Resilience in adversity. Success on the horizon.

Resilience in adversity. Success on the horizon.

An organisation's true strength is reflected in its unwavering fortitude in times of adversity. At Asahi Songwon Colors Limited (ASCL), the preceding year was characterised by a series of challenges, including the Russia-Ukraine conflict, escalating raw material costs and supply chain disruptions. These circumstances served as rigorous examinations of our operational adeptness. Throughout this duration, our overarching objective remained steadfast: to stay resilient and ultimately achieve success.

ABOUT THE COMPANY

Delivering superior quality, consistently

A leader in the Indian pigment industry, Asahi Songwon Colors Limited (ASCL) has been transforming the industry with its pigments for over three decades. For the world, our story is one of creativity, innovation and a passion for perfection that has propelled us to the forefront of the industry.

From our humble beginnings, we have expanded our horizons, driven by a relentless pursuit for excellence. Our blue (Phthalocyanine) pigments have set global benchmarks, and with our recent foray into yellow and red pigments, we have cemented our position as a leading manufacturer in the country's surging market. In April 2022, we took a bold step in the realm of pharmaceuticals, with the acquisition of 78% stake in Atlas Life Sciences Private Limited, a manufacturer of bulk pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs). This strategic move has enabled us to expand our product basket, incorporating anti-convulsant, anti-psychotic and anti-diabetic APIs.

Despite the economic headwinds faced by the pigments and pharmaceuticals industries over the previous year, we remained resolute in our pursuit of growth and expansion. Through prudent and calculated decisions, we have enhanced our product portfolio, augmented our manufacturing capabilities and ventured into newer markets, all while navigating the challenges posed by a volatile market environment. As we look to the future, we remain grounded in our values, anchored by our commitment to stakeholders and inspired by the endless possibilities that lie ahead.

Vision

To be the world leader in the field of pigments by supplying quality and environment-friendly products to MNCs worldwide.

Mission

- To be the preferred supplier of finished pigments to MNCs worldwide with a higher pigments capacity
- To be the largest supplier of blue crude in the world
- To be the market leader in the pigment industry globally.

PRODUCTS

A spectrum of solutions

We are a leading player in the vibrant world of pigments and with our recent venture into APIs, we are constantly pushing the boundaries of excellence through our decades of expertise and innovative spirit.

Phthalocyanine pigments 1

For the past three decades, our commitment in the pigment industry has been unwavering, characterised by superior product quality and punctual deliveries. We have firmly established ourselves as a trusted partner across sectors, including printing inks, packaging inks, paints, plastics, and textiles.

The Phthalocyanine pigment market has witnessed substantial changes over the last decade, with India stepping into a leading role. Currently, India supplies over 70% of the global Phthalocyanine pigment demand, a space once primarily held by China.

GROWTH DRIVERS

- Increasing adoption of Phthalocyanine pigments in paints, printing inks, plastics, and other sectors due to their lightfastness, translucency, and high-straining properties
- Growing demand for copper Phthalocyanine blue in high-performance paint compositions across the automotive industry, considering its great colour and strength
- Surge in demand for colourants in the paints and coatings sector due to the increasing number of commercial establishments investing in paints and coatings to preserve the visual stature of their facilities

Azo pigments 2

We entered into a joint venture (JV) with UK's leading colour manufacturer Tennants Textiles Colours Limited (TTC) and formed Asahi Tennants Color Private Limited to manufacture red, yellow and orange Azo pigments. We invested a total of ₹82 crore in this venture. At optimum capacity utilisation, this facility can achieve ₹140-150 crore of turnover.

We allocated investments in essential infrastructure and common utilities. This forward-thinking strategy enables us to double our Azo pigment capacity with an added capital expenditure of approximately ₹40 crore.

During H1FY24, we commenced capital expenditure efforts to double our yellow pigment capacity. Completion of this expansion is anticipated by Q1FY25.

Cost competitiveness, domestic market knowledge, strong business relations and TTC's expertise in red and yellow pigments give us the competitive edge to harness opportunities in the Azo pigments market.

GROWTH DRIVERS

- Azo pigments possess exceptional colouring abilities, and exhibit better lightfastness, making them a preferred choice in the global market. The market is poised for growth, owing to the rising demand for high-quality pigments in various industries.
- The easy availability of raw materials in India is expected to boost the production of Azo pigments, ensuring consistent and uninterrupted production in the coming years.
- The anticipated rise in global population and economic expansion are expected to bolster the demand for printing inks for packaging, thus driving the growth of the Azo pigment market, especially in the developing countries.
- The increase in consumer spending and demand for a variety of colours, driven by the rising middle-class population in emerging economies, is expected to boost the demand for colourants, including Azo pigments. Their wide ranging applications, including in the manufacturing of construction materials, synthetic fibres, and cosmetics, act as a key growth driver for the global Azo pigment industry.

In April 2022, we acquired 78% stake in Atlas Life Sciences Private Limited (Atlas), a manufacturer of bulk pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs). The acquisition has added Atlas' fully operational WHO GMP- certified manufacturing facility in Odhav, Ahmedabad; a 4,000 square- foot state-of-the-art R&D facility; a 5,000 sq. ft corporate office; and a 15,000 sq. m land parcel in Chhatral with EC permission for 32 products to our portfolio. The R&D centre has a Product Development Lab and Process Development Lab. Quality control (QC) testing and stability studies are conducted on site.

The QC Lab is equipped with sophisticated instruments such as high-performance liquid chromatography (HPLC).

In FY2024 and FY2025, we plan to acquire an additional 11% stake annually in Atlas, based on performance metrics, thus bringing our equity stakes to 100% by the end of FY2025.

We will acquire an additional 11% stake in Atlas Life Sciences Private Limited each year in FY2024 and FY2025 based on performance metrics, bringing our equity stake to 100% by the end of FY 2025. Atlas' existing plant in Odhav has started to contribute to our consolidated financial results from Q1FY2023. We remain on track to start commercial production from October 2023 in our new plant in Chhatral to backward integrate the existing products and introduce newer high-value products.

GROWTH DRIVERS

- Increasing prevalence of chronic diseases worldwide is a major growth driver for the API market.
- Rising drug research and development activities for drug manufacturing is driving the demand for APIs.
- The adoption of sedentary lifestyle, coupled with rapid urbanisation is propelling the demand for therapeutic drugs.
- Strict regulatory guidelines to enhance clinical effectiveness of the final product are resulting in higher overhead costs. This in turn has forced many pharmaceutical companies to outsource their API manufacturing process, thus making the Asia-pacific region as the preferred cost-effective alternative to in-house manufacturing in western countries.

PRESENCE

Catering to the pigment needs of the world

Over the last decade, the competitive landscape in the chemical industry has undergone significant changes, particularly in Phthalocyanine pigments, where India has risen to dominate, supplying to over 70% of the global demand. As global clients explore alternatives to China, the Asia-Pacific region stands strong, with India poised to harness this momentum for its competitive gain.

We are observing a similar trend unfolding in Azos and APIs.

At ASCL, we are capitalizing on these industry shifts to broaden our reach and foster more robust relationships with our clientele.

CHAIRPERSON'S COMMUNIQUE

Committed to rebound and thrive

"As a Company, we practise the 3 Rs- reduce, recycle, and reuse, and have made it our mission to incorporate these principles into all aspects of our operations."

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS,

As we conclude another fiscal year, I consider it my responsibility to address you on the journey we have undertaken together. The year gone by has not only tested our resolve but also our adaptability as an organisation, inadvertently impacting our financial performance. We, at Asahi, acknowledge this reality with utmost sincerity. However, I believe our recent setbacks are simply a temporary detour and soon we will bounce back on the growth trajectory.

A tough macroeconomic environment

The year gone by was influenced by major events. The ongoing war between Russia and Ukraine has created major problems for the world's stability and economy. Because of the consequential energy crisis in Europe, inflation across nations was on the rise. Escalating interest rates went higher further hindered demand development. Meanwhile, China, a pivotal player in the chemical market, continued to maintain a stringent zero-Covid policy. This resulted in prolonged periods of lockdown for a significant portion of FY2023. This unwavering approach, while aimed at public health, has contributed to major disruptions in global supply chains and trade dynamics.

The slowdown in the ongoing global consumer demand became increasingly visible in the second half of 2022. India was not completely isolated from the effects of these events; however, the Indian economy showed resilience on the back of prudent policies and a strong domestic foundation.

Amidst the turbulent times, we have remained on track to our strategic objectives and focused on strengthening our core business.

The road to a gradual recovery

Our core values of innovation, expansion, empowerment, and a strong focus on quality continued to serve as a solid foundation during the year. We are now taking bold steps to improve our process, streamline our operations, expand our product portfolio, and build a more agile and responsive organisation that can adapt to changing market conditions.

We are already witnessing a gradual recovery across our businesses. With raw material prices beginning to stabilise and the destocking period slowly coming to an end, we are confident that the upcoming quarters will steer the Company in the direction of growth and continue to create value for all our stakeholders.

Ready to capitalise on opportunities

The past year has served as significant learning for us – we are now gearing up to make the most of upcoming opportunities.

With customers from Japan, Korea, and Thailand increasingly looking to diversify their supply chains away from China, India's Azo pigment industry holds significant potential for growth. As global businesses continue to seek ways to reduce risk and mitigate the impact of supply-chain disruptions, India's active combination of easy access to local raw materials and backward-integrated operations is poised to capture new opportunities. Moreover, the 'China + 1' strategy' is expected to last for long, aiding India's API industry. These trends are expected to act as demand drivers for our business.

We are well-poised to capitalise on these trends through our operational excellence, maximised efficiency and elevated performance across our installed capacity. Further, our laser focus on product quality and cost optimisation will empower us to unlock value-creating possibilities that benefit both our stakeholders and the broader community.

Our people, our backbone

As we persevered through hardships during the year, our people showed true resilience and stood by the Company. They responded to the challenges with determination, unity and a deep commitment to our shared vision of becoming a trusted leader in the pigment industry and I am immensely grateful to them.

We will continue creating a productive work environment that fosters our people's growth and development. Their dedication and commitment have allowed us to maintain long-standing customer relationships, gain trust and continue to deliver innovative solutions to customers around the world. We will thus, leave no stone unturned, in providing relevant career progression paths and performance-based rewards to recognise and celebrate their contributions.

Making an impact

We take pride in our unwavering commitment to preserving the environment and ensuring safety in all our operations. Our management is acutely aware of the need to maintain a green environment even at our manufacturing facilities.

As a Company, we practise the 3 Rs- reduce, recycle, and reuse, and have made it our mission to incorporate these principles into all aspects of our operations.

Amidst the turbulent times, we have remained on track to our strategic objectives and focused on strengthening our core business.

