Acquisition Rationale: Digital Marketing Focussed Customer Experience Agency At the Core of Zensar's Digital Strategy

Customer Experience and Digital Marketing sits at the heart of Zensar's Digital Strategy and will act as the 'tip of the spear' in our pursuit of CMO driven spend. Together with Zensar's downstream capability, the combined entity can target a much larger share of our customer's spend

Acquisition Rationale: A Strategic Fit for Zensar's Digital Strategy

- Zensar's strategy revolves around Digital and the CMO led Digital stack. Currently ~38% of Zensar's revenues come from Digital. The acquisition of Indigo Slate provides Zensar with the 'Tip of the spear' capability in Digital in the US that helps customers articulate their strategy with better Customer Experience (CX) and more effective Digital Marketing.
- Indigo Slate has strong Customer Experience and Digital Marketing capabilities with a strong focus on Technology that both overlaps and complement Foolproof's capabilities and meets Zensar's strategic need.
- The acquisition brings with it a one of a kind CX platform, Ruptive.cx which sharpens customer experience mapping. Billed as the "world's first Human Experience Innovation platform," Ruptive holds a unique place at the intersection of technology and the customer experience.
- Indigo Slate has an enviable list of clients that includes the who's who of Fortune 500 Hi Tech Firms as well as large manufacturing giants, lining up perfectly with Zensar's focus areas.
