Karpoori Thakur to be awarded Bharat Ratna

New Delhi, 23 January day after leading the pran pratishtha ceremony at the Ram Temple in Ayodhya, Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced his government's decision to confer the highest civilian award — the Bharat Ratna — on former Bihar Chief Minister Karpoori Thakur posthumously.

Karpoori Thakur introduced reservations for the most backward castes (MBCs) in the state within the larger quota for backward castes, or OBCs, in 1978. Referred to as the 'Karpoori Thakur formula'. it predated the Mandal Commission implementation by 12 years. During his nearly 10 years at the helm, Prime Minister Modi tried melding the two components of the 'Mandal versus Kamandal' politics of 1990. Over the past 48 hours, the Prime Minister embraced the two streams. hitherto considered adversarial. In 2017, the Modi government instituted the G Rohini Commission for sub-categorizing the OBC quota to ensure extremely backward classes (EBCs) accrue the benefits of reservation, which dominant OBCs, such as the Yadavs, are perceived to have cornered. The commission submitted its report last year.

However, the decision to confer the Bharat Ratna on Karpoori Thakur, who hailed from a poor nai (barber) caste, also strikes at the dominant OBC versus extremely backward classes' social dynamics in Bihar. Karpoori Thakur mentored and shaped Lalu Prasad and Nitish Kumar's engagement with politics, both of whom carried forward the backward classes and Dalit assertion in Bihar. However, EBCs saw Prasad's rule as one monopolised by the Yadavs, a resentment that Kumar harnessed to win, in alliance with the BJP, in 2005.

Ratna on Karpoori Thakur also counters the demand for a nationwide caste census by the Congress and its INDIA bloc allies, such as the Samaiwadi Party, JDU, and RJD. Born on January 24, 1924, his death in February 1988, barring a brief stint as a Lok Sabha member in 1977, which he quit to become the Bihar chief minister.Karpoori Thakur was the Bihar chief minister for two stints, from December 1970 to June 1971 and June 1977 to April 1979. On Tuesday, followers and admirers of Karpoori Thakur concluded their yearlong centenary celebrations in Patna when the news that the socialist icon was conferred the Bharat Ratna was announced.

Arun Srivastava, a socialist activist who had organised meetings to mark Karpoori Thakur's centenary, told Business Standard that he welcomed the decision.

"Modi will end up appropriating socialist icons as well," commented an organiser of the centenary celebrations.

Former Union Finance Minister and civil servant Yashwant Sinha, Karpoori Thakur's principal secretary in 1978-79, remembered him as a true mass leader.

According to Sinha, Thakur had been treated shabbily as a child by the upper-caste landlords of his village. Thakur told Sinha that he was good at his studies. When he passed his matriculation with good grades, his father took him to the village landlord to He was the legislator of the inform him about Karpoorji

Jan Nayak Karpoori Thakur ji worked to create a more inclusive society with his policies

oday is the birth centenary of Jan ■ Nayak Karpoori Thakur ji, whose relentless pursuit of social justice created nnact in the lives of crores c people. I never had the opportunity to meet Karpoori ji but I heard a lot about him from Kailashpati Mishraji, who worked closely with him. He belonged to one of the most backward sections of society, the nai samaj. Overcoming numerous obstacles, he achieved a lot and worked for societal betterment.

Jan Nayak Karpoori Thakur ji's life revolved around the twin pillars of simplicity and social justice. Till his last breath, his simple lifestyle and humble nature resonated deeply with the common people. There are numerous anecdotes that highlight his simplicity. Those who worked with him recall how he preferred to spend his own money for any personal matter, including his daughter's wedding. During his tenure as chief minister (CM) of Bihar, a decision was taken to build a colony for political leaders but he himself did not take any land or money for the same. When he passed away in 1988, several leaders went to his village to pay tributes. When they saw the condition of his house, they were moved to tears - how can someone so towering have a house so simple! Another anecdote of his simplicity dates back to 1977 when he had just taken over as CM of Bihar, The Janata government was in power in Delhi and Patna. That time, Janata leaders had gathered in Patna to mark Loknayak JP's birthday. Among the galaxy of top leaders walked in chief minister Karpoori Thakur ii, with a torn kurta. In his own style, Chandrashekhar ji asked Karpoori ji could purchase a new kurta. But, Karpoori ji was Karpoori ji — he accepted the money but donated it to the CM Relief Fund.

