Q4 FY23 financials and business developments

Financial Performance - Quarterly

Revenues from Operations (excluding scrap and other operating income) for 12 months ended March 31, 2023

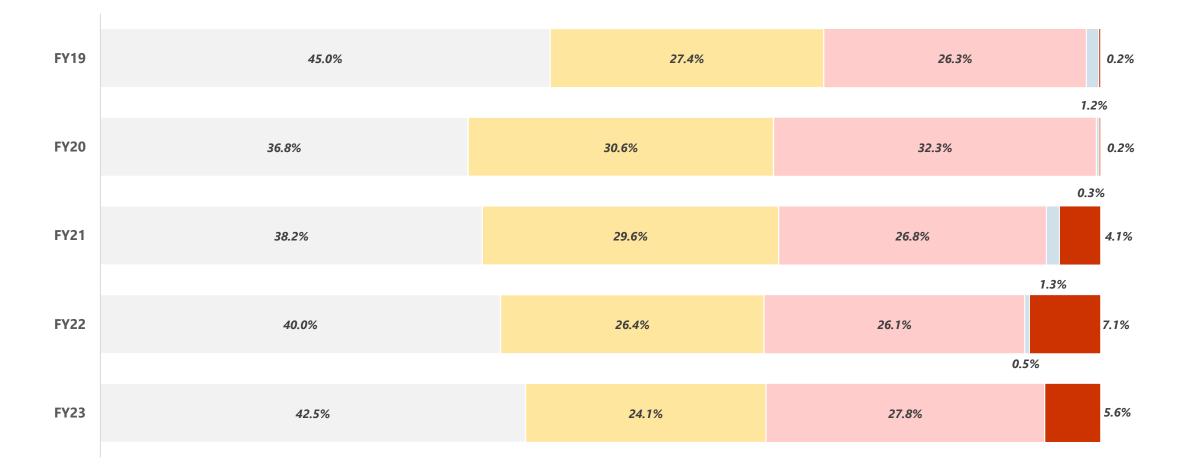

- The drop in revenues was on account of lower volumes from Europe during the Quarter expected to normalize by September 2023;
- Dip in margins was led by different approach being adopted towards valuation of stock in transit (margin impact of >INR 80mn) which is purely on basis of accounting policies and will normalize going forward;

 We have won new program from a US based auto-component major for supply of components for EV passenger vehicles; we have also received order for wheel hubs for one of leading Indian PV OEM for their upcoming EV range;

 Net Debt of the Company as at end of Quarter has reduced to below INR 500mn; Cash Flow from Operations of >INR 2,100mn

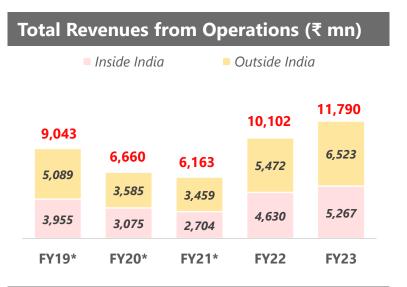

Revenues from operations (excluding scrap sales and other operating income)

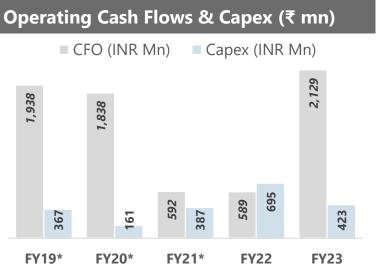

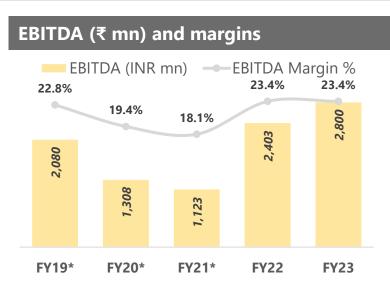

■ PV ■ Industrial ■ CV & HCV ■ 2W ■ BEV & Hybrid

Rolex continues to maintain growth momentum with focus on margins and strengthening balance sheet
