Winter drought

Agrarian distress is believed to be one reason why the BJP lost assembly elections in Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh in December.

With general elections due in the summer, the drought is a matter of concern to the government.

"Voting outcomes depend on many factors but farmers are surely angry, especially small farmers. The water situation in Maharashtra is quite serious in some areas. Farm packages announced by the government has benefited large farmers. That's another problem," said Amruta Anil Suryawanshi, a faculty member at the Pune-based Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics.

The Maharashtra government has declared drought in 151 talukas (a revenue zone within a district) spread over 26 districts. Karnataka has officially notified drought in 24 of its 30 districts.

Andhra Pradesh has declared the districts of Sri Potti Sriramulu Nellore, Kadapa, Kurum, Chittoor, Prakasam, and Anantapuram as drought-hit.

Maharashtra's situation is by far the most serious. For the first time since 1972, it has seen back-to-back winter and summer droughts.

A central team, including officials from the agriculture ministry, travelled to many of the impacted areas to assess damage to crops last month. On Tuesday, finance minister Piyush Goyal and agriculture minister Radha Mohan Singh met to discuss relief measures. The Centre has decided to release ₹6,691.47 crore to these four states to mitigate the impact. The 2018 winter monsoon, a short but critical rainy season for the peninsular states, has been substantially below normal at 56% of the long-period average, according to the India Meteorological Department (IMD). "This was 6th lowest since 1901," the IMD's annual weather review said.

Winter rainfall over the "core region of the south peninsula" (comprising coastal Andhra Pradesh, Rayalaseema, Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and south interior Karnataka and Kerala) was below average, the IMD review states.

According to the agriculture ministry's January 18 sowing report, the latest period for which data are available, lower-than-normal rains have brought down the total winter-sown area by 5%, while there is a significant dip in states such as Maharashtra and Gujarat.

"This is of concern because the rabi crop accounts for 40% of India's agricultural produce (based on 14 key crops which account for 97% of total agricultural produce, except sugarcane and horticulture crops) in both volume and value terms," said

Hetal Gandhi, director of CRISIL Ltd, a ratings firm.

The rabi season "showing clear signs of weakness" means there could be a "trickle-down effect on the [non-farm] sectors being driven by rural India," according to Gandhi.

Pension

"This is a step in the right direction as the unorganised sector has no social security and the state must take care of them. Ideally, it should be a universal pension scheme," said Alakh N Sharma, a labour economist and director of the Institute for Human Development.

The officials cited above said the government is working on granular details of the scheme, such as eligibility criteria, the required resources and percentage share of the Centre and the states in funding the pension payments. It is targeting the launch of a scheme before the model code of conduct kicks in with the announcement of dates for the general election.

Experts said the scheme could require an additional ₹1.2 lakh crore to implement, after summing related, ongoing schemes in various states.

Unorganised workers were among the sections worst affected by the November 2016 invalidation of high-value banknotes, and also took a hit from the July 2017 implementation of the goods and services tax (GST) that many small businesses were unprepared for.

The legal framework of the scheme is already in place and the UWIN platform, which is capable of capturing data on the country's almost 420 million unorganised workers, is also ready to go live, one of the officials, with direct knowledge of the matter, said. The UWIN platform has been created at a cost of about ₹400 crore. Unorganised workers will be eligible for the pension after they turn 60 years old.

PTI reported in January 2018 about a planned drive by the labour ministry to register unorganised sector workers and provide them UWIN cards to bring them under the social security net, citing an official it didn't name. The UWIN Card will have a unique number that will be seeded with Aadhaar to provide all benefits of social security schemes at one stop, the report cited the official as saying.

"The government can launch any welfare scheme or give a direct subsidy to unorganised workers through the UWIN platform, which will be ready in a couple of days," the first official added.

The platform will also help the government maintain details on unorganised workers in a central database. So far, the government has had to rely on state governments to gather numbers and other data, the official said.

A labour ministry spokesman declined to comment on the plan.

Operationalisation of the UWIN platform is facing a minor glitch related to the Aadhaar unique identity number, a second official, who is aware of technical details, said.

In September 2018, the Supreme Court ruled that the government could mandate the unique ID for citizens to access state subsidies and welfare programmes but said it could not make the possession of an Aadhaar number a condition for operating bank accounts, mobile phones and enrolling in schools or college admissions.