Social justice was most dear to Jan Nayak Karpoori Thakur ji. His political journey was marked by monumental efforts to create a society where resources were distributed fairly, and everyone, regardless of their social standing, had access to opportunities. He wanted to address the systemic inequalities that plagued Indian society. Such was his commitment to his ideals that despite living in an era where the Congress Party was omnipresent, he took a distinctly anti-Congress line oecause he was convinced very earl that the Congress had deviated from its founding principles.

His electoral career began in the early 1950s and since then he became a force to reckon with in the legislative chambers, powerfully voicing the struggles of the working class, labourers, small farmers. and youngsters. Education was a subject very close to his heart. Throughout his political career he worked to improve education facilities for the poor. He was a proponent of education in local languages so that people from small towns and villages can climb the ladder and attain success. As CM, he took many measures for the welfare of senior citizens as well.

Democracy, debate, and discussion were integral to Karpoori ji's personality. This spirit was seen when he immersed himself in the Quit India movement as a voungster and it was again seen when he resisted the Emergency tooth and nail. His unique perspectives were greatly admired by the likes of JP, Dr Lohia and Charan Singh ji.

Perhaps one of Jan Nayak Karpoori Thakurji's most significant contributions to India was his role in strengthening the affirmative action apparatus for the backward classes, with the hope that they were given the representation and opportunities they deserved. His decision was met with heavy opposition but he did not bow to any pressure. Under his leadership, policies were implemented that laid the groundwork for a more inclusive society, where one's birth did not determine one's fate. He belonged to the most backward strata of society but he worked for all the people. He had no trace of bitterness in him, which is what makes him truly great.

Over the last ten years, our government has walked on the path of Jan Nayak Karpoori Thakur ji, reflecting in our schemes and policies that have brought transformative empowerment. One of the biggest tragedies of our polity has been that barring a few leaders like Karpooriji, the call for social justice was restricted to being a political slogan. Inspired by Karpoori ji's vision, we implemented it as an effective governance model. I can say with confidence and pride that Jan Nav Karpoori Thakur ji would have been very proud of India's feat of freeing 25 crore people from the clutches of poverty in the last few years. These are people from the most backward sections of society, who were denied basic facilities nearly seven decades after freedom from colonial rule. At the same time, our efforts towards saturation — of ensuring every scheme reaches 100 per cent coverage — echoes his commitment to social welfare. Today, when people from OBC, SC and ST communities are becoming entrepreneurs due to MUDRA loans, it fulfils Karpoori Thakur ii's vision of economic independence. Likewise, it was our government that had the privilege of extending SC, ST and OBC reservations. We also had the honour of setting up the OBC Commission (which was opposed by Congress, sadly), which is working on the path shown by Karpoori ji. Our PM-Vishwakarma scheme will also bring new avenues of prosperity for millions of people belonging to OBC communities across India.

As a person belonging to the backward classes myself. I have much to thank Jan Nayak Karpoori Thakur ji for. Unfortunately, we lost Karpoori ji at a relatively young age of 64. We lost him when we needed him the most. Yet, he lives on in the hearts and minds of crores of people due to his work. He was a true Jan Navak!

Official rejects 'poll date' speculation

ΔRCHIS MOHAN New Delhi,23 January

An internal note stating that the Lok Sabha elections could be held on April 16 was only for indicative purposes for officials to plan preparations and should not be construed as the polling date for the seven parliamentary seats in the national capital, Delhi's chief electoral officer clarified on Tuesday.

The internal note circulated by the office of Delhi's chief electoral officer, with April 16 as the tentative "poll date" to help officials schedule activities "in the build-up" to the general election, fuelled speculations that it could be advanced by a couple of weeks since Delhi voted in the latter half of the multi-phase election in 2019.

In the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, which took place over seven phases from April 11 to May 19, voting for Delhi's seven seats took place in the sixth phase on

However, in the polling for the 2014 Lok Sabha polls, which took place over nine phases from April 7 to May 12, Delhi voted in the third phase on April 10. In 2009, Delhi voted in the fifth, the penultimate phase, on May 7. In 2019, the elections were announced on March 10. In 2014, the dates were announced on March 5. "Some media queries are coming referring to a circular by @CeodelhiOffice to clarify whether April 16 is a tentative poll day for Lok Sabha elections. It is clarified that this date was mentioned only for 'reference' for officials to plan activities as per Election Planner of ECI," the office's handle posted on X.
