Artha Venture Fund announces final close of Rs. 220+ crores debut fund; will invest in 12-15 startups in FY 2021-22

Mumbai, Artha Venture Fund (AVF), India's first early-stage micro-VC fund, announced the final close of its debut fund at Rs. 220+ crores. The fund invests in B2B, B2C/D2C sectors and D2C enablers amongst others, and had targeted raising Rs. 200 crores. However, a surge of interest in Indian startups and the robust performance of the seed+ fund's early investment made AVF overshoot its target and exercise the greenshoe option. AVF is a Category I alternative investment fund that invests in startups across seed, pre-series A, and series-A levels of growth.

The fund had targeted closing the corpus by July 2021 but overachieved its target two months ahead of schedule. 50+ limited partners (LPs) participated in the fund, with almost half of the LPs increasing their investment commitments in the last 3 months. More than 50% of the investments came from family offices, and from over 20 listed companies participating directly or through promoter entities. NRIs, HNIs, super angels, and SIDBI invested the remaining capital. The fund has allocated over 65% of its corpus for follow-on rounds and will make 10-12 seed+ investments per year.

Anirudh A. Damani, Managing Partner, Artha Venture Fund said, "I am delighted with the confidence that our investors have shown in our investment strategy. Besides exceeding our targeted raise two months ahead of schedule, almost 50% of our first cohort of LPs doubled down on their earlier investments. Many referred us to people in their network. I welcome each LP to our investor family. Their reinvestment in, and promotion of, our fund within their network is a clear indicator that our fund strategy and structure resonates with them at a deeper level."

"The real credit of closing this fund goes to our founders and my fantastic team. The effect of the two pandemic-led lockdowns shook our portfolio founders and our team. However, each one stuck to their task, and our founders responded to each obstacle as an opportunity.

As a result, our portfolio-wide revenues grew 3x in 12 months without raising additional capital. This frugal but explosive growth is what excites us and our investors. We will continue to scout for seed+ stage deals in our preferred investment themes of D2C, D2C enablers, and B2B. Another sleeping giant that has piqued our interest in the last 12 months is the gaming sector, especially for the masses", he added.

Vinod Keni, Growth Partner, Artha Venture Fund commented, "I am humbled and grateful for the confidence placed by our investors in our investment and capital deployment strategy. The increase in commitments by our existing limited partners further validates our execution and the market opportunity.

I look forward to working with our LPs, learning and leveraging their experience, expertise and networks for the benefit of our portfolio companies. The experienced team at Artha Venture Fund understands the importance of shared efforts, vision and purpose required to support amazing and successful enterprises. Our limited partners are vital to this mission."

Arvind Mafatlal Group announces foray into Education Technology & Services

Ahmedabad The 116-year old Arvind Mafatlal Group, one of India's leading business groups, today announced its foray into the fast growing education technology and services space. The group launched Uniform Junction, among India's first, one-stop, integrated supply chain solution and platform for K12 schools. Mafatlal group will leverage its five plus decades' of experience working with schools to supply uniforms (where it owns 85% market share in organized market) and extend its capabilities in school supply chain, to provide the widest and most comprehensive range of school products as well as academic and non-academic courses and empower schools to be future-ready.

Announcing the group's foray, Priyavrata Mafatlal, MD

& CEO of Mafatlal Industries and Co-founder & Director of Uniform Junction said, "Like many other companies, the pandemic and the lockdown last year provided ample time for us to look closer at our strengths and capabilities and how better we could leverage it, while addressing the most relevant needs of a fast changing world and society. At the same time we witnessed up close how a vast majority of schools, especially those in the non-metro and tier I & II cities, that were otherwise among the most effective and efficient, grappled with the new norm, online learning and a need to go beyond regular academic curriculum. This experience and the sudden stagnation of the uniform business is what set us thinking and led to the birth of Uniform Junction."

Gagan Jain, Co-founder & CEO of Uniform Junction further elaborated, "We have built a robust technology platform, which will empower schools digitally, simplify supply chain for them & enable them to offer world class products to their students. We are launching Uniform Junction with over 1000s of courses covering both academic and non-academic curriculum in the initial phase and we look to keep expanding this further. We also have a large and special focus on non-academic courses that allow for more holistic development of students such as mental health, physical wellness, sports team, soft skills, etc. that if inculcated early in students will make a marked difference to their early education and its outcome at a time when the teachers are also grappling with the new normal."

Second wave to limit CV volume growth to 23-28%: Crisis

Mumbai, The intense second wave of Covid-19 afflictions and consequent lockdowns will limit growth in the domestic commercial vehicle (CV) sales volume to 23-28 per cent this fiscal, compared with 32-37 per cent expected prior to its onset, Crisis said on Monday.

Volume growth had hard-braked to a decadal low last fiscal. But according to the ratings agency, credit metrics of CV makers are expected to improve as margins expand on better capacity utilisation and product mix.

The CV market saw two consecutive fiscals of steep volume decline (29 per cent and 21 per cent in 2020 and 2021, respectively), following multiple headwinds such as revised axle norms, BS-VI transition, and the pandemic.

While a sharp recovery from the lows was on the cards this fiscal, it will be constrained by a weak first quarter because of the second wave of the pandemic, the agency said in its report that accessed the CV market in India.

In April, freight rates fell 20 per cent even as diesel prices remained elevated, hurting fleet operators. With lockdowns becoming widespread in May, freight movement, and consequently the profitability of fleet operators, would remain under pressure, weighing on demand at least in the first quarter.

As lockdowns ease from the second quarter, freight demand and rates could normalise, aiding demand for CVs.

Says Hetal Gandhi, director, Crisis Research, "MHCV volume, which was hurt more in the past two fiscals, should see a strong 35-40 per cent growth this fiscal, driven by the government's infrastructure thrust and revival in economic activity. LCVs could grow 15-20 per cent given continued last-mile demand from e-commerce, consumer staples and the replacement market. Demand for buses - the segment hit the hardest because of schools shutting and lack of demand from state transport undertakings and corporates - should grow 67-72 per cent, but will remain at multi-year lows. Overall CV volume would still be 30 per cent below fiscal 2019 level."

OEMs are unlikely to get a fillip from wholesale push because inventories at dealers were at fairly elevated levels of 35-40 days as of end-March (against normal levels of 25-30 days). Inventories had risen sharply in the second half after near-zero inventory at the beginning of last fiscal due to the BS-VI transition.

However, one key continued positive this year would be faster revenue growth versus volumes. Better product mix due to higher sales of costlier MHCVs compared with LCVs would provide a fillip to average realisations. Raw material cost inflation.