Our corporate vision for safety is centred around achieving the only acceptable standard of performance: zero accidents. To this end, we provide our staff with comprehensive work procedures and safety instructions, as well as conducting safety seminars, mock drills, and training programmes at regular intervals.

We are proud of our Vadodara Unit, which has been certified with ISO 9001:2015 and ISO 14001:2015 by a reputed certifying body. As a chemical Company, we are keenly aware of the impact our operations have on the environment. That is why we have made sustainability a cornerstone of our business strategy. By reducing our impact on the environment, we aim to lead the way in various aspects of our business.

Our core values of innovation, expansion, empowerment, and a strong focus on quality continued to serve as a solid foundation during the year.

Progressing with gratitude and confidence

As I conclude, I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to our shareholders, customers, employees, and all stakeholders who have stood with us through thick and thin. Your unwavering support and trust have been the pillars of our strength, something that inspires us every day. We are committed to continue working tirelessly to deliver the best results, and ensure sustainable growth for all.

Despite the turbulent year gone by, I believe that we can still seize opportunities and return to our growth trajectory. With our dedicated workforce, valuable partnerships and robust business strategies, I am confident that, together, we can achieve even greater success in the future.

Best wishes,

Paru M. Jaykrishna

LETTER FROM THE JOINT MD AND CEO

Towards recovery and renewed growth

"We are an environmentally conscious business and strive to reduce our carbon footprint. 'Reduce, reuse, recycle' is the philosophy we follow across our operations."

₹504.55 crore

OUR REVENUE FOR THE YEAR STOOD AT
₹504.55 CRORE AGAINST ₹410.82 CRORE
IN FY2022.

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS,

In the face of a challenging macroeconomic environment, the past year tested our resilience. While the financial results were not as anticipated, I am pleased to share that the tide is turning. The coming couple of years hold promise, as strategic adjustments position us for renewed growth.

You, our stakeholders, are essential to our growth journey and your unwavering support has propelled us forward. Thus, while we are optimistic about the future, we believe in transparency and honesty, and would like to openly communicate our performance to all those associated with us.

A year that tested us

With the continuing Russia-Ukraine war, significant energy crisis in Europe and rising inflation in the US, supply chains across the world were majorly disrupted. All three of our business verticals were impacted by adverse conditions, resulting in subpar financial performance.

Our pigments business was particularly affected by the customers' destocking in response to the uncertain economic environment in European markets, leading to decreased demand and lower realisations for Phthalocyanine and Azo pigments. Furthermore, high inventory costs, coupled with falling commodity prices had a significant impact on the operating profitability of our business. The demand for our blue products was unusually low, leading to lower capacity utilisation. However, we implemented the long-overdue maintenance shutdown for our blue pigment segment, which also helped us moderate our inventory levels.

The Azo market is gradually recovering from the effects of the dynamic macro-environment. The recovery has borne well for us and we have managed to maintain optimal operation levels for our yellow pigment production, bolstered by a strong demand for the product. We expect to ramp up the production of red pigments as well and debottleneck our yellow pigment capacity.

We experienced a drop in realisation for our APIs as well. However, we managed to maintain our market position by increasing volumes. The profitability of our API business has been low since its acquisition, but we are confident that this cycle will normalise as the inventory with higher costs is phased out and new orders start flowing in. Moreover, we remained committed to our capital expenditure plans at our new Chattral site for API production. We expect the commercial production to begin from October 2023. This investment will enhance our capabilities and position us for future growth in the segment.

Against these circumstances, our revenue for the year stood at ₹504.55 crore against ₹410.82 crore in FY2022. PAT and EBITDA stood at ₹(18.47) crore (against ₹14.65 crore in FY2022) and at ₹5.28 crore (against ₹31.95 crore in FY2022). While our performance does not look good, the strategic investments made over the past three years have fortified our optimism, even though this has not yet been reflected in our financial performance. Further, we have undertaken stringent cost control measures and are treading with caution. We remain confident that the coming quarters will be significantly better than the previous ones.

In 2007, we became a publicly listed company and have been delivering superior quality pigments to global clients for the past 30 years. We have been collaborating with Clariant for the past 19 years and have entered into a supply agreement and technical collaboration with DIC – the world's largest ink manufacturer.

A rock-solid foundation

Despite the challenging circumstances, your Company remained resilient owing to its solid foundation. Our growth journey of three decades continued to hold our boat steady in choppy waters.

We began our journey as a single-product, single-location company. In 2007, we became a publicly listed company and have been delivering superior quality pigments to global clients for the past 20 years. We have been collaborating with Clariant for the past 19 years and have entered into a supply agreement and technical collaboration with DIC – the world's largest ink manufacturer.

In the last few years, we acquired an API business, set up a new site in Dahej for a joint venture for making Azo pigments and are setting up a greenfield site for backward integration for the acquired business of API. We have grown against the odds and are proud to have set up a multi-product business with a presence in four locations today.

As I look ahead, I am confident that our pillars of innovation, expansion, empowerment and sustainability are well rooted in the ethos of excellence, and this strong foundation will continue to support us in delivering amplified value to all our stakeholders.

We plan to ramp up the capacity of the intermediates for pregabalin and supply them to our Odhav facility instead of buying them from external sources.

Committed to our expansion plans

Leveraging the solid foundation and our core values, we remained committed to our expansion plans during the year.

We have always believed that growth is essential to sustain a business, and with our new greenfield project in Chhatral, we aim to further cement our position as the market leader in the production of APIs and raw materials for pregabalin. With a total estimated cost of ₹70 crore, the project is a testament to our commitment to expanding our horizons and seizing growth opportunities in the pharmaceutical sector. Moreover, with the existing plant at Odhav already contributing to our consolidated financial results from Q1 FY2023, we are confident that this investment will further drive our growth and enhance our value proposition to stakeholders.

We plan to ramp up the capacity of the intermediates for pregabalin and supply them to our Odhav facility instead of buying them from external sources. This should help us improve our EBITDA margins.

Optimistic about the road ahead

As I write this letter, our Azo business is already gaining steady momentum and the demand for Phthalocyanine pigments is gradually improving. Raw material prices are stabilising and we have cleared our books of high-cost inventories. I am confident that things will only get better from here and we will bounce back from the challenges, stronger than ever.

As we think back on the past year, we remember the important lessons we have learned. Looking ahead, I am confident that we can use what we have learned to make the most of future opportunities and tackle challenges head-on.

In closing, I want to sincerely thank everyone who has supported us. Your unwavering support gives us the confidence to keep moving forward. Let's embrace the future with optimism, together.

Warm regards,

Gokul M. Jaykrishna
Joint MD and CEO

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

GLOBAL ECONOMY

According to the World Economic Outlook, the global economy is poised for gradual recovery, with projections forecasting growth to fall to 2.8% in 2023, before rising modestly to 3% in 2024.

Driven by accumulated consumer demand, persistent supply interruptions, and significant increases in commodity prices, inflation reached its highest levels in many economies last year. As a result, central banks took decisive measures to counteract this trend by implementing strong measures to align it with their goals and ensure that inflation expectations remain stable. It is expected to reduce from 8.7% in 2022 to 7.0% this year and 4.9% in 2024. The disruptions in supply chains are gradually resolving, and the effects of the war on energy and food markets are fading.

China's economy rebounded strongly, paving the way for a faster-than-expected recovery. Emerging markets and developing economies are making significant progress, as evidenced by their growth rates (comparing fourth quarters) surging from 2.8% in 2022 to 4.5% this year. Conversely, the deceleration is primarily seen in advanced economies, notably in the euro area and the United Kingdom.

The downside risks continue to outweigh the positives, with adverse factors, such as severe health outcomes in China, Russia's war in Ukraine, and tighter global financing costs, all posing significant challenges. The rise in commodity prices has added to the risk of an economic hard landing. This at the back of inflation, which is likely to hit in the first half of 2023 further exacerbates the economic uncertainty. However, on the upside, pent-up demand in numerous economies, a faster fall in inflation, and greater multilateral cooperation could mitigate the adverse effects. To this end, it is necessary to deploy macroprudential tools and further strengthen debt restructuring frameworks, while fiscal support should be targeted at those most affected by elevated food and energy prices.

Bolstering multilateral cooperation can safeguard the fruits of a hard-won, rules-based global economic system and address the urgent challenge of climate change by curtailing emissions, and strengthening investments in green technologies. Such efforts will not only foster a more sustainable future for the planet but also enhance the resilience of the global economy against future shocks.

INDIAN ECONOMY

The Indian economy maintained a comparatively steady stance amid the global disruptions arising from the Russia-Ukraine conflict. According to the National Statistical Office (NSO), the economy recorded a growth rate of 7.2% in FY2023, which marked a decline from the 9.1% growth observed in FY2022. This impressive performance can be attributed to various growth factors, such as surge in exports, which accelerated the production process. Private consumption witnessed a strong surge, fuelling production across sectors.

The impressive upswing in economic growth can also be attributed to the government's burgeoning capital expenditure, which surged by an astounding 63.4% during the first eight months of FY2023.

Furthermore, the MSME sector, a crucial cornerstone of the Indian economy, witnessed an extraordinary uptick in credit growth, with an average of 30.5% recorded between January and November 2022.

Rising global commodity prices had a ripple effect on India, causing retail inflation to reach a high of 7.79% in April 2022. This exceeded the Reserve Bank of India's medium-term target range of 2-6%. Responding decisively, the RBI implemented rigorous measures to address the escalating prices, raising the repo rate six times during FY2023. The repo rate climbed from 4% at the start of May 2022 to 6.5% by the end of the financial year.

The combination of better global supply chains, decreasing commodity prices, and a decrease in domestic demand is expected to lead to a decrease in inflation.

With a workforce that's expanding, a significant domestic market, investments in infrastructure and the rise of digital technology, India is strongly positioned to become the world's fastest-growing major economy. The International Monetary Fund anticipates India's GDP to achieve a growth rate of 5.9% in FY2024.

Robust credit disbursal, and capital investment cycles, further bolstered by the expansion of public digital platforms, and ground-breaking initiatives, such as PM GatiShakti, the National Logistics Policy, and the Production-Linked Incentives schemes to accelerate manufacturing output are expected to augur well in the country's favour.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

INDIAN CHEMICAL INDUSTRY

The Indian chemical sector is one of the most integral components of India's GDP, contributing a staggering 7% to it. With India ranking 6th in the world in terms of chemical production, and 3rd in Asia, the industry is poised to capitalise on forthcoming opportunities.

The Indian chemicals industry stood at $178 billion in 2019 and is expected to reach $304 billion by 2025 registering a CAGR of 9.3%. The demand for chemicals is expected to expand by 9% per annum by 2025. The chemical industry is expected to contribute $383 billion to India's GDP by 2030.

