HOW WE HAVE GROWN OVER THE YEARS

Revenue
(₹ Cr)

Definition
Growth in sales, net of taxes.

Why this is measured
It is an index that showcases the Company's ability to maximise revenues, which provides a basis against which the company's performance can be compared with sectoral peers.

What this means
The volume offtake remained creditable in an otherwise challenging year for the economy, protecting the Company's industry visibility.

Value impact
The Company reported revenues of 477.93 Cr during FY 2022-23, growing by 58.13% over the previous financial year.

EBIDTA
(₹ Cr)

Definition
Earnings before the deduction of fixed expenses (interest, depreciation, extraordinary items and tax).

Why this is measured
It is an index that showcases the Company's ability to generate a surplus after operating costs, creating a base for comparison with sectoral peers.

What this means
Helps create a robust surplus-generating engine that facilitates reinvestment.

Value impact
The Company reported a 79.79% growth in EBIDTA in FY 2022-23 due to better sales realisations.

PAT

Definition
Profit earned during the year after deducting all expenses and provisions.

Why is this measured?
This measure highlights the strength of the business model in enhancing shareholder value.

What does it mean?
It ensures that adequate surplus is available for reinvestment in the company's operations.

Value impact
The Company's PAT of ₹70.52 Cr was a 111.96% growth over the previous year.

PAT margin

Definition
Net profit margin is a profitability measure used to assess a company's ability to generate a surplus (after expensing interest, depreciation and tax) on a rupee of sales, expressed as a percentage.

Why is this measured?
The net profit margin provides an insight into the company's net earning capacity which can be compared across companies within the same sector.

What does it mean?
This demonstrates the buffer available within the company to reinvest or reward shareholders.

Value impact
The Company reported a 374 bps increase in net profit margin during FY 2022-23. The overall improvement in profit margins was largely due to cost reduction, better product mix, lower finance cost, price variation clause with customers that insulated margins from cost increases and other factors.

Definition
EBITDA margin is a profitability measure to ascertain a company's operating efficiency.

Why this is measured
The EBITDA margin provides an index of how much a company earns (before interest and taxes) on each rupee of sales.

What this means
This measure demonstrates the buffer in the business, which, when multiplied by scale, can enhance the business surplus.

Value impact
The Company reported a near 291 bps increase in EBITDA margin in FY 2022-23, which was our best year on account of a superior product mix, higher revenues and payback of business development costs.

Definition
This financial ratio measures efficiency with which capital is employed in the business.

Why this is measured
ROCE is an insightful metric to compare profitability across companies based on their capital efficiency.

What this means
Enhanced ROCE can potentially drive valuations and market perception.

Value impact
The Company reported a 1,548 bps increase in ROCE in FY 22-23 following increased volumes, business growth and economies of scale (manufacturing, distribution and brand).

Definition
This is the ratio of debt to net worth (less Revaluation Reserves).

Why this is measured
This is one of the defining measures of a company's solvency and liquidity.

What this means
This indicates whether the company enhances shareholder value by keeping the equity side constant and progressively moderating debt.

Value impact
The Company's gearing stood at 0.11 in FY 2022-23 as it repaid all the long-term debt on its books. The company has been zero-debt (long-term) for two years.

Definition
This is derived through the computation of the average cost of the consolidated debt on the Company's books.

Why this is measured
This indicates the company's ability in convincing debt providers of the robustness of the business model and negotiating a lower debt cost (leading to higher margins).

What this means
This translates into enhanced cash flows and strengthens credit rating leading to declines in debt cost.

Value impact
The Company's finance cost was 0.51% of revenues in FY 2022-23, its lowest ever.

THE GLOBAL CASTINGS SECTOR: AT THE CUSP OF A STRUCTURAL SHIFT

This is strengthening prospects for nimble players like Steelcast

Overview

I am pleased to communicate that the financial year 2022-23 was a record one for our company.

Steelcast Limited did not merely report a linear growth in numbers; what pleases me is that the company reported profitable growth.

Even as revenues increased 58.13% during the year under review, the percentage increase in EBIDTA was sharper at 79.79%.

This validates that the company's revenue growth was not achieved through aggressive price discounting but from superior economies of scale and related competitiveness.

What is creditable is that the attractive growth in the company's revenues was ~8.5x India's economic growth and ~17.07x the global economic growth – for FY 2022-23 in the first instance and for 2022 in the latter.

The growth reported in the last few years has graduated the company into a completely different orbit. In FY 2019-20, Steelcast had reported revenues of ₹201.07 Cr; in FY 2022-23, revenues had grown to ₹477.93 Cr. This means what Steelcast achieved in nearly 60 years was more than replicated in the next three years.

Structural shift

The one message that I wish to send out is that this extensive outperformance could not have been derived from a normal business flow; it was achieved on account of something more decisive and enduring – a structural shift.

To appreciate what is going into this structural shift, one needs to look around the world. Ever since the pandemic, the two words that have become crucial for business planners the world over are 'supply chain.' The pandemic disrupted shipments from large manufacturing countries to consuming markets. This was one of the first occasions when dispatches were delayed and industrial users the world over felt that they could have been better off with proximate suppliers.

Considering that much of the world's manufactured products and components was derived from China, the pandemic-induced lockdown affected China's capacity to service the world. A large number of industrial customers began to conclude that perhaps the world would need an alternative to China as a supplying country; the term 'China plus one' was born. This term is not about moving away from China; the term is about creating an international supply point in addition to China with the objective to moderate an excessive dependence on the latter country.

The big message that I wish to communicate is that this strategic shift is not just being proposed or being discussed; it has already begun to happen. Some of the incremental business that we generated during the last financial year was a result of the structural shift; we generated 2.4% of our revenue from first-time customers and a sizable part of our revenues from a larger share of the wallet of existing customers.

Driving factors

What makes me optimistic is that this structural shift is being catalysed by some irreversible realities.

One, labour rate inflation in China is enhancing the cost structure of manufactured castings - the product principally manufactured by our company – in that country. There was a time when the Chinese wage rate was globally competitive; today, the wage rate in China is considerably higher than it was in the past and higher than competing nations like India. The result is that there is now a growing room for wage arbitrage within the castings sector, benefiting India and prominent manufacturers like Steelcast.

