Our Journey

Message from the Chairman's Desk

Dear Shareholders,

I feel pride in presenting the 28th Annual Report for FY2023 of CE Info Systems Limited.

In the year following our listing on the NSE and BSE, we have seen an incredible response to our story, and are very thankful for the interest displayed by the community towards understanding our company. We remain committed to pushing the envelope in terms of India's map-based services through unique combination of our advanced digital map database, strong management vision, advanced technological and digital capabilities, and a commitment to providing top quality products to our customers.

Our solutions in B2B & B2B2C can largely be classified as Map-led and IoT-led, and each of these is powered by different levers and creates different value for the organization. We have historically been driven by the Map-led business, which is a high margin business owing to the 28 years we have been able to spread the capital expense over. While our IoT offerings are strong, until recently we were unable to focus on this segment due to limited management bandwidth. With the acquisition and successful integration of Gtropy, we now have a dedicated management force with a wealth of technical expertise to grow that business with the right investment. We are already seeing incredible results, with a drastic increase in demand for the IoT based solutions by us growing 220% from FY2022. We expect this business to continue to scale up and contribute strongly to our financial performance in the coming years.

Another area we are excited to explore is the drone segment. While we consider it to be one of our 3 pillars of technology (along with maps and IoT), it is still in the nascent stage. However, we believe that prudent investment at this point will yield strong results in the longer run and are proud to announce a strategic investment of 7 crores into Indrones Solutions for a 20% stake.

We are bullish on the value-add we will derive from this investment over the next few years and expect it to strengthen our delivery capabilities. We are also very excited about our strategic investment of 10 crores for a 26% stake in Kogo, a gamified social travel commerce platform, which will open up new markets and new use cases for us. This is primarily an effort to create value for the general public (our B2C customers) through an enticing combination of information and interaction.

The ruling of CCI against Google's monopoly and its abuse has given us hopes to make a dent in the consumer market.

We continue to expand our global portfolio of offerings via our Mappls brand and have opened up a new office in South Korea, led by industry veterans with a wealth of experience. This business will primarily cater to the Southeast Asian markets, and we expect this to grow materially over the next few years.

With all these opportunities in front of us, I would like to explain our growth roadmap, and the drivers for the same. We are aiming to reach a revenue of

Rs. 1,000 crores in the next 4-5 years, and we feel like our track record over the past 2 years gives us good confidence that we will be able to achieve this target.

Over the past 2 years, our revenue has grown at a CAGR of 36%, which would be the growth rate required to meet our target. Additionally, our net margins have expanded significantly.

We expect this growth to be driven through a combination of operating leverage, rapid adoption of our services through increasing use cases, focused management efforts and strong order book growth. We are thankful for the trust placed in us by all our clients and will endeavor to maintain our track record of excellence.

On the operational side of things, I am pleased to inform you that we generated operating revenues of Rs. 282 crores in FY2023, registering a healthy growth of 41% YoY over FY2022. The Operating Profit (EBITDA) was Rs. 118 crores for the year, an increase of 37% YoY. Our Net Profit (after-tax) for the year stood at Rs. 108 crores, reporting growth of 24% YoY. Our open order book as of April 1st 2023 stands at Rs. 918 crores, up 31% from Rs. 699 crores in FY22. We expect our strong opening order book to provide assurance of our growth trajectory in the years to come.

I take this opportunity to record my appreciation for my fellow directors for guiding the Company amidst this challenging operating environment. I would also like to thank all of our personnel and management that continue to strive at excellence, allowing MapmyIndia to always stay at the edge of innovation and capture new opportunities. We have been able to contain the industry-wide problem of attrition through job satisfaction, upskilling and converting more employees into a permanent role. Finally, I offer my thanks to our customers, consumers, business partners, suppliers, shareholders, and other stakeholders for their continued trust in the Company.

I look forward to the years ahead as we work together towards building a Company that benefits all stakeholders.

As Nobel laureate Albert Szent-Györgyi said, "Innovation is seeing what everybody has seen and thinking what nobody has thought". Innovation has been the cornerstone of MapmyIndia's mantra to building a sustainable business. The Company has made a mark for itself in the domestic market and our ability to integrate Maps, IoT and Drones to produce world class products and solutions places us uniquely to tap the global markets where the opportunities are endless.

Sincerely,

Rakesh Kumar Verma

A Word From The CEO

Dear Shareholders,

The year gone by turned out to be a significant milestone in our journey as we delivered strong performance on all fronts. While we continued to leverage the opportunities that stood in front of us to achieve this growth, it would not have been possible without the support of all our stakeholders and our excellent team.

In FY2023, our revenue grew by ~41%, wherein we witnessed growth across all our segments.

I'm extremely happy to share that, on the automotive side, the rate of adoption of our N-CASE mobility suite surpassed the industry growth as 1.9+ Million new vehicles that includes four-wheelers, two-wheelers, and CVs, across ICE and EV segments, went built-in with MapmyIndia NCASE solutions, up from 1.3 Million in FY2022. We foresee this number to grow on the back of our market leadership and the increasing adoption of ADAS and Electric Vehicles in the industry. Additionally, for our mobility market- we have built maps and IoT capabilities to capture the multi-billion-dollar addressable market of 300+ Million crore existing on-road vehicles in India.

Our non-automotive & mobility vertical i.e. consumer tech & enterprise digital transformation, reported a robust growth as we won business from digitally native companies to large, traditional businesses across verticals. Our comprehensive product stack and strong tech capabilities allows use to serve multiple use cases and explore upselling and cross selling opportunities. Moreover, our geospatial analytics have been crucial in providing insights to businesses in their objective to transform digitally. We saw multiple national, state, and local government organizations sign up for not only our geospatial solutions but also our drone capabilities. We have been making inroads and exploring the B2C market through strong government partnerships and our consumer facing application, Mapppls and IoT gadgets. Both our app and gadgets have been receiving immense appreciation from consumers.

We have strengthened our open order book for next year and it now stands at Rs. 918 Crores, giving us the confidence that our revenues will grow at a healthy pace over the next few years. While our open order book provides revenue visibility for the coming years, our existing and growing customer base, gives a direction on the additional revenue that can be generated through new contracts during the year. We added 250+ B2B and B2B2C customers in FY2023 and have grown to over 850+ diverse revenue generating customers with a retention of more than 90%. We remain focussed on building deep customer relationships and adding value through our products by serving various use cases and ultimately expanding our addressable market.

On the product side, we continued to invest and innovate towards enhancing our mapping technologies that consist of our developer APIs, N-CASE suite, digital transformation platforms and Mapppls application. We released RealView 360-degree and Metaverse 3D map products on Mapppls, enhancing our B2C product offering. We augmented our N-CASE suite offerings by integrating, our recently acquired, KOGO's gamified social travel commerce platform with our maps and navigation. This gives a unique edge to our product offerings to automotive OEMs.

Besides this, within our IoT-led segment we cater to the existing on-road vehicles through Gtropy and MapmyIndia's combined IoT-led goods logistics & people mobility SaaS. This segment contributed materially to our top line during the year. Margins from the IoT-led segment improved towards the end of FY2023 as the SaaS revenue started kicking in. We expect this trend to continue as more and more enterprises and consumers start buying our IoT gadgets and using our platform.

Apart from maps and IoT, as said in the past, we have been focussed towards enhancing our drone capabilities as well, both organically and inorganically. We acquired a 20% stake in Indrones Solutions Private Limited, a company that is engaged in the business of drone manufacturing, data analytics and developing end-to-end solutions leveraged by drones, IoT and other sensors which helps digitize various sectors. Similar to the Gtropy acquisition, our objective in the coming quarters would be to integrate Indrones with our existing drone segment to address the fast-growing market for drone solutions.

While we will continue to look for inorganic investment opportunities that will help us enhance our offerings and increase our addressable market, we have outlined four areas for our organic investments that will set us for an accelerated growth in the coming quarters. First, towards development of product segments that are currently at a nascent stage that includes scaling our IoT-led business and building strong full-stack drone capabilities. Second, in marketing activities to build awareness of the MapmyIndia and Mapppls brands and product portfolio which will reap rewards in terms of new customer acquisition and new use case adoption. Third, towards leveraging the B2C opportunity that includes investing in our consumer facing app and gadgets space. And fourth, in cutting-edge product and platform development which will further expand use cases, addressable markets, growth engines and moats for MapmyIndia Mapppls.

Our objective has always been to build advanced digital maps and deep tech digital products and platforms to serve a variety of customers and their multiple use cases. So, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all our stakeholders for their support and we are pleased to have you onboard on this exciting journey ahead.

Sincerely,

Rohan Verma

MapmyIndia as an Innovator

AHEAD OF THE CURVE

“A pile of rocks ceases to be a rock pile when somebody contemplates it with the idea of a cathedral in mind.”

—Antoine de Saint-Exupéry

While MapmyIndia is not in the business of surveying rocks or building cathedrals, we more than embody this attitude of being able to approach problems with a targeted course of direction, allowing us to see unique opportunities. Your company has always been able to understand in what direction customer needs will evolve and have a jumpstart on innovation to be prepared for a host of outcomes.

areas into 2D digital maps. Your company created these digital maps by conducting professional field surveys, collection and compilation of major landmarks, roads, rivers, city, district, and locality information. The partnership with Coca Cola lasted more than a decade enabling them to easily understand and see their bottlers command area and gaps or overlaps of coverage.

1995 – Where Do I Can My Cola?

The Context

Following the New Economic Policy, 1991, foreign companies began to pour into India in the wake of globalization. However, Indian infrastructure was vastly different to the west, especially in the fields of connectivity and recording of data. While paper maps were extremely pervasive in the US, India operated on a more informal system of landmarks and familiarity with nearby locations. Coca Cola, having just re-entered India, and through its acquired Indian cola company Thums Up had a complex network of bottlers each with an assigned distribution territory, nothing depicted the boundaries of the territories (descriptions such as “along the river” substituted for maps).

Enter Your Company

Given that Coca Cola was unable to keep consistent records of locations, Your company converted their written records of their bottlers command

Founders of MapmyIndia

2000 – Can you hear me?

The Context

Mobile telephony was taking its first steps into India. Telecom operators were rushing to set up telecom towers across the country. With each tower costing more than Rs. 1 Crore it became imperative to place them in the correct locations for the best coverage.

Enter Your Company

This provided an opportunity for Your company to build 3D maps of the country. Telecom operators such as the joint venture of Essar and Cellular One were interested in topographic features (high ground suitable for cell towers) where they needed to understand the height of buildings, hills, vegetation etc to be able to calculate the transmission area for a tower. Through these 3D digital maps operators saved on making any costly decisions.

~Creates 3D maps~

2004 – The Rise of the Internet

The Context

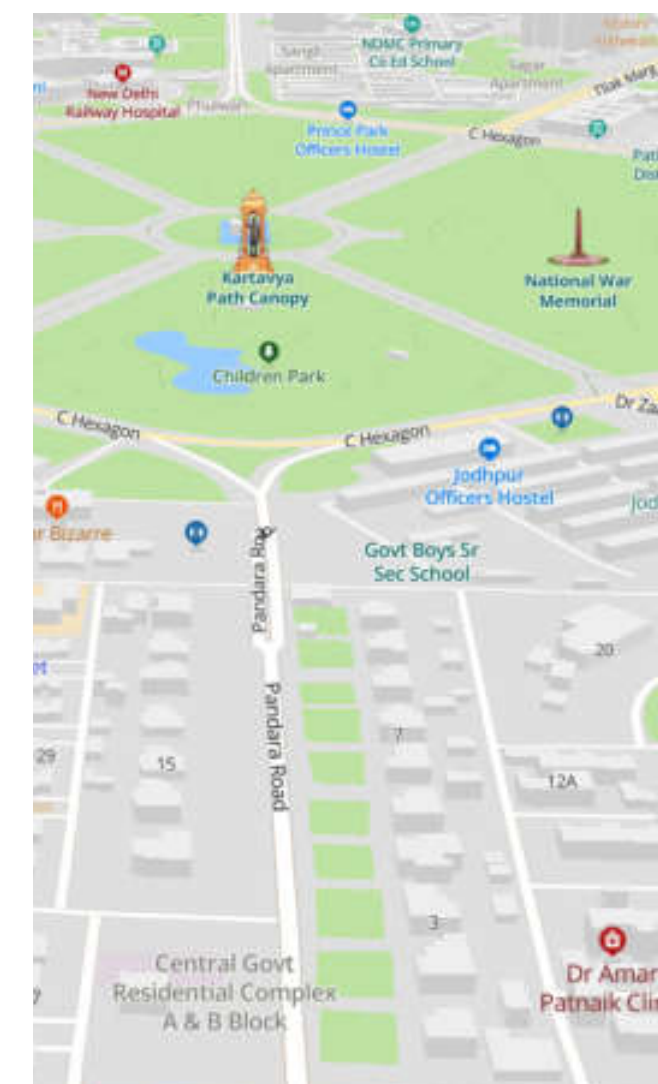

The early 2000s was a great time to be a fan of technology. A new tool had just emerged: the Internet - A massive connection of networks intended to answer every question and solve every problem. Additionally, satellite imagery had become readily available in India. GPS equipment, trackers and car surveys further led to a lot of productivity enhancement and made the data collection and digitization process much faster and easier.

Enter Your Company

By this point, after having built extensive digital maps of the country, Your company decided to unveil India's first internet mapping digital portal 'MapmyIndia.com', providing customized, location-based services that can be accessed both via web and on mobile for free. This gave the company an impetus to provide a service to consumers. With more adoption and usage by consumers, Your company was able to educate more enterprises on the power of such technologies. As Your company was able to anticipate the market needs of newly emerging technology and add our own value to it, we were able to license our data to enterprise tech customers like Yahoo.com to power their yahoo india maps portal. As a result, your Company was declared as a showcase company for the 'IT Innovation in India' by NASSCOM in 2004.

~Online maps for consumers~

2007 – The Hitchhiker’s Guide to India

The Context

With renewed vigour, India had started building their road infrastructure such as the Golden Quadrilateral. With more consumers driving intercity, the culture around using maps becoming widespread in India, more people had begun relying on maps that they could be assured were as up to date as possible.

Enter Your Company

We launched a pan-India GPS navigation system that allowed users to navigate towards their desired location. This was the first technology of its kind in India, and with our extensive house level address maps as part of our GPS navigation systems, retail customers through the personal navigation devices and automotive OEMs through in-dash systems were able to now get turn-by-turn voice and visual guidance. Soon, well-known auto manufacturers such as BMW, General Motors and Ford licensed MapmyIndia data and software and started offering touch-based navigation as an additional feature in their in-dash systems.

~Creates navigation using digital maps~

2011 – The Internet of Things

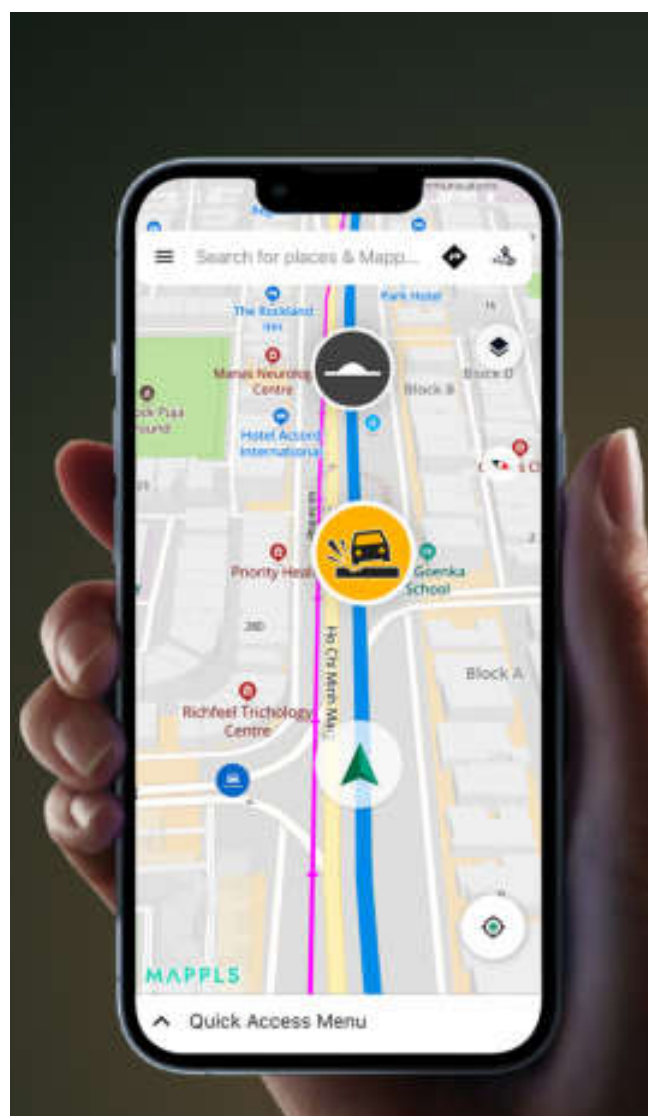

The Context

With smartphones being able to access the internet as a norm, more companies began to realize the importance of staying connected to the internet at all times, allowing for transfer of large quantities of data. However, nobody was able to derive meaningful outcomes from the mass of data, creating a market opportunity for anyone with good enough technology to allow for telematics related to location-based data.