Growing demand, policy support and increasing investment are expected to augur well for the industry. Rise in demand from end-user industries such as food processing, personal care and home care is driving the development of different segments in India's specialty chemicals market. With global companies seeking to de-risk their supply chains, which are dependent on China, the chemical sector in India has the opportunity for significant growth. Under the Union Budget 2023-24 the government allocated ₹173.45 crore to the Department of Chemicals and Petrochemicals. The government is also planning to introduce a production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme to promote domestic manufacturing of agrochemicals.

As the pandemic recedes and with the rise in disposable income, industries, such as cosmetics and fashion, and other FMCG are set to flourish. This bodes well for segments, such as perfumery cosmetics, essential oils, and sensory-linked products, which are a few of the many strong points for the country. It also spells accelerated growth for chemicals linked to product packaging.

On a worldwide scale, India holds the position of the fourth-largest agrochemical producer, trailing only the United States, Japan, and China. The nation contributes to approximately 16-18% of the total global output of dyestuffs and dye intermediates, solidifying its significance in the colorants industry with an approximate market share of 15%. Notably, India's chemicals sector operates in a de-licensed manner, with the exception of a limited number of hazardous chemicals. Demonstrating its robust standing, India plays a significant role in both the international export and import of chemicals, securing the 14th rank in exports and the 8th rank in imports globally (excluding pharmaceuticals).

ORGANIC PIGMENT INDUSTRY

Organic pigments have emerged as a game-changer in various industries. With non-toxic properties, cost-effectiveness and high colour power, these pigments have become an irresistible choice for numerous applications. From the visual arts to high-tech industries, such as photo reproduction, optoelectronic display, and optical data storage, the demand for organic pigments has skyrocketed owing to their availability in a wide range of hues.

Additionally, they are extensively used in paint, ink, and the production of polymer and rubber. These pigments also serve as fillers and reinforcing agents for a wide range of applications, including colouring agents for plastics and synthetic fibres.

The global market for organic pigments is predicted to grow from $15.09 billion in 2022 to $16.17 billion in 2023, marking a noteworthy Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 7.1%. Asia-Pacific led the organic pigments market in 2022 due to its swift economic advancement and burgeoning population. This region is expected to maintain its rapid growth, becoming the fastest-growing sector during the projected period, with a substantial market share of around 46.5% between 2021 and 2031.

This growth is driven by the rising demand for organic pigments across diverse sectors like automotive, construction, and packaging. The Asia-Pacific region is a major player in both production and consumption, fueled by factors such as robust expansion in construction and automotive industries, increased demand for consumer goods, and urbanization. These dynamics have resulted in a significant demand for organic pigments used in products like paints, coatings, plastics, and related items.

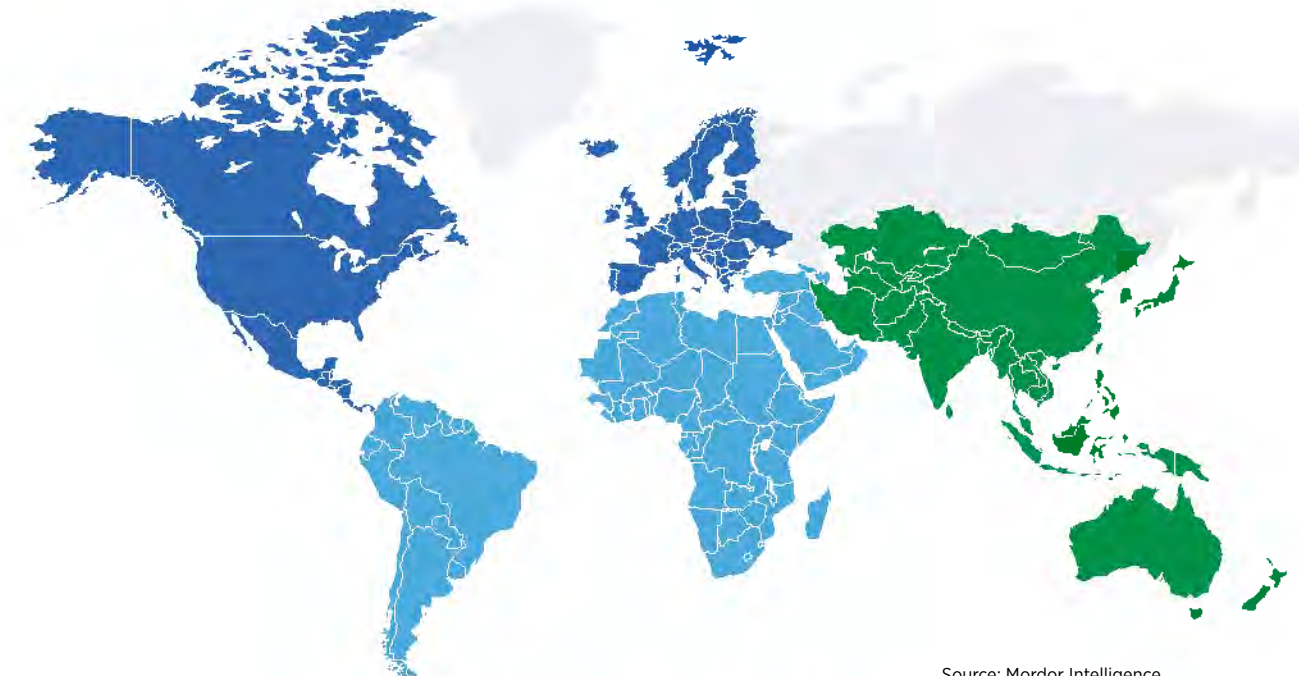

The global demand for organic pigments is on the rise due to strict regulations governing the use of printing inks in food packaging. These regulations aim for more environmentally friendly pigments as concerns grow about the safety of food packaging and potential colour transfer into consumables. This has led to a surge in demand for high-quality organic pigments that offer colour stability, viscosity control, and versatility in printing on various materials. Additionally, the strong colouring capabilities of organic pigments allow for a wide range of customized colours, enhancing the visual appeal of products.

Simultaneously, the growth in construction and infrastructure projects in India and China has boosted furniture consumption. Initiatives like "Make in India" and investments in electric vehicles have also expanded the use of organic pigments in paints and coatings for the Indian automotive sector. These pigments find application in the plastics industry as well, with the Asia-Pacific region contributing to 52% of the world's plastic production. Alongside the region's cost-effective labour and abundant raw materials, this positions it as a hub for organic pigment manufacturing, driving significant market growth.

The API industry has emerged as a dominant force in the healthcare and pharmaceutical domain, buoyed by a multifarious range of drivers. Conducive government policies, a remarkable stride in the API manufacturing space, coupled with the escalating incidence of chronic illnesses, such as cancer, and cardiovascular diseases have given a boost to the sector.

Further, due to changes in geopolitical situations, countries such as India are preferred over China for the export of APIs, as governments strive to reduce dependence on China for API products.

It is worth noting that the pandemic has, paradoxically, provided an impetus to the growth of the global API market. As the world grappled with the pandemic, the pharmaceutical industry took centre stage in treating its numerous symptoms. This heightened popularity of the pharma industry during the pandemic has, in turn, propelled the API market to new heights. Moreover, the development of precision medicine, primarily for oncology, and the growth in biosimilars market owing to the rise of various diseases is further boosting demand for APIs.

At present, the API market is under the substantial influence of North America, and this dominance is anticipated to persist for the foreseeable future. The region's grip on the market is projected to strengthen further due to a surge in disease prevalence and a progressively aging population. Notably, the United States holds a significant portion of the market within the North American territory.

The API segment's growth is expected to remain robust in the upcoming years, driven by substantial investments from major players to set up advanced manufacturing facilities. The said players are also focused on leveraging their production capabilities in Asian countries to cater to the API demands of other drugmakers. Moreover, the Indian government's announcement of a 9.4 billion stimulus package for the bulk drug industry is expected to further bolster domestic production and boost exports.

The outsourcing segment of the API industry has witnessed substantial growth, largely owing to the significant contributions of top biopharmaceutical players. By outsourcing API manufacturing to developing countries, such as India, the industry has effectively capitalised on the cost advantages that these countries offer, thereby boosting profit margins and accelerating the segment's growth trajectory. Meanwhile, the generic drug market is poised to achieve exceptional growth rates, particularly in regions, such as Brazil and India, owing to its high unmet clinical needs and acceptance of over-the-counter drugs.

This market's growth is driven by factors such as evolving industrial and consumer demand patterns, rapid urbanisation and higher standards of living. Further, there is a surge in interest to incorporate architectural aesthetics in buildings, which is contributing to high the demand for superior-quality paints and coatings.

Over the past 15 years, the competitive dynamics within the Phthalocyanine pigments sector have undergone a notable transformation. During this period, India has emerged as a formidable contender in the market, progressively capturing market share from China. Previously, China held a dominant position, contributing over 70% of the Phthalocyanine pigment market share. Presently, India has ascended to a position of prominence, catering to over 70% of the global demand for Phthalocyanine pigments.

Asahi, a leading manufacturer of Phthalocyanine pigments, caters to the diverse needs of various industries such as printing ink, packaging ink, paint, plastic and textile. Asahi is one of the largest manufacturers of CPC blue crude globally. Leveraging its expertise and knowledge, Asahi has signed long-term contracts with its clients and is committed to providing them with superior-quality pigments, thus contributing to the growth of the industry.

Azo pigments

The global market for Azo pigments is a highly competitive area where multinational corporations offer attractive discounts to maintain their market share. Azo pigments are witnessing a quick acceptance as an eco-friendly alternative to dyes, which is driving their demand in high-grade plastics and coating applications. According to Persistence Market Research, the global market for Azo pigments is expected to stand at $1,618.6 million in 2023.

Leading Azo pigment manufacturers are prioritising strong partnerships with key distributors and long-term contracts with clients to maintain dominance. Meanwhile, India's pigment sector is emerging as a formidable competitor to China, owing to its growing environmental compliance and wage costs.

Asahi has partnered with Tennants Textiles Colours Limited (TTC), one of the leading colour manufacturers in the UK, to produce a range of red, yellow and orange pigments. The successful completion of the planned capex has enabled the Company to leverage the growing demand for Azo pigments in various end-user industries. With its proven delivery across the world, combined with its scale, Asahi is a highly attractive partner for large-scale manufacturers and companies seeking high-quality pigments at affordable prices.

