FB blocks #ResignModi by 'mistake', restores it later

Govt never issued any direction to remove this hashtag, says Meity

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 29 April

Facebook blocked posts tagged #ResignModi amid raging criticism of the government's handling of the Covid crisis, but restored it hours later calling it a mistake.

The blocking on Wednesday, Facebook said, wasn't at the behest of the government.

Facebook isn't the first social media company to censure posts critical of government handling of the Covid-19 crisis. Twitter had removed or restricted access to several critical posts on orders from the government, which called it fake news.

"We temporarily blocked this hashtag by mistake, not because the Indian government asked us to, and have since restored it," a Facebook spokesperson said in a statement on Thursday. It however did not elaborate.

In a tweet, the Ministry of Electronics and IT said: "Govt has not issued any direction to remove this hashtag. Facebook has also clarified that it was removed by mistake."

"Media has a very important role to play in acting as a force multiplier to the efforts of our front-line workers and medical professionals. At a sensitive time like this, we would urge the media to partner with crores of ordinary Indians as we collectively fight the pandemic," the Ministry tweeted.

According to reports, a hashtag calling for the resignation of Prime Minister Narendra Modi was blocked on Facebook for hours on Wednesday. Users searching the hashtag were given a message that said such posts were "temporarily hidden here" because "some content in those posts goes against our Community Standards".

Facebook periodically blocks hashtags and posts for a variety of reasons. Some of the blocks are done manually and some are automated.

The blocking of posts tagged #ResignModi came ahead of polling in the last phase of West Bengal assembly elections. The Modi government has drawn a lot of flak in domestic and international media for handling of the second wave of Covid infections,

The blocking of Facebook posts tagged #ResignModi came ahead of polling in the last phase of West Bengal Assembly elections which on Thursday crossed the 1.8-crore mark.

India reported 3,79,257 new Covid-19 cases and 3,645 new deaths — the deadliest day so far for any country hit by the pandemic. The US government has told its citizens to leave India as soon as possible.

Social media timelines are filled with SOS calls with people looking for oxygen cylinders, medicines, hospital beds, plasma donors and ventilators. Organisations across the spectrum have come forward to support the fight against the Covid pandemic.

Just a few days back, Twitter and other social media platforms removed about 100 posts and URLs after the government asked them to remove content that was critical of the handling of the current medical crisis or spreading fake news around the pandemic.

Reports citing Lumen database, an independent research project studying cease and desist letters concerning online content, suggested that more than 50 posts, including those by a Member of Parliament, MLA and filmmakers, were removed by Twitter on government request.

Government sources had said the social media platforms were asked to remove the posts and URLs (uniform resource locators) to "prevent obstructions in the fight against the pandemic" and disruption of public order due to the said posts.

They had added that the order was issued in view of the misuse of social media platforms by certain users to spread fake or misleading information and create panic about the pandemic in the society "by using unrelated, old and out of the context images or visuals, communally sensitive posts and misinformation about Covid-19 protocols".

Motown grinds to a halt as virus rages

Manufacturing entities in Maharashtra have been operating at half the capacity since the state announced partial curbs to check the spread of the virus. A spokesperson at Tata Motors said all of the company's plants and offices would remain closed from May 1 to 3. He did not cite any reason.

Ruzbeh Irani, HR and communications president at Mahindra Group, said the company was doing its bit to deal with the shortage of oxygen. He didn't comment on whether Mahindra has plans to halt production. The well-being and safety of its associates and communities was its biggest priority, said Irani, adding that the company had taken numerous steps to facilitate oxygen supply for medical needs.

An official at Volkswagen Group said the company was continuing its production according to the Maharashtra government's guidelines to meet export commitments. "We or our suppliers do not use any oxygen in production," he said. Rakesh Sharma, executive director at Bajaj Auto, also said the firm would continue its manufacturing operations to meet the export needs.

On Wednesday, car market leader Maruti Suzuki India said it was advancing its annual maintenance shutdown by a month in view of the current situation. The move, it said, would help in freeing up oxygen for medical needs. Maruti's suppliers use oxygen for heat treatment of casting, forging and sheet metal parts.

