) tools, private market data providers have been able to automate most of the processes in their business intelligence offering platform. These businesses are reaping the benefits of their technology inclination as more and business customers are finding it easier to get data or information or insights with pin-point accuracy without the need for browsing through multiple pages or data.

Almost all the private market data service providers elevate cloud technology to host their services. These service providers partner with the likes of AWS, Google Cloud, Microsoft Azure and similar others and avail their cloud infrastructure. Cloud based platforms offer greater flexibility and agility to platforms which is not possible through traditional on-premise deployment methods. Business customers of private market data providers expect these platforms to be agile and respond to any query in real-time. The integration of cloud technologies coupled with use of open source technologies is also enabling service providers to extract relevant data through multiple sources automatically. Use of open source technologies is helping these service providers to scrape data through publicly available information and save both time and costs of doing the same manually.

The private market data service platforms built today is rigorously designed by integrating new age technological capabilities and concepts. For example, Tracxn as a company has an in house developed sophisticated engine to find new and interesting private companies. Tracxn platform is built on Elasticsearch, MongoDB for scalable backend and analytics and Redis for in-memory caching. In addition it also employs AI based analytical concepts for capabilities like auto-extract and auto-recommendations.

Growth of Artificial Intelligence

B2B information service providers for long have relied on traditional approach and have mostly used manual methods for data collection and processing. With growing advancement in artificial intelligence, private company data providers have been successful in integrating AI capabilities into their platform for better data extraction and processing. These service providers have been investing in AI enhancements where technology powered machine learning models are developed and further enhanced as per the data requirement.

In the past, most of these companies relied on human inputs at different juncture of data collection and processing and not more than 20% to 30% of the data collection and processing was automated. With human intervention, the data collection rules and formats had to be pre-defined and could only change only when humans did so. This made human dependency high for these platforms and thus also opened up the possibility of errors.

With advancement in technology, machine learning based algorithms have been integrated into both backend and frontend of the platform. The machine learning algorithm are such that they automatically modify based on the research requirements and also through analysing the historical trend of data captured. In the current scenario, most of the private market data providers have automated 40% to 60% of their data collection and processing capabilities and plan to further elevate new enhancements of AI technology to fine tune their platforms.

Need of AI, Data Intelligence in Information Services

Role of AI based data processing is gaining importance for better and quicker business intelligence building. Most of the businesses today want accurate data in quick time and also want this data to be updated in real-time for better analysis. Having a manual form of data extraction and updating would not be feasible idea as it is both time consuming and maybe sometimes inaccurate. Some of the key reasons for growth of usage of AI and data intelligence by private market data providers include:

Processing of Large Volume of Data: As more and more businesses are going digital and publishing their company information, news and other data online or on other digital channels, there is a large volume of data that is being generated that require months or even years for humans to decode and extract information. Instead, the use of AI based concepts with pre-defined ML algorithms is helping private company data providers to move through large volumes of data and extract what is required.

Extract Accurate Data: In the traditional human based data extraction process, there is a very high chance of human errors and these errors can sometimes result in loss of customer for private company data providers. With advancement in AI technologies, service providers have been successful in minimizing data accuracy errors which has resulted in greater trust by investment firms in these private company data providers.

Better Insight Building: Use of AI concepts can help private company data providers in automatically creating datasets from the extracted data. These datasets can then be interconnected to form information which in-turn can become an insight and all this can be made automatically without much of human intervention Building Better Data Models and Predictive Analytics Models: With continuous influx of data, AI based platforms would be capable to analyse the historical and present data and this can result in prediction of trend that would help these private company data providers to build predictive business intelligence models which would in-turn help their customers in better decision making with minimalistic financial risks.

Importance of Automation

The process of automation is not possible without integrating artificial intelligence (AI) capabilities. Extensive use of AI based concepts can result in automation of several processes in building business intelligence. Some of important aspects that automation addresses in the information services industry include:

Lesser Time to Market	With automation in place, private market data providers can reduce time take to provide insights with respect to a technology or a company or any other info
Regular Updating of Data	Automation can help these private market data providers to update data in real-time which increases the relevancy of data an in-turn add value to the insights provided
Minimizing Data Related Errors	Manual process of data extraction and processing can lead to errors. Automating these processes with right algorithm can improve the quality of data collected
Exploring of Large Volumes of Data	Exploring data from large volumes of data can be a time consuming task when done manually. Automation can help in exploring more data in lesser time
Building Data Forecasting Models	Private companies can use automation technologies to capture right data and thus build forecasting models through which they can add value to their offerings

Our platform includes multiple work-flow tools such as a customizable customer relationship management (“CRM”) tool integrated with our database allowing for better deal management. The platform allows personalization for enhanced tracking and data driven insights. Its capabilities include sourcing dashboards both locally and globally, portfolio tracking, data intelligence and data analytics.

Over the years, we have developed a systematic process of sourcing data including technology-based data extraction and instantaneous data upload through APIs. We also rely on information from websites, news reports, press releases, social media and events to identify and track private market company information. As a part of our sourcing process, we also obtain financial and non-financial information through automation from regulatory filings globally. We have an added layer of language translation that is used for sourcing information from countries where English is not the primary language.

We have a geographically diversified Customer Account base comprising (i) private market investors and investment banks viz., venture capital and private equity investors, investment banks, (ii) corporates across industries, and (iii) others including government agencies, universities, accelerators and incubators. Scalable and secure technology platform conceptualized and developed in-house

Our platform, based on a combination of technology and human analysts, is able to process vast amounts of data. We conceptualized and developed our platform in-house, and it is designed to be scalable and reliable providing us flexibility to launch new features as per our internal product road map. The platform has been designed and built primarily using new-age technologies, for hosting on cloud infrastructure. At its core, Tracxn is a data and market intelligence platform with over a million curated entity profiles mapped to over 40,000 different business models, searchable in near real-time through a set of search tools built in-house using an open search engine and analytics solution. In addition, we have built a range of business and workflow tools like an inbuilt CRM tool, custom dashboard builder, tools for sourcing, tracking companies, portfolio tracking, API support, browser extensions, ability to save searches and provide alerts and export tools. We also offer enterprise grade support for customer queries with personalized support over chat, email and instant messaging applications.

We believe that we have a high-performance, user-friendly and interactive interface coupled with a scalable back-end framework based on open source technologies. The Tracxn platform is hosted on cloud servers that provide backups to ensure minimal downtime and outages. Our uptime percentage in Fiscal 2021 was 99.99%. We also deploy new-age technologies to build our systems that power our datasets and enables faster processing. For gathering private market data, we have built a web-crawling and data engine that reviews over 550 million web domains at the back-end. It adds over 200,000 entities on a daily basis to the database and several data points are tracked across various digital footprints of entities. We had reviewed 8,384 web domains reviewed as of May 31, 2021 to be added on the platform and add curated profiles of over 1,600 new entities, on an average, every day to our platform. Our in-house developed data-mining engine, runs complex queries and allows us to automate sector classification of entities. Our data-mining engine allows us to discover new-age companies across emerging technology sectors. We have a dedicated infrastructure team to aid and build tools for the application team providing a seamless environment for faster and efficient application development.

Hosted on cloud infrastructure, our platform has in-built security features provided by the cloud infrastructure provider. In addition, we have tools that periodically check on potential threats. We use a virtual private cloud within our servers to establish a secure internal network and a safe gateway to enable communication of internal resources. The application uses industry grade hypertext transfer protocol secure or HTTPS for encrypted communication over the internet. There is an independent authentication layer as well for secure access to the platform.

Significant cost advantages from India-based operations

While we are an Indian SaaS company, our platform Tracxn serves customers globally. We believe our ability to develop and deploy the platform in India provides us with significant cost advantages. Service providers, especially those operating out of regions like India have cost advantage as their pricing is much more competitive than their global competitors. Private market service providers who have strong presence in Asian region (in terms of workforce) have a natural cost advantage than those who have majority of their workforce in North American or European region (Source: F&S Report).

Our business is technology driven, asset light and scalable, as evident by our employee benefit expenses, depreciation and amortization expenses and other expenses that have remained relatively unchanged despite significant increase in our revenue from operations in recent years. As of May 31, 2021, we had a lean 68-member technology and product development team. In addition, our employee benefit expenses in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 were ₹ 462,115.68 thousand, ₹ 512,792.12 thousand and ₹ 538,130.90 thousand, respectively, accounting for 139.25%, 137.35% and 122.92% of our revenue from operations, respectively. We believe that these costs are significantly lower compared with costs incurred by our competitors in other jurisdictions. Remuneration in countries like India is almost 10 times lower than that in United States and around six times lower than that in UK. The table below sets out the remuneration in services profession in USA, UK and India in 2020:

Country	Remuneration*
United States	USD 59,616
United Kingdom	USD 39,774
India	USD 6,508

* Gross annual income including supplements such as bonuses
As per IMD World Talent Ranking 2020
(Source: F&S Report)

Our platform requires limited costs to scale and launch additional service offerings. For example, we have been able to increase the number of entities profiles on our platform in the last three Fiscals from 546,864 as of March 31, 2019 to 1,345,311, as of March 31, 2021, while incurring ₹ 14,287.72 thousand, ₹ 20,483.76 thousand and ₹ 22,850.92 thousand towards our web hosting and domain charges in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 respectively. We are also able to implement multiple updates to our platform during a year that we believe offers customers a better experience while operating our platform. Our cost efficient structure also ensures that we are able to build greater automation as part of our processes.

Experienced Promoters, Board of Directors and senior management team backed by marquee investors

Our Promoters, Neha Singh and Abhishek Goyal have significant experience in the software and technology sectors and are involved in our day-to-day operations. They have previously been associated with venture capital firms such as Accel Partners and Sequoia Capital and therefore, have been able to leverage their technology and venture capital experience to develop the Tracxn platform. Our senior management team has also helped us in implementing our development and operating strategies over the years. Their understanding of user requirements, industry trends and demands, have enabled us to diversify our service offerings and capabilities thereby allowing us to grow our operations consistently.

In addition, our Board comprises nominee directors of Elevation Capital, Vivek Kumar Mathur and Ravi Chandra Adusumalli, whose strategic guidance and insights have also helped grow our operations. Our shareholders include venture capitalist and private equity firms including Ratan Tata, the NRJN Family Trust, Neeraj Arora, Sachin Bansal, Binny Bansal, Amit Ranjan, Girish Mathrubootham, Anand Rajaraman, Amit Singhal and Ashish Gupta and Elevation Capital, Accel Partners, Sequoia Capital, Prime Venture Partners and KB Investments. We have benefited, and expect to continue to benefit, from capital sponsorship and professional expertise of our shareholders.

Strategies

Continue to grow account base

We have been able to consistently grow our Customer Accounts over the last three Fiscals. Our Customer Accounts have increased from 471 Customer Accounts, as of March 31, 2019 to 642 Customer Accounts as of March 31, 2020 and we had 855 Customer Accounts, as of March 31, 2021. Private equity firms, venture capital firms and investment banking companies have been the biggest adopters of private market data services. Apart from private equity, venture capital firms and investment banks, the funding arms or M&A focused subsidiaries of large corporates have been one of the next biggest users of private market data services. (Source: F&S Report) With the growing users of private market data, we intend to capitalize on the opportunity to serve the growing market by continuing to grow our customer base.

We have historically incurred significant expenditure in expanding our sales and marketing team to increase customer acquisition as well as on our customer success team to focus on retention of existing users and accounts. We intend to expand our sales team to continue to focus on customer acquisition. We acquire new leads through a combination of inbound and outbound sales effort. Our endeavour will be to continue to grow our account base through referrals from our existing customers. As part of our strategy to grow our account base, we intend to participate in and undertake, event partnerships for media and industry events. We believe this will allow us to market our platform to corporates that attend such events. We will also focus on entering into channel partnerships for distribution of our service offerings. As we look to expand our operations, we intend to have additional sales and marketing representatives in geographies outside India to target new customers in such geographies. To generate brand awareness and traffic for our platform, we intend to continue to utilize content-based marketing through content articles, search engine optimization, email newsletters, social media, press mentions and media partners.

Expand share of revenues among existing customers

We intend to continue to grow our operations by increasing our revenue from our existing customers, including with whom we have developed long standing relationships. We devote significant attention and resources to being able to understand the behaviour, preferences and trends of our customers and markets through research and our automated data extraction engines. We believe that this gives us a distinct perspective that we bring to our platform. With this approach, we aim to be able to address other aspects of our customers' operating and growth strategy.

We aim to sustain the annual revenue contribution of a customer in subsequent years after the year of acquisition of such customer. To achieve this goal, we intend to structure our pricing in a manner that serves the customer's requirements, and introduce tiered pricing and upsell features/ subscriptions to our existing customers through differentiated offerings. We also intend to follow a three-pronged approach that includes growing the number of users within an account, generating additional data downloads and adding more Customer Accounts or different teams within an organization. Our customer success team will be focused on servicing our Customer Accounts. Expansion of our relationships with existing active customers will remain a key strategy going forward as we continue to leverage our expertise and knowledge of emerging technology trends in order to drive growth for our business.

Continue to grow platform to offer additional services

We intend to continue to devote substantial resources towards expanding our platform. In Fiscal 2021, we made 13,448 updates to our platform and added data of 407,613 entities, 5,526 reports, 628,724 news items and 76,466 funding rounds and acquisition transactions. We intend to continue to focus on expanding modules and data on our platform. As of May 31, 2021, we had 68 employees in our technology and product development team focused on developing product enhancements.

As part of our product development initiatives, we intend to introduce various product enhancements that we believe will offer value to existing customers as well as enable us to generate additional revenues. We are developing tools that will integrate into our existing platform allowing our customers to use our platform as a single source for their requirements. For example, certain enhancements that we are developing include generation of mark to market reports for fund performance and track other fund data, automated sourcing tools for use within the platform, personalized widgets, investor management tools and multi-lingual support. Certain additional features that we intend to add to the platform include tools for advanced search and filtering and import of data from our platform to spreadsheets. We also intend to continue to focus on automation of our internal processes and in particular, the collation of data. We will also look to invest in deploying additional technologies for our platform that we believe will enable us to scale our product offerings.

Capitalize on industry opportunities to expand coverage of our customers

Private companies have always been a backbone of global economic growth and continue to contribute to the positive business environment. As per estimates, there are around 190 million to 200 million private companies worldwide. Private companies have shown continuous signs of growth and with globalization and with emergence of favourable business environments across most countries globally, private sector companies are expected to further push for growth. The increasing private market is becoming increasingly relevant and private market AUM stood at around US$ 6 trillion in 2019 and is expected to reach around US$ 8.45 trillion by 2025. Growth in AUM will mostly be driven by private equity firms and venture capital firms who would look to focus more on shifting their investments from public equity funds to private equity markets. The rate of creation of companies has increased exponentially, while companies are remaining private for longer. (Source: F&S Report)

The total addressable market for private market data was US$ 1,322 million in 2021 and revenue is expected to grow at a CAGR of 11.78% to US$ 2,097 million in 2025. The total addressable market is expected to grow as private market data service providers are expected to further penetrate the market in the next five years. According to F&S estimates, the market penetration in 2020 stood at close to 50% which is expected to go up to as high as 65% in next five years. The growth of the market is expected to be mainly dependent on the growth of the number of private equity, venture capital and other investment firms, large corporates and other entities who will be willing to invest in private companies. (Source: F&S Report) The growing private market data presents us with a significant opportunity to address the information requirements for such customers that rely on data.

Expand into adjacent customer segments

Our customers have organically found additional use cases of our private market and emerging technology data. These include product discovery where customers can search and find vendors for various software, tools and other use cases. Limited partners use our platform for fund performance data whereas sales personnel rely on our platform for augmenting company information to improve their sales outreach.