Two, the manufacturing of castings continues to be labor-intensive and perhaps even inconvenient from the perspective of physical exertion and heat exposure. This is one reason why the growth of the castings sector has slowed in developed economies and accelerated in countries like India, marked by a large pool of adaptable and industrious labour.

Three, India enjoys one of the best metallurgical regions in the world. The 'best' is influenced by the largest labor pool possibly anywhere in the world and a multi-decade experience tradition that has been handed down from generation to generation. The result is that India is not just a competitive castings producer; it is also a country that has demonstrated its capacity to make castings of the highest and most complex quality.

Four, India has demonstrated that its large, experienced and knowledge-driven labour pool can customise products around customer needs, can enter into enduring product supply relationships and ensures that its products reach customers just in time, The result is that a number of prominent Indian castings manufacturers – Steelcast among the more prominent – deliver large and complex castings just in time to customers half the world away – not as a one-off engagement but a sustained and dependable phenomenon.

Five, in this rapidly changing world customers seek stability and vendors are selected for reasons that extend well beyond the lowest bidding cost. In this transforming world, there is a premium to be paid for the ability to provide the highest quality at the best price-value proposition in the quickest time, an outcome of long-term investments in holistic building (systems, processes and practices).

Conclusion

Our stakeholders are likely to ask: What does this mean for Steelcast?

This is my answer. This means that Steelcast will capitalise more effectively on this structural shift that generates more customer enquiries, higher share of the customer's wallet and enhanced revenue predictability.

This also means that a company like Steelcast could capitalise on its economies, strengthening its competitiveness and post a progressively higher margin on growing volumes – the makings of a successful volume and volume play.

I am optimistic that this shift within the global castings sector will raise the level of tide for companies like ours in a sustainable way, making it possible for us to touch a projected ₹1,000 Cr in revenues in a few years.

Outcome: Clarity on the right thing to do - by way of processes, initiatives and integrity

03

Initiative: Superior utilisation of our institutionalised experience and knowledge

Differentiation: Focus on the 'how' over the 'what'

Outcome: A competence in translating a customer's complex product requirement into a customised product; extensive clarity in arriving at the cost of product design, fabrication and machining; a rich metallurgical complement of skills required to make quality products

04

Initiative: Created a professional process-led work culture

Differentiation: Defined standard operating protocols; delegated responsibility cum authority to professionals; recruited subject matter experts

Outcome: The company now represents an interplay of top-down strategic vision and bottom-up tactical and operational controls

05

Initiative: Deepened a culture of governance

Differentiation: Enriched Board of Directors; strengthened compliances; built the business around technology, SoPs and transparency

Outcome: Enhanced respect and discounting on the capital markets, enhancing the company's value

06

Initiative: Progressive de-risking of the company to sudden changes in external conditions

Differentiation: Entered into terms and contracts with long-term vendors; purchased metals at costs lower than the market or London Metal Exchange (LME); negotiated pass-through costs with customers

Outcome: Focused on efficient product conversion without taking inventory positions

OPERATIONAL REVIEW, FY 2022-23

PROFITABILITY
STRENGTHENED
DURING THE YEAR
UNDER REVIEW”

Q: What was the highlight of the company's performance during the year under review?

The performance of the company in FY 2022-23 was the eighth successive year of profitable growth. This point needs to be explained for it to be better appreciated. Steelcast is engaged in a challenging business where incremental revenues are derived through manual engagement – as opposed to machine-driven productivity – that makes it imperative to train and invest ahead of the curve. Besides, there is a challenge in growing beyond moderate teen percentages (twice the national growth average). In a world marked by a sharp rise in commodity prices (that made the cost of raw materials expensive for Steelcast), the company finished the year under review with record numbers – the highest revenues, highest EBIDTA and the highest PAT in its existence. The company's revenues grew 58.13%, EBIDTA grew 79.79% while PAT grew 111.96%, validating the intrinsically profitable nature of business.

Q: What were some challenges addressed by the company during the last financial year?

One, the nature of the business remained intensely manual, which means that one could not raise production by the pressing of a button as would be possible in other businesses.

Two, increased output and quality precision came after a training lag, which put a premium on the ability to be proactively prepared.

Three, the effectiveness of the business was measured by output and revenues per square foot, which necessitated a techno-commercial clarity.

Four, there was an appreciation in ore, iron and steel prices in the initial part of the last year that increased costs for our business.

Five, there were extensive logistical disruptions in the supply of products from India to other countries, marked by a lack of vessel availability and high cost of freight.

The message that I wish to communicate is that these challenges notwithstanding, Steelcast outperformed. This is evident in the numbers: EBIDTA margin reported a 291 bps increase to 24.08%; Return on Capital Employed strengthened 1,529 bps to 43.64%; the company remained long-term debt-free for the last two years. The company finished the year under review with a Balance Sheet that emerged stronger than ever.

Q: What was the single biggest factor that countered all the challenges and worked in the company's favour?

The single biggest factor was the company's customer capital. In our business, price competitiveness is but one slice of the company's value proposition. Our challenge is to price in a manner that does not just take into account the cost of raw material conversion but the entire customer proposition. Over the years, this understanding has positioned Steelcast as a holistic service provider as opposed to a uni-dimensional product provider.

This is how I would explain it: the supply of products from our factory to a customer's premises is a limited part of the value we deliver; we deliver periodically so that customers do not need to inventorise our products for long periods, straining their working capital outlay. Our timely delivery and service makes it possible for customers to moderate the cash intensity in their business and liberate precious stocking space.

Besides, we do not manufacture and market cookie cutter products. We understand customer needs; we benchmark our quality standards around the evolving standards of the most demanding customers; we deliver in line with a precise metallurgical recipe that does not underperform at the customer's (and is not over-provided at our end either). The result is that our products have established an impressive multi-year track record of robust performance at the customer's end.

The result is reflected in the quality of our customer engagement during the year under review: product returns from customers were less than 0.10%; we did not lose any customer during the year; we increased our wallet share of virtually every customer; we added new customers.

Q: What gives you the optimism that this improvement may be sustained?

There are some good reasons why we expect that our revenue traction will be sustained.

One, we have observed that whenever the ore and metal sectors perform well, mining and rail equipment OEMs get into a capex mode, which translates into a larger offtake of specialised castings manufactured by companies like us.

