daughter was not at home. Rina was summoned to the Azad Maidan police station, where her statement was recorded. According to the police, Rina said she was not aware of her daughter's whereabouts, and that she had not been using the phone. The police believed there were two mobile numbers for Chudawala in use, but she did not answer calls placed to both. Mon, the Mumbai Police registered a case against Chudawala and "50 others" under the relevant IPC sections dealing with the charge of sedition—imputations, assertions prejudicial to national integrity and statement conductive to public mischief and acts done by several persons in furtherance of common intention. The accused were among hundreds who took part in a rally the Queer Azadi Mumbai (QAM) march, organised by various LGBT groups led by Human Rights Trust on February 1 at Azad Maidan. The offence was registered after a video recorded at the event went viral on social media. Chudawala could be heard saying, "Sharjeel tere sapne ko, hum mazind tak pauchhenge (Sharjeel, we will realise your dream). In the short video clip, some could be seen holding books like TISS and Queer Collective.

Chudawala, a second-year student of TISS, is pursuing a Master's degree in media and culture, and is also associated with TISS Queer Collective.