Enter Your Company

We created a GPS-based telematics platform that leveraged the power of the Internet of Things and Big Data processing to create a user-friendly platform that could provide intelligible outcomes and analytics including matters such as utilization metrics, streamline process flow and efficient tracking and monitoring of assets, vehicles, and equipment. This led to MapmyIndia being awarded the coveted title of ‘Most Innovative Mobile Application of the Year’ in India IT & Telecom Excellence Awards by Frost & Sullivan in 2011.

~Creates telematics platform to improve efficiency~

2015 – Knights of the Silicon Valley

The Context

While developers were now aware of the importance of integrating map-based data into their software and applications, especially in newly emerging fields such as e-commerce, fleet management and food delivery, there was a lot of confusion on how to gather map data, how to integrate that into their native software and how to create user-friendly output from the same

Enter Your Company

We created a suite of APIs and SDKs that allowed developers to easily integrate their solutions and software with our database and products. This allowed for widespread adoption of our services by ecommerce platforms like Amazon and Flipkart due to the ease of use and accessibility.

~Widespread reach of our maps and platforms~

2019 – My Way On The Highway

The Context

Most drivers use their phones for navigation. However, this is fairly unsafe, as well as faces a myriad of problems in the event of poor network connectivity and low battery.

Enter Your Company

We released a suite of products called NCASE (Navigation and Connected, Autonomous, Shared and Electric Vehicles) that will integrate MapmyIndia’s maps and platforms into the car software stack displaying on not only in the infotainment systems but on the dashboard and driver cockpit.

These maps are solving a variety of use cases to not only make navigation available even in events of poor connectivity and update in near real time basis once connected to the internet, but would also enable ADAS systems, tracking of shared mobility fleets and provide battery range anxiety solutions for electric vehicles. Faced with massive success, MapmyIndia has managed to secure an 80-90% volume market share in new vehicles for maps and technology solutions in automobile OEMs.

~Market leader in automotive location-based services~

2019 – Optimize Your Business

The Context

There was a severe lack of geospatial related analytics due to most companies not having either the map data to gather the information or the software to derive meaningful outcomes from the data.

Enter Your Company

Our geographic information system and geo-analytics offerings platforms, mGIS and Insight, consist of location-based APIs capable of ingesting, processing, publishing, visualising and analysing geo-spatial data to provide location. These offerings are used by customers for optimising supply-chains and logistics, for instance to devise the optimal supply routes for petroleum products to various pumps, or for governmental and regulatory authorities and agencies to understand the locations of traders, taxpayers etc. across locations.

2022 – Navigating The Virtual World

The Context

While there are now many companies that have use case specific digital maps to some degree of accuracy, maps are becoming more and more complex having evolved from simple 2D to 3D to High Definition to information rich maps to now metaverse maps. We have been able to establish a strong foothold as market leaders in the geospatial industry servicing B2B and B2B2C customers through our products and platform, we have now started to offer more comprehensive products and slowly monetize B2C customers.

Enter Your Company

We released Mapppls RealView, a 360-degree recreation of any location for 100+ cities across India through our Mapppls.com and Mapppls app for consumers. Completely free to use through the Mapppls portal, users can view their entire surrounding at any point across India. The first company in India to offer this technology of its kind, we decided to do this so that Indian consumers could also benefit from this technology.

As a result, we are able to service the nascent market, leading to an air of wonderment around our technologies as well as priming us to set the market expectations.

Blue ocean opportunity

Given how wide our breadth of solutions can stretch, there are very few problems that MapmyIndia cannot solve. This allows us to capture vast market opportunity across a variety of industries, since almost all industries now have some need for location-based solutions.

Early mover advantage

Integrated IoT powered logistics solutions & Drone-based technologies are still in the nascent stage, allowing us to set the market standard for quality and value-add.

Understanding the Industry

Market leadership established on the basis of its depth and breadth of offerings. The management has had vast experience in this industry, having led the innovation in mapping, deep technology, and digital transformation.

In-House Technical Expertise

MapmyIndia's advanced technology stack of powerful data mapping which can easily give birth to infinite integrations and applications within technologies, corporates, governments and end-consumers allows us to be uniquely positioned as a Digital Transformation company who is able to vastly optimize and streamline problems such as business expansion, cost and process flow optimization and risk based analytics.

Innovating for India

With the new geospatial policy that came into effect in February 2021, the government of India has opened up the geospatial sector to indigenous companies. As the market leader in this industry, we are strongly favoured to carry forward the Indian geospatial journey and drive innovation in aspects related to location-based datamatics and compliance, infrastructure planning, city planning and traffic organization.

What Fuels Our Innovation?

Barriers to Entry

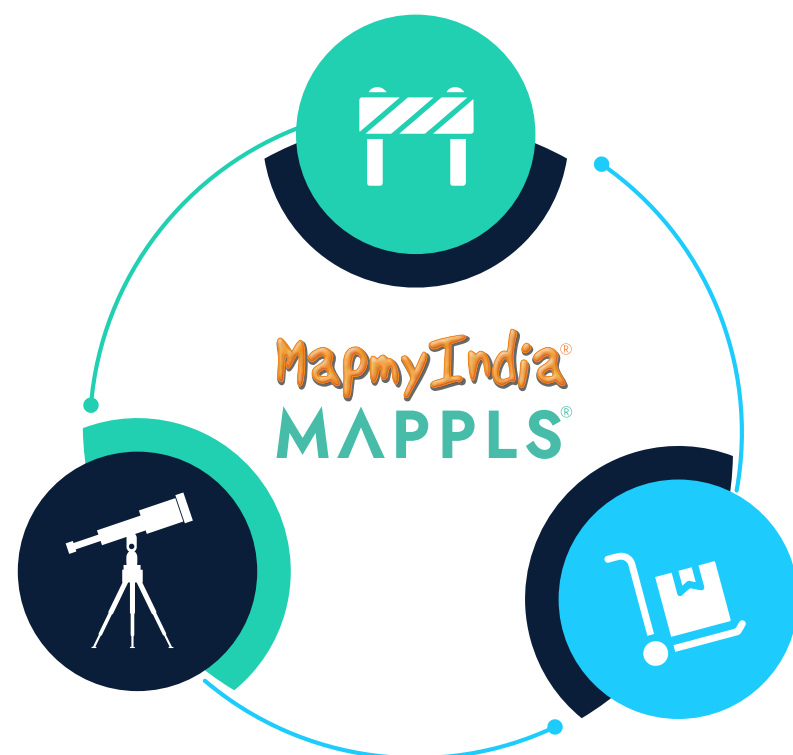

Building Maps is costly and time consuming, and we have been able to handle both by amortizing the capital cost over the course of 25+ years as well as update the maps in a more technologically advanced cost efficient process.

Our strong profitability is entirely channelled towards R&D and innovation, allowing us to stay ahead of the curve and constantly refine our solutions.

Flexibility

All our products and platform are developed in-house, and our wide breadth of offerings allows us to not only customize solutions but also provide revenue contracts ie charge per vehicle, per asset, per api, per use case etc suitable for every customer as they require.

This allows us to easily enter new markets and industries and carry over our existing products and platforms.

Future Looking

We have been able to identify what will become a relevant issue for enterprises 3-4 years in the future, and begin working on products right away, allowing us to enter the market with a refined solution and set high expectations.

We were able to focus on efforts such as enterprise digital transformation, geospatial analytics, 4D maps and real-time map updates for navigation much before they became a mainstream demand.

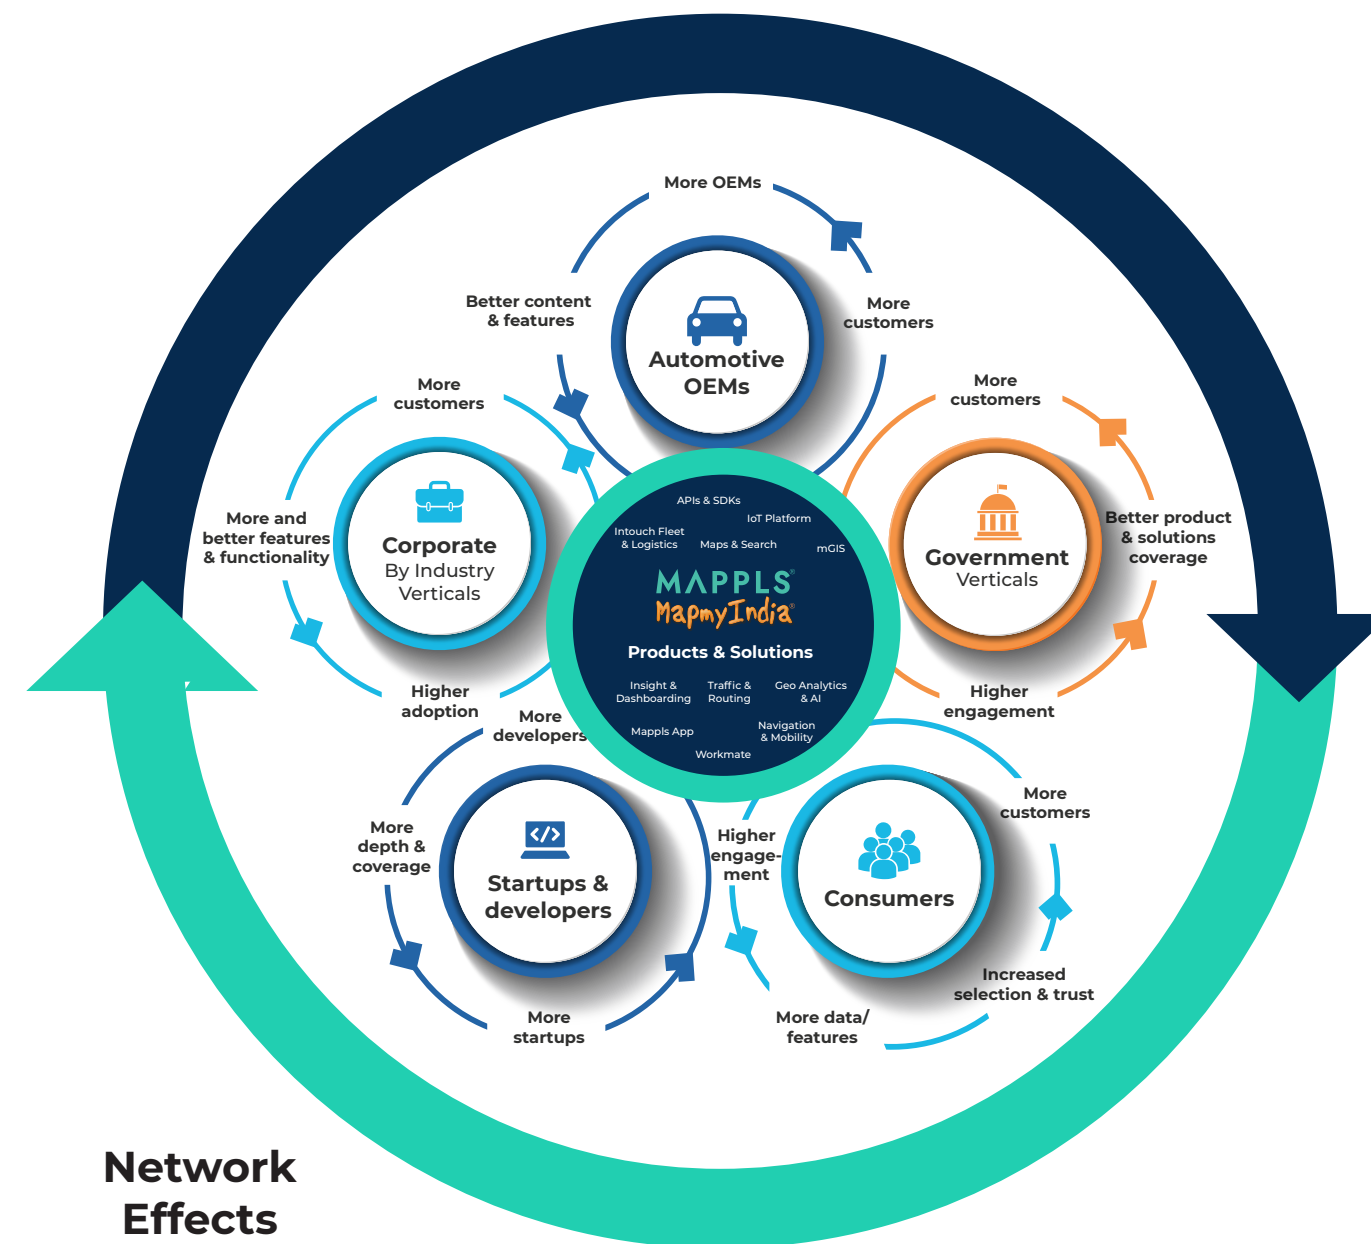

The Flywheel Effect

Any customer using our technology be it through vehicles, corporate and consumer tech apps, government systems and mobility customers integrated with our technology capture and report location data back into our cloud, which then refines our maps and offerings at a near real-time basis, allowing our solutions to be always updated. This system handled tens of billions of API calls during the year enriching the map data. This in turn attracts more customers. This cycle is a low-capital-intensive method of data updation, paired with increasing use cases and more dynamic output, resulting in a constant feedback loop.

In simple terms, the flywheel effect can be described as follows:

Better Maps -> More Customers -> More Data Gathered -> Better Maps

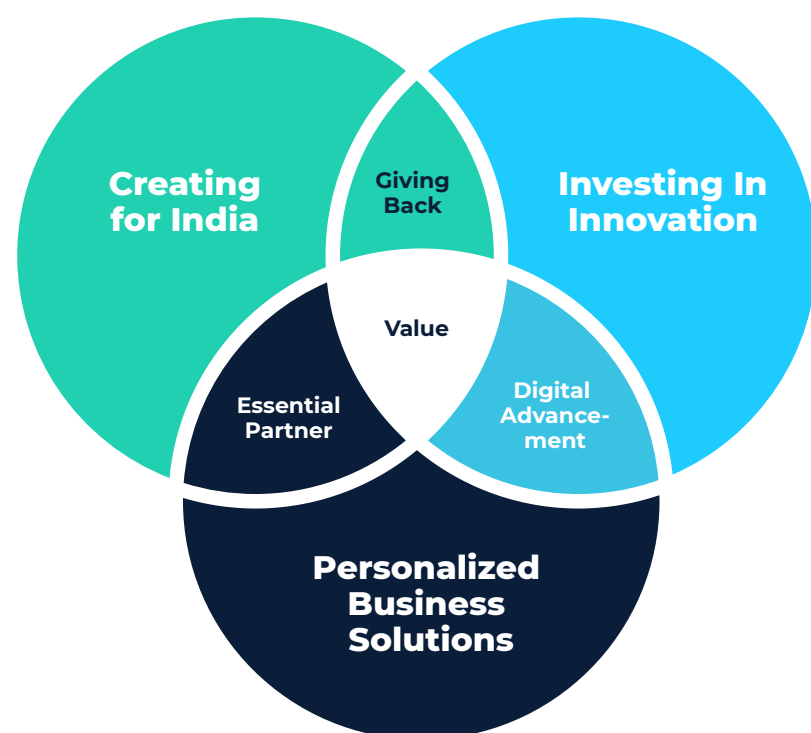

Creating Impact

We engage with various internal and external stakeholders on a continuous basis. While on one hand we create impact on external stakeholders by delivering value-add through our unique products and platforms, on the other hand, we consistently undertake initiatives for our internal stakeholders to enrich their working environment and help them become leaders. This helps us build long-term and healthy stakeholder relations.

Management Discussion and Analysis (MD&A)

Global Economic Scenario

The global economy witnessed a good extent of volatility in FY2023, with rumours of a potential recession in the US and Europe exacerbated by rising inflation, supply chain predicaments and continuous geopolitical tensions in Europe. Central Bank policy continues to combat these issues, but time will be needed to fully show the counteractive effects.

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) reported that the global economy grew by 3.4% in CY2022, slowing down from the 5.9% growth observed in CY2021. This de-growth largely stems from the more advanced economies. The US continues to combat high inflation and the Federal Bank is expected to raise rates into restrictive territory, while China recently opened up their economy following another serious episode of COVID-19, resulting in a nation-wide shutdown for the majority of 2022.

However, developing economies have shown extreme resilience, growing nearly double the rate of developed economies. This is largely driven by the fact that developing countries have relatively more affordable alternatives towards economic recovery. Offshoring and outsourcing activities have led to larger inflow of funds, ultimately helping these economies in combating issues such as unemployment and driving up consumer demand. Global growth is expected to slow from 3.4% in 2022 to 2.9% in 2023, with advanced economies displaying a more pronounced slowdown. China and India are expected to account for 50% of global growth. Global headline inflation is expected to fall from 8.8% in 2022 to 4.3% in 2024.

