Tunnel 2 for clean Mithi project over

KALPESH MHAMUNKAR / Mumbai

To improve the quality of Mithi river water, the BMC has undertaken its rejuvenation project that involves excavation of a tunnel (2.6mt diameter) from Bapat nullah, Safed bridge to Dharavi sewage treatment plant (STP). The work is underway in three phases. On Wednesday, the tunnel excavation from Kanakia Zillion (Santacruz-Chembur Road) to LBS Road was completed.

As much as 168 million litres of polluted water runs from Bapat nullah to Mithi every day. This stock will now be directed to the STP through tunnels and released into a creek near Mahim Udyan after treatment. This project will help to keep the river clean, which will positively impact the city's ecosystem. Additional municipal commissioner P Velrasu said that the project will restrict the release of polluted water into Mithi and not harm people residing near the shore.

BMC officials said that a 6.7km tunnel is being constructed 15mt under the existing sewerage system. This will be the smallest tunnel in India with an outer diameter of 3.2mt and inner being 2.6mt. Comprising five shafts, the tunnel is being built with the help of an earth pressure balance tunnel boring machine.

The work has been underway since October 1, 2021 and is expected to finish by September 30 next year. As of today, 3.56km work out of 6.7km (almost 64%) is complete. The first tunnel was completed on June 13, 2023 at Kuria Udyan. The second tunnelling work finished on Wednesday (February 7). The total capacity of the tunnel is 400 million litres and has been planned to cover the city's needs till 2051.

Sion skywalk

Neglect plagues skywalks, citizens decry wasted funds

RUCHA KANOLKAR / Mumbai

The squandering of taxpayers' money and the neglect of public infrastructure have come under scrutiny as citizens raise alarm over the deplorable state of more than 15 skywalks across Mumbai. Despite the BMC being tasked with maintaining these vital pedestrian bridges, reports indicate widespread dissatisfaction with their upkeep and safety measures.

Constructed initially by the Mumbai Metropolitan Region Development Authority (MMRDA), these skywalks were later entrusted to BMC's care. However, a litany of grievances has emerged, ranging from inadequate lighting and security to rampant encroachment and criminal activities.

One such example is the Bainganwadi Junction skywalk in Govandi, which residents describe as perilous after dusk due to its lack of lighting and safety features. Shaikh Faiyyaz Alam of Govandi Citizens Welfare expressed dismay over inaction despite repeated complaints, highlighting the bridge's strategic location vis-à-vis the local ward office.

Vedant Mhatre from the Walking Project (a community walking project for safe footpaths) echoed concerns about poorly designed skywalks, citing instances of substandard paneling and impractical placement parallel to railway lines. The dire condition of Wadala's skywalk, marred by encroachments and drug-related activities, stands as a stark example of neglect, contrasting with the well-maintained Dombivali railway station skywalk.

A regular commuter from Sion (she preferred to be called Mrs Teli), emphasised the importance of ensuring proper utilisation of skywalks. She underscored the necessity for barriers at crossings, similar to those at CSMT, and highlighted the prevalent issue of molestation even during daytime.

Despite the BMC's claims of regular maintenance, recent demolitions of skywalks in Vidya Vihar, Bandra East, and Vile Parle raise questions about the adequacy of their efforts. Chief Engineer of Bridges, Vivek Kalyankar, asserts that all skywalks under BMC jurisdiction are diligently repaired and surveyed biannually.

Upon visiting various skywalk locations, the Free Press Journal discovered alarming conditions that have rendered these structures akin to lover's points rather than safe pedestrian pathways. Vikhroli's P Soman Marg Skywalk, for instance, is shrouded in darkness as it lacks proper electrification. Additionally, the bridge has also become a drinking and smoking zone, further compromising public safety. Similar is the state of the skywalk at Vikhroli West railway station.

Meanwhile, encroachments on the Sion skywalk outside the railway station have further exacerbated safety concerns, with some individuals making the bridge their makeshift homes.

The eastern suburbs, despite being equipped with skywalks, offer little respite to pedestrians who opt for the perilous main roads due to the dilapidated state of these elevated pathways. Locals express disappointment over the authorities' failure to address these pressing issues, highlighting the urgent need for intervention to ensure the safety and well-being of Mumbai's residents.

Consultants for Coastal Rd 2nd part

SHEFALI PARAB-PANDIT / Mumbai

The BMC will appoint a project management consultant for the twin tunnels in Mumbai coastal road project's phase 2 and twin tunnels (including a box tunnel) for the Goregaon-Mulund Link Road (GMLR). The consultants will supervise overall progress besides finalising the contract design.

The BMC finalised four contractors for coastal road's Phase 2 in December last year. The 18.47km road will connect Versova to Dahisar along with a 4.46km connector to GMLR. The Versova-Dahisar Link Road (DVLR) will have double elevated roads, a road on stilts, a cable-stayed bridge, and an underground tunnel below Malad and Kandivali through mangrove creeks. It will provide connectivity with GMLR, which aims to connect the Western and Eastern Express Highways.

DVLR is divided into six packages, including twin tunnels of 3.66km each in packages C and D. A north and south-bound carriageway will be created between Mindspace and Charkop (Kandivali). Megha Engineering Pvt Ltd has been awarded the contract at an estimated cost of Rs5,821 crore.

The BMC is also constructing a twin underground tunnel from Film City in Goregaon in the western suburbs to Khindipada in Mulund in the eastern suburbs. A 1.65km long and 6mt deep box tunnel will work as an approach road to the 4.75km six-lane tunnel.