Two, the broad basing of the global supply chain in the castings sector is translating into enquiries for us from large global companies where we had never made an inroad.

Three, whenever a global company comes looking for reliable castings manufacturers in India, Steelcast is inevitably shortlisted, which means that we enjoy a prominent position in the deal flow coming into the country.

We believe that it would not just be enough to grow; we will need to grow competitively. In view of this, Steelcast embarked on commissioning renewable energy capacity in FY 2022-23

Q: What competitive edge empowers Steelcast?

A: Steelcast matches the price-value proposition offered by respected North American and Western Europe casting manufacturers. Steelcast's enquiry to order fulfilment cycle is shorter than most large and reputable casting manufacturers the world over, making it a preferred supplier. We have demonstrated that we are not just fleeting suppliers for a customer to capitalise on an arbitrage; we are evolving respect as long-term partners in the product development life cycle of some of the most respected companies in USA. Besides, Steelcast enjoys the advantage of a relatively low-cost nation like India where the overall labour cost is under control, where labour productivity is on the higher side and the labour subject matter knowledge is possibly unmatched anywhere in the world.

Q: How did the company capitalise on the traction coming out of its business?

A: A few years ago, the company invested proactively in enhancing its manufacturing capacity from 17,000 TPA to 30,000 TPA, taking a decided call on the sectorial direction and a need to put manufacturing assets in place in line with an increase in projected demand. This proactive capacity creation sent out a signal to international customers that we would now be better equipped to supply a larger quantity anytime and anywhere. We also graduated

Steelcast into a professionalised structure marked by specialists in key positions, who, in turn, helped build multi-competence teams. We expect to enhance production capacities from 16,000 TPA in FY 2022-23 to 20,000 TPA in FY 2023-24

Q: How does the company intend to strengthen its business in FY 2023-24?

A: We believe that it would not just be enough to grow; we will need to grow competitively. In view of this, Steelcast embarked on commissioning renewable energy capacity in FY 2022-23 and this is expected to generate ₹11 Cr in annualised savings year after year. We believe that this will not only help us cap power costs but will moderate the carbon footprint of our business. We also expect to make sales to the American railroad sector from the current year onwards, backed by a Certificate of Approval of Railroad Industry that we received in the last financial year.

HOW STEELCAST INTENDS TO TAKE ITS BUSINESS INTO A HIGHER TRAJECTORY

There is a growing recognition that Steelcast will need to move faster than the change in the prevailing market through the following priorities

One, we intend to make strategic tooling investments that empowers us to shrink our product development time from 9-12 months to 6-7 months in addition to getting the product development right the first time.

Two, we are engaged in redesigning our shopfloor that should empower us to moderate the product development cycle time from 55-60 days to 40- 45 days.

Three, we intend to remain debt-free from a long-term perspective but also eliminate all the short-term debt on our books during the current financial year. This will make it possible for our business to grow only using net worth, making it independent of any external fund providers. We believe that all the financial value generated by the business will then be transmitted completely and exclusively for shareholder benefit.

Four, we intend to shrink our working capital cycle from around 100 days to around 90 days.

Five, we intend to enhance our castings manufacturing capacity. The company will expand in a modular fashion, generating returns from each expansion that provides the resources for subsequent expansion. Besides, the company is a large product provider to the mining, earthmoving and construction sectors that have emerged as beneficiaries of commodity inflation.

Six, we intend to manufacture a larger proportion of value-added products, emphasising the point that there are only a handful specialised foundry companies in the world with Steelcast's integrated competencies (design to manufacturing to machining to quality assurance)

THE INDIA STORY

HOW STEELCAST BENEFITS FROM CHINA PLUS ONE

Overview

In recent decades, China has emerged as a top destination for companies worldwide seeking to invest in new markets. This is largely due to several factors, including low labor costs, a large and skilled workforce and a favorable business environment. As a result, many industries have established manufacturing facilities in China or outsourced production to Chinese firms to take advantage of these benefits.

The Chinese-origin Covid-19 virus forced global lockdowns, suspending businesses abruptly and indefinitely. This made companies across the globe to look for suitable alternative to de-leverage their supply chains from China.

Factors that led to the China plus one strategy

Increasing labour costs:

Over the past decade, manufacturing workers in China have tripled their annual income to more than $9,300, according to the country's Bureau of Statistics. The labour costs in China are no longer considered cheap as they have nearly doubled, at par with European countries.

Structural reforms: Starting from 2009, various tax incentives for foreign-invested enterprises in China began to expire. Moreover, China has now implemented a unified corporate tax system, which has led to an increase in tax rates for companies operating within its borders.

Zero Covid policy: China lost significant portion of its manufacturing and export market share in key sectors due to its 'Zero Covid' policies leading to further erosion in its long-time dominance of global trade.

Political unrest: In recent years, China has been a part of a number of global conflicts including Hong Kong's independence movement, anti-Japanese protests and disputes in the South China Sea. This, along with the trade sanctions imposed by the USA, prompted some companies to consider disinvesting from China and diversifying into other emerging markets.

Factors which make India a suitable alternative

Large workforce: India has the second largest workforce in the world.

Low labour cost: Indian stands at 55th among 60 countries with the highest average salary compared to China, which ranks at 39.

Conducive government policies: Government policies such as policy-linked incentive (PLI), Gati Shakti, tax concessions, export duty, among others, enhance ease of doing business.

Growing consumer base: India has overtaken China as the most populous country, providing a large consumer base.

Increasing disposable income: Disposable personal incomes in India increased to ₹27,41,33,400 Million in 2022 from ₹23,85,73,760 Million in 2021.

Abundance of natural resources: India has the fourth largest coal reserves globally, as well as large reserves of iron ore and manganese.

STEELCAST'S BUSINESS MODEL...

...and how we intend to enhance value from it

Best over big

Steelcast's success stems from its focus on being the best at what we do. In a capital-intensive castings business that requires scale and scope, a strong emphasis on competence is crucial for optimising asset utilisation, increasing revenues and improving profitability, leading to a reinvestment cycle that further enhances scale. Our philosophy has always been that passion drives scale and sustainability, not the other way around and our continued success validates this belief.

R&D capabilities

Steelcast invested in an R&D team consisting of 17 professionals and a quality control team consisting of 116 professionals during the year under review. This investment has enabled us to manufacture specialised castings with demanding metallurgical properties, demonstrating our commitment to providing high-quality solutions to our customers.

