HK Chief Executive Carrie Lam announced she will permanently shelve controversial extradition bill in HK on Wednesday. mainland China, Lam finalmally withdraw the bill in order to fully allay public ly conceded as she called for calm. "The government will forconcerns," Lam said in a video statement released via her office.

Initial reports in the local media flagging Lam's announcement raised hopes that giving in to the extradition demand could help end the crisis. Hong Kong's stock market climbed nearly four percent in afternoon trade after the reports emerged. But those hopes were quickly tempered, with prodemocracy activists voicing anger and determination to press on with their broader democracy campaign. "Too little, too late," said Joshua Wong, a prominent activist who was arrested late last week as part of a police swoop of leading prodemocracy figures.

An old video of Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan slamming the Pakistan Army for bombing and killing innocent people in Balochistan has gone viral on social media.

In the video, Khan is seen addressing a gathering where he is questioning the Pakistan Army for killing their own people including women and children.

He also accused the Army of the extra-judicial killings going on in Balochistan. "Our army bombing people in Balochistan, how can we bomb our own people, is there any army you are bombing? It is our own people with their children, but it is important to understand are we just bombing our people, just think about the immorality of bombing villages with the women and children,"Khan said in the video. "You are talking about six million people in the tribal areas that are being bombed, their economy has been destroyed, they are living in refugee camps, how are they surviving, and what about the extra-judicial killing that is going on," he added.

PARTING SHOT Ghatkopar, Churchgate and Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj railway stations were bursting at the seams in the evening and commuters were constrained to wade through the submerged tracks. In several places, big and small vehicles were stranded, forcing occupants to abandon them, which added to the never-ending traffic snarls. Virtually caught unprepared by the overnight downpour, people had to wade in knee-deep water for their daily chores, while in Ganesh Talao area of Kandivali, crafty locals deployed a make-shift raft to ferry residents. The cascading effect of the traffic jams was felt on the Mumbai-Goa Highway, the Mumbai-Pune Expressway, the Ghodbunder Road, the Mumbai-Ahmedabad Highway and the Mumbai-Navi Mumbai Road. There was power outage, too, in many areas as residents took to twitter to express their dismay.

Rains severely hit the ongoing Ganeshotsav festivities in four districts - Mumbai, Thane, Palghar and Raigad - and flood waters seeped into various marquees and pan-

Shootings of several films and teleserials had to be cancelled as water seeped into studies and outdoor locales sites. Sunny Deal postponed the trailer launch of his son Karan's debut "Pal Pal Dil Ke Paas" while waterlogging was seen outside Amitabh Bachchan's Juhu bungalow 'Prateeksha'

Less footfall at Ganesh mandals

The precious gold and stone studded Ganpati idel, which usually draws thousands of admirers, saw just a handful of devotees. Subhash Pai, in charge of Public Relations for GSB Mandal, told the Free Press Journal, "The Ganpati is placed inside the Ram Mandir veranda and during Ganeshotsav Lakhs of devotees visit the site to worship the ford. Usually there is a serpentine queue but this time due to heavy rain we did not get crowds."

Besides, the mandal also prepares food for thousands of visitors for 11 days. This year, since less number of devotees have visited the pandal, prasad was not prepared in the afternoon but in the evening.

tire month's rain. Besides, Andheri East recorded 214.55 millimetres of rainfall between 8 am and 2 pm, higher than any other part of Mumbai.

Since the streets were water logged, the Sarvajanik Ganeshotsav Samavaya Sa-miti, as a precautionary measure, asked representatives of mandals to switch off the power supply to prevent any untoward incident.

Indian spares for Russian Army

To a question, the Foreign Secretary asserted that India's move to expand energy ties with Russia had nothing to do with the problems faced in sourcing oil and LNG from Iran. Another major significant decision was a Memorandum of Intent between the Indian Ministry of Shipping and Russia's Ministry of Transport on the development of maritime communications between the Port of Chennai and the Port of Vladivostok.