In the wake of this uncertain economic condition, the Geospatial industry continues its rapid advancement, with rising demand for services including navigation, location-based analytics providing leverage as a new driver of growth. While the global semiconductor-chip shortage still continues to be a bane for IT and electronic-based industries – such as automobile – improving supply chains have resulted in stabilization as compared to FY2022. ESG is also increasing in priority as companies look for sustainable solutions as an indicator of societal responsibility.

Indian Economic Scenario

FY2023 was a strong year for the Indian economy, displaying growth of 7.2% from the previous year. This is largely due to the increased pervasiveness of offshoring and outsourcing as multi-national corporations (MNCs) continued to optimize costs and India providing a vast pool of young talent as an attractive prospect to obtain quality services at a reduced cost.

However, inflation of 6.7% in FY2023, has eased to 4.3% in May 2023 but there is still a long way to go before we can claim that India has achieved an ideal economic state. The RBI has implemented assertive monetary policies to guide headline inflation from 5.7% as of March 2023, towards the medium-term target of 4% by 2024. The RBI has projected India's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth to reach 6.4% for FY2024.

Digital Maps and Location Intelligence Technology & Services

With the increased pervasiveness of a location component in nearly every industry, digital maps continue to increase in popularity in India. Industries such as automotive, telecom, e-commerce, retail, FMCG, BFSI, logistics and food delivery all find a need for hyper-local digital maps. The Indian digital map services market is expected to be valued at US$ 4.2 Billion by CY2025 and the Indian Mobility Navigations Solutions and Telematics market is expected to be valued at US$ 45 Billion by CY2025. This growth is expected to be derived from growing app downloads and increasing smartphone penetration (75% in CY2023E) in India as a result of better infrastructure and increasing use cases for location-based data platforms.

Automotive & Mobility Industry

In FY2023, there were 21 Million new vehicles produced. The automotive industry is expected to continue to thrive as the number of new vehicles increases to 25 Million by FY2028 driven by high consumer demand. Digitization and electrification have been the major trends of the 2020s decade, making it imperative for automotive OEMs (Original Equipment Manufacturers) to stay at the forefront of NCASE (navigation and connected, automatic, shared, and electric) vehicle technology. The industry adoption rate of maps and technologies stood at 11% in FY2023 and is expected to be 25% in FY2028. The potential revenue opportunity for the industry is estimated at Rs. 500 Crores by FY2028.

Apart from this, there are 300+ Million existing vehicles on road which is expected to increase to 340 Million by FY2028. With an upsurge in demand for data and connectivity, we are witnessing increased penetration of high-end IoT devices that ultimately creates a large after-market opportunity for us. Out of 340 Million vehicles, 30 Mn vehicles are expected to adopt these technologies, from the current 4 Million, in the upcoming years. The potential revenue opportunity for the industry is estimated at Rs. 6,000 Crores by FY2028.

Consumer Tech and Enterprise Industry

India is the second largest e-commerce market in the world. With improving infrastructure allowing for growing internet connectivity in smaller towns, cities and villages, Indian ecommerce users are projected to grow to 885 Million by FY2025. This growth will be further driven by increasing disposable income in non-metro cities along with larger awareness of the range of services offered through non-conventional methods including door-to-door delivery, which relies strongly on a bedrock of location-driven platforms and analytics. There are around 2,700 well funded digital companies that are a potential customer base for maps and location based technology products.

Digital transformation begun as a response mechanic to the pandemic but has grown in popularity as traditional companies continue to focus on increasing efficiency in areas such as business growth, operational efficiency, and risk management. There exists a large potential market for companies that wish to use technologies such as IoT and AI/ML to improve analytics, feedback, and tailor product offerings that suit their specific strengths. There are around 2,300 conventional or traditional companies of scale that are a potential customer base for maps and location based technology products.

By FY2028, out of the potential 5,000 digital and conventional customers, 1000 such companies may adopt maps and location based technologies creating a combined revenue potential of Rs. 1000 crores.

Besides traditional companies, various governments have also been looking for ways to transform themselves digitally. By FY2028, out of a total customer base of 5,000 Local, State and Central governments and departments, with local government making up ~90%, 1000 such departments are expected to adopt maps and location based technologies. Thus, creating a potential revenue opportunity of Rs. 1200 Crores for the industry.

National Geospatial Policy 2022

In December 2022, the Ministry of Science and Technology announced the National Geospatial Policy 2022. This policy is another push by the government to liberalize the sector and aims to democratize information by promoting the use and reuse of geospatial data, products, and services by providing open-access solutions through a network of Geospatial Platforms at national and sub-national levels. It was created with the vision of India having a coherent national location data framework/ Geospatial Knowledge Infrastructure (GKI) by 2030. All Geospatial Data produced using public funds, except the classified geospatial data collected by security/law enforcement agencies, shall be made easily accessible for scientific, economic, and developmental purposes to all Indian Entities and without any restrictions on their use.

Competition Commission of India's (CCI) ruling against Google

Since the unveiling of the new geospatial guidelines in February 2021, we have been petitioning against the unfair monopoly enjoyed by Google as a result of Google Maps being embedded as the default map option on Android devices. In FY2023, the CCI agreed that Google was to be held accountable for unfair market practices and was fined Rs. 1,337 Crores. The order also asked Google to implement other changes to Android, which would facilitate better competition and open up for new players in the smartphone market. The order asks that Google should not deny access to its Play Services plugins to "disadvantaged" original equipment manufacturers (OEMs), and the licencing of Play Store to OEMs should not be linked to the requirement of pre-installing Google search, Chrome browser, YouTube, Google Maps, Gmail, or any other Google application. Google had initially filed an appeal with the NCLAT against the CCI order. However, NCLAT had declined to stay the antitrust watchdog's order. The matter is currently being looked into by the Supreme Court.

About Our Business

Order Book

Our Open Order book is made up of contracts that are based on two kinds of pricing models.

Fixed Pricing

These are contracts where the customers agree to pay a fixed price over the contract duration.

Volume projections

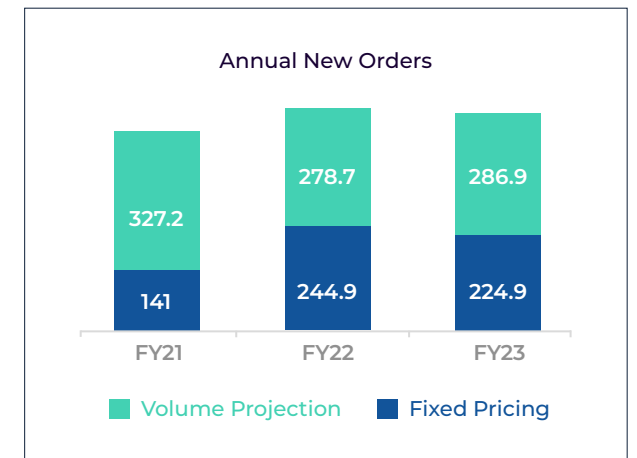

These are contracts with our B2B and B2B2C customers based on their volume projections during the contract period. The pricing for a particular period is based on per vehicle, per asset and per API basis.

We receive payments in the form of annuity, per asset, per vehicle, per use case, per user, per API transaction and subscription per device.

Our Open Order book saw a healthy growth of 31% in FY2023. The open order book gives us confidence and revenue visibility for the upcoming years. Historically, on average, the open order book to revenue conversion ratio has been 3-5 years.

New contracts won during the year are added to our open order book and is then transferred to revenues as the billing happens on an annual, quarterly or monthly basis. However, new contracts signed and billed during the same year do not form part of the Open Order Book and are directly included in annual new orders and revenues.

Rs. Crores	FY2022	FY2023
Open Order (Current year)	377.5	699.6
New Orders	523.6	511.8
Revenue	(200.4)	(281.5)
Open Order (Next year)	699.6	918.0

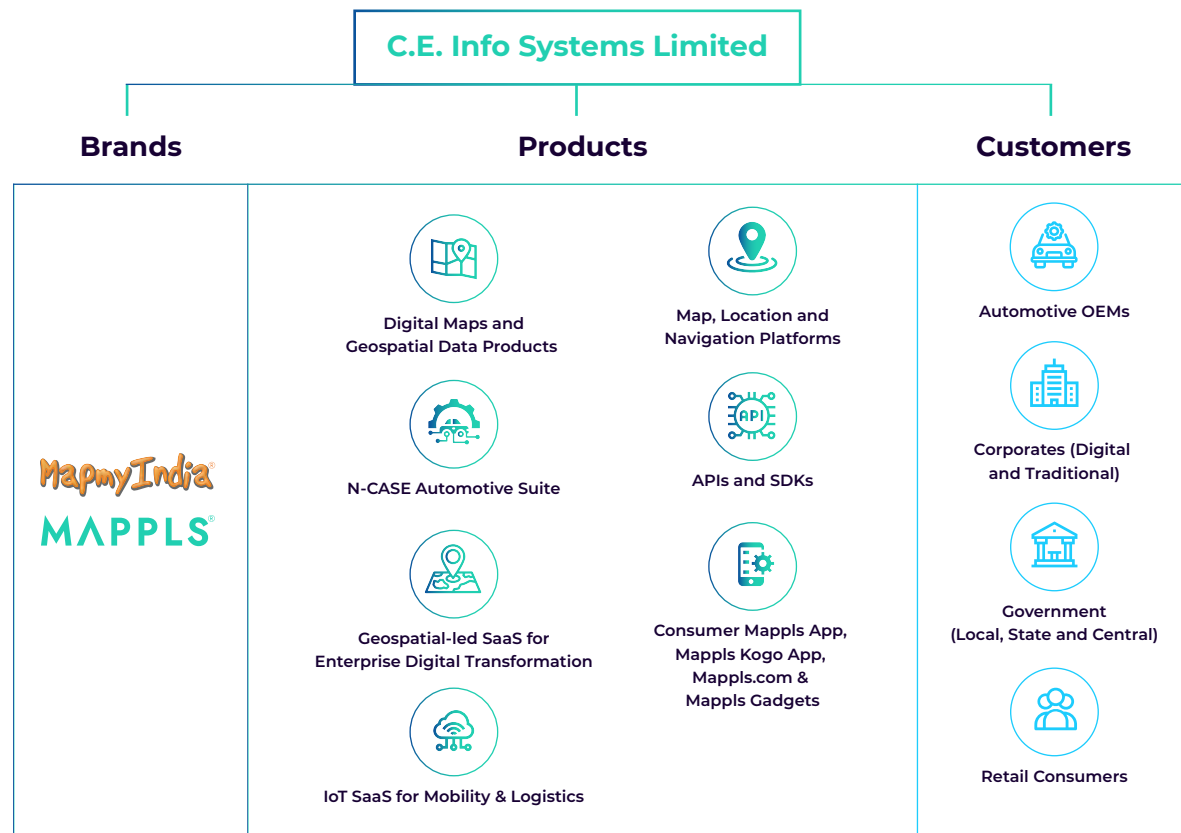

However, our next leg of growth will come as we unlock upselling and cross selling opportunities with our existing and new customers. We added 250+ customer in FY2023 and expanded our base from 600+ customers in FY2022 to 850+ customers in FY2023. The revenue generated in FY2023 was largely made up of existing and new contracts that we signed with our existing customers with little contribution from new customers. However, in the coming years, we expect significant contribution from new customers to our order book as usage increases and/or we sign multi-year contracts with them.

While we continued to expand our customer base, we also focussed on reducing our customer concentration as number of customers contributing 80% of revenue increased from 35 in FY2022 to 54 customers in FY2023 with retention ratios of more than 90%, a testimony of the value add our customers see from our product offerings.

Our Product Offerings

We have transitioned from reporting our product-wise revenue into Map-led and IoT-led against the earlier break-up between Map & Data and Platform & IoT. This was done with an aim to give a better representation of the underlying pillars of all our products. We have defined three tech pillars for business, based on which we will be building our products, namely Maps, IoT and Drones.

Map-led business

This business is driven by the licensing of our maps and makes up majority of our revenues.

Revenue from this segment grew from Rs. 175.8 Crores in FY2022 to Rs. 222.4 Crores in FY2023, contributing 79% to total revenues in FY2023

Map-led business is extremely profitable since the major development costs of building the map products have been borne over the past 25+ years and with technology driven professional updates using AI/ML tools making it an even more cost efficient process resulting in operating leverage kicking in leading to EBITDA margins of more than 50%. We maintained a healthy EBITDA margin in our Map-led business of 52.6% in FY2023. The Map-led open order book as on April 01, 2023, is around Rs. 700+ Crores.

IoT-led business

This business is driven by selling of IoT devices followed by SaaS revenue that kicks in later on.

As a result of high growth in IoT business, it is to be expected that margins will initially be compressed since device hardware has lower margins. However, it is expected to provide high margin SaaS revenue after about 12 months.

FY2023 was an extremely strong year for this segment, with Gtropy being fully incorporated into this segment and with an integrated product suite it is creating massive value for customers. Although Gtropy is a separate entity, we recommend that it be viewed as a division of MapmyIndia as a result of the strongly complementary nature of its offerings with MapmyIndia's core suite of products.

The IoT business alone contributed revenue of Rs. 59.1 Crores in FY2023, up 140% from Rs. 24.6 Crores in FY2022. This is largely due to Gtropy's strong presence in the IoT devices market along with our product offerings. The number of IoT devices sold/rented in FY2023 was 0.19 Million, more than 3x the 0.06 Million devices sold in FY2022.

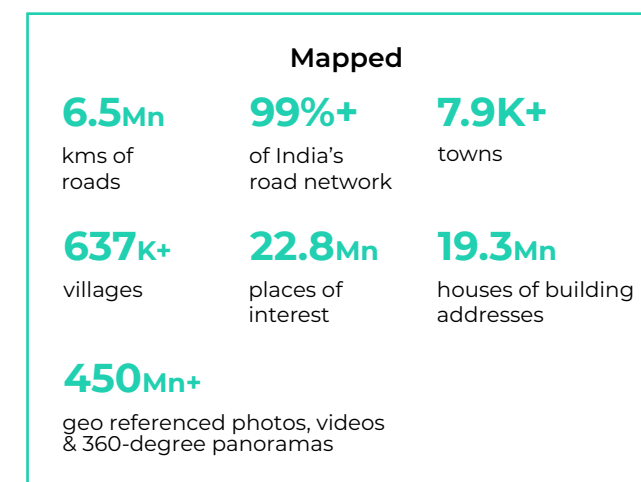

Revenue from sale of hardware was Rs. 42.2 Crores in FY2023, up 156% YoY from Rs. 16.5 Crores in FY2022.

Revenue from SaaS Subscription was Rs. 16.8 Crores in FY2023, up 107% YoY from Rs. 8.1 Crores in FY2022.

Our Products

Digital Maps and Geospatial Data Products

We use our proprietary, end-to-end technology-driven, and AI-assisted mapping systems and processes to acquire and process digital geospatial data as well as to produce and disseminate digital map data. We provide foundational and comprehensive digital maps across India. Our advanced maps represent the real world in 2D and 3D. Our maps are standard definition as well as HD, providing photo-realistic virtual reality (VR) and augmented reality (AR) ready maps of the outdoors and indoors, including geo-referenced 360-degree panoramas. These are capable of providing accurate details about the physical world, including roads and buildings, for autonomous safety vehicle platforms and smart city planning and simulations.

In addition, our maps are dynamic and update continuously in near real-time, including for place updates, location-based events, changes in road conditions, location-based safety alerts, live traffic, and weather. Because of this functionality, we call our advanced maps 4D or four-dimensional, with time being the fourth dimension. Our maps are also hyper local, providing information in regional languages and the ability to discover, and connect with local businesses. We have also started to build and release digital maps for countries outside India, such as Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, Myanmar, UAE, and Egypt. Our IR geospatial data products include location-based demographics, population density, income distribution, anonymised, and aggregated people movement behaviour and other location-based datasets to enable various analytics use cases.

Business Update

In July 2022, we released Mappls RealView, a 360-degree panoramic street view and a 3D metaverse maps service for 100 cities in India. This, combined with Mappls' detailed house-address level 2D maps from MapmyIndia and ISRO's rich catalogue of satellite imagery and Earth observation data which MapmyIndia has integrated, gives a full & immersive Real World Metaverse experience to users.

We expanded coverage and capabilities of the core foundation map data product, real-time & rich map update service, value-added geo-demographics datasets for analytics & location intelligence, and advanced map data covering 3D, HD, and Real-View, pushing further towards our AI-powered Digital Metaverse of the Real World.

Map, Location and Navigation Platforms

We provide 2D and 3D visual and voice-based navigation platforms that are interactive, capable of outdoor and indoor map rendering, location search, geocoding, and reverse geocoding, as well as traffic and turn-by-turn route planning optimisation. Our digital maps and navigation platforms and Mappls Pin, our digital address and location identity system, are capable of use by every industry sector, including corporates and the government. Our platform APIs are primarily used by entities that develop applications comprising a geospatial requirement or element, for instance, to locate specific service centres, ATMs, or other such locations.