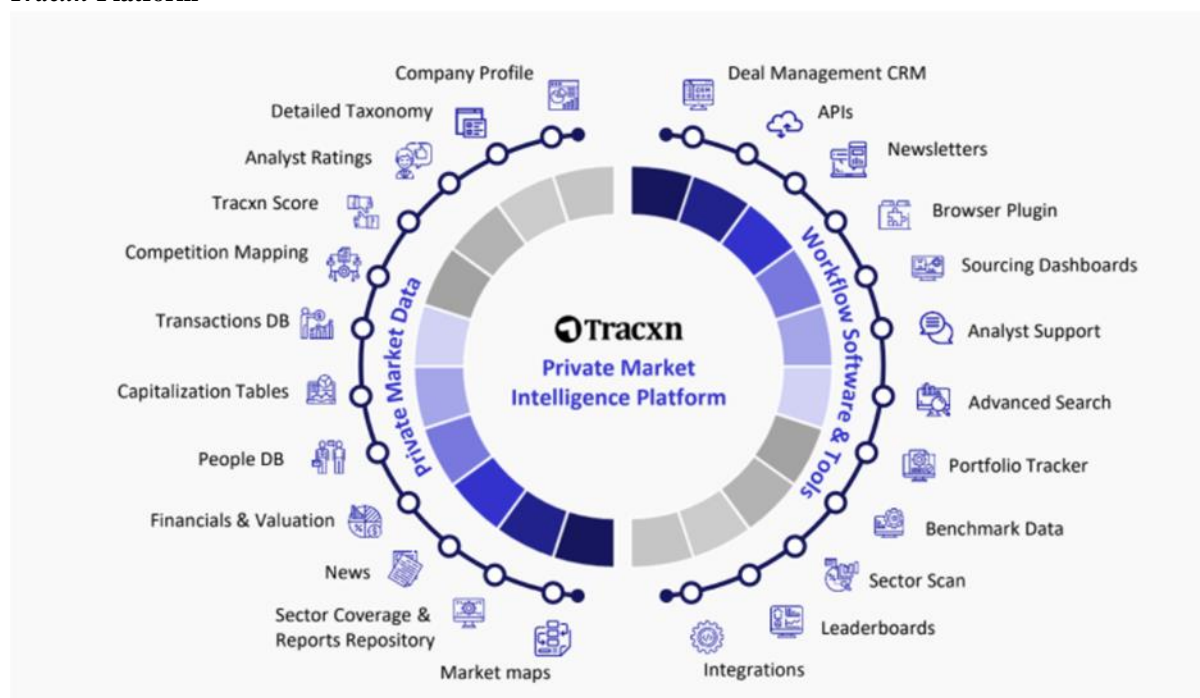

We intend to modify our existing platform to offer additional features and modules to enable us to tap into these segments thereby expanding our total addressable market. To this end, we obtain customer feedback regularly as well as include modules in the product road map that makes our platform more relevant for our customers' defined use cases. We also intend to provide additional specialized modules to customers for incremental utilization of our platform. We believe this will allow us to add new customer segments and utilize our existing data with incremental coverage of data points to provide such additional modules without incurring significant additional costs or effort.

Expand our operations through inorganic growth channels

We intend to acquire businesses and technologies that complement our existing capabilities and which we believe will result in the growth of our platform. We may consider investment opportunities to be able to acquire new technologies, or generate cross selling opportunities, in order to grow our platform or to expand our presence internationally. We believe such acquisitions or investments will support our strategy of long-term growth, strengthen our competitive position and increase our market share, and will aid in acquiring technical expertise and achieving greater scale to grow our earnings and increase shareholder value.

Taxonomy helps map the industry, sector, sub-sector, technology and business model for the companies; and also provides a top-down map of all the sectors. Each of the 35 industries are mapped into 1,805 sectors, and these sectors are further split into 42,254 taxonomy nodes. Each company covered on the platform is mapped in one of more of these taxonomy nodes. These industry taxonomy nodes are defined by a team of sector-based analysts. Every day over 1,200 companies are added onto the platform that are then mapped to their corresponding nodes through a mix of technology and human analysts.

Taxonomy Creation

We follow a process for each new industry and sector coverage that we launch. This process involves the following:

Industry to Sector Mapping: The first step in preparation of the taxonomy involves the classification of industries to various sectors under which we group entities and their respective information. We primarily focus on emerging technology sectors.

Sector to Detailed Taxonomy: We thereafter undertake a one-time detailed process of building the feed definition as we launch a new sector coverage. For each sector, we review notable corporates and undertake external research to identify different types of business models that exist in such sectors. The scope of the feed is then defined, and detailed rules are set out that enable creation of a filter over the entities. Similar entities are grouped and similar groups are bundled together. Following discussions between our sector team and operations teams, the first draft of the taxonomy is generated.

Taxonomy Updation: On an on-going basis, incremental updates are carried out as necessary, to the global taxonomy tree. The sector research team undertakes mapping of new companies found on the taxonomy nodes on a daily basis. In case it comes across an entity that does not have a node, it raises a ticket. Other methods through which new nodes are added include client feedback through 'MyAnalyst' queries and trending keywords not covered in an existing map. As companies get deadpooled, certain nodes are deleted. Approximately 1,600 nodes are added per month to the taxonomy collection.

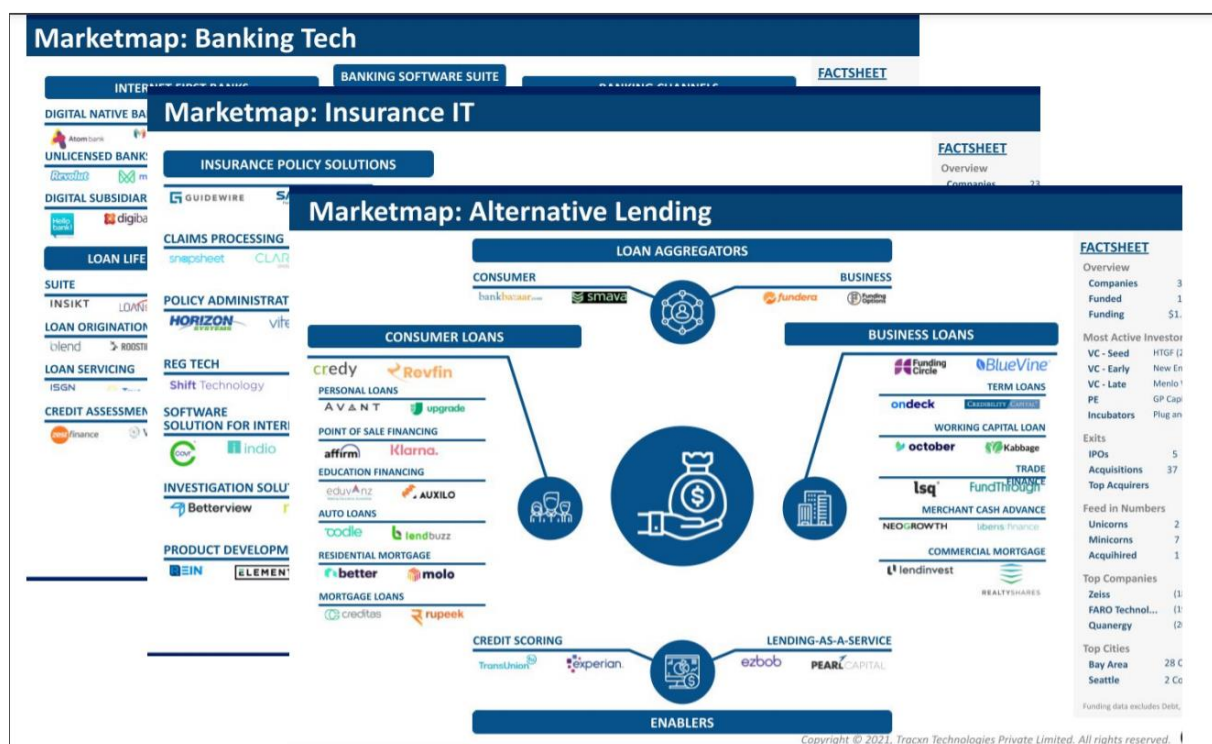

Taxonomy to Company Mapping: The mapping of companies to taxonomy trees is undertaken partly through use of technology and partly by the sector research team. The new entities that are added to our platform daily are also mapped to the corresponding nodes.

Details of our taxonomy nodes, as of May 31, 2021, are set out below.

Market Maps

Market maps provide a quick visual overview of all emerging technology sectors, key sub-sectors and leading companies within a node or an industry. These maps are schematic representation with a factsheet containing sector overview, most active investors, exits, ratings, top companies and top geographies.

[Illustrative]

Reports

We generate more than 5,000 reports every year which makes us one of the leading players providing large repository of reports globally across all emerging technology sectors (Source: F&S Report). We provide reports across multiple sectors, geographies, business models, emerging themes, investment activities and trends as well as fund wise mark-to-market reports. The reports we generate allow users to understand and be up to date on the start-up landscape as well as private market investment activity across various sectors. The reports are generated monthly and annually across various sectors and geographies.

Our report generation process is almost fully automated. The various steps involved in preparation of our reports is set out below:

Topic Identification: The report generation process begins by identification of the topic of the report.

Report Design: We undertake design of the report storyline and determine the data, charts and analysis that is to be included in the report. We process feedback from multiple stakeholders which is then incorporated in the report and the output report format is finalized.

Report Coding: We use code to design slides, charts and data within a report. This is then further coded into the “Data Fetcher” module (which pulls data from the platform) and “Data Manipulator” module (which processes this data to produce various analyses represented through charts).

Report Production: Our report production is almost fully automated. This begins by a ticket generation which gets input from a defined calendar that identifies the reports due to be published on a particular day. The report is then automatically generated using the above report code and the finalized reports are published on the platform using API.

The table below sets forth information on reports that we generate for the dates indicated:

Particulars	As of March 31,
	2019	2020	2021
Categories of Reports	5	10	19
No. of Reports Published	1,098	5,211	10,737

Tracxn Score

We have developed an in-house rating system for ‘investment attractiveness’ of private companies. The score is based on various parameters and sub-scores across size, growth, execution, team, market and other parameters for each company. It is relative and updated real time based on new events and changes in any of the above specified metrics for the company or for its peers. “Tracxn Score” is available for a large number of entities that we profile on the platform.

Editor Ratings

In order to highlight the strengths of a company, we provide ratings to the high potential and high growth companies. The rating is accorded based on a combination of certain public matrices as well as detailed assessment by our sector specialist team. Each company is rated across parameters like team profile, company size and execution, market opportunity and competition. These ratings also help us in shortlisting high-potential private companies for the Soonicorn Club which includes already break-out ones like unicorns as well as high-potential ones like ‘Soonicorns’ or soon-to-be-unicorns and ‘Minicorns’ and as of May 31, 2021, we had over 60,000 companies with editor ratings available to users.

Platform Workflow and Tools

We provide multiple workflows software and tools to our customers for their various use cases. These tools help customers leverage our platform in their workflow as well as personalise and customise the platform data as per their requirements.

Deal Flow Management: Through this CRM tool, users are able to manage their deal pipeline, store, share and collaborate on deal documents, meeting notes, presentations with team members, maintain timelines and manage key deal activities. Data on the entities in the CRM is automatically augmented and kept up-to-date using platform data, thereby saving time otherwise spent in researching the companies through manual entry. Email alerts can be provided whenever a company in the CRM raises a funding round, a company is mentioned in the news or if any editor ratings are updated.

APIs: Customers have an option to upgrade to our API pack which enables them to query and access our platform database directly. Customers can build proprietary models on the data and can configure it using a full range of filters and sorts.

Newsletters: We provide newsletters to our customers, which are essentially a collection of newsletters based on sector, geography, practice areas, which customers subscribe to, based on their requirements and interests. These newsletters are sent daily and weekly to customers who have subscribed to them to keep them updated on the recent activities in their areas of interest.

Personalized Dashboards for Sourcing and Tracking: Our platform provides personalisation capabilities enabling users to set up sourcing and tracking boards to discover new companies, track news and events within their defined areas, whether it be based on industry, sectors, network, investor categories and geographies. Post defining their mandate, any new companies, news or events added falling under their mandate will get automatically added to their dashboard. The user can set up custom email alerts to receive these updates directly.

MyAnalyst Support: We provide enterprise-grade support to our users for their research queries through a dedicated team of analysts that provide support through email, platform chat and select social media platform. As of May 31, 2021, we had a team of 18 on-demand analysts providing support for 18 hours a day for five days a week with holiday support and on Saturday, for nine hours.

Browser Plug-ins: We have developed browser extensions through which users can obtain a company's information. While visiting a site, if the user clicks on the extension, such user is instantly fed key information such as the company's primary business, funding and valuation, competitors, investors, and latest news.

Advanced Search: The 'Advanced Search' function enables users to search companies using multiple parameters, keywords or phrases and is powered by ElasticSearch. One can simply use '+' or '-' to include or exclude any keyword respectively to refine the search result.

Portfolio Tracker: Users can have a single view of their portfolio of companies and keep a track of all their recent activities which includes search of any funding round, any latest news or events related to companies included in the portfolio.

Benchmarking Data: We provide benchmarking data related to funding rounds and funding multiples for tracking trends and internal metrics relevant to the private market investors and corporates. We provide benchmarking for funding round sizes by stage, sector and geography, funding multiples and acquisition multiples on our platform. For example, our platform provides data about what is the typical growth-stage round size and how that has trended across years as well as how that compares across geographies. Funding multiples provide a view on the ratio of valuation to revenue of the companies which have been funded for a sector or geography in the time-period selected.

Sector Scan: Users can get on-demand sector scan providing a shortlist of high potential companies and their factsheets for any industry, sector or investment theme. This includes a sector snapshot, company factsheets, longlist and shortlist of companies operating in the sector, leaderboards by various metrics and a one-pager on the shortlisted companies.

Data Engine

We are able to provide quality private market intelligence at scale by using multiple data engines, which are able to gather data from various sources, classify and standardize the data to be used finally on the platform.

Data Mining and Statistical Models: We have a scalable and intelligent data backend that aggregates and mines information about entities globally. We aggregate unstructured data about entities through publicly available online sources. As of May 31, 2021, we scanned over 550 million web domains at the backend and added over 55 million domains in Fiscal 2021. We then extract various data points that allow us to capture technographic and firmographic data. We have developed an in-house scoring algorithm using these parameters that helps us identify the private market entities to focus on. The human-in-the-loop in the form of our analysts and data operations team help provide feedback to improve our scoring model.

Automated Data Processing Models: We leverage technology to process unstructured data to usable and actionable information and insights. We have automation models that extract, parse and standardize data from multiple sources such as images, documents, scanned portable document format or pdf using optical character recognition technology and map relevant data to respective fields. We also have capability to source data from multilingual sources using automated translation tools to parse and translate data proposed to be mapped.

Sources of Data: We use multiple sources to curate our data. We have identified data sources that we believe are reasonably reliable and accurate to cover each of the data points that are then processed and curated to be put on the platform.

Our key data sources include:

Online Public Information: Publicly available information on the internet such as company websites, fund websites.

Regulatory Filings: Data from regulatory filings that is available across various regulatory bodies under various statutes such as annual returns, investment related filings and other similar available information.

Contributions: We also receive contributions by company representatives, funds and investors.

Analysts: We have a 90-member sector-focused analyst team, as of May 31, 2021. The analyst team is divided across industry segments and sectors. The analyst team defines the industry and sector coverage, develops sector taxonomy, covers and maps entities in the taxonomy, provides editor ratings, defines new report formats as well as new data points to be covered. For traditional industries, we hire based on industry experience and for most new-age industries, we have an in-house detailed training program.

Quality Assurance: Our quality assurance processes endeavour to ensure accuracy and comprehensiveness of the data provided on the platform. There are two layers of quality assurance that includes automated quality checks and manual reviews as detailed below:

Automated Error Code Based Review: In-house models are used to highlight aberrations in the data added. Variety of error codes are used for determination and grouping of similar errors across the data sets. Nearly all data is reviewed with this method, and aberrations are analysed and verified.

Dipstick Review: In addition to the automated review, we also undertake a manual review where certain data added is selected for a detailed review.

Operations: Our data engine is backed by processes for building and expanding large data sets. Following are the building blocks of certain of our data engines:

Standard Operating Procedures (“SOP”): We have implemented detailed internal SOP documentation for most data modules with training guides, walkthroughs and case examples. Unhandled exceptions encountered in daily operations are escalated to the concerned team for regular updating of SOPs.

Development and Launch of New Data Points: We have a templated process design for launching new data points. The process is powered by a centralized hiring team for ramp-up of teams and a central automation team for standardized design implementation and automation and backend IT support platform.

Regulatory Approvals: We have a team that liaises with local authorities to get country approvals for extraction of information in other jurisdictions.

Tracking and Reporting: We maintain a daily review and tracking of each unit level. We also maintain tracking, MIS and backend workflow for the modules.