Several other firms including Toyota Kirloskar, Ford Motor (Chennai), BMW, Hyundai Motor India, Kia India have either already shuttered their plants or will be doing so from May 1. The shutdowns however, were scheduled and are not related to the current situation, said officials at these firms. This is part of the annual routine," said Naveen Soni, senior vice president - sales and service at Toyota Kirloskar. Toyota closed its plants on April 23 and would resume operations on May 14, he said.

Covaxin price cut to ₹400 for states

The Hyderabad-based firm reiterated that the approach to pricing was determined by internally funded product development, several operationally intensive BSL-3 manufacturing facilities.

The Centre has sanctioned ₹1,500 crore as suppliers' credit for Bharat Biotech to buy future doses of vaccines. It has also received a grant of over ₹130 crore from the Centre to augment its production capacities to 100 million doses per month by September. At present, the company is able to produce 10 million doses a month and a ramp-up plan is in the works.

PM-ministers meet on Covid today

Health minister Harsh Vardhan told reporters on Thursday that there was no need for people to panic and rush to hospitals. He said there was adequate supply of oxygen in the country earlier as well and now it had been increased further. Requirement of oxygen among Covid patients has been higher in the second wave of the pandemic compared to the first, according to health ministry data.

The health ministry has also seen a massive rush in the registration for Covid vaccinations in the 18-45 years age group. More than 8 million have registered on the CoWIN portal on the second day as well for the vaccine. "Vaccination is a critical component of the containment and management strategy of the government. The fight against the pandemic is ongoing and the government is using all its experience to tackle the situation," Vardhan said.

He said that no one knew about the virus last year but now the government was better informed about how to deal with the menace and was leaving no stone unturned in its efforts to fight the deadly pandemic. Army too has been roped in for setting up Covid care facilities, involving retired medical officers. Modi on Thursday met the chief of army staff General MM Naravane to discuss various initiatives being taken by the Army to help in Covid management.

Rahul Bajaj to resign as Bajaj Auto chairman

He oversaw the successful transition of Bajaj Auto from the "Hamara Bajaj days" through its popular Chetak brand of scooters to World's Favourite Indian — Bajaj now sells its motorcycles to over 70 countries of the world.

Popular for his plain talk and critique of the government's policies since the pre-liberalisation era, the Padma Bhushan awardee is a Harvard Business School alumnus. He is known in corporate circles as a man who does not mince words when it comes to any matter of national interests or echoing corporate India's woes. On November 30, 2019, at an awards event organised by the Economic Times in Mumbai, Rahul Bajaj said that he was "born anti-establishment".

Cliffhanger in Bengal; DMK...

The Congress's gains by tying up with the Bodo People's Front (an erstwhile BJP alliance partner) and the Badruddin Ajmal-led All India United Democratic Front (AIUDF) appear to have been marginal.

In Kerala, in a major departure from the past, the LDF is headed for a second term, possibly a reward for its delivery of social services. Issues of corruption and smuggling, in which the chief minister's office is currently facing an inquiry, seem to have mattered little to voters.

In Tamil Nadu, despite the All India Anna Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (AIADMK) managing to provide credible governance and holding together after the death of J Jayalithaa (soon after the government was formed), opinion polls predict it will get a thrashing. The BJP, which was hoping to advance its political agenda by holding on to the AIADMK's coat tails and made many political interventions to keep the government going, may be disappointed, the polls show.

The BJP has reason to celebrate its stupendous victory in Bengal. But its performance, according to the polls, is going to be disappointing in Kerala, though further analysis would depend on the vote share the party is able to get.

The management of the Covid-19 pandemic was hardly an issue in the Assembly elections. But now that they are over, and with the BJP's stellar performance in Bengal, a bitter warfare should be expected between the TMC (if it manages to form the government) and the Centre, and the governments of Kerala and Tamil Nadu and the Centre.

Some polls are predicting the defeat of Mamata Banerjee in her constituency, Nandigram. If that happens, the TMC will need to do a reality check on its inability to halt the charge of the BJP in a state where it posted only a marginal presence in the 2016 Assembly election.