N-CASE Automotive Suite

N-CASE stands for Navigation and Connected vehicles, Autonomous safety and Advanced driver assistance systems, Shared mobility, and Electric mobility. These are typically used by automotive OEMs, including two-wheeler, four-wheeler and commercial vehicles. We provide solutions aligned with industry requirements including in-vehicle hyper-local, content-rich, turn-by-turn offline, online and hybrid navigation assistant systems. We also offer platforms and companion apps for connected mobility (for better connectivity with the vehicle in terms of tracking, remote controls and driving behaviour), telematics (remote tracking of vehicles and their health diagnostics), autonomous vehicle safety and advanced driving assistance systems and HD maps, shared mobility, and electric mobility solutions.

Geospatial-led SaaS for Enterprise Digital Transformation

‘Insight’ and ‘mGIS’ are our GIS (Geographic Information System) and geo-analytics offerings platforms. These consist of location-based APIs capable of ingesting, processing, publishing, visualising, and analysing geospatial data to provide locations. Our geo-analytics offerings help our customers across industries to analyse their respective markets and develop predictive models through spatial patterns provided by us. We also provide our customers near real-time dashboarding and monitoring capabilities through these offerings. Our AI-enabled technology platforms automatically and efficiently recognise and extract insights from images through our computer vision and geospatial enabled AI algorithms.

‘Workmate’, our software platform, enables workforce and workflow management, monitoring, and automation capabilities. These offerings are used by customers as B2C service providers to provide location-based data to their end consumers, for instance, phone or other service centres, courier centres etc.

Workmate – Manager dashboard and a mobile app for employees on field

These offerings are used by customers for optimising supply-chains and logistics, for instance to devise the optimal supply routes for petroleum products to various pumps, or for governmental and regulatory authorities and agencies to understand the locations of traders, taxpayers etc. across locations.

Outlook

On the product side, our map products will continue to evolve and upgrade with time, alongside we aim to increase our IoT gadget offerings to target the B2B customers and retail consumers and adopt a subscription model that would ultimately drive SaaS revenues.

We believe our A&M segment will continue to grow ahead of the industry on the back of our strong order book and up-sell and cross-sell opportunities. Our C&E segment is expected to grow faster than A&M given the rise in new age companies, increased need for digital transformation and our ability to provide customized services and cater to multiple use cases.

In the upcoming year, we will be focussing on four aspects. First, towards development of product segments that are currently at a nascent stage that includes scaling our IoT-led business and building strong full-stack drone capabilities. Second, in marketing activities to build awareness of the MapmyIndia and Mappls brands and product portfolio which will reap rewards in terms of new customer acquisition and new use case adoption. Third, towards leveraging the B2C opportunity that includes investing in our consumer facing app and gadgets space. And fourth, in cutting-edge product and platform development which will further expand use cases, addressable markets, growth engines and moats for MapmyIndia Mappls.

Five-Year Plan

We have further laid down a five-year plan wherein we aim to cross the revenue milestone of Rs. 1,000 Crores by FY2028 reporting a CAGR of 35-40%. We plan to achieve this on the back of the industry potential that lies in front of us.

- Automotive OEM customers: Our maps and technologies went attached in 1.9 Million vehicles in FY2023 and we plan to increase this by 3x by FY2028.

- Corporates: We had 100+ reasonably sized customers in FY2023, which we plan to increase by 5x by FY2028.
- Government: We had 30+ customers in FY2023, which we aim to increase by 6x by FY2028.
- Mobility: We sold 0.25 Million IoT devices as of FY2023 and plan to increase this by 10x by FY2028. Furthermore, we plan to increase our IoT business by 12x in 4-5 years.

Our Strengths

Adopted a differentiated approach to build and update maps: We have developed a comprehensive digital map database for India through professional field surveys, collection and compilation of geographical data and other attributes like roads, buildings, places, and boundaries to create a detailed and ground-validated data base which offers much higher degree of accuracy, reliability, and comprehensiveness.

Our maps power our whole suite of software and IoT platforms, APIs, products, and solutions and help differentiate us from pure play software and technology companies who do not own or control the underlying maps. According to the F&S Report, we are one among very few companies to offer not only products but APIs and platforms that other organizations can integrate and leverage into their own products and services.

Since we have a comprehensive underlying database with a 25-year history, it is easier to professionally authenticate customers input and prevent inaccuracies. Our professional geospatial experts and digital map makers employ various technologies and techniques including big data analytics, computer vision, AI/ML, and exhaustive geospatial algorithms for map feature extraction, change detection, validation, integrity, and quality checks. This includes accurately geo-tagged GPS data, photographs, videos, panoramic 360-degree images, and 3D point clouds.

Our map and internet-connected platform offerings are strategically integrated and connected to provide a continuous feedback loop that creates a network effect. This helps us continuously enhance the value proposition of both sets of our offerings and grow our business. Our customers pro-actively add geospatial, or geospatially linked data into our platform to achieve various functionalities such as GPS tracking, geospatial search, geo-coding, routing, navigation, analytics etc, which helps continuously validate, update, and augment our digital map. The continuous flow of feedback from our customers and end users also stress tests and validates the accuracy and comprehensiveness of our digital maps and helps us continuously improve and update our digital maps. Increasing usage of our products by our customers, creates a network (flywheel) effect as our customers can feed back their real-world observations, as they use our products, directly into our platform, further enhancing the freshness of our data and improving the customer experience. This attracts customers to use our platforms and creates a strong customer stickiness. Usage of our platforms improves our maps and improvements in our maps enhance our platforms, creating a cycle.

Market Leader: With over 25 years of experience in digital maps, geospatial technology, and location-based analytics, MapmyIndia is the premier Indian mapping company, and our long-standing pedigree allows us to compete at the forefront of contracts at a global level. We are considered market leaders in the B2B and B2B2C segments, with an 80% volume market share for maps and location-based technology in the Automotive OEM industry.

Diverse Suite of Offerings: With MapmyIndia's one-stop solution to all navigation and location-based problems, we are in a prime position to be able to provide a myriad of offerings including analytics, digital mapping, real-time information feeding and inbuilt NCASE offerings. We have the opportunity to be able to create long-lasting relationships in a variety of industries through our wide spread of solutions.

Strong Financial Position: MapmyIndia has been able to maintain an operating profit margin of 35%+ for over 3 years, with nearly 40% CAGR over the past 3 years. This is largely because the capital costs have slowly been amortized over the past 25 years, allowing us to focus profits towards, inorganic expansion, dividends and research and development. In FY2023, MapmyIndia reported an operating profit of 43%, with revenue growth of 40% and a cash-flow from operating activities of Rs. 90 Crores.

Growing Order Book: MapmyIndia has been able to continue to push the envelope in the field of digital maps, navigation technology and location-based platforms. As a result, the open order book has been growing at a CAGR of 56% from Rs. 377.5 Crores as of 1st April 2021 to Rs. 918.0 Crores as of 1st April 2023. This exponential growth will be reflected in the revenue across the next 3-5 years as the contracts get realized and will serve as a launchpad for MapmyIndia to continue growing at its stupendous pace.

Opportunities and Threats

Opportunities

New Market Use Cases: MapmyIndia continues to put high focus on innovation, and the new technology that we are able to produce will allow us to capitalize on opportunities in new industries such as Real Estate, Infrastructure, and Ad-tech, among others.

Entering Business to Consumer (B2C) Market: The release of Mappls RealView on the Mappls app allowed us to enter the Business to Consumer (B2C) space. We are constantly introducing newer features on our Mappls app to enhance the user experience. In the past year, apart from RealView, we released Junction View, introduced more road safety features, invested in KOGO and launched a Mappls KOGO App, and also enhanced our IoT gadgets and offerings. In the coming years, the Consumer B2C market will become an increasing focus and we believe good prospects lie ahead to expand our B2C business in India.

Increasing Foreign Presence: MapmyIndia has begun the journey to build a pipeline of foreign customers through the global brand 'Mappls', with the hiring of senior personnel in various capacities in Asia Pacific (APAC) region as well as in US and Europe, to begin reaching out to customers in those markets. This process is expected to take a few years to come to fruition, but we are already making good headway into securing our place as a global household name in the field of digital maps and location-based technology.

Up-sell and Cross-sell: Considering the wide suite of products MapmyIndia offers to its automotive OEM customers, there exists the possibility of increasing the customers' wallet share by providing extra services and cross-selling our platforms, analytics, and hardware along with their chosen offerings.

Favourable Government Policy: With the Government's 'Aatmanirbhar' policy continuing to provide tailwinds for Indian companies through adoption of world class indigenous technology, MapmyIndia is in a prime position to capitalize on such deals to aid the government in programmes such as infrastructure development, citizen services and defence applications, among others.

Inorganic Growth Prospects: MapmyIndia's large cash balance allows us to continue to stay vigilant for complementary offerings, geographic and customer expansion, which can provide the groundwork for inorganic opportunities through strategic partnerships and acquisitions.

Threats

Technological Obsolescence: Any industry that relies on staying at the forefront of innovation suffers from the threat of losing their competitive edge as a result of their technology becoming obsolete. MapmyIndia tackles this problem by allocating a significant share of its resources towards research and development of new solutions and improving operational efficiency.

Foreign Competition: While MapmyIndia continues to be the market leader in the B2B and B2B2C markets, there exists a chance that large foreign players might choose to enter these markets by overcoming the large barrier to entry. However, MapmyIndia will still retain the edge of having a marquee customer base that trusts the quality of our products and favourable government regulations. Our affordable services with value-add and high accuracy make us the preferred alternative in such a scenario.

Risks and Concerns

MapmyIndia is a company that relies on digital offerings and is susceptible to several types of risk in a volatile environment. Accordingly, we have setup a strategic risk-management committee to ensure that we are well-insured and can proactively nullify these risks. Risks are analysed and managed at multiple levels, including the enterprise, business units, functions, and customer relationships.

Some of the most significant risks, as well as their expected impact on your company and mitigation plans, are included below.

Key Risks	Description	Mitigation Approach
Macro-economic Risk	Slowdown in economy can impacts the IT & ITES, further slowing the overall process down.	Your company enters contracts for spans of 3-5 years. As a result, even if there happens to be an economic slowdown, a large portion of revenue can be assumed to be consistent as a backlog from previously signed contracts.
Foreign Exchange Risk	Risk arising from imports comprising a significant share of your company's revenues and the fluctuations of foreign currencies.	Your company's revenues are mainly derived from the Indian market. Foreign revenues are hedged using a variety of methods including forward covers.
Cyber Security Risk	As an entirely digital company, there is a significant risk of digital compromise of the software. The significant trend toward higher digitisation has resulted in the development of the necessary infrastructure for protection against cyber-attacks, data loss/theft, which could have a negative impact on operations and financial losses.	Your company has protective systems and processes in place to ensure the safety and security of digital assets and data flow. We provide airtight digital security to ensure sanctity of personal data stored on our servers. Our sustainable business model and strong margins support us in carrying out these operations.
Talent Risk	Retention of key talent at all levels of the organization is a crucial part of ensuring continuity of processes and long-lasting customer-employee relationships	Your company ensures that employees feel rewarded at their position in your company. These efforts are evident given our low attrition rates as compared to the industry.
Compliance Risk	Compliance with legal and taxation legislation of the jurisdictions where your company operates, adherence to financial reporting, SEBI Requirements, and the exercise of good governance are all factors critical to the sustainability of your company.	Constant monitoring by the Board, with assistance from the legal advisors, auditors, and Company Secretary help us mitigate this risk.

Treasury Management

Investment Management Committee

The surplus fund of CE Info Systems is professionally managed by an experienced team of individuals who are specialized in their respective fields across fixed income, research, alternates & risk management. The Committee comprises of 6 members. Namely Mr Rakesh Verma Co-Founder, Chairman & Managing Director, Ms Rakhi Prasad Non-Executive Director, Mr Anuj Jain CFO and members from the Investment Advisory firm, namely Nuvama Wealth Management Ltd. They meet every fortnight to debate market conditions, events and economic forecasts and provide their thoughts on optimal portfolio allocations across maturity buckets. The overall objective of the investment management committee is to provide strategic guidance to optimize the Company's cash flow, reduce financial risk, and improve financial performance to facilitate maximum profits.

last financial year with the onset of war between Russia and Ukraine, this led to major upheaval across equity and bond markets.

Followed by Crypto crash, high inflation, margin pressure, incessant rate hikes and so on.

But through all of that, it was a year with fundamentally sound economic revival - the recovery from Covid, the robust GST collections, governments big infra push, and the bounce back of India Inc.

During the year globally inflation was above 10-year average (Image 1), due to persistently elevated levels of inflation post pandemic. Central banks across the globe had to increase the rates. The US Fed has increased the rates by 450 bps.

Though the hike has been 450 bps still the risk of capital outflow from Indian market was very low, contrary to the taper tantrum in 2013. During the taper tantrum in 2013 US real rates were higher than India's real rate but in the current scenario India's real rate is 3.4% higher than US rates (Image 2)

Market Update for FY 2022-23

The last year has been quite challenging on both the domestic and global capital market front. We began

Image 1 - Inflation Above 10 Year Average in Most Countries

Image 2 - India's Real Rate > US Real rate

RBI raised the interest rates by 250 bps in FY 2022-23. By the end of first quarter 10-year benchmark yield breached 7.45% levels last seen in April 2019, though it was for a very short duration. Again, at the end of second quarter yields rallied on news flow surrounding inclusion of India's Sovereign bonds in Global Index. From June 2022 till March 2023 RBI reduced the liquidity in the system from INR 4.5 tn to INR 2.2 tn, without much impact on the yield. Yield remained range bound. (Image 3)

Image 3 - Ten-year Government bond Yield Movement

Strategies followed by CE Info Systems

In such a volatile scenario we acted proactively by reducing the duration of our fixed income portfolio. We started the year with a portfolio of Rs 382 crs. In the first half of FY 2022-23 we invested in money market instruments like liquid mutual funds and short-term bonds with less than one year maturity.

In the second half we started adding duration through SDL Index funds. State development loans are quasi sovereign in nature its spread over G-Sec is close to 35-40 bps as it may be observed in the (Image 4).

Image 4 - SDL Spread over G-sec

During the year we did Rs 242 crs of short-term bond investment which matured @ 7.17%. Total Investment in target maturity fund with average maturity of 4-6 years is Rs 124 crs @ YTM of 7.60% and Rs 41 crs in medium term bonds @ 8.53% From the total Invested portfolio of

Rs. 399 crs (which excludes investments in startups and cash and bank balances), we were able to generate an approx. income of Rs 26 crs which comprises of the following instruments.

Instrument Type	% Allocation
Fixed Deposit	14%
Bond Portfolio	43%
SDL Index Funds	33%
Liquid Mutual Fund	6%
Venture Debt Fund	1%
PMS/AIF/ Others	4%

Credit Rating	% Allocation
Sovereign	33%
AAA	21%
AA+	22%
AA	5%
AA-	1%
A+	1%
A1	5%
Liquid Mutual Fund	6%
Others	5%

More than 80% of the portfolio is invested in AA and above rating.

This year in the union budget 2023, we saw some major announcements which impacted the market for MLDS and later some regulatory changes impacted debt mutual funds. To make the maximum benefit out of this before the regulation came into play from 1st April 2023, we shifted some of our short-term investments (Rs 45.42 CRs) into high yielding short term products @ 9.42%, and for better post tax yield locked Rs 51.5 Crs in SDL Index funds in the last month.

Our whole strategy played out very well if we look at the current rates it has come down by 30-35 bps Despite the unpredictability and turbulence in the market, our investment strategy and risk management practices have enabled us to build a safe sustainable portfolio.

Overall, we consider our Treasury to be an indispensable element of our financial strategy, and we remain steadfast in our commitment to managing it responsibly and transparently. We will continue to keep you updated on the Treasury's progress in future annual reports and look forward to sharing our advancements with you.

INFO SYSTEMS LIMITED (the "Company"), which comprises of the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2023, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended on that date and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "standalone financial statements").

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing ("SA"s) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Revenue recognition - Fixed price contracts using the percentage of completion method

1. Fixed-price contract revenue is recognized ratably on a straight-line basis when services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period. The Company uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. The company recognize the revenue only if the stage of completion of contract exceeds 25 %.
2. If the Company does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future employee costs and productivity efficiencies. As the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.
3. We identified revenue recognition of fixed price contracts where the percentage of completion is used as a Key Audit Matter since –

- High inherent risk around accuracy of revenue, given the customized and complex nature of these contracts.
- High inherent uncertainty and requires consideration of progress of the contract, costs incurred to-date and estimates of costs required to complete the remaining contract performance obligations over the term of the contract.
- At year-end, significant amount of work in progress (Unbilled revenue), related to these contracts is recognized on the balance sheet.

This required a high degree of auditor judgment in evaluating the audit evidence and a higher extent of audit effort to evaluate the reasonableness of the total estimated amount of revenue and unbilled revenue recognized on these fixed-price contracts.

