FIRM EYES ₹650 CR FROM SEGMENT BY MARCH

Marico eyes revenue boost from food biz

SHUBHRA TANDON
New Delhi, November 23

MARICO IS INCREASING focus on the food portfolio and is diversifying its products at a rapid pace to include more healthier options, which will help the company achieve a revenue of ₹650 crore from the segment by March 2023. This would also keep it on track to achieve ₹850 crore-₹1,000 crore by FY24.

The company recently launched Saffola Soya Bhurji and added a new Saffola Masala Oats variant with millets, which Sanjay Mishra, chief operating officer (India business) and CEO (new business), Marico, told FE, have been significant steps to diversify its food portfolio and reach a revenue of ₹650 crore in the portfolio by March 2023.

"We see tremendous potential in our food portfolio and plan to build it at an accelerated pace by picking categories with significant growth tailwinds and solving unmet consumer needs through differentiated offerings, through our power brand, Saffola, and expanding its total addressable market in the bargain. We aspire to achieve the ₹850 crore-₹1,000 crore mark in FY24 and are well on our way to doing so," he said.

Earlier in the year, Marico forayed into healthy spreads with Saffola Peanut Butter. During the second quarter ended September, it also launched two variants of Saffola Honey — Saffola Honey Active and Saffola Honey Gold.

Mishra said the company is seeing increasing demand for quick food that is also high in nutritional value, a trend that started during the two years of the pandemic but has now

We plan to revolutionise the plant-based protein category for the consumers at the base of the pyramid, making it affordable at a mass level.

SANJAY MISHRA, CEO,
NEW BUSINESS, MARICO

been integrated into customer preferences. "India has witnessed a massive shift in consumer preferences for healthier lifestyles which has increased the demand for nutrient-dense food items. The industry is being driven by the working population's increased inclination for convenience food items and expanding retail chain market in India," he said.

With affordable price points and availability in smaller packs, the company is also disrupting the niche plant-based protein segment, which falls in the premium category. The company's Saffola Soya Bhurji, for instance, is available in a 35 g pouch priced at ₹15. "We plan to revolutionise plant-based protein category for the consumers at the base of the pyramid, making it affordable at a mass level. We hope that it will encourage a maximum number of people to integrate a consistent source of protein into their lifestyle," Mishra said.

He said the product is in its pilot phase, which is why the price points have been kept low. He added that the current price point is sustainable as the company is making "healthy gross margin", without sharing the details.

However, Marico plans to scale up the business by next financial year and may gradually launch even bigger packs of the product with different price points.

"We aim to strengthen our foothold in both healthy foods and ready-to-cook segment in India on the back of innovations and differentiated product offerings that cater to the needs of consumers," Mishra said.

According to analysts, the introduction of Saffola Soya Bhurji is part of the strategy where the company is launching value-added soya products, given it does not just want to play in the plain and commoditised Soya Nuggets category. "The opportunity in Soya is to convert it into a snacking option from main meal. Sale from Soya products is expected to touch ₹100 crore in FY23," analysts at ICICI Direct said.

In the quarter ended September, Marico reported a muted revenue growth of 3.2% to ₹2,496 crore on the back of 1% growth in domestic business and 11% constant currency growth in international business. Domestic volume growth was 3%, and on a three-year CAGR basis, volume growth was 7% for the company.

L&T tech arm opens 2 new centres in US, to hire 500

HARSHA BARUAH
Peoria, Illinois, November 23

PURE-PLAY ENGINEERING services company L&T Technology Services (LTS) on November 18 announced the inauguration of two new design and prototyping centres in Peoria, Illinois, in the US.

LTS already has a flagship design centre in Peoria.

The two new centres will look to support digital engineering programmes for customers. The centres — 1DigitalPlace and the Electrification & Prototyping Center — are meant to offer services in digital manufacturing and next-generation electrification solutions in the transportation, medical and hi-tech domains.

The 1DigitalPlace Center of Excellence aims to help drive solutions across digital manufacturing in key areas, including artificial intelligence, robotics, 3D-vision systems and connected machines. This centre will focus on delivering manufacturing execution systems and enabling next-generation digital twins.

