Loyola hosts seminar on solid waste, waste water management

Chennai, Aug 26: A one-day National Seminar on "Innovations in Solid Waste and Wastewater Management in Educational Institutions" was organized by Entomology Research Institute (ERI), Loyola College, Chennai in collaboration with Environmental Information System (ENVIS) Centre, University of Madras, Chennai. Rev. Dr S. Maria Packiam SJ was the convener and organizing secretary of this national seminar.

Rev. Dr Francis P. Xavier, SJ, Rector and Vice President of Loyola Institutions, Chennai said that in the current scenario, escalating nature of fuels and unpredictable climate change has forced Loyola Management to develop and adopt green technological approaches through ERI which aims at protecting and promoting the natural resources through scientific researches and environmental extension activities. Loyola College Society (LCS) has responded positively to the cry of the Mother Earth by following concrete green approaches namely Loyola Sewage-water Treatment Plant using microorganisms, Rainwater harvesting systems, 100s of rechargeable wells for increasing ground water in Loyola campus, Loyola Bio-gas Plant using Kitchen waste, Production of bio-manure using garden waste, Development of green pesticides namely PONNEEM. These green initiatives which are initiated, supervised and monitored by Rev. Dr Andrew, SJ, The Loyola Campus Treasurer, Dr Thomas, PRO and Rev. Dr S. Maria Packiam, SJ, Director, ERI, Loyola College, Chennai.

Dr N. Munuswamy, the Emeritus Professor and founder of ENVIS centre in Madras University said that getting wealth out of waste and managing the waste in educational institutions is essential in the formation of student communities. The invited speaker Dr. Dinesh delivered the talk on "Solid waste management at local and global perspectives". Rev. Dr S. Maria Packiam, SJ, Director, ERI delivered a special lecture on "Innovations in solid waste and wastewater management in Loyola campus" and he has taken all the participants to Loyola campus and explained on various innovative methods adopted for Waste Management System at Loyola campus. The national wide participants found that Loyola campus as the best green and clean campus which is continuously monitored and maintained the green system. Dr S. Maria Packiam SJ convened and organized one-day national seminar more effectively and efficiently with the support of ENVIS and ERI Staff Members. Dr Arulvasu, the Coordinator and Director of ENVIS centre, University of Madras and along with the Convener has distributed the certificates to the participants who came from different parts of India.

Letter to Editor: India tops in fintech

Sir, It is gratifying to note that India has now emerged as number one in Fintech Space with 23 deals during April-June quarter. India unseated China in the Fintech Space which is battling regulatory crackdown on such companies to take the top slot.

However China with only 15 deals a new 5 quarter low was ahead in deal size by $25 million at a Global investment of $375 million data from CB insights.

Investors who fund companies in this space consider UPI Push rising smart phones and hence digital inclusion to attract more players. China's quarterly investments saw a sharp fall in the January-March quarter dropping from 18 billion in the previous quarter to $231 million in the April-June quarter.

India should work hard to surpass China in all fields culturally, economically and scientifically.