Well-integrated

Steelcast recognises that in our competitive business, success is derived from an accumulation of margins across products. However, once we integrate our overall solution, where one activity serves as the input for the next, the impact is anything but moderate. This integration, from design to fabrication to machining, is the core of our value-added sustainability, enabling us to deliver high-quality solutions to our customers.

Portfolio flexibility

Steelcast has a horizontally integrated manufacturing architecture that offers inherent flexibility. We have the ability to shift production from one product to another, producing more of one and less of another, based on market dynamics that lead to higher margins. This flexibility strengthens our position as a company driven by RoCE and RoE, with a focus on profitability and the goal of being among the most profitable companies in our sector.

Niche

Steelcast may be present in the large castings space, there is an emphasis on finding value-added niches. For instance, we have selected to manufacture complex and challenging castings using advanced metallurgical processes, an effective defence for our business. This makes it possible for demanding customers to work with us in the long-term, preventing them from moving to other vendors only on the basis of the lowest price.

Machined

Steelcast is committed to increasing the percentage of our output that consists of machined ready-to-use components, thereby eliminating the need for our customers to perform additional processing of our products at their end. This enables us to deliver a product that has already been transformed into a solution, providing greater value to our customers.

Global

Steelcast is committed to meeting the requirements of downstream original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) globally. Our focus on delivering high-quality solutions has led to 60% of our revenues being generated through exports. In the fiscal year 2022-23, 96% of our global revenues were generated from customers who have been with us for at least five years and no single customer accounted for more than 32.06% of our global revenues.

Environmentally responsible

Steelcast recognises the increasing importance of environmental responsibility beyond what is legally required. We believe that being environmentally responsible not only benefits the environment but also enhances employee morale, community respect, lender confidence and shareholder assurance. Surprisingly, investing in environmentally friendly assets has not only been a defensive move, but it has also helped us reduce resource consumption and costs, ultimately strengthening our profitability. We firmly believe that 'green' business is good business and we remain committed to environmental responsibility.

Difficult to make

Steelcast has chosen to specialise in producing challenging castings with intricate and demanding metallurgical properties, specifically for downstream applications. This unique capability serves as a significant competitive advantage for the company, operating in a niche space that leads to long-term and expanding partnerships with existing customers, referrals to new customers and value-added engagement terms.

International footprint

Steelcast has broadened its reach nationally and internationally, catering to a variety of original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) in different industries, including earthmoving, mining, construction, cement, steel, railway infrastructure, railway locomotives, ground-engaging tools and transportation. A significant number of these OEMs rank among the top five globally in their respective industry segments.

De-risking

At Steelcast, we enter into contracts with customers where we pass on cost increases or declines to customers. Our pre-decided sales price variation clause removes ambiguity, enhances our focus on operational efficiency and product customisation and ensures that our profitability is completely influenced by our core competitiveness.

Liquidity

At Steelcast, we prefer to work with high liquidity and low debt. The Company did not have any long-term debt at the close of FY 2022-23; our cash accruals were ₹88.67 Cr as on 31st March, 2023 and is likely to increase further.

Certifications

We have successfully increased our customers' confidence by obtaining a range of certifications such as ISO 9001, ISO 14001, ISO 45001, EN 9100, Class A Certified Foundry, TPG Certificate for casting, heat treatment and non-destructive testing (NDT) and NABL accredited in-house laboratory. In addition, we have invested in an in-house machine shop and acquired advanced measuring instruments like Fixed CMM and Faro Arm to ensure the highest level of precision in our work.

OUR COMMITMENT TO RESPONSIBLE ENVIRONMENT, SOCIAL AND GOVERNMENT (ESG)

Overview

Steelcast deepened its investment in ESG, prioritising holistic business growth, sustainability and respect. This was partly inspired by the company’s ideals and partly by a growing demand from socially conscious investors and shareholders seeking credible initiatives to assess a company’s long-term value creation direction.

This trend has been reflected globally, with more manufacturers recognising the financial and environmental benefits of sustainable business practices and regulatory agencies imposing strict environmental norms to reduce harmful impacts (resource depletion, water scarcity and pollution).

The result is that sustainable manufacturing practices are becoming increasingly important, involving economically sound processes that moderate the consumption of energy and natural resources while minimising negative environmental impact and enhancing employee, community and product safety. There is also a growing emphasis on aligning business practices with the United Nations’ 10 principles for manufacturing responsibility and environmental sustainability, which include human rights, labor interests, environment responsibility and anti-corruption initiatives.

Although Steelcast is not mandated to report ESG initiatives, it has voluntarily decided to submit a business responsibility and sustainability report (BRSR), which will cover several ESG parameters. This has enabled Steelcast to provide transparent information to stakeholders about its commitment to sustainable business practices and responsible corporate citizenship.

Our management’s approach

Steelcast focuses on using fewer resources while increasing production output and minimising environmental impact.

Steelcast believes that the most successful, profitable and sustainable businesses are those that adhere to strict environmental standards.

Steelcast produces specialised castings using responsible processes and low-carbon technologies that enhance energy and resource efficiency while reducing carbon footprint.

Steelcast developed risk mitigation policies that are aligned with its long-term vision of enhancing sustainability and prosperity.

Steelcast seeks to moderate its environmental footprint, preserve the planet and limit resource consumption by investing in modern technologies, practices, methodologies and standards

Steelcast emphasises manufacturing scalability on the one hand without depleting finite natural resources on the other. This environment responsibility has been reinforced through the various R’s - reduction, recycling, restoration, replacement and renewables.

Our Environment commitment

As a business that depends on nature-extracted raw materials, a robust environment management system is essential to ensure the long-term sustainability. The Company sources raw materials through environmentally responsible processes, extracts only what is

The company continued catering to its main sectors like earth moving equipment, mining & mineral processing, construction, railways, steel plants, cement, locomotive, defence etc. The company explored new regions, sectors and customers during the year, thus adding to the number of parts produced. The performance of the company during the year has been exceptionally well historically. The financial performance has exceeded the expectations made at the beginning of the year in terms of top and bottom line.

The positive recovery globally contributed significantly to the performance of the company during the year under review. The growth of export sales was higher as compared to domestic sales of previous year.

