Scanty rainfall in South & Central India to hit crops

Monsoon likely to be revived by September 4

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, August 30

A HUGE DEFICIENCY and a prolonged break in rainfall in the southern peninsula and central India regions this month is likely to impact the yield of several crops, including oilseeds, pulses and paddy, officials said.

If the rainfall does not revive in the next one week, the standing crops are likely to witness huge moisture stress and rainfall in the later part of next month may not be of much help, according to officials of the agriculture ministry, who are currently assessing the situation. Precipitation in the next one week to 10 days would be crucial for standing crops. "After widespread rainfall in July, which gave a boost to sowing, the scanty rainfall this month would impact the yield of standing crops," DN Pathak, executive director, Soybean Processors Association of India, told FE. The overall deficit in rainfall this month, against the benchmark-long period average, was recorded at 32% on Wednesday, with the southern peninsula and central India regions having received 62% and 42% less rainfall respectively. According to the Met department, overall monsoon rains have been 'below normal', at 9% below the benchmark till Wednesday. With the exception of northwest India, where precipitation so far is 4% above the benchmark, the remaining regions recorded a rain deficit: central India (-10%), eastern and northeast (-16%) and south peninsula (-17%). Pathak said that rains in key soybean-growing states, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra, have been hugely deficient this month. Soybean this season has been sown on 12.47 million hectare (MH) of land, which is marginally higher than the area the crop was sown on in 2022.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) on Wednesday predicted heavy rainfall over Odisha, Chhattisgarh and northern parts of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana on September 2. It added that "subdued" rainfall is likely over the rest of the country in the next five days.

Govt nod to ship out non-basmati white rice cargoes

MAYANK BHARDWAJ
New Delhi, August 30

THE GOVERNMENT HAS allowed traders to ship out their non-basmati white rice cargoes sitting at ports due to a sudden ban on exports of the category, a government order said late on Tuesday.

On July 20, India surprised buyers by banning exports of widely consumed non-basmati white rice to control rising domestic prices. The move followed a ban on broken rice exports last year.

The export ban trapped thousands of tonne of non-basmati white rice at ports, leaving traders facing losses.

The Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT), a unit of the trade ministry, in its latest order said it would allow shipments of trapped cargoes provided traders paid the export duty by July 20, when the ban was imposed.

Before the July ban on non-basmati white rice exports, overseas shipments of the grade would attract a 20% tax.

After the DGFT order, around 150,000 tonne of non-basmati white rice cargoes would be shipped out of various ports, said Prem Garg, president of the Indian Rice Exporters Federation. "Three ships were standing still at the Kandla port and a lot of containers were lying at different ports, causing a lot of prob-

The growth rate in net profits of these companies fell by 9% to ₹1.36 lakh crore in June 2023 from 24.6% (₹1.18 lakh crore) in June 2022, according to a Reserve Bank of India (RBI) study on the performance of 2,836 companies (excluding financial companies). Non-IT services companies also recorded lower rise in sales at 4.5% (y-o-y) as compared with 20.5% growth (y-o-y) during the fourth quarter of 2022-23.
