Bandhan Bank aims to expand home loan portfolio in states having housing shortage

HITKUNI DASGUPTA
Kolkata, August 13

Bandhan Bank, which is in a process to build a diversified and larger loan book, is looking to expand its housing finance business in states where it has a strong presence. The bank, which is already having a strong presence in the home loan market, has identified 10 states in its pan-India network of 4,559 branches.

“Before Covid-19, we had plans to double our branch network in the Centre for home loan products in FY21. That may not happen now but we will definitely depend on the pandemic situation for a couple of months. Our philosophy has always been customer satisfaction and our experience and scale will help us to maintain our growth trajectory with the housing finance business as well,” Bandhan Group managing director and CEO Chandra Shekhar Ghosh told ET.

The bank’s growth agenda is getting hit hard, backed by a second wave of infections and the need for physical intervention. Bandhan, in turn, is looking to expand its home loan business to these 10 key states with housing potential. “These states have been identified after a study of various parameters. However, we are yet to finalise the exact list that will be expanded, in terms of loan book,” Ghosh said.

Pink Bollworm infestation worries jalsago cotton farmers

In Madurai, one of the country’s major cotton-growing belts, a warning has been issued to Pink Bollworm-infested farmers to be fully prepared to face 50-70 per cent in the crop standing on 51,088 hectares in the region. The district Agriculture Department has been monitoring cotton crops in the region. Nearly 70-80% of the cotton belt region in Madurai has been monitored and this has led to a notification of Pink Bollworm, it said.

The Pink Bollworm is a serious pest that infects the fruits and flowers of cotton plants, turning them into small, brown leaves. The damage caused by this pest can be significant and can lead to decreased yields and lower quality cotton.

The district department is closely monitoring the infestation and is taking measures to control the pest. Farmers are advised to take necessary precautions and follow the recommended practices to manage the infestation and protect their crops.

The district department is working closely with cotton farmers and other stakeholders to ensure that the pest does not cause significant damage to the cotton crop. It has also advised farmers to practice integrated pest management (IPM) to control the pest effectively.

The district department has advised farmers to keep a check on the crop and if necessary, apply pesticides as recommended by the department. Farmers are also advised to follow the farmers’ advisory committee’s recommendations and take necessary steps to manage the infestation.

Pink Bollworm is a widespread pest in cotton-growing areas and farmers have to be vigilant to control the infestation and protect their crops.

The district department has also advised farmers to practice good agricultural practices, such as proper crop rotations, seed treatments, and crop diversification, to reduce the chances of infestation.