Global economic overview

The global economy was estimated to have grown at a slower 3.2% in 2022, compared to 6% in 2021. Some realities that defined the global business and trading sentiment comprised the Russian invasion of Ukraine, return of inflation, pandemic upsurge in China, global liquidity squeeze following higher interest rates and quantitative tightening by the US Federal Reserve.

The total outcome of these adversities translated into moderated global capital and consumer spending, disrupted trade, increased energy costs and cautious consumer spending. Even as the global conflict remained geographically distant from India, ripples comprised increased oil import bills, cascading inflation, cautionary government and a sluggish equity market.

Global inflation was 8.7% in 2022, among the highest in decades. US consumer prices increased about 6.5% in 2022, the highest in four decades. The Federal Reserve raised its benchmark interest rate to their highest in 15 years.

Brent crude oil decreased significantly from a peak of around USD 120 per barrel in June 2022 to USD 70 per barrel at the end of the calendar year due to the availability of cheap Russian oil.

The S&P GSCI (benchmark for commodity investments and a measure of global commodity performance) fell from a peak of 4319.5 in June 2022 to 3495.76. There was a sharp decline in crude oil, natural gas, coal, lithium, lumber, cobalt, nickel and urea realisations.

Performance of major economies

- United States: Reported GDP growth of 2.1% compared to 5.9% in 2021
- China: GDP growth is expected to contract from 8.1% in 2021 to 3% in 2022.
- United Kingdom: GDP is expected to grow 4.1% in 2022 compared to 7.6% in 2021
- Japan: Reported growth of 1.6% in 2022 compared to 1.7% in 2021
- Germany: Reported GDP growth of 1.8% compared to 2.6% in 2021

Outlook

Global real GDP growth is forecast at 2.8% in 2023 (3.2% in 2022). Global inflation is declining on the back of lower energy and food prices, which could stagger interest rate hikes by the world's major central banks. Volatility across asset classes could increase; the price correction is still incomplete in most global private and public markets; besides, much depends on the stance of US Federal Reserve related to interest rates.

Indian economic overview

India reported an estimated economic growth of 7.2% in FY 2022-23, one of Asia's best growth rates during the period. By the close of FY 2022-23, India overtook UK to become the fifth largest global economy. India surpassed China to become the world's most populous nation.

India's fiscal deficit was estimated in nominal terms at ~ Rs 17.55 lakh crore and 6.4% of GDP for the year ending March 31, 2023.

India's headline foreign direct investment (FDI) numbers rose to a record $84.8 billion in FY2021-22. However, during the fiscal year 2022-23, the country experienced a 16% decrease in foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows, amounting to $71 billion on a gross basis. This decline can be attributed to the unfavourable global economic conditions and stands as the first contraction in FDI in the past ten years. In 2022-23, the government was estimated to have addressed 77% of its disinvestment target (Rs 50,000 crore against a target of Rs 65,000 crore).

India's foreign exchange reserves, which had witnessed three consecutive years of growth, experienced a decline of approximately $70 billion in FY2022-23, primarily influenced by rising inflation and interest rates. Starting from $606.47 billion on April 1, 2022, reserves decreased to $578.44 billion by March 31, 2023. The Indian currency also weakened during this period, with the exchange rate weakening from Rs. 75.91 to a US dollar to Rs. 82.34 by March 31, 2023, driven by a stronger dollar and an increasing current account deficit. Despite these factors, India continued to attract investable capital.

The country's retail inflation, measured by the consumer price index (CPI), eased to 5.66% in March 2023. Inflation data on the Wholesale Price Index, WPI (calculates the overall price of goods before retail) eased to 1.3% during the period. In 2022, CPI hit its highest of 7.79% in April; WPI reached its highest of 15.88% in May 2022. By the close of the year under review, inflation had begun trending down and in April 2023 declined below 5%, its lowest in months.

Outlook

India is expected to grow 6-6.5% in FY2024, catalysed in no small measure by 35% capital expenditure growth by the government. The growth could be catalysed by broad-based credit expansion, better capacity utilisation and improving trade deficits. Headline and core inflation rates could down. The private sector's investments could revive, strengthening the economy.

India is poised to sustain its outperformance. The landscape favours India: Europe is moving towards a probable recession, US economy is slowing, China's GDP growth forecast of 4.4% is less than India's GDP estimate of 6.1%, America and Europe are experiencing the highest inflation in 40 years.

India emerged as the second fastest growing G20 economy in FY 2022-23. India's production-linked incentive appeared to catalyse downstream sectors. Inflation was steady. India was at the cusp of making significant investments in renewable energy and other sectors and emerging as a suitable industrial supplement to China. India was poised to outpace Germany and Japan and emerge as the third largest economy by the end of the decade.

Global metal casting industry overview

The metal casting industry was valued at US$ 151.6 Billion in 2022 and is expected to reach US$ 236.7 Billion by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 7.4% during 2023-2028. This growth is driven by the rising awareness towards numerous advantages offered by metal casting, such as improved energy efficiency, lower production costs, enhanced environmental quality, etc.

The global metal casting market can be segregated into cast iron, aluminum, steel, zinc, magnesium, among others.

The global metal casting market can be segment into automotive and transportation, equipment and machine, building and construction and aerospace and military. The automotive and transportation sector accounts for the largest market share in the metal casting industry.

Geographically, Asia-Pacific accounted for the largest share of the metal casting industry at 63.8% in 2021. This growth is attributed to countries such as India, Australia, Indonesia and Malaysia, witnessing a rapid increase in building and construction sector where metal castings are employed to provide structural supports to both residential and commercial building and construction sites, such as hotels, hospitals, homes, apartments, warehouses, showrooms, garages and offices.

Indian metal casting industry overview

The process of molding hot metal liquid into a hollow cavity in order to obtain a desired shape is called metal casting. Metal casting is used for the mass production of large and complex components. It can be done with non-ferrous metals such as zinc, copper, aluminium, magnesium, lead, pewter and tin-based alloys. In India, metal casting is used as a cost-efficient method to recycle wasted scrap metal.

Metal castings also form an integral part in the goods and equipment industry to produce a wide variety of home appliances, surgical instruments and critical components for aircraft and automobiles.