Pregabalin

Pregabalin, an anti-convulsant medication, has emerged as a promising treatment for various medical conditions, such as epilepsy, neuropathic pain, fibromyalgia, and general anxiety disorders. Owing to its ability to reduce pain from injured nerves throughout the body, pregabalin is experiencing a steady demand across the world. The global consumption of pregabalin is 1,430 tonnes growing at 10% CAGR.

The market is dominated by North America, with Asia-Pacific emerging as a key growth region, owing to the surging prevalence of convulsions and anxiety disorders, growing healthcare infrastructure and rising geriatric population in the region. Furthermore, a large number of initiatives by public and private organisations to spread awareness, at the back of rising healthcare expenditure, will expand the market.

As the global consumption of pregabalin continues to grow at a robust pace, Indian manufacturers are driving process efficiency and competitiveness to meet the rising demand. With a well-equipped manufacturing base and more 15 key producers, the country is contributing significantly to the global market share. In addition, India accounts for a 28% share of global consumption, almost 395 tonnes out of 1,430 tonnes.

Asahi has opened up exciting new avenues for growth with its recent acquisition of Atlas Life Sciences, a prominent player in the pregabalin market. This strategic move not only strengthens Asahi's foothold in the industry but also enables the Company to tap into emerging opportunities, diversify its portfolio and thus stay ahead of the competition.

End-sector growth drivers

The expanding textile industry has paved the way for the increased use of colourants in modern textile solutions, making colour a critical component in product marketing. This trend is expected to continue as pigment consumption rises and the textile industry continues to grow rapidly. Additionally, the growth of the paints and coatings sector can be attributed to the rise in residential and commercial building construction. This sector is likely to be propelled by factors, such as government and private sector investments in infrastructure development, increased consumer spending, higher per-capital earnings, and improved quality of life.

THE GLOBAL CONSUMPTION OF PREGABALIN GROWING AT 10% CAGR

Moreover, the packaging ink sector is one of the fastest-growing end-use industries with screen printing and digital printing applications contributing to its growth. This rise in production and sales of organic pigments is also due to the increased demand for various printing inks. The sector's growth is further driven by the emergence of digital printing ink in the sports and leisure, packaging and textile sectors.

The pharmaceutical industry on the other hand has been experiencing remarkable growth in recent years, driven by several key factors. One of the most significant regulations aimed at ensuring patient safety and improving healthcare outcomes. These regulations have led to a greater demand for innovative medicines, as well as increased R&D activities within the industry.

Managed care and insurers have also been playing a critical role in driving growth within the pharmaceutical sector. The rising focus on cost containment and quality of care has resulted in a greater emphasis on preventive care and early detection of diseases, leading to a rise in the use of pharmaceutical products. Additionally, the growing trend towards personalised medicine and the use of biologics has created new opportunities for pharmaceutical companies to develop specialised treatments for a range of medical conditions.

Outlook and Strategy

Asahi's Azo business is already gaining steady momentum and the demand for Phthalocyanine pigments is gradually improving.

The Company continues to cultivate enduring client relationships owing to its exceptional product quality. The establishment of the new Dahej plant positions Asahi among a cluster of distinguished chemical enterprises. This strategic move affords the Company the advantage of accessing a proficient workforce, robust shared infrastructure and convenient proximity to raw materials, culminating in substantial savings on logistical expenditures. The greenfield investment in Chhatral is poised to elevate operational efficiency and bolster overall profitability while cementing our position as the market leader in the production of APIs and raw materials for pregabalin. Plans are underway to ramp up the capacity of the intermediates for pregabalin and supply them to the Odhav facility instead of buying them from external sources. Anticipated industry consolidation within the global pigment sector will also propel the Company onto a trajectory of renewed growth.

With customers diversifying supply chains away from China, India, and by extension, Asahi, emerges as a promising contender. This outlook is further augmented by India's favourable access to indigenous raw materials, cost-effective labour and vertically integrated operations.

RISKS

Regional disease outbreaks can harm chemical supply networks. Global economic uncertainty may reduce demand. Despite higher immunisation rates, new Covid-19 variants still affect people, especially employees, amid government movement restrictions. Variable raw material prices, reliance on key imports and high global crude oil costs pressure product margins.

Fluctuations in Rupee and Yuan versus the Dollar significantly affect pricing, as Indian manufacturers compete with Chinese peers in the organic pigment industry. The concentrated pigments market faces ESG concerns. Businesses might grapple with compliance costs and complex regulations.

Asahi is well-prepared and equipped to effectively manage these risks. With a robust strategy, dedicated team and proactive measures in place, the Company can effectively navigate challenges and continue delivering value

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY'S WORKING DURING THE YEAR/STATE OF COMPANY'S AFFAIRS

a. General

Financial year 2022-2023 was marked by accumulated consumer demand, persistent supply interruptions and significant increases in commodity prices. Inflation reached its peak in several economies. Severe health outcomes in China, Russia's war in Ukraine and tighter global financing costs added to the downside risks.

While the Indian economy did not remain unscathed by these issues, it maintained a comparatively steady stance. The government's increasing capital expenditure and an extraordinary growth in the MSME sector contributed to the growth. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) implemented rigorous measures to address the escalating prices, raising the repo rate six times during FY2023. Better global supply chains, decreasing commodity prices, and a decrease in domestic demand is expected to lead to a decrease in inflation.

All three business verticals of the Company were impacted by adverse conditions. Our pigments business was particularly affected by the customers' destocking in response to the uncertain economic environment in European markets, leading to decreased demand and lower realisations for phthalocyanine and azo pigments. We experienced a drop in realisation for our APIs as well. The azo market is gradually recovering from the effects of the dynamic macro-environment. The recovery has borne well for us and we have managed to maintain optimal operation levels for our yellow pigment production, bolstered by a strong demand for the product.

In Q1 FY2024, the Company's azo business is already gaining steady momentum and the demand for phthalocyanine pigments is gradually improving. Raw material prices are stabilising. Your Directors are confident that as the situation gradually improves, the Company is well-poised to capitalise on upcoming opportunities through its operational excellence, maximised efficiency and elevated performance across our installed capacity.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act 2013 and the Rules made there under, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Standalone financial statements as a whole and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

OTHER INFORMATION

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The other information is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report. The Company's annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the Standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

MANAGEMENT'S AND BOARD OF DIRECTOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Standalone financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of standalone financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Standalone Financial Statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

OTHER MATTER

To Independent Auditor’s Report on Standalone Financial Statements of Asahi Songwon Colors Limited for the year ended on March 31, 2023

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

(Referred to in Paragraph 2(f) under the heading of “Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements” of our report of even date)

OPINION

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Asahi Songwon Colors Limited (“the Company”) as of March 31, 2023 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2023, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

MANAGEMENT’S AND BOARD OF DIRECTOR’S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS

The Company’s Management and the Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements based on the criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

AUDITOR’S RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

MEANING OF INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Company’s internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

- (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and

- (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

INHERENT LIMITATION OF INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROL WITH REFERENCE TO STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Fair Value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The standalone financial statements are presented in INR and all values are rounded to the nearest Lakhs (INR 00,000) as per the requirement of Schedule III, unless otherwise stated.

2.2 Critical accounting estimates, judgements, and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions in the application of accounting policies that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Continuous evaluation is done on the estimation and judgments based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable.

a. Depreciation/amortisation and useful lives of property plant and equipment

Useful lives and residual values of Property, plant and equipment represent a material portion of the Company's asset base. The periodic charge of depreciation is derived after estimating useful life of an asset and expected residual value at the end of its useful life. The useful lives and residual values of assets are estimated by the management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. The lives are based on various external and internal factors including historical experience, relative efficiency and operating costs and change in technology.

b. Taxes

The Company's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including amounts to be recovered or paid for uncertain tax positions. Management judgment is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits.

c. Defined benefit obligations

Defined benefit obligations are measured at fair value for financial reporting purposes. Fair value determined by actuary is based on actuarial assumptions. Management judgement is required to determine such actuarial assumptions. Such assumptions are reviewed annually using the best information available with the Management.

d. Contingencies

In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities may arise from litigation and other claims against the Company. Potential liabilities that are possible but not probable of crystallising or are very difficult to quantify reliably are treated as contingent liabilities. Such liabilities are disclosed in the notes but are not recognised.

e. Impairment of financial assets

The impairment provisions for Financial Assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected cash loss. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

2.3 Classification of Assets and Liabilities as Current and Non-Current

All assets and liabilities are classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle, and other criteria set out in Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of products and the time lag between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, 12 months period has been considered by the Company as its normal operating cycle.

2.4 Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE) (IND AS 16)

These tangible assets are held for use in production, supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes. Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses except for freehold land which is not depreciated. Cost includes purchase price after deducting trade discount/rebate, import duties, non-refundable taxes, Net of Cenvat and VAT credit/GST input credit wherever applicable, cost of replacing the component parts, borrowing costs and other directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition in the manner intended by the management.

If significant parts of an item of PPE have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of PPE.

The cost of an item of PPE is recognised as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company in future periods and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. Expenditure incurred after the PPE have been put into operations, such as repairs and maintenance expenses are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which they are incurred.

Items such as spare parts, standby equipment and servicing equipment are recognised as PPE when it is held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purpose, and are expected to be used for more than one year. Otherwise such items are classified as inventory.

Expenditure on acquisition of PPE for Research and Development (R&D) is included in PPE and depreciation thereon is provided as applicable.

The Company adjusts exchange differences arising on translation difference/settlement of long term foreign currency monetary items outstanding and pertaining to the acquisition of a depreciable asset to the cost of asset and depreciates the same over the remaining life of the asset. The depreciation on such foreign exchange difference is recognised from first day of its financial year.

De-recognised upon disposal

An item of PPE is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is Recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss when asset is derecognised.

Treatment of Expenditure during Construction Period

Expenditure, net of income earned, during construction (including financing cost related to borrowed funds for construction or acquisition of qualifying PPE) period is included under capital work-in-progress, and the same is allocated to the respective PPE on the completion of construction. Advances given towards acquisition or construction of PPE outstanding at each reporting date are disclosed as Capital Advances under "Other Non-Current Assets".

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of an asset is determined after deducting its residual value. Where the residual value of an asset increases to an amount equal to or greater than the asset's carrying amount, no depreciation charge is Recognised till the asset's residual value decreases below the asset's carrying amount. Depreciation of an asset begins when it is available for use, i.e., when it is in the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the intended manner. Depreciation of an asset ceases at the earlier of the date that the asset is classified as held for sale in accordance with IND AS 105 and the date that the asset is derecognised.