Because of the Supreme Court's verdict, concerns have arisen that some activists may try to stall the project by challenging the linkage of unorganised workers' data with the Aadhaar ID. According to officials, while Aadhaar can be used for identifying beneficiaries, the linkage between UWIN and Aadhaar data could be open to challenge in the courts.

"In that case, we will make the programme independent of Aadhaar," the official with technical details of the project said.

The scheme is likely to be enforced through the Unorganised Workers' Social Security Act, 2008, (UWSS Act) which has already put in place a legal framework for providing social security benefits to workers in the unorganised sector, officials said.

The Act provides for the registration and issuance of identity cards to unorganised workers.

Gradually, other welfare schemes and direct subsidies will be provided to unorganised workers, including life and disability insurance cover, health facilities and maternity benefits. It is likely that all existing schemes will be reclassified and disbursed through UWIN to stop leakages of subsidies to the poor and bring transparency, the officials cited above said.

Existing schemes for the unorganised worker include the Indira Gandhi National Old Age Pension Scheme (IGNOAPS), the National Family Benefit Scheme (NFBS), the Financial Support to Artisans in Indigent Circumstances (Pension to Mastercrafts Artisans) Scheme, the Handloom Weavers' Comprehensive Welfare Scheme and Janani Suraksha Yojana (JSY).

Mirwaiz

The Pakistani foreign minister is expected to attend both events. Kumar said: "The UK is aware of our sensitivities in the matter. As a friendly country and a strategic partner, we hope the UK government will address our concerns on the proposed conference."

People at the UK foreign office familiar with the developments said Qureshi was travelling to London to attend several private events, and there were no plans for meetings with the UK government during his visit and that he was not a guest of the government. They added the UK's position is that it is for India and Pakistan to find a lasting political resolution to the situation in Kashmir, taking into account the Kashmiri people's wishes.

These people noted that British MPs function independently of the government and were free to decide whom they meet. Islamabad responded on Thursday when foreign secretary Tehmina Janjua summoned Indian envoy Ajay Bisaria to protest the summoning of the Pakistani high commissioner in New Delhi.

Jobs data

Two members of the National Statistical Commission resigned this week, claiming, among other things, that the government had sat on the report although the commission had approved the data. It was the first jobs survey conducted after the November 2016 invalidation of high-value banknotes, which led to job losses and curbed job creation, especially in the unorganised sector. The Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE) had estimated that 1.5 million jobs were lost just in the first four months of 2017.

The report is potentially damning for the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP)-led NDA government, which has been under pressure to step up job creation efforts to absorb job hunters who enter the workforce every year. Instead, the unemployment rate has more than doubled from 2.2% in 2011-2012, according to figures quoted in the newspaper report.

Joblessness is higher in urban areas (7.8%) than rural areas (5.3%), it said. The labour force participation rate—the proportion of population working or seeking jobs—declined to 36.9% in 2017/18 from 39.5% in 2011/12. The comparable rate for the United States was 63.1% in December.

Congress president Rahul Gandhi took a swipe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi, whose government is also battling agrarian distress in the countryside as it prepares head into the next general elections.

"NoMo Jobs! The Fuhrer promised us 2 Cr jobs a year. 5 years later, his leaked job creation report card reveals a National Disaster. Unemployment is at its highest in 45 yrs. 6.5 Cr youth are jobless in 2017-18 alone. Time for NoMo2Go," he tweeted with the hashtag '#TheJobs'.

Senior Congress leader Anand Sharma said the data had shown the effect demonetisation had had in stifling employment growth. "What we have been repeatedly saying about demonetisation has been proved by the report which the government has kept under wrap but has been revealed by the media," said Sharma.

"While overall unemployment rate has been at 45-year high, among the youth it is the highest, particularly in rural areas, warning of a crisis situation and insta-liability if young entrants to the workforce did not find employment," said Sharma.

Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav posted a biting tweet. "The unemployed youth will make BJP unemployed through 2019 polls. The BJP had promised 10 crore jobs, now 10 crore will take revenge on BJP in 2019. The village youth who migrate from their villages for development will now snatch power from BJP," he wrote.

The BJP, for its part, likened Gandhi to late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini, quoting Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) data in its favour.

"It's clear that he has inherited Mussolini's shortsightedness and has myopic understanding of issues. EPFO's real data shows sharp increase in jobs, created in just the last 15 months. Only a man who hasn't ever held a proper job and is totally jobless can peddle such #FakeNews!" the BJP wrote in a tweet.