After China, India is the second largest producer of castings. The growth in the market is driven by the increasing industrialisation and urbanisation, giving a boost to the construction industry and growing demand for lightweight vehicles due to increase in disposable incomes.

Position of the company in the foundry market

As the world is underdoing economic slowdown, India is expected to grow at 6-6.5% GDP, due to growing consumption, increasing urbanisation, rising disposable incomes and conducive government policies.

The company has a strong presence in the mining and earthmoving industries, which have accounted for the majority of its sales. The government's investment in infrastructure and housing has indirectly boosted the demand for our products.

The company has continued to follow its strategy of deleveraging excess dependence on any particular industry by venturing into new industries and introducing new parts into existing markets. This expansion is expected to increase the company's consumer base and enable it to compete both domestically and internationally.

While there is intense competition in the foundry industry from both Indian and overseas players, the company holds a competitive edge in producing intricate steel castings due to its technological expertise and its long-term relationship with its clients, where it is given preference as a strategic supplier.

The steel casting industry in India is fragmented, with small, unorganized businesses manufacturing the product. The company ranks first in terms of production capability, product mix, number of parts developed and high-quality standards. However, entry barriers to this industry are relatively high, making it challenging for new players to enter. The company can leverage its competitive advantages such as operational efficiency, pricing and product mix to stay ahead of the competition.

Risk management

While every business carries a certain amount of inherent risk, our company recognises the importance of actively identifying and minimising these risks. To achieve this, we have established a robust organisational risk management system that regularly scans our internal and external environment to detect potential risks and develop effective strategies to mitigate them. We also integrate these measures into our strategic plans to ensure they are implemented throughout the organisation.

Various types of risks such as geopolitical developments (e.g. war or natural calamity), travel restrictions, industry-specific risks, foreign currency volatility, client concentration, technology hazards and financial risks are just a few examples of the significant threats we face. Our company has already implemented measures to mitigate these risks at various levels of management. Additionally, we regularly review and monitor our risk mitigation plans to ensure they remain effective in protecting our business from potential threats.

Report on the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of STEELCAST LIMITED ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2023, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended on that date, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the standalone financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2023, the profit and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. There is no any key audit matter to be communicated in our report.

Information Other than the Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, including other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 1 (f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of STEELCAST LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2023 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that –

- (a) Pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- (b) Provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and
- (c) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2023, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over

Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2.1 Summary of significant accounting policies

A. Current versus non-current classification

All assets and liabilities are classified into current and non-current.

Assets

An asset is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- a) it is expected to be realized in, or is intended for sale or consumption in, the Company's normal operating cycle;
- b) it is held primarily for the purpose of being traded;
- c) it is expected to be realized within 12 months after the reporting date; or
- d) it is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date.

Current assets include the current portion of non-current financial assets.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

Liabilities

A liability is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- a) it is expected to be settled in the Company's normal operating cycle;
- b) it is held primarily for the purpose of being traded;
- c) it is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting date; or
- d) the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

Current liabilities include current portion of non-current financial liabilities.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Operating cycle

Based on the nature of services and the normal time between the acquisition of assets and their realization into cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

B. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment, capital work in progress are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses if any. Cost comprises the purchase price net of refundable taxes and any attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use and initial estimate of decommissioning, restoring and similar liabilities. Borrowing costs relating to acquisition of property, plant and equipment which takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are also included to the extent they relate to the period till such assets are ready to be put to use.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only when it is probable that the future economic benefits of the expenditure will flow to the Company. When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Items of stores and spares that meet the definition of property, plant and equipment are capitalized at cost and depreciation over their useful life. Otherwise, such items are classified as inventories.

Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of property, plant and equipment are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

The Company identifies and determines cost of each component/ part of the asset separately, if the component/ part has a cost which is significant to the total cost of the assets and has useful life that is materially different from that of the remaining asset.

C. Depreciation on property, plant and equipment

Depreciation is provided on Straight Line Method in the manner specified in the Schedule II in accordance with the provisions of section 123(2) of the Companies Act, 2013. The identified components are depreciated over their useful lives; the remaining assets are depreciated over the life of the principal assets.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

D. Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Software is amortized using the straight-line method over a period of 6 years. The amortization expense is recognized in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset. The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. If the expected useful life of the asset is significantly different from previous estimates, the amortization period is changed accordingly.

E. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

Impairment losses, including impairment on inventories, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

F. Leases

Company as a lessee

The Company's lease asset consist of leases for land taken from Bhavnagar Municipal Corporation (BMC). The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

The consideration for the right to use leasehold lands over the lease term is paid upfront and these leases do not require payment of any material lease rent amount on recurring basis. ROU assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term or useful life of the underlying asset.

G. Inventories

Inventories are valued at cost or net realizable value, whichever is lower. Cost is determined on the following basis:

- Raw materials and stores and spares – on a weighted average method basis;
- Finished and semi-finished goods – at material cost plus direct expenses and appropriate value of overheads; cost of finished goods includes excise duty as applicable.

H. Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Revenue from sale of goods is recognized when significant risks and rewards of ownership are passed to the buyer, which generally coincides with dispatch of goods. Goods and Service Tax, Sales taxes and value added taxes, wherever applicable, are collected on behalf of the Government and therefore, excluded from the revenue.

Income from export incentives under various schemes notified by government is accounted on accrual basis.

The Company does not accrue interest on long-term advances received from customers towards supply of goods or services.

I. Research & Development

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditure incurred on an individual project is recognized as an intangible asset when the company can demonstrate all the following:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete the asset
- Its ability to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- How the assets will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of adequate resources to complete the development and to use or sell the asset
- The liability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during development.

Following the initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the cost model is applied requiring the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortized on a straight line basis over the period of expected future benefit from the related project. Amortization is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

Revenue expenditure on Research & Development is charged to the statement of profit and loss for the year in which it is incurred. Capital expenditure on Research & Development is shown as an addition to property, plant and equipment and depreciated on the same basis as other assets.

J. Foreign currency transactions

Initial Recognition

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount, the exchange rate prescribed fortnightly by the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) for exports between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. This practice followed by the company is consistent with Para 22 of the Ind AS 21.

Conversion

Foreign currency monetary items are retranslated using the exchange rate prevailing at the reporting date. Non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange Rate differences

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on reporting such monetary items at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the year, or reported in previous financial statements, are recognized as income or as expenses in the year in which they arise.

K. Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for services rendered by employees is recognized during the period when the employee renders the service.

Post-employment benefit plans

- i. Defined Contribution Plan: Contribution for provident fund are accrued in accordance with applicable statutes and deposited with the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner. Contribution for Superannuation in respect of certain employees of the company is made in accordance with the scheme with Life Insurance Corporation of India.
- ii. Defined Benefit Plan: The liability in respect of gratuity is determined using Projected Unit Credit Method with actuarial valuation carried out as at balance sheet date. Contributions in respect of gratuity are made to the Group Gratuity Scheme with Life Insurance Corporation of India. The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. The Company recognizes the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:
 - a. Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements; and
 - b. Net interest expense or income

Re-measurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability and the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability), are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Re-measurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Other long-term employee benefits

Long term compensated absences are provided for based on actuarial valuation at the year end. The actuarial valuation is done as per Projected Unit Credit method. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

L. Borrowing costs

Borrowing cost includes interest, amortization of ancillary costs incurred in connection with the arrangement of borrowings.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the respective asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur.

M. Income taxes

Tax expense comprises current and deferred tax. Current income-tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date. Current income tax relating to items recognized outside profit or loss is recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss
- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax asset is reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written up to reflect whether taxable profit will be available or not.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

N. Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity

(i) Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Debt instruments at amortised cost
- Debt instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- Debt instruments, derivatives and equity instruments at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)
- Equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)

Debt instruments at amortised cost

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in finance income in the profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the profit or loss. This category generally applies to trade and other receivables.

Debt instrument at FVTOCI

A 'debt instrument' is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- The asset's contractual cash flows represent SPPI

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss. On de-recognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit and loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

Debt instrument at FVTPL

FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as at FVTPL.

In addition, the Company may elect to designate a debt instrument, which otherwise meets amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria, as at FVTPL. However, such election is allowed only if doing so reduces or eliminates a measurement or recognition inconsistency (referred to as 'accounting mismatch'). The Company has not designated any debt instrument as at FVTPL.

Debt instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Equity investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. The company may make an irrevocable election to present in other comprehensive income subsequent changes in the fair value in case of equity investments which are not held for trading. The company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to statement of profit and loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

De-recognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets which are measured at amortised cost or FVOCI.

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 18.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR. ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the statement of profit and loss (P&L). This amount is reflected in a separate line in the P&L as an impairment gain or loss.

For financial assets measured as at amortised cost, ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e. as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

(ii) Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings, payables, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings and derivative financial instruments.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. This category also includes derivative financial instruments entered into by the Company that are not designated as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109.

Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the profit or loss.

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risks are recognized in OCI. These gains/ loss are not subsequently transferred to P&L. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. The Company has not designated any financial liability as at fair value through profit and loss.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

De-recognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

(iii) Reclassification of financial assets

The Company determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The Company's management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the Company's operations. Such changes are evident to external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the Company either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the Company reclassifies financial assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period following the change in business model. The Company does not restate any previously recognised gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

(iv) Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

O. Derivative accounting

The Company uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward currency contracts to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken directly to profit or loss.

P. Fair value measurement

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each reporting date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

Q. Earnings per share (EPS)

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

R. Provisions

A provision is recognised when an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost. Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

S. Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.

36 Significant Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Judgements

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgements, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements:

Estimates and Assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Company based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the standalone financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Company. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

Employee Benefit Plans

The cost of defined benefit gratuity plan and other long-term employment benefit plans are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date. The mortality rate is based on publicly available mortality tables for India. Those mortality tables tend to change only at interval in response to demographic changes. Future salary increases and gratuity increases are based on expected future inflation rates. Further details about gratuity obligations are given in Note 37.

Taxes

Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. Details on deferred taxes are disclosed in Note 20.

Useful Lives of Property, Plant & Equipment

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant & equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in future periods.

Impairment of Financial Assets

The impairment provision for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

36 Significant Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions (contd.)

Estimated impairment allowance on trade receivables is based on the ageing of the receivable balances and historical experiences. Individual trade receivables are written off when management deems them not to be collectible.

Provisions and contingent liabilities

The Company estimates the provisions that have present obligations as a result of past events and it is probable that outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligations. These provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

The Company uses significant judgements to assess contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are recognised when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the standalone financial statements.

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the DCF model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

37 Employee Benefit

Defined Benefit Plans

The Company has defined benefits gratuity plan. Every employee who has completed five years or more of service gets gratuity on death or resignation or retirement at 15 days salary (last drawn salary) for each completed years of service. The Company's Gratuity Fund is managed by Life Insurance Corporation of India.

The following tables summaries the components of net benefit expense recognised in the statement of profit and loss and the funded status and amounts recognised in the balance sheet.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

- The fair values of quoted investments are based on price quotations at the reporting date
- Regarding the fair value as on 31.03.2023 of unquoted investment in equity shares and compulsory convertible debentures acquired in current year 2022-23, management upon necessary inquiries made with the investee company has evaluated the changes in fair value of these investments since the date of their acquisition and has assessed that there has been no major variation in their fair value as no major time has elapsed since the date of their acquisition and hence the fair value as on 31.03.2023 are taken at same value of valuation report obtained at the time of acquiring these investments.
- The fair values of investment at amortised cost and non-current loans have been estimated using DCF model which consider certain assumptions viz. forecast cash flows, discount rate, credit risk and volatility.
- Fair value of non-current security deposits is considered same as its carrying amount as majority of these are related to utility services and the same are repayable on demand.
- The management assessed that the carrying amounts of current financial assets and current financial liabilities such as trade receivables, cash and bank balances, loans, other financial assets, borrowings, trade payables and other financial liabilities are reasonable approximations of fair values largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.

44 Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Company's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise loans and borrowings, trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations. The Company's principal financial assets include loans, trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalents that derive directly from its operations. The Company also holds FVTOCI investments and enters into derivative transactions.

The Company is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Company's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Company's policies and risk objectives. The Company's financial risk management policies are set by the Board of Directors. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by teams that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Company's policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes may be undertaken. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk, commodity price risk and other price risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include borrowings, payables, receivables and equity investments.

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022.

