Given the current boom in the real estate sector, listed developers are set to gain higher market share as this upcycle is expected to continue for at least three to four years on account of existing demand-supply balance, low inventory, favourable affordability and gradual price hikes, as per a report released by Motilal Oswal.

'Top 12 listed players are expected to report 46% presales growth in CY23 (calendar year) versus industry growth of 20% if we consider the average of pre-sales growth estimates by various property consultants. The bulk of growth was driven by DLF as its two luxury projects were sold out in CY23. Excluding DLF, growth stood at 35% YoY (year on year), which was still mateset to gain higher rially higher than industry market share; upcycle to growth," the brokerage's report said.

According to the report, during the calendar years

2019-2023, listed real estate players outperformed industry growth in terms of bookings by 1.4 times, resulting in a consistent increase in their market share to 16.5% from 12%.

On the other hand, the share of the affordable segment decreased to 29% in CY23. It said the decline in interest rates will lead to a revival in affordable housing demand. Further, the government is expected to provide incentives for affordable housing, which would be a key positive trigger, it said.

The report added that most of the listed developers have a robust launch pipeline and are targeting at least two new markets, apart from their home markets, which will

However, markets like Bengaluru and Chennai are yet to unlock their full potential, given a strong commercial cycle seen in CY15-19. The National Capital Region (NCR) will also witness a further uptick in demand once Noida sees a revival in supply, the brokerage firm stated. The report anticipated that on the macro front, the rise in per capita income above $3,500 ($2,400 as of CY23) would be a key trigger for the increase in homeownership as seen in China between CY2008 and CY2015. These factors could build a sustainable uptick in demand over the next three-four years.