Automation: We have local automation teams for each business unit. In addition to the central engineering team, business unit specific reporting automations, process automations and improvement projects are conducted.

Technology

Our platform is designed and built for SaaS delivery format and is available globally through web browsers on computers and mobile. Our technology and infrastructure are built to be scalable, reliable and secure. The platform is hosted entirely on cloud architecture. The design and deployment of our platform are centered on the following areas:

New Age Technology Stack: Our platform is backed by technology stacks for building a scalable, high performance and fast processing of vast amounts of data including for data storage and search; for bulk processing of background jobs; stack for hosting and computing; a java script library for building user interfaces for high performance and reusable frontend; and an open-source software provisioning, configuration management, and application-deployment tool, for application infrastructure management.

Data aggregation and mining using statistical models and algorithms: We have in-house infrastructure for web-crawling, data extraction, parsing, data mining engine and analysis. As of May 31, 2021, we scanned over 550 million web domains at the backend. The data is reviewed on prioritisation algorithms, analysing various data points, scoring and prioritizing these data sets through various processing funnels.

Scalability: We use cloud infrastructure with our in-house developed internal software for auto setup and deployment of any newly added server to the system to scale workloads of varying sizes at any time. Our microservices based architecture and load balancing system enables different parts of the platform to work independently and automatically ensuring that the end users experience high performance. We use queuing systems to ensure execution of a high number of simultaneous tasks. Our platform employs a highly scalable, distributed search engine allowing to run real-time complex queries on large volume of structured and unstructured data.

Reliability: We use cloud infrastructure to host our platform along with dynamic load balancing to distribute incoming requests onto different servers and use infrastructure management systems to manage the server infrastructure automatically resulting in minimal manual intervention. Due to these capabilities, our platform had an uptime percentage of 99.99% in Fiscal 2021.

Security:

Infrastructure: We undertake regular security scans to detect any potential threats. We make use of virtual private cloud within our cloud infrastructure to establish an internal network ensuring high-grade security.

Application: All our external communication is secured with encryption through HTTPS. We have an independent authentication layer and store passwords by implementing industry standards. We have multiple automated checks that highlight potential cases of suspicious usage. These are then analyzed for further investigation.

Product Development: We update our platform almost on a daily basis. Our platform updates are pushed to customers without any downtime for users of our platform.

Team: The technology and platform are backed by product, design and engineering teams. The engineering team is further divided into data, application and infrastructure teams. These teams are responsible for a number of activities including data aggregation, maintaining and scaling large datasets and databases, data mining, backend cloud infrastructure development and management and analytics, launch of modules and functionalities, development of internal tools, user management and security and data API management.

Go-to-Market Strategy

Sales: We have an internal sales team of 91 members, as of May 31, 2021, that covers Asia-Pacific, Europe, Middle East and Africa and Americas. Our team structure ensures that we maintain our sales activities for 20 hours a day. The team addresses all inbound and outbound leads through online channels via platform demonstrations, online meetings and calls.

The sales team has well-defined key performance indicators and undergo regular performance reviews. Recruitment and training of our sales representatives is done in-house. We hire sales representatives based on specified skills. Senior roles are filled internally or hired externally with strict hiring criteria. For new sales team member onboarding and training, we have a defined, self and systematic training program followed by a managerial review supported by a central monitoring team.

Our sales operations are supported by a custom-built technology infrastructure that has been developed and is maintained by a sales enablement team. The custom infrastructure includes automated processes and systems for improving efficiency, increasing productivity, measurement of key performance indicators like CRM for lead management, automatic generation of daily work plan for each sales representative, opportunity management dashboards, central collateral repository, pipeline review and reporting dashboards.

Marketing: We primarily undertake digital marketing where we reach out to prospective and existing customers primarily through online channels including emails, social media and search engine optimisation. Our primary focus is on content marketing. We do not undertake any paid advertising and we have an in-house team that manages our marketing activities.

We undertake various content marketing strategies including making sample data on publicly available pages and search engine optimization, providing content for articles and sharing industry newsletters, sector and geography focused reports. The marketing content is internally generated and published using our publicly available pages, social media accounts as well as through direct emails to our prospective and past users.

To build our brand awareness, we provide data to leading media outlets both in India and globally to use our data and quote us as sources in their articles and news reports. We also collaborate as knowledge partners for various events and report publications.

To strengthen our brand, we publish “Tracxn” awards across two categories – ‘Tracxn Soonicorn Awards’ and ‘Tracxn Emerging Awards’. The ‘Tracxn Soonicorn Awards’ recognize promising companies across different sectors and industries within a single geography that are likely soon-to-be unicorns or attain a valuation of US$1 billion, while the ‘Tracxn Emerging Awards’ recognize companies which are the growing startups in a sector or industry within a single geography. We believe that this helps us in increasing our brand recall, social media presence as well as in improving our engagement with the companies. We actively use our various social media handles for increasing overall engagement with our external stakeholders.

We also conduct regular webinars for our users and prospective customers to introduce new features launched, key platform modules available on the platform and to increase the overall engagement with our existing and prospective customers. We regularly use social media to share snippets of key insights, latest trends across sectors and industry through report snippets and webinar updates.

Customer Success

Our aim is to provide enterprise-grade support for our global customer base.

Onboarding: Once a new customer is closed by our sales team, it is passed to the customer success team for onboarding and ongoing support. The customer success team provides the platform demo while onboarding of new customers keeping in mind specific use cases of different types of customers. We also offer customized onboarding guides that enable users to start exploring the platform on their own and are focused on features relevant to the use case of the respective customer category. An account manager is assigned to every customer who supports the customer in the initial set-up, customization of the platform, resolution of queries and is available to the customer for ongoing support.

Support: The customer success team addresses any queries or support tickets that come up from customers. We have an automated ticketing system through which all queries are logged into our system and tracked for timely closure. We try to resolve all the customer tickets and the support team operates across multiple time shifts working five days for 18 hours while on Saturday, we provide support for nine hours.

In addition, the customer success team also conducts monthly webinars on newly launched features and modules and does periodic touch points with customers to increase engagement. The customer success team is responsible for the renewal and upselling within Customer Accounts.

Competition

The market for private market intelligence is competitive, rapidly evolving, and fragmented (Source: F&S Report).

Our current competitors include free online and offline sources of information on companies and businesses, including government records, company websites, and open online databases, our current and potential customers' internal and homegrown company databases; other providers of third-party company attributes, technology attributes, and business contact information; other providers of online private companies, market information databases and platforms. Our competitors include, among others, other private market data service providers such as Crunchbase, CBInsights, PrivCo and Pitchbook (Source: F&S Report).

We believe the principal factors that drive competition between vendors in the market include comprehensive platform offering; quality and accuracy of data; breadth and depth of data; ease of use and deployment; tangible benefits and return on investment for customers; data privacy and security; and sophistication of solutions used to manage, maintain and combine intelligence. We believe we compete reasonably across these factors. For further information, see “Risk Factors – We face competition from and could lose market share to our competitors, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.” on page 27.

Intellectual Property Rights

Our success and ability to compete depend in part upon our ability to protect our technology and to establish and adequately protect our intellectual property rights. We have obtained registrations for 11 trademarks, including Minicorn, Soonicorn and Tracxn.com under various classes in India. In addition, our trademark application to register the mark ‘Tracxn’ is currently pending. The Trademarks Registry has received an objection to our application and we have filed a response to certain queries raised by the Trademarks Registry to our application. Also see, “Risk Factors – We may be unable to successfully protect our intellectual property rights from being infringed by others, including competitors” on page 36.

Human Resources

As of May 31, 2021, we had 629 full-time employees on our payroll. The following table sets forth a breakdown of our employees by function as of May 31, 2021:

Function	Number of Employees

I. Industry-specific Regulations

Information Technology Act, 2000 and the rules made thereunder

The Information Technology Act (“IT Act”) was enacted to provide legal recognition to transactions carried out by various means of electronic data interchange involving alternatives to paper-based methods of communication and storage of information. The IT Act also seeks to facilitate the electronic filing of documents and to create a mechanism for the authentication of electronic documentation through digital signatures. The IT Act prescribes punishment for publishing and transmitting obscene material in electronic form. The IT Act has extraterritorial jurisdiction over any offence or contravention under the IT Act committed outside India by any person, irrespective of their nationality, if the act or conduct constituting the offence or contravention involves a computer, computer system or computer network located in India. Additionally, the IT Act also empowers the Government of India to direct any of its agencies to intercept, monitor or decrypt any information in the interest of the country’s sovereignty, integrity, defence and security of India, among other things. The Information Technology (Procedure and Safeguards for Blocking for Access of Information by Public) Rules, 2009 specifically permit the Government of India to block access of any information generated, transmitted, received, stored or hosted in any computer resource by the public, the reasons for which are required to be recorded by it in writing.

By means of an amendment in 2008, the IT Act legalized the validity of contracts formed through electronic means. Additionally, the IT Act creates liability for negligence in dealing with or failure to protect sensitive personal data and gives protection to intermediaries in respect of liabilities for third party information made available to or hosted by them. The Act does so by prescribing civil and criminal liability including fines and imprisonment for computer-related offences including those relating to unauthorized access to computer systems, tampering with or unauthorised manipulation of any computer, computer system or computer network and, damaging computer systems and creates liability for negligence in dealing with or handling any sensitive personal data or information in a computer resource and in maintaining reasonable security practices and procedures in relation thereto.

In April 2011, the Department of Information Technology, Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology, Government of India (“DoIT”), in exercise of its power to formulate rules with respect to reasonable security practices and procedures and sensitive personal data, notified the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011 (“IT Security Rules”) in respect of Section 43A of the IT Act, which prescribe directions for the collection, disclosure, transfer and protection of sensitive personal data by a body corporate or any person acting on behalf of a body corporate. The IT Security Rules require every such body corporate to provide a privacy policy for handling and dealing with personal information, including sensitive personal data, ensuring the security of all personal data collected by it and publishing such policy on its website. The IT Security Rules further require that all such personal data be used solely for the purposes for which it was collected and any third party disclosure of such data is made with the prior consent of the information provider unless contractually agreed upon between them or where such disclosure is mandated by law.

The Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019

The Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019 (“Data Privacy Bill”), which proposes to supersede the IT Act deals with the provisions relating to compensation payable by companies for failure to protect personal data. The Data Privacy Bill also establishes a Data Protection Authority of India. Currently, the Data Privacy Bill categorizes two kinds of data, (a) “Personal Data” data about or relating to a natural person who is directly or indirectly identifiable, having regard to any characteristic, trait, attribute or any other feature of the identity of such natural person, whether online or offline, or any combination of such features with any other information, and shall include any inference drawn from such data for the purpose of profiling; and (b) “Sensitive Personal Data” includes such personal data, which may, reveal, be related to, or constitute, amongst others: (i) financial data; (ii) health data; (iii) official identifier; (iv) sex life; (v) sexual orientation; and (vi) biometric data. The applicability of the Bill also extends to foreign companies that handle data of individuals in India. The Bill accords certain rights to individuals with respect to the protection of their data. However, there are certain exceptions to protection offered under the Data Privacy Bill, such as, act done in interest of security of state, public order, sovereignty and integrity of India and friendly relations with foreign states, and act done for preventing incitement to commission of any cognizable offence relating to the above matters. Processing of personal data is also exempted from provisions of the Data Privacy Bill under certain conditions, as long as such processing is for a specific, clear and lawful purpose, this includes an act undertaken for prevention, investigation, or prosecution of any offence, or personal, domestic, or journalistic purposes. As on date, the Data Privacy Bill is pending with Joint Parliamentary Committee and is yet to be notified and take effect.

II. Labour Legislations

Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013

The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 was enacted to curb the rise in sexual harassment that women were facing in their workplaces and it intended to make workplaces safer for them by enacting for prevention of such harassment and redressal of complaints and for matters connected with sexual harassment. The terms sexual harassment and workplace are both defined in the act. Every employer is required to constitute an “Internal Complaints Committee” and every officer and member of the company shall hold office in the committee for a period not exceeding three years from the date of nomination. Any aggrieved woman can make a complaint in writing to the Internal Committee in relation to sexual harassment of female at the workplace. Every employer has a duty to provide a safe working environment at the workplace which shall include safety from the persons coming into contact at the workplace, organising awareness programs and workshops, displaying rules relating to sexual harassment at any conspicuous part of the workplace, providing necessary facilities to the committee formed for dealing with the complaint, such other procedural requirements to assess the complaints.

Other applicable labour legislations

The employment of workers, depending on the nature of activity, is, at present, regulated by a wide variety of generally applicable labour laws. The following is an indicative list of labour laws applicable to our operations owing to the nature of our business activities:

- Employees’ Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952;
- Employees’ Compensation Act, 1923;

In order to rationalize and reform labour laws in India, the Government has enacted four labour codes that would subsume primarily all of the central labour laws and would collectively form the governing labour legislations, as and when brought into effect. These four codes are:

(a) The Code on Wages, 2019

The Code on Wages, 2019 received the assent of the President of India on August 8, 2019 and proposes to subsume four existing laws namely, the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976. The Central Government has notified certain provisions of this code predominantly concerning the constitution of the Central Advisory Board and other provisions of this code will be brought into force on a date to be notified by the Central Government.

(b) The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020

The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 received the assent of the President of India on September 28, 2020 and proposes to subsume certain existing legislations, including the Factories Act, 1948, the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970, the Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979 and the Building and Other Construction Workers (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1996. (c) The Industrial Relations Code, 2020

The provisions of this code will be brought into force on a date to be notified by the Central Government.

(d) The Code on Social Security, 2020

The Code on Social Security, 2020 received the assent of the President of India on September 28, 2020 and it proposes to subsume certain existing legislations including the Employee's Compensation Act, 1923, the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961, the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the Building and Other Construction Workers' Welfare Cess Act, 1996 and the Unorganised Workers' Social Security Act, 2008. The provisions of this code will be brought into force on a date to be notified by the Central Government.

Shops and establishments legislations in various states

Under the provisions of local shops and establishments legislations applicable in the states in which establishments are set up, establishments are required to be registered. These legislations regulate the working and employment conditions of the workers employed in shops and establishments including commercial establishments and provide for fixation of opening and closing hours, daily and weekly working hours, rest intervals, overtime, holidays, leave, health and safety measures, termination of service, wages for overtime work, maintenance of shops and establishments and other rights and obligations of the employers and employees. There are penalties prescribed in the form of monetary fine or imprisonment for violation of the legislations. In the case of our Company, the Karnataka Shops and Commercial Establishments Act, 1961 is an applicable law under this head.

III. Foreign Investment Laws

The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 ("FEMA") and regulations framed thereunder

Foreign investment in India is governed primarily by the provisions of the FEMA, and the rules, regulations and notifications thereunder, as issued by the RBI from time to time and the FEM Rules and the FDI Policy. In terms of the FDI Policy, foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies either through the automatic route or the Government route, depending upon the sector in which the foreign investment is sought to be made. In terms of the FDI Policy, the authority to grant government approval for foreign investment under the FDI Policy and FEMA has now been entrusted to the concerned administrative ministries/departments.

The total holding by any individual NRI, on a repatriation basis, shall not exceed five percent of the total paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or shall not exceed five percent of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants issued by an Indian company and the total holdings of all NRIs and OCIs put together shall not exceed 10% of the total paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or shall not exceed 10% of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrant. However, the aggregate ceiling of 10 percent may be raised to 24 percent if a special resolution to that effect is passed by the general body of our Company.

The total holding by each FPI or an investor group, shall be less than 10 percent of the total paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or less than 10 percent of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants issued by an Indian company and the total holdings of all FPIs put together, including any other direct and indirect foreign investments in the Indian company permitted under these rules, shall be up to the sectoral cap applicable to the sector in which our Company operates (i.e., up to 100%). Further, all investments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government of India, as prescribed in the FDI Policy.

IV. Tax-Related Legislations

Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017

The Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (the “GST Act”) levies tax on the supply of goods and services throughout India to replace multiple taxes levied by the Central and State Governments on production, supply and sale of goods and providing of services in India, applicable from July 1, 2017. Under the GST Act, goods and services are taxed under five different categories, being 0%, 5%, 12%, 18% and 28%. GST is levied on all transactions such as supply, transfer, purchase, barter, lease, or import of goods and/or services. Transactions made within a single state are levied with Central GST (“CGST”) by the Central Government and State GST (“SGST”) by the government of that state. For inter-state transactions and imported goods or services, an Integrated GST (“IGST”) is levied by the Central Government. GST is a consumption-based tax; therefore, taxes are paid to the state where the goods or services are consumed and not the state in which they were produced.

