Key Investment Considerations

Key Investment Considerations

1 Long Track Record of Leadership in the LMI Segment...

Over 30 years of expertise in the LMI segment

DHFL is focused on the LMI segment ...

(Average ticket size, USD'000)

Focused on housing loans ...

(Housing loans as % of total loan book)

🏠 ~79% of loan portfolio comprises housing loans given for purchase of homes, extension & improvements and self construction

- 🏠 DHFL is one of the leading players in niche markets in India (Tier II & III cities) with strong foothold in the low and middle income (LMI) segment
 - DHFL has carved a niche in terms of presence across customer segments—bottom end and middle segment
 - The company has gained expertise in the LMI and self employed class. After three decades it remains the financial institution with the systems, processes and dedication to serve this socio-economic group
- 🏠 Has been able to maintain a healthy portfolio with low delinquency rates by virtue of following stringent in-house appraisal systems

9MFY16 AUM of ~$9.9bn

1 ...with a PAN India distribution reach to cater to the target market segment

Distribution footprint is primarily spread over Tier II, Tier III cities and outside the municipal limits of the Metros

🏠 Spread across 358 Company operated locations in India¹

🏠 Focus on increasing pan India presence and setting up branches in the untapped LMI markets

Alliance partner

🏠 Access to banks' infrastructure

- Branch Network: Leverage as additional points of sales
- Customers: To explore incremental business
- Brand: Co-branding products and operating from a bank's premises for marketing and back end processing

🏠 These banks are the strong players in their respective geographies, with deep ties to local communities

🏠 Alliances provide the benefit of lowering exposure risk and unlock capital for business expansion

Note: Map not as per scale. The branch locations shown are for representative purposes only and doesn't reflect all branches of the company

2 Strong Growth Opportunity for HFCs particularly in Tier II and Tier III cities

Housing finance outlook for HFCs

(USD in bn)

Note: Data for 2015-16 and 2016-17 is projected.
(Source: CRISIL NBFC Report, August 2015)

Tier II and Tier III cities have emerged as new avenues for growth

- ▲ Increasing number of people migrating from smaller towns and rural areas to tier-II and tier-III cities
 - Driven by employment opportunities, affordable property prices and availability of finance
- ▲ HFCs have established strong presence in tier-II and tier-III cities
 - Superior client servicing resulting in quicker turnaround time
 - Adequate appraisal systems and effective recovery mechanisms
- ▲ HFCs expected to continue to witness faster growth than banks
 - Demand for underlying assets, stable operating environment, increased financial penetration and steady property prices

(Source: CRISIL NBFC Report, August 2015)

2 Strong Growth Opportunity Supported by Government Critical Policy Agenda

DHFL Social Economic Role benefits from Key Government Initiatives and Regulatory Incentives

🏠 Government support: Housing for all by 2022, 100 smart cities.

Key Government Initiatives

Affordable Housing for All

- 🏠 On June 17, 2015, the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) raised the interest subsidy for affordable housing in urban areas to 6.5% for EWS including slum dwellers and LMI groups. According to the ministry of Urban Development, the policy impact of this change will positively benefit urban poor to the tune of INR 200 – 300k each
- 🏠 This move, along with other schemes such as Pradhan Mantri Jan-Dhan Yojna, will help overcome the challenge of limited access to credit by EWS/LIG and consequently, will help spur demand for affordable housing

100 Smart Cities

- 🏠 The '100 Smart Cities' government initiative is aimed at reshaping the urban landscape by making cities more affordable and liveable
- 🏠 Each city selected under the scheme would be granted 1bn / year for five years, which presents a huge opportunity for the housing segment