The Company depreciates its property, plant and equipment (PPE) over the useful life in the manner prescribed in Schedule II to the Act. Management believes that useful life of assets are same as those prescribed in Schedule II to the Act, except for plant and equipment wherein based on technical evaluation, useful life has been estimated to be different from that prescribed in Schedule II of the Act. Useful life considered for calculation of depreciation for various assets class are as follows:

Asset Class	Useful Life
Factory Building	30 years
Non-Factory Building	60 years
Road, Fencing, Borewell, etc.	5/10 years
Plant & Equipment	15/20 years
Lab Equipment	10 years
Electric Installation	10 years
Furniture & Fixtures	10 years
Office Equipment	5 years
Vehicles	8 years
Computers	3 years

The identified component of fixed assets are depreciated over the useful lives and the remaining components are depreciated over the life of the principal assets.

Depreciation on fixed assets added/disposed off during the period is provided on pro-rata basis with reference to the date of addition/disposal.

The assets residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Leasehold Land is amortised over the primary period of the lease.

2.5 Intangible assets (IND AS 38)

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Computer Software

Computer software are amortized over period of 3 years.

Internally Generated Intangible Assets - Research and Development Expenditure:

Expenditure incurred on development is capitalised if such expenditure leads to creation of any intangible asset, otherwise, such expenditure is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss. PPE procured for research and development activities are capitalised.

2.6 Leases (IND AS 116)

At the inception of a lease, the lease arrangements is classified as either a finance lease or an operating lease, based on the substance of the lease arrangement.

As a Lessee:

The Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains a lease, at inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the commencement date of the lease, the Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for short-term leases (leases with a term of twelve months or less), leases of low value assets and, for contract where the lessee and lessor has right to terminate a lease without permission from the other party with no more than an insignificant penalty. The lease expense of such short term leases, low value assets leases and cancellable leases, are recognised as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

At the commencement date, lease liability is measured at the present value of the lease payments to be paid during non-cancellable period of the contract, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate. The right-of-use assets is initially recognised at the amount of the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made at or before commencement date less any lease incentives received and any initial direct costs.

Subsequently, the right-of-use asset is measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. Lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability (using effective interest rate method) and reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. The right-of-use asset and lease liability are also adjusted to reflect any lease modifications or revised in-substance fixed lease payments.

As a lessor

Leases for which the Company is a lessor is classified as finance or operating leases. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Income from operating leases where the Company is a lessor is recognised as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with the expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the Standalone Balance Sheet based on their nature. Leases of property, plant and equipment where the Company as a lessor has substantially transferred all the risks and rewards are classified as finance lease. Finance leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding rent receivables, net of interest income, are included in other financial assets. Each lease receipt is allocated between the asset and interest income. The interest income is recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the asset for each period.

Under combined lease agreements, land and building are assessed individually

2.7 Inventories (IND AS 2)

Inventories consisting of stores and spares, raw materials, work in progress, stock in trade, goods in transit and finished goods are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value. However, materials held for use in production of inventories are not written down below cost, if the finished products are expected to be sold at or above cost.

The cost is computed on FIFO basis and is net of credits under GST.

Goods and materials in transit include materials, duties and taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) labour cost and other related overheads incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Traded goods include cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

2.8 Borrowing Cost (IND AS 23)

Borrowing cost includes interest expense, amortisation of discounts, ancillary costs incurred in connection with borrowing of funds and exchange difference, arising from foreign currency borrowings, to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost.

Borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition or construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of the cost of such asset till such time the asset is ready for its intended use. A qualifying asset is an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use. All other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation. All other borrowing cost are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred.

2.9 Impairment of Assets (IND AS 36)

At the end of each reporting period, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its PPE and other intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that these assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. The resulting impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset or CGU is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset or CGU in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Impairment of investment in subsidiaries

The Company assess at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired if any indication exists, on which annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the assets recoverable amount. An assets recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash generating units (CGU's) fair value less cost of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or group of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and risk specific to the asset.

In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

2.10 Government Grants (IND AS 20)

Government grants are Recognised when there is reasonable assurance that the Company will comply with the conditions attached to them and that the grants will be received. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss by way of a deduction to the related expense on a systematic basis over the periods that the related costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed. When the grant relates to an asset, it is Recognised as income on a systematic basis over the expected useful life of the related asset.

2.11 Taxes (IND AS 12)

Income tax expense represents the sum of tax currently payable and deferred tax. Tax is Recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items Recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

a) Current Tax

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. The Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate, on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

b) Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the balance sheet and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences, unabsorbed losses and unabsorbed depreciation to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences, unabsorbed losses and unabsorbed depreciation can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

2.12 Employees Benefits (IND AS 19)

a) Employee Benefits

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering services are classified as short term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages, short-term compensated absences, performance incentives etc., are Recognised during the period in which the employee renders related services and are measured at undiscounted amount expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

b) Post-employment obligations

The Company operates the following post-employment schemes:

- i) Defined benefit plans such as gratuity and;
- ii) Defined contribution plans such as provident fund.

i) Defined benefit plans-Gratuity obligations

The liability or assets Recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligations at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets.

The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation denominated in INR is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. The benefits which are denominated in currency other than INR, the cash flows are discounted using market yields determined by reference to high quality corporate bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, and that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and change in actuarial assumptions are Recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are Recognised immediately in profit or loss as past service cost.

ii) Defined contribution plans

The Company pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and the contributions are Recognised as employee benefit expense when they are due.

2.13 Provisions, Contingent Liability and Contingent Assets (IND AS 37)

Disputed liabilities and claims against the Company including claims raised by fiscal authorities (e.g. Sales Tax, Income Tax, Excise, GST etc.) pending in appeal/court for which no reliable estimate can be made and or involves uncertainty of the outcome of the amount of the obligation or which are remotely poised for crystallization are not provided for in accounts but disclosed in notes to accounts. However, present obligation as a result of past event with possibility of outflow of resources, when reliable estimation can be made of the amount of obligation, is Recognised in accounts in terms of discounted value, if the time value of money is material using a current pre-tax rate that reflects the risk specific to the liability. No contingent asset is Recognised but disclosed by way of notes to accounts.

2.14 Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognised when the right to consideration becomes unconditional. These assets are held at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate (EIR) method where applicable, less provision for impairment based on expected credit loss. Trade receivable overdue for more than 180 days are considered as receivable with significant increase in credit risk.

2.15 Trade and Other Payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months from the reporting date. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method.

2.16 Revenue Recognition (IND AS 115)

i) Revenue from operations:

Revenue is recognised when control of goods is transferred to a customer in accordance with the terms of the contract. The control of the goods is transferred upon delivery to the customers either at factory gate of the Company or specific location of the customer or when the goods are handed over to the freight carrier, as per the terms of the contract. A receivable is recognised by the Company when the goods are delivered to the customer as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional, as only the passage of time is required before payment is due.

Revenue from services, including those embedded in contract for sale of goods, namely, freight and insurance services mainly in case of export sales, is recognised upon completion of services.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled as per contract with a customer. The consideration is determined based on the price specified in the contract, net of the estimated variable consideration. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the variable consideration, using the expected value method and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. Contracts with customers are for short-term, at an agreed price basis having contracted credit period ranging up to 180 days. The contracts do not grant any rights of return to the customer. Returns of goods are accepted by the Company only on an exception basis. Revenue excludes any taxes or duties collected on behalf of government that are levied on sales such as goods and services tax.

Eligible export incentives are recognised in the year in which the conditions precedent are met and there is no significant uncertainty about the collectability.

ii) Other income:

Interest income from financial assets is recognised using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options), but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividends are recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established; it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Lease rental income is recognised on accrual basis.

2.17 Cash Flows and Cash and Cash Equivalents (IND AS 7)

Statement of cash flows is prepared in accordance with the indirect method prescribed in the IND AS 7. For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, cheques and drafts on hand, deposits held with Banks, other short term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and book overdrafts. However, Book overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities in the balance sheet for the purpose of presentation.

2.18 Earnings per share (IND AS 33)

i) Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- The profit attributable to owners of the Company
- By the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year.

ii) Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- The after 'income-tax' effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares, and
- The weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.19 Segment Reporting (IND AS 108)

Based on "Management Approach" as defined in IND AS 108 – Operating Segments, the Management evaluates the Company's performance and allocates the resources based on an analysis of various performance indicators by business segments.

The Company prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the financial statements of the Company as a whole.

2.20 Foreign Currency Transactions (IND AS 21)

In preparing the financial statements of the Company, transactions in foreign currencies, other than the Company's functional currency are recognised at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rate prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency, are not retranslated.

Exchange differences on monetary items are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which these arise except for:

- exchange differences on foreign currency borrowings relating to assets under construction for future productive use, which are included in the cost of those assets when they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs on those foreign currency borrowings; and

- exchange differences on transactions entered into in order to hedge certain foreign currency risks.

2.21 Fair Value Measurement (IND AS 113)

The Company measures financial instruments, such as investments (other than equity investments in Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates) and derivatives at fair values at each Balance Sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

In the principal market for the asset or liability, or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

2.22 Events occurring after the balance sheet date (IND AS 10)

Assets and liabilities are adjusted for events occurring after the reporting period that provides additional evidence to assist the estimation of amounts relating to conditions existing at the end of the reporting period.

Dividends declared by the Company after the reporting period are not Recognised as liability at the end of the reporting period. Dividends declared after the reporting period but before the issue of financial statements are not Recognised as liability since no obligation exists at that time. Such dividends are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

2.23 Financial Instruments (IND AS 109)

i) Recognition and initial measurement

All financial assets and financial liabilities are initially Recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

ii) Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortized cost;
- Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) – equity investment; or
- Fair Value Through Profit and Loss (FVTPL)

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI. (designated as FVOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment-by-investment basis.

Investments in subsidiary companies, associate companies and joint venture Company:

Investments in subsidiary Company is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Where an indication of impairment exists, the carrying amount of the investment is assessed and written down immediately to its recoverable amount. On disposal of investments in subsidiary Company the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amounts are recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortized cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortized cost or at FVOCI or at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortized cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are Recognised in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are Recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on de-recognition is also Recognised in profit or loss.

De-recognition

Financial assets

The Company de-recognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Company enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets Recognised on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not deRecognised.

Financial liabilities

The Company de-recognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire. The Company also de-recognizes a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is Recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is Recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Company currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

2.24 Cash Dividend to Equity Holders of the Company

The Company recognises a liability to make cash distributions to equity holders of the Company when the distribution is authorised and the distribution is no longer at the discretion of the Company. As per the corporate laws in India, a distribution is authorised when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognised directly in equity.

2.25 Research and Development

Expenditure on research is Recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure on development which does not meet the criteria for recognition as an intangible asset is Recognised as an expense when it is incurred.