The sensitivity analyses have been prepared on the basis that the amount of net debt, the ratio of fixed to floating interest rates of the debt and derivatives and the proportion of financial instruments in foreign currencies are all constant.

The sensitivity of the relevant profit or loss item is the effect of the assumed changes in respective market risks. This is based on the financial assets and financial liabilities held at 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company's exposure to changes in interest rates relates primarily to the Company's outstanding floating rate debt. All the borrowing of the Company are at floating rate of interest.

Interest Rate Sensitivity

The following table demonstrates the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in interest rates on that portion of loans and borrowings affected. With all other variables held constant, the Company's profit before tax is affected through the impact on floating rate borrowings, as follows:

Particulars	(INR in Lakhs)
	Increase/ Decrease in Basis Points	Effect on Profit Before Tax
As at 31 March 2023
	+50	(11.82)
	-50	11.82
As at 31 March 2022
	+50	(31.40)
	-50	31.40

The assumed movement in basis points for the interest rate sensitivity analysis is based on the currently observable market environment.

Foreign Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency). To mitigate the foreign currency risk, the Company enters into foreign exchange forward contracts. These foreign exchange forward contracts, carried at fair value, may have varying maturities varying depending upon the primary host contract requirements and risk management strategy of the Company.

The most significant foreign currencies the Company is exposed to is the USD and EURO. The following tables sets forth information relating to foreign currency forward contracts and unhedged foreign currency exposures as at 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022.

Foreign Currency Sensitivity

The following tables demonstrate the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in USD and EURO exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. The impact on the Company's profit before tax is due to changes in the fair value of unhedged foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities. The Company's exposure to foreign currency changes for all other currencies is not material.

Commodity price risk

The Company is exposed to the price volatility of certain commodities. Its operating activities require the ongoing manufacture of steel castings and therefore require a continuous supply of Mild Steel, Stainless Steel and Ferro Alloys. In order to mitigate the risk of volatility in the price of these supplies, the contracts with customers contain a clause for recovery of the variation in the price of these supplies. Hence, there is no material impact of these price variations for the Company.

44 Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies (contd.)

Other Price risk

The Company's exposure to other price risk arises from investments in equity instruments, compulsory convertible debentures and mutual fund held by the Company and classified in the balance sheet at FVTOCI and at FVTPL. To manage its price risk arising from investments, the Company diversifies its portfolio. Diversification of the portfolio is done in accordance with the limits set by the Company.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions and foreign exchange transactions.

The Company evaluates the concentration of risk with respect to trade receivables as low, as its customers are located in several jurisdictions and industries and operate in largely independent markets.

The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the carrying value of each class of financial assets. The Company does not hold collateral as security.

I) Trade Receivables

Customer credit risk is managed on the basis of the Company's established policy, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Trade receivables are non-interest bearing and are generally on 30 days to 145 days credit term. Credit limits are established for all customers based on internal rating criteria. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored.

For trade receivables, Expected Credit Loss (ECL) is provided as per simplified approach. The Company has applied the practical expedient as per Ind AS 109 'Financial Instruments' to measure the loss allowance at lifetime ECL. The Company determines the ECL on trade receivables by using a provision matrix, estimated based on historical credit loss experience based on the past due status of the debtors, adjusted as appropriate to reflect current conditions and estimates of future economic conditions. Below table represents the reconciliation of provision made for expected credit loss for trade receivables:

	(INR in Lakhs)
	31 March 2023	31 March 2022
Opening Balance	2.73	0.04
Changes in Loss Allowance:
Impairment Allowance based on ECL	(2.67)	2.69
Utilised during the year
Closing Balance	0.06	2.73

II) Financial Instruments and Cash Deposits

Credit risk from balances with banks and financial institutions is managed by the Company's finance department in accordance with the Company's policy. Investments of surplus funds are made only with approved counterparties who meets the minimum threshold requirements under the counterparty risk assessment process. Based on its on-going assessment of counterparty risk, the Company adjusts its exposure to various counterparties.

44 Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies (contd.)

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will not be able to settle or meet its obligation on time or at a reasonable price. Processes and policies related to such risks are overseen by senior management. The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments.

45 Capital Management

For the purpose of the Company's capital management, capital includes issued equity capital, share premium and all other equity reserves attributable to the equity holders of the parent. The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to maximise the shareholder value.

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions or its business requirements. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares. The Company monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is net debt divided by total capital plus net debt. The Company includes within net debt, interest bearing borrowings (including current maturities), trade payables, less cash and cash equivalents and other bank balances.

Gearing Ratio	22.18%	38.10%

In order to achieve this overall objective, the Company's capital management, amongst other things, aims to ensure that it meets financial covenants attached to the interest-bearing loans and borrowings that define capital structure requirements. Breaches in meeting the financial covenants would permit the bank to immediately call loans and borrowings. There have been no breaches in the financial covenants of any interest-bearing loans and borrowing in the current period.

No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years ended 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2022.

48 Ind AS updation (new/amendments)

Recent pronouncements

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023 dated 31 March 2023 to amend the following Ind AS which are effective from 01 April 2023. “

a. Definition of Accounting Estimates - Amendments to Ind AS 8

The amendments clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates and changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. It has also been clarified how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates.

The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023 and apply to changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates that occur on or after the start of that period. The amendments are not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

b. Disclosure of Accounting Policies - Amendments to Ind AS 1

The amendments aim to help entities provide accounting policy disclosures that are more useful by replacing the requirement for entities to disclose their 'significant' accounting policies with a requirement to disclose their 'material' accounting policies and adding guidance on how entities apply the concept of materiality in making decisions about accounting policy disclosures.

The amendments to Ind AS 1 are applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023. Consequential amendments have been made in Ind AS 107. The Company is currently revisiting their accounting policy information disclosures to ensure consistency with the amended requirements.

48 Ind AS updation (new/amendments) (contd.)

c. Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction - Amendments to Ind AS 12

The amendments narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under Ind AS 12, so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.

The amendments should be applied to transactions that occur on or after the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. In addition, at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented, a deferred tax asset (provided that sufficient taxable profit is available) and a deferred tax liability should also be recognised for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with leases and decommissioning obligations. Consequential amendments have been made in Ind AS 101. The amendments to Ind AS 12 are applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2023.

The Company is currently assessing the impact of the amendments.