Spinny operates over 55 car hubs across the country with a total parking capacity of close to 10,000 cars. In Bengaluru, the startup already operates six car hubs with a total parking capacity of 1,200 cars. With the addition of Spinny Park Bangalore, the total capacity in the city will reach 2,200 cars.

Founded in 2015, Spinny is a used car-retailing platform that aims to bring about transparent and convenience in the car buying and selling process in India. Spinny operates across the entire value chain of used cars, embedding superior technology and processes to deliver a premium experience to customers.

The company had last raised around $283 million (approximately ₹2,100 crore) in its Series E funding round in December 2021 led by Abu Dhabi-based ADQ, Tiger Global and Avenir Growth, and in addition to these, participation from existing investors. At that time, it was one of the latest entrants into the unicorn club at a $1.8 billion post-money valuation.

Hindustan Motors looks to drive proposed EVs into overseas markets

MITHUN DASGUPTA
Kolkata, November 23

HINDUSTAN MOTORS, WHICH is planning to manufacture electric vehicles (EVs), is exploring the possibility of exporting the proposed vehicles to overseas markets.

"A memorandum of understanding on electric vehicles has been signed. The tie-up is for exporting the vehicles at present. Later, assembling may also be considered," a source close to the developments told FE on Wednesday.

In a stock exchange filing on Tuesday, Hindustan Motors, the erstwhile makers of the iconic Ambassador car, said it has entered into an MoU to extend the EV domain across the border to enhance the production of ecofriendly electric vehicles. The company, however, did not divulge details of the MoU. On Wednesday, shares of the automaker climbed 9.85% at ₹18.40. The shares closed at the upper circuit limit.

According to the sources, the company is likely to come up with more information about the tie-up in the next few days. "The company cannot divulge details on the MoU now. It will provide more details after the board of the partner firm approves the tie-up," the source added.

Hindustan Motors, India's first ever carmaker, had earlier signed an MoU and was in initial talks for a joint venture with an European auto firm involved in the EV segment for making electric vehicles. Initially, the plan is to launch two-wheelers, and then, depending on the success of the project, four-wheelers would be launched.

LTS CEO & MD Amit Chadha

The Electrification & Prototyping Centre is a design facility that aims to enable processes from conception through schematics to physical prototype harness development in HIL (hardware-in-the-loop) test benches.

As part of the planned expansion of the Peoria design centre, LTS plans to hire more than 500 engineers over the next 36 months.

"These centres are the biggest that we have opened in North America in recent years," CEO & MD Amit Chadha said.

Saying that North America is an important market for LTS, he added that around 65% of the company's business comes from this geography. He further said that Europe and Japan are also important geographies.

Speaking on areas of focus, Chadha said EVs and 5G are promising sectors. "In order to understand how a charger works, we have built chargers from the ground up. We have advised customers on electrification for projects, including from the US and Europe."

Speaking about the future of electrification, he said: "Electrification of construction equipment, agricultural equipment and boats is inevitable."

The writer was in Illinois, US, at the invitation of LTS

Persistent Systems on track to hit $1-billion turnover

GEETA NAIR
Pune, November 23

THREE YEARS AGO, Pune-based IT firm Persistent Systems had set a target of hitting the $1-billion turnover mark in FY23. It seems to be on track to achieve this with close to $500 million reported in H1FY23.

Anand Deshpande, founder and chairman & MD said the company had surpassed $1 billion in annualised revenue run rate. "We did $255 million in the last quarter and by the end of the year, we should be at the $1 billion mark," he said.

The company has now set its sights on doubling revenue to $2 billion in four years. Deshpande said the Persistent leadership team would be brainstorming in January 2023 to discuss about what the next billion would look like and where it would come from.

Deshpande, who turned 60 this year and has led the company for 30 years, says the next phase of growth would be driven by the professionals leading the company. Three years ago, he moved away from the CEO position. Sandeep Kalra currently leads the team as the CEO and executive director. Sunil Sapre, CFO and ED, is also a key part of the leadership team.

Deshpande said all businesses go through S-curves where the company starts, grows and flattens, then grows again. Persistent Systems was at a beginning of the new S-curve and the professional leadership would be taking the company to the next growth cycle, he said.

According to Deshpande, technology at the macro level in the next five to seven years would revolve around 'ABCDEFG' — AI, biology/biotech, crypto and cybersecurity, data/digital, energy, fintech and governance.