Items of property, plant and equipment and acquired intangible assets utilized for research and development are capitalized and depreciated/amortized in accordance with the policies stated for Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets.

2.26 Goods and Service Tax/Service Tax input Credit:

Goods and Service tax/Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/utilising the credits.

2.27 Recent accounting pronouncements:

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 31, 2023, MCA has amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023 as below:

Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements

This amendment required the entities to disclose their material accounting policies rather than their significant accounting policies. Accounting policy information, together with other information, is material when it can reasonably be expected to influence decisions of primary users of general purpose financial statements.

The Company is currently revisiting their accounting policy information disclosure to ensure consistency with the amended requirements.

Ind AS 8 - Definition of Accounting Estimates

The amendments clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates and changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. It has also been clarified how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates.

The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2023 and apply to changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates that occur on or after the start of that period.

The amendments are not expected to have a material impact on the Companies Standalone financial statements.

Ind AS 12 - Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction

The amendments narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under Ind AS 12, so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.

The amendments should be applied to transactions that occur on or after the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. In addition, at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented, a deferred tax asset (provided that sufficient taxable profit is available) and a deferred tax liability should also be recognised for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with leases and decommissioning obligations.

The Company is currently assessing the impact of the amendments.

However, management also considers the factors that may influence the credit risk of its customer base. The Company has established a credit policy under which each new customer is analysed individually for creditworthiness before the Company's standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Sale limits are established for each customer and reviewed quarterly. Any sales exceeding those limits require approval from the management of the Company.

The Company limits its exposure to credit risk from trade receivables by establishing a maximum payment period of 120 days for customers. More than 85% of the Company's customers have been transacting with the Company for over four years,

50. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS - FAIR VALUES & RISK MANAGEMENT

I. Accounting Classifications & Fair Value Measurements

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are measured at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

All financial instruments are initially Recognised and subsequently re-measured at fair value as described below:

- The fair value of investment in quoted equity shares and mutual funds is measured at quoted price or NAV.
- Fair values of cash and short term deposits, trade and other short term receivables, trade payables, other current liabilities, short term loans from banks and other financial institutions approximate their carrying amounts largely due to short-term maturities of these instruments.

3. Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on the evaluation, allowances are taken to account for the expected losses of these receivables.
4. The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts and currency swaps is determined using forward exchange rates and yield curves at the balance sheet date.

The Company uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair values of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Level 1: This includes financial instruments measured using quoted prices. The fair value of all equity instruments that are traded on the stock exchanges is valued using the closing price as at the reporting period.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (for example over-the-counter derivatives) is determined using valuation techniques, which maximise the use of observable market data and rely as little as possible on entity-specific estimates. The mutual fund units are valued using the closing net assets value. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

51. OFFSETTING FINANCIAL ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

The Company has not offset any financial asset and financial liability. It offsets a financial asset and a financial liability when it currently has a legal enforceable right to set-off the recognised amounts and it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

a) Master netting arrangements – not currently enforceable

Under the terms of these arrangements, only where certain credit events occur (such as default), the net position owing/receivable to a single counterparty in the same currency will be taken as owing and all the relevant arrangements are considered as terminated. As the Company does not presently have a legally enforceable right of set-off, these amounts have not been offset in the Standalone Balance Sheet.

b) Collateral against borrowings

The Company has hypothecated/mortgaged assets as collateral against a number of its sanctioned line of credit (Refer Note 20) for further information on assets hypothecated | mortgaged as security). In case of default as per borrowing arrangement, such collateral can be adjusted against the amounts due.

Refer Note Below

Note: Reason for Differences

- The differences in inventories and trade receivables are majorly on account of goods in transit where the goods have been physically dispatched from the Company location however, the same has not been considered as revenue from the purpose of revenue recognition principles and hence reversed from books of accounts for respective quarter ends. Similarly, goods in transit for goods which have not reached respective Company locations are not considered however, considered as purchases as per accounting principles. This has led to offsetting differences between inventory, trade receivables and trade payable balances.
- The management, basis their understanding with banks, submits stock statement of physical stock as available at respective locations at the period end. Accordingly adjustment for goods in transit (inward and outward) is not considered for the purpose of filing returns with banks.

Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act 2013 and the Rules made there under, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Consolidated financial statements as a whole and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

OTHER INFORMATION

The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The other information is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report. The Company's annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the Consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information, compare with the financial statements of a subsidiary Company audited by the other auditor, to the extent to it relates to subsidiary Company and, in doing so, place reliance on work of other auditor and consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Consolidated Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. Other information so far as it relates to the subsidiary Company is traced from their financial statements audited by other auditors. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

MANAGEMENT'S AND BOARD OF DIRECTOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are also responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of each Company.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES.

2.1 Basis of Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented.

(i) Compliance with Ind-AS

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (hereinafter referred to as the 'Ind AS') as notified by Ministry of Corporate Affairs pursuant to Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended and other relevant provisions of the Act.

(ii) Basis of Preparation and presentation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared and presented on the going concern basis and at historical cost basis considering the applicable provisions of Companies Act 2013, except for the following items that have been measured at fair value as required by relevant Ind AS.

Fair Value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

- a) Certain financial assets/liabilities measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments) and
- b) Any other item as specifically stated in the accounting policy.

(iii) Functional and Presentation Currency

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees, which is the functional currency of the Group and the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Group operates.

(iv) Basis of Consolidation

a) Subsidiary Companies

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Group:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group decides whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- ◆ the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- ◆ potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- ◆ rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- ◆ any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

The acquisition method of accounting is used to account for business combinations by the Group.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests.

Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses, and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

The financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries are combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, equity, incomes, expenses and cash flows, after fully eliminating intra-group balances and intragroup transactions.

The excess of cost to the Group of its investments in the subsidiary companies over its share of equity of the subsidiary companies at the dates on which the investments in the subsidiary companies were made, is recognised as 'Goodwill' being an asset in the consolidated financial statements and is tested for impairment on annual basis. The Goodwill is determined separately for each subsidiary Company and such amounts are not set off between different entities.

Following subsidiary companies have been considered in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Sr No.	Name of the Subsidiary	Country of Incorporation	Extent of Holding/Voting power (%) as on March 31, 2023
1.	Aashi Tennants Color Private Limited	India	51
2.	Atlas Lifesciences Private Limited	India	78
3.	Atlas Lifesciences (India) Private Limited	India	100

b) Associate companies

Associate companies are all entities over which the Group has significant influence, but not control or joint control. Investments in associate companies are accounted for using the equity method of accounting {see (c) below}.

Following associate Company has been considered in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Sr No.	Name of the Subsidiary	Country of Incorporation	Extent of Holding/Voting power (%) as on March 31, 2023
1.	Plutoeco Environ	India	25

c) Equity method

Under the equity method of accounting, the investments are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise share of the Group in post-acquisition profit | loss and other comprehensive income of the entity. Dividends received or receivable from the associate companies and joint venture Company are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment. When the Group share of losses in an equity-accounted investment equals or exceeds its interest in the entity, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the other entity. Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associate Company and joint venture Company are eliminated to the extent of the Group interest in these entities. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred.

The carrying amount of equity accounted investments are tested for impairment annually.

(v) Change in the Group's ownership interest in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Group. When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, a gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between:

- (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest; and
- (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interests.

All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e., reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable Ind AS).

The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under Ind AS 109, or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

(vi) Rounding of amounts

The consolidated financial statements are presented in ₹ and all values are rounded to the nearest lakhs (00,000) as per the requirement of Schedule III, unless otherwise stated.

2.2 Critical accounting estimates, judgements, and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions in the application of accounting policies that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Continuous evaluation is done on the estimation and judgments based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable.

a. Depreciation/amortisation and useful lives of property plant and equipment

Useful lives and residual values of Property, plant and equipment represent a material portion of the Company's asset base. The periodic charge of depreciation is derived after estimating useful life of an asset and expected residual value at the end of its useful life. The useful lives and residual values of assets are estimated by the management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. The lives are based on various external and internal factors including historical experience, relative efficiency and operating costs and change in technology.

b. Taxes

The Company's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including amounts to be recovered or paid for uncertain tax positions. Management judgment is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits.

c. Defined benefit obligations

Defined benefit obligations are measured at fair value for financial reporting purposes. Fair value determined by actuary is based on actuarial assumptions. Management judgement is required to determine such actuarial assumptions. Such assumptions are reviewed annually using the best information available with the Management.

d. Contingencies

In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities may arise from litigation and other claims against the Company. Potential liabilities that are possible but not probable of crystallising or are very difficult to quantify reliably are treated as contingent liabilities. Such liabilities are disclosed in the notes but are not recognised.

e. Impairment of financial assets

The impairment provisions for Financial Assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected cash loss. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

2.3 Classification of Assets and Liabilities as Current and Non-Current

All assets and liabilities are classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle, and other criteria set out in Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of products and the time lag between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, 12 months period has been considered by the Group as its normal operating cycle.

2.4 Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE) (Ind AS 16)

These tangible assets are held for use in production, supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes. Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses except for freehold land which is not depreciated. Cost includes purchase price after deducting trade discount/rebate, import duties, non-refundable taxes, Net of Cenvat and VAT credit/GST input credit wherever applicable, cost of replacing the component parts, borrowing costs and other directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition in the manner intended by the management.

If significant parts of an item of PPE have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of PPE.

The cost of an item of PPE is recognised as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group in future periods and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. Expenditure incurred after the PPE have been put into operations, such as repairs and maintenance expenses are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which they are incurred.

Items such as spare parts, standby equipment and servicing equipment are recognised as PPE when it is held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purpose, and are expected to be used for more than one year. Otherwise such items are classified as inventory.

Expenditure on acquisition of PPE for Research and Development (R&D) is included in PPE and depreciation thereon is provided as applicable.

The Group adjusts exchange differences arising on translation difference/settlement of long term foreign currency monetary items outstanding and pertaining to the acquisition of a depreciable asset to the cost of asset and depreciates the same over the remaining life of the asset. The depreciation on such foreign exchange difference is recognised from first day of its financial year.

De-recognised upon disposal

An item of PPE is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in Statement of Profit and loss when asset is derecognised.

Treatment of Expenditure during Construction Period

Expenditure, net of income earned, during construction (including financing cost related to borrowed funds for construction or acquisition of qualifying PPE) period is included under capital work-in-progress, and the same is allocated to the respective PPE on the completion of construction. Advances given towards acquisition or construction of PPE outstanding at each reporting date are disclosed as Capital Advances under "Other Non-Current Assets".