Additional tax-related laws that are applicable to us include the Income Tax Act, 1961 along with various rules and notifications issued by the tax authorities.

V. Intellectual Property Laws

Intellectual property in India enjoys protection under both common law and statutes. Under statutes, India provides for patent protection under the Patents Act, 1970, copyright protection under the Copyright Act, 1957 and trademark protection under the Trade Marks Act, 1999. These enactments provide for the protection of intellectual property by imposing civil and criminal liability for infringement. In addition to the domestic laws, India is a party to several international intellectual property-related instruments including the Patent Cooperation Treaty, 1970, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, 1883, the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, 1886, the Universal Copyright Convention adopted at Geneva in 1952, the International Convention for the Protection of Performers, Producers of Phonograms and Broadcasting Organizations, 1961 and as a member of the World Trade Organisation is a signatory to the Agreement on Trade-Related aspects of Intellectual Property Rights.

Trade Marks Act, 1999 and the Trade Marks Rules, 2017

The Trade Marks Act, 1999 as amended (the “Trade Marks Act”) governs the law pertaining to the protection of trade marks in India. Once a mark is registered, it is valid in India only for a period of 10 years and can be renewed from time to time in perpetuity. Registration of a trade mark grants the owner a right to exclusively use the trade mark as a mark of goods and services and provides for remedies in case of the fraudulent use of deceptively similar marks by any third party. The Trade Marks Rules, 2017 as amended (the “Trade Marks Rules”) lays down certain guidelines including the process for determination of “well-known trademark”, representation of sound marks, recognition of e-mail as a mode of service, new registration fees and mandatory filing of statements of users.

Copyright Act, 1957

The Copyright Act, 1957, along with the Copyright Rules, 1958, (collectively, “Copyright Laws”) serves to create property rights for certain kinds of intellectual property, generally called works of authorship. The Copyright Laws protect the legal rights of the creator of an ‘original work’ by preventing others from reproducing the work in any other way. This intellectual property protected under the Copyright Laws includes literary works, among others, which, in terms of the Copyright Act, 1957, include computer programs, tables and compilations, including computer databases. The Copyright Laws prescribe a fine, imprisonment or both for violations, with an enhanced penalty on second or subsequent convictions. While copyright registration is not a prerequisite for acquiring or enforcing a copyright in an otherwise copyrightable work, registration constitutes prima facie evidence of the particulars entered therein and may expedite infringement proceedings and reduce delay caused due to evidentiary considerations. Upon registration, the copyright protection for a work exists for a period of 60 years following the demise of the author. Reproduction of a copyrighted work for sale or hire and issuing of copies to the public, among others, without consent of the owner of the copyright are acts which expressly amount to an infringement of copyright.

VI. Other Laws

In addition to the aforementioned material laws and regulations, which apply to our Company, our Company is also required to comply with the provisions of the Companies Act and rules framed thereunder, the Consumer Protection Act, 2019, and other applicable statutes promulgated by the relevant Central and State Governments including the central and state tax laws.

2.3 Foreign currency translation

i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the restated financial information of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates ('the functional currency'). The restated financial information are presented in Indian Rupee (INR), which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss on a net basis within other gains/ (losses).

2.4 Revenue from contract with customers

i) Sale of services

The Company receives subscription revenue from rendering of services through its platform. Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when services are rendered to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration entitled in exchange for those services. The Company recognizes subscription revenues over time wherein the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company. The progress is measured using the output method which measures revenue by comparing 'time elapsed' to the 'total subscription period'.

Revenue is recognised, net of goods and services tax, when no significant uncertainty exists regarding the amount of the consideration that will be derived from rendering the service. In few cases, the Company provides refunds against revenue received from certain customers. The Company estimates the refund liability on the basis of their past experience and future expectation, as that is the amount of consideration for which the entity does not expect to be entitled.

The invoicing for the services is done upfront irrespective of the duration of the subscription with a credit term of 10-15 days, which is consistent with market practice. The Company does not adjust the transaction prices for any time value of money as the transfer of the promised services to the customer and payment by the customer does not generally exceed one year.

ii) Contract liabilities

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer services to a customer for which the Company has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Company performs under the contract. Contract Liabilities are disclosed in Annexure V- Note 13.

2.5 Income tax

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses, if any.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation and considers whether it is probable that a taxation authority will accept an uncertain tax treatment. The Company measures its tax balances either based on the most likely amount or the expected value, depending on which method provides a better prediction of the resolution of the uncertainty.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the restated financial information. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses, if any, only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in Restated Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) is recognised as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period. Such asset is reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and carrying amount of the MAT credit asset is written down to the extent there is no longer a convincing evidence to the effect that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period.

2.6 Leases

As a lessee:

Leases are recognised as a Right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the company.

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments), less any incentives receivable
- variable lease payments that are based on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date
- amounts expected to be payable by the company under residual value guarantees
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the company is reasonably certain to exercise that option, and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the company exercising that option.

Extension and termination options are included in many of the leases. In determining the lease term the management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option, or not exercise a termination option. Lease payments to be made under reasonably certain extension options are also included in the measurement of the liability. The lease payments are discounted using the company's incremental borrowing rate, which is the rate that the Company would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

If a readily observable amortising loan rate is available to the Company (through recent financing or market data) which has a similar payment profile to the lease, then the Company uses that rate as the incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to Restated Statement of Profit and Loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Lease payments that represent payments based on actual utilisation of common facilities of the leased asset are recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss as and when they are incurred.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of initial measurement of lease liability
- any lease payments made on or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received
- any initial direct costs, and
- restoration costs

Right-of-use assets are generally depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis.

Payments associated with short-term leases are recognised on a straight-line basis as an expense in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss. Short-term leases are leases with a term of 12 months or less. The lease contracts also include non -lease components which are charged to the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss as and when incurred.

2.7 Financial instruments

A) Initial recognition and measurement

The Company recognises financial assets and financial liabilities when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All financial assets and liabilities are recognised at fair value on initial recognition. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value on initial recognition.

B) Subsequent measurement

i) Financial assets carried at amortised cost

Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in the statement of profit and loss using the effective interest rate method. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in the statement of profit and loss. Impairment losses are presented in the statement of profit and loss. Financial assets at amortised cost comprises of trade receivables, loans, cash and cash equivalents and other financial assets.

a) Trade receivables:

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for goods sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. Trade receivables are recognised initially at the amount of consideration that is unconditional unless they contain significant financing components, when they are recognised at fair value. The Company holds the trade receivables with the objective to collect the contractual cash flows and therefore measures them subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method less impairment loss, if any.

b) Loans (Security Deposits):

On initial recognition, Loans are measured at fair value. Since the objective is to hold these financial assets to collect contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest, these assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method less impairment, if any

c) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

d) Other financial assets:

On initial recognition, Other financial assets are measured at fair value, and subsequently, measured at the amortised cost, less impairment if any. Loss arising from impairment, if any is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

ii) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

The Company holds certain investments in mutual funds which are subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss.

iii) Financial liabilities measured at amortised costs

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The Company's financial liabilities consist of trade payables and Other financial liabilities.

Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial year, which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within the credit period. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

C) Financial liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss include financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL).

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit and loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains or losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognised in other comprehensive income (OCI). These gains/ loss are not subsequently transferred to profit and loss. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss. Financial liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss consist of Compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares.

Compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares

The Company has assessed the debt/equity classification for compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares (CCPS) based on the requirements in Ind AS 32. Based on the terms and conditions of issue of certain CCPS, the investor has an option to put the CCPS back to the Company for cash through a buy back in the event the Company is unable to provide an exit to the CCPS holders through a Qualified IPO or a strategic sale. As the failure to complete a qualified public offering is outside the control of the Company, it meets the definition of a contingent settlement event under IND AS 32, resulting in the CCPS being classified as a financial liability. Further, the holders' option to convert CCPS into equity shares is subject to variation due to the anti-dilution clause. Accordingly, the conversion option is to be classified as an embedded derivative and should be separated from the host debt. The Company has taken the option to classify the entire CCPS at fair value through profit or loss instead of accounting for the host debt and the embedded derivative separately. The dividends on these CCPS are recognised as finance expenses in the statement of profit and loss.

D) Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability/equity. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109.

E) Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or the counterparty.

F) Impairment

The Company recognises loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12 month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognised, is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss.

G) Interest income

Interest income is recognised using effective interest method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset.

2.8 Property, plant and equipment

All items of property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the assets.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each Balance Sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets and the cost of assets not ready to use before such date are disclosed under 'Capital work-in-progress'.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

2.8 Property, plant and equipment (continued)

Depreciation methods, estimated useful life and residual value:

Depreciation is calculated using the written down value method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful life as follows:

Management estimate of useful life

Computer equipments: 3 years
Office equipments: 1-5 years

Useful life as per Schedule II

Computer equipments: 3 years
Office equipments: 5 years

The assets' residual value and useful life are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss within other gains/ (losses).

2.9 Intangible Assets

Software:

Operating software is capitalised along with the related fixed assets. Costs associated with maintaining the software are recognised as an expense as incurred. Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of identifiable and unique software products controlled by the company are recognised as intangible assets where the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the software so that it will be available for use
- management intends to complete the software and use or sell it
- there is an ability to use or sell the software
- it can be demonstrated how the software will generate probable future economic benefits
- adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the software are available, and
- the expenditure attributable to the software during its development can be reliably measured.

Amortisation methods and periods:

The Company amortizes software with a finite useful life using the straight line method over three years and the useful life is reviewed at end of each reporting period, and adjusted if appropriate. The amortisation method and the estimated useful life of intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting period.

2.10 Impairment of assets

Assessment is done whenever there is an event or change in circumstances as to where there is any indication that an asset (tangible and intangible) may be impaired. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of asset, is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/ cash generating unit is made. Assets whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less cost of disposal and value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Assessment is also done at each Balance Sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in prior accounting periods may no longer exist or may have decreased. Assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

2.11 Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. In case of long term provisions, they are disclosed by discounting at the rate used to determine the present value, which is a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation, that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

2.12 Fair value measurement

Fair value' is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or, in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the Company has access at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects its non-performance risk. All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the restated financial information are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

2.13 Employee benefits

i) Short term obligations:

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligation in the restated statement of assets and liabilities.

ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liabilities for earned leave are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. They are therefore measured at the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method. The benefits are discounted using the market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. Remeasurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in statement of profit and loss. Past service costs are recognised immediately in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the restated statement of assets and liabilities if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

iii) Post employment obligations:

The Company operates the following post-employment schemes:

a) Defined benefit plans (gratuity)

The company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan covering eligible employees in accordance with the Payment of Gratuity (Amendment) Act, 2018. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment.

The liability or asset recognised in the restated statement of assets and liabilities in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the restated statement of assets and liabilities.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognised immediately in profit or loss as past service cost.

b) Defined contribution plan such as provident fund and employees state insurance

The Company pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered provident funds and employees state insurance funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and recognised as employee benefit expense when they are due.

iv) Bonus plans

The Company recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses. The Company recognises a provision where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

v) Share-based payments

The fair value of options granted under the Tracxn Employee Stock Option Plan 2016" is recognised as an employee benefits expense with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted:

- including any market performance conditions (e.g., the entity's share price)
- excluding the impact of any service and non-market performance vesting conditions (e.g. profitability, sales growth targets and remaining an employee of the entity over a specified time period), and
- including the impact of any non-vesting conditions (e.g. the requirement for employees to save or hold shares for a specific period of time).

The total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At the end of each period, the entity revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

2.14 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Ordinary shares that will be issued upon the conversion of a mandatorily convertible instrument are included in the calculation of basic earnings per share from the date these mandatorily convertible instruments are classified as equity.

2.15 Contributed equity

Equity shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

2.16 Dividends

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

2.17 Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the restated financial information and notes have been rounded off to the nearest thousands as permitted by Schedule III of Companies Act, 2013, unless otherwise stated. Amounts mentioned as "0" in the restated financial information denote amounts rounded off, being less than INR 500.

3 Critical estimates and judgements

The preparation of these restated financial information requires the use of accounting estimates which could differ from the actual results. Management also needs to exercise judgement in applying the Company's accounting policies. These note provides an overview of the areas that involved higher degree of judgement or complexity and of items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements is included in the relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation for each affected line item in the restated financial information.

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

4 (a) Significant estimates:-

i) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences:

The cost of the defined benefit gratuity plan and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases attrition rates and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date. The parameter most subject to change is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate, the management considers the interest rates of government bonds in currencies consistent with the currencies of the post-employment benefit obligation. Further details about gratuity obligations are given in Annexure V - Note 12.

ii) Fair value measurement of CCPS:

Fair value of CCPS is measured using Black Scholes option pricing model. The significant assumptions used in determining the fair values of CCPS are discount rates using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and expected volatility. For further details about Fair value measurement, refer Annexure V - note 21.

4 (b) Critical judgement:

i) Recognition and measurement of deferred tax:

Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. The company has not recognised the deferred tax asset in the absence of reasonable certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future taxable income will be available for set-off. Further details about Deferred tax assets are given in Annexure V - Note 20.

ii) The Company has issued Series A, Series A4, Series B1 and Series B2 Compulsorily Convertible Cumulative Preference Shares (CCPS) which are held by the investors (i.e. other than the promoters). If declared by the Board, each holder of such CCPS, shall be entitled to receive a preferential cumulative dividend at the rate of 0.001% per annum. Refer note 10 (b) for details of the terms and conditions of such CCPS. As per the shareholders agreement dated 10 December 2020, the Company is required to provide an exit to Series A investors by way of Qualified IPO or a Strategic Sale within 7 years from the Series A closing date, the failure of which will provide the investor the right to require the Company to buy back the shares held by them at fair value. In the event the Company provides an exit to Series A investors, the Series A4, Series B1 and Series B2 Investors shall be entitled to participate in the relevant exit provided by the Company to Series A investors on same terms and at the same price as applicable to the shares held by Series A investors.

A successful Qualified IPO or a strategic sale is not in the control of the Company, hence it does not have an unconditional right to defer the settlement of preference shares beyond 7 years. The instruments are hybrid instruments and have an embedded derivative in the form of settlement option and host non-derivative liability. On transition to Ind AS, the Company has designated these instruments as 'Other financial liabilities' valued at fair value through profit and loss as at the transition date. Consequent to transition to Ind AS, CCPS amounts received aggregating to INR 6,927.96 and INR 6,219.24 and securities premium thereon aggregating to INR 1,006,867.95 and INR 798,115.89 have been fair valued and presented as 'other financial liabilities' for the year ended 31 March 2020 and 31 March 2019 respectively, in accordance with the requirements of Ind AS 32 'Financial Instruments: Presentation' (Refer note 30B). However, as per the provisions of Companies Act, 2013, amounts received from issue of preference shares are to be disclosed under 'Preference share capital' and 'Securities premium' as applicable.

11(b) Other financial liabilities (contd.)

- iii) Pursuant to waiver cum amendment agreement dated 30 March 2021 to the shareholders agreement dated 10 December 2020, all entitled CCPS holders have irrevocably revoked/ waived off their buyback right associated with the CCPS held by them. Basis this development as on the date of the waiver, the buyback clause is neither enforceable nor exercisable.

Consequently, such CCPS in their entirety met the definition of an equity instrument as per Ind AS 32 with effect from 30 March 2021. As a result of this, the entire financial liabilities pertaining to such CCPS as at 30 March 2021 (including INR 1,873.77 issued during the year) have been classified as preference share capital amounting to INR 6,934.30, Security premium of INR 1,008,735.38 and Retained earnings of INR 573,239.67, after adjusting for fair market value gain of INR 104,634.48 for the period 1 April 2020 to 30 March 2021. [Also refer Notes 10(b), 10(c) and 16(b)]. Such presentation as at 31 March 2021 is in accordance with Ind AS and Companies Act, 2013.