The issue also figured at an all-party meeting convened by parliamentary affairs minister Narendra Singh Tomar a day ahead of the interim budget's presentation. At the meeting, Mohammed Saleem of the Communist Party of India (Marxist) demanded a separate debate on unemployment and jobs.

"India's youth which is our asset is now being wasted. It also exposes the utter failure of the BJP-led government to deliver on its promise of providing two crore jobs every year, that is, 10 crore new jobs during the last five years," the Left party said in a statement. "The CPI(M) demands that all data must be released immediately. These must be placed and discussed in the Parliament. The people of the country have a right to know about the grim realities facing them."

नोएडा में तीन पत्रकार और इंस्पेक्टर घूस लेते गिरफ्तार हुए थे

गिरफ्तार इंस्पेक्टर के घर-खाते खंगाले जाएंगे

नोएडा | मुख्य संवाददाता

आठ लाख रुपये की घूस लेते रंगेहाथ पकड़े गए थाना सेक्टर-20 के प्रभारी मनोज पंत के घर की तलाशी लेने के लिए पुलिस ने गुरुवार को एंटी करप्शन कोर्ट से सर्च वारंट मांगा था। अदालत ने वारंट जारी कर दिया है। पुलिस उसके देहरादून स्थित घर की तलाशी लेगी। इंस्पेक्टर के बैंक खातों और दूसरी संपत्तियों का भी पता लगाया जा रहा है। पुलिस आरोपी पत्रकारों की भी संपत्ति का पता लगाएगी।

नोएडा के सेक्टर-20 थाने से मंगलवार की रात दो बजे इंस्पेक्टर मनोज पंत, पत्रकार उदित गोयल, रमन ठाकुर और सुशील पंडित को आठ लाख रुपये रिश्वत लेते हुए रंगेहाथ गिरफ्तार किया गया था। फर्जी कॉल सेंटर से जुड़े मुकदमे में अभियुक्त का नाम निकालने की एवज में यह रिश्वत

अहम सवाल

केवल 26 कॉल सेंटर क्यों बंद किए गए

अमेरिकी जांच एजेंसी एफबीआई ने नोएडा पुलिस को 108 कॉल सेंटरों की सूची दी थी। बताया था कि इन 108 कॉल सेंटरों के जरिए नोएडा में बंद साइबर टग अमेरिका, कनाडा और यूरोप के देशों में लोगों को टग रहे हैं। इसके बाद नोएडा पुलिस ने कार्रवाई की। अमेरिकी दूतावास ने भी पुलिस की प्रशंसा की थी। 26 कॉल सेंटरों को बंद कर दिया गया। बाकी पर अब तक कार्रवाई क्यों नहीं की गई है।

क्या गिरफ्तारी के वक्त थाने के कैमरे बंद किए

थाना सेक्टर-20 में पांच सीसीटीवी कैमरे लगे हैं। इनमें से अब केवल तीन चल रहे हैं। दो बंद पड़े हैं। बताया जा रहा है कि मंगलवार की रात जब इंस्पेक्टर और पत्रकारों को पकड़ा गया तो थाने के सीसीटीवी कैमरों को बंद कर दिया गया था। इस पर पुलिस के अफसर साफ-साफ बोलने से बच रहे हैं। दरअसल, पुलिस सूत्रों का कहना है कि एक अफसर ने इंस्पेक्टर की पिटाई की थी।

वसूली गई थी। बुधवार की रात नौ बजे चारों अभियुक्तों को मेरठ में एंटी करप्शन कोर्ट के न्यायाधीश मनजीत सिंह खौरान ने 14 दिन की न्यायिक हिरासत में जेल भेज दिया था। गुरुवार को नोएडा पुलिस ने कोर्ट में अर्जी दी। इंस्पेक्टर मनोज पंत के देहरादून स्थित घर की तलाश लेने के लिए सर्च वारंट मांगा। पुलिस ने कोर्ट को बताया कि

मामले में सबूत जुटाने के लिए घर की तलाशी लेना जरूरी है। अदालत ने सर्च वारंट को मंजूरी दे दी है। वहीं, पुलिस मनोज पंत और उनके परिजनों के बैंक खातों और संपत्तियों की भी जांच करेगी। पुलिस के वकील ने बताया कि जांच अधिकारी की अर्जी पर कोर्ट ने इंस्पेक्टर मनोज पंत के देहरादून स्थित आवास का सर्च वारंट मंजूर कर दिया है।
