'765 arrested in J-K for stone pelting since abrogation of Article 370'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 19

The Home Ministry on Tuesday said security forces have arrested 765 people in Jammu and Kashmir since the abrogation of Article 370 provisions for their alleged involvement in stone pelting incidents and multi-pronged policies were adopted to check the menace.

Union minister of State for Home G Kishan Reddy also said there has been a decline in the incidents of stone pelting since August 5 when the Centre had announced abrogation of the special status granted to Jammu and Kashmir under Article 370.

"Since August 5, 2019 to November 15, 2019, 765 people have been arrested in 190 cases registered relating to stone pelting/law and order. From January 1, 2019 to August 4, 2019, 361 number of such cases were registered," he said replying to a written question in the Lok Sabha.

Reddy said the government has initiated multi-pronged policies to check the stone pelting menace and has succeeded in curbing it to the extent that a large number of trouble makers, instigators and mob mobilisers have been identified and various preventive measures taken against them which include the detention under the PSA and preventive arrests.

"Investigation has revealed that various separatist organisations and activists which are part of Hurriyat have been behind the incidents of stone pelting in Kashmir valley. The NIA has charge-sheeted 18 persons in the terror funding cases so far," he said.

Replying to another question, Reddy said the Jammu and Kashmir administration has informed that a total of 34,10,219 tourists, including 12,934 foreigners tourists, have visited Jammu and Kashmir in the last six months and an income of ₹25.12 crore has been earned through tourism during this period.

bidder Synergy gets 16 to submit final plan

January. On Monday, the Mumbai Bench of the NCLT had asked Synergy to make the representation in the court by or on December 3.

Slot allocation

According to another source, during the meeting it was discussed that the Amsterdam slots could be preserved. However, Synergy needs the Heathrow slots and clarity on Indian slots which were temporarily allotted to Indigo, SpiceJet and Vistara.

"There is an announcement likely to come from the government in the next few days regarding the slots. This is also dependent on the kind of pressure SpiceJet, IndiGo and Vistara put on the government to retain those slots."

Before its grounding on April 17, Jet had the most premium slots in Mumbai and Delhi.

The source added that even if the extension has been granted, there are a lot of variables that will determine the future of Jet Airways.

He explained, "We have done a calculation and according to our plan, Jet needs at least $150-200 million for its revival. Should Synergy even put in a bid, the lenders should be willing to take a haircut — and that too a huge one." Besides this, Synergy has to also find an Indian partner and propose a viable business plan for Jet's revival.