Risk Exposure

Through its defined benefit plan, the Company is exposed to a number of risks. The most significant risks are:

(i) Interest rate risk : The defined benefit obligation calculated uses a discount rate based on government bonds. If bond yields fall, the defined benefit obligation will tend to increase.

(ii) Salary inflation risk : Higher than expected increases in salary will increase the defined benefit obligation

(iii) Demographic risk : This is the risk of variability of results due to factors like mortality, withdrawal, disability and retirement. The effect of these on the defined benefit obligation is not straight forward and depends upon the combination of salary increase, discount rate and attrition rate.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to changes in the principal assumptions is as under:

Changes in assumption	Change in DBO	Impact on defined benefit obligation (DBO)
		Gratuity
		31 March 2021	31 March 2020	31 March 2019 (Proforma)
		%	%	%
Discount rate
a. Increase by 0.5%	Decrease by	(938.09)	(1,862.99)	(798.23)
b. Decrease by 0.5%	Increase by	996.98	2,048.55	883.25
Withdrawal rate
a. Increase by 1%	Decrease by	(855.77)	(1,579.56)	(115.20)
b. Decrease by 1%	Increase by	927.55	1,795.31	85.86
Salary escalation rate
a. Increase by 1%	Increase by	1,566.14	2,732.80	1,641.84
b. Decrease by 1%	Decrease by	(1,492.07)	(2,582.55)	(1,459.95)

The above sensitivity analysis are based on a change in an assumption while holding all other assumptions constant. In practice, this is unlikely to occur, and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied as when calculating the defined benefit liability recognised in Restated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to the prior year.

B. Fair value hierarchy

This section explains the judgements and estimates made in determining the fair values of the financial instruments that are (a) recognised and measured at fair value and (b) measured at amortised cost and for which fair values are disclosed in the financial statements. To provide an indication about the reliability of the inputs used in determining fair value, the Company has classified its financial instruments into 3 levels/hierarchy prescribed under the accounting standard.

Level 1: Level 1 hierarchy includes financial instruments measured using quoted prices. This includes mutual funds that have quoted price. The mutual funds are valued using the closing NAV.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximize the use of observable market data and rely as little as possible on entity-specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.
During the year, there were no financial instruments which are measured at Level 2 category.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

There are no transfers between the levels during the year.

C. Valuation techniques:

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

- the use of published NAV's for mutual funds.
- the fair value of other financial liabilities (CCPS) is determined using Black Scholes option pricing model.

D. Valuation inputs and relationships to fair value

			31 March 2020	31 March 2019 (Proforma)	31 March 2020	31 March 2020	31 March 2019 (Proforma)	31 March 2019 (Proforma)
CCPS	Risk-free interest rate	+/- 100 bps	6.14%	7.35%	5,019.64	(5,329.77)	4,921.46	(5,429.42)
	Volatility	+/- 500 bps	33.73%	21.72%	(16,570.49)	15,170.95	(13,442.42)	11,715.56

E. Valuation process:

The fair value of the CCPS as at each reporting date is determined based on the valuation performed by an independent valuer. The significant level 3 inputs for determining the fair values of CCPS are discount rates using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and expected volatility.

F. Fair value of financial assets and liabilities measured at amortised cost:

The carrying amounts of trade receivables, loans, trade payables, cash and cash equivalents, other financial assets and other financial liabilities are considered to be the same as their fair values due to their short-term nature.

For financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

22 Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to market risk, liquidity risk and credit risk. The Company's risk management is carried out by the management in accordance with the policies and objectives of the Company under the supervision of the Board of Directors that help in identification, measurement, mitigation and reporting all risks associated with the activities of the Company. These risks are identified on a continuous basis and assessed for impact on the financial performance. Information on risks and the response strategy is escalated in a timely manner to facilitate timely decision making. Risk response strategy is formulated for key risks by Management. The below table broadly summarizes the sources of financial risk to which the entity is exposed to and how the entity manages the risk.

Financial risk	Exposure arising from	Measurement	Management
Credit risk	Cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables and financial assets measured at amortised cost.	Ageing analysis Credit ratings	Periodic review of customer credit limits; review of aging for trade receivables
Liquidity risk	Trade payables, other financial liabilities and other liabilities	Rolling cash flow forecasts.	Continuous monitoring and fund management to ensure timely payment of dues
Market risk - foreign exchange	Future commercial transactions, recognised financial assets and liabilities not denominated in Indian rupee	Sensitivity analysis	Increased focus on a) advance export billing b) localization to minimize risk
Market risk - security prices	Investments in mutual funds	Sensitivity analysis	Portfolio diversification and review of portfolio

A. Credit risk

Credit risk is a risk where the counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument leading to a financial loss. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, loans, investments in mutual funds and other financial assets measured at amortised cost.

(i) Credit risk management

Credit risk on cash and cash equivalents is limited as the Company generally invest in deposits with banks with high credit ratings assigned by external agencies. Investments primarily include investment in debt based mutual funds whose portfolios have instruments with high credit rating. The board of directors periodically review the investment portfolio of the Company.

Loans comprises of refundable security deposits made on premises taken on lease. Management has evaluated and concluded that the impact of credit losses on these deposits is not likely to be material.

Credit risk with respect to trade receivable is managed by the Company through setting up credit limit and periodical review of credit worthiness of major customers. The Company has historically not faced significant challenges in collecting money from its customers and thus the credit exposure is assessed to be low.

Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying business, Company's treasury maintains flexibility in funding by maintaining availability of required funds.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the Company's liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows.

30 Transition to Ind AS

The accounting policies set out in Annexure V have been applied in preparing the Restated financial information for the years ended 31 March 2021, 31 March 2020 and 31 March 2019. The Company has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. 1 April 2019 while preparing Restated Financial Information for the year ended 31 March 2019.

Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments are made in the financial statements as of and for the year ended 31 March 2019 and April 1, 2018. An explanation of how the transition from Previous GAAP to Ind AS has affected the Company's Restated Financial Information is set out in the following tables and notes.

A. Exemptions and exceptions availed

A.1 Ind AS optional exemptions :

A.1.1 Revenue from contracts with customers

When applying Ind AS 115 retrospectively, Ind AS 101 permits a first-time adopter an option not to restate completed contracts that begin and end within the same annual reporting period.

A.2 Ind AS mandatory exceptions :

A.2.1 Estimates

An entity's estimates in accordance with Ind ASs at the date of transition to Ind AS shall be consistent with estimates made for the same date in accordance with previous GAAP (after adjustments to reflect any difference in accounting policies), unless there is objective evidence that those estimates were in error.

Ind AS estimates are consistent with the estimates as at the same date made in conformity with previous GAAP.

The Company made estimates for the following items in accordance with Ind AS at the date of transition as these were not required under previous GAAP:

- a) impairment of financial assets based on expected credit loss model
- b) Fair valuation of CCPS carried at FVTPL

A.2.2 De-recognition of financial assets and liabilities

IND AS 101 requires a first time adopter to apply the de-recognition provisions of IND AS 109 prospectively for transactions occurring on or after the date of transition to IND AS. However, IND AS 101 allows a first time adopter to apply the de-recognition requirements in IND AS 109 retrospectively from a date of the entity's choosing, provided that the information needed to apply to IND AS 109 to financial assets and financial liabilities derecognised as a result of past transactions was obtained at the time of initially accounting for those transactions.

The Company has elected to apply the de-recognition provisions of IND AS 109 prospectively from the date of transition to IND AS.

A.2.3 Classification and measurement of financial assets

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification and measurement of financial assets on the basis of the facts and circumstances that exist at the date of transition to Ind AS.

(iii) Impact of Ind AS adoption on the Statement of Cash Flows

There are no material adjustments to the Statement of Cash Flows as reported under previous GAAP.

30 Transition to Ind AS (Contd)

C Transition to Ind AS - Notes

Note 1: Remeasurements of post-employment benefit obligations

Under Ind AS, remeasurements i.e. actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets, excluding amounts included in the net interest expense on the net defined benefit liability are recognised in other comprehensive income instead of profit or loss. Under the previous GAAP, these remeasurements were forming part of the profit or loss for the year.

Note 2: Fair valuation of investments

Under previous GAAP, the Company were carrying their current investment at the lower of carrying amount and face value. Under Ind AS, these investments are required to be measured at fair value. The resulting fair value of these investments have been recognised as at the date of transition and subsequently in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss for the years ended 31 March 2020 and 31 March 2019.

Note 3: Employee share based payments expense

Under the previous GAAP, the cost of equity-settled employee share-based plan was recognised using the intrinsic value method. For options granted under graded vesting plan, the Company recognised the share based payment expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for the entire award (i.e., over the requisite service period of the last separately vesting portion of the award) under the Previous GAAP. Under Ind AS, the cost of equity settled share-based plan is recognised based on the fair value of the options at the grant date. If the share-based payment is subject to different vesting periods, each of these instalments is accounted for as a separate award under Ind AS.

Ind AS 101 permits a first-time adopter to not consider the number of options, that have already vested as on the date of transition, for fair valuation. However, the Company has elected to apply Ind AS 102 retrospectively from the date of grant of options. The resulting impact have been adjusted against retained earnings on the date of transition with a corresponding increase in employees stock options reserve. Thus there is no impact on the total equity.

Note 4: Other comprehensive income

Under Ind AS, all items of income and expense recognised in a period should be included in profit or loss for the period, unless a standard requires or permits otherwise. Items of income and expense that are not recognised in profit or loss but are shown in the statement of profit and loss as 'other comprehensive income' includes remeasurements of defined benefit plans. The concept of other comprehensive income did not exist under previous GAAP.

Note 5: Compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares (CCPS)

Under the previous GAAP, CCPS issued to the investors were classified as equity and carried at transaction value.

The Company had issued CCPS to the investors. The terms of the instrument provided the holder an option to convert the instrument and also a right to put back the instrument to the Company on the event the Company is not able to conduct a successful qualified IPO within 7 years from the date of issue. On such occurrence, the Company will be obliged to buyback CCPS at a price equal the fair value of shares. Since the conduct of successful qualified IPO is not within the control the Company, the Company doesn't have an unconditional right to avoid settlement. Thus, these instruments are in the nature of hybrid instrument with embedded derivative in the form of settlement option and host non-derivative liability. On transition, this instrument is recorded at its fair value and difference between its fair value and the carrying amount as per previous GAAP is recognised in the retained earnings.

Note 6: Retained earnings

31 Leases

The Company has taken certain office premises on lease. Rental contracts are typically made for 1 to 3 years, but may have extension options as described in note iii below. The notice period for such leases is 2-3 months where either party can terminate the lease without any significant penalty or loss. Accordingly, the Company has elected to take short-term exemption for leases based on management assessment.

i) Amounts recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss

iii) Extension and termination options are included in property lease agreements. These are used to maximise operational flexibility in terms of managing the assets used in the Company's operations. Extension and termination options held are exercisable by both the Company and the lessor. Extension options have not been included in the lease term as exercising this option is currently not reasonably certain.

ii) Note 33 to the financial statements which explains the uncertainties and the management's assessment of the financial impact due to the lockdown and other restrictions and conditions related to the COVID-19 pandemic situation, for which a definitive assessment of the impact in the subsequent period is highly dependent upon circumstances as they evolve.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of these matters."

2) Emphasis of matter for the year ended 31 March 2020

"We draw your attention to the Note 31 to the financial statements, which describes the management's assessment of the impact of the outbreak of Coronavirus (Covid-19) on the business operations of the Company. The management believes that no adjustments are required in the financial statements as it does not impact the current financial year, however, in view of the various preventive measures taken (such as complete lock-down, travel restrictions etc.) and highly uncertain economic environment, a definitive assessment of the impact on the subsequent periods is highly dependent upon circumstances as they evolve. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter."

We launched our platform in Fiscal 2015 with a particular focus on the global emerging technology sector, providing users with detailed profiles of companies including detailed information of funding rounds and acquisition related information, taxonomy and market maps, global competitor benchmarking, financial information, valuation and capitalization tables, employee count, investor profiles, competitor mapping, information about founders, key team and board member, company and sector specific reports and news events. Our platform uses an in-house developed algorithm based on a combination of technology and human analysts, to process vast amounts of data, create profiles and provide market intelligence on private market companies. Our human-in-the-loop plays a strategic role, focusing on quality assurance and addressing data and intelligence gaps that technology alone cannot solve. We believe that this combination of technology coupled with human-in-the-loop has helped us maintain a high degree of accuracy and effectiveness while exponentially expanding our global coverage. Our platform includes multiple work-flow tools such as a customizable customer relationship management (“CRM”) tool integrated with our database allowing for better deal management. The platform allows personalization for enhanced tracking and data driven insights. Its capabilities include sourcing dashboards both locally and globally, portfolio tracking, data intelligence and data analytics.

Over the years, we have developed a systematic process of sourcing data including technology-based data extraction and instantaneous data upload through APIs. We also rely on information from websites, news reports, press releases, social media and events to identify and track private market company information. As a part of our sourcing process, we also obtain financial and non-financial information through automation from regulatory filings globally. We have an added layer of language translation that is used for sourcing information from countries where English is not the primary language.

We have a geographically diversified Customer Account base comprising (i) private market investors and investment banks viz., venture capital and private equity investors, investment banks, (ii) corporates across industries, and (iii) others including government agencies, universities, accelerators and incubators. SIGNIFICANT FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

Expansion of Customer Accounts and sales to existing customers

Relationships with our customers are core to our business. Our Customer Accounts have increased at a CAGR of 34.73%, from 471 Customer Accounts, as of March 31, 2019 to 855 Customer Accounts, as of March 31, 2021. Our ability to grow our customer base and drive adoption of our platform is affected by the pace at which organisations consume private market data. We expect that our revenue growth will be primarily driven by the pace of adoption of our platform and our ability to cover new entities and sectors, add new data points for existing entities, update existing data on our platform, include additional coverage of new and emerging sectors and in different jurisdictions, integration with existing and upcoming technologies, ability to identify relevant use cases for such enhancements, and overall market acceptance. We believe the degree to which prospective customers recognise the need for our offerings to maximise their business process, would lead to a higher budget allocation by such prospective customers for utilizing our platform. This will drive our ability to acquire new customers and increase sales to existing customers, which in turn, will affect our future financial performance.

As we continue to focus on expanding our customer base for our platform, we have been and will continue upgrading and optimizing our platform to address our customers' evolving business requirements. We believe the long-term growth and future success of our business largely depends on our ability to adapt our offerings to more business scenarios and deliver measurable benefits to our customers. As we continue to introduce new functions and features to enhance our platform, we benefit from a customer base that provides visibility for our future growth. As we continue to deliver measurable business results to our customers, we are capable of driving customer loyalty and spending, thereby achieving our sustainable growth in the long term.

We believe we have a substantial opportunity to grow our customer base. We have invested, and intend to continue to invest, in order to drive sales to new customers. In particular, we have made, and plan to continue to make, investments to enhance the expertise of our sales and marketing teams. Our ability to increase sales to existing customers will depend on a number of factors, including the size of our sales force and professional services teams, customers' level of satisfaction with our services and professional services, pricing, economic conditions and our customers' overall budget and spending levels. We believe that our ability to establish and strengthen customer relationships and expand the scope of our products and services will be an important factor in our future growth and our ability to continue increasing our profitability.

Employee costs

Employee benefit expense is a significant component of our total expenses. As of March 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021 we had 779, 697 and 624 employees, respectively. Our employee benefit expenses were ₹ 462,115.68 thousand, ₹ 512,792.12 thousand and ₹ 538,130.90 thousand and constituted 84.90%, 84.98% and 88.09% of our total expenses in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. As we expand our business operations, we expect to incur additional employee costs resulting from an increase in the number of personnel as well as the employment of technically qualified employees. The technology industry is highly competitive, and it can be difficult and expensive to attract and retain talented and experienced employees. Our ability to recruit, retain and manage our technology professionals and sales and marketing professionals will have an effect on our results of operations. As we continue to invest in the recruitment and retention of sales staff in line with our growth strategies, we are likely to incur additional costs in relation to our market penetration, sales and marketing initiatives, and for the recruitment of sales employees.

Our employee benefits expenses consist of salaries, wages and bonus, contribution to provident fund and other funds, employee stock compensation expense, compensated absences, gratuity and staff welfare. Salaries and wages in India, including in the services industry, have historically been lower than those in the United States and other developed economies. However, if these costs in India continue to increase at a rate faster than in the United States, Europe and other developed economies due to competitive pressures, we may experience a greater increase in our employee costs, thereby eroding one of our principal cost advantages over competitors in the United States and other developed economies.

