“The Phogat sisters a name now common in the Indian households thanks to their contribution to the world of Wrestling is back in news. Yes! The wrestler turned MMA fighter who settled abroad for career benefits has big news to return to her origins for something bigger & better. Wondering what that is? Well Phogat, left one championship and has signed a 3-year exclusive deal with Kumite 1 League a leading Indian MMA Promotion.

This news was long due, with the pace at what MMA is growing in India, heads are about to turn. And guess this is what grabbed Ritu's attention. For someone who has channelised all her vigor & passion towards MMA sure sees massive merit in the sport & the bright way forward. In fact, kudos to Ritu for returning back to her roots to usher her international experience, exposure & global level of training to the nurturing fighters in India. Ritu Phogat says, “I was very impressed to see the love and enthusiasm of Mr. Mohamedali Budhwani, CMD, Toyam Sports Limited, founder of Kumite 1 League & Kumite 1 Warrior Hunt, towards MMA sports. For a long time, I wanted to come back to my beloved country and do something for the MMA athletes here. Ritu, a commonwealth Wrestling Gold Medalist belongs to a famous wrestling family. Her father, Mahavir Singh Phogat, a legendary coach, trained his daughters Geeta and Babita Phogat and inspired them to reach the highest level of the sport, inspired by the superhit Hindi film “Dangal”. Ritu started her training at the age of 8 and within a few years she dropped out of school to focus on her wrestling career. She was expected by many to represent India at the 2020 Olympic Games in Tokyo, but she shocked the wrestling world when she announced that she was switching her focus to mixed martial arts instead.

Ritu’s ultimate goal is to bring a world title back to India - a feat she believes will help nurture her country's burgeoning love of the sport. Currently, Kumite 1 Warriors Hunt has created big stir with its mega launch on 12th February. With Sunil Shetty & Mr. Budhwani as the host & roaring viewership from across the globe for the launch speaks for itself.”