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of an asset is determined after deducting its residual value. Where the residual value of an asset increases to an amount equal to or greater than the asset's carrying amount, no depreciation charge is recognized till the asset's residual value decreases below the asset's carrying amount. Depreciation of an asset begins when it is available for use, i.e., when it is in the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the intended manner. Depreciation of an asset ceases at the earlier of the date that the asset is classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 and the date that the asset is derecognised.

The Group depreciates its property, plant and equipment (PPE) over the useful life in the manner prescribed in Schedule II to the Act. Management believes that useful life of assets are same as those prescribed in Schedule II to the Act, except for plant and equipment wherein based on technical evaluation, useful life has been estimated to be different from that prescribed in Schedule II of the Act. Useful life considered for calculation of depreciation for various assets class are as follows:

Asset Class	Useful Life
Factory Building	30 years
Non-Factory Building	60 years
Road, Fencing, Borewell, etc.	5/10 years
Plant & Equipment	15/20 years
Lab Equipment	10 years
Electric Installation	10 years
Furniture & Fixtures	10 years
Office Equipment	5 years
Vehicles	8 years
Computers	3 years

The identified component of fixed asset is depreciated over the useful lives and the remaining components are depreciated over the life of the principal assets.

Depreciation on fixed assets added/disposed off during the period is provided on pro-rata basis with reference to the date of addition/disposal.

The assets residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Leasehold Land is amortised over the primary period of the lease.

2.5 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the cost of the acquired businesses | subsidiary in excess of the fair value of identifiable net assets acquired. Goodwill is not amortised, but it is tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired and is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Gains and losses on the disposal of an entity include the carrying amount of goodwill of the entity sold. Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units for the purpose of impairment testing. The allocation is made to those cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the business combination in which the goodwill arose. The units or groups of units are identified at the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes.

Other Intangible Assets (Ind AS 38)

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Computer Software

Computer software are amortized over period of 3 years.

Internally Generated Intangible Assets - Research and Development Expenditure

Expenditure incurred on development is capitalised if such expenditure leads to creation of any intangible asset, otherwise, such expenditure is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss. PPE procured for research and development activities are capitalised.

2.6 Leases (Ind AS 116)

At the inception of a lease, the lease arrangements is classified as either a finance lease or an operating lease, based on the substance of the lease arrangement.

As a lessee

The Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains a lease, at inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset; ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the commencement date of the lease, the Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for short-term leases (leases with a term of twelve months or less), leases of low value assets and, for contract where the lessee and lessor has right to terminate a lease without permission from the other party with no more than an insignificant penalty. The lease expense of such short term leases, low value assets leases and cancellable leases, are recognised as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

At the commencement date, lease liability is measured at the present value of the lease payments to be paid during non-cancellable period of the contract, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate. The right-of-use assets is initially recognised at the amount of the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made at or before commencement date less any lease incentives received and any initial direct costs.

Subsequently, the right-of-use asset is measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. Lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability (using effective interest rate method) and reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. The right-of-use asset and lease liability are also adjusted to reflect any lease modifications or revised in-substance fixed lease payments.

As a lessor

Leases for which the Company is a lessor is classified as finance or operating leases. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Income from operating leases where the Company is a lessor is recognised as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with the expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the Standalone Balance Sheet based on their nature. Leases of property, plant and equipment where the Company as a lessor has substantially transferred all the risks and rewards are classified as finance lease. Finance leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding rent receivables, net of interest income, are included in other financial assets. Each lease receipt is allocated between the asset and interest income. The interest income is recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the asset for each period.

Under combined lease agreements, land and building are assessed individually.

2.7 Business combination

The acquisition method of accounting is used to account for all business combinations, regardless of whether equity instruments or other assets are acquired. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary comprises the:

- i) fair values of the assets transferred;
- ii) liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquired business;
- iii) equity interest issued by the Group; and
- iv) fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement.

Identifiable assets acquired, liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are, with limited exceptions, measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. The Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquired entity on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquired entity's net identifiable assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

The excess of the:

- sum of consideration transferred;
- amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquired entity;
- acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquired entity.

over the fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If those amounts are less than the fair value of the net identifiable assets of the business acquired, the difference is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve provided there is clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as a bargain purchase. In other cases, the bargain purchase gain is recognised directly in equity as capital reserve. Where settlement of any part of cash consideration is deferred, the amounts payable in future are discounted to their present value as at the date of exchange. The discount rate used is the entity's incremental borrowing rate, being the rate at which a similar borrowing could be obtained from an independent financier under comparable terms and conditions.

Contingent consideration is classified either as equity or a financial liability. Amounts classified as a financial liability are subsequently remeasured to fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss. If the business combination is achieved in stages, the acquisition date carrying value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date. Any gains or losses arising from such remeasurement are recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate.

2.8 Inventories (Ind AS 2)

Inventories consisting of stores and spares, raw materials, work in progress, stock in trade, goods in transit and finished goods are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value. However, materials held for use in production of inventories are not written down below cost, if the finished products are expected to be sold at or above cost.

The cost is computed on FIFO basis and is net of credits under GST.

Goods and materials in transit include materials, duties and taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) labour cost and other related overheads incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Traded goods include cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

2.9 Borrowing Cost (Ind AS 23)

Borrowing cost includes interest expense, amortisation of discounts, ancillary costs incurred in connection with borrowing of funds and exchange difference, arising from foreign currency borrowings, to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost.

Borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition or construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of the cost of such asset till such time the asset is ready for its intended use. A qualifying asset is an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use. All other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation. All other borrowing cost are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred.

2.10 Impairment of Assets (Ind AS 36)

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its PPE and other intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that these assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. The resulting impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset or CGU is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset or CGU in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Impairment of investment in subsidiaries

The Company assess at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired if any indication exists, on which annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the assets recoverable amount. An assets recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash generating units (CGU's) fair value less cost of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or group of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and risk specific to the asset.

In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

2.11 Government Grants (Ind AS 20)

Government grants are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attached to them and that the grants will be received. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss by way of a deduction to the related expense on a systematic basis over the periods that the related costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed. When the grant relates to an asset, it is recognized as income on a systematic basis over the expected useful life of the related asset.

2.12 Taxes (Ind AS 12)

Income tax expense represents the sum of tax currently payable and deferred tax. Tax is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

a) Current Tax

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. The Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate, on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

b) Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the balance sheet and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences, unabsorbed losses and unabsorbed depreciation to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences, unabsorbed losses and unabsorbed depreciation can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Group intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

2.13 Employees Benefits (Ind AS 19)

a) Employee Benefits

All employee benefits payable wholly within 12 months of rendering services are classified as short term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages, short-term compensated absences, performance incentives etc., are recognized during the period in which the employee renders related services and are measured at undiscounted amount expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

b) Post-employment obligations

The Group operates the following post-employment schemes:

- (i) Defined benefit plans such as gratuity; and
- (ii) Defined contribution plans such as provident fund.

(i) Defined benefit plans-Gratuity obligations

The liability or assets recognized in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligations at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets.

The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation denominated in ₹ is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. The benefits which are denominated in currency other than ₹, the cash flows are discounted using market yields determined by reference to high quality corporate bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, and that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and change in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognized immediately in profit or loss as past service cost.

(ii) Defined contribution plans

The Group pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered funds as per local regulations. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and the contributions are recognized as employee benefit expense when they are due.

2.14 Provisions, Contingent Liability and Contingent Assets (Ind AS 37)

Disputed liabilities and claims against the Group including claims raised by fiscal authorities (e.g. Sales Tax, Income Tax, Excise, GST etc.) pending in appeal/court for which no reliable estimate can be made and or involves uncertainty of the outcome of the amount of the obligation or which are remotely poised for crystallization are not provided for in accounts but disclosed in notes to accounts. However, present obligation as a result of past event with possibility of outflow of resources, when reliable estimation can be made of the amount of obligation, is recognized in accounts in terms of discounted value, if the time value of money is material using a current pre-tax rate that reflects the risk specific to the liability. No contingent asset is recognized but disclosed by way of notes to accounts.

2.15 Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognised when the right to consideration becomes unconditional. These assets are held at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate (EIR) method where applicable, less provision for impairment based on expected credit loss.

Trade receivable overdue for more than 180 days are considered as receivable with significant increase in credit risk.

2.16 Trade and Other Payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognized initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

2.17 Revenue Recognition (Ind AS 18)

i) Revenue from operations

Revenue is recognised when control of goods is transferred to a customer in accordance with the terms of the contract. The control of the goods is transferred upon delivery to the customers either at factory gate of the Company or specific location of the customer or when the goods are handed over to the freight carrier, as per the terms of the contract. A receivable is recognised by the Group when the goods are delivered to the customer as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional, as only the passage of time is required before payment is due.

Revenue from services, including those embedded in contract for sale of goods, namely, freight and insurance services mainly in case of export sales, is recognised upon completion of services.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled as per contract with a customer. The consideration is determined based on the price specified in the contract, net of the estimated variable consideration. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the variable consideration, using the expected value method and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. Contracts with customers are for short-term, at an agreed price basis having contracted credit period ranging up to 180 days. The contracts do not grant any rights of return to the customer. Returns of goods are accepted by the Company only on an exception basis. Revenue excludes any taxes or duties collected on behalf of government that are levied on sales such as goods and services tax.

Eligible export incentives are recognised in the year in which the conditions precedents are met and there is no significant uncertainty about the collectability.

ii) Other income

Interest income from financial assets is recognised using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options), but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividends are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established; it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Lease rental income is recognised on accrual basis.

2.18 Cash Flows and Cash and Cash Equivalents (Ind AS 7)

Statement of cash flows is prepared in accordance with the indirect method prescribed in the Ind AS 7. For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, cheques and drafts on hand, deposits held with Banks, other short term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and book overdrafts. However, Book overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities in the balance sheet for the purpose of presentation.

2.19 Earnings per share (Ind AS 33)

(i) Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- The profit attributable to owners of the Group;
- By the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year.

(ii) Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- The after 'income-tax' effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares; and
- The weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.20 Segment Reporting (Ind AS 108)

Based on "Management Approach" as defined in ₹ AS 108 – Operating Segments, the Management evaluates the Group's performance and allocates the resources based on an analysis of various performance indicators by business segments.

The Group prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the consolidated financial statements of the Group as a whole.

2.21 Foreign Currency Transactions (Ind AS 21)

In preparing the consolidated financial statements of the Group, transactions in foreign currencies, other than the Group's functional currency are recognised at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rate prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency, are not retranslated.

Exchange differences on monetary items are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which these arise except for:

- exchange differences on foreign currency borrowings relating to assets under construction for future productive use, which are included in the cost of those assets when they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs on those foreign currency borrowings; and
- exchange differences on transactions entered into in order to hedge certain foreign currency risks.

