Data centre capacity to treble by 2025: Analysts

According to a report by Crisil, industry capacity is likely to expand over three-fold to hit 1,100-1,200 MW by FY25

RISHI RANJAN KALA New Delhi, November 14

INDIA'S DATA CENTRE industry, which expects revenues to grow 20% y-o-y in FY21, is experiencing huge demand for expansion, as the country's appetite for consuming data grows at a scorching pace. Buoyed by the sentiment, analysts project the current capacity of around 360 megawatt (MW) to treble in the next four-five years as the digital economy landscape matures further. According to a report by Crisil, industry capacity is likely to expand over threefold to hit 1,100-1,200 MWby FY25 on the back of $4-5 billion investments announced over the past three years for both brownfield and greenfield expansion.

"Also, on account of Covid, data consumption has seen a sharp 38% rise y-o-y in Q1 FY21. On the back of this, we expect the industry to log a rapid 25-30% CAGR to $4.5-5 billion by FY25. Growth drivers include an exponential surge in data being generated and growing need for local data storage in line with the government's thrust on data localisation," it noted.

The Indian data centre industry, which accounts for

1-2% of the global share, is estimated to have clocked a modest CAGR of 15-20% since FY16 to touch around $1 billion in fiscal 2019 and about $1.2 billion (around ₹8,900 crore) in FY20, Crisilsaid. According to a joint report by TAIPA-EY in Septemberthis year, data centres are witnessing a steep growth trajectory and the market in India is expected to grow at 8.4% CAGR from 2018-2023.

ILL India, in a report launched in August, projected the industry to add 703 MW by end-2025, translating into an opportunity of 9.3 million sq ft of real estate development. Mumbai is expected to

On October 28, Yotta Infrastructure, a Hiranandani group firm, said it will invest up to ₹7,000 crore for setting up a data centre park in Greater Noida. Then on November 3, Nex-tra Data, a Bharti Airtel subsidiary, said it has inked an MoU with Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation to establish two data centres in Mumbai and Pune. On Friday, Amazon Web Services announced investment of $2.7 billion(about₹20,700 crore) in Telangana to set up multiple data centres.

Crisil says the huge demand for storage is being driven by exponential increase in data volume and penetration (around 75% by fiscal 2025).

The increase in data volume would be supported by high growth in e-commerce, increase in usage of social media, greater preference for over the top (OTT) platforms, government's impetus to Digital India and data localisation norms, which support development of local data centres, it added.

This is also good news for cities beyond the metros and tier-II towns, Crisil Research expects the share of the top four cities to decline marginally in the next five years as lack of space and higher rental costs along with improved infrastructure availability in next-rung cities leads to some larger hyper-scale data centres being set up in those cities. Due to lack of quality and reliable infrastructure across a majority of locations in India, about 60% of the total number of data centres are located in the top four cities. In fact, the top seven cities accounted for more than 75% of the total data centres in India.

Offline businesses see surge in sales powered by online discovery

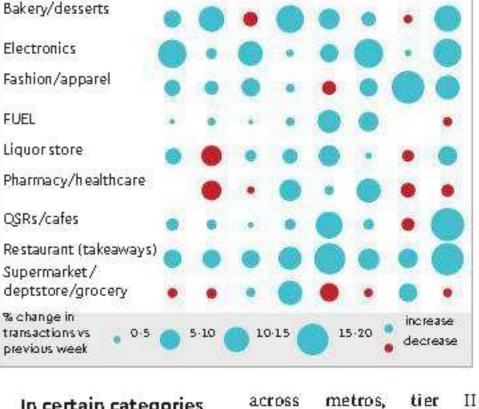

In the past two months, there has been a nearly 20% increase in sales across fashion, food and electronics categories, according to a recent report

SRINATH SRINIVASAN Bengaluru, November 14

SMALL BUSINESS SALES are seeing a continuous surge since August 2020 with increasing consumers pending across different retail verticals. In the last two months, there has been a nearly 20% increase in sales across fashion, food and electronics categories, according to a recent report by offline-toonline performance retail platform Magicpin.

The company also reported onboarding 100,000 new merchants across various retail verticals in the period between August 2020 and October 2020. "The trends show a clear indication that consumer spending is back on track and people are looking beyond essentials. From a merchant's perspective, this is a clear sign that local businesses are getting more attention after the gradual unlock," says Anshoo Sharma, CEO and co-founder, Magicpin. The trends indicate an increase in footfall in eateries. "Within the food & beverage category, the nightlife and pub outlets are the ones seeing the sharpest recovery with customers becoming more comfortable stepping out. Some of these outlets are growing over 100% weekly," says Sharma. Interestingly, the report shows that by the end of September,

In certain categories like electronics, the discounts and rewards offered went past the 75% mark during the various sales

Liquor and pharmacy/healthcare retail came down by nearly 10%.

While online discovery of stores and services was a key driver, along with flexibility in payment and delivery modes, Sharma also attributes this surge to incentivising retail purchases by e-commerce and digital discovery platforms.

In certain categories like electronics, the discounts and rewards offered went past the 75% mark during various sales, like work-from-home, Dussehra and unlock sales.

"E-commerce platforms and the brands that get listed on them started giving heavy discounts across categories to encourage consumer spending. For us, it became important to not just incentivise in-store purchases, but also deliveries. In some cases, offered additional rewards on top of what the brands may offer," explains Sharma. This is true for over 5,000 pincodes that these merchant partners come from and III cities.

"During this time, delivering on the promised RoI was important. For example, in some cases, the ratio for us stood at 1:3 and 1:5. For example, we had to deliver a business owner ₹30 lakh worth of sales if they gave us ₹10 lakh, explains Sharma.

This trend is likely to go higher this month accelerated by the Diwali week, according to Sharma. "We are noticing sales double every month via our platform, going up to pre-Covid levels. This would be close to a billion dollars with all the 800,000 merchantsonour platform accounted for. We expect the Diwali week alone to contribute 40% of this month's sales, which will lead all the other weeks in the past," says Sharma.

brands have also shown interest in performance-driven platforms to reach consumers and with them comes a large network of distributors and retailers, which has made it easier to acquire new customers. "As we prepare the retailer ecosystem to serve online customers and orders, we expect more value to come from higher up the value chain, too, starting Diwali," opines Sharma.