Auditor's Response:

Principal audit procedures performed:

Our audit procedures included the following, among others:

- We tested the effectiveness of controls relating to (1) recording of costs incurred and estimation of efforts or costs required to complete the remaining contract performance obligations and (2) access and application controls pertaining to costs incurred, costs allocation and budgeting systems which prevents unauthorized changes to recording of efforts incurred.
- We selected a sample of fixed price contracts with customers measured using the percentage-of-completion method and performed the following:
 - Read the contract and based on the terms and conditions evaluated whether recognizing revenue over time using percentage of completion method was appropriate, and the contract was included in management's calculation of revenue over time.
 - Compared costs incurred with Company's estimate of efforts or costs incurred to date to identify significant variations and evaluate whether those variations have been considered appropriately in estimating the remaining costs or efforts to complete the contract.

- Tested the estimate for consistency with the status of delivery of milestones and customer acceptances and sign off from customers to identify possible delays in achieving milestones, which require changes in estimated costs or efforts to complete the remaining performance obligations.
- Evaluated other information that supports or contradicts the estimates of the progress towards satisfying the performance obligation.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Standalone Financial Statements:

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, including other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless Board of director either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the standalone financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of C. E. INFO SYSTEMS LIMITED (the "Company") as of March 31, 2023 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the ICAI and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statement. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statement and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to standalone financial statement

A company's internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statement is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

- (1) Pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- (2) Provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and

- (3) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statement to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statement and such internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statement were operating effectively as at March 31, 2023, based on the criteria for internal financial control over financial reporting established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the ICAI.

2 Basis of preparation, measurement and significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation and measurement

a) Statement of compliance:

The Standalone Balance Sheet of the Company as at 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 and the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Standalone Statement of Changes in Equity and the Standalone Statement of Cash flows for the years 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 have been prepared under Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the 'Act') read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rule, 2015 and other relevant provisions of the Act as amended from time to time.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied, except where a newly-issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

These Standalone financial statements are presented in INR and all values are rounded to the nearest lakhs except when otherwise indicated.

b) Basis of measurement:

The Standalone financial information has been prepared on historical cost and on an accrual basis, except certain financial instrument that are measured at fair value in accordance with relevant Indian Accounting Standard (IndAS) and provision of the Companies Act, 2013.

c) Functional and presentation currency

These Standalone financial information are presented in Indian Rupees (INR), which is also the Company's functional currency.

d) Use of estimates and judgements

1. The preparation of Standalone financial information is in conformity with Ind AS which requires the management to make estimates, judgements and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and other comprehensive income (OCI) that are reported and disclosed in the Standalone financial information and accompanying notes. These estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events, historical experience, actions that the Company may undertake in the future and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but not limited to allowance for uncollectible accounts receivables, recognition of deferred tax assets, valuation of share-based compensation, defined benefit obligations under employee benefit plans (key actuarial assumptions), estimation of useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets, the measurement of lease liabilities and right of use assets, and other contingencies and commitments. Changes in estimates and judgements are reflected in the financial statements in the year in which the changes are made, if material. their effects are disclosed in the notesto Standalone financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

2. Estimates and judgements relating to climate change risk: In preparing these standalone financial statements, the Company has considered the impact of climate change risks on the valuation of assets and liabilities and there is no material impact on the financial statements as on the reporting date.

e) Current or non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current or non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is treated as current when it is:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other liabilities are classified as non current.

Deferred tax assets and Tax assets are classified as non-current assets.

f) Measurement of fair values

The Company records certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value on a recurring basis. The Company determines fair values based on the price it would receive to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either :

- (1) In the principal market for asset or liability, or
- (2) In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. The Company has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values (including Level 3 fair values). The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs. Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active and model-derived valuations, in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable in active markets.

Level 3: Valuations derived from valuation techniques, in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

In accordance with Ind AS 113, assets and liabilities are to be measured based on the following valuation techniques:

a) Market approach – Prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.

b) Income approach – Converting the future amounts based on market expectations to its present value using the discounting method.

c) Cost approach – Replacement cost method.

The Company recognizes transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred and for the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

2.2 Significant accounting policies

a) Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and measurement:

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost of acquisition, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises the purchase price and any costs attributable to bringing the asset to their working condition for their intended use.

Subsequent expenditures related to an item of fixed asset are added to its carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriately only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognized when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to standalone Statement of Profit and Loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Depreciation methods and estimated useful lives:

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for assets purchased/sold during the year.

Asset description	Asset life (in years)
Computers (End user devices)	3
Computers (Servers and networks)	6
Research and development equipment	15
Furniture and fixtures	10
Electrical installation and equipment	10
Vehicles	8
Map survey vehicles	3
IOT Devices on rent	3

The useful lives as given above best represent the period over which the management expects to use these assets, based on technical assessment. The estimated useful lives for Map survey vehicles & IOT devices on rent are therefore different from the useful lives prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act 2013.

In respect of Map survey vehicles and IOT devices on rent, the useful lives are lower than those specified by Schedule II to the companies Act, 2013 and are depreciated over the estimated useful lives of 3 years each, in order to reflect the actual usage of the assets.

The management has revised the estimated useful life of IoT Devices on rent from 2 years to 3 years, based on technical assessment.

The useful lives of property, plant and equipments are reviewed by the management at each financial year-end and revised, if appropriate. In case of a revision, the unamortized depreciable amount is charged over the revised remaining useful life.

b) Intangible assets

Recognition and measurement:

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The Company has a policy of capitalising direct and indirect costs of intangible assets comprising self-generated map database and/or software based on management estimate of the costs attributable to the creation of the asset. Direct costs that are capitalized as part of the intangible assets include employee costs and the indirect costs include general and administrative expenses which can be directly attributable to making of the asset for its intended use.

The Company recognizes an intangible asset when the following criteria are met:

- i) Technically feasible of completing the intangible assets so that it will be available for use or sale
- ii) Management intends to complete the intangible assets
- iii) Its ability to use or sell the assets
- iv) It can be demonstrated how the intangible asstes will generate probable future economic benefits
- v) Adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible assets are available, and
- vi) The expenditure attributable to the intangible assets during its development can be reliably measured.

If the expenditure that do not meet the above mentioned criteria are recognized as an expense as incurred

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it increases the future economic benefits from the specific assets to which it relates

Amortization:

The intangible assets are amortised using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, and is recognized in Standalone statement of profit and loss. The useful lives of intangible assets are reviewed by the management at each financial year-end and revised, if appropriate. In case of a revision, the unamortized depreciable amount is charged over the revised remaining useful life.

Asset class	Useful life
Internally generated map database	5 years
Right to non compete fee	2 years
Acquired software	6 years
Internally generated software	5 years

c) Investment Property

Investment property is a property held either to earn rental income or for the capital appreciation or for both, but not for sale in the ordinary course of business, use in supply of services or for administrative purpose. Upon, initial recognition, an investment property is measured at cost. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment property is measured at cost less accumulated depreciation.

Depreciation methods and estimated useful lives:

Depreciation on investment property is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for investment property purchased/sold during the year. The estimated economic life of building is 60 years.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an investment property is recognised in profit or loss

d) Revenue recognition

Contracts involving provision of services and material

Revenue is recognized when, or as, control of a promised service or good transfers to a customer, in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring those products or services. To recognize revenues, the following five step approach is applied: (1) identify the contract with a customer, (2) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (3) determine the transaction price, (4) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (5) recognize revenues when a performance obligation is satisfied. A contract is accounted when it is legally enforceable through executory contracts, approval and commitment from all parties, the rights of the parties are identified, payment terms are defined, the contract has commercial substance and collectability of consideration is probable.

Time-and-material / Volume based / Transaction based contracts

Revenue with respect to time-and-material, volume based and transaction based contracts is recognized as the related services are performed through efforts expended, volume serviced transactions are processed etc. that correspond with value transferred to customer till date which is related to our right to invoice for services performed.

Proprietary products- Map data

Revenue from distinct proprietary perpetual license products is recognized at a point in time at the inception of the arrangement when control transfers to the client. Revenue from proprietary term license is recognized at a point in time as per the term of the respective contracts as no services are provided under these contracts during its term. Revenue from updates is recognized over the contract term on a straight-line basis as the company is providing a service of unspecified upgrades on a when-and-if available basis over the contract term. In case product license are bundled with a certain period of upgrades either for perpetual or term based license, such upgrade support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net fees paid by the customer to purchase the license and are generally recognized as revenues ratably over the contractual period that the support services are provided.

Multiple performance obligation

When a sales arrangement contains multiple performance, such as services, hardware and Licensed IPs (Map Data) or combinations of each of them revenue for each element is based on a five step approach as defined above. To the extent a contract includes multiple promised deliverables, judgment is applied to determine whether promised deliverables are capable of being distinct and are distinct in the context of the contract. If these criteria are not met, the promised deliverables are accounted for as a combined performance obligation. For arrangements with multiple distinct performance obligations or series of distinct performance obligations, consideration is allocated among the performance obligations based on their relative consolidated selling price. Consolidated selling price is the price at which Company would sell a promised good or service separately to the customer. When not directly observable, we estimate consolidated selling price by using the expected cost plus a margin approach. We establish a consolidated selling price range for our deliverables, which is reassessed on a periodic basis or when facts and circumstances change.

Revenue recognition for delivered elements is limited to the amount that is not contingent on the future delivery of products or services, future performance obligations or subject to customer-specified return or refund privileges.

Fixed-price contract revenue is recognized ratably on a straight-line basis when services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period. The Company uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. The company recognise the revenue only if the stage of completion of contract exceeds 25 %.

If the Company does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable . Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future employee costs and productivity efficiencies. As the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price as per the contract with a customer net of variable consideration on account of volume discounts, rebates and other similar allowances.

Export entitlements (Services Exports from India Scheme (SEIS))

Export entitlements from government authorities are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss, when there is reasonable assurance that the export entitlements (net of transactional costs) will be received and all the attached conditions will be complied with.

Other income

Interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate which exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset. When calculating the EIR the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayments, extensions, call and similar options); expected credit losses are considered if the credit risk on that financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition

Dividend income

Dividends are recognized in Standalone statement of profit and loss on the date on which the Company's right to receive payment is established.

Gain of sale of investments

Gains / (losses) on disposal of investments are determined with respect to their original cost of acquisition and other cost incurred and are reflected as such in the profit and loss account. Gains / (losses) due to fair valuation of investment classified under category of FVTPL accounted for as income or deduction up-to the date of sale is reversed in the profit and loss account on the date of sale.

e) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred income tax.

Income tax expense is recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity, in which case it is recognized in equity. Current income tax for current and prior periods is recognized at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date. Provision for income tax includes the impact of provisions established for uncertain income tax positions.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts, and it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities recognized for all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Standalone financial information.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset, if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognized as income or expense in the year that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date. A deferred income tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilized.

f) Retirement and other employee benefits

i) Short-term employee benefits

Employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages and bonus, etc. are recognised in the standalone Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

ii) Post employment benefits

(a) Defined contribution plan

The employee's provident fund scheme is a defined contribution plan. The Company makes specified monthly contributions towards employee provident fund to Government administered provident fund scheme which is a defined contribution plan. The Company's contribution is recognised as an expense in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(b) Defined benefit plan

The Company's gratuity plan is a defined benefit plan. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's base salary and the tenure of employment (subject to a maximum of Rs. 20 lakhs per employee). The liability is actuarially determined (using the projected unit credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial gains/losses are recognized in the Standalone Balance Sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through other comprehensive income in the year in which they occur.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income and are never reclassified to profit or loss. Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognized immediately in the profit or loss as past service cost.

The Employee's Gratuity Fund Scheme, which is defined benefit plan, is managed by Trust with its investments maintained with Insurance Company "Kotak Mahindra Life Insurance Company " to cover its liabilities towards employees' gratuity. The differential between the fund amount as per insurance company and the liability as per the actuarial valuation is recognized as an assets or liability as the case may be.

(c) Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The Company's net obligation in respect of long-term employee benefits other than post-employment benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value, and the fair value of any related assets is deducted. The employees can carry-forward a portion of the unutilized accrued compensated absences and utilize it in future service periods or receive cash compensation on termination of employment. Since the compensated absences do not fall due wholly within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service and are also not expected to be utilized wholly within twelve months after the end of such period, the benefit is classified as a long-term employee benefit. The Company records an obligation for such compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increase this entitlement. The obligation is measured on the basis of independent actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. Re measurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the profit or loss.

(iii) Employee Stock Option Plan

The fair value of options granted under this option plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense with corresponding increase in equity in accordance with recognition and measurement principles as prescribed in Ind AS 102 Share Based Payments when grant is made. The total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At end of the reporting period, the entity revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognizes the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with corresponding adjustment to equity.

g) Inventories

Inventories which comprise raw material, finished goods, stock-in-trade, stores and spares and project work-in-progress are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value (NRV).

Cost of inventories comprises all costs of purchase, duties and taxes (Other than subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. In determining the cost, FIFO (First in First Out) method is used.

Project work-in-progress represents cost incurred on projects/portion of projects when revenue is yet to be recognized. Such costs include field survey expenses and salary costs for technical team working on these projects.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The comparison of cost and net realisable value is made on an item-by-item basis.

h) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is a contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

a) Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at:

- i) amortised cost;
- ii) fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)-debt investment
- iii) fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)-equity investment; or
- iv) FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as FTVPL:

- a) the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows, and
- b) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A instrument is measured at FVOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as FVTPL:

- a) the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets, and
- b) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial assets at FVTPL

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortised cost

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income under the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss.

Equity investments at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to profit or loss.

Investment in Subsidiary Companies , associates and joint venture

The investment in subsidiary companies, associates and joint venture are carried at cost (net of impairment) as per IND AS 27.

Loans

Loans under financial assets represents security deposit paid to landlords for rental of premises and treatment done as per Ind-As.

Derecognition

Financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset. If the Company enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its Standalone Balance Sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognised.

b) Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The subsequent measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. Changes in fair value of such liability are recognized in the Standalone Statement of profit or loss.

Financial liabilities at amortized cost

The Company's financial liabilities at amortized cost includes trade payables, borrowings including bank overdrafts and other payables.

After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method except for deferred consideration recognized in a business combination which is subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss. Gains and losses are recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Standalone Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

i) Impairmenta) Financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss. The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If in subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL

Lifetime ECLs are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12-months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e. all shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR. When estimating the cash flows, an entity is required to consider:

- (i) All contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension etc.) over the expected life of the financial instrument. However, in rare cases when the expected life of the financial instrument cannot be estimated reliably, then the entity is required to use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument.
- (ii) Cash flows from other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

As a practical expedient, the Company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss on portfolio of its trade receivable. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivable and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At regular intervals, the historically observed default rates are updated and changes in forward-looking estimates are analysed. In addition to the historical pattern of credit loss, the Company has considered the likelihood of increased credit risk and consequential default by customers including revisions in the credit period provided to the customers. In making this assessment, the Company has considered current and anticipated future economic conditions relating to industries/business verticals that the company deals with and the countries where it operates. In addition the Company has also considered credit reports and other credit information for its customers to estimate the probability of default in future and has taken into account estimates of possible effect from the pandemic relating to COVID-19. The Company believes that the carrying amount of allowance for expected credit loss with respect to trade receivables, unbilled revenue and other financial assets is adequate.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) is recognised as an income/expense in the statement of profit and loss during the period. This amount is reflected under other expenses in the statement of profit and loss. The balance sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

Financial assets measured at amortized cost, contractual revenue receivable: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e. as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

Impairment of investment in subsidiaries:

The Company assesses investments in subsidiaries for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the investment may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the investment in subsidiary. The recoverable amount of such investment is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of the investment is calculated using projected future cash flows. If the recoverable amount of the investment is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that a non-financial asset or a group of non-financial assets is impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the amount of impairment loss.

An impairment loss is calculated as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and recoverable amount. Losses are recognised in the statement of profit and loss and reflected in an allowance account. When the Company considers that there are no realistic prospects of recovery of the asset, the relevant amounts are written off. If the amount of impairment loss subsequently decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, then the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through statement of profit and loss.

Intangible assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For the purpose of impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the CGU to which the asset belongs.

If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset. An impairment loss is reversed in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. The carrying amount of the asset is increased to its revised recoverable amount, provided that this amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any accumulated amortization) had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit (as defined below) is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets (the "cash-generating unit").

Goodwill is tested for impairment on an annual basis and whenever there is an indication that goodwill may be impaired, relying on a number of factors including operating results, business plans and future cash flows. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to the Group's cash generating units (CGU) or groups of CGU's expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the business combination. A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets. Impairment occurs when the carrying amount of a CGU including the goodwill, exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU. The recoverable amount of a CGU is the higher of its fair value less cost to sell and its value-in-use. Value-in-use is the present value of future cash flows expected to be derived from the CGU.

Total impairment loss of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of goodwill allocated to the CGU and then to the other assets of the CGU prorata on the basis of the carrying amount of each asset in the CGU. An impairment loss on goodwill is recognised in statement of profit and loss and is not reversed in the subsequent period.

j) Leases

Company as a lessee

Company assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. The Company recognises a right to use asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease agreements in which it is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less). For these leases, the Company recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted by using the rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate. Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise of fixed lease payments (less any lease incentives), variable lease payments, penalties, etc. The lease liability is presented, as a separate line in the Standalone Balance sheet. The lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability (using the effective interest method) and by reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made.