Ability to enhance operating efficiency through investments in technology

Our results of operations have been, and will continue to be, affected by our ability to improve our operating efficiency, especially through investment in technology. As our business continues to grow, it is essential to improve operating efficiency to maintain the competitiveness of our platform. We intend to continue to invest in further developing and applying advanced technologies in the fields of programming tools, programming languages, operating systems, data matching, data filtering, data predicting, artificial intelligence, machine learning systems and other database technologies to enhance the functionalities and customer experience of our platform. Our technology infrastructure costs (inclusive of software, web-hosting and domain charges) were ₹ 15,771.55 thousand, ₹ 22,585.07 thousand and ₹ 25,547.07 thousand and represented 2.90%, 3.74% and 4.18% of our total expenses in Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. In the future, we will continue to invest in technology to further enhance our operations, which may increase our expenditure or operating costs but will improve our operating leverage, cost efficiency and service quality. Our continued improvement of our platform is paramount to our customer experience, driving our ability to attract and retain customers, improve subscriptions, and generate revenues. Going forward, we intend to continue to prudently invest resources in technology in a cost-effective manner to support the long-term growth of our business.

Changes in currency exchange rates

Changes in currency exchange rates may influence our results of operations. We report results in our financial statements in Indian rupees, while a significant part of revenues is from outside India and costs associated with our international operations are denominated in currencies other than Indian rupees, most significantly the U.S.

dollar. Changes in the value of the Indian rupee against such other currencies, particularly the U.S. dollar, could increase or decrease the rupee cost of purchasing software, components or services and the cost of making various payments, and increase or reduce our margins. The exchange rate between the Indian rupee and these other currencies particularly the U.S. dollar has been volatile in recent periods and may continue to fluctuate significantly in the future. We closely follow our exposure to foreign currencies and may, in the future, selectively enter into hedging transactions to reduce the risks of currency fluctuations.

Impact of COVID-19 pandemic on the information services market and our operations

Businesses worldwide have suffered volatility due to the ongoing pandemic and in 2020 most businesses recorded negative or below average growth. With a rise in COVID-19 cases across different geographies, governments have re-introduced lockdowns and other associated restrictions. As these restrictions continue, businesses are operating partially which has largely dented their growth perspective. Technology spend is expected to get impacted as businesses across industry verticals globally resort to cost cutting. The impact of COVID-19 on IT spending is expected to be much higher than what it was during the global recession of 2007 – 2008, where the IT spending declined by over USD 165 billion. Overall spending in IT declined in 2020 as most businesses came to standstill. However, as businesses look to consolidate and re-build their IT infrastructure, the overall IT expenditure is expected to return to pre-pandemic phase by second half of 2021. The total addressable market for private market data was US$ 1,322 million in 2021 and revenue is expected to grow at a CAGR of 11.78% to US$ 2,097 million in 2025. The total addressable market is expected to grow as private market data service providers are expected to further penetrate the market in the next five years. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, we may experience slowed growth and may also witness a decline in customer demand for our platform and lower demand from our existing customers for upgrades within our platform, as well as existing and potential customers reducing or delaying purchasing decisions. Our customers or potential customers, particularly in industries most impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic may reduce their technology spending or spending on private market information services offerings or delay their M&A or other strategic initiatives, which could materially and adversely impact our business.

We carried out an impact assessment of the pandemic on our operations and believe that there was minimum disruption to our operations. As at the end of Fiscal 2021, we assessed the recoverability of the carrying values of property, plant and equipment, trade receivables, investments, other assets and carrying value of liabilities and no adjustments is required to be made in respect of such assets and liabilities as at March 31, 2021. We have also assessed the liquidity position of our Company for the next 12 months and basis that assessment believe that the Company will be able to meet all its financial obligations with the existing cash and bank balances and the projections of future cash inflows.

We also transitioned to working from home for a significant portion of the time during the COVID-19 pandemic. Our technology infrastructure has enabled us to function efficiently during the COVID-19 related lockdown. In addition, we have temporarily reduced capacity at our office, implemented travel restrictions for all non-essential business, and shifted company events to virtual-only experiences. For further information, see “Risk Factors – Our business, results of operations and our financial condition may be impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and such impact could be materially adverse and continue for an unknown period of time.” at page 33. Given the rapidly changing implications of the spread of COVID-19, it is difficult to assess its impact on our business and results of operations at this time and we may not be able to quantify or accurately predict such impact.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Our management monitors and manages key financial risk relating to our operations by analysing exposures by degree and magnitude of risk. The risks include market risk (including interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. Our Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of our risk management framework. Our risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by us, to set appropriate risk limits and controls and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and our activities.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counter party will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. Trade receivables are typically unsecured and are derived from revenue earned from customers. Our trade receivables for Fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021 were ₹ 42,567.26 thousand, ₹ 43,998.27 thousand and ₹ 56,853.94 thousand, respectively. We manage credit risk through credit approvals, by establishing credit limits and periodic review of the creditworthiness of customers to whom we grant credit in the normal course of business.

Expected Credit Loss

We allocate each exposure to a credit risk grade based on a variety of data that is determined to be predictive of the risk of loss, (for example, timeliness of payments and available information) and applying experienced credit judgement. Exposures to customers outstanding at the end of each reporting period are reviewed by us to determine incurred and expected credit losses, giving due regard for probable exposures on disputed dues or dues that are subject to litigation. We have not experienced significant impairment of trade receivables resulting in credit losses.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that we will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with our financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Our principal sources of liquidity are cash and cash equivalents and the cash flow that is generated from operations. We have established a liquidity risk management framework for the management of our short-term, medium-term and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. We manage liquidity risk by maintaining reserves by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows.

Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. We report results in our financial statements in Indian rupees, while a significant part of revenues associated with our international operations are denominated in currencies other than Indian rupees, most significantly the U.S. dollar. We are exposed to the effects of fluctuation in the prevailing foreign currency exchange rates on its financial position and cash flows. Exposure arises primarily due to exchange rate fluctuations between the functional currency and other currencies from our operating, investing and financing activities.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as, equity price risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include foreign currency receivables, deposits, investments in mutual funds. We have established risk management policies to limit the impact of these risks on our financial performance. We aim to ensure optimization of cash through fund planning and cash management practices.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates.

Price Risk

Investment of our short-term surplus funds in liquid schemes of mutual funds provides high levels of liquidity from a portfolio of money market securities and high quality debt and categorized as 'low risk' product from liquidity and interest rate risk perspectives.

Market risk arising out of COVID-19

The economic, operational and regulatory implications of COVID-19 may have an impact on our business and the extent to which COVID-19 will affect our future results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain. Our business depends on offering our Tracxn platform on a subscription basis to a global customer base that helps venture capital, private equity investors and corporate development teams by tracking and curating data of start-ups. We continue to provide services to our customers uninterruptedly despite the lock-down and other restrictions.

The responses and measures taken in India and rest of the world against the COVID-19 pandemic, including lock-down and mandatory or voluntary social distancing have led to lower levels of business activities in India and the world. The effects of COVID-19 on our business could be long-lasting and could have adverse effects on our business, results of operations, liquidity, cash flows and financial condition, some of which may be significant, and may adversely impact our ability to operate our business on the same terms as we conducted business prior to the pandemic. Since the situation is continuously evolving, the impact assessed may be different from the estimates made and our management will continue to monitor any material changes arising due to the impact of COVID-19 on our financial and operational performance and take necessary measures to address the situation.

For further information, see “– Significant Factors Affecting Results of Operations and Financial Condition – Impact of COVID-19 pandemic on the information services market and our operations” on page 239. See also, “Risk Factors – Our business, results of operations and our financial condition may be impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and such impact could be materially adverse and continue for an unknown period of time.” at page 33.

Inflation

In recent years, India has experienced relatively high rates of inflation. While we believe inflation has not had any material impact on our business and results of operations, inflation generally impacts the overall economy and business environment and hence could affect us.

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the restated financial information of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (‘the functional currency’). The restated financial information are presented in Indian Rupee (INR), which is the Company’s functional and presentation currency.

Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are recognised in the restated statement of profit and loss.

Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the restated statement of profit and loss on a net basis within other gains/ (losses).

Revenue from contract with customers

Sale of services

The Company receives subscription revenue from rendering of services through its platform. Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when services are rendered to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration entitled in exchange for those services. The Company recognizes subscription revenues over time wherein the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company. The progress is measured using the output method which measures revenue by comparing ‘time elapsed’ to the ‘total subscription period’.

Revenue is recognised, net of goods and services tax, when no significant uncertainty exists regarding the amount of the consideration that will be derived from rendering the service. In few cases, the Company provides refunds against revenue received from certain customers. The Company estimates the refund liability on the basis of their past experience and future expectation, as that is the amount of consideration for which the entity does not expect to be entitled.

The invoicing for the services is done upfront irrespective of the duration of the subscription with a credit term of 10-15 days, which is consistent with market practice. The Company does not adjust the transaction prices for any time value of money as the transfer of the promised services to the customer and payment by the customer does not generally exceed one year.

Contract liabilities

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer services to a customer for which the Company has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Company performs under the contract.

Income tax

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses, if any.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation and considers whether it is probable that a taxation authority will accept an uncertain tax treatment. The Company measures its tax balances either based on the most likely amount or the expected value, depending on which method provides a better prediction of the resolution of the uncertainty.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the restated financial information. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses, if any, only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in restated statement of profit and loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) is recognised as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period. Such asset is reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and carrying amount of the MAT credit asset is written down to the extent there is no longer a convincing evidence to the effect that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period.

Leases

As a lessee

Leases are recognised as a Right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the company.

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments), less any incentives receivable;

- variable lease payments that are based on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be payable by the company under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the company is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the company exercising that option.

Extension and termination options are included in many of the leases. In determining the lease term the management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option, or not exercise a termination option. Lease payments to be made under reasonably certain extension options are also included in the measurement of the liability. The lease payments are discounted using the company's incremental borrowing rate, which is the rate that the Company would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

If a readily observable amortising loan rate is available to the Company (through recent financing or market data) which has a similar payment profile to the lease, then the Company uses that rate as the incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to restated statement of profit and loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Lease payments that represent payments based on actual utilisation of common facilities of the leased asset are recognised in the restated statement of profit and loss as and when they are incurred.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of initial measurement of lease liability;
- any lease payments made on or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs; and
- restoration costs.

Right-of-use assets are generally depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis. Payments associated with short-term leases are recognised on a straight-line basis as an expense in the restated statement of profit and loss. Short-term leases are leases with a term of 12 months or less. The lease contracts also include non-lease components which are charged to the restated statement of profit and loss as and when incurred.

Initial recognition and measurement

The Company recognises financial assets and financial liabilities when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All financial assets and liabilities are recognised at fair value on initial recognition. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value on initial recognition.

Subsequent measurement

Financial assets carried at amortised cost

Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in the statement of profit and loss using the effective interest rate method. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in the statement of profit and loss. Impairment losses are presented in the statement of profit and loss. Financial assets at amortised cost comprises of trade receivables, loans, cash and cash equivalents and other financial assets.

Trade receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for goods sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. Trade receivables are recognised initially at the amount of consideration that is unconditional unless they contain significant financing components, when they are recognised at fair value. The Company holds the trade receivables with the objective to collect the contractual cash flows and therefore measures them subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method less impairment loss, if any.

Loans (Security Deposits)

On initial recognition, Loans are measured at fair value. Since the objective is to hold these financial assets to collect contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest, these assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method less impairment, if any.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

Other financial assets

On initial recognition, Other financial assets are measured at fair value, and subsequently, measured at the amortised cost, less impairment if any. Loss arising from impairment, if any is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

The Company holds certain investments in mutual funds which are subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial liabilities measured at amortised costs

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The Company's financial liabilities consist of trade payables and Other financial liabilities.

Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial year, which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within the credit period. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Financial liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss include financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL).

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit and loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains or losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognised in other comprehensive income (OCI). These gains/ loss are not subsequently transferred to profit and loss. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the restated statement of profit and loss. Financial liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss consist of Compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares.

Compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares

The Company has assessed the debt/equity classification for compulsorily convertible cumulative preference shares (CCPS) based on the requirements in Ind AS 32. Based on the terms and conditions of issue of certain CCPS, the investor has an option to put the CCPS back to the Company for cash through a buy back in the event the Company is unable to provide an exit to the CCPS holders through a Qualified IPO or a strategic sale. As the failure to complete a qualified public offering is outside the control of the Company, it meets the definition of a contingent settlement event under IND AS 32, resulting in the CCPS being classified as a financial liability. Further, the holders' option to convert CCPS into equity shares is subject to variation due to the anti-dilution clause. Accordingly, the conversion option is to be classified as an embedded derivative and should be separated from the host debt. The Company has taken the option to classify the entire CCPS at fair value through profit or loss instead of accounting for the host debt and the embedded derivative separately. The dividends on these CCPS are recognised as finance expenses in the statement of profit and loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability/equity. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or the counterparty.

Impairment

The Company recognises loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12 month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognised, is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss.

Interest income

Interest income is recognised using effective interest method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset.

Property, Plant and Equipment

All items of property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the assets.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each Balance Sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets and the cost of assets not ready to use before such date are disclosed under 'Capital work-in-progress'.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful life and residual value:

Depreciation is calculated using the written down value method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful life as follows:

Management estimate of useful life

Office equipment 1-5 years

Useful life as per Schedule II

Computer equipment: 3 years
Office equipment: 5 years

The assets' residual value and useful life are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the restated statement of profit and loss within other gains/ (losses).

Intangible Assets

Software

Operating software is capitalised along with the related fixed assets. Costs associated with maintaining the software are recognised as an expense as incurred. Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of identifiable and unique software products controlled by the company are recognised as intangible assets where the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the software so that it will be available for use
- management intends to complete the software and use or sell it
- there is an ability to use or sell the software
- it can be demonstrated how the software will generate probable future economic benefits
- adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the software are available, and
- the expenditure attributable to the software during its development can be reliably measured.

Amortisation methods and periods

The Company amortizes software with a finite useful life using the straight line method over three years and the useful life is reviewed at end of each reporting period, and adjusted if appropriate. The amortisation method and the estimated useful life of intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting period.

Impairment of assets

Assessment is done whenever there is an event or change in circumstances as to where there is any indication that an asset (tangible and intangible) may be impaired. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of asset, is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/ cash generating unit is made. Assets whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less cost of disposal and value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Assessment is also done at each Balance Sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in prior accounting periods may no longer exist or may have decreased. Assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. In case of long term provisions, they are disclosed by discounting at the rate used to determine the present value, which is a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation, that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

Fair value measurement

Fair value' is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or, in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the Company has access at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects its non-performance risk. All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the restated financial information are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3: Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

Employee benefits

Short term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligation in the restated statement of assets and liabilities.

Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liabilities for earned leave are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. They are therefore measured at the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method. The benefits are discounted using the market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. Remeasurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in statement of profit and loss. Past service costs are recognised immediately in the restated statement of profit and loss.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the restated statement of assets and liabilities if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

Defined benefit plans (gratuity)

The company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan covering eligible employees in accordance with the Payment of Gratuity (Amendment) Act, 2018. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment.

The liability or asset recognised in the restated statement of assets and liabilities in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the restated statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the restated statement of assets and liabilities.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognised immediately in profit or loss as past service cost.

Defined contribution plan such as provident fund and employees state insurance

The Company pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered provident funds and employees state insurance funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and recognised as employee benefit expense when they are due.

Bonus plans

The Company recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses. The Company recognises a provision where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

Share-based payments

The fair value of options granted under the Tracxn Employee Stock Option Plan 2016 is recognised as an employee benefits expense with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted:

- including any market performance conditions (e.g., the entity's share price)
- excluding the impact of any service and non-market performance vesting conditions (e.g. profitability, sales growth targets and remaining an employee of the entity over a specified time period), and
- including the impact of any non-vesting conditions (e.g. the requirement for employees to save or hold shares for a specific period of time).

The total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At the end of each period, the entity revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Ordinary shares that will be issued upon the conversion of a mandatorily convertible instrument are included in the calculation of basic earnings per share from the date these mandatorily convertible instruments are classified as equity.

