Jet Effect: Air Traffic Falls for First Time in 6 Years in April

Turbulent Skies

Domestic air traffic (in million)

Jan	11.47
Feb	11.11
Mar	10.75
Apr	10.52

Kingfisher Airlines dived sharply. Local traffic in March 2019 increased a tad to 11.50 million from 11.48 million in the same month the previous year. Traffic growth rate, which fell last year as in double digits, has fallen to low single digits since February. Jet grounded its operations on April 17, owing out of money and fall in fuel prices to stay afloat. It is a leading ground large carrier of its capacity in February. More than 70 daily flights were pulled out of the market, leading to a capacity cut, which will sharply shrink the market in April.

Jet's key slots and several pilots, deregistered to non-payment of lease rental, have been located on a temporary basis with local carriers. This will likely lead to interesting reshuffle in market share in the coming months.

Meanwhile, IndiGo controlled 93% of the local air market in April, growing its share from 42.5% in January, when Jet was still operating a significant chunk of its capacity. Air India, at No. 2, controlled about 11%, up from 12.7% in January, while SpiceJet accounted for 13%.

Jet received the highest passenger complaints in April—623 for every 10,000 passengers—primarily related to refunds for cancelled flights. On that metric, the number of its peers was negligible—14 for Air India and less than one for others.

Judge Accuses PMLA Court Chair of 'Blatant Illegality'

'Chair transgressed authority in blocking confiscation of film producers' properties'

Mohit Bhatta | Twitter | Facebook

New Delhi: The appellate Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) tribunal that is trying high profile cases involving suspected economic offenders such as Vijay Malia, Nirav Modi and Shah Choksi has found itself in the thick of controversy after a judge on Tuesday accused the chairman of the tribunal, Manmohan Singh, of "blatant illegality".

The judge, Ananya Sen, an Indian Revenue Service officer, accused the tribunal chairman of transgressing his authority by passing an order to prevent the Enforcement Directorate from confiscating properties of two Bollywood producers, who are under trial for alleged money laundering. Such a move has been described as unprecedented by several legal experts.

Sen passed her dissent in an order, which ET has reviewed, claiming Singh had ordered a stay on confiscation of assets of film producers Monica Malhotra and Rohinton Duggal, despite her having vacated the stay on the same day, and allowed the ED to proceed with the confiscation. "Shri Manmohan Singh in blatant violation of all laws and legal procedure, even where the law gives him no such power, authority to overrule another bench's order, unilaterally gives stay of the impugned order, which thereby defeats the purpose of the PMLA Act," Sen said in the order.

Manmohan Singh, who is heading the tribunal on a three-year term, vehemently denied the charges when contacted by ET. "I passed the order as the order of a Bench of two judges, who are under trial for alleged money laundering. Such a move has been described as unprecedented by several legal experts. Sen passed her dissent in an order, which ET has reviewed, claiming Singh had ordered a stay on confiscation of assets of film producers Monica Malhotra and Rohinton Duggal, despite her having vacated the stay on the same day, and allowed the ED to proceed with the confiscation. "Shri Manmohan Singh in blatant violation of all laws and legal procedure, even where the law gives him no such power, authority to overrule another bench's order, unilaterally gives stay of the impugned order, which thereby defeats the purpose of the PMLA Act," Sen said in the order.