The Company remeasures the lease liability (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use asset) whenever

- the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate.
- the lease payments change due to changes in an index or rate or a change in expected payment under a guaranteed residual value, in which case the lease liability is measured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate (unless the lease payments change is due to a change in a floating interest rate, in which case a revised discount rate is used).
- a lease contract is modified, and the lease modification is not accounted for as a separate lease, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate.

The Company did not make any such adjustments during the periods presented.

The Right-of-Use assets comprise the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made at or before the commencement day and any initial direct costs. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Whenever the Company incurs an obligation for costs to dismantle and remove a leased asset, restore the site on which it is located or restore the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, a provision is recognised and measured under Ind AS 37. The costs are included in the related right-of-use asset, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

Right to use assets are depreciated over the shorter period of lease term and useful life of underlying assets.

The Company applies Ind AS 36 Impairment of Assets to determine whether a right-of-use asset is impaired.

Variable rents are not included in the measurement the lease liability and the right-of-use asset. The related payments are recognised as an expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers those payments occur and are included in the line " Other expenses" in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

Company as a lessor

a) Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At inception of an arrangement, it is determined whether the arrangement is or contains a lease. At inception or on reassessment of the arrangement that contains a lease, the payments and other consideration required by such an arrangement are separated into those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values.

b) Assets held under leases

Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income arising is accounted for on a straight line basis over the lease term. The lease term is the non-cancellable period together with any further term for which the tenant has the option to continue the lease, where, at the inception of the lease, the Company is reasonably certain that the tenant will exercise that option. Leases are classified as finance leases when substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership transfer from the Company to the lessee. Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recorded as receivables at the Company's net investment in the leases.

c) Initial direct costs

Initial direct costs such as brokerage expenses incurred specifically to earn revenues from an operating lease are capitalised to the carrying amount of leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income.

k) Borrowings

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset (if any) that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur.

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

l) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the Standalone Balance Sheet comprise cash in banks and short-term deposits and investments with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

m) Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows.

The Company uses significant judgement to disclose contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial information.

n) Earnings per equity share

Basic EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The diluted potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as at the beginning of the year, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each year presented.

o) Foreign currency transaction and translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date of the transaction. Foreign-currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated to the relevant functional currency at exchange rates in effect at the Standalone Balance Sheet date. Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of initial transaction. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at fair value are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date when the fair value was determined.

Transaction gains or losses realized upon settlement of foreign currency transactions are included in determining net profit for the year. Revenue, expenses and cash-flow items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the relevant functional currencies using the exchange rate in effect on the date of the transaction.

The translation of foreign operations from respective functional currency into INR (the reporting currency) for assets and liabilities is performed using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date, and for revenue, expenses and cash flows is performed using an appropriate daily weighted average exchange rate for the respective years. The exchange differences arising on translation are reported as a component of 'other comprehensive income (loss)'. On disposal of a foreign operation, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

The declaration and payment of final dividends on our Equity Shares, if any, is recommended by our Board and approved by our Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and the Companies Act. However, interim dividends are approved by the Board at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and the Companies Act.

The dividend depends on a number of internal factors, including but not limited to our Company's liquidity position including its present and expected obligations, profits of our Company, present and future capital expenditure plans of our Company including organic / inorganic growth opportunities, financial requirement for business expansion and/or diversification, acquisition etc of new businesses, past dividend trend of our Company and the industry, cost of borrowings, other corporate action options (for ex. bonus issue, buy back of shares) and any other relevant or material factor as may be deemed fit by the Board. In addition, the dividend, if any, also depends on a number of external factors including but not limited to state of economy and capital markets, applicable taxes including dividend distribution tax, regulatory changes: introduction of new or changes in existing tax or regulatory requirements (including dividend distribution tax) having significant impact on the Company's operations or finances and any other relevant or material factor as may be deemed fit by the Board.

q) Nature and purpose of reservesGeneral reserve

Under the erstwhile Companies Act 1956, general reserve was created through an annual transfer of net income at a specified percentage in accordance with applicable regulations. Consequent to introduction of Companies Act 2013, the requirement to mandatorily transfer a specified percentage of the net profit to general reserve has been withdrawn.

Securities premium reserve

Securities premium reserve is used to record the premium on issue of shares. The reserve can be utilized only for limited purposes such as issuance of bonus shares and buyback of shares in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Capital redemption reserve

The Company recognizes cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments to capital redemption reserve.

Currency translation adjustment reserve

Exchange difference arising on translation of the foreign operations are accumulated in a separate reserve within equity. The cumulative amount is reclassified to Statement of Profit & loss when the investment is disposed off.

Employee stock options reserve

The share options based payment reserve is used to recognize the grant date fair value of options issued to employees under Employee stock option plan.

r) Statement of cashflows

Cash flow statement is prepared segregating the cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flows are reported using the indirect method as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 ("Cash flow statements"), whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cashflows are segregated into and presented as cashflows from operating, investing and financing activities.

s) Recent pronouncementsAmendments not yet effective:

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 31, 2023, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023, applicable from April 1, 2023, as below:

(i) Ind AS 1 – Disclosure of material accounting policies:

The amendments related to shifting of disclosure of erstwhile "significant accounting policies" to "material accounting policies" in the notes to the financial statements requiring companies to reframe their accounting policies to make them more "entity specific. This amendment aligns with the "material" concept already required under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The Company does not expect this amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

(ii) Ind AS 8 – Definition of accounting estimates:

The amendments will help entities to distinguish between accounting policies and accounting estimates. The definition of a "change in accounting estimates" has been replaced with a definition of "accounting estimates." Under the new definition, accounting estimates are "monetary amounts in financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty." Entities develop accounting estimates if accounting policies require items in financial statements to be measured in a way that involves measurement uncertainty. The Company does not expect this amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

(iii) Ind AS 12 – Income Taxes

The amendments narrowed the scope of the recognition exemption in paragraphs 15 and 24 of Ind AS 12. At the date of transition to Ind ASs, a first-time adopter shall recognize a deferred tax asset to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized. Similarly, a deferred tax liability for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with:

(a) right-of-use assets and lease liabilities

(b) Decommissioning, restoration and similar liabilities and the corresponding amounts recognized as part of the cost of the related asset.

Therefore, if a company has not yet recognised deferred tax on right-of-use assets and lease liabilities or has recognised deferred tax on net basis, the same need to recognize on gross basis based on the carrying amount of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities.

(iv) Ind AS 103 – Common control Business Combination

The amendments modify the disclosure requirement for business combination under common control in the first financial statement following the business combination. The date on which the transferee obtains control of the transferor is required to be disclosed.

The aggregate value of transaction price allocated to Remaining performance obligations is 91,400 Lakhs (last year 69,958 Lakhs) out of which 23.80 % (last year 24%) is expected to be recognised as revenue in the next year and the balance thereafter. 20.72 % out of performance obligations outstanding as on 31 March 2022 was recognised as revenue in the current financial year. Contract assets are recognized where there is excess of revenue over the billings. Revenue recognized but not billed to customers is classified either as contract assets or unbilled receivable in our balance sheet.

Unbilled receivables represent contracts where right to consideration is unconditional (i.e. only the passage of time is required before the payment is due). Out of Rs. 1,436 lakhs and Rs 1,095 lakhs of contract assets as on 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 respectively, 100% pertain to respective years.

Contract liabilities : A contract liability arises when there is excess billing over the revenue recognized.

The Company earns revenue primarily from licensing and sale of Map data and Map data related services (i.e. GPS navigation and location-based services) primarily for corporate business entities. We foresee that our revenue and deferred revenue would be mildly impacted in the short term due to COVID -19. However, in long-term, we believe that our business model remains robust and sustainable. The impact assessment of COVID-19 is an ongoing process due to the high degree of uncertainty associated and our assertions might change in future due to this.

B. Fair value hierarchy

Ind AS 107, 'Financial Instrument - Disclosure' requires classification of the valuation method of financial instruments measured at fair value in the Balance Sheet, using a three level fair-value-hierarchy (which reflects the significance of inputs used in the measurements). The hierarchy gives the highest priority to un-adjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and lowest priority to un-observable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair-value-hierarchy under Ind AS 107 are described below:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active and model-derived valuations, in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable in active markets.

Level 3: Valuations derived from valuation techniques, in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

Assets measured using level 1 inputs primarily include investment securities in mutual funds and the fair value being marked to an active market which factors the impact of COVID-19, we do not expect material volatility in these financial assets.

Assets and liabilities measured using level 2 inputs includes financial assets measured at amortised cost which includes Trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, government bonds with corporations and deposits with banks have been assessed basis counterparty credit risk.

Financial risk management

The Company' Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the company' risk management framework

The Company has exposure to the following risks arising from financial instruments

- Credit risk
- Liquidity risk
- Market risk

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company's trade and other receivables and cash and cash equivalents. The maximum exposure to credit risk in case of all the financial instruments covered below is restricted to their respective carrying amount.

i) Trade receivables and other receivables

The movement in the provision for bad and doubtful debts for the year ended 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 is as follows:

Particulars	As at 31 March 2023	As at 31 March 2022
Opening balance	675	661
Provision written back during the year	(255)	-
Bad debts written off	(271)	(46)
Provision made during the year	0	60
Closing balance	149	675

The principal credit risk that the company exposed to is non-collection of trade receivable and late collection of receivable and on unbilled revenue leading to credit loss. The risk is mitigated by reviewing creditworthiness of the prospective customers prior to entering into contract and post contracting, through continuous monitoring of collections by a dedicated team. The company makes adequate provision for non-collection of trade receivable and unbilled receivables.

In addition trade receivable are due from the parties under normal course of the business and as such the company believes exposure to credit risk to be minimal.

Trade receivables forms a significant part of the financial assets carried at amortised cost, which is valued considering provision for allowance using expected credit loss method. Accounts receivables and unbilled receivables have been valued after making reserve for allowances based on factors like ageing, likelihood of increased credit risk and expected realizability considering impact of COVID – 19 on customers.

ii) Cash and cash equivalents and Other bank balances

Credit risk on cash and cash equivalents is limited as the Company generally invest in deposits with banks and financial institutions with high ratings assigned by international and domestic credit rating agencies and analyzing market information on a continuous and evolving basis. Ratings are monitored periodically and the Company has considered the latest available credit ratings as well any other market information which may be relevant at the date of approval of these financial statements.

iii) Investments

The Company limits its exposure to credit risk by generally investing in liquid securities and only with counterparties that have a good credit rating. The Company does not expect any losses from non-performance by these counterparties, and does not have any significant concentration of exposures to specific industry sectors or specific country risks.

Liquidity risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities, the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due, under both normal and stressed conditions.

34 Contingent liabilities

- Bank guarantees of Rs. 1,480 lakhs (last year Rs 410 lakhs) was outstanding at the year end. These are given in the normal course of the Company's operations and are not expected to result in any loss to the Company, on the basis of the Company fulfilling its business obligations. However a bank guarantee of Rs. 740 lakhs was given to Bombay Stock Exchange for offer for sale IPO which will be returned to the company after successful settlement of the claims of the vendors in connection with the IPO (Not included in normal course of bank guarantee of Rs. 1,480 lakhs).

- ii. The company has provided security to its subsidiary company “Gtropy Systems Private Limited” in the form of pledge of its fixed deposits of Rs. 1,744 lakhs against which an overdraft facility of Rs. 1,500 lakhs has been provided by “Bank of India” to the said subsidiary.
- iii. The Company had received an income tax order u/s 143(3) dated 23 Feb 2016 issued by the Assessing Officer, in respect of Assessment Year 2013-14 (previous year 2012-13), wherein an amount of Rs. 3 lakhs, being advance tax, was wrongly written off by the company under the head “other expenses”. This amount was rightly disallowed and added back to the income of the company for that year. Income tax on the above Rs. 3 lakhs and also the additional tax of Rs.0.8 lakhs was determined as recoverable from the company. The Company believes that the above tax demand would get adjusted out of the refund of Rs. 4 lakhs due to the company from the tax department for A.Y. 2013-14.
- iv. On February 28, 2019, a ruling of the Supreme Court of India interpreting certain statutory defined contribution obligations of employees and employers (the “India Defined Contribution Obligation”) altered historical understandings of such obligations, extending them to cover additional portions of the employee's income. It is not currently clear whether the interpretation set out in the pronouncement has retrospective application. If applied retrospectively, the interpretation would result in an increase in contributions payable by the Company for past and future periods for certain of its India-based employees.

Also, there is significant uncertainty as to how the liability should be calculated as it is impacted by multiple variables such as, the period of assessment, the application with respect to certain current and former employees and whether interest and penalties may be assessed. Due to such challenges and a lack of interpretive guidance, and based on management's internal assessment, it is currently impracticable to reliably estimate the timing and amount of any payments the Company may be required to make. The Company anticipates, that the Indian government will review the matter and believe there is a substantial question as to whether the Indian government will apply the Supreme Court's ruling on a retroactive basis. Accordingly, the Company is yet to obtain further clarity and will evaluate the amount of a potential provision, if any.

- v. The company was served with a notice by the Income Tax Department in June 2021 u/s 148 of the Income Tax Act initiating proceedings to assess the amount received from Flipkart Pvt. Ltd. Singapore in Financial Year 2015-16 relevant to A.Y.2016-17 towards allotment of Preference shares of the Company, as Income of the Company. The Company's WRIT against the said notice was allowed by the Hon`ble Delhi High Court and the said notice was quashed. However, the Hon`ble Supreme Court, invoking its special powers, has revived the said proceedings, subject to certain conditions. Since the Company is confident of defending its position that the said amount received was against allotment of preference Shares only based on the fair market value of those shares then and other legal safeguards available to it, no liability as a result of the said proceeding, is expected to arise on it and therefore, no liability needs to be provided against it.

Independent Auditor's Report

To,
The Members Of
C. E. Info Systems Limited

Report on the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of C. E. INFO SYSTEMS LIMITED (the "Company") its subsidiaries (the Parent and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group") and its associates which comprise the Consolidated Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2023, and the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity and the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "consolidated financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements, give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Aread with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group as at March 31, 2023 and their consolidated profit, their consolidated total comprehensive income, their consolidated changes in equity and their consolidated cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing ("SA"s) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the company and its subsidiary company namely Gtropy Systems Private Limited and that of the audit of the other subsidiaries/associate company financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matter to be communicated in our report.

Revenue recognition - Fixed price contracts using the percentage of completion method

1. Fixed-price contract revenue is recognized ratably on a straight-line basis when services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period. The Group uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. The Group recognize the revenue only if the stage of completion of contract exceeds 25 %.
2. If the Group does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future employee costs and productivity efficiencies. As the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

3. We identified revenue recognition of fixed price contracts where the percentage of completion is used as a Key Audit Matter since –
 - High inherent risk around accuracy of revenue, given the customized and complex nature of these contracts.
 - High inherent uncertainty and requires consideration of progress of the contract, costs incurred to-date and estimates of costs required to complete the remaining contract performance obligations over the term of the contract.
 - At year-end, significant amount of work in progress (Unbilled revenue), related to these contracts is recognized on the balance sheet.

This required a high degree of auditor judgment in evaluating the audit evidence and a higher extent of audit effort to evaluate the reasonableness of the total estimated amount of revenue and unbilled revenue recognized on these fixed-price contracts.

Auditor’s Response:

Our audit procedures included the following, among others:

- We tested the effectiveness of controls relating to (1) recording of costs incurred and estimation of efforts or costs required to complete the remaining contract performance obligations and (2) access and application controls pertaining to costs incurred, costs allocation and budgeting systems which prevents unauthorized changes to recording of efforts incurred.
- We selected a sample of fixed price contracts with customers measured using the percentage-of-completion method and performed the following:
 - Read the contract and based on the terms and conditions evaluated whether recognizing revenue over time using percentage of completion method was appropriate, and the contract was included in management’s calculation of revenue over time.

- Compared costs incurred with Company’s estimate of efforts or costs incurred to date to identify significant variations and evaluate whether those variations have been considered appropriately in estimating the remaining costs or efforts to complete the contract.
- Tested the estimate for consistency with the status of delivery of milestones and customer acceptances and sign off from customers to identify possible delays in achieving milestones, which require changes in estimated costs or efforts to complete the remaining performance obligations.

Evaluated other information that supports or contradicts the estimates of the progress towards satisfying the performance obligation.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor’s Report Thereon

The Company’s Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board’s Report including Annexures to Board’s Report, Business Responsibility and sustainability Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder’s Information, but does not include the consolidated financial statements, standalone financial statements and our auditor’s report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibility of Management and Those charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance including other comprehensive income, consolidated changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. The respective Boards of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Boards of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of the respective entities to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the respective Boards of Directors either intend to liquidate their respective entities or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Boards of Directors of the companies included in the Group are also responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group.

Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor’s report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company and its subsidiary companies which are companies incorporated in India, has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management’s use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial statements of the entities within the Group or business activities within the Group, to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of financial statements of such entities included in the financial statements, of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the financial statements, which have been audited by the other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the consolidated financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the consolidated financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the consolidated financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the entities in the group (we are not the independent auditors of Vidteq (India) Private Limited, CE Info Systems International Inc and Kogo Tech Labs Private Limited included in the consolidated financial statements), among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Other Matter:

We did not audit the financial statements of two subsidiaries and one associate company. These financial statements have been audited by other auditors whose reports have been furnished to us by the management and our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, in so far as it relates to the amounts and disclosures included in respect of these subsidiaries, and our report in terms of sub-section (3) of section 143 of the Act in so far as it relates to the aforesaid subsidiaries, are based solely on the reports of the other auditors.

1. The Consolidated Financial Statement includes the audited results of its Indian subsidiary company-Vidteq (India) Private Limited for each of the years ended March 31, 2023 and March 31, 2022, the audits of which were conducted by other auditors. The total assets, total revenues, total net profit/(loss) after tax and total comprehensive income/(loss) of Vidteq (India) Private Limited included in the consolidated financial statements are as given below. ANNEXURE “A” TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 1(f) under ‘Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements’ section of our report to the Members of C. E. Info Systems Limited of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statement Reporting under Clause (i) of sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the “Act”)

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended March 31, 2023, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement of C. E. INFO SYSTEMS Limited (hereinafter referred to as the “Company”). The wholly owned foreign subsidiary company does not have to get its accounts audited as per the laws applicable to it in the foreign country and the accounts and other related issues of its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date, were audited by other auditors.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Boards of Directors of the Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the respective Companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the “ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement of the Company based on our audit and the audit conducted by other auditors. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”) and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statement and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement included obtaining an understanding of internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statement, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statement of the Holding Company.

We have relied on the opinion of the auditors of the subsidiary companies incorporated in India, which are audited by other auditors, as expressed in their respective audit reports for the year ended on 31st March 2023 on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement and on their obtaining audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement and their operating effectiveness. They have not given any adverse comments on the subject of effectiveness and the adequacy of the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the respective companies.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated financial statement

A company’s internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statement is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statement includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statement may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the holding company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statement and such internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statement were operating effectively as at March 31, 2023, based on the criteria for internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statement established by the respective companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the ICAI.

2 Basis of preparation, measurement and significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation and measurement

a) Statement of compliance:

The Consolidated Balance Sheet of the Company as at 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 and the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity and the Consolidated Statement of Cash flows for the years 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 have been prepared under Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the 'Act') read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rule, 2015 and other relevant provisions of the Act as amended from time to time.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied, except where a newly-issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The financial statements of the Group companies are consolidated on a line-by-line basis and intra-group balances and transactions including unrealized gain / loss from such transactions are eliminated upon consolidation. These financial statements are prepared by applying uniform accounting policies in use at the Group. Non-controlling interests which represent part of the net profit or loss and net assets of subsidiaries that are not, directly or indirectly, owned or controlled by the Company, are excluded.

The Consolidated financial statements are presented in INR and all values are rounded to the nearest lakhs except when otherwise indicated.

b) Basis of measurement:

The Consolidated financial information has been prepared on historical cost basis and on accrual basis, except certain financial instrument that are measured at fair value in accordance with relevant Indian Accounting Standard (IndAS) and provision of the Companies Act, 2013.

c) Functional and presentation currency

These Consolidated financial information are presented in Indian Rupees (INR), which is also the Group's functional currency.

d) Use of estimates and judgements

- The preparation of Consolidated financial information is in conformity with Ind AS which requires the management to make estimates, judgements and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and other comprehensive income (OCI) that are reported and disclosed in the Consolidated financial information and accompanying notes. These estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events, historical experience, actions that the Group may undertake in the future and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but not limited to allowance for uncollectible accounts receivables, recognition of deferred tax assets, valuation of share-based compensation, defined benefit obligations under employee benefit plans (key actuarial assumptions), estimation of useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets, the measurement of lease liabilities and right of use assets, and other contingencies and commitments. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the year in which the changes are made. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- Estimates and judgments relating to climate change risk: In preparing these consolidated financial statements, the Company has considered the impact of climate change risks on the valuation of assets and liabilities and there is no material impact on the financial statements as on the reporting date.

e) Current or non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current or non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is treated as current when it is:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other liabilities are classified as non current.

Deferred tax assets and Tax assets are classified as non- current assets.

f) Measurement of fair values

The Group records certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value on a recurring basis. The Group determines fair values based on the price it would receive to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or most advantageous market for that asset or liability. The Group's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. The Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values (including Level 3 fair values). The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs. Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active and model-derived valuations, in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable in active markets

Level 3: Valuations derived from valuation techniques, in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

In accordance with Ind AS 113, assets and liabilities are to be measured based on the following valuation techniques:

- a) Market approach – Prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.
- b) Income approach – Converting the future amounts based on market expectations to its present value using the discounting method.
- c) Cost approach – Replacement cost method.

The Group recognizes transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred and for the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

2.2 Significant accounting policies

a) Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and measurement:

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost of acquisition, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises the purchase price and any costs attributable to bringing the asset to their working condition for their intended use.

Subsequent expenditures related to an item of fixed asset are added to its carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriately only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognized when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Depreciation methods and estimated useful lives:

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for assets purchased/sold during the year.

Asset description	Asset life (in years)
Computers (End user devices)	3
Computers (Servers and networks)	6
Research and development equipment	15
Furniture and fixtures	10
Electrical installation and equipment	10
Vehicles	8
Map survey vehicles	3
IOT Devices on rent	3

The useful lives as given above best represent the period over which the management expects to use these assets, based on technical assessment. The estimated useful lives for these assets are therefore different from the useful lives prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act 2013.

In respect of Map survey vehicles and IOT devices on rent , the useful lives are lower than those specified by Schedule II to the companies Act,2013 and are depreciated over the estimated useful lives of 3 years each, in order to reflect the actual usage of the assets.

The management has revised the estimated useful life of IoT Devices on rent from 2 years to 3 years , based on technical assessment.

The useful lives of property, plant and equipments are reviewed by the management at each financial year-end and revised, if appropriate. In case of a revision, the unamortized depreciable amount is charged over the revised remaining useful life.

b) Intangible assets

Recognition and measurement:

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The Group has a policy of capitalising direct and indirect costs of intangible assets comprising self- generated map database and/or software based on management estimate of the costs attributable to the creation of the asset. Direct costs that are capitalized as part of the intangible assets include employee costs and the indirect costs include general and administrative expenses which can be directly attributable to making of the asset for its intended use.

The Group recognizes an intangible asset when the following criteria are met:

- i) Technically feasible of completing the intangible assets so that it will be available for use or sale
- ii) Management intends to complete the intangible assets
- iii) Its ability to use or sell the assets
- iv) It can be demonstrated how the intangible assets will generate probable future economic benefits
- v) Adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible assets are available, and
- vi) The expenditure attributable to the intangible assets during its development can be reliably measured.

If the expenditure that do not meet the above mentioned criteria are recognized as an expense as incurred.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it increases the future economic benefits from the specific assets to which it relates

Amortization:

The intangible assets are amortised using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, and is recognized in Consolidated statement of profit and loss. The useful lives of intangible assets are reviewed by the management at each financial year-end and revised, if appropriate. In case of a revision, the unamortized depreciable amount is charged over the revised remaining useful life.

Asset class	Useful life
Internally generated map database	5 years
Right to non compete fee	2 years
Computer software	6 years
Software Platform	5 years
Customer contracts	5 years

c) Investment Property

Investment property is a property held either to earn rental income or for the capital appreciation or for both, but not for sale in the ordinary course of business, use in supply of services or for administrative purpose. Upon, initial recognition, an investment property is measured at cost. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment property is measured at cost less accumulated depreciation.

Depreciation methods and estimated useful lives:

Depreciation on investment property is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for investment property purchased/ sold during the year. The estimated economic life of building is 60 years.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an investment property is recognised in profit or loss

The Group has elected to use the exemption available under Ind AS 101 to continue the carrying value for all of its Property, Plant and Equipment as recognized in the financial statements as at the date of transition to Ind AS, measured as per the previous GAAP and use that as its deemed cost as at the date of transition (1 April 2018).

d) Revenue recognition

Contracts involving provision of services and material

Revenue is recognized when, or as, control of a promised service or good transfers to a customer, in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring those products or services. To recognize revenues, the following five step approach is applied: (1) identify the contract with a customer, (2) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (3) determine the transaction price, (4) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (5) recognize revenues when a performance obligation is satisfied. A contract is accounted when it is legally enforceable through executory contracts, approval and commitment from all parties, the rights of the parties are identified, payment terms are defined, the contract has commercial substance and collectability of consideration is probable.

Time-and-material / Volume based / Transaction based contracts

Revenue with respect to time-and-material, volume based and transaction based contracts is recognized as the related services are performed through efforts expended, volume serviced transactions are processed etc. that correspond with value transferred to customer till date which is related to our right to invoice for services performed.

Proprietary products- Map data

Revenue from distinct proprietary perpetual license products is recognized at a point in time at the inception of the arrangement when control transfers to the client. Revenue from proprietary term license is recognized at a point in time as per the term of the respective contracts as no services are provided under these contracts during its term. Revenue from updates is recognized over the contract term on a straight-line basis as the company is providing a service of unspecified upgrades on a when-and-if available basis over the contract term. In case product license are bundled with a certain period of upgrades either for perpetual or term based license, such upgrade support contracts are generally priced as a percentage of the net fees paid by the customer to purchase the license and are generally recognized as revenues ratably over the contractual period that the support services are provided.

Multiple performance obligation

When a sales arrangement contains multiple performance, such as services, hardware and Licensed IPs (Map Data) or combinations of each of them, revenue for each element is based on a five step approach as defined above. To the extent a contract includes multiple promised deliverables, judgment is applied to determine whether promised deliverables are capable of being distinct and are distinct in the context of the contract. If these criteria are not met, the promised deliverables are accounted for as a combined performance obligation. For arrangements with multiple distinct performance obligations or series of distinct performance obligations, consideration is allocated among the performance obligations based on their relative consolidated selling price. Consolidated selling price is the price at which Group would sell a promised good or service separately to the customer. When not directly observable, we estimate consolidated selling price by using the expected cost plus a margin approach. We establish a Consolidated selling price range for our deliverables, which is reassessed on a periodic basis or when facts and circumstances change.

Revenue recognition for delivered elements is limited to the amount that is not contingent on the future delivery of products or services, future performance obligations or subject to customer-specified return or refund privileges.

Fixed-price contract revenue is recognized ratably on a straight-line basis when services are performed through an indefinite number of repetitive acts over a specified period. The Group uses the percentage of completion method using the input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. The company recognise the revenue only if the stage of completion of contract exceeds 25 %.

If the Group does not have a sufficient basis to measure the progress of completion or to estimate total contract revenues and costs, revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract cost incurred for which recoverability is probable. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future employee costs and productivity efficiencies. As the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price as per the contract with a customer net of variable consideration on account of volume discounts, rebates and other similar allowances.

Export entitlements (Services Exports from India Scheme (SEIS))

Export entitlements from government authorities are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss, when there is reasonable assurance that the export entitlements (net of transactional costs) will be received and all the attached conditions will be complied with.

Other income

Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortized cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate which exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset. When calculating the EIR the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayments, extensions, call and similar options); expected credit losses are considered if the credit risk on that financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition

Dividend income

Dividends are recognized in Consolidated statement of profit and loss on the date on which the Group's right to receive payment is established.

Gain of sale of investments

Gains / (losses) on disposal of investments are determined with respect to their original cost of acquisition and other cost incurred and are reflected as such in the profit and loss account. Gains / (losses) due to fair valuation of investment classified under category of FVTPL accounted for as income or deduction up-to the date of sale is reversed in the profit and loss account on the date of sale.

e) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred income tax.

Income tax expense is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity, in which case it is recognized in equity. Current income tax for current and prior periods is recognized at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date. Provision for income tax includes the impact of provisions established for uncertain income tax positions.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts, and it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Consolidated financial information.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset, if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognized as income or expense in the year that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date. A deferred income tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilized.

f) Retirement and other employee benefits

i) Short-term employee benefits

Employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages and bonus, etc. are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

ii) Post employment benefits

(a) Defined contribution plan

The employee's provident fund scheme is a defined contribution plan. The Group makes specified monthly contributions towards employee provident fund to Government administered provident fund scheme which is a defined contribution plan. The Group's contribution is recognised as an expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(b) Defined benefit plan

The Group's (other than US subsidiary, which does not have any employee) gratuity plan is a defined benefit plan. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's base salary and the tenure of employment (subject to a maximum of Rs. 20 Lakhs per employee). The liability is actuarially determined (using the projected unit credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial gains/losses are recognized in the Consolidated Balance Sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through other comprehensive income in the year in which they occur.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income and are never reclassified to profit or loss. Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognized immediately in the profit or loss as past service cost.

The Holding Company has taken a policy from an Insurance Company to cover its liabilities towards employees' gratuity. Liability with respect to the Gratuity plan determined as above and any differential between the fund amount as per the Insurance Company and the liability as per the actuarial valuation is recognized as an asset or liability.

The Employee's Gratuity Fund Scheme, which is defined benefit plan, is managed by Trust with its investments maintained with Insurance Company "Kotak Mahindra Life Insurance Company" to cover its liabilities towards employees' gratuity.

The differential between the fund amount as per the Insurance Company and the liability as per the actuarial valuation is recognized as an asset or liability as the case may be.

The other two subsidiary companies, namely Vidteq and Gtropy have not taken any policy from an Insurance company. However the requisite provision for Gratuity liability has been made in the accounts of each company as at March 31, 2023.

(c) Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The Company's net obligation in respect of long-term employee benefits other than post-employment benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value, and the fair value of any related assets is deducted.

The employees can carry-forward a portion of the unutilized accrued compensated absences and utilize it in future service periods or receive cash compensation on termination of employment. Since the compensated absences do not fall due wholly within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service and are also not expected to be utilized wholly within twelve months after the end of such period, the benefit is classified as a long-term employee benefit. The Company records an obligation for such compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increase this entitlement. The obligation is measured on the basis of independent actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. Re measurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the profit or loss

(iii) Employee Stock Option Plan

The fair value of options granted under this option plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense with corresponding increase in equity in accordance with recognition and measurement principles as prescribed in Ind AS 102 Share Based Payments when grant is made. The total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At end of the reporting period, the entity revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognizes the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with corresponding adjustment to equity.

g) Inventories

Inventories which comprise raw material, finished goods, stock-in-trade, stores and spares and project work-in-progress are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value (NRV).

Cost of inventories comprises all costs of purchase, duties and taxes (Other than subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. In determining the cost, FIFO (First in First Out) method is used

Project work-in-progress represents cost incurred on projects/portion of projects when revenue is yet to be recognized. Such costs include field survey expenses and salary costs for technical team working on these projects.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The comparison of cost and net realisable value is made on an item-by-item basis.

h) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is a contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

a) Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at:

- i) amortised cost;
- ii) fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)-debt investment;
- iii) fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)-equity investment; or

iv) FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as FTVPL:

- a) the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows, and
- b) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A instrument is measured at FVOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as FVTPL:

- a) the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets, and
- b) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. On initial recognition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial assets at FVTPL

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortised cost

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income under the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses recognised in OCI. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss.

Equity investments at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to profit or loss.

Investment in Subsidiary Companies , associates and joint venture

The investment in subsidiary companies, associates and joint venture are carried at cost (net of impairment) as per IND AS 27.

Loans

Loans under financial assets represents security deposit paid to landlords for rental of premises and treatment done as per Ind-AS.

Derecognitiona) Financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset. If the Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its Consolidated Balance Sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognised.

b) Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The subsequent measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. Changes in fair value of such liability are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of profit or loss.

Financial liabilities at amortized cost

The Group's financial liabilities at amortized cost includes trade payables, borrowings including bank overdrafts and other payables.

After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method except for deferred consideration recognized in a business combination which is subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss. Gains and losses are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Consolidated Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

i) Impairmenta) Financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss. The Group company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If in subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECLs are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12-months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e. all shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR. When estimating the cash flows, an entity is required to consider:

- (i) All contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension etc.) over the expected life of the financial instrument. However, in rare cases when the expected life of the financial instrument cannot be estimated reliably, then the entity is required to use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument.
- (ii) Cash flows from other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

As a practical expedient, the Company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss on portfolio of its trade receivable. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivable and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At regular intervals, the historically observed default rates are updated and changes in forward-looking estimates are analysed. In addition to the historical pattern of credit loss, the Company has considered the likelihood of increased credit risk and consequential default by customers including revisions in the credit period provided to the customers. In making this assessment, the Company has considered current and anticipated future economic conditions relating to industries/business verticals that the company deals with and the countries where it operates. In addition the Company has also considered credit reports and other credit information for its customers to estimate the probability of default in future and has taken into account estimates of possible effect from the pandemic relating to COVID-19. The Company believes that the carrying amount of allowance for expected credit loss with respect to trade receivables, unbilled revenue and other financial assets is adequate

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) is recognised as an income/expense in the statement of profit and loss during the period. This amount is reflected under other expenses in the statement of profit and loss. The balance sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

Financial assets measured at amortized cost, contractual revenue receivable: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e. as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

a) Impairment of investment in subsidiaries:

The Company assesses investments in subsidiaries for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the investment may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the investment in subsidiary. The recoverable amount of such investment is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of the investment is calculated using projected future cash flows. If the recoverable amount of the investment is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

b) Non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that a non-financial asset or a group of non-financial assets is impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the amount of impairment loss.