Contributed equity

Equity shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

Dividends

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the restated financial information and notes have been rounded off to the nearest thousands as permitted by Schedule III of Companies Act, 2013, unless otherwise stated. Amounts mentioned as "0" in the restated financial information denote amounts rounded off, being less than ₹ 500.

Critical estimates and judgements

The preparation of these restated financial information requires the use of accounting estimates which could differ from the actual results. Management also needs to exercise judgement in applying the Company's accounting policies. These notes provide an overview of the areas that involved higher degree of judgement or complexity and of items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements is included in the relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation for each affected line item in the restated financial information.

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Significant estimates

Defined benefit plans and compensated absences

The cost of the defined benefit gratuity plan and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases attrition rates and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date. The parameter most subject to change is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate, the management considers the interest rates of government bonds in currencies consistent with the currencies of the post-employment benefit obligation.

Fair value measurement of CCPS

Fair value of CCPS is measured using Black Scholes option pricing model. The significant assumptions used in determining the fair values of CCPS are discount rates using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and expected volatility.

Critical judgement

Recognition and measurement of deferred tax

Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. The company has not recognised the deferred tax asset in the absence of reasonable certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future taxable income will be available for set-off.

SEBI, through its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2018/138 dated November 1, 2018 as amended from time to time, including pursuant to circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2019/50 dated April 3, 2019 (“UPI Circulars”) has proposed to introduce an alternate payment mechanism using Unified Payments Interface (“UPI”) and consequent reduction in timelines for listing in a phased manner. UPI has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism with the ASBA for applications by Retail Individual Investors through intermediaries from January 1, 2019. The UPI Mechanism for Retail Individual Investors applying through Designated Intermediaries, in phase I, was effective, along with the prior process and existing timeline of T+6 days (“UPI Phase I”), until June 30, 2019. Subsequently, for applications by Retail Individual Investors through Designated Intermediaries, the process of physical movement of forms from Designated Intermediaries to SCSBs for blocking of funds has been discontinued, and only the UPI Mechanism with existing timeline of T+6 days is applicable for a period of three months or launch of five main board public issues, whichever is later (“UPI Phase II”) with effect from July 1, 2019, pursuant to SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2019/76 dated June 28, 2019, read with circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2019/85 dated July 26, 2019. Further, as per the SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019, the UPI Phase II had been extended until March 31, 2020. However, due to the outbreak of COVID-2019 pandemic, UPI Phase II has been further extended by SEBI until further notice, by its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020. Thereafter, the final reduced timeline of T+3 days may be made effective using the UPI Mechanism for applications by Retail Individual Investors (“UPI Phase III”), as may be prescribed by SEBI. Accordingly, the Offer will be made under UPI Phase II, unless UPI Phase III becomes effective and applicable on or prior to the Bid / Offer Opening Date. If the Offer is made under UPI Phase III, the same will be advertised in [●] editions of the English national daily newspaper, [●] editions of the Hindi national daily newspaper, [●] and [●] editions of the Kannada daily newspaper, [●] (Kannada being the regional language of Karnataka, where our Registered Office is located) on or prior to the Bid / Offer Opening Date and such advertisement shall also be made available to the Stock Exchanges for the purpose of uploading on their websites. Further, SEBI, vide the UPI Streamlining Circular, has introduced certain additional measures for streamlining the process of initial public offers and redressing investor grievances. This circular shall come into force for initial public offers opening on or after May 1, 2021, except as amended pursuant to SEBI circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/P/CIR/2021/570 dated June 2, 2021, and the provisions of this circular are deemed to form part of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our Company, the Selling Shareholders and the members of the Syndicate do not accept any responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of the information stated in this section and the General Information Document and are not liable for any amendment, modification or change in the applicable law which may occur after the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Bidders are advised to make their independent investigations and ensure that their Bids are submitted in accordance with applicable laws and do not exceed the investment limits or maximum number of Equity Shares that can be held by them under applicable law or as specified in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, the Red Herring Prospectus and the Prospectus.

Further, our Company, the Selling Shareholders and the Syndicate are not liable for any adverse occurrences consequent to the implementation of the UPI Mechanism for application in this Offer.

Book Building Procedure

The Offer is being made in terms of Rule 19(2)(b) of the SCRR, through the Book Building Process, in accordance with Regulation 6(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, wherein not less than 75% of the Net Offer shall be Allotted to QIBs on a proportionate basis, provided that our Company and the Investor Selling Shareholders, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Manager, may allocate up to 60% of the QIB Category to Anchor Investors, on a discretionary basis in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, of which one-third shall be reserved for domestic Mutual Funds, subject to valid Bids being received from them at or above the Anchor Investor Allocation Price. In case of under-subscription or non-allocation in the Anchor Investor Portion, the remaining Equity Shares will be added back to the QIB Category (other than Anchor Investor Portion). 5% of the QIB Category (excluding the Anchor Investor Portion) shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Mutual Funds only, and the remainder of the QIB Category shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to all QIBs (other than Anchor Investors), including Mutual Funds, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. Further, not more than 15% of the Net Offer shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Non-Institutional Bidders and not more than 10% of the Net Offer shall be available for allocation to Retail Individual Bidders in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price.

Subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price, under-subscription, if any, in any category, except the QIB Category, would be allowed to be met with spill-over from any other category or categories, as applicable, at the discretion of our Company and the Investor Selling Shareholders in consultation with the Book Running Lead Manager and the Designated Stock Exchange, subject to applicable laws. Under-subscription, if any, in the QIB Portion, would not be allowed to be met with spill-over from any other category or a combination of categories.

The Equity Shares, on Allotment, shall be traded only in the dematerialized segment of the Stock Exchanges.

Bidders should note that the Equity Shares will be Allotted to all successful Bidders only in dematerialised form. The Bid cum Application Forms which do not have the details of the Bidders' depository account, including DP ID, Client ID and PAN and UPI ID (for RIBs using the UPI Mechanism), shall be treated as incomplete and will be rejected. Bidders will not have the option of being Allotted Equity Shares in physical form.

Phased implementation of Unified Payments Interface

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of inter alia, equity shares. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by RIBs through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RIB had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 had extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II till March 31, 2020. Further, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020 dated March 30, 2020 decided to continue Phase II of UPI with ASBA until further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by RIBs through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will be replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: The commencement period of Phase III is yet to be notified. In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing is proposed to be reduced to three Working Days. Accordingly, upon commencement of Phase III, the reduced time duration shall be applicable for the Offer.

Pursuant to the UPI Streamlining Circular, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Streaming Circular include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, a requirement that SCSBs must send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement that the Registrar must submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement that the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders be unblocked no later than one day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within such timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints, the relevant SCSB as well as the BRLM will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

All SCSBs offering the facility of making applications in public issues shall also provide the facility to make application using UPI. The Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as a Sponsor Bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and/ or payment instructions of the Retail Individual Bidders using the UPI.

The Offer will be made under UPI Phase II of the UPI Circular, unless UPI Phase III of the UPI Circular becomes effective and applicable on or prior to the Bid/Offer Opening Date. If the Offer is made under UPI Phase III of the UPI Circular, the same will be advertised in [●] editions of the English national daily newspaper, [●] editions of the Hindi national daily newspaper, [●] and [●] editions of the Kannada daily newspaper, [●] (Kannada being the regional language of Karnataka, where our Registered Office is located) on or prior to the Bid/ Offer Opening Date, and such advertisement shall also be made available to the Stock Exchanges for the purpose of uploading on their websites.

When a Bidder revises his or her Bid, he/she shall surrender the earlier Acknowledgement Slip and may request for a revised Acknowledgement Slip from the relevant Designated Intermediary as proof of his or her having revised the previous Bid.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is governed inter alia through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India, FEMA and the FEMA NDI Rules. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries / departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment.

The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The DPIIT issued the Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy notified by the DPIIT File No. 5(2)/2020-FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020, with effect from October 15, 2020 (the “FDI Policy”), which consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT or the DPIIT that were in force and effect prior to October 15, 2020. The Government of India proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the foreign direct investment policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI / RBI.

Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country (“Restricted Investors”), will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has also made a similar amendment to the FEMA Rules. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank or fund in India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Offer. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Offer in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Offer Period.

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Offer.

The Equity Shares offered in the Offer have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any other applicable law of the United States, and, unless so registered, may not be offered or sold within the United States, except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws. Accordingly, the Equity Shares are being only offered and sold (i) within the United States only to persons reasonably believed to be “qualified institutional buyers” (as defined in Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act and referred to in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus as “U.S. QIBs”) in transactions exempt from, or not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act, and (ii) outside the United States in offshore transactions in compliance with Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act and the applicable laws of the jurisdiction where those offers and sales occur. For the avoidance of doubt, the term “U.S. QIBs” does not refer to a category of institutional investors defined under applicable Indian regulations and referred to in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus as “QIBs”.

The Equity Shares have not been and will not be registered, listed or otherwise qualified in any other jurisdiction outside India and may not be offered or sold, and Bids may not be made by persons in any such jurisdiction, except in compliance with the applicable laws of such jurisdiction.

The above information is given for the benefit of the Bidders. - 7.7.8. If the ROFO Holder(s) issues the ROFO Exercise Notice within the ROFO Notice Period but the Qualifying Investor declines to sell the ROFO Offered Securities or fails to issue the ROFO Acceptance Notice within the ROFO Acceptance Period, the Qualifying Investors shall be free, for a period of 90 (ninety) days from the expiry of the ROFO Acceptance Period, to transfer the ROFO Offered Securities to a third party provided that the price at which the Qualifying Investor Transfers the ROFO Offered Securities shall be higher than the ROFO Offer Price and the terms of the Transfer of the ROFO Offered Securities to the ROFO Transferee are favourable than those offered by the ROFO Holders.

be determined by the relevant Qualifying Investor. The Company and Founders shall do all such acts, deeds, matters and things as may be necessary or required by the Qualifying Investor for it to Transfer the ROFO Offered Securities to the ROFO Transferee, including the provision of customary representations and warranties as to the shares, the business and affairs of the Company that are customary in such transactions.  - 7.8.2. If a Tag Holder desires to exercise the Shareholder Tag Along Right, it must give the Founder Seller a written Notice along with the details of number of Shares it proposes to Transfer (“Shareholder Tag Along Shares”) to that effect within 30 (thirty) days of the receipt of Transfer Notice, and upon giving such Notice, the Tag Holder shall be deemed to have effectively exercised the Shareholder Tag Along Right. 9.1.3. Conversion.

- (a) The holders of the Series A CCPS may convert the Series A CCPS in whole or part into Equity Shares at any time before 19 (Nineteen) years from the date of issuance of the same subject to the adjustments provided in Articles 9.1.4, 9.1.6 and 9.1.7 below and other terms and conditions of these Articles. Accordingly, subject to the adjustments provided in Article 11.1.4, Article 11.1.5 and Article 11.1.6, the holders of Series A2 CCPS shall be entitled to the same number of votes for each Series A2 CCPS as a holder of 1 (One) Equity Share, provided however that in the event of any adjustment in conversion the number of votes associated with each Series A2 CCPS will change accordingly. The holders of Series A2 CCPS shall be entitled to vote on all such matters which affect their rights directly or indirectly.

11.1.8. Rights of Shareholders. The Company may issue Shares to any Person with rights that are pari passu or superior to the rights of the holders of Series A2 CCPS without the consent of the holders of Series A2 CCPS.

11.2 Broad Based Weighted Average Valuation Protection for Series A2 CCPS.

11.2.1. Definitions. For the purposes of this Article 11.2 and unless the context requires a different meaning, the following terms have the meanings indicated.

- (a) "Issue Date" shall have the meaning ascribed to it in Article 11.2.2(a)(ii).
- (b) "Lowest Permissible Price" in relation to a Person shall mean the lowest possible price at which a Share may be issued to/acquired by that Person in accordance with Applicable Law.
- (c) "New Issue Price" shall have the meaning ascribed to it in Article 11.2(a)(i).
- (d) "Issue Price" shall mean the Series A2 Conversion Price as adjusted from time to time.

11.2.2. Non-Dilution Protection.

(a) Issuance below Issue Price.

- (i) New Issues. If the Company shall at any time or from time to time issue or sell any Dilution Instruments at a price per Dilution Instrument that is less than the Issue Price (treating the price per Dilution Instrument as equal to (x) the total sum paid for such Dilution Instruments plus any additional consideration payable (without regard to any anti-dilution adjustments) upon the conversion, exchange or exercise of such Dilution Instruments divided by (y) the number of Shares initially underlying such Dilution Instruments) (the "New Issue Price"), other than Exempted Issuance and any Dilution Instruments offered in accordance with contracts with vendors or on account of acquisition and other similar transaction approved by the Board, then, the holders of Series A2 CCPS shall be issued additional Equity Shares at par or at the lowest value permitted under the exchange control Laws of India as would enable them to maintain their shareholding of the Series A2 CCPS in accordance with Article 11.2.2(a)(iii) ("Anti-Dilution Issuance").
- (ii) Timing for New Issues. Such Anti-Dilution Issuance shall be made whenever such Dilution Instruments are issued in accordance with Article 11.2.2(a)(i), (x) in the case of an issuance to the Shareholders of the Company, as such, to a date immediately following the close of business on the record date for the determination of Shareholders entitled to receive such Dilution Instruments and (y) in all other cases, on the date (the "Issue Date") of such issuance; provided, however, that the determination as to whether an anti-dilution issuance is required to be made pursuant to Article 11.2.2(a) shall be made immediately or simultaneously upon the issuance of such Dilution Instruments, and not upon the subsequent issuance of any security into which the Dilution Instruments convert, exchange or may be exercised.

- (iii) Anti-Dilution Issuance. If an Anti-Dilution Issuance is to be undertaken pursuant to an occurrence of any event described in Article 11.2.2(a)(i), the conversion price shall be adjusted in accordance with the following formula:

"P1" is the Issue Price;

"Q1" means the number of Equity Shares Outstanding immediately prior to the new issue;

"Q2" means such number of Equity Shares that the aggregate consideration received by the Company for such issuance would purchase at Issue Price;

"R" means the number of Equity Shares issuable / issued upon conversion of the Dilution Instruments being issued.

For purposes of this Condition, the term "Equity Shares Outstanding" shall mean the aggregate number of Equity Shares of the Company then outstanding (assuming for this purpose the exercise and/or conversion of all then-outstanding securities exercisable for and/or convertible into Equity Shares (including without limitation the conversion of all Preference Shares)).

- 11.2.3. Reorganization, Reclassification. In case of any reconstruction or consolidation of the Company or any capital reorganization, reclassification or other change of outstanding Shares or if the Company declares a distribution (other than dividend for cash) on its Equity Shares or the Company authorizes the granting to the holders of its Equity Shares rights or warrants to subscribe for or purchase any Equity Shares of any class or of any other rights or warrants; or upon occurrence of any other similar transaction (each, a "Transaction");

- (i) then the Company shall mail to each holder of Series A2 CCPS at such holder's address as it appears on the books of the Company, as promptly as possible but in any event at least 20 (Twenty) days prior to the applicable date hereinafter specified, a Notice stating the date on which a record is to be taken for the purpose of such dividend, distribution or granting of rights or warrants or, if a record is not to be taken, the date as of which the holders of Equity Shares of record to be entitled to such dividend, distribution or granting of rights or warrants are to be determined. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of any event to which this Paragraph is applicable, the Company shall also deliver the certificate described in Article 11.2.3(ii) below to each holder of Series A2 CCPS at least 10 (ten) Business Days' prior to effecting such reorganization or reclassification as aforesaid
- (ii) the Company shall execute and deliver to each holder of Series A2 CCPS at least 7 (Seven) Business Days prior to effecting such Transaction a certificate, signed by (i) the chief executive officer of the Company and (ii) the chief financial officer of the Company, stating that the holder of each Series A2 CCPS shall have the right to receive in such Transaction, in exchange for each such Equity Share or Series A2 CCPS, a security identical to (and not less favourable than) each such Equity Share or Series A2 CCPS and no less favourable than any security offered to any Shareholder for or in relation to that Transaction, and provision shall be made therefor in the agreement, if any, relating to such Transaction.