2.22 Fair Value Measurement (Ind AS 113)

The Group measures financial instruments, such as investments (other than equity investments in Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates) and derivatives at fair values at each Balance Sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

In the principal market for the asset or liability, or In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the consolidated financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the consolidated financial statements on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

2.23 Events occurring after the balance sheet date (Ind AS 10)

Assets and liabilities are adjusted for events occurring after the reporting period that provides additional evidence to assist the estimation of amounts relating to conditions existing at the end of the reporting period.

Dividends declared by the Group after the reporting period are not recognized as liability at the end of the reporting period. Dividends declared after the reporting period but before the issue of consolidated financial statements are not recognized as liability since no obligation exists at that time. Such dividends are disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

2.24 Financial Instruments (Ind AS 109)

i. Recognition and initial measurement

All financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognized when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

ii. Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortized cost;
- Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) – equity investment; or
- Fair Value Through Profit and Loss (FVTPL).

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI. (designated as FVOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment-by-investment basis.

Investments in subsidiary companies, associate companies and joint venture Company:

Investments in subsidiary Company is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Where an indication of impairment exists, the carrying amount of the investment is assessed and written down immediately to its recoverable amount. On disposal of investments in subsidiary Company the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amounts are recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortized cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortized cost or at FVOCI or at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortized cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognized in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on de-recognition is also recognized in profit or loss

De-recognition

Financial assets

The Group de-recognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognized on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognized.

Financial liabilities

The Group de-recognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire. The Group also de-recognizes a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognized at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognized in profit or loss.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

2.25 Cash Dividend to Equity Holders of the Group

The Group recognises a liability to make cash distributions to equity holders of the Group when the distribution is authorised and the distribution is no longer at the discretion of the Group. As per the corporate laws in India, a distribution is authorised when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognised directly in equity.

2.26 Research and Development

Expenditure on research is recognized as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure on development which does not meet the criteria for recognition as an intangible asset is recognized as an expense when it is incurred.

Items of property, plant and equipment and acquired intangible assets utilized for research and development are capitalized and depreciated/amortized in accordance with the policies stated for Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets.

2.27 Goods and Service Tax/Service Tax input Credit

Goods and Service tax/Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/utilising the credits.

2.28 Recent accounting pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 31, 2023, MCA has amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023 as below:

Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements

This amendment required the entities to disclose their material accounting policies rather than their significant accounting policies. Accounting policy information, together with other information, is material when it can reasonably be expected to influence decisions of primary users of general purpose financial statements.

The Company is currently revisiting their accounting policy information disclosure to ensure consistency with the amended requirements.

Ind AS 8 - Definition of Accounting Estimates

The amendments clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates and changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. It has also been clarified how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates.

The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2023 and apply to changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates that occur on or after the start of that period.

The amendments are not expected to have a material impact on the Companies Standalone financial statements.

Ind AS 12 - Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction

The amendments narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under Ind AS 12, so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.

The amendments should be applied to transactions that occur on or after the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. In addition, at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented, a deferred tax asset (provided that sufficient taxable profit is available) and a deferred tax liability should also be recognised for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with leases and decommissioning obligations.

The Company is currently assessing the impact of the amendments.

50. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

For the purpose of the Group capital management, capital includes issued equity capital, share premium and all other equity reserves attributable to the equity holders of the Group. The primary objective of the Group's capital management is to maximise the shareholder value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions and the requirements of the financial covenants. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares. The Group monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is net debt divided by total capital plus net debt. The Group includes within net debt, interest bearing loans and borrowings, trade and other payables, less cash and cash equivalents.

Particulars	(₹ in lakhs)
	March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022
Borrowings (Note No: 23 & 27)	17,967.98	8,745.80
Less: cash and cash equivalents (Note No: 14)	(71.37)	(30.07)
Net Debt	17,896.61	8,715.72
Total Equity	26,005.17	28,443.10
Total Equity and net debt	43,901.78	37,158.82
Gearing Ratio	0.41 : 1	0.23 : 1

In order to achieve this overall objective, the Group's capital management, amongst other things, aims to ensure that it meets financial covenants attached to the interest-bearing loans and borrowings that define capital structure requirements. Breaches in meeting the financial covenants would permit the bank to immediately call loans and borrowings. There have been no breaches in the financial covenants of any interest bearing loans and borrowing in the current period.

As at March 31, 2023, the Group has only one class of equity shares. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years ended March 31, 2023 and March 31, 2022.

51. DIVIDEND

Final Dividend

The Board of Directors has recommended final dividend for the financial year 2022-2023 on Equity Share Capital 5% (₹ 0.50 Per Equity of face value of ₹ 10/- each) subject to approval of the shareholders in the ensuing Annual General Meeting (AGM)

52. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT - OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's financial liabilities comprise other than derivatives mainly of borrowings, trade payables and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Group's operations. The Group's principal financial assets, other than derivatives, include trade and other receivables, other balances with banks, loans, investments and cash and cash equivalents that arise directly from its operations.

The Group's activities are exposed to Credit risk, Market risk and Liquidity risk.

The Board of directors of the Group are overall responsible for the establishment and oversight of the Group's risk management framework. The Group's risk management policies are established to identify and analyze the risks faced by the Group, to set appropriate risk limits and controls and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Group's activities.

The Group's audit committee oversees how management monitors compliance with the Group's risk management policies and procedures, and reviews the adequacy of the risk management framework in relation to the risks faced by the Group. The audit committee is assisted in its oversight role by internal audit. Internal audit undertakes both regular and adhoc reviews of risk management controls and procedures, the results of which are reported to the audit committee.

52.1 Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Group's receivables from customers and loans. The carrying amounts of financial assets represent the maximum credit risk exposure.

Trade receivables and loans

The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer. However, management also considers the factors that may influence the credit risk of its customer base. The Group has established a credit policy under which each new customer is analyzed individually for creditworthiness before the Group's standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Sale limits are established for each customer and reviewed quarterly. Any sales exceeding those limits require approval from the management of the Group.

The Group limits its exposure to credit risk from trade receivables by establishing a maximum payment period of 120 days for customers. More than 85% of the Group's customers have been transacting with the Group for over four years, and none of these customers' balances are credit-impaired at the reporting date.

Confirmation of balances from Debtors & Loans and Advances have been received and the same is being reconciled.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Group holds cash and cash equivalents of ₹ 71.37 lakhs at March 31, 2023 (March 31, 2022: ₹ 30.07 lakhs). The cash and cash equivalents are held with bank and cash on hand.

52.2 Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. The Group's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities

52.4 Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. In order to optimize the Group's position with regards to the interest income and interest expenses and to manage the interest rate risk, treasury performs a comprehensive corporate interest rate risk management by balancing the proportion of fixed rate and floating rate financial instruments in its total portfolio.

With all other variables held constant, the following table demonstrates the impact of the borrowing cost on floating rate portion of loans and borrowings and excluding loans on which interest rate swaps are taken.

Nature of Borrowing	Change in basis points	Impact on PAT
		(₹ in lakhs)
		As at March 31, 2023	As at March 31, 2022
Borrowing from Bank	0.5%	(41.16)	(32.72)
	-0.5%	41.16	32.72

52.5 Foreign Currency Risk

The Group is exposed to transactional foreign currency risk to the extent that there is a mismatch between the currencies in which sales, purchases, receivables and borrowings are denominated and functional currency. The functional currency of the Group is INR. The currencies in which these transactions are primarily denominated are US dollars.

The Group Forex risk management policy is to hedge currency exchange fluctuation and mitigate currency volatility and risks and to avoid uncertainties in cash flows. All foreign currency exposures – financial assets and liabilities and firm commitments (imports) & probable forecast transactions (exports) which are off-balance sheet exposures are covered under Forex risk management policy.

Hedging of trade exposures viz., imports and exports are generally hedged on net exposures basis. The Group mostly uses forward exchange contracts to hedge its currency risks mostly with the maturity of less than one year from the reporting date. The Group does not use derivative financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes.

52.3 Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices – such as foreign exchange rates and interest rates – will affect the Group's income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. 53. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS - FAIR VALUES & RISK MANAGEMENT

Accounting Classifications & Fair Value Measurements

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are measured at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

All financial instruments are initially recognized and subsequently re-measured at fair value as described below:

- The fair value of investment in quoted equity shares and mutual funds is measured at quoted price or NAV.
- Fair values of cash and short term deposits, trade and other short term receivables, trade payables, other current liabilities, short term loans from banks and other financial institutions approximate their carrying amounts largely due to short-term maturities of these instruments.
- Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Group based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on the evaluation, allowances are taken to account for the expected losses of these receivables.
- The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts and currency swaps is determined using forward exchange rates and yield curves at the balance sheet date.

The Group uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair values of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Level 1: This includes financial instruments measured using quoted prices. The fair value of all equity instruments that are traded on the stock exchanges is valued using the closing price as at the reporting period.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (for example over-the-counter derivatives) is determined using valuation techniques, which maximise the use of observable market data and rely as little as possible on entity-specific estimates. The mutual fund units are valued using the closing net assets value. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

54. OFFSETTING FINANCIAL ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

The Group has not offset any financial asset and financial liability. It offsets a financial asset and a financial liability when it currently has a legal enforceable right to set-off the recognised amounts and it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

a) Master netting arrangements – not currently enforceable

Agreements with derivative counterparties are based on an ISDA Master Agreement. Under the terms of these arrangements, only where certain credit events occur (such as default), the net position owing/receivable to a single counterparty in the same currency will be taken as owing and all the relevant arrangements are considered as terminated. As the Company does not presently have a legally enforceable right of set-off, these amounts have not been offset in the Standalone Balance Sheet.

b) Collateral against borrowings

The Company has hypothecated | mortgaged assets as collateral against a number of its sanctioned line of credit (Refer Note 22) for further information on assets hypothecated | mortgaged as security). In case of default as per borrowing arrangement, such collateral can be adjusted against the amounts due.

Note: Reason for Differences

- The differences in inventories and trade receivables are majorly on account of goods in transit where the goods have been physically dispatched from the Company location however, the same has not been considered as revenue from the purpose of revenue recognition principles and hence reversed from books of accounts for respective quarter ends. Similarly, goods in transit for goods which have not reached respective Company locations are not considered however, considered as purchases as per accounting principles. This has led to offsetting differences between Inventory, trade receivables and trade payable balances.
- The management, basis their understanding with banks, submits stock statement of physical stock as available at respective locations at the period end. Accordingly adjustment for goods in transit (inward and outward) is not considered for the purpose of filing returns with banks.