An impairment loss is calculated as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and recoverable amount. Losses are recognised in the statement of profit and loss and reflected in an allowance account. When the Company considers that there are no realistic prospects of recovery of the asset, the relevant amounts are written off. If the amount of impairment loss subsequently decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, then the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through statement of profit and loss.

Intangible assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For the purpose of impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the CGU to which the asset belongs.

If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset. An impairment loss is reversed in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. The carrying amount of the asset is increased to its revised recoverable amount, provided that this amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any accumulated amortization) had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit (as defined below) is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets (the "cash-generating unit").

Goodwill is tested for impairment on an annual basis and whenever there is an indication that goodwill may be impaired, relying on a number of factors including operating results, business plans and future cash flows. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to the Group's cash generating units (CGU) or groups of CGU's expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the business combination. A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets. Impairment occurs when the carrying amount of a CGU including the goodwill, exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU. The recoverable amount of a CGU is the higher of its fair value less cost to sell and its value-in-use. Value-in-use is the present value of future cash flows expected to be derived from the CGU.

Total impairment loss of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of goodwill allocated to the CGU and then to the other assets of the CGU prorata on the basis of the carrying amount of each asset in the CGU. An impairment loss on goodwill is recognised in statement of profit and loss and is not reversed in the subsequent period.

The carrying amounts of assets are reviewed at each reporting date if there is any indication of impairment based on internal/external factors. An impairment loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the asset's (or cash generating unit's) net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and risks specific to the asset (or cash generating unit).

An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

An assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Group estimates the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit or Loss unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as an increase in revaluation.

j) Equity settled stock based compensation

Stock-based compensation represents the cost related to stock-based awards granted to employees. The Holding Company measures stock-based compensation cost at grant date, based on the estimated fair value of the award and recognizes the cost on a straight line basis over the requisite service period for each separately vesting portion of the award, as if award was in substance, multiple awards. The Holding Company estimates the fair value of stock options. The cost is recorded under the head employee benefit expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss with corresponding increase in "Employee stock option Reserve"

k) LeasesGroup as a lessee

Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. The Group recognises a right to use asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease agreements in which it is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less). For these leases, the Group recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted by using the rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be readily determined, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate. Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise of fixed lease payments (less any lease incentives), variable lease payments, penalties, etc. The lease liability is presented, as a separate line in the Consolidated Balance sheet. The lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability (using the effective interest method) and by reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made.

The Group remeasures the lease liability (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use asset) whenever

a) the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate.

b) the lease payments change due to changes in an index or rate or a change in expected payment under a guaranteed residual value, in which case the lease liability is measured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate (unless the lease payments change is due to a change in a floating interest rate, in which case a revised discount rate is used).

c) a lease contract is modified, and the lease modification is not accounted for as a separate lease, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate.

The Group did not make any such adjustments during the periods presented.

The Right-of-Use assets comprise the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made at or before the commencement day and any initial direct costs. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Whenever the Group incurs an obligation for costs to dismantle and remove a leased asset, restore the site on which it is located or restore the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, a provision is recognised and measured under Ind AS 37. The costs are included in the related right-of-use asset, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

Right to use assets are depreciated over the shorter period of lease term and useful life of underlying assets

The Group applies Ind AS 36 Impairment of Assets to determine whether a right-of-use asset is impaired.

Variable rents are not included in the measurement the lease liability and the right-of-use asset. The related payments are recognised as an expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers those payments occur and are included in the line "" Other expenses"" in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Group as a lessor

a) Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At inception of an arrangement, it is determined whether the arrangement is or contains a lease. At inception or on reassessment of the arrangement that contains a lease, the payments and other consideration required by such an arrangement are separated into those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values.

b) Assets held under leases

Leases in which the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income arising is accounted for on a straight line basis over the lease term. The lease term is the non-cancellable period together with any further term for which the tenant has the option to continue the lease, where, at the inception of the lease, the Group is reasonably certain that the tenant will exercise that option. Leases are classified as finance leases when substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership gets transferred from the Group to the lessee. Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recorded as receivables at the Group's net investment in the leases.

c) Initial direct costs

Initial direct costs such as brokerage expenses incurred specifically to earn revenues from an operating lease are capitalised to the carrying amount of leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income.

l) Borrowings

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset (if any) that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur.

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

m) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the Consolidated Balance Sheet comprise cash in banks and short-term deposits and investments with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

n) Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows.

The Group uses significant judgement to disclose contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial information.

o) Earnings per equity share

Basic EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Holding Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Holding Company by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The diluted potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as at the beginning of the year, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each year presented.

p) Foreign currency transaction and translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Group at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date of the transaction. Foreign-currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated to the relevant functional currency at exchange rates in effect at the Consolidated Balance Sheet date. Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of initial transaction. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at fair value are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date when the fair value was determined.

Transaction gains or losses realized upon settlement of foreign currency transactions are included in determining net profit for the year. Revenue, expenses and cash-flow items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the relevant functional currencies using the exchange rate in effect on the date of the transaction.

The translation of foreign operations from respective functional currency into INR (the reporting currency) for assets and liabilities is performed using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date, and for revenue, expenses and cash flows is performed using an appropriate daily weighted average exchange rate for the respective years. The exchange differences arising on translation are reported as a component of 'other comprehensive income (loss)'. On disposal of a foreign operation, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

q) Dividends

The declaration and payment of final dividends on our Equity Shares, if any, is recommended by our Board and approved by our Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and the Companies Act. However, interim dividends are approved by the Board at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and the Companies Act.

The dividend depends on a number of internal factors, including but not limited to our Company's liquidity position including its present and expected obligations, profits of our Company, present and future capital expenditure plans of our Company including organic / inorganic growth opportunities, financial requirement for business expansion and/or diversification, acquisition etc of new businesses, past dividend trend of our Company and the industry, cost of borrowings, other corporate action options (for ex. bonus issue, buy back of shares) and any other relevant or material factor as may be deemed fit by the Board. In addition, the dividend, if any, also depends on a number of external factors including but not limited to state of economy and capital markets, applicable taxes including dividend distribution tax, regulatory changes: introduction of new or changes in existing tax or regulatory requirements (including dividend distribution tax) having significant impact on the Company's operations or finances and any other relevant or material factor as may be deemed fit by the Board.

r) Nature and purpose of reserves are :

General reserve

Under the erstwhile Companies Act 1956, general reserve was created through an annual transfer of net income at a specified percentage in accordance with applicable regulations. Consequent to introduction of Companies Act 2013, the requirement to mandatorily transfer a specified percentage of the net profit to general reserve has been withdrawn.

Securities premium reserve

Securities premium reserve is used to record the premium on issue/Conversion of shares. The reserve can be utilized only for limited purposes such as issuance of bonus shares and buyback of shares in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Capital redemption reserve

The Group recognizes cancellation of the Holding Company's own equity instruments to capital redemption reserve.

Capital Reserve

Where the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities exceed the cost of acquisition, after reassessing the fair values of the net assets and contingent liabilities, the excess is recognised as capital reserve.

Currency translation adjustment reserve

Exchange difference arising on translation of the foreign operations are accumulated in a separate reserve within equity. The cumulative amount is reclassified to Statement of Profit & loss when the investment is disposed off.

Employee stock options reserve

The share options based payment reserve is used to recognize the grant date fair value of options issued to employees under Employee stock option plan.

Goodwill

The excess of the cost of acquisition over the Company's share in the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities is recognized as goodwill.

Business combinations

The Group accounts for its business combinations under acquisition method of accounting. Acquisition related costs are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss as incurred. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the condition for recognition are recognised at their fair values at the acquisition date.

Purchase consideration paid in excess of the fair value of net assets acquired is recognised as goodwill. Where the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities exceed the cost of acquisition, after reassessing the fair values of the net assets and contingent liabilities, the excess is recognised as capital reserve.

The interest of non-controlling shareholders is initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on an acquisition-by- acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity of subsidiaries.

Business combinations arising from transfers of interests in entities that are under common control are accounted at historical cost. The difference between any consideration given and the aggregate historical carrying amounts of assets and liabilities of the acquired entity is recorded in shareholders' equity.

s) Statement of cashflows

Cash flow statement is prepared segregating the cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flows are reported using the indirect method as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 ("Cash flow statements"), whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cashflows are segregated into and presented as cashflows from operating, investing and financing activities.

t) Recent pronouncements

Amendments not yet effective:

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 31, 2023, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023, applicable from April 1, 2023, as below:

(i) Ind AS 1 – Disclosure of material accounting policies:

The amendments related to shifting of disclosure of erstwhile "significant accounting policies" to "material accounting policies" in the notes to the financial statements requiring companies to reframe their accounting policies to make them more "entity specific. This amendment aligns with the "material" concept already required under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The Company does not expect this amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

(ii) Ind AS 8 – Definition of accounting estimates:

The amendments will help entities to distinguish between accounting policies and accounting estimates. The definition of a "change in accounting estimates" has been replaced with a definition of "accounting estimates." Under the new definition, accounting estimates are "monetary amounts in financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty." Entities develop accounting estimates if accounting policies require items in financial statements to be measured in a way that involves measurement uncertainty. The Company does not expect this amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

(iii) Ind AS 12 – Income Taxes

The amendments narrowed the scope of the recognition exemption in paragraphs 15 and 24 of Ind AS 12. At the date of transition to Ind ASs, a first-time adopter shall recognize a deferred tax asset to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized. Similarly, a deferred tax liability for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with:

(a) right-of-use assets and lease liabilities

(b) Decommissioning, restoration and similar liabilities and the corresponding amounts recognized as part of the cost of the related asset.

Therefore, if a company has not yet recognised deferred tax on right-of-use assets and lease liabilities or has recognised deferred tax on net basis, the same need to recognize on gross basis based on the carrying amount of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities.

(iv) Ind AS 103 – Common control Business Combination

The amendments modify the disclosure requirement for business combination under common control in the first financial statement following the business combination. The date on which the transferee obtains control of the transferor is required to be disclosed.

The Company earns revenue primarily from licensing and sale of Map data and Map data related services (i.e. GPS navigation and location-based services) primarily for corporate business entities. We foresee that our revenue and deferred revenue would be mildly impacted in the short term due to COVID -19. However, in long-term, we believe that our business model remains robust and sustainable. The impact assessment of COVID-19 is an ongoing process due to the high degree of uncertainty associated and our assertions might change in future due to this.

In developing the assumptions relating to the possible future uncertainties in the economic conditions because of the pandemic, the Group, as at the date of approval of the consolidated financial information has used internal and external sources of information. B. Fair value hierarchy

Ind AS 107, 'Financial Instrument - Disclosure' requires classification of the valuation method of financial instruments measured at fair value in the Balance Sheet, using a three level fair-value-hierarchy (which reflects the significance of inputs used in the measurements). The hierarchy gives the highest priority to un-adjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and lowest priority to un-observable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair-value-hierarchy under Ind AS 107 are described below:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active and model-derived valuations, in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable in active markets.

Level 3: Valuations derived from valuation techniques, in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

Assets measured using level 1 inputs primarily include investment securities in mutual funds and the fair value being marked to an active market which factors the impact of COVID-19, we do not expect material volatility in these financial assets.

Assets and liabilities measured using level 2 inputs includes financial assets measured at amortised cost which includes Trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, government bonds with corporations and deposits with banks have been assessed basis counterparty credit risk.

Financial risk management

The Company' Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the company' risk management framework

The Company has exposure to the following risks arising from financial instruments

- Credit risk
- Liquidity risk
- Market risk

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company's trade and other receivables and cash and cash equivalents. The maximum exposure to credit risk in case of all the financial instruments covered below is restricted to their respective carrying amount.

i) Trade receivables and other receivables

The movement in the provision for bad and doubtful debts for the year ended 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022 is as follows:

Particulars	As at 31 March 2023	As at 31 March 2022
Opening balance	675	661
Bad debts written off	(288)	(46)
Provision made during the year	-	60
Bad debts recovered	(130)	0
Closing balance	257	675

The principal credit risk that the Group company is exposed to is non-collection of trade receivable and late collection of receivable and on unbilled revenue, leading to credit loss. The risk is mitigated by reviewing credit worthiness of the prospective customers prior to entering into contract and post contracting, through continuous monitoring of collections by a dedicated team. The Group company makes adequate provision for non-collection of trade receivable and unbilled receivables.

In addition, trade receivable are due from the parties under normal course of the business and as such the company believes exposure to credit risk to be minimal.

Trade receivables forms a significant part of the financial assets carried at amortised cost, which is valued considering provision for allowance using expected credit loss method. Accounts receivables and unbilled receivables have been valued after making reserve for allowances based on factors like ageing, likelihood of increased credit risk and expected realizability considering impact of COVID – 19 on customers.

ii) Cash and cash equivalents including financial instruments

Credit risk on cash and cash equivalents is limited as the Group generally invest in deposits with banks and financial institutions with high ratings assigned by international and domestic credit rating agencies and analyzing market information on a continuous and evolving basis. Ratings are monitored periodically and the Company has considered the latest available credit ratings as well any other market information which may be relevant at the date of approval of these financial statements.

iii) Investments

The Company limits its exposure to credit risk by generally investing in liquid securities and only with counterparties that have a good credit rating. The Company does not expect any losses from non-performance by these counterparties, and does not have any significant concentration of exposures to specific industry sectors or specific country risks.

Liquidity risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities, the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due, under both normal and stressed conditions.

34 Contingent liabilities

- i. Bank guarantees of Rs.1,631 lakhs (PY Rs. 410 lakhs) was outstanding at the year ended . These are given in the normal course of the Company's operations and are not expected to result in any loss to the Company, on the basis of the Company fulfilling its business obligations. However a bank guarantee of Rs. 740 lakhs was given to Bombay Stock Exchange for offer for sale IPO which will be returned to the company after successful settlement of the claims of the vendors in connection with the IPO.
- ii. The company has provided security to its subsidiary company "Gtropy Systems Private Limited" in the form of pledge of its fixed deposits of Rs. 1,744 lakhs against which an overdraft facility of Rs. 1,500 lakhs has been provided by "Bank of India" to the said subsidiary.
- iii. The Group had received an income tax order u/s 143(3) dated 23 Feb 2016 issued by the Assessing Officer, in respect of Assessment Year 2013-14 (previous year 2012-13), wherein an amount of Rs. 3 lakhs, being advance tax , was wrongly written off by the company under the head "other expenses". This amount was rightly disallowed and added back to the income of the company for that year. Income tax on the above Rs. 3 lakhs and also the additional tax of Rs.0.8 lakhs was determined as recoverable from the company.The Company believes that the above tax demand would get adjusted out of the refund of Rs. 4 lakhs due to the company from the tax department for A.Y. 2013-14.
- iv. On February 28, 2019, a ruling of the Supreme Court of India interpreting certain statutory defined contribution obligations of employees and employers (the "India Defined Contribution Obligation") altered historical understandings of such obligations, extending them to cover additional portions of the employee's income. It is not currently clear whether the interpretation set out in the pronouncement has retrospective application. If applied retrospectively, the interpretation would result in an increase in contributions payable by the Company for past and future periods for certain of its India-based employees.

Also, there is significant uncertainty as to how the liability should be calculated as it is impacted by multiple variables such as, the period of assessment, the application with respect to certain current and former employees and whether interest and penalties may be assessed. Due to such challenges and a lack of interpretive guidance, and based on management's internal assessment, it is currently impracticable to reliably estimate the timing and amount of any payments the Company may be required to make. The Company anticipates, that the Indian government will review the matter and believe there is a substantial question as to whether the Indian government will apply the Supreme Court's ruling on a retrospective basis. Accordingly, the Company is yet to obtain further clarity and will evaluate the amount of a potential provision, if any.

- v. The Group company was served with a notice by the Income Tax Department in June 2021 u/s 148 of the Income Tax Act initiating proceedings to assess the amount received from Flipkart Pvt. Ltd. Singapore in Financial Year 2015-16 relevant to A.Y.2016-17 towards allotment of Preference shares of the Company, as Income of the Company. The Company's WRIT against the said notice was allowed by the Hon`ble Delhi High Court and the said notice was quashed. However, the Hon`ble Supreme Court, invoking its special powers, has revived the said proceedings, subject to certain conditions. Since the Company is confident of defending its position that the said amount received was against allotment of preference Shares only based on the fair market value of those shares then and other legal safeguards available to it, no liability as a result of the said proceeding, is expected to arise on it and therefore, no liability needs to be provided against it.