- 11.2.4. Mode of Giving Effect to Valuation Protection: In the event of the provisions of Article 11.2.2(a) become applicable, then the holders of Series A2 CCPS, shall have the option to require the Company to (a) adjust the conversion ratio or conversion price of the Series A2 CCPS, (b) Transfer Shares held by the Founders to the holders of Series A2 CCPS at lowest price permissible under Applicable Law; (c) buy back of Shares held by Founder, Angel Investors and the Other Shareholders; (d) reduce the sale proceeds receivable by the Founders; (e) issue of additional Shares to the holders of Series A2 CCPS at the lowest permissible price; or (f) take such measures as may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this Article 11.2.

- (a) Waiver. If a Shareholder is entitled under any contract, requirement of Applicable Law or otherwise to participate in relation to any issue of Shares to the holders of Series A2 CCPS under this Article 11.2, then such Shareholder hereby waives all such rights and, to the extent it cannot waive such rights it shall not to exercise them.
- (b) Ensuring Economic Effect. If for any reason any part of this Article 11.2 is not fully effected as a result of any change in Applicable Law (including a change in Applicable Law that affects the price at which the holders of Series A2 CCPS may sell or be issued Shares) then each Shareholder and the Company shall each use its best efforts to take all such actions (by corporate, director or shareholder action) as may be necessary to provide to each holder of Series A2 CCPS the same economic benefits as are contemplated by this Article 11.2.
- (c) Change in Applicable Law. If there is a change in any Applicable Law that makes it possible to implement any part of this Article 11.2 so as to confer the economic benefits on the holders of Series A2 CCPS that are contemplated by this Article 11.2 in a more effective manner then each Shareholder and the Company shall co-operate and use its best efforts to implement this Article in that more effective manner.
- (d) Material Breach of this Article. If a Shareholder breaches a provision of this Article 11.2 or acts or omits to act in a particular manner and as a result of such breach, act or omission, a holder of Series A2 CCPS is unable to be issued the number and percentage of Equity Shares or Equity Shares at a price contemplated by this Article 11.2 then that Shareholder is deemed to have committed a material breach of these Articles.
- (e) Currency Exchange. If in calculating a price or any other amount under this Article 12.2 the relevant variables for that calculation are expressed in different currencies then all such variables for the purposes of that calculation shall be converted to INR.

XII. TERMS OF SERIES A3 CCPS

12.1 The Series A3 CCPS are issued with the following characteristics, including certain rights vested in the holders of the Series A3 CCPS which are in addition to, and without prejudice to, the other rights of the holders of the Series A3 CCPS set out in these Articles.

However, at any given point of time, the Series A3 Conversion Price shall not be adjusted to a price which is less than the fair market value of the Series A3 CCPS determined as on the date of issuance of the Series A3 CCPS. The adjusted Series A3 Conversion Price shall be construed as the relevant Series A3 Conversion Price and accordingly the conversion ratio for Series A3 CCPS shall be determined (“Series A3 Conversion Ratio”). No fractional Shares shall be issued upon conversion of Series A3 CCPS, and the number of Equity Shares to be issued shall be rounded up to the nearest whole number.

- (b) The holders of Series A3 CCPS shall, at any time prior to 19 (nineteen) years from the date of issuance of the same, be entitled to call upon the Company to convert all or any of the Series A3 CCPS by issuing a Notice to the Company accompanied by a share certificate representing the Series A3 CCPS sought to be converted. Immediately and no later than 21 (twenty one) days from the receipt of such Notice, the Company shall issue Equity Shares in respect of the Series A3 CCPS sought to be converted. The record date of conversion of the Series A3 CCPS shall be deemed to be the date on which the holder of Series A3 CCPS issues a Notice of conversion to the Company. The Series A3 CCPS, if not converted earlier, shall automatically convert into Equity Shares at the then applicable Series A3 Conversion Price, upon the earlier of the following (i) on latest permissible date prior to the issue of Shares to the public in connection with the occurrence of a Public Offer under Applicable Law, or (ii) on the day following the completion of 19 (nineteen) years from the date of issuance of the same.

- (b) If, whilst any Series A3 CCPS remain capable of being converted into Equity Shares, the Company makes or issues a dividend or other distribution of Equity Shares to the holders of Equity Shares then the number of Equity Shares to be issued on any subsequent conversion of Series A3 CCPS shall, subject to Applicable Law and receipt of requisite approvals, be increased proportionately and without payment of additional consideration therefor by the holders of Series A3 CCPS.

12.1.5. Valuation Protection. If the Company offers any Dilution Instruments to a new investor or a third party after the Series A3 Closing Date, at a price (the “New Price”) less than the then effective conversion price of the Series A3 CCPS Conversion Price (“Dilutive Issuance”), then the holders of Series A3 CCPS shall be entitled to a broad based weighted-average valuation protection as provided for in Article 12.2 (the “Valuation Protection Right”). In such an event, the Company and Founders shall be bound to cooperate with the holders of Series A3 CCPS such that the Company forthwith takes all necessary steps as described in Article 12.2. The Company shall notify the holders of Series A3 CCPS of the impact of the Dilutive Issuance prior to such issuance and obtain confirmation from the holders of Series A3 CCPS that the same conforms to these terms of issue.

Any incremental Shares that need to be issued or Transferred to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS to facilitate realization of the Preference Amount shall be made at the option of the holder of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS respectively by (a) an adjustment of the conversion price of the Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS as the case may be; (b) issue of additional Shares at the lowest permissible price to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS as the case may be; (c) Transfer of Shares held by the Founders at lowest price permissible under Applicable Law to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS as the case may be; (d) buy back of Shares held by the Founders, the Angel Investors and the Other Shareholders; (e) reduction of the sale proceeds receivable by the Founders; or, (f) by such taking such measures as may be necessary to ensure that the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS realize the Preference Amount.

Any incremental Shares that need to be issued or Transferred to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS to facilitate realization of the A2 & A3 Preference Amount shall be made at the option of the holder of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS respectively by (a) an adjustment of the conversion price of the Series A2 CCPS or Series A3 CCPS, as the case may be; (b) issue of additional Shares at the lowest permissible price to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS, as the case may be; (c) Transfer of Shares held by the Founders at lowest price permissible under Applicable Law to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS, as the case may be; (d) buy back of Shares held by the Founders, the Angel Investors and the Other Shareholders; (e) reduction of the sale proceeds receivable by the Founders; or, (f) by such taking such measures as may be necessary to ensure that the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS realize the A2 & A3 Preference Amount
- (e) In any Liquidation Event, subject to Applicable Law, upon and subject to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS receiving the Preference Amount and the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS receiving the A2 & A3 Preference Amount, the holders of Ordinary CCPS shall have a preference over the other Shareholders for return of capital such that subject to any amount remaining for distribution, the holders of Ordinary CCPS shall receive an amount equal to 1X of the amounts invested by them for subscription of Ordinary CCPS, plus any declared and all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon in preference to distribution of the proceeds to any other Shareholders (“Kolluri Preference Amount”).

- (f) If the amount available for distribution, (if any) after payment of the Preference Amount and the A2 & A3 Preference Amount to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A2 CCPS, Series A3 CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS is lower than the Kolluri Preference Amount, subject to Applicable Law, the entire amount shall be distributed to the holders of Ordinary CCPS. - (a) Waiver. If a Shareholder is entitled under any contract, requirement of Applicable Law or otherwise to participate in relation to any issue of Shares to the holders of Series A3 CCPS under this Article 12.2, then such Shareholder hereby waives all such rights and, to the extent it cannot waive such rights it shall not to exercise them.

- (c) Change in Applicable Law. If there is a change in any Applicable Law that makes it possible to implement any part of this Article 12.2 so as to confer the economic benefits on the holders of Series A3 CCPS that are contemplated by this Article in a more effective manner then each Shareholder and the Company shall co-operate and use its best efforts to implement this Article 12.2 in that more effective manner.
- (d) Material Breach of this Article. If a Shareholder breaches a provision of this Article 12.2 or acts or omits to act in a particular manner and as a result of such breach, act or omission, a holder of Series A3 CCPS is unable to be issued the number and percentage of Equity Shares or Equity Shares at a price contemplated by this Article 12.2 then that Shareholder is deemed to have committed a material breach of the Articles.

The terms of issuance of Series B1 CCPS, Series A4 CCPS and Series A CCPS shall rank pari passu to each other (except the Issue Price, which shall be Series A Conversion Price in relation to Series A CCPS, Series A4 Conversion Price in relation Series A4 CCPS and Series B1 Conversion Price in relation Series B1 CCPS).

However, at any given point of time, the Series A4 Conversion Price shall not be adjusted to a price which is less than the fair market value of the Series A4 CCPS determined as on the date of issuance of the Series A4 CCPS. The adjusted Series A4 Conversion Price shall be construed as the relevant Series A4 Conversion Price and accordingly the conversion ratio for Series A4 CCPS shall be determined (“Series A4 Conversion Ratio”). No fractional Shares shall be issued upon conversion of Series A4 CCPS, and the number of Equity Shares to be issued shall be rounded up to the nearest whole number.
 - (b) The holders of Series A4 CCPS shall, at any time prior to 19 (nineteen) years from the date of issuance of the same, be entitled to call upon the Company to convert all or any of the Series A4 CCPS by issuing a Notice to the Company accompanied by a share certificate representing the Series A4 CCPS sought to be converted. - (b) If, whilst any Series A4 CCPS remain capable of being converted into Equity Shares, the Company makes or issues a dividend or other distribution of Equity Shares to the holders of Equity Shares then the number of Equity Shares to be issued on any subsequent conversion of Series A4 CCPS shall, subject to Applicable Law and receipt of requisite approvals, be increased proportionately and without payment of additional consideration therefor by the holders of Series A4 CCPS.

13.1.5. Valuation Protection. If the Company offers any Dilution Instruments to a new investor or a third party after the Series A4 Closing Date, at a price (the “New Price”) less than the then effective conversion price of the Series A4 CCPS Conversion Price (“Dilutive Issuance”), then the holders of Series A4 CCPS shall be entitled to a broad based weighted-average valuation protection as provided for in Article 13.2 (the “Valuation Protection Right”). In such an event, the Company and Founders shall be bound to cooperate with the holders of Series A4 CCPS such that the Company forthwith takes all necessary steps as described in Article 13.2. Any incremental Shares that need to be issued or Transferred to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS to facilitate realization of the Preference Amount shall be made at the option of the holder of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS respectively by (a) an adjustment of the conversion price of the Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS as the case may be; (b) issue of additional Shares at the lowest permissible price to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS as the case may be; (c) Transfer of Shares held by the Founders at lowest price permissible under Applicable Law to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS as the case may be; (d) buy back of Shares held by the Founders, the Angel Investors and the Other Shareholders; (e) reduction of the sale proceeds receivable by the Founders; or, (f) by such taking such measures as may be necessary to ensure that the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS realize the Preference Amount.
- (c) In any Liquidation Event, subject to Applicable Law, upon and subject to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS receiving the Preference Amount, holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS shall have a preference over the Shareholders and for return of capital as set out hereinafter. The proceeds of a Liquidation Event shall be distributed such that the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS receive the higher of (a) an amount equal to 1X of the amounts invested by them for subscription of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS respectively, plus any declared and all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, or (b) their pro rata entitlement on an As If Converted Basis (“A2 & A3 Preference Amount”).

- (d) If the amount available for distribution, (if any) after payment of the Preference Amount to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS is lower than the A2 & A3 Preference Amount, then the entire amount available for distribution shall be distributed to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS in proportion to amounts invested by them for subscription of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS respectively. Any incremental Shares that need to be issued or Transferred to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS to facilitate realization of the A2 & A3 Preference Amount shall be made at the option of the holder of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS respectively by (a) an adjustment of the conversion price of the Series A2 CCPS or Series A3 CCPS, as the case may be; (b) issue of additional Shares at the lowest permissible price to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS, as the case may be; (c) Transfer of Shares held by the Founders at lowest price permissible under Applicable Law to the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS, as the case may be; (d) buy back of Shares held by the Founders, the Angel Investors and the Other Shareholders; (e) reduction of the sale proceeds receivable by the Founders; or, (f) by such taking such measures as may be necessary to ensure that the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS realize the A2 & A3 Preference Amount.
- (e) In any Liquidation Event, subject to Applicable Law, upon and subject to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS receiving the Preference Amount and the holders of Series A2 CCPS and Series A3 CCPS receiving the A2 & A3 Preference Amount, the holders of Ordinary CCPS shall have a preference over the other Shareholders for return of capital such that subject to any amount remaining for distribution, the holders of Ordinary CCPS shall receive an amount equal to 1X of the amounts invested by them for subscription of Ordinary CCPS, plus any declared and all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon in preference to distribution of the proceeds to any other Shareholders (“Kolluri Preference Amount”).
- (f) If the amount available for distribution, (if any) after payment of the Preference Amount and the A2 & A3 Preference Amount to the holders of Series A CCPS, Series A2 CCPS, Series A3 CCPS, Series A4 CCPS, Series B1 CCPS and Series B2 CCPS, is lower than the Kolluri Preference Amount, subject to Applicable Law, the entire amount shall be distributed to the holders of Ordinary CCPS. The holders of Ordinary CCPS can choose to not to receive their Kolluri Preference amount in preference to other Shareholders and participate in the remaining proceeds of the Liquidations Events (post distribution to holders of Series A CCPS, Series A2 CCPS, Series A3 CCPS and Series A4 CCPS and Series B1 CCPS) together with all other Shareholders (except holders of Series A CCPS, Series A2 CCPS, Series A3 Series A4 CCPS and Series B1 CCPS) proportionately.

The holders of Series A4 CCPS shall be entitled to vote on all such matters which affect their rights directly or indirectly.

For purposes of this Condition, the term “Equity Shares Outstanding” shall mean the aggregate number of Equity Shares of the Company then outstanding (assuming for this purpose the exercise and/or conversion of all then-outstanding securities exercisable for and/or convertible into Equity Shares (including without limitation the conversion of all preference shares of the Company)).

13.2.3. Reorganization, Reclassification. In case of any reconstruction or consolidation of the Company or any capital reorganization, reclassification or other change of outstanding Shares or if the Company declares a distribution (other than dividend for cash) on its Equity Shares or the Company authorizes the granting to the holders of its Equity Shares rights or warrants to subscribe for or purchase any Equity Shares of any class or of any other rights or warrants; or upon occurrence of any other similar transaction (each, a “Transaction”):

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of any event to which this Paragraph is applicable, the Company shall also deliver the certificate described in Article 13.2.3(ii) below to each holder of Series A4 CCPS at least 10 (ten) Business Days' prior to effecting such reorganization or reclassification as aforesaid.

13.2.4. Mode of Giving Effect to Valuation Protection. In the event of the provisions of Article 13.2.2(a) become applicable, then the holders of Series A4 CCPS, shall have the option to require the Company to (a) adjust the conversion ratio or conversion price of the Series A4 CCPS, (b) Transfer Shares held by the Founders to the holders of Series A4 CCPS at lowest price permissible under Applicable Law; (c) buy back of Shares held by Founder, Angel Investors and the Other Shareholders; (d) reduce the sale proceeds receivable by the Founders; (e) issue of additional Shares to the holders of Series A4 CCPS at the lowest permissible price; or (f) take such measures as may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this Article 13.2.

- (b) Ensuring Economic Effect. If for any reason any part of this Article 13.2 is not fully effected as a result of any change in Applicable Law (including a change in Applicable Law that affects the price at which the holders of Series A4 CCPS may sell or be issued Shares) then each Shareholder and the Company shall each use its best efforts to take all such actions (by corporate, director or shareholder action) as may be necessary to provide to each holder of Series A4 CCPS the same economic benefits as are contemplated by this Article 13.2.

- (c) Change in Applicable Law. If there is a change in any Applicable Law that makes it possible to implement any part of this Article 13.2 so as to confer the economic benefits on the holders of Series A4 CCPS that are contemplated by this Article in a more effective manner then each Shareholder and the Company shall co-operate and use its best efforts to implement this Article 13.2 in that more effective manner.
- (d) Material Breach of this Article. If a Shareholder breaches a provision of this Article 13.2 or acts or omits to act in a particular manner and as a result of such breach, act or omission, a holder of Series A4 CCPS is unable to be issued the number and percentage of Equity Shares or Equity Shares at a price contemplated by this Article 13.2 then that Shareholder is deemed to have committed a material breach of the Articles.
